I am reluctant to see you lay down a condition which says that if you do not do something with the judiciary by this point in time, then the rug is going to be pulled out, for a variety of reasons. One, I do not have a very good sense of what is the proper time.

But more fundamentally, what we are trying to do is help the Salvadorans build a judicial system, and the case is important as such; over the long run it is the system and the willpower and the validity to it that is the answer to the sort of question that Senator Inouye had put up to us. So I think it is the system that we need to concentrate on, and it is sort of denigrating in a way to throw that sort of condition on there.

But at any rate, naturally, to the extent that we can provide insights we will. We have, I think, supplied the chairman with some thoughts on how judicial reform ought to move, and also in some of the other areas.

Senator JOHNSTON. I agree with you. Just to say, Mr. Secretary, that this particular example is so egregious that almost nothing else can proceed, in my view, until this problem is solved, because it is the symbol, the guiding light for all the Salvadorans who see this lack of justice, lack of trial, as being the symbol that they could count on the government not to prosecute them if they do the same thing.

Secretary SHULTZ. I think it is a bad show. I think the fact that Lieutenant Lopez Subrian is not in jail is similar, and so you can Senator KASTEN. I would like to remind the members and also the Secretary that we are running up against a time limit. So we will try to be short with our questions. Hopefully, you can be short with your answers.

Senator Rudman.

Senator RUDMAN. Mr. Secretary, let me say, if you had the benefit of a legal education you might have answered my friend from Florida with the old adage that tough cases make bad law. I do not agree with that suggestion at all, and I would oppose it, not because I do not think the case is not a landmark case, not because I do not think it stands for everything that the Senator from Florida says that it stands for, but——

Senator JOHNSTON. Louisiana.

Senator RUDMAN [continuing]. When this Congress—oh, Louisiana, excuse me.

But when this Congress starts to micromanage foreign policy with that kind of footnote, no matter how laudatory it is, then it seems to me that we are starting to do your job. Quite frankly, I do not think we ought to.

Secretary SHULTZ. Thank you, Senator. I appreciate your comment.

LAND REFORM STIPULATIONS

Senator RUDMAN. Let me ask you one question. The Congress has established in the Helms amendment, I believe, conditions on our aid in terms of how it cannot be used for land reform acquisition. Would you be better off in terms of what you are trying to do, in terms of what we are all talking about today, if those restrictions did not apply?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, Mr. McPherson has testified to some of the difficulties there. Sometimes I think it is well not to have authority to do certain kinds of things, but I do not want to speak about that particular case.

Maybe you can comment on the land reform restriction, Peter, whether you think we would benefit from having it removed.

Mr. MCPHERSON. A year ago the administration had asked for some money in connection with compensation for land reform, and in effect it asked that the restriction be waived or changed. There is some problem with compensation at this time.

It is true, however, that the land reform program is going forward really quite well, in fact quite remarkably. In the last 5 months there has been a 71-percent increase in applications under the Land to the Tiller program. In addition, the current moneys that we are asking for on the economic side have been really very carefully calculated and spoken for. So in that sense, we do not really have room under the current package for compensation.

Senator RUDMAN. I just want to apologize to my friend from Louisiana. He and my friend from Florida are both so handsome and athletic looking that I sometimes confuse the two of them. [Laughter.]

Senator JOHNSTON. Thank you.

Secretary SHULTZ. Senator, if I could interject a comment, not about the Senator from Louisiana. That is your problem.

Senator RUDMAN. It certainly is.

Secretary SHULTZ. I think there is quite a difference between the Congress saying, here is some money and we do not want you to use any of it for this purpose, on the one hand and saying, here is some money and unless somebody does X that we want them to do, we are going to take money away. Those are very different instructions.

Senator RUDMAN. A very important distinction.

Senator KASTEN. Senator Leahy?

Senator LEAHY. Mr. Secretary, you have discussed your general disdain of lawyers, at least in the context of what we are discussing today.

Secretary SHULTZ. I hope the lawyers of the world did not take me too seriously.

THE CASE OF THE MURDERED CHURCHWOMEN

Senator LEAHY. I am not here as a spokesman for any bar association. I had to put up with enough delaying tactics when I was a prosecutor.

But let us get this thing into context. When you compare this nuns' case, for example, with the IBM case, or compare the nuns' case with the ITT case, that is not really criticizing lawyers; that is detracting from your high office. I think it is demeaning to this committee, quite frankly.

It throws me back in my mind to some of the statements of your predecessor, who did not come in with some of the calm reasoning that you have in the Central American thing when he suggested that the nuns were perhaps killed running a road block, something difficult to do considering the fact that they were bound hand and feet.

If the facts are there, a murder case is the most easy case to prove. I have tried enough of them myself, as others here have. Either there is a murder or there was not a murder. You either have a suspect or you do not. If you do, you either have the facts to prove it or you do not.

In this case, the facts are there. I have seen the facts. I have gone over the review. I have seen what the FBI provided. It is an open and shut case. If it is not being prosecuted then El Salvador is thumbing their nose at us. They are saying, give us $1 billion and go to hell. That is exactly what they are saying. They took a case as well publicized as this and say, we do not care what you say, we do not care about your certification, we do not care about the restrictions; just give us your money, we will do what we want.

I think quite frankly, Mr. Secretary, if we were to put some restrictions on there such as those suggested by the Senator from Louisiana or by anybody else, it would make no difference whatsoever. If we said your next certification had to be specifically on that, it would make no difference whatsoever. They still will not try it.

I will tell you one of the reasons they will not do it. They are just afraid that if they got those people in there, some of them are going to start squealing on each other, and then we are going to find more and more and more of the government officials who had been involved in murder, rape, torture, extortion, and everything else, in the same way it might have been on the other side. But they are afraid to open a can of worms, and that is why tens of thousands of murders go unprosecuted in El Salvador.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

I say, quite frankly, there is not a thing we can do about it. So we should make up our mind what the American policy is going to be. If we want to send money down there, then let us not even have any holds on it. Let that actually be our policy. We will do away with certification, because it is going to be a rubber-stamping review. We are going to do it anyway, this is going to be our policy.

If we want to say we want to stop arms from Cuba, then what is our policy on that? Shall we blockade it, shall we invade it?

It has been stated on the floor of the Senate by two members of the Senate in the past few days that arms have increased substantially in Cuba, that they have Soviet bombers down there in violation of the Kennedy-Khruschev agreement. Is that a fact? If it is, should we be pointing at that?

Why do we not state exactly what we are going to get out of this? How are we going to guarantee anything down there? How are we going to guarantee change in the judicial system? How are we going to guarantee stopping arms shipments in there?

Not one word has been said of what we can do that will actually make them follow what we want them to do. Certainly putting conditions on the money has not done it in the past.

Do you know of anything we can do to stop the arms coming from Cuba?

Secretary SHULTZ. Well, I have tried to suggest some things in my testimony and comments this morning, and they go to a broad-ranging strategy. So I have done the best I can, Senator.

As far as my comments on lawyers are concerned, I will stand corrected. I will never criticize a lawyer again. [Laughter.]

Senator LEAHY. Oh, no, Mr. Secretary, I have been very critical of them, too. As a matter of fact, I am one of the few people here that has actually sent lawyers to prison. So I do not have any problem with criticizing the bar.

What I am saying is this. Let us not mix apples and oranges in this thing. We have an open and shut case down there. They are ignoring us, and what does that say of our policy, what does that say of our restriction? That is my concern.

CLOSING REMARKS

Senator KASTEN. Thank you, Senator.

As a former shoe manufacturer from Gainesville, Wis., I agree with your comments about attorneys.

Mr. Secretary, thank you very much for your testimony. My hope is, as it was several weeks ago, that we can still develop a consensus in our subcommittee based on our concerns and frankly on the agreements we share. I would like to think that we could get all members of this subcommittee participating in that consensus, and that still may be possible.

It is my intention to confer with members of the subcommittee and our staff throughout the afternoon and possibly into the evening. I want to let the subcommittee members know that possibly, after we have gone through a process of conferring, we may try t gather after a vote, either this afternoon, tonight, or tomorro morning in one of the rooms of The Capitol, and just see where w are.

I believe that anything we do is going to have to incorporate number of the elements that have been talked about today, that w are going to have to address the questions of advisers and trainer that we probably are going to have to in one way or another ad dress the problems of the judicial system, and specifically the con cerns of the Senator from Pennsylvania and the Senator from Lou siana.

I also think that we are going to want to address and somehov try to encourage free, fair, and safe democratic elections. I ar hopeful that we can go forward, and that we can meet most of th requirements of the administration's request for reprograming.

I thank you very much for your testimony.

SUBJECT: ANNIVERSARY OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO'S DEATH PASSES QUIETLY

1. (U) THE MARCH 24 FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF ARCHBISHOP OSCAR ROMERO'S MURDER PASSED QUIETLY IN SAN SALVADOR AND, SO FAR AS WE CAN ESTABLISH, THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. THE CLANDESTINE GUERRILLA "RADIO VENCEREMOS" HAD EARLIER GIVEN NOTICE OF A 24-HOUR CEASE FIRE "EXCEPT WHERE NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN THE SECURITY OF OUR POSITIONS," AND HAD CALLED ON SUPPORTERS TO JOIN RELIGIOUS COMMEMORATIONS TO BE HELD IN CHURCHES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY. THE "OFFICE OF THE ARCHBISHOP" PLACED NEWSPAPER ANNOUNCEMENTS MARCH 23 INVITING THE FAITHFUL TO ATTEND PARISH CHURCH AND CATHEDRAL MEMORIAL SERVICES "TO PRAY FOR PEACE AND THE SOUL OF THE LATE ARCHBISHOP" (THEREBY ANNOUNCING AS WELL THE HIERARCHY'S UNWILLINGNESS TO SPONSOR MORE DRAMATIC MANIFESTATIONS). APOSTOLIC ADMINISTRATOR RIVERA Y DAMAS IS, OF COURSE, AWAY FROM THE COUNTRY ON HIS TRIP TO CHILE, THE U.S., GERMANY AND ITALY.

2. (U) PRESS REPORTS THIS MORNING (3/25) SHOWED PICTURES OF THE ARMORED PERSONNEL CARRIER STATIONED IN THE SQUARE IN FRONT OF THE SAN SALVADOR CATHEDRAL AND OF SECURITY TROOPS (A U.S. REPORTER SAID THERE WERE ABOUT 75 OF THEM) THERE TO "PREVENT DISORDER."

3. (C) COMMENT: THE GUERRILLA LEFT'S CHOICE OF TACTICS WAS PROBABLY DICTATED BY A WISH TO WARM UP THE HIERARCHY'S INCREASINGLY OUTSPOKEN COOLNESS TOWARD THEM, AND THE CERTAINTY THAT ANY BIG CALL FOR STRIKE ACTION OR DEMONSTRATIONS WAS DOOMED TO GO UNHEEDED.

Did Salvador killing stifle evidence on slain women?

By PAT WILLIAMS
Special to the National Catholic Reporter
Washington

In a 32-day period from Dec. 2, 1980, to Jan. 3, 1981, eight U.S. citizens were murdered — shot to death — in El Salvador. Circumstances in all the cases suggest involvement of Salvadoran security forces in the executions, the cover-up or both.

And for seven of the victims — Maryknoll Sisters Ita Ford and Maura Clarke, Ursuline Sister Dorothy Kazel, lay missioner Jean Donovan, labor leaders Michael Hammer and Mark Pearlman, and freelance journalist John Sullivan — an outcry was raised in the U.S. press and Congress that continues in muted form today.

But for one victim, a 46-year-old former Nevada police officer, Thomas Bracken, who died midway into the slaughter Dec. 17, 1980, there was and still is virtual silence.

No family protested. No Congress member raised his name in public hearings about El Salvador during the past two years. No FBI or embassy official questioned the circumstances surrounding his death. No media gave in-depth coverage to his story. All this is particularly curious because Bracken himself claimed to be a linchpin in the churchwomen's case, in possession of information that would implicate the Salvadoran military in the rapes and murders of the churchwomen.

"No Congress member raised his name. . . . No FBI or embassy official questioned the circumstances surrounding his death. . . . All this is particularly curious because Bracken claimed to be the linchpin in the four slain churchwomen's case. . . ."

In hearings before the House Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs, former U.S. Ambassador to El Salvador Robert White testified in February 1982 that Bracken, who was living and working in San Salvador, came to the U.S. embassy and ". . . explained that he had important evidence relating to the death of the missionaries." Later White said Bracken's information related to the involvement of Salvadoran military in the killings.

When Bracken first approached the embassy with his story in mid-December 1980, U.S. military and FBI officials investigating the churchwomen's case interviewed him. They reported that Bracken did not have anything substantial to say and that his motivation was to involve himself with the U.S. embassy to gain clemency in respect to charges pending against him in the United States. (In March 1980, a warrant had been issued through the Houston, Texas, office of the U.S. Justice Department's Division of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms charging Bracken with transporting guns from Las Vegas to Texas, then across the Texas border into Mexico. of Bracken's two conversations with U.S. officials have proved futile thus far. In July 1982, the families sued the State Department, the FBI and the Defense Intelligence Agency to gain release of a large number of classified documents including cables, memos and reports relevant to Bracken. The three cases are pending before Judge Robert Sweet of United States district court in New York.

In any event, on Dec. 16, 1980, after completing the second of two clandestine meetings with military and FBI officials, Bracken left the U.S. embassy in San Salvador, his information apparently discounted as inconsequential. The next day, Dec. 17, Bracken was shot and killed.

On the afternoon of his death, the Salvadoran military press service, COPREFA, issued the following bulletin: Bracken was an employee — a private consultant — of the Salvadoran National Police. Early on the afternoon of Dec. 17, 1980, he had been with a security force patrol in a working-class neighborhood of San Salvador trying to track down a kidnapped Salvadoran businessman. The patrol entered a house and Bracken was shot dead by a "wounded subversive." No one was apprehended in the case.

The following morning, Dec. 18, a San Salvador newspaper, El Diario de Hoy, ran this unsigned account of Bracken's death, quoting "judicial authorities" as the source of information. Bracken, an employee of the National Police, was in the company of several police detectives driving in a station wagon toward a working-class neighborhood of San Salvador. Approaching in the opposite direction was an armored jeep in which junta member Jose Antonio Morales Ehrlich was traveling. As the two vehicles were about to pass each other, a grenade went off nearby. Ehrlich's bodyguards, thinking shots had come from the station wagon, fired on it and killed Bracken. No one else in Bracken's vehicle was injured.

National Police subsequently denied this account and said the COPREFA version of the incident was the correct one.

State Department spokesman John Caulfield said recently that the U.S. embassy sought no investigation in the case because the facts as presented by the Salvadoran military were self-explanatory. "In times of military conflict," Caulfield said, "it is not unusual for someone to be caught in a crossfire." That, said Caulfield, happened to Bracken, and U.S. officials felt "there were no further questions to be asked." Bracken had no connection with the U.S. government, Caulfield said.

A member of the U.S. embassy staff at the time of Bracken's death said a first reaction at the embassy on learning of the ambush was, "How many others in Bracken's patrol were wounded or killed?" When the answer was "none," it seemed to this individual that Bracken had been "set up."

In retrospect, and under ordinary conditions, aspects of the case could have borne further investigation, says Robert White. But in the context of the times — having just had the murders of the four churchwomen, the slaying of five Salvadoran political leaders, the incoming Reagan administration's signal of strong support for the Salvadoran military and the lack of any pressure from Bracken's family, the case did not command particular attention, White said. By the end of December 1980, the case of Thomas Bracken was effectively closed.

It is something of a fluke that no U.S. media followed the case beyond the initial December 1980 reports. This may be explained, in part, by the fact that Bracken's death occurred rather quietly between the two more spectacular killings of the churchwomen and the labor leaders.

For members of Bracken's family, who have maintained a stony silence about the death since they were first informed of it by then-U.S. Consul Patricia Lasbury, the private reality has been painful and frustrating. One of the more vexing aspects of that reality is that no family member ever saw Bracken's body or was present at his interment. The family questions what did happen to Bracken and why. But they refuse to discuss their misgivings publicly.

Reportedly, at the time of the murder, Terry Bracken, Bracken's widow, could not raise the funds — approximately $2,000 — to bring the body home. So Bracken was apparently buried in San Salvador shortly after he died. No date of burial is available from the U.S. State Department, according to spokesman Caulfield. Neither Caulfield nor former Consul Lasbury could say if any U.S. official had witnessed interment, although Caulfield said a "junio had gone to identify the body passport photo for comparison.

Bracken's hometown friends in Texas share the family's disquietude about the circumstances surrounding Bracken's death. "We don't draw any conclusions on that deal," said Assistant Chief Detective Thomas Fay of the North Las Vegas Police Department, where Bracken worked for 20 years, beginning as a patrolman in 1956 and retiring as a detective in 1976. Concerning the gunrunning charges against Bracken, Fay said Bracken was apprehended in Brownsville, Texas, at one point, but that authorities could not hold him. "They had him and he escaped. He was a good cop. He would have been a good CIA man or something like that," he concluded.

Roy Daines, a former North Las Vegas mayor and a onetime member of the police force, said at the time of Bracken's death that Bracken had visited Las Vegas even after the March 1980 warrant for his arrest was issued and that he was not hiding from anyone.

According to sources, another mysterious aspect of Bracken's death for his family is that after two years, they are still writing letters to the State Department inquiring about all of Bracken's belongings. Specifically, sources say that $1,200 that was listed as on Bracken's body at the time of his death has not been returned to his widow. In February 1983, Caulfield said his records indicated that all Bracken's effects had been returned.

In light of the contradictions and unanswered questions, why has Bracken's family been silent about the case? Is it conflicting loyalties at work — an unwillingness to criticize U.S. officials and policies pitted against a need for personal closure and peace of mind? Was Bracken simply an American citizen who somehow

So Bracken was apparently buried in San Salvador shortly after he died. No date of burial is available from the U.S. State Department, according to spokesman Caulfield. based in Texas, Bracken became part of that organization. Within a year, Bracken was laid off. At that point, in 1977, he joined a group of about 10 other Las Vegans to form a corporation called "Guardmaster Security Group." The corporation's stated purpose was to provide security expertise and to manufacture armored cars for Salvadoran businesses threatened by subversives. Bracken's role would be to go to El Salvador to get the company started there. He left in 1977.

Bracken maintained a combination home-office in San Salvador from 1977 to 1980, returning at frequent intervals to visit his wife and family in Las Vegas. During that time, Guardmaster Security never manufactured a single vehicle. According to Rex Smith, a business associate of Bracken's, the company folded in 1979 when U.S. banks refused to lend money against letters of credit Bracken had received from Salvadoran businesses. Bracken remained in El Salvador after the business failed, Smith said, to try to "start it up again." During this period, in 1978, Bracken allegedly was running guns to the Salvadoran military.

On the day of Bracken's murder, Dec. 17, 1980, the U.S. embassy in San Salvador said it had become aware of Bracken's presence in El Salvador only a week or so earlier, presumably when he first came to offer his information about the churchwomen's murders. Yet at that time, Bracken had been living and working in San Salvador for three years, both as a businessman and as a consultant to the National Police. Also, a nine-month-old warrant was outstanding against Bracken on the gunrunning charges.

Is it possible that neither civilian nor military personnel attached to the U.S. embassy in San Salvador were aware of Bracken's activities in support of Salvadoran businesses and security forces from 1977 to 1980? Is it possible that U.S. officials did not know of Bracken's employment as a trainer and consultant to the Salvadoran National Police?

Was Bracken simply an American citizen who somehow got mired in international politics and undercover dealings with El Salvador? Or was he something more? In any event, why was so little official interest shown in what he had to say and in what happened to him?

"It's too painful to discuss," said Bracken's widow, Terry. "Maybe it's wrong, but I just want to escape from it now," she explained recently.

Sergeant Eugene Tucker, another member of the North Las Vegas Police Department, said recently that he had been a close friend of Bracken's for 10 years. He recalled Bracken as a family man, a "good cop," who was politically active in the community. During 1976, Tucker said, Bracken had successfully managed the election campaign of conservative candidate Daines for mayor. But after the election, possibly disheartened by the slow rate of change in city government, and by the slow rate of advancement of his own police career, Bracken retired from the force and took a

Is it possible that U.S. officials did not know of Bracken's employment as a trainer and consultant to the Salvadoran National Police?

And why did Bracken, a professional police officer and detective for 23 years, offer to trade "insubstantial" information with U.S. officials about the churchwomen's murder? Did he misjudge the importance of his evidence? Or was he so desperate to obtain clemency on the gunrunning charges that he would risk his life and betray his Salvadoran colleagues with barely a chance of success?

Was Bracken seeking justice for the women? Or was he a zealous anti-communist seeking to use information about the murders to undermine some Salvadoran military elements, e.g., Defense Minister Guillermo Garcia, in order to promote others, e.g., right-wing leader Roberto d'Aubuisson? And did Bracken literally and figuratively get caught in a multi-sided, undercover crossfire?

In the final analysis, what was Thomas Bracken doing in El Salvador, what did he know and what happened to him? The questions are politically charged and compelling. And they have yet to be addressed

SO FAR, WE CANNOT TURN UP EVIDENCE THAT ANY SUCH EVEN TOOK PLACE, NOR DISCOVER WHAT MIGHT HAVE SERVED AS THE BASIS FOR THESE REPORTS.

CAVES THERE ARE, CAVES WHICH ARE FREQUENTLY USED BY SMALL GROUPS OF GUERRILLAS AS SAFEHAVENS, LOOK-OUT POSTS, SNIPER SITES, ETC. HOWEVER, THE POSSIBILITY THAT ANY ONE SUCH CAVE COULD CONTAIN 1600 PEOPLE IS REMOTE; THE POSSIBILITY THAT 1600 PEOPLE WOULD ENTER SUCH A CAVE AND THEN BE BLOWN UP INSIDE IT SEEMS INCREDIBLE.

3. (U) ANOTHER PROBLEM WE ENCOUNTERED WAS IN TRYING TO LOCATE WHERE SUCH AN EVENT MIGHT HAVE TAKEN PLACE. IN THE "INDEX TO THE GEOGRAPHIC DICTIONARY OF EL SALVADOR" (MINISTRY OF PUBLIC WORKS, 1978) THERE ARE TWENTY-SEVEN SANTA ELENAS LISTED. TWENTY-THREE OF THOSE ARE IN DEPARTMENTS THAT HAVE NO BORDER WITH HONDURAS. FOUR ARE LOCATED IN SANTA ANA DEPARTMENT WHICH TOUCHES HONDURAS AT ONE TINY GEOGRAPHICAL POINT--NONE OF THE FOUR ARE LOCATED NEAR THAT POINT. THERE ARE, IN SUM, NO SANTA ELENAS NEAR THE HONDURAN BORDER. FURTHERMORE, NO YARUTELA OR YARUTELA WAS LISTED IN THE REFERENCED VOLUME--THERE IS NO DEPARTMENT, COUNTY, CITY, TOWN, VILLAGE [redacted]

WE CAN ACCOUNT IN NO OTHER WAY FOR THIS APPARENT CONFUSION. THE GEOGRAPHIC INDEX WE ARE USING DOES MENTION A "YARULA" HAMELT IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF "PASAQUINA" IN LA UNION DEPARTMENT, BUT THIS IS NOWHERE NEAR THE "SABANETAS" BOLSON. HE RECOMMENDED THAT USG BE TOUGH WITH GUATEMALAN REGIME AS WI
THE FAR LEFT. ODUBER ALSO UNDERSCORED IMPORTANCE IN REGION OF CHURCH AND SAID HE WASOPTIMISTIC ABOUT PROGRESS TOWARD DEMOCR
IN ARGENTINA AND BRAZIL. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) THIS CABLE WAS NOT RPT NOT CLEARED WITH CODEL.

3. (LOU) MEMBERS AND STAFF OF CODEL EAGLETON/DODD/BARNES, ACCOMPANIED BY AMBASSADOR AND EMBOFFS, BEGAN SERIES OF CALLS MORNING APRIL 20 WITH EX-PRESIDENT DANIEL ODUBER AT HIS HOME. CONVERSATION CENTERED ON EL SALVADOR, NICARAGUA AND CUBA. SUBSTANCE OF OTHER TALKS (WITH PRESIDENT CARAZO AND FOREIGN MINISTER NIEHAUS, PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES CALDERON AND ECHANC AND LIBERATION PARTY LEADERS, BEING REPORTED SEPTEL).

4. (C) ODUBER BEGAN BY REFERRING BRIEFLY TO THE PREVIOUS MULT NATION ATTEMPT TO RESOLVE POLITICALLY THE SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR (BASED ON THE 'REINA MEMORANDU.'), REJECTED BY THE GUERRILLAS -- AT THE URGING OF CUBA AND NICARAGUA -- IN FAVOR OF THE DISASTROUS -- TO THE GUERRILLAS -- "FINAL OFFENSIVE'. THE SITUATION NOW IN THAT COUNTRY, HE THOUGH, MADE ANY KIND OF POLITICAL RESOLUTION VERY DIFFICULT: "DUARTE DOESN'T CONTROL THE GOVERNMENT, AND UNGO DOESN'T CONTROLE THE OPPOSIT THE LATTER IN FACT IS VERY WEAK VIS-A-VIS THE COMMUNISTS. HE WAS CONVINECED THAT THE JRG WOULD NOT RPT NOT BE DEFEATED BY LEFT BUT FEARED THAT THE FAR RIGHT COULD MOVE TO TAKE OVER THE GOVERNMENT AT ANY TIME. ODUBER NOTED THAT HE AND OTHERS IN THE LIBERATION PARTY, ALONG WITH THE PANAMANIANS, MEXICANS VENEZUELANS AND THE GERMANS WERE STILL THINKINGABOUT SOME KIND OF POLITICAL FORMULA, BUT WOULD NOT MOVE UNTIL THERE WAS A MODUS VIVENDI BETWEEN THE WORLD CHRISTIAN AND SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC MOVEMENTS. WITH THE SOCIALIST INTENATIONAL ALONE."

5. (C) KEY TO ANY PROGRESS ON SALVADOR, HE INSISTED, WOULD BE THE ACTIVE PARTICIPATION OF BOTH VENEZUELA (WHOM THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS COULD TRUST) AND MEXICO (ON WHOME THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATS COULD RELY). ASKED IF THE MEXICANS COUL BE EXPECTED TO TAKE PART IN SUCH AN EFFORT, DOUBER SAID HE T IT POSSIBLE, THOUGH THEY WERE STILL RELUCTANT AND THE REPLAC OF CARBAJAL ("A TRUE INTERNATIONALIST") AS HEAD OF THE PRI MADE PROSPECTS "WORSE." HE EXPLAINED THAT, IN HIS OPINION,

DESPITE THE MEXICAN SLOGANEERING ABOUT THE US, THEY TOO WERE AFRAID OF CASTRO AND COULD THEREFORE BE PERSUADED TO ENTER INTO AN INTERNATIONAL EFFORT WITH REGARD TO EL SALVADOR. (LA ASKED BY SENATOR DODD WHAT ADVICE HE MIGHT WANT TO PASS ON TO WASHINGTON, ODUBER SUGGESTED THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN, WHEN HE G TO MEXICO, "PUSH MEXICO TO TAKE THE LEAD IN CENTRAL AMERICA").

6. (C) RE THE SHIPMENT OF ARMS TO SALVADORAN INSURGENTS, ODUBER SAID HIS IMPRESSION WAS THAT THE FLOW THROUGH NICARAGU HAD PRACTICALLY STOPPED BUT THAT IT CONTINUES THROUGH COSTA R HE THOUGH IN FACT THAT THE AGGREGATE ARMS MOVEMENT VIA COSTA RICA MAY HAVE BEEN GREATER THAN THAT THROUGH NICARAGUA ALONE; (HE POINTED OUT THAT HIS FINCA WAS NEAR THE NICARAGUAN BORDER AND THAT HELPED HIM GET GOOD INFORMATION). SENATOR DODD ASKED ODUBER'S OPINION ON US MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO THE JRG. THE EX-PRESIDENT REPLIED THAT HE HAD NO PROBLEM WITH LIMITED MILITARY ASSISTANCE FROM THE US BUT BELIEVED STRONGL THAT THE PRESENCE OF AMERICAN MILITARY ADVISERS WAS A "MISTAKE", A FALLING OF THE USG INTO THE "CUBAN TRAP", WHERE THE CUBANS AND THEIR SOVIET MENTORS HOPED TO DRAW THE US INT A SELF-DEFEATING INTERVENTION IN CENTRAL AMERICA.

7. (C) TURNING TO NICARAGUA, ODUBER SAID THAT HE WAVERED SHARPLY BETWEEN OTIMISM AND PESSIMISM. THE NICARAGUAN LEADERS WERE "SHOWING OFF", ARROGANTLY TRYING TO ANNOY THE US; IT IS A "JUVENILE" APPROACH, BUT ONE THAT WOULD NOT EASILY BE CHANG ODUBER SAID HE THOUGH THAT THE PRESIDENTIAL DETERMINATION ON ASSISTANCE TO NICARAGUA WAS PROBABLY A MISTAKE AND SUGGESTED THAT, RATHER THAN TRYING TO PRESSURE NICARAGUA, THE USG SHOUL BE BEALING WITH "THE SOURCE OF THEPROBLEM -- CUBA". THE US, HE ADVISED, AS HE HAS BEFORE, SHOULD TAKE A HARD LINE WITH CASTRO; "THE TOUGHER YOU GET WITH CUBA THE BETTER FOR EVERYBC INCLUDING NICARAGUA." SENATOR DODD: "HOW DO YOU GET TOUGH WITH CUBA?" ODUBER: "FIRST, YOU WARN THEM THAT ARMS SHIPMENTS FROM CUBA TO CENTRAL AMERICA WILL BE INTERDICTED, THEN IF THERE IS NO CHANGE, YOU TAKE DIRECT ACTION TO STOP THOSE PROBLEM. THE USIS STRONG.ENOUGH TO DEAL WITH CASTRO."

8. (C) SENATOR DODD ASKED ODUBER WHAT HE WOULD SUGGEST THE CODEL SAY THE NEXT DAY TO NICARAGUAN LEADERS IN MANAGUA. ODUBER RECOMMENDED SPECIFIC QUESTIONS TO TEST THE SANDINISTAS' PUBLIC COMMITMENTS: WHAT IS YOUR ELECTORAL CALENDAR? WHAT SPECIFIC PROGRAMS, AS FOR EXAMPLE IN SUPPORT OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE, WILL BE UNDERTAKEN; WHY ARE YOU BUYING SO MANY WEAPONS WHENTHE COUNTRY DESPERATELY NEEDS FOOD FOR ITS PEOPLE?

9. (C) ASKED BY SENATOR EAGLETON ABOUT THE ROLE OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN CENTRAL AMERICA, ODUBER SAID HE THOUGHT IT THE IDEAL MEDIATOR, ESPECIALLY DURING THE COMPLIANCE PERIOD FOLLOWING THE CONCLUSIONOF A POLITICAL AGREEMENT, AS IN EL SALVADOR. HE ADMITTED THAT CERTAIN OF THE RELIGIOUS COULD BE RADICAL BUT CONCLUDED THAT "IN THE LONG TERM I'LL TRUST THE CHURCH". THE OUTSTANDING EXCEPTION IN HISOPINION IS THE ARCHBISHOP OF GUATEMALA, AN "ALLY OF THE REPRESSIVE FORCES THERE, A TERRIBLE MISTAKE OF THE CHURCH".

10. (C) FINALLY, TOURING THE HEMISPHERIC HORIZON, ODUBER COMMENTED ON GUATEMALA: "YOU SHOULD BE AS HARD ON THE GUATEM RIGHT AS YOU ARE ON THE CUBAN-INSPIRED LEFT". ON HONDURAS: "GOING WELL, WITH IMPORTANT HELP FROM THE TRADE UNION MOVEME WITH ALF-CIO ASSISTANCE; I WISH COSTA RICA HAD UNIONS LIKE THAT". AND ON BRAZIL AND ARGENTINA (NOTING THAT HE WOULD SOON BE TRAVELING TO LATTER AT JOINT INVITATION OF GOA AND THE POLITICAL PARTIES): "OPTIMISTIC" ABOUT PROGRESS IN DEMOCRATIZATION IN BOTH COUNTRIES.

REF: SAN JOSE 2612

1. (C-ENTIRE TEXT)

2. SUMMARY: PRESIDENT CARAZO GAVE CODEL BRIEF ANALYSIS OF EACH CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRY AND SAID OVER GENERALIZING ABOUT THE RE HAD LED TO MISUNDERSTANDINGS OVER THE YEARS. HE FAVORED US ASSISTANCE TO NICARAGUA AND WAS OPTIMISTIC THAT THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN NICARAGUA COULD EVOLVE IN A MODERATE DIRECTION OVER THE DECADE AHEAD. HE FAVORED LOTS OF ECONOMIC AND SOME MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR, BUT OPPOSED SENDING US MILITARY ADVISERS. HE REFERRED TO ECONOMIC PROBLEMS, ESPECIALLY DECLINE IN THE TERMS OF TRADE AND THE IMPACT ON CENTRAL AMERICA. HE EXPLAINED COSTA RICA'S ECONOMIC CRISIS AND HOPED FOR IMF UNDERSTANDING AND US ASSISTANCE. END SUMMARY.

INGREDIENTS IN THE CURRENT SITUATION BUT PROBLEMS HAVE BEEN DEVELOPING FOR YEARS. HE MENTIONED FOUR FACTORS OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE: 1) PROFOUND MISERY WHICH PRODUCES INSTABILITY; 2) RULE, IN MOST COUNTRIES, OF THE OLIGARCHY THAT WANTS TO CONTROL THESE COUNTRIES AND PRESERVE THE STATUS QUO. THIS FOMENTS STRUGGLE BETWEEN THE AMJORITY AND THE MINORITY AND PERMANENT CONFLICT OFTER ARISES; 3) THE DECLINE IN THE TERMS OF TRADE HAVE WORSENED THE ECONOMIC SITUATION; AND 4) CENTRAL AMERICA, TRADITIONALLY WITHIN THE US SPHERE OF INTEREST, IS NOW BEING PENETRATED BY THE USSR.

4. FIVE CENTRAL AMERICAN COUNTRIES SHARE SOME TRAITS BUT ALSO HAVE PROFOUND DIFFERENCES. OVER GENERALIZING ABOUT CENTRAL AMERICA, ESPECIALLY BY THE US PRESS, HAS CAUSED MANY ERRORS IN JUDGMENT. IN GUATEMALA THE MILITARY DOMINATES AND VIOLENCE HAS BEEN ENDEMIC FOR DECADES; IN SALVADOR THE ECONOMICALLY POWERFUL GROUPS DOMINATE A COUNTRY WITH SERIOUS POPULATION PROBLEMS; IN HONDURAS THE COMMERCIAL SECTOR, SUPPORTED BY THE MILITARY, DOMINATES; IN NICARAGUAN A DYNASTIC FAMILY USED TO RULE THE COUNTRY. IN COSTA RICA THERE HAVE BEEN DEMOCRATIC ELECTIONS AT REGULAR 4-YEAR INTERVALS. THERE IS A LARGE INDIAN POPULATION IN GUATEMALA AND A NEGLIGIBLE ONE IN COSTA RICA. ECONOMIC BENEFITS FROM THE CACM HAVE ACCRUED MAINLY TO GUATEMALA, EL SALVADOR AND COSTA RICA.

5. EXPANDING FUTHER ON THIS THEME, CARAZO SAID EL SALVADOR IS PRESENTLY THE SCENE OF A BITTER STRUGGLE. HE BELIEVES THAT, SADLY, ALTERNATIVES DO NOT EXIST; THE ONLY SOLUTION IS TO SUPPORT AND STRENGTHEN THE JUNTA OR POLARIZATION WILL LEAD TO AN ARMY COUP AND

CONFIDENTIAL

REOPEN THE DOOR TO THE NOW WEAKENED EXTREME LEFT GUERRILLAS. CIVILIANS ON THE JUNTA OFFER CRITICALLY IMPORTANT BALANCE AND THE ONLY OPPORTUNITY FOR A POLITICAL SOLUTION. THE FMLN SEEMS TO HAVE SWITCHED TO PROTRACTED WARFARE AND GIVEN UP, FOR THE MOMENT, THE IDEA OF A MILITARY VICTORY. UNLIKE NICARAGUA, WHERE THE PEOPLE WERE UNITED AGAINST THE SMOZA GOVENMENT, IN EL SALVADOR THE PEOPLE GENERALLY DO NOT HATE THE JUNTA. ALTHOUGH THERE WAS A FAIRLY WIDESPREAD RESPONSE TO THE CALL TO STRIKE LAST AGUST, A SIMILAR CALL IN JANUARY OF THIS YEAR

FLOPPED ENTIRELY. DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES MUST JOINT TOGETHER TO PROTECT AND FOSTER A CONSTITUTIONAL ANSWER AND ELECTIONS IN SALVADOR. OTHERWISE THE MILITARY MAY BE TEMPTED TO THROW OUT THE CIVILIANS. CARAZO ADMITTED NICARAGUA HAS SWUNG RAPIDLY FROM THE FAR RIGHT TO THE FAR LEFT. HOWEVER, HE IS OPTIMISTIC THE GRN CAN BE SLOWLY WEANED AWAY FROM CUBAN DOMINANCE. HE FELT RECENT USG POLICY STATEMENTS WERE EXCELLENT. IN REGARD TO COSTA RICA, CARAZO SAID THE ECONOMIC CRISIS IN 1981 IS LIKE 'WALKING A TIGHT ROPE OVER NIAGARA FALLS'. HE SAID COSTA RICA CAN NOT GET EXTERNAL FINANCING UNTIL REACHES AN AGREEMENT WITH THE IMF. THERE ARE NO RESERVES AND FINANCING OF THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE ARREARS ("PRESA") HAS BEEN A PROBLEM. THIS CAUSED THE EXCHANGE RATE TO INCREASE DRAMATICALLY. DECLINE IN THE TERMS OF TRADE HE ADDED, HAVE CAUSED PROBLEMS FOR THE MIDDLE CLASS WHO ARE NOW PROTESTING THE MOST. CARAZO SAID COSTA RICA'S FRIENDS MUST HELP IT MOVE AHEAD WITH ITS PROBLEMS AND REACH AN AGREEMENT WITH THE IMF. THE NEXT 60-90 DAYS ARE CRUCIAL. ONCE AN AGREEMENT WITH THE IMF IS REACHED, COSTA RICA CAN MOVE AHEAD, AND HE BELIEVES MOST COSTA RICANS HAVE COME TO ACCEPT THE IDEA THAT MANY SACRIFICES WILL HAVE TO BE MADE.

6. PRESIDENT CARAZO SPENT CONSIDERABLE TIME DISCUSSING NICARAGUA IN RESPONSE TO SENATOR EAGLETON'S QUESTION SUGGESTING CARAZO SEEMED CONSIDERABLY MORE OPTIMISTIC THANOTHERS. THE PRESIDENT SAID HE IS OPTIMISTIC THAT NICARAGUA WILL NOT FOLLOW THE CUBAN PATH IF THE US AND OTHERS STAY ACTIVE. GOCR HAS KEPT CLOSE TIES TO THE GRN ESPECIALLY AS OTHER CENTRAL AMERICAN NATIONS ARE SEEN AS ENEMIES BY THE GRN. LOCDL POLITICAL GROUPS IN COSTA RICA HAVE TRIED TO USE THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION TO DOMESTIC POLITICAL ADVANTAGE. UNFORTUNATELY THE GRN, PERHAPS DUE TO SOME STILL LATENT PARANOIA, BELIEVES THAT IF AN INDIVIDUAL POLITICAN IN ANOTHER COUNTRY ATTACKS THE GRN THIS SOMEHOW REPRESENTS OFFICIAL POSITION. THIS WILL NOW HAPPEN IN COSTA RICA AS THE ELECTORAL CAMPAIGN HEATS UP. NONETHELESS COSTA RICA MUST BE FRIENDLY TO COUNTER CUBAN INFLUENCE. THE GRN IS SOFTENING TO THE PRIVATE SECTOR RECENTLY DUE TO TWO BAD HARVESTS; THE COUNTRY CANNOT WITHSTAND THE IMPACT OF A THIRD. NOW IS THE TIME FOR US AND OTHER DEMOCRATIC COUNTRIES TO GET CLOSER TO THE GRN AND OFFER

SUPPORT. THIS WILL HELP SOLVE DOMESTIC ECONOMIC PROBLEMS AND, WITH THE ACQUIRED POLITICAL LEVERAGE,

DECLASSIFIED

WILL ASSIST IN SOLVING THE PROBLEM IN EL SALVADOR. THE PRESENT ECONOMIC SITUATION IN NICARAGUA CANNOT BE SUSTAINED AND THE CURRENT OPENING MAY ALLOW OTHER NICARAGUAN GROUPS TO EFFECT CHANGE. IF NOT, NICARAGUA WILL RADICALIZE. CARAZO EMPHASIZED NICARAGUA WILL NOT BE LIKE COSTA RICA, AS IT HAS HAD 160 YEARS OF POLITICAL TURMOIL, BUT MODERATE POLITICAL EVOLUTION MAY BE ACHIEVED OVER THE LONG TERM. FIDEL CASTRO HAS TOLD THE FSLN TO AVOID THE ISOLATION OF CUBA. CARAZO REFERRED TO APRIL 10 SPEECH BY DANIEL ORTEGA WHICH WAS SIGNIFICANTLY LESS HARSH IN TONE THAN EARLIER SPEECHES. THE CHANGE IN TONE, HE BELIEVES IS DIRECTLY DUE TO THE FIRM YET SENSIBLE AND CLEAR STATEMENT MADE BY THE STATE DEPARTMENT IN EARLY APRIL REGARDING AID TO NICARAUGA (ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT WAS THE CONCILIATORY APPROACH TO THE QUESTION OF WHEAT SHIPMENTS).

7. PRESIDENT CARAZO TOLD CONGRESSMAN BARNES THAT GUATEMALA DOES NOT NEED US MILITARY ASSISTANCE. HE SAID EL SALVADOR NEEDS JUST ENOUGH TO KEEP POLITICAL BALANCE BUT THAT NO MILITARY ADVISERS SHOULD BE SENT BECAUSE THE POLITICAL COST IN ALL OF CENTRAL AMERICA IS TOO HIGH. ANY TRAINING OF SALVADORAN SOLDIERS SHOULD TAKE PLACE OUTSIDE THAT COUNTRY. COSTA RICA HAS ASKED FOR A FEW BULLETS FOR ITS M-1 RIFLES. IN CONTRAST, HE SAID, ECONOMIC AID IS ALWAYS JUSTIFIED. COSTA RICA CAN BE AN EXAMPLE OF SUCCESSFUL US ASSISTANCE IN SUCH AREAS AS SMALL INDUSTRIES, PEACE CORPS, BASIC SERVICES,

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

AND FOOD. CARAZO RECOMMENDED MORE PUBLICITY FOR OUR ASSISTANCE EFFORTS. HE ADDED THAT FOOD AID TO NICARAGUA AND SALVADOR SHOULD NOT BE CHANNELLED THROUGH THE RED CROSS BUT GIVEN DIRECTLY AND WITH PROPER ACKNOWLEDGEMENT TO THE US TAXPAYER.

8. CARAZO, RESPONDING TO A QUESTION BY SENATOR DODD, RECOMMENDED THAT THE CODEL SPEAK IN A FRIENDLY BUT FRANK MANNER WITH POLITICAL LEADERS IN NICARAGUA. HE URGED CODEL TO TALK ABOUT GRN-US RELATIONSHIP, WHAT HAS BOTHERED THE GRN, AND TO ASK WHAT THEY

DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

HAD GOTTEN FROMOTHERS. NOW IS A CRUCIAL TIME FOR WORKING OUT USG-GRN RELATIONSHIP. FSLN CAME TO POWER WITH ARMS AND NOT THROUGH ELECTIONS AND THEREFORE, DOES NOT UNDERSTAND INSTITUTIONAL LIMITS ON ITS POWER. IT IS LEARNING THESE LIMITS THE HARD WAY. CARAZO RECOMMENDED INTERVIEWS WITH THE ORTEGA BROTHRS, SERGIO RAMIREZ, AND JAIME WHEELOCK. HE ALSO RECOMMENDED TALKING WITH BAYARDO ARCE AS THE MOST RADICAL. HE SUGGESTED TALKING ABOUT THE RCENT STATE DEPARTMENT STATEMENT. HE BELIEVES SUSPENDING WHEAT SALES WAS AN ERROR BUT THAT OTHER ELEMENTS WERE CORRECT, INCLUDING SUSPENDING DOLS 15,000,000. PRESIDENT CARAZO SAID IN SPITE OF DRAMATIC POLITICAL RISKS, HE HAS ASKED DANIEL ORTEGA TO MEET WITH HIM MONTHLY. HE CONTRASTED THIS WITH EASY ACCESS TO THE GRN-FSLN BY FIDEL CASTRO. (IT IS NOW AN ARTICLE OF FAITH IN COSTA RICA THAT CASTRO HAS MADE MANY SECRET VISITS TO NICARAGUA). HE SAID THE GRN-FSLN WILL RAISE CONCERNS ABOUT ALLEGED USG SUPPORT FOR A COUNTERREVOLUTION, REPORTED TRAINING CAMPS IN FLORIDA,, ETC. HE SAID THE GRN-FSLN FEELS IT IS RECEIVING TENDER TREATMENT ONLY FROM CUBA AND NO ONE ELSE.

2. WE WILL AGAIN FIND AN OPPORTUNITY TO MENTION THE CONGRESSIONAL INTEREST IN THE CASE. WHILE IT IS ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO PREDICT THE GOA ACTIONS IN SUCH MATTERS, WE ARE NOT OPTIMISTIC THAT HE WILL BE A CANDIDATE FOR EARLY RELEASE, EVEN TAKING INTO ACCOUNT HIS REPORTED MEDICAL PROBLEMS. JOZAMI WAS SENTENCED TO EIGHT YEARS IN PRISON IN MARCH, 1978.

3. WE HAVE RECENTLY FOUND SEVERAL OLD PRESS ACCOUNTS OF THE CHARGES ON WHICH HE WAS TRIED AND SENTENCED. HE WAS REPORTEDLY ARRESTED SEPTEMBER, 1975 WHEN THE CAR HE WAS DRIVING WAS STOPPED AT A CHECKPOINT THE POLICE HAD ESTABLISHED ON A BUENOS AIRES STREET. ACCORDING TO THE POLICE, JOZAMI AND HIS COMPANION IN THE CAR, ANGEL HORACIO GARCIA, TRIED TO FLEE BUT WERE ARRESTED. JOZAMI REPORTEDLY DISPLAYED FALSE DOCUMENTS TO THE POLICE. NEVER DESCRIBED IN THE MANY REQUESTS WE GET SEEKING

Dear Mr. Dornan:

Thank you for your letter of January 19 on behalf of your constituent, [redacted] concerning the human rights situation in Argentina, and particularly the case of Abraham Hochman. B6

Although we have been encouraged by continuing improvements in the human rights situation in Argentina, the United States remains concerned about persistent human rights problems such as continuing disappearances and lack of judicial guarantees in cases of persons suspected of subversion.

Concerning the welfare of Abraham Hochman, the Foreign Office's Working Group on Human rights has responded to our Embassy in Buenos Aires's inquiries that the Argentine Government has no record of his detention, nor any information regarding his whereabouts.

The U.S. Congressional interest in this matter has been communicated to the Foreign Office. Our Embassy will continue to seek information on this case and will keep you informed of any further developments.

Sincerely,

(Background. Angel Romano disappeared for 7 days, March 27-April 3. We were informed of his disappearance by human rights activists and subsequently took it up with both the Foreign Office here and the Argentine Embassy in Washington. Romano was surfaced in custody. We were told by the Foreign Office he was arrested on common criminal charges. The Chief of Police of Buenos Aires Province reiterated this in a public declaration.)

Emilio Mignone and Augusto Conte Macdonell denied today the truth of the GOA's statement that Romano was arrested on common criminal charges. They note that as soon as Romano appeared before a criminal court judge he was let go by the latter who ruled that there were no grounds to hold him. The two human rights activists also state that while the Police Chief's statement said that Romano was arrested as part of an investigation of robberies at the Upjohn plant by employees there in 1979, Romano had quit the Upjohn job in 1976. They also state that Romano alleges that he was severely tortured while in police custody. Conte Macdonell observed that Romano is very closed-mouthed about his political affiliations but he and others believe that Romano was associated with the banned Socialist Labor Party engaging in labor and political activities on its behalf.

Dear friends,

I was so glad to receive Paul Stabile's letter, which was adressed to Eduardo, my husband.

It's so long since I'm trying to establish contacts with you, and thanks to this lettre it could finally be possible.

Eduardo studied at Saint Meinrad Seminary (class 1968); he is in prison in Rawson (Argentina) since 6 years.

After that all my family was persecuted by the Argentine Army. With our three children : Federico (9 years), Cecilia (8 years) and Liliana (6 years), I had to flee in 1977, and now we are in Switzerland.

Eduardo was imprisoned on May 8th. 1975, in San Luis (Argentina), and judged for having marxist bibliography.

His penalty is finished, but he continues beeing a prisoner and he is at the National Executive Power's disposition.
In the prison where he stays, at the extreme south of the country, a very hard climate, the authorities of the place are extremely severe, and his health is worsing very fastly.

Morally he is very strong, never complains about his pains, and he expresses a very deep conviction and christian hope.

Since he is in prison, he endures chronic sinusitis and gastro-enteritis, and troubles on the spinal column.
Since december 1980 he suffers of pleurisy, and he had to be placed in the prison's hospital; the only attendance he received were sedatives.

Since Easters, his health conditions are getting worse, to pleurisy there was chronical bronchitis added, with heart complications.

Seeing this situation, many doctors and church people from several countries, who share his sufferings, are writing letters to the following adresses :

1) Señor Ministro del Interior
General Horacio Tomas Liendo
Balcarce 50
CAPITAL FEDERAL - Argentina -

2) Señor Comandante del Ser. Cuerpo del Ejercito
General Antonio Domingo Buzzi
Santa Rosa 657
5000 CORDOBA - Argentina -

BEST COPY AVAILABLE

In those letters we ask for :

1) Eduardo's transfer to a prison in Buenos Aires.

2) Adequate medical care, continius and regularly.

3) The permission of leaving the country, using of the so called "option right". He could come to Switzerland, as this goverment gave him a visa to enter, two years ago.

Besides, Eduardo is recognized and sponsored by Amnesty International, and the Grcup 109 from Västeras (Sweden).

Maybe you had news from us trough the american deaconess Gloria Perez, who works in Mexico.

I supplicate you to help us, writing letters to Argentina, its an urgent action, Eduardo's life is in danger.

Thank you so much for everything you'll do.

Yours gratefully.

President Roberto Viola
Casa Rosada
Balcare 50
Buenos Aires, Argentina

Dear President Viola:

We speak on behalf of the Committee of Concerned Scientists which represents 4,000 American scientists dedicated to the protection of human and scientific rights for colleagues throughout the world. Our members are dismayed at the summary dismissal of Dr. Nicolas G. Bazan from his posts as Professor at the National Southern University and Director of its Biochemical Research Institute. We find it deplorable that Dr. Bazan, a world renowned physiologist who has received international acclaim for his work in epilepsy, is barred from teaching at universities in his own country on the basis of an arbitrary government order.

Such treatment violates specific provisions of international agreements to which Argentina is a party. As scientists, we also protest the ouster of our colleague, Dr. Bazan, whose prolific research has significantly advanced scientific scholarship. Denying him the opportunity to conduct his research and teach his findings is a hindrance to scientific progress and an impediment to scientific cooperation between our two countries.

We urge you to reinstate Dr. Bazan to his posts at the National Southern University. Such an action would conform to Argentina's pledge to honor human rights as enunciated in the United Nations' Universal Declaration of Human Rights. We look forward to your favorable action in this case.

2. EMBOFF SPOKE JUNE 16 WITH FONMIN AMERICAN AFFAIRS CHIEF MOLINA SALAS WHO CONFIRMED IN GENERAL TERMS SUBSTANCE OF DISCUSSION HE AND CANDIOTTI HAD LATE IN MAY WITH MR. LUCIER (REF A). HE SAID LUCIER WAS TOLD THAT A FULL ACCOUNTING FOR THE DISAPPEARED WAS "ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE" AND THE ANSWER TO ANY REQUEST FOR SUCH AN UNDERTAKING WOULD HAVE TO BE A FLAT NO. WHAT IS POSSIBLE, MOLINA SAID LUCIER WAS TOLD, IS THAT "A LINE COULD BE DRAWN" IN TIME, THAT IS TO SAY FROM THE RECENT PAST TO THE PRESENT, WHICH COULD BE THE STARTING POINT FOR A REVIEW AND CLARIFICATION, IF ONLY PARTIAL, OF THE STATUS OF DISAPPEARED PERSONS. MILINA SAID HE DOES NOT RECALL STATING THAT THIS DIVIDING LINE COULD BE FROM 1979 ON, BUT DID NOT ARGUE THE POINT; ONCE A CUT-OFF DATE WAS DETERMINED, HE SAID, "IT WOULD NOT BE TOO DIFFICULT TO PRODUCE AN ACCOUNTING."

3. ASKED IF THE FONMIN WAS ENGAGED IN SUCH A REVIEW, MOLINA MADE IT CLEAR THIS IS THE RESPONSIBILITY OF AN INTERMINISTERIAL COMMITTEE MADE UP OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE THREE ARMED SERVICES (REF B). WHILE NOMINALLY PRESIDED OVER BY MININT, HE HAS NO VOTE, THE FONMIN HAS A FORM OF OBSERVER STATUS ON THE COMMITTEE IN THE PERSON OF ITS OFFICER IN CHARGE OF HUMAN RIGHTS QUESTIONS, AND ALSO IS VOTELESS.

4. MOLINA SALAS NOTED THAT INTERMINISTERIAL COMMITTEE PRESENTLY IS REVIEWING LIST PROVIDED EARLIER BY EMBASSY OF TEN PRISONERS IN WHICH THERE IS CONGRESSIONAL INTEREST. HE SAID GOOD PROGRESS IS BEING MADE AND THAT HE EXPECTED DECISIONS SOON, MENTIONING IN THIS CONNECTION JORGE ENRIQUE TAINA (SEN. CRANSTON, REP. BURTON INTERESTED) IS CANDIDATE FOR EARLY RELEASE; EMBASSY HAS BEEN TOLD ABOUT 18 CONGRESSIONAL-INTEREST CASES NOW BEING REVIEWED BY I-M COMMITTEE.

5. WITH RESPECT TO THE COMMITTEE TAKING UP QUESTION OF THE DISAPPEARED, MOLINA SAID HE DID NOT KNOW IF THE ARMED FORCES OR ANY OTHER ELEMENT IN THE GOVERNMENT WERE LOOKING INTO AN INITIATIVE. THE IMPLICATION WAS CLEAR THAT HIS MINISTRY, AT LEAST, IS NOT PUSHING IT; MOLINA EMPHASIZED HE WAS IN NO POSITION TO MAKE COMMITMENTS ON THIS SCORE TO MR. LUCIER OR ANYONE ELSE. HE ONLY REPEATED AN ACCOUNTING ON THE TERMS SUGGESTED SHOULD NOT BE DIFFICULT TO DO.

6. COMMENT: DEPARTMENT WILL RECALL OBDURATE RESISTANCE FROM HIGHEST-LEVEL GOA REPS, EXPRESSED DURING VISITS HERE OF CODELS ZABLOCKI (REF C) AND COCHRAN (REF D), TO VERY IDEA OF ANY KIND OF ACCOUNTING; PRESIDENT VIOLA'S INSISTENCE TO THE AMBASSADOR THAT ANY ATTEMPT TO RENDER ONE WOULD IMMEDIATELY "DESTABILIZE" HIS GOVERNMENT (REF E) ALSO WILL BE RECALLED. WE ARE NOT AWARE THAT MILITARY ATTITUDES ON THIS EXPLOSIVE ISSUE HAVE CHANGED IN ANY MATERIAL WAY OVER THE PAST FEW MONTHS; IF NOTHING, THEY HAVE HARDENED AS THE POLITICAL PARTIES HAVE STEPPED UP THE RHETORIC ON THE NEED FOR A POLITICAL "OPENING." WE THEREFORE MUST DISCOUNT THE PROSPECTS OF THE CIVILIAN SIDE OF THE GOVERNMENT MOVING INTO THE MINEFIELD OF THE DISAPPEARED, ALTHOUGH WE DO KNOW THEY ARE URGING, PROBABLY GENTLY, FASTER ACTION ON PEN PRISONER RELEASES.

Dear Mr. Jorgenson:

We are enclosing a copy of a letter we have sent to Argentinian officials on behalf of Dr. Nicolas G. Bazan. The ouster of this eminent physiologist from his posts at the National Southern University deeply disturbs many American scientists concerned with the human rights and scientific freedoms of their colleagues throughout the world.

We respectfully suggest that our government also intervene on Dr. Bazan's behalf. If you require additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Please apprise us of any action you initiate concerning this matter so that we may monitor the efforts undertaken on Dr. Bazan's behalf.

(U) CHILE'S COMMUNIST PARTY OPTS FOR REVOLUTION WITH MOSCOW'S BLESSING

(U) A review of the statements made by Chilean Communist Party (PCCH) leader Luis Corvalan since late 1977 reveals a decided shift in emphasis from mass political struggle to espousal of armed revolution and collaboration with extremist groups engaging in terrorism in order to overthrow the ruling junta led by Maj. Gen. Augusto Pinochet Ugarte. The fact that Soviet broadcasting facilities are disseminating the new party line and urging the cause of armed action indicates that Moscow has implicitly endorsed this shift.

Traditional Policy: Peaceful Revolution

(U) When the PCCH met in Prague in late 1977 to hold its first Central Committee session since the fall of the Chilean Popular Unity government in 1973, Luis Corvalan delivered a report on party policy (published in Rude Pravo) asserting that:

—revolutionary change could be accomplished through non-violent means;

—the PCCH "line" was at all times correct and did not need to be replaced with a new line;

—a new political situation, favorable to the goals of the PCCH, was emerging as the power of the junta crumbled;

—the possibility for revolutionary change rested with the workers (mass struggle), particularly through political action;

--the PCCH "call to struggle" was not an encouragement to rush into action and fall victim to fascist brutality;

Report 167-AR
June 23, 1981

--the unity of the Communist, Christian Democrat, and Popular Unity Parties was essential to the struggle.

(U) Although the report did not specifically mention the Movement of the Revolutionary Left (MIR) or other leftwing extremist organizations, it implicitly condemned such groups by castigating attacks by "left-wing forces" against the former Popular Unity government and by excluding these groups from a list of parties envisioned in a future coalition.

(C) In January 1979, Corvalan told German Democratic Republic leader Erich Honecker in East Berlin that the PCCH was preparing an "antifascist plan of action" based on a unified opposition composed of "parties of all lines of opinion." The General German Press Agency report of that Honecker-Corvalan meeting did not list the parties Corvalan envisaged in the coalition, but by the end of 1979, according to reports, the PCCH leaders were actively seeking the cooperation of the Chilean Socialist Party for a unified opposition to Pinochet.

(U) New Trend: Armed Insurrection

In any event, during the Cuban Party Congress (also in December 1980), Corvalan delivered a speech in which he enunciated the basic elements of a new party line which called for armed struggle to overthrow the Chilean Government:

--unity is the key to victory;

--unity is molded by combat, as in Nicaragua;

--sectarianism is harmful;

--coordination of efforts by all parties, including the extreme left, is necessary; and

--active struggle creates the conditions for an overthrow; the opposition cannot wait for the "correct conditions."

The break with the earlier PCCH policy (which rejected links with terrorist organizations such as MIR) became especially clear when Corvalan in January 1981 stated that the PCCH was willing not only to talk with MIR representatives but to sign agreements with the group. He also commended MIR terrorist activities as "helpful" but suggested that better "marksmanship" was necessary. Several days after this proclamation, Corvalan signed a unification agreement with seven other leftist political organizations, including MIR. The representatives from the eight parties stated their willingness and intention to hold further meetings to develop "concrete" strategy for the struggle.

Until January 1981, when the new PCCH policy evidently had been ironed out and validated by the agreement for a broad opposition coalition, Corvalan's statements were issued from such places as Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Cuba, and Peru--but never from Moscow. Within two weeks of the agreement, however, Moscow began broadcasting (in Spanish to Latin America and Chile in particular) PCCH explanations of the new policy and calls for armed insurgency.

Volodia Teitelboim, a longtime Central Committee member and PCCH spokesman, announced in a broadcast from Moscow during January 1981 that:

--the party's line remains unchanged; only its "implementation" would be new for Chile;

--the "right to rebel" was a latent element of party ideology; it had been activated as an "everyday attitude";

--new types of action were not only legitimate but necessary;

--the new action would consist of guerrilla warfare followed by a massive uprising (revolution); and

--mass resistance and terrorism would overthrow Pinochet.

Corvalan's February address to the 26th CPSU Congress, which was subsequently synopsized and broadcast from Moscow to Latin America, reiterated these basic elements of the new policy, calling for rebellion and the creation of a single front. According to Corvalan, the Chilean people were becoming more "combat-minded."

Demonstrating the new acceptance by the PCCH of "activist" (terrorist) organizations, Teitelboim announced in Mexico City in March the existence of the Manuel Rodriguez Patriotic Command (a Marxist group) and reported on sabotage it had allegedly carried out against the Pinochet government. In a March Radio Moscow report, Pedro Correa (identified only as a "communist commentator") claimed that Luis Corvalan had given the PCCH the green light for initiating armed struggle in Chile.

Further confirmation that Moscow at least implicitly endorsed the change in the PCCH line came with a Spanish-language broadcast to Chile from Moscow, also in March, by the Manuel Rodriguez Patriotic Command itself. The 10-minute broadcast amounted to a call for popular rebellion and advertised some of the group's less violent actions, such as causing a widespread blackout in Chile in November 1980.

Both Corvalan and Teitelboim have since repeatedly asserted that the new policy is not new at all but merely a change in tactics, the revival of a latent concept. According to their rationale, it was the September 1980 plebiscite in Chile which necessitated the new "tactic," because it eliminated the possibility of political struggle and legalized Pinochet's rule for the next eight years. But activation of a "latent" party concept, i.e., the right to rebel, is quite clearly such a qualitative change in tactics as to constitute a new policy "line" for the PCCH. It must also be weighed in the context of a regional strategy, formulated and supported by the Cubans, to advance "revolutionary" activity by uniting diverse opposition forces--under communist party leadership, if possible. In the case of the PCCH and Chile, the approval of the Soviet Union is at least implicit in the time donated by Soviet communications media to the dissemination of the new line.

Presumably, the realization that the Chilean junta's power was not waning, as Corvalan had predicted in 1977, was a primary factor in the adoption of the new line by the PCCH, with destabilization of the Pinochet regime through sustained guerrilla activity seen as the only promising course for creating a "revolutionary" environment. At the same time, the Nicaraguan example evidently convinced the Cubans and the Chilean party of the need to unify all opposition forces (including those previously rejected) in order to obtain final victory over any regional government. But the PCCH appears to believe that its acceptance of (and participation in) terrorist/guerrilla activity is a sine qua non for attaining leadership of the insurgency over such groups as the MIR and eventual control of a post-revolutionary situation.

THE STATEMENT ADDED THAT RAMIREZ WAS CHIEF OF A COMBAT GROUP OF THE "CENTRAL FORCE" OF THE MILITARY ARM OF THE MIR.

2. "EL MERCURIO" OF JUNE 25 SAID THAT THE IDENTIFICATION OF RAMIREZ HAD BEEN MADE POSSIBLE THROUGH THE PHOTO USED IN THE FALSE ID CARD WHICH HAD BEEN TRACED BACK TO A PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO WHERE HE HAD HAD THE PICTURE TAKEN SOME TEN DAYS BEFORE THE ATTACK AND WHERE HE HAD GIVEN HIS REAL NAME. THE SAME STORY INDICATED THAT RAMIREZ WAS SUSPECTED OF HAVING TAKEN PART IN PREVIOUS EXTREMIST ATTACKS INCLUDING

Dear Mr. Secretary:

As you know, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has reported the International Security and Development Cooperation Act of 1981. Senate consideration of this measure is expected following the recess for the observance of Independence Day.

Section 708 of the Act would repeal the current prohibition on providing security assistance to Argentina. While I favor repeal of this prohibition, I am deeply concerned over the consequences of removing the restrictions on security assistance to Argentina without taking similar action with respect to Chile.

I would appreciate your advising me of the Administration's position regarding any amendments that may be offered to remove the restrictions on providing security assistance to Chile. I would also appreciate your office providing me with a report on the progress made by the governments of Argentina and Chile in complying with internationally recognized principles of human rights, the Beagle Channel boundary dispute, the importance of Argentina and Chile to U.S. security, and the controversy surrounding the killing of Orlando Letelier.

Thank you for your kind and prompt attention to this most important matter.

With kindest regards and best wishes,

Sincerely,

Strom Thurmond

Dear Mr. Fairbanks:

I have been contacted by several of my constituents regarding the cases of Father Gheorghe Calciu Dumitreasa of Romania and Luis Martinez Delaport of Chile.

As you may know, Father Dumitreasa is a Romanian Orthodox priest who has been sentenced to ten years in prison. Mr. Delaport was an employee of Codelco in Antofagasta, Chile and was arrested on May 24, 1981. I am interested in the status of these prisoners and the efforts the State Department is making on their behalf. I will then provide my constituents with this information.

If you need further details or have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Bruce Mintz of my staff.

ACTION CIRCULAR FOR TWO CHILEANS WHO "DISAPPEARED" IN ARGENTINA

Amnesty International has received reports of the arrest and subsequent disappearance of two chilean citizens on 19 February 1981 near the Argentine town of Junin de los Andes, in the Province of Neuquen.

According to two eye-witnesses, José Alejandro Campos Cifuentes and Luis Quinchavil Suarez, were arrested by a group of fifteen mounted members of the Argentine Gendarmaria.

The two Chileans, who had both been living in Europe as refugees, were returning clandestinely to Chile. They were travelling with false documents and passports, José Campos in the name of Jorge Fortunato Herrera and Luis Quinchavil in the name of Elias Santibarne Ortiz.

The "disappearance" of the two men has been reported to various international organizations, including the United Nations High Commission for Refugees, the U.N. Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances. Inquiries have also been made within Argentina but to date there has been no reply from the Argentine authorities nor has any information been published about the case within Argentina.

2. SUMMARY. I CALLED ON WILLY BRANDT, THURSDAY, JULY 9. HE OFFERED SOME INTERESTING AND PERCEPTIVE COMMENTS ON BREZHNEV'S STATUS AND THE NATURE OF THE SOVIET LEADERSHIP. HE EXPRESSED THE VIEW THAT THE SOVIETS WERE NOT PLANNING TO TAKE ANY IMMEDIATE ACTION IN POLAND (PARAGRAPH 10). ON AFGHANISTAN, THE SOVIETS OUTLINED CONDITIONS FOR A TROOP WITHDRAWAL, WHICH BRANDT INTERPRETED AS SIGNS OF A SOFTENING IN THEIR POSITION (PARAGRAPHS 12 AND 13). ON TNF, BRANDT DESCRIBED WHAT HE CALLED A "SLIGHTLY CHANGED MORATORIUMPROPOSAL" (PARAGRAPH 16). HE EXPRESSED GREAT RETICENCE WHEN I ASKED HIM WHETHER HE HAD THE IMPRESSION THAT ANYTHING OF REAL SIGNIFICANCE HAD EMERGED IN THE COURSE OF HIS MOSCOW VISIT, BUT HE NOTED THAT THE SOVIETS HAVE STILL TO PROVIDE INTERPRETATIONS THAT THEY PROMISED WITHIN TWO WEEKS. 3. I TOLD BRANDT I WAS DELIGHTED TO BE IN HIS COUNTRY, AND NOTED THAT I HAD RECENTLY VISITED HIS FAVORITE CITY OF BERLIN: IT REMAINED A BEAUTIFUL PLACE. BRANDT AGREED, BUT SAID THERE WERE PROBLEMS WITH YOUNG PEOPLE AND FOREIGNERS, ESPECIALLY TURKS. INTEGRATION WAS PROVIDING DIFFICULTIES DUE TO TURKISH CULTURE AND RELIGIOUS BACKGROUND. I SAID I UNDERSTOOD ONE GROUP WAS IN FAVOR OF THE PRESENT TURKISH GOVERNMENT AND ANOTHER WAS OPPOSED, AND THAT THEY WERE FIGHTING IT OUT ON GERMAN SOIL. TURNING TO THE SITUATION IN GREAT BRITAIN, I SAID I WAS TERRIBLY DISTURBED OVER EVENTS THERE. WE IN THE U.S. HAD HAD SIMILAR PROBLEMS IN THE LATE 1960'S AND EARLY 1970'S. WE HAD OVERCOME THEM AND HOPED THEY WOULD NOT RETURN. IN SPITE OF THE EXAGGERATIONS OF RHETORIC, WE NOW HAVE SOCIAL EQUALITY. BRANDT AGREED.

4. I EXPLAINED THAT I WAS ABOUT TO RETURN TO WASHINGTON. I HAD BECOME AN AMBASSADOR VERY SUDDENLY. IT WAS NOT THE KIND OF CAREER I HAD ANTICIPATED. I NOW HAD TO PUT MY PERSONAL AND PROFESSIONAL AFFAIRS IN ORDER AND COMPLETE SOME WRITING. I NOTED THAT MY GOVERNMENT WAS VERY INTERESTED IN A FIRSTHAND REPORT ON BRANDT'S RECENT VISIT TO MOSCOW. THERE WERE ALL KINDS OF REPORTS IN THE PRESS, BUT PRESIDENT REAGAN AND SECRETARY HAIG WOULD LIKE THE INFORMATION DIRECTLY FROM BRANDT. IT WOULD GIVE ME PLEASURE TO PASS IT ALONG, WHEN I RETURN TO WASHINGTON. I ADDED THAT IT ALSO GAVE ME PLEASURE TO MEET BRANDT.

I HAD BEEN ONE OF BRANDT'S ADMIRERS OVER THE PAST YEARS. HE HAD PLAYED AN HISTORIC ROLE IN BERLIN. I TOLD HIM HE HAD MANY FRIENDS IN OUR COUNTRY. BRANDT RESPONDED THAT HE WAS VISITED THE U.S. MORE OFTEN THAN THE SOVIET UNION. I ASKED HIM HIS IMPRESSIONS OF MOSCOW ON HIS LAST TRIP. HE SAID HE SAW A GOOD DEAL OF HOUSING CONSTRUCTION. HE HAD SPOKEN WITH THE CITY'S MAYOR: THERE WAS [illegible] POPULATION INCREASE, WHICH WAS NOT [illegible]

TO THE CONSTANT NEED FOR WORKERS, MARRIAGES WITH PEOPLE FROM THE COUNTRYSIDE, AND THE LIKE. MOSCOW'S POPULATION, BRANDT SAID, HAS NOW REACHED EIGHT MILLION.

5. I TOLD BRANDT I HAD VISITED MOSCOW TWICE, FIRST IN 1963 AS AN EXCHANGE PROFESSOR AND THEN AGAIN IN 1974. BRANDT AND I CHATTED FOR A WHILE ABOUT SOVIET ART AND SCULPTURE, THEN HE TURNED TO HIS IMPRESSIONS OF BREZHNEV.

6. BRANDT SAID HE HAD FOUND BREZHNEV IN SLIGHTLY BETTER PHYSICAL CONDITION THAN DURING HIS 1978 BONN VISIT. BREZHNEV WAS NOW 74. I OBSERVED THAT BY MY STANDARDS HE WAS A YOUNG MAN. BRANDT SAID THAT BREZHNEV STUCK TO HIS PAPERS THIS TIME MORE CLOSELY THAN HE USED TO. AT THEIR FIRST MEETING DURING THE RECENT VISIT, IN THE KREMLIN, BREZHNEV READ FOR ONE HOUR. BRANDT THEN RESPONDED FOR ONE HOUR, FOLLOWING WHICH BREZHNEV IMMEDIATELY

RELATIVELY INFORMAL DISCUSSION ONLY BEGAN THE FOLLOWING DAY WITH SOME OF BREZHNEV'S ADVISERS AND COLLEAGUES. SOME EXCHANGE OF VIEWS WAS POSSIBLE THEN.

7. BRANDT SAID HE GAINED THE IMPRESSION AT THE DINNER THE FIRST EVENING THAT BREZHNEV NOW DISLIKED THIS KIND OF OBLIGATION. BRANDT RECALLED THAT BREZHNEV PREVIOUSLY ENJOYED SUCH FUNCTIONS. I AGREED. I RECALLED HAVING SEEN BREZHNEV AT A WASHINGTON DINNER, WHERE HE WAS CLEARLY ENJOYED HIMSELF. BRANDTSAID THAT THIS WAS NO LONGER THE CASE. NOW BREZHNEV ONLY TOOK A SPOON VODKA AND A LITTLE SOUP. TOWARD THE END OF DINNER, BREZHNEV TOOK SOME COFFEE AND MADE A FEW BRIEF REMARKS.

9. I ASKED WHETHER THAT SUGGESTED TO BRANDT THAT BREZHNEV WAS NO LONGER THE ARCHITECT OF SOVIET POLICY. BRANDT REPLIED, YES AND NO. IN 1974, WHEN HE AND BRANDT HAD SIGNED A TREATY, BREZHNEV ALSO HAD A PREPARED STATEMENT BUT WOULD OCCASIONALLY PARAPHRASE IT. NOW HE JUST READ IT. BRANDT SAID THAT HIS IMPRESSION WAS THAT SINCE 1975 OR 1976 AT THE LATEST, A "KIND OF FIRM" WAS FUNCTIONING IN MOSCOW WHICH USED THE NAME BREZHNEV AND PREPARED HIS TEXTS. WE SIMPLY DO NOT KNOW WHAT RESULTS FROM POLITBURO DECISIONS AND WHAT RESULTS FROM BREZHNEV'S PERSONAL APPARATUS.

10. BRANDT SAID HE WANTED TO MAKE THREE "PERIPHERAL OBSERVATIONS:"

-- POLAND: FIRST, HE HAD THE FEELING THAT THE SOVIETS WERE NOT IN A MOOD TO TAKE ANY IMMEDIATE ACTION VIS-A-VIS POLAND. HOWEVER, THERE WAS A LATENT CRISIS THERE, AND IT WOULD BE UNWISE TO EXCLUDE THE POSSIBILITY OF AN INVASION LATER ON. AT THE DINNER, BRANDT HAD ASKED BREZHNEV WHETHER "HIS FRIEND SUSLOV" -- WHO WAS SITTING NEARBY -- WOULD GO TO THE POLISH PARTY CONGRESS. THE WAY BREZHNEV AND SUSLOV JOKED IN RESPONSE GAVE BRANDT THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE WERE NO PREPARATIONS TO INVADE POLAND. ON THE WAY TO THE AIRPORT BRANDT HAD ASKED BREZHNEV WHETHER HE KNEW KANIA. BREZHNEV RESPONDED, "NO, BUT I KNOW JARUSELSKI AND LIKE HIM." BRANDT RECALLED THAT BREZHNEV HAD KNOWN JARUSELSKI AS DEFENSE MINISTER, A PORTFOLIO WHICH AS PRIME MINISTER [redacted]

JARUSELSKI CONTINUES TO HOLD.

-- NORTH-SOUTH ISSUES: BRANDT NOTED THAT HE HAD BEEN IN DISAGREEMENT WITH HIS OWN GOVERNMENT ON THE ISSUE OF ASKING THE SOVIETS TO PARTICIPATE IN CONFERENCES ON NORTH-SOUTH MATTERS. HE BELIEVED A NEGATIVE STANCE WAS OVERHASTY. THE INTERESTS OF THE HUNGARIANS AND BULGARIANS, FOR EXAMPLE, WERE DIFFERENT FROM THOSE OF THE SOVIET UNION. BRANDT BELIEVED THAT THE FUTURE OF TRADE, ENERGY AND THE WORLD MONETARY SYSTEM MUST BE

OF INTEREST TO THEM. THE RUSSIANS HAD NOT MOVED THAT FAR. SOME EXPERTS HAD, BUT NOT THE LEADERS. AT A MOSCOW CONFERENCE ORGANIZED BY THE SOVIET INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (IMEMO) WHICH BRANDT HAD ATTENDED PREVIOUSLY, SOME OF THE SOVIET PARTICIPANTS HAD RAISED INTELLIGENT ISSUES AND HAD AGREED WITH BRANDT'S OBSERVATION THAT "WORLD-BRIDGING PROBLEMS," SUCH AS THE POPULATION EXPLOSION AND THE ENVIRONMENT, WENT BEYOND THE SOCIAL ORDER UNDER WHICH ONE LIVED. BRANDT SAID THAT TO HIS SURPRISE, BREZHNEV HAD RAISED THE NORTH-SOUTH ISSUE. BREZHNEV SAID HE WANTED TO REPEAT THE SOVIET "POSITION OF PRINCIPLE:" THEY DID NOT FEEL RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CONSEQUENCES OF COLONIALISM." (BRANDT SAID HE HAD NOT RESPONDED, BUT IF HE HAD, HE WOULD HAVE SAID THIS WAS A QUESTION BETTER LEFT TO HISTORIANS.) APART FROM THAT, BREZHNEV CONTINUED, THE WEST WAS WORKING WITH THE WRONG FIGURES; BREZHNEV WOULD HAVE TO INCLUDE AID TO CUBA, VIET NAM AND OTHER COUNTRIES. BUT, BREZHNEV SAID, "WE DON'T EXCLUDE THAT WE WILL FIND A WAY TO PARTICIPATE IN THE EFFORTS OF THE MEXICO SUMMIT." BRANDT DREW THE CONCLUSION THAT

BREZHNEV WOULD NOT PLAN TO GO, BUT WOULD PERHAPS SEND SOME HIGH-LEVEL OBSERVER. THIS WAS AGAINST THE RULES, AND THE MEXICANS WOULD HAVE TO DECIDE. BREZHNEV CRITICIZED "THE NORTH-SOUTH" TERMINOLOGY. BRANDT IN TURN REPLIED THAT HE HAD PROBLEMS WITH IT TOO. THE SOVIETS, HOWEVER, DID NOT SUGGEST ANY ALTERNATIVE TERMINOLOGY.

-- AFGHANISTAN: BRANDT SAID THAT BREZHNEV, IN HIS FIRST PRESENTATION, HAD SOME REMARKS ABOUT MILITARY COOPERATION BETWEEN CHINA AND THE UNITED STATES. BRANDT LISTENED, THEN SAID, "SINCE WE ARE DISCUSSING THAT PART OF THE WORLD, WHAT ABOUT AFGHANISTAN?" BRANDT RECALLED TO BREZHNEV THE CONTINUING DISPLEASURE WITH SOVIET ACTIONS IN AFGHANISTAN ON THE PART OF "HIS THIRD WORLD FRIENDS." BREZHNEV RESPONDED RATHER DEFENSIVELY THAT IF THE AMERICANS HAD THOUSANDS OF ADVISERS IN IRAN, NO ONE WOULD THINK ANYTHING WAS WRONG; BUT WHEN THE SOVIETS SENT FORCES INTO AFGHANISTAN, THERE WAS A WORLDWIDE OUTCRY.

11. THE FOLLOWING DAY, BRANDT SAID, HE HAD TALKED WITH [redacted] AGLADIN, WHO WAS "VERY ABLE." BRANDT IDENTIFIED FELA

-- ZAGLADIN, PARTY EXPERT ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS;

-- ARBATOV, THE HEAD OF THE INSTITUTE FOR THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA;

-- INOZEMTSOV, HEAD OF THE INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS (IMEMO).

THE FOUR MEMBERS OF BREZHNEV'S "MAFIA," BRANDT SAID, HAD ALL BEEN AT UNIVERSITY TOGETHER AND TOOK THEIR DEGREES THE SAME YEAR.

12. BRANDT HAD ALSO SPOKEN WITH PONOMAREV, ACCOMPANIED BY ZAGLADIN. HE CHARACTERIZED PONOMAREV AS OLD-FASHIONED AND A LONG-TIME POLITBURO CANDIDATE. PONOMAREV MADE THE FOLLOWING SPECIFIC REMARKS ON AFGHANISTAN:

-- IF GUARANTEES COULD BE OFFERED AGAINST INVASION OF AFGHANISTAN FROM PAKISTAN AND IRAN, AND IF SECURITY COULD BE ESTABLISHED ALONG THE 2,400-KILOMETER-LONG BORDER, AND IF AFGHANISTAN'S NON-ALIGNED STATUS COULD BE CONFIRMED (BRANDT SAID HE HAD INTERJECTED AT THIS POINT THAT THAT STATUS HAD NEVER CHANGED), THEN THE SOVIETS WOULD "WITH PLEASURE" BE PREPARED TO WITHDRAW THEIR TROOPS. BRANDT SAID THAT THE SOVIETS HAD NOT BEEN WILLING TO DISCUSS THE INTERNAL STRUCTURE OF THE AFGHANISTAN GOVERNMENT, AND WERE OBVIOUSLY NOT PREPARED TO DISCUSS THE POSSIBILITY OF MILLIONS OF REFUGEES

RETURNING WITHOUT BEING PUNISHED. BUT THE SETTLEMENT WOULD HAVE TO BE GUARANTEED BY THE USSR AND THE UNITED STATES.

13. I ASKED BRANDT IF HE COULD CLARIFY THE WORD "GUARANTEE." HE RESPONDED THAT IT MEANT A TREATY PLUS "PERHAPS SOMETHING ALONG THE TWO BORDERS." HE CONTINUED THAT THIS WAS A DIFFERENT SOVIET APPROACH FROM THAT OF SIX MONTHS AGO. THEY WERE NOT EXCLUDING DISCUSSIONS NOW. SIX MONTHS AGO, BRANDT OBSERVED, THE SOVIETS WOULD HAVE SAID,

"THIS IS OUR BUSINESS; YOU ARE FAR AWAY."
THIS WAS ALSO TRUE OF THE CARRINGTON VISIT.
GROMYKO HAD SAID THAT THE EC PROPOSAL WAS "NOT REALISTIC," BUT HE HAD NOT TOLD CARRINGTON
TO "GO TO HELL," AND HE INDICATED THEY COULD MEET
IN NEW YORK IN SEPTEMBER. BRANDT SAID HE DID NOT KNOW HOW FAR THE SOVIETS WERE WILLING TO GO, BUT THEY WERE AWARE THAT THEIR POSITION WAS NOT STRONG.

14. THESE WERE THE PERIPHERAL THINGS, BRANDT SAID. NOW
HE WISHED TO TURN TO SERIOUS THINGS. HE HAD HEARD A GOOD DEAL OF TALK IN MOSCOW THAT THE SOVIETS WANTED TO NEGOTIATE, BUT THAT THEY DOUBTED THE UNITED STATES WANTED
TO. IN RESPONSE, BRANDT HAD POINTED TO CHANCELLOR
SCHMIDT'S STATEMENT ON RETURNING FROM THE UNITED STATES AND TO THE NATO COUNCIL'S ROME STATEMENT. THERE WAS SOME POLEMIC ON THE PART OF THE SOVIETS DURING THE MOSCOW TALKS, BUT NOT VERY MUCH.

15. BRANDT SAID HE ASKED THE SOVIETS, "IF YOU DO NOT LIKE THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE FIRST PART OF THE DOUBLE DECISION, WHAT ARE YOU PREPARED TO DO?" SUBSEQUENTLY, THE SOVIETS SEEMED TO HAVE HAD A DISCUSSION. THEY HAD SENT AN ADVISOR TO THE GUEST HOUSE TO ASK WHAT BRANDT HAD MEANT BY A "ZERO SOLUTION." BRANDT RESPONDED THAT YHE SOVIETS SHOULD LOOK AGAIN AT THE NATO DOUBLE DECISION AND THE DECISION TAKEN AT THE DECEMBER 1979 SPD BERLIN CONVENTION, WHICH INDICATED PREPAREDNESS TO DEPLOY NATO TNF IF NEGOTIATIONS PROVED UNSATISFACTORY. THE SOVIETS HAD ANOTHER INTERPRETATION, BRANDT SAID. FOR THEM, THE ZERO SOLUTION MUST INCLUDE ALL REPEAT ALL MEDIUM-RANGE WEAPONS IN EUROPE. AT THE FIRST BRANDT-BREZHNEV MEETING, THEY ALREADY INSISTED THAT FBS BE INCLUDED. (IN RESPONSE TO MY QUESTION, BRANDT CLARIFIED "FBS" TO MEAN PRINCIPALLY U.S. AIRCRAFT IN THE MEDITERRANEAN.) THE SOVIETS POINTED OUT THAT THE UNITED STATES AND THE GERMANS SHOULD KNOW THAT WHEN THE SOVIETS PRESENTED FIGURES, THEY WOULD INCLUDE BRITISH AND FRENCH SYSTEMS, WHATEVER THESE SYSTEMS' STATUS WAS.

16. BRANDT RECALLED THAT IN HIS DINNER SPEECH HE SAID THAT HE WHO WISHES TO PREVENT ARMS MODERNI-

RESPONSE (VORRUESTUNG). IN HIS DINNER REMARKS, BREZHNEV RESPONDED WITH A SLIGHTLY CHANGED MORATORIUM PROPOSAL, OF WHICH BRANDT SAID HE THOUGHT THE UNITED STATES WAS ALREADY AWARE:

-- THE PROPOSAL CONCENTRATED PURELY ON DEPLOYMENT AND DID NOT INCLUDE PRODUCTION OF TNF WEAPONS OR INFRASTRUCTURE PREPARATION;

-- THE PROPOSAL ALSO STIPULATED THAT SS-20 DEPLOYMENT WOULD STOP "AS SOON AS NEGOTIATIONS BEGAN." THIS WOULD MEAN MORE THAN PERIPHERAL TALKS IN NEW YORK. THE SOVIETS WOULD EXPECT THE AMERICANS TO LET THE SOVIETS KNOW THAT THEY AGREED WITH THE SOVIET CONCEPT. IN OTHER WORDS, BRANDT SAID, IF THE UNITED STATES FOUND THE CONCEPT AGREEABLE, WE WOULD MERELY HAVE TO FIND SOMEONE TO CARRY THE MESSAGE.

17. BRANDT AND HIS COLLEAGUES POSED OTHER QUESTIONS RELATED TO TNF, E.G.,: HOW MANY SS-20'S WOULD BE DISMANTLED; THE NUMBER OF AND PLANS FOR THE SS-4'S AND SS-5'S; HOW MANY SS-20'S WERE TARGETED ON CHINA; WHAT PLANS THE SOVIETS HAD TO CONTINUE THEIR BUILD-UP OF WEAPONS. SUBSEQUENTLY, A RESPONSE ARRIVED. THERE HAD BEEN A POLITBURO MEETING AT WHICH THE FOREIGN AND DEFENSE MINISTRIES HAD BEEN INSTRUCTED TO PREPARE A REPLY TO BRANDT'S QUESTION. THE SOVIETS WOULD LET US KNOW, BRANDT WAS TOLD.

18. I ASKED BRANDT WHETHER BREZHNEV HAD FURNISHED COPIES OF THE TWO MEMOS HE HAD READ FROM. BRANDT SAID THAT HE HAD NOT. THOSE WERE PAPERS PREPARED FOR BREZHNEV'S DELIVERY.

19 BRANDT WAS ASTONISHED BY THE "FANTASTIC DIFFERENCE" BETWEEN THE NUCLEAR WEAPONS FIGURES BREZHNEV CITED AND WESTERN FIGURES. AT BRANDT'S REQUEST, WISCHNEWSKI PRODUCED THE WESTERN FIGURES AND [illegible] THAT "THEY WERE SO FAR FROM EACH OTHER THAT IT BE WORTHWHILE TO HAVE NEGOTIATIONS IF ONLY FOR THIS REASON." THE SOVIETS, BRANDT ADDED, HAD A RUSSIAN TRANSLATION OF THE GERMAN DEFENSE MINISTRY'S PUBLICATION ON TNF, AND CLAIMED THAT THE FACTS CONTAINED THEREIN WERE NOT CORRECT.

20. BRANDT SAID THE SOVIETS WERE INTERESTED IN THE FRENCH SITUATION. THEY FELT INSUFFICIENTLY INFORMED AND ASKED HIM FOR HIS VIEWS, SINCE HE "WAS A FRIEND OF MITTERRAND." BRANDT SAID HE RESPONDED FRANKLY THAT MITTERRAND WAS RATHER GAULLIST, BUT THAT THE SOVIETS WOULD FIND HIM A SOLID PARTNER. BRANDT OPINED THAT THE SOVIETS WERE CONCERNED BECAUSE THEY HAD MADE IT CLEAR BEFORE THE ELECTION THAT THEY PREFERRED GISCARD.

21. BRANDT CONFIRMED THAT BREZHNEV WANTED TO COME TO BONN IN NOVEMBER. BRANDT SAID HE ASKED SCHMIDT BEFORE LEAVING FOR MOSCOW, AND THAT THE CHANCELLOR HAD BEEN IN FAVOR OF A BREZHNEV VISIT. THERE WERE A NUMBER OF BILATERAL ISSUES OUTSTANDING,

AND A SCHMIDT-BREZHNEV DISCUSSION WOULD ALSO PROVIDE USEFUL INFORMATION TO SHARE WITH THE ALLIES.

22. BRANDT SAID HE AND HIS COLLEAGUES HAD TOUGH WORDS IN RESPONSE TO SOVIET ATTACKS ON THE FRG. BRANDT TOLD THE SOVIETS HE APPRECIATED THE SIGNIFICANCE OF JUNE 22 AS THE 40TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GERMAN INVASION OF THE SOVIET UNION. BUT THAT SOME SOVIET ATTACKS ON THE FRG WERE UNACCEPTABLE. AS AN ILLUSTRATION, BRANDT NOTED THAT IN A TELEVISED DISCUSSION WITH A POLISH POLITBURO HARDLINER, THE ALLEGATION HAD BEEN MADE THAT WEST GERMAN "REVANCHISTS" WERE INVOLVED IN POLAND. BRANDT SAID HE ALSO TOLD THE SOVIET AMBASSADOR IN BONN THAT IT WAS BETTER TO HAVE FACTS THAN ACCUSATIONS.

23. I SAID I FOUND BRANDT'S REMARKS FASCINATING, NOTING THAT MY GOVERNMENT WOULD BE PARTICULARLY INTERESTED IN HIS GENERAL CONCLUSIONS ABOUT THE *SUBSTANCE OF THE CONVERSATIONS. I ASKED BRANDT IF HE HAD CARRIED AWAY THE IMPRESSION THAT SOME-*THING OF REAL SIGNIFICANCE HAD EMERGED IN THE COURSE OF HIS VISIT.

[redacted]

24. BRANDT SAID THAT THAT WAS A DIFFICULT QUESTION.

[redacted]

IF HE ATTEMPTED TO ANALYZE HIMSELF, HE WOULD HAVE TO ADMIT THAT HE TRIED TO "RUN AWAY" FROM ANSWERING THAT QUESTION. THE SOVIETS HAD SAID THEY WOULD PROVIDE INTERPRETATIONS: THEY STILL HAD TWO WEEKS TO DO THAT. HIS PRESENT FEELING WAS THAT THERE WERE SHADES OF DIFFERING OPINIONS WITHIN THE TOP SOVIET LEADERSHIP "WHICH YOU CAN SMELL," ALTHOUGH AS YET NO PROOF OF THIS EXISTED.

25. COMPARED WITH HIS EARLIER VISITS, BROBSERVED, THE RECEPTION THIS TIME WAS EXTREMELY COOL AND FORMAL. THE FIFTEEN ACCOMPANYING JOURNALISTS WERE PRACTICALLY ISOLATED FROM THE TIME OF THE GROUP'S ARRIVAL MONDAY MORNING UNTIL WEDNESDAY. NORMALLY THE SOVIETS CONTACTED JOURNALISTS: THEY DID NOT DO SO THIS TIME. WHEN THE SOVIETS ASKED BRANDT WHOM HE WISHED TO SEE, HE HAD REPLIED GROMYKO AND FALIN. HE WAS NOT ABLE TO SEE FALIN PRIVATELY, HE MET HIM ONLY AT THE GERMAN EMBASSY RECEPTION WEDNESDAY EVENING.

26. BRANDT WENT ON TO SY THAT THERE SEEMED TO BE SOME CHANGE IN THE CLIMATE AT THAT POINT. THAT NIGHT, THE SOVIET COURIER SAID TO HIM, "THE POLITBURO WILL MEET TOMORROW MORNING. YOU CAN TAKE IT FOR GRANTED THAT BREZHNEV WILL SEE YOU BEFORE YOU LEAVE." THE COURIER ALSO SAID THAT THE SOVIETS HAD "COME TO A POSITIVE CONCLUSION" ON BRANDT'S VISIT. IT WAS REMARKABLE, BRANDT OBSERVED, THAT THEY NEEDED A MEETING TO DO SOMETHING AS SIMPLE AS THAT. THEY HAD OBVIOUSLY DECIDED THAT "THE OLD MAN" WOULD COME TO THE AIRPORT. GROMYKO AND PONOMAREV WERE WAITING [redacted]

THERE.

27. SUSLOV ALSO PARTICIPATED AT THE DINNER, BUT HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH THE TALKS. HE WAS FRIENDLY. ALTHOUGH HE IS OLDER THAN BREZHNEV, HE LOOKED YOUNGER. A HARDLINER IN THE PAST, HE WAS RELAXED ON THIS OCCASION.

28. BRANDT SAID HE WAS ALMOST SURE THAT THERE WAS A LINE OF THINKING WITHIN THE SOVIET LEADERSHIP

TO THE EFFECT THAT "WHATEVER THE SOVIETS DO, CRUISE MISSILES AND PERSHING II WILL BE DEPLOYED. THEREFORE, THE SOVIETS HAD BETTER START PREPARING THEIR RESPONSE." PERHAPS, BRANDT SPECULATED, THERE WERE ALSO THOSE WITHIN THE SOVIET LEADERSHIP WHO WOULD NOT AGREE WITH THIS LINE, AND WHO STILL EXPECTED SOMETHING POSITIVE FROM NEGOTIATIONS. BREZHNEV SAID THAT IF THE UNITED STATES THOUGHT IT COULD FORCE THE SOVIETS INTO SUBMISSION BY FURTHER ARMING, IT WOULD FAIL. BREZHNEV TRACED IS CONNECTION HISTORICAL DEVELOPMENTS SINCE THE EXPLOSION OF THE FIRST NUCLEAR BOMB.

29. BRANDT EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT THE SOVIETS DID NOT ACCEPT THE THESIS THAT, AS IN OTHER COUNTRIES, TECHNOLOGY MIGHT DRIVE POLICY. THEY GAVE THE IMPRESSION THAT EVERYTHING WAS THE RESULT OF POLICY DECISIONS -- WHICH, BRANDT SAID, HE DID NOT BELIEVE. TO ILLUSTRATE, BRANDT SAID HE DOUBTED THAT THE LEADERSHIP KNEW TEN YEARS AGO WHAT THE SS-20 WOULD

30. AS AN ASIDE, BRANDT SAID HE HAD SEEN IN THE NEWS THAT HIS FRIEND HORST EHMKE WAS IN WASHINGTON. BRANDT SAID THERE WERE REPORTS THAT HE HAD ASKED EHMKE TO TRANSMIT INFORMATION ABOUT THE RESULTS OF HIS VISIT. THIS WAS "A MISUNDERSTANDING." BRANDT AND EHMKE HAD HAD A VERY SHORT CONVERSATION, BEFORE BRANDT HAD PRODUCED A WRITTEN REPORT. HOWEVER, BRANDT ADDED, HE HAD GIVEN EHMKE SOME OF HIS GENERAL IMPRESSIONS.

31. I EXPRESSED MY GRATITUDE TO BRANDT FOR HIS THOROUGHNESS AND GREAT CANDOR. BRANDT SAID THAT HE AND HIS STAFF STOOD READY TO SUPPLY FURTHER INFORMATION, "EVEN THE EXACT WORDING." I ASKED WHETHER BRANDT WOULD BE VISITING THE UNITED STATES. BRANDT SAID HE HAD NO SPECIFIC PLANS APART FROM A SPEAKING ENGAGEMENT BEFORE THE B'NAI BRITH IN NEW YORK EARLY IN OCTOBER, WHICH HE WOULD BE COMBINING WITH U.N. NORTH-SOUTH ACTIVITIES. THE GERMANS HAD THEIR DIFFERENCES WITH ISRAEL, BRANDT OBSERVED, AND HE BELIEVED THERE WOULD BE MORE; IT WAS IMPORTANT TO KEEP IN TOUCH.

32. COMMENT: I FORMED THE IMPRESSION THAT BRANDT WAS ENTIRELY FRANK WITH ME AND THAT HE APPROACHED THE SUBJECT OF HIS CONVERSATIONS IN THE SOVIET UNION WITH GREAT CARE. THERE WAS A TOUCH OF HUMILITY IN HIS REPORT ON THE CONVERSATIONS. I HAD THE IMPRESSION THAT HE SPOKE AS ONE MIGHT EXPECT A FRIEND TO SPEAK. WHEN I ASKED HIM AT THE END OF HIS COMMENTS WHAT HIS CONCLUSIONS WERE ON THE REAL SIGNIFICANCE OF THE CONVERSATIONS, HE INDICATED THAT HE WAS STILL SEARCHING HIS MIND AND WAS NOT IN A POSITION TO GIVE A DEFINITIVE RESPONSE. HE HOPED TO DO SO LATER ON. MY FEELING IS THAT IF BRANDT HAD ACTUALLY FOUND SOMETHING OF OUTSTANDING SIGNIFICANCE, IT WOULD HAVE IMPRESSED ITSELF CLEARLY ON HIS MIND, AND SINCE HE APPARENTLY SPOKE HONESTLY TO ME, HE WOULD HAVE INDICATED AS MUCH TO ME. THERE WAS CERTAINLY NO FLAMBOYANCE ON HIS PART. NOR DID HE GIVE ANY INDICATION OF ATTEMPTING TO PLAY AN INDEPENDENT FOREIGN POLICY ROLE. END COMMENT.

1. (C-ENTIRE EXT).

2. SUMMARY: IN A TWO HOUR MEETING WITH JUNTA COORDINATOR DANIEL ORTEGA, REP. SOLARZ RAISED KEY ISSUES OF U.S.-NICARAGU RELATIONS: MILITARIZATION, NICARAGUA'S TIES TO THE SOVIET UNION, EL SALVADOR AND THE FUTURE OF PLURALIS. AND MILED ECONOMY IN NICARAGUA. ORTEGA SAID GRN IS EXERCISING RIGHT TO ARM AND PROTECT ITSELF AND HAS RESORTED TO CURRENT SUPPLIERS

HE INSISTED THAT NICARAGUA'S FOREIGN POLICY IS NON-ALIGNED AND DISSEMBLED IN DENYING THAT NICARAGUA HAS SUPPLIED ARMS TO GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR. ORTEGA DEFINED PLURALISM TO MEAN THAT SANDINISTAS CAN CRITICIZE THE REVOLUTIONARY PROCESS FROM WITHIN BUT THEY MUST ACCEPT THE CHANGE IN THE "ESSENCE OF POWER" THAT HAS TAKEN PLACE. ON MIXED ECONOMY, ORTEGA SAID PRIVATE SECTORS PHTTDING ACK#AND IE THEREFORE RESPONSIBLE FOR EROSION OF BASIS FOR MIXED ECONOMY. HE ALSO SPECULATED THAT U.S. IS INTENTIONALLY PRECIPITATING A RADICALIZATION IN NICARAGUA IN ORDER TO JUSTIFY A TOUGH POLICY GK GUATEMALA AND SALVADOR.
IN RESPONSE TO REP. SOLARZ SUGGESTION THAT THE U.S., CUBA AND NICARAGUA
BVINTLY#PLEDGE TO STOP ARMS SHIPMENTS TO EL SALVADOR AND ACTIVEL COURAGE JRG-FDR BSALOGUE, ORTEGA SHOWED INTEREST BUT WAS NON-COMMITTAL. END SUMMARY.

3. REP. SOLARZ, ACCOMPANIED BY MRS. NOLARZ, MR. FRIEDMAN, AMBASSADOR AND EMBOFFS, MET FOR TWO HOURS ON JULY 7 WITH GRN JUNTA COORDINATOR DANIEL ORTEGA. ORTEGA HAD FOREIGN MINISTER MIRAEB OWJESCOTO AND MINISTRY NORTH AMERICAN AFFAIRS DIRECTOR
RITA DELIA CASCO WITH HIM. IN OPENING REKARKS, ORTEGA SAID THAT GRN HOPES THAT THERE IS BASIS FOR COEXISTENCE BETWEEN U.S. AND NICARAGUA BUT SAID GRN IS DISTURBED THAT THE GREAT POSSIBILITIES OPENED BY THE CARTER AMINISTRATION HAVE BEEN SUPPLANTED BY THE NEGATIVE ATTITUDES OF THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION WHICH IS SEEKING WAYS TO DESTABILIZE NICARAGUA. REP. SOLARZ REPLIED THAT AS LONG AS THERE IS A FEELING IN WASHINGTON THAT NICARAGUA FEELS OBLIGED TO CONSISTENTLY OPPOSE THE U.S., IT WILL BE IMPOSSIBLE TO HAVE A CONSTRUCTIVE RELATIONSHIP.
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

HE ASKED FOR ORTEGA'S VIEWS ON KEY AREAS OF CONCERN TO THE U.S.

4. EL SALVADOR: ORTEGA SAID GRN BACKS AND SUPPORTS THE REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENT IN EL SALVADOR SINCE IT OFFERS THE HOPE OF BRINGING THE POLITICAL, ECONOMIC, AND SOCIAL CHANGES THE COUNTRY NEEDS. NICARAGUA WOULD LIKE TO SUPPLY THE SALVADORAN REVOLUTIONARIES WITH ARMS SINCE THEY ARE STRUGGLING FOR A JUST CAUSE, BUT NICARAGUA MUST ACT RESPONSIBLY AND UNDERSTANDS THAT THE BEST WAY TO HELP THE SALVADORAN REVOLUTION IS TO STRENGTHEN THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION -- AND NOT TO

UNCLASSIFIED

PROVIDE ANY PRETEXTS FOR U.S. MILITARY INTERVENTION ON A GREATER SCALE THAN NOW EXISTS. ORTEGA DENIED THAT NICARAGUA HAS SUPPLIED OR IS SUPPLYING ARMS TO EL SALVADOR. HE ADMITTED THAT NICARAGUAN TERRITORY COULD BE USED TO TRANSSHIP ARMS CONTRARY TO THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY -- AS ALSO HAPPENS IN THE U.

5. REP. SOLARZ ASKED ORTEGA WHAT GRN'S ATTITUDE WOULD BE TOWARD A JOINT PLEDGE BY THE U.S., CUBA, AND NICARAGUA NOT TO SUPPLY ARMS TO EL SALVADOR. ORTEGA SAID THIS SOUNDS LIKE AN EXCELLENT IDEA, BUT SINCE NICARAGUA IS NOT SUPPLYING ARMS, IT WOULD BE UP TO THE U.S TO TAKE ACTION IN STOPPING ITS ARMS SUPPLY TO THE URG. REP. SOLARZ THEN SUGGESTED THAT NICARAGUA -- IN LEAGUE WITH THE U.S., VENEZUELA, CUBA, AND MEXICO -- MIGHT PRESSURE THE TWO MAIN PARTIES IN THE SALVADORAN PROBLEM --THE JRG AND FSR -- TO BEGIN A DIALOGUE THAT THEY WOULD NEVER UNDERTAKE ON THEIR OWN. ORTEGA SAID THAT NICARAGUA WOULD NOT HAVE TO TRY VERY HARD SINCE THE FOR HAS ALREADY SAID IT IS WILLING, BUT NOTED THAT THE U.S. IS NOW OPPOSED TO THIS WHILE ITS MILITARY ASSISTANCE IS STRENGTHENING HARDLINE ELEMENTS IN THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES. REP. SOLARZ SUGGESTED A FORMULA FOR A SETTLEMENT THAT WOULD BEGIN WITH A CEASE FIRE AND LEAD TO ELECTIONS BUT WOULD ALSO PERMIT ENTRY OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE DRU INTO THE GOVERNMENT. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE MOST IMPORTANT ELEMENT OF SUCH A FRAMEWORK WOULD BE SECURITY, BUT INDICATED THAT THE GRN WOULD HAVE

6. TIES WITH SOVIETS: NOTING THAT NO ONE CAN EXPECT NICARAGUA TO AGREE WITH THE U.S. IN ALL THINGS, REP.SOLARZ ASKED IF GRN FEELS THAT U.S.-NICARAGUAN TENSIONS ARE SO SEVERE THAT NICARAGUA CANNOT RISK ALIENATING THE SOVIET UNION BY ACTING IN WAYS THAT ARE INCOMPATIBLE WITH SOVIET INTERESTS. ORTEGA REPLIED THAT NICARAGUA'S FOREIGN POLICY IS ONE OF NON-ALIGNMENT AND THAT THIS IS THE FACTOR THAT IS MOST TROUBLING TO CERTAIN SECTORS IN THE U.S. AND CENTRAL AMERICA. HE, WITH D'ESCOTO JOINING IN, ASSERTED THAT NICARAGUA'S POSITION ON AFGHANISTAN WAS ACTUALLY MORE CRITICAL OF THE SOVIETS THAN THE UN RESOLUTION, BUT GRN DID NOT WANT TO LEND ITSELF TO LOP-SIDED CONDEMNATIONS OF THE USSR. D'ESCOTO SAID THAT GRN'S VIEWS ON

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ DECLASSIFIED UNCLASSIFIED

NICARAGUA COULD CONDEMN A SOVIET INVASION OF POLAND, ORTEGA SAID GRN COULD NOT APPLAUD SUCH AN ACTION AND ITS POLICY WOULD BE CONSISTENT WITH ITS NON-ALIGNED POSITION.

7. MILITARIZATION: ASKED IF NICARAGUA SAW ANY WAY TO PROTECT ITSELF WITHOUT MASSIVE MILITARY BUILD-UP, ORTEGA SAID GRN DOES NOT WANT TO BE FATALISTIC BUT IT SEES THE CENTRAL AMERICAN REGION CONVULSED BY POPULAR DEMANDS FOR SOCIAL CHANGE AND XBELS PRESSURE FROM GUATEMALAN, SALVADORAN, AND HONDURAN MILITARY. HE SAID GRN DOES NOT WANT AN ARMS RACE BUT IT MUST TAKE INTO ACCOUNT THE BLOC OF COUNTRIES TO THE NORTH. ORTEGA SAID THAT GRN TRIED TO GET ARMS FROM THE US., SPAIN, THE FRG, AND FRANCE BUT WAS NOT SUCCESSFUL AND CANNOT SIT AROUND AND WAIT. HE SAID THAT THE COUNTRIES THAT GIVE NICARAGUA ARMS GET THEM FROM THE USSR BUT THEY DO NOT COME DIRECTLY. HE ADDED THAT GRN OBJECTIVE IS TO DIVERSIFY SOURCES OF ARMS.

8. PLURALISM, MIXED ECONOMY: REP. SOLARZ ASKED IF PLURALISM MEANS THAT OTHER PARTIES WILL HAVE CHANCE TO CONTEST FOR POWER OR DOES FSLN FEEL THAT INTEGRITY OF THE REVOLUTION REQUIRES SANDINISTAS TO MAINTAIN A MONOPOLY OF POWER. ORTEGA REPLIED THAT U.S. MUST UNDERSTAND THAT REVOLUTION'S VICTORY IN AN ARMED STRUGGLE BROUGHT A CHANGE IN THE ESSENCE F POWER AND ESTABLISHED A POPULAR DEMOCRACY. PLURALISM CAN FUNCTION WITHIN THAT REALITY BUT THERE CAN BE NO CHANGE IN THE ESSENCE OF POPULAR DEMOCRACY. OTHER PARTIES CAN PARTICIPATE IN THE REVOLUTION AND CRITICIZE THE PROESS FROM WITHIN. THE NATURE OF ELECTIONS IN NICARAGUA IS STILL UNDER DISCUSSION AND WILL BE DEALT WITH BY THE COUNCIL OF STATE. REP. SOLARZ SAID THAT SAME WORDS HAVE DIFFERENT MEANINGS TO DIFFERENT PEOPLE, NOTING THAT SOME EASTERN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES CALL THEMSELVES "POPULAR

DEMOCRACIES" WHILE WESTERN EUROPEANS LAUGH AT SUCH PRETENSIONS HE ASKED ORTEGA IF HE THOUGHT CUBA OR MEXICO WERE PLURALISTIC SOCIETIES. PAUSING, AND LOWERING HIS VOICE, ORTEGA SAID THAT PLURALISM DOES NOT EXIST IN CUBA. RETURNING TO HIS NORMAL TONE ORTEGA SAID THAT TMSRE ARE MORE EXPRESSIONS OF PLURALISM IN ME

9. ORTEGA STATE THAT THE U.S. HAS A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE MANNER IN WHICH THE REVOLUTIONARY PROCESS IS DEVELOPING I NICARAGUA. HE SAID THAT THE U.S. IS PROVIDING ASSISTANCE TO T FORCES THAT OPPOSE THE REVOLUTION AND ENCOURAGES THEM NOT TO ACCEPT THE FUNDAMEHVAL CHANGES IN SOCIETY. THESE GROUPS ARE NOT HAPPY WITH THE LOSS OF THE POSITIONS THEY HAD UNDER SOMOZA AND THEY ARE REACTING NOW BY DECAPITALIZING AND DESTABILIZING. ORTEGA SAID THAT SANDINISTAS KNOW THE U.S. IS CONCERNED ABOUT THE SOVIET PRESENCE, TANKS, AND PLANES, BUT IT IS NOT REACTING IN THE CORRECT MANNER. INDEED, U.S. ACTIONS LEAD THE SANDINISTA TO BELIEVE THAT THE U.S. WANTS THE PROCESS TO RADICALIZE AND MOVE TO THE SOCIALIST CAMP SO THAT THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION WILL HAVE JUSTIFICATION FOR TAKING A TOUGH STAND IN SALVADOR AND GUATEMALA.

10. ORTEGA SAID THE FSLN WANTS TO RETAIN THE PRIVATE SECTOR SINCE IT CANNOT ASSUME RESPONSIBILITY FOR ALL OF THE ECONOMIC FUNCTIONS THAT THE PRIVATE SECTOR PERFORMS. THE RELUCTANCE OF SOME POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC SECTORS, HOWEVER, TO SETTLE DOWN AND PRODUCE COULD LEAD TO A CONFRONTATION AND CRUSHING OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR. ASKED BY REP. SOLARZ IF THE FSLN IS MARXIST, ORTEGA REPLIED THAT IT IS "ANTI-IMPERIALIST," IDENTIFIED WITH THE POPULARISTS AND THE HISTORICAL DEMANDS OF THE PEOPLE. HE SAID THAT SOME PEOPLE IN THE FSLN WANT TO PUT A LABEL ON THE MOVEMENT, BUT

ZTYN#WANTS TO BE OPEN TO UNIVERSAL THOUGHT.

11. DESIRE FOR DIALOGUE WITH U.S. ORTEGA SAID THAT THE

F. HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE -- THE QUESTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE HAS BEEN CONSIDERED AT EACH SESSION OF THE COMMISSION SINCE 1974. IT CENTERED THIS TIME ON A DRAFT RESOLUTION COSPONSORED ONCE AGAIN BY THE LEADING ACTIVISTS ON THE ISSUE, ALGERIA, CUBA, MEXICO, AND YUGOSLAVIA. IN WEO CONSULTATIONS, USDEL MADE CLEAR ITS VIEWPOINT THAT THE UNEQUAL TREATMENT WHICH HAD BEEN METED OUT TO CHILE BY THE COMMISSION SINCE 1975 SHOULD END, AND THAT THE MANDATE OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR SHOULD NOT BE RENEWED. THIS VIEWPOINT FOUND SOME SYMPATHY WITHIN THE GROUP, PARTICULARLY ON THE PART OF THE FRG AND FRANCE. A FURTHER USDEL ARGUMENT THAT THE CHILE CASE HENCEFORTH BE PURSUED UNDER THE CONFIDENTIAL 1503 PROCEDURES DID NOT, HOWEVER, FIND ANY SUPPORT IN THEGROUP. IN THE VOTING ON THE DRAFT RESOLUTION, THE ~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

UNITED STATES SIGNALED ITS CHANGE IN POLICY BY, FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE CHILE ISSUE HAD BEEN CONSIDERED IN THE COMMISSION OR IN THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, VOTING AGAINST. THE TREND IN THE COMMISSION TOWARDS A MORE MODERATE STAND ON CHILE WAS REFLECTED IN THE FACT THAT IN ADDITION TO THE FOUR NEGATIVE VOTES, THERE WERE 17 ABSTENTIONS SO THAT ONLY A BARE MAJORITY OF THE COMMISSION VOTED IN FAVOR. HOWEVER, MUCH WEO SUPPORT FOR THE RESOLUTION WAS LOST IN REACTION TO THE NARROW DEFEAT OF A SERIES OF FRG AMENDMENTS DESIGNED TO BRING THE PROPOSAL IN LINE WITH THE MORE MODERATE RESOLUTION ADOPTED AT THE RECENT GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND TO ELIMINATE

THE SPECIAL "CHILE ITEM" FROM THE COMMISSION'S AGENDA.

UNDER A SEPARATE AGENDA ITEM, ;HE COMMISSION APPROVED AND SENT TO ECOSOC A PROPOSAL TO REPLACE THE CHILE TRUST FUND BY A UN VOLUNTARY FUND FOR VICTIMS OF TORTURE. THE NEW FUND WOULD NOT BE COUNTRY-SPECIFIC. APPROVAL OF THE NEW FUND CAME AFTER THE COMMISSION DEFEATED A SERIES OF SOVIET AMENDMENTS DESIGNED TO GUT THE PROPOSAL AND/OR POSTPONEACTIONINDEFINITELY.

Case Number: [illegible]9900006

6. THE FOREGOING SUMMARY OF THE RESULTS REACHED WITH RESPECT TO THE PRINCIPAL ITEMS ON THE AGENDA OF THE 37TH SESSION OF THE COMMISSION FEATURESANUMBEROF SPECIFIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN LINE WITH UNITESTATES OBJECTIVES. IN A NUMBER OF CASES, THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION WAS IN A MINORITY POSITION, EXTENDING IN THREE CASES TO ISOLATION. MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE TALLY SHEET OF RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED AND VOTES RECORDED MUST BE THE IMPRESSION MADE BY THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION SPEAKING FOR THE NEW ADMINISTRATION. OUR DAILY CONTACTS WITH THE WEO DELEGATIONS AND LESS SYSTEMATIZED CONTACTS WITH DELEGATIONS OF OTHER REGIONS ASSURED KNOWLEDGE OF AND, WE BELIEVE, A GROWING UNDER-STANDING OF OUR NEW APPROACHES AND THE NEW POINTS OF EMPHASIS. THE USDEL HAD THE PRINCIPAL TASK OF CONTINUING THE TRADITIONAL U.S. EMPHASIS ON HUMAN RIGHTS, WHILE EXECUTING SMOOTHLY A NEW ADMINISTRATION'S UNIQUE SENSE OF STRATEGY AND TACTICS. THE CHANGE IN STRATEGIC FOCUS BY THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION CONSISTED IN ADVOCATING THREE MAIN SUBSTANTIVE POINTS: (1) NO MORE DOUBLE STANDARDS IN THE COMMISSION; (2) HUMAN RIGHTS EXIST IN MEDIATING INSTITUTIONS OF DUE PROCESS AND IN CONSTITU-

ENCIES COMMITTED TO MODERATION AND LAW IN MAKING SUCH INSTITUTIONS WORK; AND (3) THE SPECIAL THREAT TO HUMAN RIGHTS INSTITUTIONS POSED BY THE NEW INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM. WITH RESPECT TO VOTING PATTERNS, THE UNITED STATES DELEGATION MAINTAINED OVERALL CONSISTENCY WITH PAST U.S. POSITIONS; THE MOST STRIKING DIFFERENCES OCCURRED IN CHANGED STRATEGY AND TACTICS FOR IMPROVING

THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN SOUTH AND CENTRAL AMERICA.

U.S.A. GROUP 30

ARGENTINE DETAINED WITHOUT CHARGE OR TRIAL

Sr. Pascual Angel REYES is an Argentinian worker who has been imprisoned in Buenos Aires Province since 1974 but was never charged with a specific crime. He was arrested in July 1974 at his parents' home by a group of armed men in civilian clothes who took him to the Buenos Aires Police Headquarters, where he was severely beaten.

Sr. Reyes was a worker who specialized in plumbing and upholstery. He had joined the Mechanics' Union in 1971 but was never active. There is no evidence to suggest that Sr. Reyes was ever engaged in direct political activities; he claims to be a member of the Peronist Party but has held no offices and has not participated in any activities. Indeed, at age 26 (as of January 1981), he has never voted.

Sr. Reyes is detained under Article 23 of the Argentinian Constitution. Argentinian jurists have always argued that administrative detention under Article 23 was envisaged as a temporary measure, but since the military coup d'état in March 1976 and the subsequent state of siege, prisoners so held have faced lengthy and indefinite periods of confinement. Many of the prisoners held under this P.E.N. (Spanish-language acronym for "National Executive Power") have not been informed of the reason for their arrest, nor have they been asked to make a formal statement; Sr. Reyes has been held without charge or trial.

Prisoners held under P.E.N. are allowed to opt for exile rather than face lengthy imprisonment under Article 23. This right of option ("derecho de opción") was suspended in 1976 but was reintroduced in a restricted form on September 1, 1977, subject to the government's approval. Sr. Reyes was offered this right of option, but it was withdrawn from him after he tried to exercise it.

Amnesty International considers Pascual Angel Reyes to be a prisoner of conscience who is imprisoned as a result of his political beliefs, and it urges that Sr. Reyes, and all others similarly situated, should be released.

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL is an independent, non-partisan, non-violent organization which has consultative status with the United Nations, the Council of Europe, the Organization of American States and the Organization of African Unity. It endeavors to ensure the right for everyone to hold and express his beliefs.

ACTION MEMORANDUM

NOFORN

July 30, 1981

TO: The Secretary

THROUGH: P - Ambassador Stoessel

FROM: NEA - Nicholas A. Veliotes NAV(ac)

SUBJECT: Plan of Action for the Lebanese-Israeli Situation

ISSUE FOR DECISION

Whether to approve the attached plan of action for dealing with the Lebanese-Israeli situation, building on the present ceasefire achieved through the Habib Mission.

DISCUSSION

Earlier this week you asked for a matrix--a plan--to follow up on the achievements of the Habib Mission. The ceasefire is of course fragile and will not last unless other conditions are changed significantly. The attached plan of action outlines a conceptual approach to change these conditions and briefly describes specific steps. It reflects Habib's views and was prepared by Morrie Draper in close consultations with him.

Meanwhile, we have already taken steps to reinforce the ceasefire and to forestall negative Security Council actions. You talked to the Mexican Foreign Minister. Habib today, July 30, has had extensive discussions in New York with Waldheim, the Lebanese Foreign Minister, Prince Saud, and the Permanent Representatives of the UK, France, Niger, Spain, and Japan. Further instructions have gone to Beirut and Jidda aimed at circumventing the Arab group's desire to have another debate on Lebanon and on Israeli actions. Draper talked to the French Embassy Counselor today. You will be talking to Cheysson in Cancun about follow-up steps.

They will join more w/UNIFIL - if asked & after others agree to strengthen it.

RECOMMENDATION:

That you authorize me to proceed with the carrying out of the attached plan, subject to adjustments as developments warrant, and in close cooperation with USUN, IO, other interested offices, and the NSC.

2. AMB. HABIB SPENT FRUITFUL DAY IN NEW YORK JULY 30, MEETING WITH WESTERN PERMRPTS, SC PRESIDENT (NIGER), LEBANESE AND SAUDI FONMINS AND WALDHEIM.

3. HABIB HAD MEETING FIRST WITH UK AMB. PARSONS AND FRENCH CHARGE, BRIEFING THEM ON HIS MISSION AND SUMMARIZING FOR THEM HIS VIEW OF NEXT STEPS WHICH, HE EMPHASIZED, SHOULD BE CONCENTRATED ON (A) HOW TO MAKE THE CEASEFIRE WORK (E.G., EXPANDED UNIFIL PRESENCE, PERHAPS MORE FRENCH INVOLVEMENT) AND (B) HOW TO BUILD ON IT INSIDE AND OUT OF THE UN SYSTEM (E.G., GREATER UNIFIL AND/OR LEBANESE PRESENCE IN TYRE POCKET, BEAUFORT AREA AND THE GAP BETWEEN THE NIGERIAN AND GHANIAN/NIGERIAN BATTALIONS). HABIB PROVIDED LESS CONFIDENTIAL BRIEFING TO SPANISH AND JAPANESE PERMREPS WHO JOINED THE MEETING LATER.

4. OUR WESTERN COLLEAGUES WERE PARTICULARLY INTERESTED IN HABIB'S ADVICE AS TO THE LEAST DANGEROUS RESOLUTION WE COULD DRAFT IF IT SHOULD BECOME NECESSARY TO PREEMPT A HOSTILE NON-ALIGNED DRAFOLUTION DESTRUCTIVE OF THE CEASEFIRE. UK AMBASSADOR WAS ALSO PARTICULARLY CONCERNED THAT IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO FIND SUFFICIENT POLITICAL TRADE-OFF TO PERSUADE THE PLO TO REMOVE THEMSELVES FROM THEIR MILITARY HEARTLAND ALONG THE TYRE, BEAUFORT, HASBAYYAH LINES, POINTING OUT THAT THE EXISTENCE OF THESE POSITIONS IS IMPORTANT FOR THE PLO LEADERSHIP IN ORDER TO DEMONSTRATE THAT THE "ARMED STRUGGLE" REALLY EXISTS.

5. PARSONS ALSO NOTED THAT IT MIGHT BE USEFUL TO CONSIDER EXPANSION OF UN PRESENCE ON THE GROUND IN TERMS OF BEEFING UP UNTSO PRESENCE, SINCE DISPATCH OF UNTSO OFFICERS, INCLUDING THOSE SECONDED TO UNIFIL (OGL), IS NOT SUBJECT TO

RESTRICTIONS CONTAINED IN THE UNIFIL MANDATE.

6. SPANISH AMBASSADOR MADE TWO POINTS OF PARTICULAR INTEREST. FIRST, HE RECALLED THAT AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE, WHICH HE FULLY UNDERSTANDS IS NOT COVERED BY THE CEASEFIRE AGREEMENT, IS A VIOLATION OF RESOLUTION 490, IN THAT THE OVERFLIGHTS VIOLATE LEBANESE TERRITORIAL INTEGRITY -- THIS COULD GIVE US PROBLEMS IN WORKING OUT A PRE-EMPTIVE DRAFT RESOLUTION SHOULD WE HAVE TO DO SO.

7. SECOND, SPANISH AMBASSADOR MADE INSTRUCTIVE AND ACCURATE OBSERVATION THAT THE AFRICANS ARE DEEPLY CONCERNED ABOUT SOUTH AFRICAN PRE-EMPTION. ACCORDINGLY, THEY EXERT CONSIDERABLE PRESSURE ON SC'S AFRICAN MEMBERS TO EXPRESS AFRICAN DISTASTE FOR PRE-EMPTION IN ANY AVAILABLE FORM--ISRAELI POLICY PROVIDES AN IDEAL VEHICLE FOR THIS EXPRESSION OF AFRICAN CONCERN.

8. IN HIS MEETING WITH AMB. OUMAROU OF NIGER, HABIB WAS ABLE TO EXPRESS OUR GENUINE GRATITUDE FOR HIS RESPONSIBLE GUIDANCE OF THE COUNCIL'S WORK AND THE HELP WHICH THE SC PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT HAD AFFORDED TO HABIB. OUMAROU WAS OPENLY SYMPATHETIC TO HABIB'S OBSERVATION THAT ANY ACTIVITY IN THE COUNCIL NOW WILL JEOPARDIZE THE FRAGILE CEASEFIRE AND OPEN DOORS FOR THOSE WHO SEEK THE KIND OOLITICAL CONFRONTATI

WHICH WOULD RENEW THE CYCLE OF VIOLENCE. SIGNIFICANTLY, OUMAROU EMPHASIZED HIS OWN BELIEF THAT LEBANON MUST PLAY THE PRIMARY ROLE IN DECIDING WHAT THE COUNCIL'S NEXT STEPS SHOULD BE, IMPLYING THAT AS PRESIDENT, HE WOULD NOT ACT UNLESS REQUESTED TO DO SO BY LEBANON.

9. HABIB'S MEETING WITH LEBANON FONMIN BOUTROS WAS REPORTED BY SEPTEL (USUN 2489 NOTAL), AS WAS HIS CONVERSATION WITH PRINCE SAUD (USUN 2497 NOTAL).

10. HABIB, ACCOMPANIED BY AMB. LICHENSTEIN, WAS WALDHEIM'S GUEST FOR LUNCH. URQUHART WAS ALSO PRESENT. IN A WIDE-RANGING TWO-PLUS HOUR DISCUSSION, HABIB REITERATED THE MAJOR THEMES OF HIS EARLIER CONVERSATIONS WITH THE WESTERN PERMREPS AND THE SC PRESIDENT -- THE UNWRITTEN, UNCONDITIONAL, AND GENERALLY-UNDERSTOOD TERMS OF THE CEASEFIRE; ITS FRAGILITY; THE NEED ABOVE ALL TO GIVE IT

TIME TO TAKE FIRM HOLD, IN A CONTEXT FREE OF EXAGGERATED RHETORIC (IDEALLY, THEREFORE, IN THE ABSENCE OF FORMAL RESUMPTION OF THE SC DEBATE ON BLAME-ASSESSMENT AND THE HARSH ANTI-ISRAEL TEXT OF THE ORIGINAL LEBANESE DRAFT, NOW FURTHER "IMPROVED" BY THE NONALIGNED), CHARGE AND COUNTER-CHARGE; AND THE AVOIDANCE OF PUBLIC DEBATE THAT WOULD, AMONG OTHER RESULTS, UNDERCUT U.S. CREDIBILITY AMONG ARAB NATIONS. SYG AND URQUHART AGREED WITH HABIB IN EVERY DETAIL. THEY THEN EXCHANGED WARM COMPLIMENTS ON US AND UN CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SUCCESS ACHIEVED SO FAR --

PARALLEL EFFORTS ON STEP ONE OF THE PEACE PROCESS IN THE REGION.

UNCLASSIFIED

11. URQUHART RAISED THE ISSUE OF "PROVOCATIVE" ISRAELI OVERFLIGHTS AND WONDERED ALOUD IF THERE WERE ANY WAY TO CUT DOWN ON T HABIB RESPONDED (A) BY REITERATING THAT SUCH FLIGHTS WERE IN NO WAY LIMITED BY THE CEASEFIRE AGREEMENTS, BUT THAT (B) HE HAD ALREADY MADE STRONG REPRESENTATIONS TO THE ISRAELIS ON THIS ISSUE, BASING THEM ON THE PROPOSITION THAT AT VERY LEAST THE SITUATION IN LEBANON SHOULD REVERT TO THE STATUS QUO ANTE AND THUS TO A LESS "PROVOCATIVE" LEVEL OF OVERFLIGHTS.

12. THE CONVERSATION THEN TURNED TO NEXT STEPS, AND GOT DOWN TO HARD, PRACTICAL CASES. HABIB REPEATED TO SYG AND URQUHART WHAT HE HAD SAID EARLIER ABOUT EVADING DISCUSSION OF CEASEFIRE PRECONDITIONS BY STRESSING INSTEAD THE MANY WAYS IN WHICH THE CEASEFIRE MIGHT BE BOLSTERED--SOME OF THEM WITHIN UNIFIL'S PRESENT MANDATE. THE DISCUSSION WAS PRECISE AND SPECIFIC AS TO THE UPGRADING OF UN FORCES, THE EXPANSION OF UN AREAS OF INFLUENCE AND/OR CONTROL, THE THINNING OUT OF ISRAELI FORCES (ADVISORY, LIAISON, AND COMBAT) AND ISRAELI HEAVY EQUIPMENT WITHIN THE ENCLAVE,

UNCLASSIFIED

THE DRAWING BACK OF PLO ELEMENTS, AND THE EVENTUAL SUBSTITUTION OF GOL PRESENCE FOR UN FORCES. URQUHART RESPONDED WITH TACTICAL JUDGMENTS AS TO POSSIBILITIES AND HARD CASES. SYG BECAME QUITE EVASIVE--FULL AGREEMENT IN PRINCIPLE, BUT THE PRACTICAL OBSTACLES WERE MANY AND SUBSTANTIAL--AND AT THE SAME TIME VERY CANDID ABOUT THE LIMITS WITHIN WHICH THE SECRETARIAT MUST OPERATE, THE DANGER OF PUSHING THESE LIMITS BY EXPLICIT EXPANSION OF THE MANDATE, AND THE EQUAL DANGER OF OPENING DEBATE ON SUCH EXPANSION, A DEBATE THAT COULD GO OFF ON UNPREDICTABLE, UNPROFITABLE TANGENTS AND CREATE OPPORTUNITIES FOR DELIBERATE "MISCHIEF" BY CERTAIN SC MEMBERS. HABIB DID NOT DISAGREE. HE URGED, HOWEVER, THAT NEXT STEPS SHOULD BE THOROUGHLY STUDIED AND READILY AGREED TO URQUHART'S SUGGESTION THAT HE, DRAPER AND USUN BEGIN SHARING IDEAS, INFORMATION, AND FUTURE PLANNING AS AN AD HOC "WORKING GROUP."

13. COMMENTBIB'S VISIT WAS UNUSUALLY USEFUL FOR SEVERAL REASONS. THROUGH HIS VARIOUS MEETINGS, WE CAN BE SURE THE WORD WILL GET OUT THAT THE USG IS NOT PLANNING TO CEASE ITS DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS, HAVING ACHIEVED THE CEASEFIRE WE HAVE GIVEN CONSIDERABLE IMPETUS TO THE CREDIBILITY OF OUR DETERMINATION TO CONSOLIDATE AND BUILD UPON THE CEASEFIRE. SECOND, BY MEETING WITH SC PRESIDENT (WHO IS NON-ALIGNED, MOSLEM AND AFRICAN), WE HAVE DEMONSTRATED THAT WE TAKE THE COUNCIL SERIOUSLY, WHICH WILL HELP IN FUTURE DEALINGS WITH PRICKLY NON-ALIGNED SC MEMBERS. THIRD, OUR ALLIES WERE

GRATEFUL TO HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO DISCUSS TACTICS IN THE COUNCIL AS WELL AS TO DISCUSS THE PRACTICALITIES OF POSSIBLE UNIFIL/UNTSO STEPS IN SOUTH LEBANON. FINALLY, AND MOST IMPORTANT, HABIB WAS IN A UNIQUE POSITION TO ENLIST PRINCE SAUD AND BOUTROS IN A CRITICAL EFFORT TO PERSUADE LEBANESE GOVERNMENT NOT TO PRESS ITS COMPLAINT IN THE COUNCIL. END COMMENT.

14. BEIRUT 5181 JUST RECEIVED. WE (AND OUR UK COLLEAGUES) ARE DISAPPOINTED THAT SARKIS BELIEVES HE CANNOT GO DIRECTLY TO THE SAUDIS FOR HELP BUT THAT THE USG AND PERHAPS WALDHEIM MIGHT WORK ON THEM. IN OUR VIEW, HABIB DID EXACTLY WHAT WAS APPROPRIATE WITH THE SAUDIS, AND

[redacted]

ENSURED THAT THE MESSAGE WOULD GET TO FAHD. SAUD HAS NOW LEFT NEW YORK AND THERE IS NO MORE WE CAN DO HERE, NOR DOES WALDHEIM HAVE ANY LEVERAGE. PERHAPS SARKIS IS SIMPLY COVERING HIMSELF AND HE HAS ALREADY PASSED A MESSAGE TO SAUD -- WE KNOW BOUTROS SPOKE TO SAUD JULY 30, BUT WE HAD ASSUMED IT WAS WITHOUT INSTRUCTIONS. HOPEFULLY, ON REFLECTION, SARKIS WILL REEVALUATE THE POLITICAL DANGER TO HIM AND HIS GOVERNMENT OF MAKING A DIRECT APPROACH TO THE SAUDIS. WE REALIZE THAT THE 'ID WILL MAKE CONVERSATIONS VIRTUALLY IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE NEXT FOUR DAYS, BUT IF THE LEBANESE ARE UNABLE TO BRING THEMSELVES TO COMMUNICATE WITH THE SAUDIS BEFORE THE END OF THE 'ID, A SC MEETING MID-WEEK SEEMS TO US ALMOST CERTAIN.

CHILE: Juan Ailio Rigoberto Aguilera
Jorge Ulloa Maria Ulloa

On July 13, 1981 unidentified security agents, believed to be members of the Central Nacional de Informaciones (CNI - Chilean Secret Police), raided the home of Maria Ulloa and her brother Jorge Ulloa in Temuco. Maria Ulloa had been active in various human rights committees in Temuco, including the Comito Proretorno de Exiliados (Committee for the Return of Exiles). Maria and Jorge Ulloa and three Dutch people who were staying with them, as well as Juan Ailio, a Mapuche Indian, and Rigoberto Aguilera, a student, who had been visiting them that afternoon, were all taken away at different times during the day to a place called Coniripe. There they were held in a house until the following day when the Dutch people, Maria and Jorge Ulloa were released. The other two men remained in detention in Coniripe and there has been no news of them since then. The others returned to Temuco but found their house still guarded by the CNI. That evening Maria and Jorge Ulloa and the Dutch people were again taken away, blindfolded and handcuffed, by security agents, this time to Panguipulli in the mountains where they were held in a schoolroom for two days and questioned. On July 16 the three Dutch people were taken back to Temuco and after several days in detention were allowed to leave the country. Maria Ulloa is now reported to be in the women's prison in Temuco and Jorge Ulloa in the men's prison. It is not known how long they were held in Panguipulli or whether they are still being held incommunicado. At the time of their arrest, an intense military operation was being carried out in the mountains near Valdivia in search of guerrilla hideouts. One such camp was reportedly found near Panguipulli. Jorge and Maria Ulloa have reportedly been accused of supplying food to guerrillas.

Amnesty International is concerned that Juan Ailio and Rigoberto Aguilera may be held in incommunicado detention and tortured. According to Transitory Provision 24 of the new Chilean constitution, individuals may be held for up to five days in incommunicado detention and in cases of terrorist activities with serious consequences up to 20 days. Torture usually takes place during this period.

Although it is not yet known whether these people are prisoners of conscience, it is thought that they have been arrested for political reasons and because Maria Ulloa had been active in the defence of human rights.

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Telegrams/airmail letters requesting clarification of the whereabouts and legal situation of Juan Ailio and Rigoberto Aguilera and urging that they be humanely treated while in detention. Please also request clarification of the legal situation of Maria and Jorge Ulloa.

REF: SANTIAGO 4720

1. SUMMARY: WHILE THERE HAS BEEN CONSIDERABLE PUBLIC REACTION TO THE EXPULSIONS OF AUGUST 11, IT HAS BEEN CONFINED TO THE NEWSPAPERS WITH THE EXCEPTION OF TWO SMALL, PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATIONS. THE GOC HAS KEPT A LOW PROFILE SINCE THE EXPULSIONS, MAKING NO NEW PUBLIC STATEMENTS AND ARRESTING ONLY ONE DEMONSTRATOR. NONETHELESS, THE FUROR HAS CONTINUED ALMOST UNABATED IN THE LOCAL PRESS WITH A SERIES OF ARTICLES ANNOUNCING THE SOLIDARITY OF VARIOUS CHILEAN AND INTERNATIONAL GROUPS WITH THE EXPELLED FOUR. MORE RECENTLY, EDITORIALS VOICING MUTED CRITICISM OF THE ARBITRARY ACTION OF THE GOC AS WELL AS MILD CALLS FOR INCREASED LIBERALIZATION HAVE BEGUN TO APPEAR, INCLUDING IN THE RESPECTED EL MERCURIO. END SUMMARY.

2. SINCE THE AUGUST 11 EXPULSION OF CASTILLO, JEREZ, LIMITED OFFICIAL USE

CANTUARIAS AND BRIONES -- ALLEGEDLY FOR VIOLATING THEIR COMMITMENTS TO OBSERVE THE POLITICAL RECESS (REFTEL) -- A NUMBER OF ORGANIZATIONS AND INDIVIDUALS HAVE SHOWN THEIR SUPPORT FOR THE FOUR. THE FIRST GROUP TO REQUEST GOVERNMENT SUSPENSION OF THE EXPULSION DECREE (AUGUST 12) WAS, PREDICTABLY ENOUGH, THE CHILEAN COMMISSION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, WHOSE PRESIDENT, JAIME CASTILLO, WAS ONE OF THOSE EXPELLED. LATER

THE SAME DAY, FIFTY LAWYERS SUBSCRIBED TO A STATEMENT REQUESTING THAT THE GENERAL COUNCIL OF THE COLLEGE OF LAWYERS INTERCEDE WITH THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR ON BEHALF OF THE EXPELLED. PROTESTS WERE ALSO VOICED BY THE CNS AND THE YOUNG CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS.

3. BY AUGUST 13, INTERNATIONAL REACTIONS WERE APPEARING IN LOCAL NEWSPAPERS, WITH OFFERS OF VISAS FOR THE FOUR FROM VENEZUELA, SPAIN AND MEXICO, AS WELL AS OTHER EUROPEAN COUNTRIES, HELP FROM LOCAL UN OFFICIALS AND REPORTS OF A PRESS CONFERENCE HELD BY THE FOUR IN MENDOZA, ARGENTINA, IN WHICH THEY DENIED EVER SIGNING A PLEDGE OR OTHERWISE AGREEING TO ABSTAIN FROM POLITICS. THE US STATEMENT ON THE EXPULSIONS WAS ALSO PUBLISHED ON AUGUST 13 AND ACCOMPANYING STORIES REPORTED THAT THE FOREIGN MINISTER HAD ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HE HAD INVITED THE U.S. AMBASSADOR TO SEE HIM TO GIVE HIM FURTHER EXPLANATIONS FOR THE STEPS TAKEN. ON AUGUST 14, EX-PRESIDENT EDUARDO FREI STRONGLY CRITIZED THE GOVERNMENT ACTION AND EXPRESSED HIS SOLIDARITY WITH THE FOUR EXPELLED POLITICAL LEADERS, COMMENTING THAT "NO MATTER WHAT THEIR IDEAS, NONE OF THEM MERITED THE PENALTY PLACED ON THEM." HE FURTHER NOTED THAT NONE OF THE FOUR WERE EXTREMISTS, NONE HAD COMMITTED ACTS OF VIOLENCE AND NONE OF THEM HAD BEEN BROUGHT BEFORE A TRIBUNAL OF JUSTICE.

4. BY AUGUST 15, EDITORIAL COMMENTS WERE BEGINNING TO APPEAR. LAS ULTIMAS NOTICIAS TOOK THE LINE THAT, WHILE IT DID NOT WANT TO DISCUSS THE LEGALITY OF THE EXPULSIONS, IT WAS A "GREAT PITY" THAT THIS ACTION HAD BEEN TAKEN JUST AFTER THE VISIT OF AMBASSADOR KIRKPATRICK, WHO HAD LEFT WITH A GOOD IMPRESSION OF CHILE. ON THE SAME DAY, FORTY-EIGHT LEADERS OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS DENOUNCED THE EXPULSIONS AS "ARBITRARY ACTS...DESIGNED TO DISTRACT PUBLIC ATTENTION FROM THE PROFOUND MORAL, ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL CRISES WHICH AFFLICT THE COUNTRY." THE STATEMENT, WHICH WAS ACCOMPANIED BY A SUPPORTING CABLE FROM MARIANO RUMOR, PRESIDENT OF THE WORLD CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC UNION, ALSO CALLED UPON THE GOVERNMENT TO ALLOW THE RETURN OF OTHER EXILED CHILEANS.

5. ALSO, ON AUGUST 15, THE EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE OF THE CHRUCH ISSUED A PUBLIC STATEMENT DECLARING THE PENALTY DISPROPORTIONATE TO THE OFFENSE AND LINKING THE CAUSE OF THE EXPELLED WITH THE LARGER ISSUES OF HUMAN RIGHTS AND FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION IN CHILE; IN A REFERENCE TO RECENT ATTACKS ON POLICE OFFICERS, THE BISHOPS SAID THAT "THE COUNTRY DOES NOT WANT VIOLENCE, NEITHER PRIVATE NOR PUBLIC, NEITHER SUBVERSIVE OR REPRESSIVE." THE SAME DAY THERE WERE MESSAGES OF SUPPORT FOR THE FOUR FROM THE INTERNATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF FREE LABOR UNIONS AND FROM LECH WALESA OF POLISH SOLIDARITY.

6. INFLUENTIAL AND GENERALLY PRO-GOC EL MERCURIO WEIGHED IN ON AUGUST 16 WITH ITS WIDELY-READ "SEMANA POLITICA," WHICH BEGAN BY CRITICIZING THE EXPULSIONS AS BASED ON DUBIOUS EVIDENCE AND AN ARBITRARY SELECTION FROM THOSE WHO SPOKE UP FOR THE COORDINADORA LEADERS. THE EDITORIAL, WHILE ADMITTING THE CONSIDERABLE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE PINOCHET REGIME, NOTED THE DESIRE OF MANY PEOPLE FOR A "CHIEF OF STATE AND A REGIME LESS TOUGH, MORE ACCOMMODATING OF DIFFERENCES, MORE EXPLANATORY OF ITS DECISIONS." THE PAPER SAW CHILE AS BEING "...IN AN EMERGENCY SITUATION..." IN WHICH IT WAS NECESSARY FOR THE GOVERNMENT TO REALIZE THAT "...VIOLENCE BRINGS VIOLENCE AND THAT EXTREME SEVERITY WITH ADVERSARIES IS COUNTERPRODUCTIVE." THE EDITORIAL CONCLUDED BY NOTING THAT "THE REGIME SIMPLY DEFENDS ITSELF, ACCORDING TO ITS OWN METHOD," WHILE WHAT IS NEEDED FOR THE TRANSITION IS A CONTINUING DEVELOPMENT OF "NATIONAL AND INSTITUTIONAL SOLIDITY."

7. DESPITE THE VERBAL FUROR IN THE PRESS, THERE HAS BEEN LITTLE ACCOMPANYING ACTION. THE EMBASSY KNOWS OF ONLY TWO SMALL DEMONSTRATIONS IN THE PAST WEEK, ONE OF LAW STUDENTS IN FRONT OF THE SUPREME COURT AND THE OTHER A CHURCH VIGIL

ORGANIZED BY YOUNG CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS -- BOTH OF WHICH WERE PEACEFUL. THROUGHOUT THE WEEK, THE GOC ISSUED NO STATEMENTS AND MADE ONLY ONE ARREST (A LAW STUDENT WHO DEMONSTRATED BEFORE THE COURT BUILDING).

8. COMMENT: THERE ARE AMPLE SIGNS THAT THE TOUGH GOVERNMENT LINE HAS DISCOMFITTED MANY GROUPS WHICH GENERALLY SUPPORT THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT AS A NECESSARY EVIL. BUT THE TUT-TUTTING OF EL MERCURIO AND THE PRIVATE DOUBTS THAT MAY BE VOICED BY SOME GOVERNMENT INSIDERS ARE NOT LIKELY TO CHANGE THE OUTCOME IN THIS CASE. PRESIDENT PINOCHET AND HIS HARDLINE SUPPORTERS DO NOT DISTINGUISH BETWEEN SHADES OF OPPOSITION BEHAVIOR BUT PUT SECURITY MATTERS FIRST. BUT THE EXTENSIVE REACTIONS TO THE EXPULSIONS BOTH INSIDE AND OUTSIDE CHILE MAY GIVE THEM PAUSE WHEN THEY CONSIDER TAKING ACTION IN THE NEXT CASE OF DISSENT BEYOND THE NARROW LIMITS THEY ARE PREPARED TO TOLERATE.

Dear Senator Mathias:

Thank you for your letter of July 30, in which you enclose a photocopy of a letter sent by your constituent, Nancy J. Atkinson, to the Chilean Embassy, concerning the status of the imprisonment of Manuel Almeyda, Pedro Castillo and Patricio Arroyo.

The doctors were charged with illegal political activity by the Government of Chile. Two of them, Manuel Almeyda and Pedro Castillo, were released on July 14 after the Santiago Appellate Court upheld a Valparaiso Judge's ruling because the Government's case "lacked merit." Reportedly, the Chilean Government will appeal to the Supreme Court. The third doctor, Patricio Arroyo, was released on bail but his case continues before the courts.

Yours sincerely,

SUBJ: PRESIDENT PINOCHET COMMENTS ON VISIT BY AMBASSADOR KIRKPATRICK AND ON RECENT EXPULSATIONS

1. IN COMMENTS TO LOCAL REPORTERS AT A WORKING BREAKFAST ON AUGUST 18, AND IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION ABOUT THE RESULTS OF THE RECENT VISIT TO CHILE BY AMBASSADOR KIRKPATRICK, PRESIDENT PINOCHET COMMENTED AS FOLLOWS: "SHE DID NOT COME TO ASK US ANYTHING, NOT WOULD I HAVE ACCEPTED THAT, BECAUSE CHILE IS NOT A COLONY BUT A SOVEREIGN NATION. WE CONVERSED. I EXPLAINED TO HER FULLY THE PLANS OF SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT, WHICH SHE DID NOT KNOW ABOUT. APPARENTLY THEY HAD TOLD HER THAT WE WERE NOT DOING ANYTHING IN THIS AREA. SHE WAS VERY IMPRESSED. SHE ALSO SPOKE WITH MY ASSOCIATES ABOUT THE ECONOMIC SITUATION, WITH WHICH SHE WAS FAMILIAR."

2. EARLIER IN THE INTERVIEW THE PRESIDENT HAD VIGOROUSLY DEFENDED THE GOVERNMENT'S ACTION IN EXPELLING FOUR OPPOSITIONISTS ON AUGUST 11, SAYING THAT "WHILE THERE ARE SOME WHO HAVE SAID THE EXPULSIONS WERE INHUMAN, I REPLY THAT IT WOULD BE MUCH MORE INHUMAN IF THE COMMUNIST RETURNED TO POWER IN CHILE." HE ALSO SAID WITH REFERENCE TO UNSPECIFIED CRITICISM

APPEAL EARLY IN THE WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 7. MEANWHILE, MONTES IS BEING HELD IN PRISON PENDING THE OUTCOME OF HIS APPEAL.

3. THE LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE OF THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL COMMITTEE FOR MIGRATION (ICM) IS SEEKING TO OBTAIN A VISA FOR HIM SHOULD THE APPEAL BE REJECTED. IF HIS APPEALS ARE REJECTED, AS WE EXPECT, THE LOCAL ICM REPRESENTATIVE EXPECTS TO BE ABLE TO GET HIM A VISA. IN FACT, SEVERAL COUNTRIES HAVE EXPRESSED A WILLINGNESS TO GRANT ASYLUM BUT MONTES WANTS TO GO TO MEXICO. THE PROBLEM IS THAT, WHILE MEXICO IS WILLING TO GRANT A VISA, IT MAY TAKE UP TO ONE MONTH AND MEANWHILE MONTES WILL HAVE TO REMAIN IN JAIL UNLESS A TEMPORARY TRANSIT VISA TO SOMEWHERE ELSE CAN BE ARRANGED (ICM IS THINKING IN TERMS OF PERU AT THE MOMENT). PERSONAL OPINION OF ICM REPRESENTATIVE IS THAT MONTES WILL NOT BE ALLOWED BACK IN CHILE AFTER HIS EXILE IS OVER.

4. COMMENT: THE CASE OF CARLOS MONTES HAS SEVERAL INTERESTING FEATURES. FIRST, THERE IS THE SCALING-DOWN OF THE ACCUSATIONS. MONTES WAS ORIGINALLY INDICTED ON JANUARY 20 FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAW BY CONSPIRING TO CREATE A CLIMATE OF SUBVERSIVE UNREST. A WEEK LATER, THE INTERIOR MINISTRY REQUESTED AN EXPANSION OF THE CHARGES TO INCLUDE: BREAKING THE POLITICAL BAN; TAKING PART IN CONSPIRATORIAL CLANDESTINE MEETINGS; PROMOTING TERRORIST ACTIONS; DISRUPTING THE CONFIDENTIAL

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

PUBLIC ORDER; AND OTHER UNDISCLOSED CHARGES WHICH CENTERED ON DOCUMENTS, ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN FOUND IN HIS POSSESSION, DETAILING THE SO-CALLED "MARCH PLAN" OF COMMUNISTS, SOCIALISTS, CHRISTIAN LEFTISTS AND MAPU ELEMENTS TO DISRUPT THE CONSTITUTIONAL REGIME BEING ESTABLISHED ON MARCH 11. AFTER ALL THIS, HIS CONVICTION FOR WHAT AMOUNTS TO ATTENDING AN ILLEGAL POLITICAL MEETING SUGGESTS THE EVIDENCE AGAINST HIM WAS NOT VERY STRONG. FURTHER, THE PUNISHMENT, 541 DAYS OF TEMPORARY EXILE TO A COUNTRY OF HIS CHOICE--A PENALTY NOT INVOKED IN RECENT MEMORY--RATHER THAN THE MORE COMMONLY USED CHOICES OF PRISON OR RELEGATION RAISES THE QUESTION OF WHETHER OR NOT HE WILL BE ALLOWED TO RETURN, A POTENTIALLY IMPORTANT QUESTION SINCE HIS APPEALS SUGGEST A DESIRE TO REMAIN IN CHILE, A POSSI-BILITY SUPPORTED BY OPINION OF LOCAL ICM REPRESENTATIVE. Gentlemen of the Congress of the USA, I greet you with a cordial greeting and communicate with you that last year a homicide occurred in El Salvador it was in November. I, Salvadoran, do not tell you my name for security but I am a witness of the murder of the nums and the social work (sic). I am the only witness that knows who they were and raped and killed the nuns and the social work in cold blood. I don't tell you my name because they are going to kill me if I tell you my name. I want you to advise me if you want that I tell you who they were. Advertise in the newspapers of Mexico that you want to see me in the Consulate of the USA. I am not a communist I am an imperialist, but as I told you I am the only witness that saw the truth with the nuns and the social work. Thanks X Only witness of the deedX

SUBJECT: REPORTED KIDNAPPINGS

1. [redacted] SUMMARY. TWO LEFT-WING PERONISTS WERE KIDNAPPED IN BUENOS AIRES SEPTEMBER 2 BY A GROUP OF ARMED MEN WHO REPORTEDLY IDENTIFIED THEMSELVES AS MEMBERS OF THE FEDERAL POLICE. THE FEDERAL POLICE HAVE DENIED PARTICIPATION IN THE REPORTED KIDNAPPINGS AND DECLARED THAT THEY ARE INVESTIGATING IT. THE POLICE ALSO HINTED THAT THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR IT SOUGHT MAXIMUM POSSIBLE PUBLICITY. IT IS VERY UNLIKELY THAT THIS OPERATION WAS ORDERED BY THE VIOLA GOVERNMENT, WHICH CAN ONLY BE DEEPLY EMBARRASSED BY IT. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) ON SEPTEMBER 2 A GROUP OF MORE THAN TEN ARMED MEN SEIZED FORMER PERONIST DEPUTY JULIO BARBARO AND HIS ASSOCIATE JUAN GALLEGO FROM BARBARO'S OFFICE IN DOWNTOWN BUENOS AIRES. OTHERS PRESENT IN THE OFFICE REPORTEDLY CLAIM THAT THE MEN STATED THAT THEY WERE TAKING THE TWO FOR A MEETING WITH COL. ARIAS DUVAL,

WHO HEADS THE SECURITY DECTION OF THE ARGENTINE FEDERAL POLICE. SUBSEQUENTLY, RELATIVES WERE UNABLE TMILOCATE

BARBARO AND GALLEGO IN ANY PLACE OF DETENTION. HABEAS CORPUS PETITIONS FOR THE TWO MEN WERE FILED SEPTEMBER 3. HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS BEGAN TO ALERT THE LOCAL PRESS AND GROUPS AND INDIVIDUALS OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY ABOUT THIS REPORTED KIDNAPPING SEPTEMBER 3. MOST OF THE BUENOS AIRES PRESS REPORTED IT AS HEADLINE NEWS SEPTEMBER 4.

3. (U) THE FEDERAL POLICE USSUED TWO COMMUNIQUES SEPTEMBER 3. THE FIRST ANNOUNCED THAT THE POLICE WERE INVESTIGATING THEALLEGED KIDNAPPING. IT ALSO STATED THAT RELATIVES OF THE MEN WHO WERE PRESENT WHEN THE KIDNAPPING TOOK PLACE HEARD THE KIDNAPPERS STATE THAT (1) THERE SHOULD BE NO ATTEMPT TO CONTACT THE MINISTER OF INTERIOR FOR TWO HOURS, (2) THE PERMANENT ASSEMBLY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS SHOULD BE CONTACTED LATER, (3) A HABEAS CORPUS SHOULD BE FILED FOR THE TWO MEN. SUBSEQUENTLY, THE POLICE ISSUED ANOTHER, SHORTER

STATEMENT WHICH REITERATED THAT THE POLICE WERE INVESTIGATING, ADDED THAT DECLARATIONS HAD BEEN TAKEN WHICH CONFIRMED THE STATEMENTS MADE BY THE PREVIOUS COMMUNIQUE AND ADDED THAT THE BUENOS AIRES PROVINCIAL POLICE WERE COOPERATING IN THE INVESTIGATION.

4. (U) ALSO ON SEPTEMBER 4, THE INTRANSIGENT PERONIST MOVEMENT WHICH BARBARO HELPED FOUND HELD A PRESS CONFERENCE TO PROTEST THE KIDNAPPINGS. AMONG OTHER THINGS, SPOKESMAN FOR THE MIP DENIED THAT THE KIDNAPPERS HAD GIVEN INSTRUCTIONS OF ANY KIND TO THOSE WHO WITNESSED THE SEIZURE, ADDING THAT RELATIVES [redacted]

OF EITHER MAN WERE PRESENT WHEN THEY WERE SEIZED.

5. [redacted] COMMENT: A GENERAL CONSENSUS, WHICH WE SHARE, HAS QUICKLY DEVELOPED HERE THAT THE MEN RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS KIDNAPPING WERE OPERATING WITHOUT THE CONSENT OR ORDERS OF THE GOVERNMENT. HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS ALSO BELIEVE RESPONSIBLE GOA OFFICIALS ARE INNOCENT OF INVOLVEMENT IN THIS MATTER. MOST PROBABLY, THE AUTHORS ARE MEMBERS OF ONE OR ANOTHER OF THE SECURITY SERVICES -- IT IS VIRTUALLY INPOSSIBLE TODAY FOR ANYBODY ELSE TO PUT OVER TEN ARMED MEN WITH WALKIE TALKIES ON THE STREETS OF BUENOS AIRES.

CLARIFICATION OF THIS CASE. HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS HAVE TOLD US THE POLICE ARE ALSO INVESTIGATING WITH SEEMING VIGOR AND ENTHUSIASM.

7. [redacted] BARBARO WAS THE GUIDING SPIRIT BEHIND THE MIP, WHICH OPPOSES ANY POLITICAL COMPROMISE WITH THE MILITARY AND WANTS A RAPID RETURN TO CIVILIAN RULE. UNLIKE OTHER POLITICAL GROUPS HERE, IT ALSO SEEKS TO MAKE HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE DISAPPEARED AN ISSUE. MIP VIRTUALLLY CONSTITUTES THE LEFT WING OF PERONISM -- ITS LEADER IS FORMER SENATOR VICENTE SAADI, AND ONE OF ITS PROMINENT LIGHTS IS FORMER DEPUTY NILDA GARRE, THE WIDOW OF ONE OF THE MOST PROMINENT TERRORISTS OF THE 1970'S, ABAL MEDINA.

9. [redacted] REPORTEDLY, A MIP DECLARATION WHICH BARBARO HELPED PREPARE WAS PRINTED AND ENDORSED BY THE MONTONEROS IN MEXICO. BARBARO SUBSEQUENTLY DENOUNCED FIRMENICH AND THE MONTONEROS. HOWEVER, THERE IS SOME SPECULATION THAT THE ACTIVITIES OF MIP, COULPLED WITH THIS SEEMING ENDORSEMENT OF THE MONTONEROS, MAY HAVE SERIOUSLY COMPROMISED BARBARO IN THE EYES OF SOME SECURITY SERVICE. IT IS INCONCEIVABLE THAT ANY RESPONSIBLE OFFICIAL WHO WAS LOYAL TO PRESIDENT VIOLA COULD HAVE AUTHORIZED THESE KIDNAPPINGS. MOREOVER, WITH FOREIGN MINISTER CAMILION STILL IN THE UNITED STATES AND GENERAL WALTERS JUST HAVING LEFT ARGENTINA AT THE TIME OF THE SEIZURES, THE AUTHORS OF THIS ACT WOULD SEEM TO HAVE HAD LITTLE CONCERN FOR US-ARGENTINE RELATIONS.

10. [redacted] WHATEVER THE MOTIVATION OF THE MEN WHO ORDERED THE KIDNAPPINGS, THE INEVITABLE RESULT IT TO EMBARRASS PRESIDENT VIOLA UNLESS THIS UNFORTUNATE EVENT IS CLEARED UP IN A SATISFACTORY MANNER. SHLAUDEMAN

EO 12065: RDS-2 9/08/01 (FRIEDMAN, T.B.) OR-P
TAGS: PINT, PINS, AR
SUBJECT: [redacted] CONCERN ABOUT TERRORIST THREAT

1. [redacted] THERE HAS BEEN A STIRRING OF PUBLIC INTEREST IN THE POSSIBLE REAPPEARANCE IN ARGENTINA OF TERRORISTS. ON SEPTEMBER 6 A LOCALLY-RESPECTED, LEADING NEWSPAPER COLUMNIST REPORTED THAT A LARGE NUMBER OF MONTONEROS HAVE MANAGED TO RE-INFILTRATE THE COUNTRY. THE COLUMNIST LINKED THIS INFORMATION WITH THE STORY THAT 400 TERRORISTS HAD ENTERED CHILE RECENTLY, "ACCORDING TO OFFICIAL ARGENTINE ESTIMATES." THE COLUMNIST ALSO WOVE INTO HIS COLUMN PRESS REPORTS THAT ON THE EVENING OF SEPTEMBER 4 THE AUDIO PORTION OF A TV PROGRAM IN SOME WORKING CLASS BUENOS AIRES NEIGHBORHOODS WAS BRIEFLY INTERRUPTED BY A CLANDESTINE BROADCAST OF PERONIST SONGS AND SLOGANS. IN THE PAST SUCH CLANDESTINE BROADCASTS WERE CARRIED OUT BY MONTONEROS.

2. [redacted] COMMENT: WE ARE SKEPTICAL OF

THE REPORTS OF RENEWED MONTONERO ACTIVITY. ARGENTINE SECURITY FORCES HAVE REPEATEDLY OVER THE LAST YEAR

ASSERTED TO US THAT THE TERRORISTS HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED FROM ARGENTINA. AS RECENTLY AS LAST AUGUST, BOTH ARMY INTELLIGENCE AND THE PRESIDENTIAL INTELLIGENCE SERVICE (SIDE) REPORTED THAT THOSE REMNANTS OF TERRORISTS WHO EXISTED IN ARGENTINA IN EARLY 1980 HAD BEEN DETECTED AND NEUTRALIZED. THERE IS NO RELAIBLE INFORMATION TO CONTRADICT THESE AIONS.

3. [redacted] THE ORIGINS OF THE CLANDESTINE RADIO BROADCASTS, AS WELL AS MONTONERO WALL PAINTINGS WHICH AN EMBOFF SAW ON A VISIT TO MENDOZA, MAY WELL BE TRACED TO THE SECURITY FORCES. THE MOST BENIGN INTERPRETATION IS THAT SUCH ACTIVITIES ARE DESIGNED TO HELP THE GOA FEND OFF THE RISING DEMANDS FOR AN END TO THE STATE OF SEIGE BY DEMONSTRATING THAT THE SECURITY THREAT STILL EXISTS. ANOTHER EXPLANATION FOR THE RAISING OF THE TERRORIST SPECTER IS THAT ELEMENTS IN THE SECURITY FORCES, ACTING ON THEIR OWN, ARE TRYING TO IMPEDE THE POLITICAL OPENING NOW BEING NEGOTIATED BY PRESIDENT VIOLA. Dear Friend,

Dagmar Hagelin, a 17 year old girl of dual Argentine/Swedish nationality, was seized on the morning of 27 January 1977 in the Buenos Aires suburb of El Palomar by a regular security force and taken to the prison camp at the Naval Engineering School in Buenos Aires. Those who are responsible for imprisoning Dagmar Hagelin and for her later fate are known to the Argentine government.

I urgently appeal to You to do everything within Your power to establish the whereabouts of Dagmar Hagelin.

Presidente de la Republica Argentina

Buenos Aires, ARGENTINA

Your Excellency:

Reports from International press and other sources have mentioned repeatedly of cases of persons disappearing after arrests by armed police and other security forces of your nation. It has been reported recently that on September 2nd armed men of the federal police in civilian clothes took away Julio Barbaro and Juan Carlos Gallegos after a political meeting held at Calle Libertad 434 in Buenos Aires. Although a writ of habeas corpus has been filed for Mr. Barbaro, the police refuse to acknowledge the retention of these men.

Please ask the police to grant the above mentioned men their right to access to lawyers and visitations by their families. Your assistance is also needed to protect them from physical abuse or other harm by the police.

I request that your government comply with the U.N. Declaration on Human Rights and follow the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights' recommendations. Such action would gain a new prestige for Argentina in the international community.

Your time and attention are appreciated.

Respectfully yours,

Archie L. Gross

Last night at the UNITAS reception, I had a long talk with Admiral Eduardo M. Girling, Chief of Argentine Naval Intelligence. Among the subjects of interest were:

-- After small talk, Girling turned the talk to the current political scene. He offered the opinion that perhaps things were quiet superficially but that appearances could be misleading. He said he was particularly worried about the current economic situation and its ultimate political impact. It soon emerged that he was not talking about the reaction of politicians and labor but about the reaction of the Army. He is concerned that the Army may react by upsetting either the "process" or Viola or both, it would seem. He was clear that his understanding of what goes on in the Army is, at best, clouded. "I don't know what happens in the Army. They keep their secrets." However, he did offer the opinion that whatever else can be said about the Army, it is today united behind Galtieri -- and it seemed clear from his remarks that Galtieri is the man he expects to do something if anything is done.

-- Girling said that the "multipartidaria" is through as a political force. It has lost the initiative and cannot agree even within itself how to behave towards the government. He said that the military itself does not have any quick solutions for the present economic situation but neither do the politicians. In effect, there is no reasonable alternative to the military. In this situation, he does not expect any change through a civilian challenge to military leadership. He did agree that Balbin's funeral was an anti-military rally, but did not seem too worried about the implications -- here he may have been whistling in the dark, given his great concern about the seriousness of the economic situation.

-- He said that there indeed is a small number of Montoneros operating in the country, including those who interrupted TV audio earlier this month. These Montoneros, "we know," are operating on orders to engage in agitation but not to carry out terrorist acts. They present no security threat. He described the instrument they used to break into TV broadcasts as quite small and capable of being transported and hidden in a car -- its range is no more than four blocks. I asked in this context what would happen to them if they were caught. Would they disappear? He said that he believed that "such things belong to the past." He also said terrorism in Argentina is down to the level it was at in about 1967-68.

-- The Bárbaro kidnapping. Bárbaro's name came up in the discussion of the Peronist Intransigent Movement (MIP). Girling said that many people refuse to see the facts of the MIP -- it is closely tied to both foreign and domestic communists. Saadi's ties to the communists go back to the mid-fifties. On one of his trips to Europe recently he had contact with exiled Argentine terrorists as well. Girling said that despite the stories at the time, the Navy had absolutely nothing to do with Bárbaro's kidnapping. Once it happened, "we learned a lot about it," he said. Somewhat delphicly, he stated that Bárbaro was taken as a result of a disagreement between "two elements" (presumably of the security services). Bárbaro's interrogation, he said, focused heavily on the ties of the MIP with the communists and others. Girling added that his MIP partners may have known that Bárbaro answered all these questions as truthfully as he could when they expelled him from MIP after he was freed. Girling said that he did not think that the perpetrators of the kidnapping thought about the political reaction that would follow it both inside and outside Argentina. In this context, he said that he had worked very hard to try to minimize the negative reaction outside Argentina. It seems from his remarks that he is highly sensitized to foreign opinion.

SUBJECT: Your Luncheon for President Jose Napoleon Duarte of El Salvador, 12:30 pm, September 21, at the State Department - Scope Paper

RELEASE

SUMMARY

You have agreed to host, as Acting Secretary, a luncheon for President Duarte and members of his delegation following his call on President Reagan. Immediately before the luncheon you will meet privately with Duarte for fifteen minutes. We intend the luncheon to be an opportunity for a frank, informal dialogue. We wish to use the occasion to reassure Duarte of our support for his government and to discuss a few points of mutual interest.

During his four-day stay in Washington, most of Duarte's time will be spent with Congress and the media to build support for his government. A copy of his schedule is attached.

I. OBJECTIVES

1. To reassure Duarte of our firm support for his government and the electoral process he has initiated.

2. To encourage Duarte to broaden support for the civilian-military government, domestically and internationally.

3. To discuss how we can best help the Salvadoran government pursue the war against the Marxist-Leninist guerrillas.

4. To impress upon Duarte the importance of taking firm steps to control acts of violence against non-combatants.

III. SETTING

This is Duarte's first visit to the US since he became President of El Salvador's Revolutionary Governing Junta in December 1980.

IV. DISCUSSION OF OBJECTIVES

1. To reassure Duarte of our firm support for his government and the electoral process it has initiated.

We strongly support the Duarte government as the best, indeed probably the only hope, for a peaceful moderate solution to El Salvador's political problems. President Duarte has announced plans for election of a Constituent Assembly in March 1982. This is a key step in enhancing the government's legitimacy and undermining support for the guerrillas. Duarte has invited all groups to participate in elections, but will not negotiate with groups engaged in armed struggle. There are many pitfalls ahead. The guerrillas remain committed to derailing the elections by force and intimidation. The economy is in its third straight year of sharp decline.

TALKING POINTS

-- COMPLIMENT DUARTE ON HIS SUPERB HANDLING OF A VERY DIFFICULT AND PERSONALLY DANGEROUS ROLE.

DECLASSIFIED

-- WE UNDERSTAND YOUR COUNTRY'S ECONOMIC PROBLEMS AND THE ECONOMIC CHALLENGE POSED BY THE GUERRILLAS AND WILL BE AS HELPFUL AS WE CAN WITHIN OUR OWN BUDGETARY CONSTRAINTS.

-- WE STRONGLY SUPPORT YOUR ELECTION INITIATIVE. IT IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE BEST WAY TO ISOLATE THE GUERRILLAS, BOTH IN EL SALVADOR AND INTERNATIONALLY. WE LOOK FORWARD TO COOPERATING WITH YOUR GOVERNMENT TO MAKE THE ELECTIONS A SUCCESS, WITHIN THE CONTEXT OF YOUR RECENT CALL FOR INTERNATIONAL INVOLVEMENT.

2. To encourage Duarte to broaden support for the civilian-military government, domestically and internationally.

The Salvadoran government needs to broaden its base, both at home and abroad. The upcoming elections present the best opportunity for the Salvadorans to isolate the insurgents. Domestically, Duarte's Christian Democratic Party has been engaged in a dialogue with business leaders in bringing the private sector into the government. Internationally, the Salvadoran government receives mixed support. The recent French-Mexican communique recognizing the FMLN-FDR as a legitimate political force is not helpful, although it has been overwhelmingly rejected by the Latin Americans. The FMLN-FDR is now lobbying its international supporters to use the French-Mexican communique as a lever to raise the El Salvador issue in the UN.

TALKING POINTS

-- WE HOPE THE GOVERNMENT AND PRIVATE SECTOR WILL CONTINUE THE PROCESS OF WORKING OUT THEIR DIFFERENCES.

-- LATIN AMERICAN REBUTTAL TO THE FRENCH-MEXICAN COMMUNIQUE WAS ENCOURAGING. WE EXPRESSED OUR DISPLEASURE PRIVATELY TO FRANCE AND MEXICO IN STRONG TERMS.

-- HOW CAN WE WORK TOGETHER TO HEAD OFF EFFORTS TO RAISE THIS ISSUE IN THE UN? SHOULD WE PURSUE OAS INITIATIVE TO PREEMPT UNGA CONSIDERATION?

3. To discuss how we can best help the Salvadoran government pursue the war against the Marxist-Leninist guerrillas.

In the past several weeks, the Salvadoran guerrillas have mounted an intensified offensive, complicating the already precarious situation of the Duarte government. The guerrillas' new strategy has focused on sabotaging vulnerable economic targets and engaging in harassment attacks against carefully selected targets to minimize their own losses. The guerrillas have taxed the government's ability to restore and maintain electrical power, particularly in the eastern third of the country. Ambushes along the main roads have increased government casualties. In addition, the guerrillas succeeded in occupying the Salvadoran town of Perquin near the Honduras border for more than a week before being driven out by government troops. These tactics have enabled the guerrillas to further damage the already crippled Salvadoran economy, weaken military morale, and enhance their international and domestic prestige. While these developments are troublesome, the guerrilla-military balance of strength does not appear to have changed, with neither side having the capacity for military victory.

We responded quickly to the Salvadoran government's request for emergency help by sending four additional helicopters and forty-seven portable generators. We are examining how we can help the Salvadorans repair quickly the 200 electrical towers sabotaged by the guerrillas. We have also sent a military strategy assessment team to San Salvador to examine how we can be more helpful over the longer term.

the government. Accounts of atrocities committed against non-combatants by right wing "death squads" and elements of the security forces continue to sap the government's domestic and international support. Two cases of particular importance are:

-- the murders in December 1980 of four American churchwomen. Six National Guardsmen suspects have been under detention since May. The evidence against them is compelling.

-- the murders of two American AIFLD advisors and a Salvadoran land reform official in January 1981. Two suspects are under detention. Salvadoran businessman Ricardo Sol Mesa is being held in El Salvador. His alleged accomplice, Hans Christ, is being held in Miami awaiting a hearing on El Salvador's extradition request. A Salvadoran judge has recommended to the Supreme Court that Sol Mesa be freed and the Christ extradition request be dropped for lack of evidence.

The release of the suspects in either of these cases will generate serious concern in the US and erode political support for our El Salvador policy. Duarte is aware of the problem (he himself was once a victim of torture by the military), but thus far has been ineffective in confronting the armed forces or curtailing their excess. The Commander of the National Guard, Colonel Vides Casanova, will be attending the luncheon. Since the National Guard is suspected of perpetrating a number of offenses, it will be useful to raise this issue in his presence.

TALKING POINTS

-- ACCOUNTS OF ATROCITIES GENERATE AN INTENSE REACTION IN THE US PRESS AND CONGRESS. THIS SERIOUSLY THREATENS PUBLIC AND CONGRESSIONAL SUPPORT FOR OUR POLICY OF SUPPORT FOR YOUR GOVERNMENT.

-- THERE ARE PARTICULARLY STRONG EMOTIONS AMONG US CHURCH AND LABOR GROUPS ON THE CHURCHWOMEN AND AIFLD MURDERS.

-- TO PROTECT YOUR OWN INTERESTS YOU MUST CRACK DOWN ON THESE FORMS OF VIOLENCE, BRINGING THOSE RESPONSIBLE TO JUSTICE.

THEY REENTERED THE COUNTRY CLANDESTINELY, APPARENTLY ACCROSS THE ARGENTINE BORDER. CALFUQUIR WAS CONVICTED AS A UNIDAD POPULAR SYMPATHIZER IN COUNCIL OF WAR PROCEEDINGS IN 1974, AND WAS FREED UPON COMPLETION OF SENTENCE. LARA WAS ORIGINALLY BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN WOUNDED IN A SHOOT OUT WITH A CARABINERO GUARD AUG 11 DURING A TERRORIST ATTACK ON THE HOME OF COURT OF APPEALS JUDGE EFREN ARAYA (SANTIAGO 4873). LATER POLICE REPORTS REJECTED THIS THEORY AND INSTEAD CLAIMED PARTICIPATION IN THE JUNE 22 ASSAULT AGAINST THE APOQUINDO BRANCH OFFICE OF THE BANCO DEL ESTADO (SANTIAGO 3713). LARA SERVED AS A DRIVER AND BODYGUARD TO FORMER CUBAN AMBASSADOR MARIO GARCIA INCHAUSTEGUI BETWEEN Q 1971 AND 1973. HE WENT UNDERGROUND AFTER THE SEPT 1973 COUP, RECEIVING GUERRILLA TRAINING IN CUBA BEFORE HIS CLANDESTINE RETURN TO CHILE IN 1979.

5. ARMED PROPAGANDA INCIDENTS CONTINUE: A. FIVE UNIDENTIFIED PERSONS KIDNAPPED A TAXI DRIVER AT GUNPOINT IN THE MORNING HOURS OF SEPT 14 AND USED THE TAXI TO DISTRIBUTE PAMPHLETS CARRYING ANTI-GOC PROPAGANDA. MONTES WAS SENTENCED TO 541 DAYS OF FOREIGN EXILE FOR VIOLATING THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAW (SANTIAGO 5167) . MONTES AND HIS FAMILY WILL TRAVEL TO MEXICO ON OR ABOUT SEPT 26, HAVING OBTAINED MEXICAN VISAS THROUGH CIME. (COMMENT: ALTHOUGH THE SENTENCE IS LIMITED TO 541 DAYS OF EXILE IN A COUNTRY OF HIS CHOOSING, IT IS UNLIKELY THAT MONTES WILL BE ALLOWED TO RETURN TO CHILE AFTER COMPLETING IT. THE FACT THAT HE IS TRAVELING WITH HIS FAMILY IS A STRONG INDICATION THAT HE DOES NOT ANTICIPATE AN EARLY RETURN, END COMMENT). B) TWO STUDENTS DETAINED IN VALPARAISO FOR VIOLATION OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAW ON SEPT 11 WERE RELEASED WITHOUT CHARGES ON SEPT 18. C). FOUR STUDENTS ARRESTED SEPT 4 FOR INTERNAL SECURITY VIOLATIONS (SANTIAGO 5348) WERE ORDERED RELEASED FROM CUSTODY UNDER $1000 PESOS BOND EACH ON SEPT 17. STATEMENT OF HON. THOMAS O. ENDERS, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INTER-AMERICAN AFFAIRS

Mr. ENDERS. Thank you for your welcome and your kind words.

The situation I think is relatively well known in El Salvador, Mr. Chairman.

I have basically three points that I wish to make, and if I could have your patience I would make a couple more in which our own estimation of the situation differs somewhat from the one that you gave in your opening remarks.

MILITARY SITUATION

The first point I would like to make concerns the military situation in El Salvador.

We have a situation in which there have been two insurgent offensives since the start of the year, the so-called final offensive in January and a regional one in August in which a major effort was made to establish a liberated zone, particularly in the town of Perquin.

You will recall in the January offensive the insurgents hoped there would be a general uprising. In fact, there was no such thing. There was no support from the population. The initiative could not be sustained more than for a few days, and the army quickly reestablished control in all parts of the country.

In the course of August the effort was to get ahold of an individual piece of territory. Indeed, the insurgents did conquer a village in the mountains called Perquin. They overran a small National Guard detachment there, and they captured a handful of National Guardsmen as they did so.

The army responded and within 9 days was able to recapture the town and push the guerrillas out in some disorder.

Now, since that incident, the level of military activity in the country has dropped off very substantially, again, as it did after the first offensive.

I think the point that is to be drawn from this is that the insurgents are not able to prevail against the Army of El Salvador nor are they indeed able to seriously push it in a military sense.

However, I think it is true that the tactic adopted by the guerrillas this summer of attacking the economic structure of the country has had some serious implications.

There have been efforts in the course of August to destroy bridges, to mine roads, bomb businesses, and destroy the electric grid.

In mid-August, at the worst point, some 13 percent of the pylons in the electricity distribution system had been destroyed and a very difficult situation developed, Mr. Chairman. Power was lost in hospitals; incubators, iron lungs, X-ray equipment, and operating rooms were shut down. And most of the public water systems in El Salvador, depending on electric pumps, were threatened and many were cut off and a very difficult situation ensued.

This situation has been to a substantial degree corrected by now, in considerable part by the activity of the Salvadorans themselves to string alternative powerlines on poles rather than pylons and reroute power, but also in considerable part as a result of the United States providing [illegible] 17 generators to be used in the hospitals, for critical water pumps and so forth. We are close to

CONCLUSIONS

Looking at this military situation and the request for military assistance that we will shortly make to the Congress, as it is before the Congress in a congressional presentation, we come to the following conclusions:

We think the government down there has, with limited assistance from us, done quite well.

We think that there are likely to be other guerrilla offensives and we can't be certain additional assistance over and above those amounts presented in the congressional presentation will not be required. But for the moment we don't anticipate asking the Congress for more than the $25 million in military assistance which is now before you.

Now, as regards military trainers, American military trainers in El Salvador, we promised you earlier that they would be used only as required absolutely.

At one time, some 56, I think, at the highest point, were in the country. You will recall there was a lot of discussion about whether that number would go up. It actually has tended to fluctuate downward. There are somewhat less than 30 in the country at the moment. In the course of the winter that number will go back up again, but on current projections there seems to be no reason that it will go beyond the roughly 55 that it was before.

Looking at the balance of this situation, we think that if there is a point of need, a weak point in our current program in El Salvador is on the economic side.

Should the attacks that have been made on the economic infrastructure continue we may need indeed to have more assistance, and we are looking at those requirements now, and that is a possible area in which we will come back to.

POLITICAL SOLUTION

Mr. Chairman, my second point concerns the political solution that you alluded to.

It is not an accurate rendering of this administration's policy, as I thought I heard, that the United States is seeking a military solution to the conflict. We are seeking a political solution to the conflict and we believe that that political solution involves inevitably a number of elements.

It involves contacts among legally constituted parties. It involves an opportunity for current opposition groups to constitute themselves as legally constituted parties. It involves an opportunity for all such parties, from the left and from the right, to participate in the structure of the new institutions of El Salvador, and it involves ultimately the participation of all who are willing and who renounce violence in a free and open electoral process in that country.

Now, if you look at what the main opposition group, the Frente Democratico Revolucionario, has said, you will have to conclude that it has made no proposal for negotiation. It is said that it is for negotiations, but it has said at the same time that for negotiations to occur—unspecified negotiations—two conditions will have to be met. The army will have to be restructured and the government will have to be substituted by an unspecified new order.

No one knows what negotiations proposals they have, if any.

You may recall, Mr. Chairman, that the respected West German Socialist leader Wischnewsky went down to El Salvador in May in order to see whether he could encourage a political solution. He was given a document purportedly of the Frente which said that the Frente should pretend to participate in a negotiating process as a means of gathering international support and deceiving the government, but it should not engage in it because indeed only a military solution could achieve the goals of the Frente itself.

Mr. Wischnewsky took that document to Fidel Castro, who looked at it and is reported to have said that it sounds like a revolutionary document but we are unwise to put all that on paper. Then he took it to the Frente itself and the Frente said, after some hesitation, yes, it was a document that they had developed but it was only one of several documents, and it was not a position that they had retained.

They didn't say at that time what their position was, and it remains very uncertain now as to whether they actually have negotiating proposals. On the other hand, Mr. Duarte in a speech on September 15 outlined the position of his government of how he proposes to reach a political solution through a democratic electoral process. He invited all political parties and groups, including the Frente if it wished to join, including the Social Democrats who are part of the Frente, including the Communist Party which is also part of the Frente, to participate in the elections and to join now in talks on all aspects of the process leading to them.

In other words, he invited the opposition parties to come and talk about how power could be divided in El Salvador.

He invited foreign observers to come to El Salvador, beginning now, to witness for themselves the process, the conditions in which elections will be carried out, and to talk to any political party or group, talk to the Central Elections Commission and others to encourage the widest possible participation in the elections, and in the process leading up to them.

Now as recently as September 17, a spokesman for the Frente rejected this invitation by Duarte for a dialog on the election process, quoting, or making a statement, and I quote, "* * * as long as the existing conditions which prevent a free election are maintained."

The Frente's position remains, as far as we can tell, that they want first to obtain what they have been unable to win on the battlefield and what they are unwilling to compete for at the polls. They want to have first their conditions met by a reordering of society and a restructuring of the army. And then afterward, they will say what it is they are negotiating for.

We continue to hope, Mr. Chairman, that some elements of the Frente, or the Frente itself, may yet be willing to come forward and negotiate in good faith about political processes in El Salvador.

But it is time for them to put something on the table.

We recognize that the process of elections is an exceptionally difficult task in El Salvador

RELEASED
El Salvador Human Rights

think that we can help with it, and that others can help with it. We intend to accept the invitation that President Duarte held out to us.

As a first step, we plan to send a small group down from the State Department to begin the talks with the parties involved that he suggests.

Later, in coordination with other governments and with the President, we may send a team of technical experts as observers.

VIOLENCE

The third point I would like to make concerns violence.

I think President Duarte was honest and indeed courageous in recognizing that one of the major problems that his country faces as it moves toward elections and a political solution, is the serious level of violence in the country.

That violence we know comes from both left and right.

From the left it serves as a vehicle to impose the guerrillas' revolutionary philosophy on a people who so far have given no evidence of being willing to accept it.

For the FMLN, the guerrillas' front, violence is a means to achieve its ends, and the FMLN makes no apologies whatsoever for the deaths of men, women, and children that result from its use of terror as a political instrument.

It is true also that the right has had its strategy of violence, has targeted Christian Democrats and officials and others, and an attack on the government itself and on the reforms that have been carried out.

What I would like to underline, Mr. Chairman, is that the Salvadoran Government accepts responsibility to bring that violence to an end or diminish it, as President Duarte committed himself so eloquently to do this week. And I would also note that to judge from the limited information that we have available to us, the level of violence has apparently decreased over recent months, we believe, in part due to the effort of the Government to end the abuses that have occurred in that country.

The average weekly toll of deaths, as far as we can tell—deaths caused by violence—has dropped by almost half since the beginning of the year.

Now, reduced violence is clearly one sign that the foundations, the elements for an improved future, may be present.

Another is the willingness of other Salvadorans, despite the threats of the guerrillas, to reject intimidation and go on with their normal lives and political activities. I referred to Mr. Duarte's speech on September 15, and there was a real striking example of what can be possible in political terms in that country.

There was the threat, of course, by the guerrillas to disrupt the National Day ceremonies, but 25,000 Salvadorans turned out to hear the President's speech and it went off in peace.

Earlier in the year, large groups have also met, the Union of Salvadoran Campesinos had a rally of more than 10,000 people in June. Clearly, large-scale political activity of a kind that would be required in an election campaign can be undertaken.

We have [illegible] of our [illegible] El Salvador [illegible] and a very deeply troubled country. We are well aware of the fact that only Salvadorans can resolve those differences and divisions.

DEMOCRATIC SOLUTION

We think that this is the fundamental argument for getting on with the establishment of democratic practices and institutions in that country, because only a pluralistic system can permit the Salvadorans, so deeply divided as they are, to live with each other without violence and to gradually resolve their differences.

In our view, President Duarte has proposed such a solution. We think he needs, we think he deserves, our support in his struggle to bring democracy to El Salvador.

If I could, Mr. Chairman, I would just like to remark briefly on the suggestion that you quoted in your opening remarks that somehow military aid being channeled to the military is giving them a trump card over the President.

The military aid that is being given to El Salvador is being given at the request of its President, the President of the so-called governing junta, a temporary institution which will be replaced by an elected government beginning in 1983.

This aid is being given, as I say, at its request and to the government.

Administratively, it is, of course, being given to the army, incidentally, not to the Guardia Nacional, or to the police services, but to the army, as indeed is only possible.

After all, you need an institution to receive it, but the nature of that program, the decisions which are made concerning it, are decisions which are discussed and decided with the Salvadoran Government, and not with a single part of it.

I think that the suggestion cited really lacks reality and tends to suggest that differences and tensions exist in a way that they do not.

I think, Mr. Chairman, that it is important that we all have as clear a view as possible of the reality in El Salvador, but the remarks cited from your opening remarks from the Washington Post don't seem to remember to reflect that at all clearly.

Thank you very much.

[Mr. Enders' prepared statement follows:]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

PREPARED STATEMENT OF HON. THOMAS O. ENDERS, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INTER-AMERICAN AFFAIRS

Mr. Chairman:

I am pleased to have this opportunity to discuss with you the situation in El Salvador, and our policy. Before responding to your questions there are only a few points I would like to make.

I.

Since the beginning of the year the Government of El Salvador has repulsed the two military offensives by the guerrillas.

In the January offensive, the guerrillas sought a mass uprising of the population against President Duarte's government. They attacked in urban areas around the country but were unable to sustain their initiative. The population did not support them; the army responded quickly to the challenge.

In the recent offensive their aim was to secure a small piece of territory near the Honduran border. The guerrillas managed to seize the village of Perquin and capture the small National Guard garrison located there. The army responded to this surprise attack by fighting its way back up a mountain road in rugged terrain. Perquin was retaken under these difficult circumstances within a week. Since that time the level of guerrilla military activity has dropped significantly.

The guerrillas have since turned their activity to the systematic destruction of the economic infrastructure of the country. They have destroyed bridges, mined roads, and bombed businesses to bleed the country economically. In mid-August, they destroyed about 13% of the pylons in the electricity distribution grid. Urban areas suddenly lost power in hospitals, where incubators, iron lungs, x-ray equipment and operating rooms were shut down. Most of the public water systems in El Salvador depend on electric pumps. The water was cut off by these attacks, causing immediate hardship and the risk of serious public health problems over the longer term.

Nevertheless, the electric power authority responded with initiative and flexibility to this challenge. The U.S. has made available 47 generators to help keep hospitals and water systems functioning.

The government has husbanded its limited military assistance from the United States carefully. I am sure there will be other guerrilla offensives, but we do not anticipate requesting additional military assistance over and above what you have before you in the FY 82 Congressional presentation. Of course we will be prepared to come back to you should this situation change. We have, as we promised the Congress, used only the U.S. military trainers in El Salvador that are absolutely required. Currently the number of trainers is around 30. We expect to continue to send trainers to El Salvador to meet particular needs that may arise. Numbers will increase again but we do not anticipate that the numbers will grow beyond the high mark of our effort this year.

The callous attack on the economic infrastructure, however, points to the need El Salvador genuinely has for international economic assistance. We are looking at those requirements now and we intend to make available our conclusions to the Congress in the near future. We need to do our part.

II.

At the same time the Frente has made no proposals for negotiation. All it has said is that there are preconditions to negotiation that have to be met -- restructuring of the army and reordering of the government. No one knows what its negotiating proposals are, if indeed there are any.

President Duarte, on the other hand, outlined in detail in his speech of September 15, the steps his government will take to reach a political solution through a democratic electoral process.

He invited all political parties and groups, including the FDR, the MNR (social democrats) and UDN (communist) to participate in the elections and to join now in talks on all aspects of the process leading to them. He invited foreign observers to El Salvador -- beginning now --to witness for themselves the process and conditions in which the elections will be carried out and to talk to political parties or groups, Central Elections Commission, and others to encourage the widest participation in the elections.

As recently as September 17, 1981, a spokesman for the Frente rejected Duarte's invitation for a dialogue on the elections process "as long as the existing conditions, which prevent a free election, are maintained."

In other words they still want first what they have been unable to win on the battlefield and are unwilling to seek at the polls. We hope that some elements of the FDR might yet be willing to come to negotiate in good faith about the electoral process. But it is time for them to put something on the table.

We have faith that open and fair elections can be held in El Salvador. We believe there is a helpful role for us to play -- with others -- and intend to accept President Duarte's invitation. Initially, we plan to send a small group from the State Department to begin talks as he suggests. Later, in coordination with other governments and President Duarte, we may send a team of technical experts as observers.

III.

Clearly one of the major problems President Duarte faces in moving to elections is the serious violence in the country.

The violence comes from both the left and the right. From the left, violence serves as a vehicle to impose the guerrillas' revolutionary philosophy on a people who thus far have given no evidence of embracing it. For the FMLN, violence is a tactic to achieve its ends; the FMLN makes no apologies for the deaths of untold men, women and children resulting from its cold, calculated use of terror as a political instrument.

The right also has had its strategy of violence and targeted Christian Democrats and officials in an attack on the government itself and on reforms it has carried out.

The government has accepted its responsibility to bring this violence to an end, as President Duarte has so eloquently stated this week. And the level of violence apparently has decreased over recent months, in part due to the Salvadoran government's effort to end security force abuses. The average weekly toll of deaths caused by violence, as best our Embassy can monitor it, has dropped by almost half since the beginning of the year.

IV.

Reduced violence is one sign that the foundations for an improved future may be present. Another is the willingness of ordinary Salvadorans -- despite threats by the guerrilla left -- to reject intimidation and go on with their normal lives. On September 15, El Salvador's National Day, a stunning example of this occurred. Ignoring threats by guerrillas to disrupt National Day ceremonies, over 25,000 Salvadorans turned out to hear President Duarte's speech in which he appealed to the violent opposition to lay down their arms and join negotiations on the electoral process. There should be no illusions, however. El Salvador remains a deeply divided country.

Only Salvadorans can resolve these divisions. Neither we nor any other foreign country can do so. It is, therefore, critical that the Salvadoran Government and people attempt to overcome these divisions by establishing a more democratic system. We wholeheartedly support this objective. Not out of blind sentiment, not out of a desire to reproduce everywhere a political system that has served Americans so extraordinarily well, and certainly not because we under-estimate the difficulties involved. Rather we believe that the solution must be democratic because only a genuinely pluralistic approach can enable a profoundly divided society to live with itself without violent convulsions, gradually overcoming its differences.

President Duarte has proposed such a solution. He needs and deserves our support in his struggle to restore democracy to El Salvador.

Mr. BARNES. Thank you, Mr. Secretary.

If your policy works, and if everything goes well in the next 12 months, what would you think the situation would be a year from now? What is your expectation and your hope as to the progress that will be made over the next 12 months?

Mr. ENDERS. The most important political event which is coming up in that period is the Constituent Assembly elections, and then the formation of the Constituent Assembly next spring. That is clearly a decisive moment in establishing the legitimacy of a new society in El Salvador, and in beginning to work out the basis on which power will be divided in the country.

I think that the way in which those elections are held, the response of Salvadorans to them, and the work of the Constituent Assembly subsequently, is a very important element.

Let me say that the level of violence from the insurgents in the country between now and then will be very much a function of the degree to which arms trafficking continues through Nicaragua and through other places, from Cuba and other sources, and it is impossible for me at this point to predict what that will be.

Should the arms flow tend to move down and a lower level of violence occur, one could expect that security conditions would indeed improve as our own programs continue.

But nobody knows how much Cuba, how much Nicaragua, how much the states behind them, including the Soviet Union, would pump in in that period, and that is a crucial variable.

MILITARY SITUATION

Mr. BARNES. You challenged in your opening statement the rather pessimistic assessment of the military situation that I quoted, and Mr. Lagomarsino challenged it as well noting that it was something we couldn't discuss. But there was a report just within the last week or so in the Miami Herald to the effect that

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

U.S. officers at the U.S. Southern Command in Panama are saying that the junta in El Salvador appears now to be slowly losing the fight against the guerrillas. If in fact the report is correct, that that is what the U.S. military personnel are saying down in Panama, are they just wrong, or what is your reaction to these reports?

Mr. ENDERS. I am not aware of the report, and certainly not aware of the opinions alleged to be held in the report.

As I say, I think the situation is one in which the insurgents have not been able to damage the government forces militarily. They clearly have been able to do substantial economic damage which is of much concern to us.

I would add to that, we have very little evidence that the insurgents are gaining ground politically in the country. Indeed, as a result of the land reforms and the prospect of elections, it would seem to be the contrary. But the insurgents also have significant sympathies internationally, so that you find a mixed picture, Mr. Chairman.

But the notion that you cite is not one that squares with the information available to us.

Mr. BARNES. Well, everyone on this side of the table, Mr. Secretary, has had experience with press reports that were not all that we would have hoped for in terms of confirming our own judgments of reality.

Unless there is objection, I will include in the record the story from the Miami Herald of September 17, entitled "El Salvador Junta Seeks More U.S. Aid," which includes the alleged statement by U.S. military officers stationed at the U.S. Southern Command in Panama, and a similar article from the September 10 Christian Science Monitor entitled "Salvadoran Guerrillas Get Upper Hand—With Cuban Aid?"

[The information referred to follows:]

[From the Miami Herald, Sept. 17, 1981]

SALVADOR JUNTA SEEKS MORE U.S. AID

SAN SALVADOR, EL SALVADOR—El Salvador's guerrilla-plagued junta has asked for increased U.S. military aid but will not accept more U.S. military advisers, Defense Minister Col. Jose Guillermo Garcia said Wednesday.

Garcia said junta President Jose Napoleon Duarte and military officers will travel to Washington, soon to personally deliver the request for more military arms aid.

"We have asked and are asking for more military aid because it is necessary," the defense minister, considered by some to be the most powerful man in El Salvador, told a news conference.

Garcia said he was asking for more U.S.-made UH1H "Huey" helicopters, but would not comment on the other items and stressed that he does not want more U.S. military advisers sent to El Salvador to train junta troops.

Washington has sent 56 military advisers and $35 million in military hardware, including 14 Hueys, to help the military-civilian junta battle four Marxist-led guerrilla groups.

But despite the U.S. weaponry, the junta appears to be slowly losing the fight against guerrillas, say U.S. military officers stationed at the U.S. Southern Command in Panama. Garcia repeated Wednesday claims by Salvadoran and U.S. officials that Cuba is the primary source of arms for the rebels, saying: "The evidence is clear, the arms do not come from South America or any other country, but from . . . Cuba."

Earlier in the day, Army spokesmen denied that guerrillas overran a military outpost and captured 20 soldiers in the northern town of San Ignacio but said the town had been taken briefly while undefended.

The spokesmen in San Salvador said between 20 and 40 guerrillas walked into the town unopposed Tuesday evening, ransacked the town hall and raised their flag over the building before fleeing into the surrounding countryside.

"At one point they had the local commander in front of a meeting of the local population and threatened to shoot him, but they relented," they said.

The spokesmen said San Ignacio does not have a permanent military garrison, unusual for a town of 7,500 people two miles south of the tightly controlled northern border with Honduras.

Guerrilla spokesmen in Costa Rica reported early Wednesday that the rebels captured at least 20 soldiers in the San Ignacio attack.

SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS GET UPPER HAND—WITH CUBAN AID?

(By James Nelson Goodsell, Latin American correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor)

The bitter struggle in El Salvador between government forces and leftist guerrillas is suddenly going badly for the government.

Battlefield reports indicate that the guerrillas, who hold sizable portions of the countryside, are now increasing their control over much of the western part of the country—and that the Salvadoran Army has been unable in recent weeks to dislodge the guerrillas or to make any significant inroads against them.

The battlefield reverses for the Salvadoran military are sounding alarm bells in Washington.

There are also hints that Cuban advisers may be on the scene assisting the guerrillas. It has been assumed all along that the guerrillas were receiving military equipment from Cuba, and the Cubans have indirectly substantiated this assumption.

Now, however, if Cuban advisers are on the scene, the whole struggle takes on a new coloration.

The Reagan administration is deeply worried about the ability of President José Napoleón Duarte's government to hold on to power. The United States, which has been the Salvadoran government's major support for the past two years, has supplied its own advisers to the Salvadoran military as well as sending in sizable quantities of military equipment.

The guerrilla resurgence is a sharp reversal of the situation six months ago, when it appeared that a stalemate in the five-year struggle was developing. Neither side appeared able to defeat the other.

Indeed, it was felt in some quarters that President Duarte's shaky military-civilian coalition government might be able to get its act together enough to win support from El Salvador's beleaugered populace and even to begin making inroads against the guerrillas.

U.S. military assistance, which was resumed in the twilight days of the Carter administration and has continued under President Reagan, was expected to help improve President Duarte's situation.

Ironically, however, President Duarte's most encouraging days were in January during the height of a guerrilla offensive that eventually fizzled. That was before renewed U.S. aid began arriving in significant quantities to have an effect on the battlefield.

Since then, as the struggle has worn on without any major breakthrough for either side, Salvadoran military units have been accused of an increasing wave of violence against civilians, many of them suspected guerrilla sympathizers. This situation has brought down considerable worldwide criticism on the Duarte government.

President Duarte's refusal to enter into a negotiated settlement with the guerrillas' political arm has also been sharply criticized.

The surprise Mexican and French decision in late August to recognize two leftist guerrilla groups as a "representative political force" is widely viewed as an effort to get the Duarte government to the negotiating table.

But the Mexican-French action has clearly cheered the guerrillas, although the recognition was roundly criticized by the governments of Colombia and Venezuela, which accuse Mexico and France of interfering in Salvadoran internal affairs.

It was noted in Mexico City, however, that the joint Mexican-French document is not as strong a statement of support as the Salvadoran guerrillas would like.

The document does not recognize that a "state of belligerency" exists in El Salvador, something that Mexico and several other Latin American governments recognized in the case of Nicaragua.

U.S. POLICY TOWARD CUBA

Mr. BARNES. You mentioned the role of Cuba, which is clearly a key component of the problems that we confront in the region—in Central America generally, not only in El Salvador. There has been a great deal of talk over the last 9 months about going to the source, or in some way confronting Cuban activism in the region. Yesterday you announced a new policy with respect to radio broadcasts.

Is that how we are going to go to the source? What is your policy regarding Cuban activities in El Salvador and elsewhere?

Mr. ENDERS. We think the Cuban Government should be made fully conscious of the fact that its continued offensive in Central America, an offensive that has lasted since 1979 and included almost all of the countries around the rim of the Caribbean, that its offensive, if continued, will result in increasing costs at home.

A number of actions have been taken or promised in this regard, one of which you mentioned. The other actions are, we have begun preparation to make sure that we are able to cope with a new Mariel boatlift, should that appeal to the Cubans for use against the United States again. We are tightening the embargo, but I would have to say, Mr. Chairman, that other options, other matters or other actions that could be taken by the United States continue to be under active study.

Mr. BARNES. I won't try to pursue that because I know I won't get anywhere with it.

I call on the gentleman from Pennsylvania, Mr. Yatron.

THE ROLE OF THE SOVIET UNION

Mr. YATRON. Secretary Enders, during the first 6 months of this year we became accustomed to the cold war rhetoric emanating from the State Department with respect to Central America.

However, in your speech on El Salvador to the World Affairs Council on July 16, you made no reference to the Soviet Union or to an East-West confrontation.

Do you have any reason to believe that the Soviet Union has reduced its support of the guerrilla movement in El Salvador?

Mr. ENDERS. We think some of the arms which were used in the final offensive may have come from the Soviet Union or been as a result of Soviet good offices in making them available, but we are concerned about other parts of the Communist or radical network as the most active and immediate agents for this.

I think [illegible]t this is a somewhat artifici[illegible]istinction, really.

Here you have, in fact, Shafik Handal requesting assistance from the Soviet Union, before the final offensive assistance for example and getting assistance from Vietnam, some of which was actually of American origin. You have the Cubans shipping in arms and organizing the political leadership of the El Salvadorans' insurrection.

These are all different ways in which these countries cooperate together, and I certainly did not mean to leave out of consideration or suggest a shift by not mentioning the Soviet Union, although I think the most active country has been Cuba and the most serious problem.

ELECTORAL PROCESS

Mr. YATRON. What independent monitoring groups have been consulted to insure full participation by the various political parties in the upcoming elections?

Mr. ENDERS. Well, we are constituting, as I say, a group that we hope will be down there very shortly, and a number of other countries have been suggested by the Government of El Salvador. I think I ought to leave it to them to make known whom they are contacting, and whom they think they will have.

Their expectation is that there will be quite a number of countries which will be involved, not only in monitoring elections, but in monitoring, observing, and encouraging the whole process leading up to it, and I put the emphasis on the process, because I think it is the contacts among parties, the debate over the political future of the country which, in the first instance, is really important.

Mr. YATRON. Doesn't the violent climate in El Salvador make it nearly impossible for the various political parties to campaign in a safe manner, and if so, wouldn't this factor give the Christian Democratic Party a considerable advantage over their opposition?

Mr. ENDERS. Obviously one of the things the parties must talk about is how do you create a climate of security in which the election campaign and the elections themselves can be held in a serious and authoritative manner. We expect that that is one of the things they would be talking about.

I mentioned to you, though, that large-scale political rallies are indeed quite possible, and do occur, and I think the question would be as to how to make sure that that possibility is open to all of the parties involved in it.

Mr. YATRON. Are you through, Mr. Secretary, with that question?

Mr. ENDERS. It has been pointed out to me here, of course, the media are an important instrument of campaign. There is television as well as radio, and that is one way of assuring that kind of outreach.

MILITARY ASSISTANCE

Mr. YATRON. Is the administration planning on increasing military assistance, or the amount of military advisers in El Salvador as the election day approaches?

Mr. ENDERS. We have no such plans. Obviously, if a new situation develops in El Salvad[illegible]e would review our policy [illegible] make sure it is adequate. But for the moment, as I said earlier, we don't expect to exceed roughly the mid-50's in terms of our trainers. Excuse me, sir, for emphasizing the word "trainer" over adviser. A lot of people said that there is no distinction. There is a distinction which I would like to recall to the committee, although I know it is familiar to you. It is important.

RELEASED
ElSalvador Human Rights Committee

These American trainers train units in cities or in base camps. They do not go out with any units involved on military operations. That is a very important difference, and that is why we tend to insist on the word "trainer."

On the number of military trainers, I don't think present plans will increase over the number I have stated, but clearly if a new situation arises, we would have to have another look at it.

The same goes for the level of military assistance we are talking about.

We think that there is provided for in congressional authorities the possibility of using so-called 506 authority, should an emergency develop. This has certain limits on it, certain procedures attached to it, and provides an opportunity to respond to unexpected situations should they occur.

For the moment we expect to stand with the amounts we have asked for in the congressional presentations.

Mr. YATRON. Does the church in El Salvador favor a negotiated settlement among the warring factions in order to bring about a political solution?

Mr. ENDERS. The church definitely favors a political solution and would favor all means of reaching that political solution, and it of course, has not defined detailed negotiating proposals of its own.

Mr. YATRON. Thank you.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. Studds.

Oh, I am sorry, the gentleman from California. There are still Republicans in Congress.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Only one here today.

Mr. BARNES. Forgive me.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. I know it was not intentional.

FRENCH-MEXICAN DECLARATION

Mr. Secretary, let us talk about the French-Mexican joint statement.

What exactly did that joint statement by the Governments of France and Mexico say, not in all detail, but generally?

Mr. ENDERS. Well, it expressed concern over the situation in El Salvador. It expressed belief that free elections should be held in El Salvador as a way of overcoming the political situation, political and military situation, in that country. They were both points with which we strongly agreed.

In addition, a point with which we strongly disagree, it recognized the Farabundo Marti Liberation Front and the FDR, the political arm of the insurgents. It recognized them as representative political forces, and called for a restructuring of the order of the country and a restructuring of the army as possible goals.

Let me say that this statement made by two outside countries resulted in a vigorous rejection by a large number of Latin American countries. Seven countries joined Venezuela and Colombia in condemning this as interference in the affairs of El Salvador, and five other Latin American countries issued statements independently rejecting the statement.

The result is that among other Latin American countries, all together, only Cuba and Nicaragua allied themselves clearly on the side of Mexico and France in this regard.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Just to nail that down so people will know who we are talking about, isn't it true that these countries either joined in the opposition statement or had their own: Venezuela, Costa Rica, Peru, Colombia and Jamaica; all democracies?

Mr. ENDERS. The communique that was proposed by Venezuela and Colombia also was joined in by Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Guatemala, Honduras, Paraguay, the Dominican Republic, as well as Venezuela.

In addition to that, Peru and Ecuador, parliamentary democracies, and two others, Costa Rica, and Jamaica, I believe, issued separate statements.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Chairman, I lost some of that. I am sure it is my fault. Tell us again clearly who came down with Mexico and France and who came down with separate statements and who came down against Mexico.

Mr. ENDERS. Cuba and Nicaragua supported the Mexican-French statement. Venezuela and Colombia and seven other countries rejected the same statement as interference.

Peru, Ecuador, Brazil, Costa Rica, and Jamaica issued separate statements of their own rejecting the Franco-Mexican communique.

EFFECTS OF THE DECLARATION

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Could you describe for us what effect the joint statement has had on the internal situation in El Salvador?

Mr. ENDERS. It was very soundly rejected by the Salvadoran Bishops. They issued a statement condemning it.

It is worth noting that the statement came out, whether by coincidence or not, at the time of the effort to establish in Perquin a liberated zone. The failure of that effort, I think, also is linked to the attitude that Salvadorans have over it altogether.

We see no evidence of any response of the kind that perhaps the authors of the statement hoped for.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. My impression has been in talking to some of the Salvadorans who were here is that, if anything, the joint statement might have coalesced more support for the government than was the case before the statement was made.

Is this a correct assessment, do you think?

Mr. ENDERS. Certainly consistent with the facts as we know them.

It has not led to any swing towards the insurgents, anything you suggest the other way.

It was universally condemned by Salvadorans as interference in their internal affairs.

As in all of the countries of Latin America, but particularly in the smaller countries of Latin America, concern over foreign involvement is very great.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. One more question, Mr. Chairman?

You mentioned the September 15 event that occurred in El Salvador and frankly, although I read FBIS every morning, it is [illegible] by the time it gets here, I have not read anything about that in the local press.

It would seem to me that was a rather significant thing, if it is as you describe it.

Was it considered to be a unique event in El Salvador?

Mr. ENDERS. A very major demonstration of the support that the government and President Duarte personally enjoy but, as I mentioned earlier, it is not unknown for there to be large political rallies of this kind.

I would point out also, though, a lot of people did not know that the two leading democracies, Colombia and Venezuela, issued a rejection of the Franco-Mexican statement.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. I wonder if I might have unanimous consent to insert in the record an article from the Baltimore Sun regarding the reaction of Latin American nations to the France-Mexico statement.

Mr. BARNES. Without objection, it will be included in the record.

[The newspaper article follows:]

[From the Baltimore Sun, Sept. 8, 1981]

MOST OF LATIN AMERICA FLOCKS TO SUPPORT OF U.S. POSITION AFTER FRANCE AND MEXICO RECOGNIZE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS

Caracas, Venezuela (Reuter)—The recognition of Salvadoran guerrillas by France and Mexico has sent almost all of Latin America scurrying into the U.S. camp on the issue and triggered a crisis between the two countries and Venezuela.

Less than three years after Sandinista guerrillas in Nicaragua won widespread Latin American support for their struggle against the late dictator Gen. Anastasio Somoza Debayle, El Salvador's leftist guerrillas have found they are out on a limb.

Last week nine countries—led by longstanding democracies Venezuela and Colombia, which strongly supported the Sandinistas through the Andean Pact organization—protested the move by France and Mexico to regard as a legitimate political force guerrillas fighting to overthrow the Salvadoran civilian-military junta.

Besides Venezuela and Colombia, the protest was signed by the traditionally conservative southern military governments, Argentina, Chile, Paraguay and Bolivia, and by Honduras, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, which has its own leftist guerrilla problems. Ecuador, Uruguay, Peru and Costa Rica joined the protest later.

The U.S. State Department welcomed the protest.

"We are very gratified that a significant number of countries with direct hemispheric interest in Salvadoran developments have taken the initiative, which appears to be in accord with our position," spokesman Dean Fischer said.

Only Nicaragua has so far pronounced itself in favor of the Franco-Mexican declaration "on humanitarian grounds."

Brazil, which did not sign the protest, called it "a dangerous precedent."

The action by France and Mexico recognized the alliance of the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) and the Revolutionary Democratic Front (FDR) as a "representative political force" with the legitimacy to enter negotiations with the government to find a political solution to the crisis.

The communique called for a new internal order in the country, the restructuring of the armed forces and the creation of necessary conditions for holding free elections.

The FDR, an umbrella grouping of dissidents, has said that elections to be held in El Salvador in March cannot possibly be free because of the dangers opposition parties will be exposed to.

The signers of the protest condemned the communique as an aggravation of the conflict in which about 25,000 people have been killed in the last 20 months, and Venezuelan President Luis Herrera Campins criticized it as interfering in the country's internal affairs.

Mr. Herrera, despite coming under fire from opposition parties, has remained firm in his condemnation, and Interior Minister Rafael Montes de Oca canceled a scheduled trip to Paris this month.

Former Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez said, "The sensible thing for Venezuela to do would be to seek understandings with other countries . . . and not to complicate it by giving support to the southern cone dictatorships which have military missions in El Salvador."

The protest has polarized Mexico and Venezuela, two countries fast emerging as important political and economic influences in the region, diplomatic sources said.

Relations between the two nations had shown steady improvement over the last few years, culminating in agreements this year to hold foreign policy consultations and to jointly supply Central American and Caribbean countries with oil under special credit arrangements.

Diplomatic sources dismissed the possibility that the oil agreement would be affected by the political crisis, and Venezuelan Energy and Mines Minister Humberto Calderon Berti confirmed that he will attend a meeting in Mexico this week of the Latin American Energy Organization to discuss the terms with Mexican oil representatives.

Economic relations with France were also likely to be strained, following what Venezuela sees as extra-hemispheric interference from that quarter.

The French company Elf-Aquitaine has been negotiating with the Venezuelan state oil industry for more than a year to establish a special refinery in France to upgrade heavy Venezuelan crude oil under a long-term supply contract.

France has also come under heavy attack from El Salvador's president, Jose Napoleon Duarte, who has said "the hand of Fidel Castro" is behind the two countries' declaration.

"We cannot forget who the French president's policy adviser on Latin America is, Regis Debray," he said. "Cuba is at both ends of this declaration."

Mr. Debray, a one-time theorist of Latin American revolution, won world fame in the 1960s for spending several weeks in the Bolivian jungles with Argentine-born former Cuban government minister Ernesto "Che" Guevara, who was seeking to foment a rebellion by peasants against the country's government.

President Duarte said the declaration was a direct result of a meeting between Cuban President Fidel Castro and Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo in Cozumel, Mexico, after the two countries' foreign ministers held a preparatory meeting for the October North-South summit in Cancun.

Analysts said then that the timing of Mr. Castro's visit was a gesture by Mexico to soothe Cuba's feelings, ruffled by its exclusion from the summit talks.

They added that it was also aimed at reasserting Mexico's independent, nonaligned foreign policy.

Mr. BARNES. The gentleman from Massachusetts.

PRESIDENT DUARTE'S VISIT TO CONGRESS

Mr. STUDDS. Mr. Enders, as you well know, we have talked many times before about private enemies and unreal settings. You and I come from different places, and I am going to try to resist the temptation to give a lengthy explanation of my own feelings, and go almost immediately to the questions.

Washington, at least from my perspective, is always an unreal place, and congressional hearings are uniquely unreal, both in their format and the impressions that they give of what is happening in the world that exists beyond the beltway. Of all the settings and subjects in which that unreality hits me hardest is a discussion such as this on topics such as this.

With the visit of President Duarte this week we all did our diplomatic best, regardless of our own personal positions, and everybody went out of their way to be a model of diplomacy.

I think we may have overreacted. If he were to base his judgment of American public opinion solely on what he heard and encountered with the House of Representatives' Members, he would go home a very happy man indeed, thinking there was no very serious concern, or questioning of the administration's policy with respect to El Salvador, and it must be said this is not the case.

Regardless of whether one supports or opposes that policy it is an extreme to say it is one held by the American people.

I must say that I think the administration has been about as successful in convincing the people of this country it knows what it is doing in El Salvador as it has been successful in convincing Wall Street it knows what it is doing with respect to the economy. I must say also that I think there are other analogies between the policies both economic and in Central America. They share the characteristics of being, in my judgment, illogical, unjust, and unworkable. I think that we are seeing more and more of the kind, or the emperor—I am not sure which yet—without any clothes. Let me acknowledge, as you would, that we are not going to get anywhere arguing with one another. Let us see if we can go to questions.

ELECTIONS

The heart of the position of the Government in El Salvador, which, as is usual, is indistinguishable from the heart of the U.S. position in this matter, is that elections are the way to go. You yourself once again testified to that fact. The head of the Salvadoran Election Commission as you know has said free elections cannot occur in El Salvador as long as the state of siege is maintained. Do we agree with that assessment?

Mr. ENDERS. The way in which we handle the state of siege is obviously one of the important questions which will have to be decided in a dialog among parties which should now begin, a dialog among the parties and with the government. It is indistinguishable from the question of how you assure security in the course of the campaigning and actual voting. It is not for us to take a view on that, Mr. Studds.

Mr. STUDDS. We seem to take one on almost everything else.

Mr. ENDERS. It is for the Government to decide that question after dialog.

Mr. STUDDS. That is the type of answer which I might have anticipated.

Let me ask you—if this is not too much of a challenge for anybody in the U.S. Department of State today—to try to put yourself in the position of someone on the left. I notice Mr. Duarte, like Mr. Haig—Mr. Haig's language appears to be contagious—is talking about geopolitics. I thought that went out with Secretary Kissinger. Put yourself if you can—without jeopardizing your career—in the position of someone on the left in opposition to the Government of El Salvador. Realistically, how could you be assured that you could renounce violence and participate in this Government's and this military's version of elections under which they decide what the elections will be; they decide what the ground rules will be; they probably decide who can even participate in the elections? Could you take their word that you would not be killed, that you would be allowed to present your views fairly and openly and freely with access to people in the country? In the unlikely event that under the current circumstances you were not killed and you were allowed to convey your views, what if you won the election? Would a military, which was unwilling to even let Mr. Duarte take power, let someone take power who they—and you—believe represent the extreme left and the forces of international communism? Do you really think you could convince someone on the left that is a realistic scenario that they ought to participate in?

Mr. ENDERS. I think the point, Mr. Studds, is that those are questions that the parties of the left, of the extreme left—and possibly the Frente, which is a grouping of parties—should ask of the other parties and of the government.

In other words, why should there not be talks about precisely those questions? Why is it you have to assume that there is an answer which will already be provided? Find out, ask the question, talk about it, possibly negotiate about it.

The second point—this is a set of issues on which the foreign governments and foreign countries concerned can be helpful. The United States has already indicated that it would be willing to provide its good offices if desired. We now see that it is desired by the Salvadoran Government. We would provide our good offices for contacts among parties if in fact there was a radical lack of confidence or unwillingness to have direct contacts, which I think would be one of the kinds of conditions that you are talking about or implying in your remarks.

Other countries, we hope, will be willing to do this, too. The involvement of the United States and other countries could help assure that the outcomes which your hypothetical leftists would fear would not occur.

NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. STUDDS. I know my time is up. I would just observe I cannot conceive—no matter how hypothetical—of anybody in opposition to this Government on the left who would be very reassured by what you said. The way you expressed yourself, if I heard you correctly, sounds perilously close to the Mexican-French position with which we have pronounced ourselves singularly displeased. As I understand it, the United States will not tolerate the suggestion that there ought to be negotiations about whether or not there ought to be elections at this point or anything else. We insist that the concept of elections as envisioned by this Government and by ourselves be accepted and that they, of course, may be talked about. But whether or not there might be some other approach as suggested by the French and the Mexicans—that the parties ought to negotiate—is precisely, as I have heard you and others in the past say, something which is unacceptable to the United States. Why it is acceptable or unacceptable or relevant to the United States eludes me. Leave that aside for the moment. It is something we have been highly critical of France and Mexico for suggesting.

Mr. ENDERS. No. We ourselves associate with the criticism others have made. We have been critical of the recognition of a violent opposition to the Salvador Government within Salvador.

Mr. STUDDS. The recognition of a violent government does not bother us very much.

Mr. ENDERS. The recognition of a violent opposition to the Government of El Salvador.

No, we have said it before very clearly, that in our view we are prepared to assist others in talking about the way in which elections could be held, and we have made that quite clear. The French-Mexican communique and indeed the left opposition to the Government is not talking about that. It is talking about restructuring the Government, restructuring the military as a prelude to unspecified negotiations.

Mr. STUDDS. As you said earlier, what business is that of ours? I know my time is up, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BARNES. The time of the gentleman has expired.

The gentleman from Connecticut, Mr. Gejdenson.

MILITARY SOLUTION

Mr. GEJDENSON. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I guess one of the problems that some of us have who are getting more pessimistic about the situation in El Salvador is that we are applying a military solution to everyone in opposition, from center to the left. It seems that we are making no real efforts, aside from President Duarte's statement on September 15, to try to take away some of what has developed as a hard left opposition to the Duarte government. I do not say that with a real hope we can accomplish a great deal at this point in El Salvador, but in looking at Guatemala, I see we have a similar set of circumstances. If our response is the same, it will merely weld that group of opposition forces together even tighter. I am looking for signs that our Government is making significant efforts in some way to demonstrate that we are really concerned, that we desire to broaden the range of people involved in the political process in El Salvador, in Guatemala, or anywhere else. I think that you yourself on some occasions have talked about Cubans grabbing a section of the political spectrum far beyond what they traditionally would ally themselves with to gain their initial goals. I think that a response that will work, or at least has a much better chance of working, is if we can create a situation that lets us work for the forces of change—and let us reach out to a much broader spectrum of the society.

Mr. ENDERS. Well, I am a little reluctant to disagree with my own Congressman, but may I in some part do so.

I think you are not allowing for what is being done. You talk about being concerned for social change. This is a government which has started—it has not carried through, but it has started—the most ambitious, broadest land reform that has been attempted in Latin America, and in which we are behind and will stay behind.

You talk about not allowing for broadening of the spectrum of political participation. Yet we are supporting a government there which is calling for parties of the left, the Social Democrats and the Communist Party, which is offering to the grouping of the left—the Frente—to participate in its political process.

You know, you can only do so much. You cannot in the end be responsible for the acts of all concerned, but there are very substantial opportunities now for parties associated with the left to enter the political process if they so choose. I see no evidence that so far they are prepared to choose that. I do not see how you can go beyond that. After all, they make their own decisions.

Mr. GEJDENSON. I guess where the Congressman and the Congressman's constituent part company is in looking at what has happened historically—and I guess I join my colleague from Massachusetts in this respect. It is difficult to assume that in looking at everything that has happened in El Salvador, or in a country like Guatemala, that just because at some point those in power start asking that everyone participate in the election process, that that in itself will break them away from a guerrilla front.

If I had been a Christian Democrat or Social Democrat working for democratic change for 50 years and then saw the bloodshed of the last several years and the almost uncontrolled murder by the military—if I were in Guatemala seeing Christian Democrats shot almost on a daily basis for a while when the Government suddenly said to me, "Come, it is time for us to go to elections together," I think I would feel like a writer in China during the period of 100 flowers. Everybody was encouraged to speak out freely, but at the end of that period things do not work out so well.

I think we need to do more than simply—if we are part of this, and I think America is clearly identified with the Duarte government—to simply say OK, it is time for elections, you can all come out of the hills now and join in the electoral process.

DEMOCRATIC PROCESSES

Mr. ENDERS. Obviously there is a lot more involved in it than that. I hope we never get this country to a point where we lose faith in democratic processes as the ultimate solution to political problems. We have no doubt about the difficulties involved in applying that to a country like El Salvador; but I think there cannot be any other solution to a deeply divided country than democratic institutions. You cannot lose that from sight. We have to move toward it.

Mr. GEJDENSON. I do not think you will get an argument on that. The argument could be made that the Soviet Union claims it has a democratic process for electing its leaders. If I were in the opposition or in the center opposition to the present government in El Salvador, I would feel that the offers of an election in that country are very similar to the offers and the continuous elections in the Soviet Union, that I frankly would not have a great deal of faith that my life or my political fortunes would be protected in the process.

I think that is the anxiety that has to be overcome.

Mr. ENDERS. Well, I think the Government has indicated that it would like to enter into conversations with the parties concerned in order to deal with this and all other issues involved in the process. We think those who are in touch with the left should be in a position of encouraging that to occur rather than of simply saying it is impossible, it will never happen, it cannot possibly work. Why is it that the people who believe most strongly in the democratic process in this country seem to have often so little faith in it as a hope in other countries?

I do not know. I do not understand that.

Mr. GEJDENSON. I think I can explain it, but I will not take up any more time of the subcommittee.

Mr. BARNES. The gentleman from Florida.

Mr. MICA. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Would it be a correct statement to say that the Duarte regime is heavily dependent on U.S. assistance at this stage, if not totally dependent?

El Salvador: Human Rights and Project (Part 2)

Mr. ENDERS. I think there is no question that the situation in El Salvador would be much worse without the economic and military assistance of the United States, much worse.

ELECTORAL PROGRAM

Mr. MICA. I would like to follow up on the question by my colleague, Mr. Studds, because I think that possibly we as a nation could give a stronger assurance based on that leverage. What is wrong with us saying that we as a nation will make one of our top priorities assurances of a fair and free election as a pressure contingent—make our support contingent and make this very broadly and widely known? It seems to me that the weight of the American Government, the support that we give, the situation of the Duarte government and its dependency, all totaled together, could have allowed you to have given him a much stronger answer in that regard.

Mr. ENDERS. Obviously El Salvador is a sovereign country. The Government of El Salvador is very concerned about the exercise of that sovereignty; quite properly so.

The electoral program that has been put forward by the Salvadoran Government is not our electoral program, it is theirs. The way in which they intend to carry it out must be in the end theirs. We as Americans cannot attempt to dictate or to manipulate those solutions. We can hope to support, sustain what they attempt to do, and I think that indeed the presence of American observers at the very start of this process and all the way through the process is one of the reasons why there is some hope and expectation that the process will work in the end; but let me emphasize it has got to be a Salvadoran process.

Mr. MICA. I understand that. You used the terms "dictate to them." I would tend to think what I had in mind more was an affirmative action program. We use affirmative action amongst our own people when we want American citizens, businessmen, to comply with governmental regulations. We have a government down there that will comply in some way with the goals and aims of America; maybe we could have a little stronger affirmative action.

Mr. ENDERS. I like that. We will take affirmative action.

MILITARY SOLUTION

Mr. MICA. All right. Let me ask this. We did have differing views between you and the chairman as we started out today as to whether the war is getting worse or not. Is there a criterion, a list of functions of war—whatever you might call it, casualties, attacks, bombings, deaths, arms supply—that can be measured in an objective sense, say, from now and 6 months ago we could look at as a committee? Does the State Department do that? Does the Pentagon do it?

Mr. ENDERS. We would be glad to provide you from the point of view of the Government as a whole, including intelligence agencies, as I think sometimes you do with very detailed briefings that would address all of those factors.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Chairman, if I may request, I would just like to see for my own edification what could be put together. I do not know how you would term it—a list of qualifiers—as to where we stand now and where we stood 6 months ago. I would like to include in that casualties, terrorist attacks, information on arms flow, and the like.

Mr. ENDERS. We would be delighted to provide that, Mr. Chairman.

[The information referred to follows:]

MILITARY, SECURITY AND NONCOMBATANT CASUALTY FIGURES

It is difficult to obtain definitive casualty figures in the El Salvador conflict. Our best estimate is that from January 1 to October 15, 1981, GOES military and security personnel casualties were about 2,300, including approximately 760 killed in action. From October 15, 1979 through September 1980, about 230 military and security personnel were killed.

As best we can determine, there has been a 40 percent reduction in non-combatant casualties since September 1981. They were running from an average of 150 per week in late 1980, to 120 per week in September 1981. They have been down to approximately 70 per week since September 1981.

ARMS FLOW TO GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR

Guerrilla stock of arms and equipment were reduced during the August offensive. Resupply has been hampered by the increasing success in interdicting some of the land routes through Honduras operated by the guerrillas. However, the guerrillas continue to undertake offensive, harassing actions against Salvador security forces throughout Salvador. The interdiction of some of the supply lines through Honduras has prompted the guerrillas to seek to open alternate routes. Shipments to the guerrillas continue to flow through Nicaragua.

LEFTIST TERRORISM IN EL SALVADOR

During the period October 1979 to the present, the five guerrilla groups which now comprise the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN), whose actions are coordinated by an executive board called the United Revolutionary Directorate (DRU), have been responsible for thousands of violent deaths in El Salvador. Not only have they killed members of El Salvador's army and security forces, but they have killed bus drivers, businessmen, civilian government officials and foreign diplomats. Since the failure of their "final offensive" in January 1981 they have sought to destroy the country's infrastructure by bombing electrical installations, bridges and communications facilities.

The following 1981 list is a compilation of specifically attributable violent acts carried out by the left primarily against the non-combatant civilian population. It is illustrative, rather than comprehensive, but it clearly is representative of the violence that characterizes leftist subversion in El Salvador today. In cases where a specific group has claimed "credit" for the action or otherwise was identifiable the group is identified.

U.S. POSITION ON NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. MICA. The last question: To be very specific, what is the U.S. position with regard to discussions for negotiations as opposed to involvement with the Mexican-Franco bloc proclamation? It was my understanding in the questioning here there was some misunderstanding or it was not clear as to what our position was with regard to how we enter negotiations. Are you saying, in effect, that we are saying we want a peaceful solution and we would like to have discussions about how those negotiations should take place, or are you saying for us to say that would be interference?

Mr. ENDERS. No. Let me be very clear about this. We think that the election process, all parts of it, provide a framework in which the basic political questions of El Salvador can be debated first and ultimately decided through the design of the institutions which has to be done and then elections of parties and people to man those institutions.

We very much support the call of President Duarte to have all current registered parties, both of the right and the left, and of the center, participate in that process, and his call to have other parties or groupings like the Frente participate in them.

We think that that offers an opportunity for the fundamental questions of the country to be addressed by all concerned. There are plenty of opportunities for discussion process. There are plenty of opportunities for negotiations among the parties with the Government within that process. We think it is a question not of opportunity, it is a question of will. We do not see that there is any will of the Farabundo Marti Liberation Front to participate in that process. We do not see that the will has so far been expressed by the Frente, the political arm.

THE DUARTE GOVERNMENT

Mr. MICA. I know my time has expired. If you could answer this: With Duarte considered somewhat in the center between the extreme right and the extreme left, is there anyone who thinks that either of those two groups—the left or the right—would have a more compassionate or freer form of government than what Duarte is pushing?

Mr. ENDERS. I do not think I should speculate on alternative forms of government in El Salvador. The whole purpose of this process is to have that ultimately put up to an election, first for the constituent assembly and then for the Presidency itself. The Christian Democrats led by Duarte are one grouping to contest that, but they are not the only one.

Mr. MICA. Let me rephrase that. I have not heard of a Member of Congress, of either the House or Senate, who feels that way. Is there anyone in our Government who feels that if Duarte were to withdraw or we were to withdraw and he was subsequently toppled, that one of those two extremes that are involved in this matter would provide the people of El Salvador with a better chance to express themselves in a more democratic environment?

Mr. ENDERS. We have made very clear that an effort by the left or the right to overturn the existing transition Government would not be an effort that would receive the support of the United States. Let me reaffirm that very clearly here.

What ultimately emerges from this institutional election process is to be decided by the Salvadoran people, certainly not by the outside.

Mr. MICA. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. Secretary, some of my colleagues have a couple of further questions. Let me just pursue, if I may, a couple of points that the gentleman from Florida just addressed.

One is the data with respect to casualties and incidents of violence and what not. It would be helpful if you could, in conjunction with your colleagues in the other relevant agencies, provide that to the subcommittee.

We had a statement the other morning from the head of the National Guard, Colonel Ca[redacted]ova—who met with some [redacted]us—that a very high proportion of his men have been wounded or killed. I wonder if we might get those casualty rates as well. [The information requested follows:]

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (1993)

CASUALTY RATES FOR SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES

According to the Salvadoran Armed Forces High Command, in the first six months of 1981 the armed forces sustained more than 1,300 casualties, including over 350 killed in action.

NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. BARNES. Pursuing one other aspect of the question that Mr. Erica was asking just one step further, in your opening statement you said, if I understood correctly, that the left has made no proposals for negotiations, that a lot of people are calling for negotiations but they have made no proposals, they have not put anything out that they say they are prepared to negotiate about. The implication was that it is time for them to do that. If in fact they did that, is the United States prepared to seriously consider proposals for negotiations?

Mr. ENDERS. Well, you have a very clear position by the United States, as well as by the Government, of discussions and contacts about matters related to the electoral process. We are, indeed, prepared to support it in that framework.

Mr. BARNES. Let me read you a statement from one of the witnesses who is going to follow you this afternoon, Mr. Leiken. He proposes a concrete step that he believes our Government should consider taking in order to promote a genuine political solution in El Salvador. On page 40 of his testimony he says:

> The first such concrete step is that the United States Congress declare its support for a negotiated settlement in El Salvador which would bring together all of the parties in the conflict. Parliaments in other countries have addressed this question. Now it is time that ours do the same.

What would be the administration's reaction to a congressional initiative urging a negotiated settlement to the crisis in El Salvador?

Mr. ENDERS. I think that the appropriate thing would be for the administration, the Congress, others concerned, to urge a political settlement and that the exact form and way in which that would be arrived at is not up for us to attempt to describe in great detail.

Why would not the thing at this point be for some proposals to be made by the opposition to the Government and to have them then presented—through intermediaries—to the Government itself down in El Salvador? Is not that the correct way to proceed?

Mr. BARNES. You lost me in that last sentence. What was the right way for them to proceed?

Mr. ENDERS. Here you have a statement by President Duarte calling for the political arm of the insurrection to come in and renounce violence, come and join. Maybe there should be talks about that or any other conditions that the Frente would propose. Why does not the Frente respond to that in some form? If they do not agree with it, why do they not tell them what their views are, what they are prepared to do?

Mr. BARNES. I understand the point you are making. I can understand, as expressed by the gentleman from Massachusetts, why some people who are engaged in the war down there have some qualms about renouncing anything in return for nothing that has been arranged in advance. But let me call upon the gentleman from California.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

I heard a report on the radio I guess the night before last, or a report of a report, and then the report was attacked. That is kind of a common procedure around here, I guess. The report was that the Reagan administration had come out in support of the idea of a negotiated settlement, and the implication, anyway, from the way it was being discussed was that that would mean that the guerrillas would be somehow taken into the Government at this point. At least that was the criticism of what it was reported the Reagan administration had said it wanted. You are telling us that we would support negotiations toward working for the election that has been proposed? Is that really what we are talking about here?

Mr. ENDERS. Yes; let me make absolutely clear, if I can, about this. The United States, for its part, does not believe the Salvadoran Government, for its part, would support or propose a negotiation about sharing power in the junta or in some transitional government. This kind of negotiation which has sometimes been suggested by the opposition to the junta we think is neither justified on its merits or realistic. But look at the political process which is opening up in front of you. You are going to have a constituent assembly that will design institutions. You will have discussions in an election commission beforehand about how to hold elections for that constituent assembly. Then you will have a presidential election after that. So you have all kinds of issues of the political process which are now open for discussion and debate and conceivably among the parties and with the governments for something that would look very much like negotiations. Why is that not happening?

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. You know one thing, too, I must say the way some people around this place talk, it is as if nothing at all has happened in the last 50 years, that the situation was completely the same, that the oligarchy runs the country, that the military are their tools, and that nothing at all has changed. Is it not true there was a revolution that threw out a military dictatorship, and was not that revolution led by many of the military who were still in power at this point in time?

Mr. ENDERS. Yes, it is true. That supposedly oligarchical government was the one that expropriated the large land properties as well as determined that sharecroppers and small tenant farmers should receive in full property the land that they till. That is hardly the description of a reactionary government.

ARMS SUPPLY TO GUERRILLAS

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. What is the current level of arms smuggling to the guerrillas?

Mr. ENDERS. During the summer it has not been at the high levels of last winter, but to the best of our knowledge it has continued at substantial levels in the course of the spring and summer, levels which would be consistent with relatively substantial sustained operations by insurgents over the long period

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights Special Project (CIA)

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Can you tell us what the type or nature of the weapons being supplied is now compared to what is being used by the Government of El Salvador?

Mr. ENDERS. They are small arms and munitions and also explosives and machine guns, some recoilless rifles as well. There has been a distinct tendency toward upgrading the mix.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. There have been some reports in the press that the El Salvadorans were saying that Cubans or Nicaraguans were being used in El Salvador as advisers or combatants.

Mr. ENDERS. We heard reports of that kind. We cannot verify them at this time. We cannot exclude that, but cannot confirm it.

THE ECONOMIC SITUATION

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Let me ask you one other question. We have heard all kinds of reports about the economic situation in El Salvador. One of the things that I have heard—and I would like to know if it is accurate—it is kind of hard to believe that it would be—is that the level of employment or at least the level of people continuing to work and do whatever their daily job is is very high. Is that correct?

I say it is hard to believe if what we hear about the war situation is accurate.

Mr. ENDERS. There has been a decline in economic activity from its high point in 1978 of perhaps 10 percent which, of course, is serious because the population continues to grow, per capita incomes are down substantially more.

As a result there has been a higher level of unemployment in that society than there was before. In addition as a result of military action in various parts of the country, there have been refugees within the country, many of whom have gone to the larger cities, and—above all—to San Salvador. There are obvious social ills, but the country continues to operate at a level of economic activity which is relatively high, some 90 percent perhaps of its high point.

The attack on the power system was an obvious effort to put it on much lower levels of economic activity. That succeeded for a short time, but power has now been to a large degree restored.

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Thank you.

Mr. BARNES. The gentleman from Massachusetts.

FOREIGN TRAINERS

Mr. STUDDS. I want to get on some other subjects but I want to try—in vain, I am sure—one more time on the subject being pursued by the gentleman from Maryland. Did I understand you to say in response to Mr. Lagomarsino that the only foreign nationals we are able to verify unequivocally at this point either training or advising in El Salvador are our own?

Mr. ENDERS. I did not say that. The United States has some 25-plus foreign trainers in the country at the moment.

Mr. STUDDS. Other than that, we have not verified any others; is that correct?

Mr. ENDERS. We do know, Mr. Studds, that a relatively large number of the insurgents have been trained in Cuba, and some may be trained in Nicaragua.

NEGOTIATIONS

Mr. STUDDS. Let me try one more run around this, then we will give up. Would the United States have any objection of any kind to totally unconditional face-to-face discussions between the Duarte government and the Frente designed to find a solution to the violence?

Mr. ENDERS. Look, Mr. Studds——

Mr. STUDDS. It is a fairly simple question.

Mr. ENDERS. One can imagine hundreds of negotiating scenarios.

Mr. STUDDS. I did not ask you for any of them.

Mr. ENDERS. The point is that a series of proposals have been made which remain without any response. There is no point in trying to negotiate with yourself in order to see whether you can imagine something which might appeal to oneself. You talk about reality. The reality down there is that the violent left does not wish to pick up the opportunities for discussions and talks open to it. There is no point in making hundreds of hypothetical questions.

Mr. STUDDS. I did not ask any, much less hundreds. I asked a simple, straightforward question. The record will reflect that you are unwilling to answer it. But the question is, would the United States have any objection to totally unconditional face-to-face discussions between the Government and the Frente? If so, on what conceivable basis?

Mr. ENDERS. If the proposal were made by the authorities of El Salvador, that would be on their responsibility. We are not going to make additional proposals for this——

Mr. STUDDS. I did not ask for any proposals. I said would you object to their talking unconditionally.

Mr. ENDERS. They have plenty of opportunity to talk now. Indeed, if I am not mistaken——

Mr. STUDDS. Let the record reflect your unwillingness to answer the question, if you are not going to. It did not seem to me to be a trap, particularly. I cannot imagine the United States unwillingness to answer such a question. I am compelled to attempt to imagine it by your unwillingness to answer it.

MURDERED CHURCHWOMEN

Let me try some questions with respect to the four murdered churchwomen. On two recent occasions Ambassador Hinton has been quoted as follows, first of all in the Washington Post on the 20th of August, as saying, "If the six national guardsmen are released because the jury or judge find them innocent for some reason, I will regret that, but clearly it has to be accepted." By the UPI on the 28th of last month as saying, "I have concluded that it is not impossible that these fellows will be found guilty in a civilian court for murder, but it is not probable in my judgment."

My question is, do not such statements send a signal to the security forces in El Salvador that the United States is willing to accept a failure of the investigation? In fact, that we think it is probable—to use our ambassador's own words—and that we would be willing to attribute that failure not to a coverup or to unprofessional investigative activity on the part of the Government but to the so-called difficulty of obtaining good evidence under the quaintness of Salvadoran justice?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Mr. ENDERS. We do not view the investigations into those murders as being over. We intend to pursue them with every means open to us. We do not expect at this point that the outcomes speculated on by Ambassador Hinton are going to result.

Mr. STUDDS. Let me ask you a couple of specifics, if I can. From the information we have about the case so far, and in a letter that you wrote to the brother of one of the murdered women, you said, "We believe, based on the information available to us at this time, that the Salvadoran authorities are on the right track."

Do you believe the murders were premeditated?

Mr. ENDERS. You have got me on to speculative ground here, Mr. Studds, that I am not sure I have enough information, or anybody would have enough information.

Mr. STUDDS. I will respect your inability to answer any question like that.

Mr. ENDERS. Some evidence has been developed in the cases. It is so far essentially circumstantial evidence. It is very hard to go from circumstantial evidence to clear views as to the motives of the possible killers.

Mr. STUDDS. Do you believe they were perpetrated by members of the security forces of El Salvador?

Mr. ENDERS. Well, six members of the Guardia Nacional have been detained in connection with the murders of the four churchwomen. I do not know, I am not morally certain, I cannot say who did those murders. I can only say that there is circumstantial evidence which would implicate the six, but we do not know yet.

FATHER ROTHER

Mr. STUDDS. I have a series of other questions to which I will get the same response. I will not press those.

Let me do a quick aside on the same tragic topic with respect to another country. Has the Government of Guatemala been conducting a satisfactory investigation into the killing of Father Stanley Rother?

Mr. ENDERS. An investigation has been conducted on it, but that investigation has not, to our knowledge, resulted in an explanation of the killing which would be fully satisfactory either, I believe, to the authorities in Guatemala or to those friends concerned with the killing or to the United States.

Mr. STUDDS. Are we satisfied with the effort of the Government of Guatemala to pursue that investigation?

Mr. ENDERS. I do not think we can ever be satisfied with any effort until it results, beyond any reasonable doubt, in the identification of the killer and justice being done for that. I think the same is true of El Salvador.

Mr. Studds, could I comment on this only to say that it is very easy, as Americans talking about somebody else's country—particularly a country in which a lot of violence has occurred, such as El Salvador—to reach conclusions that would seem plausible on what we know, or think we know, about the general climate and framework in the country. I think that while not giving up in any way, we should at the same time not just jump to conclusions and consider people guilty simply because there may be some evidence against them.

Somebody is guilty. That person has got to be found, but we should not on our part, I think, do what we would not do in our own country and consider people guilty before they are tried.

INQUIRIES TO STATE DEPARTMENT

Mr. STUDDS. Of course not. The odds are we might have charged someone by now. President Duarte in his visit here this week got himself into some difficulty. In all fairness, some of it may have been a language difficulty in trying to respond to questions regarding those murders. He did anything but clear up the questions. Another hopelessly inadequate response has been that of the Department of State with regard to a series of inquiries by this committee.

On March 13, this subcommittee forwarded a request from me for access to all cables concerning the investigation between our embassy in San Salvador and the Department of State. On May 28 I was denied access to those cables, as was the chairman of the subcommittee. It was granted solely to Mr. Zablocki and Mr. Broomfield. In early June, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Gilman requested they be granted access to those cables. I do not believe there has been an answer to that yet. On June 17, Congressman Bonker sent a letter to you with a set of specific questions. He received an "interim reply" on July 30 promising an answer to his questions. He has not heard again since. It is almost October.

One cannot put together this absolutely nonresponsive behavior by the Department of State and the fumbling by the President of El Salvador in response to questions by Congresswoman Oakar this week. It seems increasingly this investigation is not going anywhere, and that your refusal to share even the most elementary information with the Members of the Congress stems more from political calculation than from any concern about protecting people's rights in the pursuit of justice. It seems to me that the very least you might do is respond to the request of the chairman of the House Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs and to Congressman Gilman, who is the ranking minority member, to have access to the cables. I am not even asking on behalf of myself or other members of the subcommittee. It also seems to me Members of Congress ought to have the courtesy of a response in less than half a year to written questions.

To give you a chance to at least partially redeem yourself, I will submit a new series of written questions at this time.

QUESTIONS SUBMITTED IN WRITING BY REPRESENTATIVE GERRY E. STUDDS TO ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE THOMAS O. ENDERS AND RESPONSES THERETO

Are the six Salvadoran National Guardsmen who were arrested in May still in jail? Have they been released at any point, even if only for a day or for a weekend?

The six remain in detention at National Guard Headquarters. They have not to our knowledge been released from detention at any point.

2. Does the US know the names of the individuals who are being detained? If so, what are the names? What ranks do they hold within the Salvadoran National Guard?

The USG can neither confirm the authenticity of the three names which have been made public nor provide any other names and still respect the confidence in which the Government of El Salvador expects the USG to maintain government to government exchanges. President Duarte explained the reason for this when he met with the families of the murdered women in Washington. In essence, the Government of El Salvador maintains that unless and until these men are remanded to a court for trial they have a right to anonymity. The USG abides by that determination.

3. Have these individuals been formally charged or indicted for any crime? Is it anticipated they will be charged in the near future? Who makes the decision whether or not to bring charges? Whether or not to release the detainees?

The six detainees have not been formally charged with the commission of the murder of the four US women. Under Salvadoran law a member of the Armed Forces on active duty is subject only to the jurisdiction of the military justice system which includes only a limited number offenses and specifically does not include murder. Murder is a crime which is strictly the purview of the civilian courts. Therefore, in order to be tried for murder a soldier or security forces member must first be dismissed from the armed forces -- whereupon he becomes subject to indictment for a crime which is outside the purview of the military justice system. At such time as the Salvadoran Government believes that the evidence available is sufficient the six detained guardsmen would be expelled from the National Guard and indicted for the murder of the US women.

4. Has any date or location been set for a trial?

No.

5. Is the FBI still actively involved in the case, either in an advisory or an investigative capacity? If not, when did the Bureau's active participation in the case cease? Please provide the Subcommittee with a copy of any written documents prepared by the FBI -- or prepared by the Department of State from information provided by the FBI -- which has a connection to this case.

The FBI has already furnished the GOES ballistics and fingerprint assistance. We anticipate continued cooperation between the FBI and GOES authorities, including polygraph administration and analysis. We will try to meet every appropriate request for assistance in this case. The details of the most recent GOES request are still being coordinated. The request for documents should be directed to the FBI.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

Is an active police investigation still underway in this case, or has the case more or less been turned over entirely to the Judiciary?

There has been a national police investigation in this case. The National Guard is also investigating. Both organizations are part of the Salvadoran Armed Forces. Some evidence has been developed and suspects have been detained. Progress on the investigation has slowed, however. We believe that this should change upon arrival of US technical advisors.

7. Why has the State Department not issued any chronologies in the case dated more recently than May 9?

Public developments in the case have simply not warranted issuance of periodic chronologies. We will continue to advise the families, Congress and other interested persons of events as appropriate.

8. There have been suggestions made that the investigation cannot go forward -- or that a trial cannot be held -- unless the family members of the churchwomen bring charges in El Salvador. What role is required of "aggrieved parties" under Salvadoran law in order to facilitate a full investigation and/or trial? What factors limit the ability of the families to obtain meaningful, competent, and affordable legal representation in El Salvador?

It is incorrect that the investigation or the trial cannot be held unless the family members of the churchwomen bring charges in El Salvador. No role is required of the "aggrieved parties" either to pursue the investigation or to try the case. However, Salvadoran law allows the aggrieved parties to name legal counsel to work with the designated prosecutor. Limiting the ability to obtain legal counsel is the practical fact that in El Salvador anybody actively involved investigating a crime of violence places his own life in great danger.

For example, both the President of the Supreme Court and the Attorney General have been the objectives of assassination attempts during the last month.

9. Have investigators identified the security forces personnel who were present in the area where the women were killed, at the time they were killed? How many individuals have been so identified? Have all such individuals had their fingerprints matched against those taken from the women's van? Have ballistics tests been made matching the bullets against the weapons of each of these individuals?

Apart from the airport National Guardsmen -- that is, the six who are the focus of the investigation plus three others who apparently were not participants in the crime -- 92 National Guard, National Police, Treasury Police and army and civil defense members have been identified who were posted over a broad area in the general vicinity of the airport on December 2, 1980. Of these 101 men, the fingerprints of 11 have been taken and compared by the FBI against those found on the vehicle which the US women were driving. Nine of those fingerprints sets belonged to airport National Guard personnel and two belonged to guardsmen who were at the site of the interment of the bodies of the American women on December 3. Ballistics comparisons have been made with the weapons which belonged to the six detained airport guardsmen. A bullet fragment identified as having been from the rifle of one of the guardsmen was discovered at the murder site

El Salvador: Human Rights

10. It has been widely reported that a radio transmission was intercepted between two security force units at or near the airport just prior to the arrival of Sisters Clarke and Ford the night of the murders. The transmission included the statement "No, she didn't arrive on that flight. We'll have to wait for the next." Sisters Clarke and Ford had, in fact, missed their intended flight and arrived on the succeeding one.

(a) Does the US believe this radio transmission occurred?
(b) Was this transmission the subject of investigation?
(c) Did this transmission have any role in the decision to arrest the individuals who are now being detained?
(d) Does the US believe there is a strong possibility that the killings were premeditated, and aimed specifically at the particular women who were murdered?

Embassy officers have heard from a Salvadoran Government official that there were communications between unidentified individuals at the airport (presumably security force personnel) on the day of the murders about the arrival and departure of certain people (also unidentified but presumably the US churchwomen). The official reported that he heard from a source whom he did not name that the conversation included the question "Have they arrived" and the answer "Yes, and we missed them." This conversation reportedly occurred at approximately 4:00 pm on December 2 -- that is, at about the time that Jean Donovan and Dorothy Kazel met Sisters Madeline Dempsey and Teresa Alexander at the airport. This alleged conversation was reported to the Department of State on December 16, 1980. The Salvadoran official subsequently mentioned the incident again to officers of our Embassy in San Salvador -- this time specifying that the conversation was over radio. This information was reported to Washington on December 19. With that as background we address the specific questions.

(a) We believe that these communications could have occurred. To date, however, no evidence has appeared to provide that they in fact took place. We have at this point only the second hand testimony of an unidentified person of unknown reliability. Efforts have been made by our Embassy through an intermediary to obtain the agreement of the unidentified original source of the information to come forward with what he knows. Those efforts have not yet been successful.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

(b) The failure of the only source to come forward has thus far prevented any significant investigation of the alleged radio conversations. Until the source is willing to give testimony on the matter it will be difficult, if not impossible, to establish that such conversations occurred.

(c) Nothing that we have seen would indicate that the alleged radio messages had anything to do with the arrest of the six National Guardsmen.

(d) If it can be established that radio communications concerning the US women actually occurred this would suggest planning but it would still fall to investigators to determine the degree of planning and the level of premeditation of the crime.

11. Have investigators discussed with the priest Efrain Lopez, a co-worker of the murdered women, his contention that he had been shown a death list on the night of the murder which included the nuns and then told that the murders would begin that night? If true, would not this contention also lend credence to the notion that this was a premeditated, politically motivated, crime?

The USG knows of two threats against religious workers in Chalatenango in the area where Ita Ford and Maura Clarke worked. The USG is also aware of an allegation of a third such threat.

During early November 1980 a note was tacked onto the door of the convent in Chalatenango occupied by Maryknoll Sisters which stated that all who entered would be killed. The threat was signed by an organization calling itself the Mauricio Borgonovo anti-communist brigade. On December 2, 1980, the priest with whom the women worked received a confused but obviously threatening letter from someone who signed the name Roberto Fogelbach Perez.

Following is a text of that letter:

Estimados Sacerdotes:

Ustedes y la mayoria del pueblo Salvadoreno sabemos que inocentemente se han inmiscuido con la subversion, pues, inicialmente han estado pensando en el bienestar de las mayorias, cosa que es loable, pero los metodos que estan empleando son inadecuados aparte de ilegales y contrarios a las ensenanzas Cristianas. La teologia de la liberacion tenia muy buenos intenciones aunque era explotada por los curas materialistas, recuerde pueblo, vean que vuestro Santo Papa, viene de un pais comunista y conoce los estragos.

En Chalatenango es bastante la zana que han metido y son muchos los muertos provocados por ustedes, no se porque no actuan los jefes encargados, eliminando a los verdaderos jefes, sera que estan en conviviencia con ustedes, pues el comunismo es sutil y embriagador.

Creo que para bien del pais tendremos que distraer nuestros efectivos especializados para proteger la patria en ese department, por favor retirense de sus actividades nefastas y dediquense en otro lugar a su verdadero apostolado o emigren hacia Cuba, pues en ese lugar ya no podran estar.

Both of the above-mentioned threats were collective threats which did not mention anyone in particular who would be victimized.

RELEASED

threat. It is alleged by the parish priest in Chalatenango that he knows someone who on December 2, 1980, was shown a list of people who were to be killed. Included on that list, according to the priest was the name of Ita Ford. The priest claims that the person who saw the list was told that killing would begin that very evening. Our Embassy in San Salvador is continuing efforts to locate the person who saw the list in order to determine the accuracy of this allegation. It is clear that the work that the priest and the American Sisters were doing in Chalatenango was the object of suspicion and hostility among extreme rightist elements in the area. What is not clear is whether there is a connection between those who made the threats and those who killed the US women. The connection may eventually be made but, as a matter of fact, it has not yet been made.

Mr. STUDDS. I do think you owe an explanation to this subcommittee and to the chairman as to your unwillingness to share with them cable traffic which in the normal course of events Members of Congress with any reasonable interest—which surely one would grant to the chairman of the Subcommittee on Inter-American Affairs—would share.

Mr. ENDERS. Apparently in some of these cases sensitive information is involved. I think that an offer has been made—certainly I will repeat it here—to make this information available to the leadership of the full committee.

Mr. STUDDS. It is not the leadership of the full committee that is pressing you to see it, Mr. Enders.

Mr. ENDERS. I think there is a longstanding tradition between the Congress and the Executive on this issue of how particularly sensitive items should be handled. I think you put me at a disadvantage because we get involved in discussions between leadership of the subcommittees and leadership of the full committee, which is obviously for you to decide.

Let me repeat that offer, and obviously if so directed or suggested by the leadership of the full committee that other disposition would be made to it, we would consider that.

Mr. STUDDS. Do you think you can do a little better in answering congressional correspondence?

Mr. ENDERS. I suspect that this one as if we have outstanding correspondence, you will have answers to it.

Mr. STUDDS. Let me say if the chairman of the committee, Mr. Zablocki, should give permission to either Mr. Barnes, the chairman of the subcommittee, Mr. Gilman, or myself, in that event is it all right with the Department of State?

Mr. ENDERS. This is obviously a matter we would be glad to discuss and decide with Mr. Zablocki.

Mr. STUDDS. It is subject to negotiation, I see. I am going to find a question you are willing to answer one of these days.

Mr. BARNES. The time of the gentleman has long since expired.

Mr. STUDDS. As has the gentleman.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. Gejdenson?

LATIN AMERICAN POSITION ON U.S. MILITARY AID

Mr. GEJDENSON. Just one quick question. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Earlier in your testimony you talked about countries in Latin America making a statement against the declaration by France and Mexico. Some of those countries I know earlier in the year were opposed to American military aid to El Salvador. Have those countries changed their positions?

Mr. ENDERS. They did not take a stand on military assistance in the course of the statement, but the statement was unequivocal in expressing its support for El Salvador, and obviously it represents a new level of solidarity on the part of other Latin American republics for El Salvador.

Mr. GEJDENSON. Have there been any changes in their position on American military aid?

Mr. ENDERS. I am not aware that any of those countries are currently suggesting that the United States should not be assisting El Salvador.

Mr. GEJDENSON. Thank you.

Mr. BARNES. Mr. Secretary, thank you very much.

Mr. ENDERS. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BARNES. We will now hear from a panel of four witnesses: Mr. Robert S. Leiken, Center for Strategic and International Studies at Georgetown University; Mr. Richard Millett, professor of history, University of Southern Illinois; Mr. Robert A. Pastor, guest scholar at the Brookings Institution and a former official with the National Security Council; and Mr. Max Singer, deputy director for the Hudson Institute.

Welcome to the subcommittee. We appreciate your willingness to appear this afternoon and present your testimony.

In order to expedite the proceedings, your prepared statements will be entered in the record in full, and I would urge that you summarize to the extent possible so that we can get on to some questions. If I may, let me ask Mr. Pastor to lead off. We will hear all of the testimony from each of the witnesses before proceeding to questions.

Welcome, Mr. Pastor.

2. LORD COLVILLE, UK REPRESENTATIVE TO THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION AND CHAIRMAN OF ITS WORKING GROUP ON DISAPPEARANCES, BRIEFED WESTERN MISSION OFFICERS ON SEPTEMBER 18 ON THE WORKING GROUP'S SEPTEMBER 14-18 MEETING. AS WITH EARLIER WG MEETINGS, THIS SESSION WAS PRIVATE, I.E., ATTENDANCE WAS LIMITED TO PERSONS INVITED BY THE WORKING GROUP OR WHO HAD MADE PREVIOUS ARRANGEMENTS TO APPEAR BEFORE IT. COLVILLE ASKED, THEREFORE, THAT HIS REMARKS BE TREATED WITH DISCRETION.

4. ARGENTINA: TURNING TO ARGENTINA, COLVILLE SAID HE IS BEGINNING TO SEE SIGNS OF A MORE COOPERATIVE ATTITUDE ON THE PART OF THE GOA. CAUTIONING THAT THE GOA-WORKING GROUP RELATIONSHIP IS NASCENT AND "VERY FRAGILE", COLVILLE URGED THAT HIS REMARKS ON THIS SUBJECT BE HELD IN CONFIDENCE. ARGENTINE AMBASSADOR MARTINEZ AND AN OFFICIAL OF THE ARGENTINE INTERIOR MINISTRY APPEARED BEFORE THE WG. THEY SAID THE GOA IS INVESTIGATING THE CASES, SUBMITTED EARLIER BY THE WG, OF 48 CHILDREN REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN BORN IN CAPTIVITY. THEY ALSO SAID THE GOA WOULD BE PREPARED TO DISCUSS WITH FAMILY MEMBERS THE POSSIBLE IDENTIFICATION OF SOME TWO THOUSAND HITHERTO UNIDENTIFIED BODIES BURIED IN ARGENTINA. [illegible] SAID THE AUTHORITIES HAVE FRAGMENTARY INFORMATION ON [illegible]ME OF THEM AND WOULD BE WILLING TO COMPARE NOTES [illegible]TH RELATIVES. COLVILLE ALSO SAID THE GOA HAS [illegible]OVIDED INFORMATION CONCERNING REPORTED DISAPPEARANCES [illegible]CURRING IN 1980 AND 1981, BUT NOT EARLIER.

MEXICO:

6. CASES OF CIFUENTES AND SUAREZ: COLVILLE SAID THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT HAD RESPONDED QUICKLY TO THE WORKING GROUP'S INQUIRY ABOUT MESSRS. CIFUENTES AND SUAREZ. THE TWO CHILEANS RETURNED TO CHILE BY ARGENTINE BORDER AUTHORITIES FOR PRESENTING FALSE TRAVEL DOCUMENTS. COLVILLE SAID THE GOC HAS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THEY ARE IN OFFICIAL CUSTODY AND THAT THEY WILL BE SUBJECT TO THE NORMAL JUDICIAL PROCEDURES APPLICABLE TO THE CASE.

2. We were intrigued by reftel. We make the following observations:

-- The mention of "a truck used by the assassins of the churchwomen" is intriguing. We know that the guardsmen who committed the murders had a vehicle (very likely a pickup truck) which they were forced to abandon after mistakenly putting diesel fuel into it instead of gasoline. They were forced to use the victims' vehicle because of that mistake. We do not know at what point the killers' vehicle stalled; we believe that the likeliest scenario is that fuel was hastily put into the vehicle at the airport and that the ill effects on the engine were felt at about the time the four women were taken. There is no question, however, that the vehicle in which the women were taken to the site where they were killed was their own Toyota "Hiace" van. Our question is this: Which "truck" does Moran refer to, the murdered women's van or the murderers' stalled vehicle? If the latter then we are on to something here.

— But we have trouble placing a seventh participant in the murders. We believe that we have the crime reconstructed rather well. We know the names of six National Guardsmen who participated in the murders and we know in good to fair detail how the crime was committed. Also, fingerprint evidence suggests that it was the Sub-Sergeant who directed the operation who drove the murdered women's vehicle. A seventh participant of whom we have never heard, Mr. Moran's correspondent, is a piece which does not fit neatly into the puzzle that we have constructed. That is not to say, obviously, that such a person could not have existed. We simply doubt it.

— We wonder who Mr. Moran is. Christian Democrats here say that they know of no exiled PDC people by that name and are certain that there are no Morans who were founding members of the party. To us, a founding member of the PDC who lives in Mexico and could have spoken with Congresswoman Pat Schroeder sounds like Roberto Lara Velado.

3. Our suggestion is that this lead be actively pursued. It would certainly be a fine thing if there is someone in the U.S. who has first-hand information on the murders and could give testimony. But, while believing that every effort should be made to determine what truth there is to the Moran ~~kkk~~ tale, our assumption is that the chances of it being truthful are not high.

2. WE WERE INTRIGUED BY REFTEL. WE MAKE THE FOLLOWING OBSERVATIONS:
--THE MENTION OF "A TRUCK USED BY THE ASSASSINS OF THE CHURCHWOMEN" IS OF INTEREST. WE KNOW THAT THE GUARDSMEN WHO COMMITTED THE MURDERS HAD A VEHICLE (VERY LIKELY A PICKUP TRUCK) WHICH THEY WERE FORCED TO ABANDON AFTER MISTAKENLY PUTTING DIESEL FUEL INTO IT INSTEAD OF GASOLINE. THEY WERE FORCED TO USE THE VICTIMS' VEHICLE BECAUSE OF THAT MISTAKE. WE DO NOT KNOW AT WHAT POINT THE KILLERS' VEHICLE STALLED; WE BELIEVE THAT THE LIKELIEST SCENARIO IS THAT FUEL WAS HASTILY PUT INTO THE VEHICLE AT THE AIRPORT AND THAT THE ILL EFFECTS ON THE ENGINE WERE FELT AT ABOUT THE TIME THE FOUR WOMEN WERE TAKEN. THERE IS NO QUESTION, HOWEVER, THAT THE VEHICLE IN WHICH THE WOMEN WERE TAKEN TO THE SITE WHERE THEY WERE KILLED WAS THEIR OWN [redacted]

TOYOTA "HIACE" VAN. OUR QUESTION IS THIS: WHICH "TRUCK" DOES MORAN REFER TO, THE MURDERED WOMEN'S VAN OR THE MURDERERS' STALLED VEHICLE? IF THE LATTER THEN WE ARE ON TO SOMETHING HERE.
--BUT WE HAVE TROUBLE PLACING A SEVENTH PARTICIPANT IN THE MURDERS. WE BELIEVE THAT WE HAVE THE CRIME RE-CONSTRUCTED RATHER WELL. WE KNOW THE NAMES OF SIX NATIONAL GUARDSMEN WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE MURDERS AND WE KNOW IN GOOD TO FAIR DETAIL HOW THE CRIME WAS COMMITTED. ALSO, FINGERPRINT EVIDENCE SUGGESTS THAT IT WAS THE SUB-SERGEANT WHO DIRECTED THE OPERATION WHO DROVE THE MURDERED WOMEN'S VEHICLE. A SEVENTH PARTICIPANT OF WHOM WE HAVE NEVER HEARD, MR. MORAN'S CORRESPONDENT, IS A PIECE WHICH DOES NOT FIT NEATLY INTO THE PUZZLE THAT WE HAVE CONSTRUCTED. THAT IS NOT TO SAY, OBVIOUSLY, THAT SUCH A PERSON COULD NOT HAVE EXISTED. WE SIMPLY DOUBT IT.

-- WE WONDER WHO MR. MORAN IS. CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS HERE SAY THAT THEY KNOW OF NO EXILED PDC PEOPLE BY THAT NAME AND ARE CERTAIN THAT THERE ARE NO MORANS WHO WERE FOUNDING MEMBERS OF THE PARTY. TO US, A FOUNDING MEMBER OF THE PDC WHO LIVES IN MEXICO AND COULD HAVE SPOKEN WITH CONGRESSWOMEN PAT SCHROEDER SOUNDS LIKE PROBERTO LARA VELADO.

3. OUR SUGGESTION IS THAT THIS LEAD BE ACTIVELY PURSUED. IT WOULD CERTAINLY BE A FINE THING IF THERE IS SOMEONE IN THE U.S. WHO HAS FIRST-HAND INFOMRATION ON THE MURDERS AND COULD GIVE TESTIMONY. BUT, WHILE BELIEVING THAT EVERY EFFORT SHOULD BE MADE TO DETERMINE WHAT TRUTH THERE IS TO THE MORAN TALE, OUR ASSUMPTION IS THAT THE CHANCES OF IT BEING TRUTHFUL ARE NOT HIGH.

2. BOMBINGS IN SANTIAGO AND ELSEWHERE: THE EXPLOSION OF PART OF AN EXXON PIPELINE LINKING CONCON AND SANTIAGO CAUSED ONE DEATH AND SOME PROPERTY DAMAGE OCTOBER 6. THE EXPLOSION OF LIQUID PROPANE, WHICH OCCURRED AT 1:15 AM LOCAL TIME, FORCED POLICE TO CLOSE ONE SECTION OF THE MAIN HIGHWAY BETWEEN SANTIAGO AND THE PORT OF VALPARAISO. A TRUCK DRIVER WAS SERIOUSLY BURNED BY THE EXPLOSION AND DIED OCTOBER 7

IN A SANTIAGO HOSPITAL.AFTER INITIAL RPORTS SUGGESTED THE BLAST WAS CAUSED BY A GAS LEAK, SUBSEQUENT NEWS REPORTS BLAMED UNKNOWN THIRD PARTIES WHO "MAY HAVE PLACED EXPLOSIVE CHARGES AT THE JUNCTION OF THE PIPES OR FIRED A PROJECTILE AT THE PIPELINE FROM A DISTANCE." EXXON COMPANY SOURCES ALSO BELIEVE THE PIPELINE WAS BOMBED, BUT THERE HAS BEEN NO OFFICIAL EXPLANATION ISSUED AS YET. (COMMENT: DECREE LAW 1.577, PROMULGATED OCT 2, PROHIBITS COMMUNICATIONS MEDIA FROM PUBLISHING INFORMATION RELVEALING THE IDENTITY OF PARTICIPANTS IN TERRORIST OR SUBVERSIVE ACTS, PROCLAMATIONS OR COMMUNIQUES BY SUBVERSIVE GROUPS, OR THE IDENTITY OF WITNESSES OR PERSONS PROVIDING INFORMATION TO AUTHORITIES ABOUT TERRORIST ACTS. BILLED BY THE GOC AS A MEASURE DESIGNED TO DEPRIVE EXTREMIST GROUPS OF THE PUBLICITY THEY SEEK AND TO PROTECT WITNESSES AND INFORMANTS, THIS NEW LAW WILL MAKE IT MORE DIFFICULT TO QUICLY DISTINGUISH VIOLENT ACTS WITH POLITICAL OVERTONES FROM REGULAR STREET CRIMES OR ACCIDENTS. HOW STRICTLY LOCAL NEWS MEDIA WILL COMPLY WITH THE LAW, AND HOW MUCH LATITUDE WILL BE TOLERATED BY THE GOC, REMAINS TO BE SEEN. END COMMENT).

B) MINOR EXPLOSIONS OCCURRED IN TWO DIFFERENCE AREAS OF SANTIAGO IN THE EARLY MORNING OF OCTOBER 7. THE FIRST BOMB WENT OFF APPROXIMATELY 3:45 AM LOCAL TIME, CAUSING MINOR DAMAGE TO A MOVIE THEATRE IN THE FASHIONABLE LOS CONDES SUBURB. APPROXIMATELY ONE HOUR LATER, ANTOEHR BOMB EXPLODED IN A SUPERMARKET NEAR THE ESTACION CENTRAL SUBWAY STATION DOWNTOWN. FIRES CAUSED BY BOTH BOMBS WERE QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED BY EMPLOYEES AND SECURITY GUARDS. C) ALLEGED EXTREMISTS KIDNAPPTED A TAXI DRIVER AND ASSAULTED GASOLINE STORAGE TANKS WITH HOMEMADE ROCKETS IN THE LAS SALINAS SECTION OF VINA DEL MAR SEPTEMBER29. THE PROJECTILES DID NOT REACH THEIR TARGET: 10,000 LITER GASOLINE STORAGE TANK BELONGING TO SHELL CHILE.

NO DAMAGE WAS CAUSED, AND THE ATTACKERS ESCAPED.

3. RESCHEDULED COUNCIL OF WAR: COUNCIL OF WAR PROCEEDINGS ARE SCHEDULED TO BEGIN OCTOBER 9 TO TRY ACCUSED MIRISTA GUILLERMO RODRIGUEZ MORALES FOR THE MURDER OF A CNI EMPLOYEE, VIOLATSIONS OF THE ARMS CONTROL LAWS, AND VIOLATIONS OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAW (SANTIAGO 5528 AND PREVIOUS). A GROUP OF HUMAN RIGHTS LAWYERS PUBLISHED A PUBLIC STATEMENT OCTOBER 7, ASKING THAT THE PROCEEDING BE SUSPENDED ON THE GROUNDS THAT CHILE IS NOT AT WAR, AND THEREFORE THE EXTRAORDINARY PROCEEDINGS ARE NOT MORALLY JUSTIFIED, THAT NON-LAWYERS WILL TRY AND SENTENCE THE ACCUSED, AND THAT THE DEFENSE LAWYERS HAVE NOT HAD SSUF-FICIENT TIME TO PREPARE AN ADEQUATE DEFENSE. RODRIGUE' DEFENSE ATTORNEY FILED A WRIT OF AMPARO ON OCT 7, REQUESTING THE TRANSFER ON SIMILAR GROUNDS. (COMMENT: AS PREVIOUSLY REPORTED (SANTIAGO 5528), THE PROCEEDINGS WERE POSTPONED SEPT 23, AFTER TWO CO-DEFENDANTS WERE REMOVED FROM THE JURISDICTION OF THE MILITARY PANEL. THE NEW HABEAS CORPUS PETITION MAY FORCE POSTPONEMENT OF THE PROCEEDINGS AGAIN. END COMMENT) IN RELATED NEWS, ONE OF THE ORIGINAL CO-DEFENDANTS, ADALBERTO MUNOZ JARA, WAS FORMALLY CHARGED BEFORE A REGULAR MILITARY COURT OF VIOLATIONS OF THE ARMS CONTROL LAW. THE OTHR CO-DEFENDANT, ENRIQUE PIZARRO PINA, FILED A WRIT OF PROTECITION SEPTEMBER 23 IN THE COURT OF APPEALS, AFTER RECEIVING NUMEROUS THREATENING TELEPHONE CALLS AND BEING FOLLOWED BY UNKNOWN PERSONS. NO FURTHER ACTION HAS BEEN TAKEN IN EITHER CASE.

4. FOLKLORE GROUP DENIED ENTRY: POPULAR SINGING GROUP "ILLAPU" WAS DENIED ENTRY INTO CHILE UPON ARRIVAL AT THE SANTIAGO AIRPORT ON OCTOBER 7 THE GROUP, WHICH WAS TO HAVE PERFORMED THE SAME EVENING ON A LOCAL TELEVISION PROGRAM, WAS ACCUSED IN AN OFFICIAL GOC DECLARATION OF "CLEAR MARXIST ORIENTATION" IN THEIR MUSIC AND PARTICIPATION IN THE "INTERNATIONAL CAMPAIGN TO DISCREDIT CHILE" DURING THEIR 18 MONTH ABSENCE ABROAD. THE SIX MEMBER GROUP RETURNED TO LONDON ON THE SAME FLIGHT.

5. AFTERMATH OF NELTUME OPERATION: INFORMATION AND INCIDENTS RELATED TO THE ANTI-GUERRILLA OPERATION BY SECURITY FORCES IN THE NELTUME REGION NEAR VALDIVIA CONTINUED TO SURFACE IN THE WEEK AFTER THE OFFICIAL GOC ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE OPERATION (SANTIAGO 5565). GOC OFFICIALS CLAIMED THAT IDENTITY DOCUMENTS HAD BEEN FOUND FOR SEVEN OTHER ALLEGED EXTREMISTS. A COMMUNIQUE FROM THE SELF-STYLED "AGENCIA INFORMATIVE DE LA RESISTENCIA" ACKNOWLEDGED THE DEATHS OF THE ORIGINAL SEVEN "COMRADES" IN ARMED CONFRONTATIONS WITH SECURITY FORCES, BUT CLAIMED THAT THE FOURTH ARMY DIVISION SUFFERED NUMEROUS CASUALTIES, CINCLUDING DEATHS, DURING THE ARMED EXCHANGES. GOC SOURCES QUICKLY DENIED THIS VERSION OF

EVENTS. IN RELATED ACTIVITY, POLICE IN TEMUCO ARRESTED TWO MEN AND A WOMAN OCTOBER 3, CHARGING THEM WITH COLLABORATION WITH THE NELTUME GUERRILLA BAND. EDINSON CHIHUAILAF ARRIAGADA, JOSE CUEVAS REYES, AND IRNALDO JIMENEZ VERGARA WERE DETAINED AND JAILED AFTER THEIR NAMES WERE REPORTEDLY FOUND ON LISTS OF COLLABORATORS TAKEN FROM GUERRILLA ENCAMPMENTS DURING THE SEARCH FOR ALLEGED EXTREMISTS. NO FURTHER ACTION ON THEIR CASES HAVE BEEN REPORTED.

6. MIR "SAFE HOUSE" FOUND. POLICE IN SANTIAGO DISCOVERED AND SEARCHED A PRIVATE RESIDENCE ALLEGEDLY USED AS A "SAFE HOUSE" BY MIR MEMBERS OCTOBER 1. POLICE SOURCES CLAIM TO HAVE FOUND WEAPONS, MATERIALS FOR MAKING BOMBS, MOUNTAINEERING EQUIPMENT, AND LEFTIST PROPAGANDA INSIDE THE HOUSE. NO ARRESTS HAVE BEEN MADE.

7. UPDATE ON COURT CASES: (A) FORMER MAPU SECRETARY GENERAL CARLOS MONTES CISTERNAS TRAVELLED TO MEXICO SEPTEMBER 27 TO BEGIN SERVING THE 541 DAY SENTENCE OF EXPULSION UPHELD BY THE COURT OF APPEALS SEPTEMBER 15 (SANTIAGO 5565 AND 5167). (B) A SANTIAGO CRIMINAL COURT JUDGE SUSPENDED THE JUDICIAL INVESTIGATION INTO THE JULY, 1980 DEATH OF ALLEGED MIRISTA HUGO RIVEROS GOMEZ. THE COURT FAILED TO FIND EVIDENCE INDICATING THE IDENTITY OF THE PERPETRATORS, AND CLOSED THE INVESTIGATION UNTIL NEW EVIDENCE COMES TO LIGHT. THE DECISION WAS IMMEDIATELY APPEALED BY COUNSEL FOR THE VICTIM'S WIDOW. RIVEROS'S BODY WAS FOUND IN THE CAJON DEL MAIPO NEAR SANTIAGO ON JULY 8, 1980, WHILE HE WAS FREE ON BAIL FROM CHARGES OF ILLICIT ASSOCIATION WITH A MIR CELL.

8. COMMENT: DESPITE THE BOMBINGS REPORTED ABOVE AND THE RIPPLES FROM NELTUME, THERE HAS NOT BEEN A MAJOR TERRORIST INCIDENT IN SEVERAL WEEKS. MORE IMPORTANTLY, HOWEVER,

SUBJECT: COUNSEL OF WAR FINDS RODRIGUEZ GUILTY, SENTENCES HIM TO LIFE TERM

REFS: SANTIAGO 5528 AND PREVISOUS

1. THE RESCHEDULED COUNCIL OF WAR CONVENED THE MORNING OF OCTOBER 9, TO TRY ACCUSED MIRISTA LEADER GUILLERMO RODRIGUEZ MORALES FOR THE MURDER OF CNI EMPLOYEE CARLOS TAPIA; SOME FIFTEEN HOURS LATER, THE COUNCIL ANNOUNCED THAT RODRIGUEZ HAD BEEN FOUND GUILTY AND SENTENCED HIM TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT, AS RECOMMENDED BY THE PROSECUTOR (FISCAL MILITAR). THE CASE NOW GOES TO BGEN OSVALDO HERNANDEZ FOR REVIEW AND APPROVAL OR MODIFICATION WITH THE DECISION EXPECTED IN A FEW DAYS.

2. THE PROCEEDINGS WERE ATTENDED BY ABOUT 35 PEOPLE, INCLUDING MEMBERS OF RODRIGUEZ' FAMILY, LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS LEADERS, REPORTERS, HANS RAU OF AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL, AND A THIRD SECRETARY OF THE CANADIAN EMBASSY; REPORTERS COULD NOT USE CAMERAS OR TAPE RECORDERS BUT WERE ALLOWED TO TAKE FULL NOTES. PAPERS GAVE PROMINENT COVERAGE TO THE EVENT, INCLUDING QUESTIONING OF RODRIGUEZ BY MEMBERS OF THE COUNCIL IN WHICH HE ACKNOWLEDGED THAT HE HAD GIVEN THE ORDER TO KILL TAPIA TO SUBORDINATES OF HIS MIR CELL WHOM HE HAD EVERY REASON TO BELIEVE WOULD CARRY OUT THE ORDER. THE DEFENSE ATTORNEY ARGUED THAT, FIRST, RODRIGUEZ SHOULD NOT BE TRIED BEFORE THE COUNCIL OF WAR BECAUSE TAPIA WAS NOT A MEMBER OF THE ARMED FORCES OR FORCES OF

ORDER AS DEFINED IN THE CONSTITUTION, AND SECOND THAT HE WAS NOT THE DIRECT AUTHOR OF THE MURDER BUT HAD SIMPLY SERVED AS A CHANNEL OF COMMUNICATION FROM HIGHER LEVEL LEADERS TO THE ACTUAL HIT MEN.

3. MIR PAMPHLETS URGING DEMONSTRATIONS TO SUPPORT "OUR FIGHTERS" HAVE BEEEN DISTRIBUTED IN SOME PARTS OF SANTIAGO BUT THERE HAS BEEN NO SIGN OF ANY PUBLIC ACTIVITIES OR REACTIONS SO FAR. THE TIMING OF THE CASE, JUST BEFORE A LONG HOLIDAY WEEKEND, REDUCES THE LIKELIHOOD OF ANY PROTESTS, ASSUMING THERE ARE VERY MANY CHILEANS WHO WOULD FEEL MOVED TO DEFEND A CONFESSED TERRORIST. THE STRONGEST REACTIONS CAN BE EXPECTED ABROAD FROM GROUPS WHO REJECT THE VALIDITY OF MILITARY TRIBUNALS IN TIME OF PEACE, BUT THERE WILL RELATIVELY FEW ECHOES WITHIN CHILE ITSELF.

4. ONCE THE SENTENCE IS CONFIRMED, THE NEXT LIKELY MOVES WILL BE EFFORTS TO HAVE THE JAIL TERM COMMUTED TO EXILE, THOUGH THE GOVERNMENT MAY WANT TO KEEP HIM IN JAIL FOR A WHILE AS AN EXAMPLE TO OTHERS.

Slain nuns suspected of running messages?

From Herald Wire Services

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador — A captured national guardsman claimed in a broadcast over a guerrilla-run radio that four American women missionaries were killed by guardsmen because two of them were suspected of running messages between leftists in Nicaragua and El Salvador.

The women — three nuns and a lay religious worker — were slain Dec. 2, 1980, allegedly by six guardsmen now under arrest. The women had been en route from the international airport to San Salvador.

Ita Ford, Maura Clarke, Dorothy Kazel, and lay worker Jean Donovan were killed because the first two had just arrived from Nicaragua, the captured guardsman said in an interview broadcast by the rebels' Radio Venceremos.

The guardsman, identified as Isidoro Guevara, 25, said on the radio he took part in a guard meeting this summer in which a major informed the troops that the six suspects knew the women had arrived from Nicaragua and could have been carrying messages between leftists in Nicaragua and El Salvador.

News Briefs

discussed unspecified international problems, said the Granma report distributed by the Cuban news agency Prensa Latina and monitored in Mexico City.

Berlinguer, accompanied by Italian Communist officials Antonio Rubbi, Renato Sandri and Georgio Oldrini, arrived in Cuba last Saturday on a Latin American tour that includes stops in Mexico and Nicaragua.

RESTED THE FIVE. MORAN WENT TO COLONEL MORAN, WHO IS HIS BASTARD COUSIN. THE COLONEL ADMITTED THAT THE 5 WERE HELD BUT TOLD JUAN JOSE NOT TO WORRY--THEY WOULD BE RELEASED IN THE MORNING. WHEN HE WENT TO PICK THEM UP IN THE MORNING, HE FOUND THEIR BODIES. HE SHARED THESE STORIES WITH DUARTE AS HE TELLS IT AND DUARTE TOLD HIM "THE MILITARY TAKES CARE OF THE WAR AND WE TAKE CARE OF THE POLITICS. KEEP YOUR NOSE OUT OF IT." HE FLED THE COUNTRY SHORTLY THEREAFTER.

MORAN IS ALSO THE PERSON, TOGETHER WITH ALEJANDRO DUARTE, NAPOLEON'S BROTHER, WHO BRIBED AN OFFICIAL AT THE WATERWORKS (ANDA) IN FEBRUARY 1977 IN ORDER TO DISCOVER THE SHORT WAVE BAND WHICH THE MILITARY STATIONED IN THE PRESIDENTIAL PALACE WOULD USE TO BROADCAST INSTRUCTIONS TO THEIR GOONS AT THE POLLING PLACES IN ORDER TO TILT THE ELECTION RESULTS IN THE FAVOR OF THE RULING MILITARY PARTY. I HAVE THESE TAPE RECORDINGS IN MY OFFICE BUT I'M SURE THAT STATE HAS A COPY AS WELL. I SHARE THIS WITH YOU TO DEMONSTRATE HIS CREDIBILITY. FURTHERMORE, IT HAS TAKEN SO LONG FOR HIM TO COME FORWARD WITH THE STORY BECAUSE HE FEARS FOR THE LIFE OF HIS SON, AN ENGINEER, WHO STILL RESIDES WITH HIS FAMILY IN EL SALVADOR.

"THE STORY THAT IS THE REASON FOR THIS LETTER FOLLOWS: A MAN WHO WAS RAISED BY THE MORAN FAMILY (THE FATHER OF JUAN JOSE) AS AN "HIJO DE LA CASA" ARRIVED IN MEXICO CITY IN JUNE OF THIS YEAR ON HIS WAY TO ILLEGAL STATUS IN THE UNITED STATES. FEARING FOR HIS LIFE, CESAR CORTEZ LOOKED

TURNED OUT WAS TO INTERCEPT THE FOUR AMERICAN RELIGIOUS WORKERS. HE DISCLAIMS ANY PARTICIPATION IN THE RAPING OR MURDERS BUT CLAIMS TO HAVE WITNESSED THE EVENTS. HE PROMISED MORAN THAT HE WOULD NOTIFY HIM WITH HIS ADDRESS WHEN HE GOT SETTLED IN THE UNITED STATES. AS OF SEVERAL DAYS AGO, HE HAD NOT DONE SO. I CONFIRMED THIS BY TALKING DIRECTLY WITH [MORAN] BY PHONE IN MEXICO CITY.

"I UNDERSTAND THAT THE AMBASSADOR RESPONDING TO A LETTER, PLACED AN AD IN A MEXICAN NEWSPAPER AND OUR MEXICAN EMBASSY HAS AT LEAST SOME OF THE DETAILS AS I HAVE RELATED THEM TO YOU.

"THERE IS ONE ADDITIONAL PART OF THE STORY WHICH IMPLICATES AN AMERICAN IN THESE GRIZZLEY EVENTS. HOWEVER, I AM UNCOMFORTABLE SHARING THIS WITH ANYONE UNTIL WE HAVE ACCESS TO CORTEZ. I DON'T WANT THE RUMOR CIRCULATING AT THIS TIME BECAUSE I KNOW THE PERSON INVOLVED AND DON'T GIVE THE RUMOR MUCH CREDIBILITY.

"I AM TRYING TO GET INFORMATION TO WEST COAST NETWORKS TO SEE WHETHER SOMEONE MIGHT KNOW [CESAR CORTEZ] AND BE ABLE TO CONVINCE HIM TO COME FORWARD WITH HIS STORY THAT COULD NOT ONLY BRING TO JUSTICE THE KILLERS OF THE AMERICAN WOMEN, BUT IF PROPERLY HANDLED, COULD IMPLICATE SOME HIGH LEVEL GOVERNMENT OR POWERFUL PRIVATE SECTOR INTERESTS.

"LET'S KEEP IN TOUCH.

MORAN TOLD CORTES OF USG INTEREST IN TALKING TO HIM REGARDING THE MURDERS. MORAN SAYS CORTES IS NOT WILLING TO TALK TO ANYONE UNLESS MORAN CAN CONVINCE HIM THAT TO DO SO WOULD NOT ENDANGER HIS LIFE OR HIS STAYING IN THE U.S. CORTES IS IN THE U.S. ILLEGALLY AND USING AN ASSUMED NAME. - GOVERNMENT IN LUANDA

1. [redacted] - ENTIRE TEXT).

2. THE CONTACT GROUP DISCUSSIONS IN LUANDA WITH SWAPO AND THE ANGOLANS WENT WELL. SWAPO WAS NON-COMMITTAL (RATHER THAN NEGATIVE) ON OUR CONSTITUTIONAL PROPOSALS WHICH I FEEL IS THE BEST WE CAN EXPECT AT THIS STAGE. THE ANGOLANS TOOK A CONSTRUCTIVE INITIAL STANCE TO OUR APPROACH WHICH I BELIEVE REFLECTS THEIR ANALYSIS THAT NO OTHER SOLUTION IS POSSIBLE. AFTER THE CG SESSION WITH PRESIDENT DOS SANTOS, I HAD A USEFUL BI-LATERAL MEETING WITH PAULO JORGE IN WHICH WE ESTABLISHED A MUTUALLY AGREEABLE FRAMEWORK FOR THE PERIODIC DIS-CUSSIONS WHICH WE BELIEVE ARE ESSENTIAL TO THE PROCESS.

3. OUR CG MEETING WITH SAM NUJOMA AND ASSORTED SWAPO CENTRAL COMMITTEE MEMBERS WENT AS WELL AS CAN BE EXPECTED

PAGE 02 CAPE T 04926 01 OF 02 272249Z

AT THIS STAGE OF THE NEGOTIATION. READING FROM A PRE-PARED STATEMENT, NUJOMA (WHO WAS RELAXED AND FRIENDLY) SAID THAT OUR PROPOSALS HAD BEEN REFERRED TO SWAPO'S LEGAL DEPARTMENT. HE WOULD NOT COMMENT FURTHER AND DECLINED TO BE DRAWN OUT, DESPITE AT TIMES FAWNING EFFORTS OF SOME OF MY CG COLLEAGUES TO ELICIT A PRELIMINARY POSITIVE VIEW. SAM'S NON-COMMITTAL STANCE IS IN LINE WITH THE APPARENTLY PREDETERMINED FRONT LINE/SWAPO LINE THAT, AFTER OUR CG ROAD SHOW, THEY WILL GATHER AND DEFINE A COMMON POSITION.

UNCLASSIFIED

4. PRESIDENT DOS SANTOS WAS OPEN AND CONSTRUCTIVE IN RESPONDING TO OUR CG PROPOSALS ON A PROCESS FOR RESOLVING ISSUES AND OUR CONSTITUTIONAL PRINCIPLES. WHAT SHOWN THROUGH IN HIS APPROACH WAS A DESIRE AND DETERMINATION TO GET ON WITH A SETTLEMENT, WHATEVER THAT MIGHT TAKE. NOTABLY LACKING WAS ANY MENTION OF THE CUBAN/ANGOLAN TRACK OF OUR APPROACH (MUCH TO THE RELIEF OF OUR CG PARTNERS), NOR DID DOS SANTOS ENGAGE IN THE SOCIALIST RHETORIC WE AND THE OTHER CONTACT GROUP MEMBERS HAVE ENCOUNTERED BEFORE. I FOUND DOS SANTOS TO BE A BRIGHT, ENGAGING FELLOW.

5. THE PRESIDENT WAS THE PRINCIPAL INTERLOCUTOR ON THE ANGOLAN SIDE, AND HIS FOCUS WAS DEFINITELY ON GETTING TO THE END OF THE NAMIBIA TUNNEL. HE WENT ON AT SOME LENGTH TO LAY BLAME FOR THE LACK OF A SETTLEMENT ON SOUTH AFRICA, BUT STRESSED HIS DESIRE TO END THE FIGHTING WHICH HE ADMITTED WREAKS HAVOC ON HIS OWN COUNTRY AND INVOLVES AFRICAN AND SOUTH AFRICAN LOSS OF LIFE. HIS COMMENTS ON THE CONSTITUTIONAL PRINCIPLES WERE BRIEF, BUT HE PREDICTABLY ASKED FOR MORE PRECISION ON THE PHASING PROCESS, WHICH WE READILY SUPPLIED.

I ALSO TOOK THE OPPORTUNITY TO SET FORTH OUR APPROACH TO SOUTH AFRICA ON NAMIBIA WHICH DOS SANTOS DID NOT DISPUTE. THE SIGNIFICANCE OF THIS MEETING, OUR FIRST WITH THE ANGOLAN HEAD OF STATE, WAS PURELY POLITICAL AND SYMBOLIC, AND AUGURS WELL FOR OUR TWO TRACK POLICY. PRE-EMINENT IN HIS MIND ARE THE DIFFICULT DECISIONS HIS GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE TO TAKE IN THE NEXT SEVERAL MONTHS. MOREOVER, SWAPO AND NAMIBIA NOW BECOME CLEARLY FOR THEM ANCILLARY TO THEIR MAJOR PREOCCUPATIONS.

6. IN MY PRE-DEPARTURE ONE-ON-ONE WITH PAULO JORGE, I AIMED TO ESTABLISH A DISCREET CHANNEL TO DISCUSS CONCRETE PROPOSALS WITH THE ANGOLANS FOLLOWING UPON YOUR USEFUL MEETING WITH HIM IN NEW YORK. JORGE ONCE AGAIN TRUNDLED OUT THE "ANGOLA IS SOVEREIGN AND CHOOSES ITS OWN FRIENDS" ARGUMENT, BUT CHANGED HIS TUNE CONSIDERABLY WHEN I SAID WE MUST LOOK AT THE POLITICAL REALITIES IN SOUTHERN AFRICA AND PROCEED TO PUT SOME MEAT ON THE BONES OF OUR SECOND TRACK. JORGE SUGGESTED THAT WE WORK THROUGH HIS PERMREP IN NEW YORK, TO WHICH I RESPONDED THAT WE NEEDED A MORE DIRECT, POLICY LEVEL INTERLOCUTOR SUCH AS HIMSELF. I TOLD JORGE THAT OUR TALKS IN THE FUTURE WOULD BE MORE SPECIFIC THAN OUR PAST CONVERSATIONS, AND SHOULD BEGIN IMMEDIATELY. HE AGREED THAT WE SHOULD CONTACT HIM ABOUT A PROPOSED DATE IN NOVEMBER, WHEN HE WOULD BE AT HOME FOR PARTY MEETINGS AND

ON VISITS TO BRAZIL AND MEXICO. HIS REMARKS LEAD ME TO BELIEVE THAT THE HIGHEST LEVEL OF THE ANGOLAN GOVERNMENT HAS MADE A DECISION AT THE LEAST TO TALK TO US ON THE CUBAN ISSUE. MY BELIEF WAS CORROBORATED BY THE REMARKS

1. ~~P~~ENTIRE TEXT.

2. IN PARAGRAPHS THAT FOLLOW, POST SUBMITS THE DRAFT HUMAN RIGHTS REPORT ON CHILE REQUESTED BY REF A. THE DRAFT IS CLASSIFIED CONFIDENTIAL TO AVOID DAMAGE TO FOREIGN RELATIONS THROUGH RELEASE IN UNCLEARED FORM.

~~3. DRAFT REPORT ON CHILE:~~

INTRODUCTION:

CHILEAN DEMOCRACY CAME UNDER INCREASING STRAINS FROM THE 1950'S ONWARDS AS THE RESULT OF RAPID GROWTH IN POLITICAL PARTICIPATION, SLOW ECONOMIC GROWTH AND ENDEMIC INFLATION. THE SEVERE ECONOMIC DISLOCATION AND INCREASING VIOLENCE OF THE LAST PART OF SALVADOR ALLENDE'S GOVERNMENT (1970-1973) PRODUCED WIDE SUPPORT FOR THE MILITARY INTERVENTION IN SEPTEMBER 1973. THE UPHEAVALS OF THAT PERIOD AND THE PERCEPTION THAT ALLENDE'S POLICIES WERE LEADING TO A MARXIST STATE CONTINUE TO INFLUENCE THE ATTITUDES OF MANY CHILEANS TOWARDS THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT AND HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUES.

RATHER THAN RETURNING POWER TO CIVILIANS AFTER THE COUP, THE MILITARY, LED BY GENERAL AUGUSTO PINOCHET, EMBARKED ON A WIDE-RANGING EFFORT TO CHANGE THE CHILEAN POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC SYSTEMS. THE REGIME UNDERTOOK TO CONSOLIDATE ITS CONTROL THROUGH A SERIES OF REPRESSIVE MEASURES, PARTICULARLY EVIDENT THROUGH 1977. THESE INCLUDED MASS ARRESTS, TORTURE, EXILE AND THE DISAPPEARANCE OF HUNDREDS OF PERSONS. THIS EARLY PERIOD ALSO SAW THE BANNING OF POLITICAL PARTIES, THE SUSPENSION OF MOST LABOR RIGHTS, THE CLOSING OF MANY NEWSPAPERS AND RADIO STATIONS, AND THE PURGING OF THE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM.

THERE HAS BEEN A SIGNIFICANT REDUCTION IN THE NUMBER AND SEVERITY OF HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS SINCE 1977. NO CONFIRMED "DISAPPEARANCES" HAVE OCCURRED SINCE OCTOBER OF THAT YEAR, AND TREATMENT OF PRISONERS AND GENERAL POLICE PROCEDURES HAVE IMPROVED. HOWEVER, ARRESTS AND EXPULSIONS FOR NON-VIOLENT POLITICAL ACTIVITIES AND DOCUMENTED REPORTS OF TORTURE CONTINUED TO OCCUR IN 1981. ~~BUT AT DIMINISHED RATE.~~ POLITICAL PARTIES REMAIN FORMALLY DISSOLVED, AND BASIC FREEDOMS OF SPEECH AND ASSEMBLY ARE RESTRICTED, ALTHOUGH SOME POLITICAL ACTIVITY, CRITICISM AND LIMITED PRESS DISCUSSION ~~ARE~~ TOLERATED. LABOR UNION ACTIVITY CONTINUES TO BE UNDER SOME RESTRAINTS, BUT COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AND A LIMITED RIGHT TO STRIKE WERE RESTORED IN 1979 UNDER A NEW LABOR LAW. THE CONTINUING "STATE OF EMERGENCY", WHICH CREATES A SITUATION SIMILAR TO THAT UNDER A "STATE OF SIEGE", IS EXTENDED REGULARLY EVERY SIX MONTHS AND GIVES THE GOVERNMENT EXTRAORDINARY AUTHORITY TO DEAL WITH A PERCEIVED EXTREMIST THREAT. THE RIGHT TO DUE PROCESS WAS WEAKENED FURTHER IN 1981 BY CERTAIN TRANSITORY PROVISIONS OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION WHICH ENTERED INTO FORCE ON MARCH 11. UNDER THESE PROVISIONS, PARTICULARLY ARTICLE 24, THE PRESIDENT HAS EXECUTIVE POWER TO ORDER INDIVIDUALS INTO INTERNAL EXILE FOR PERIODS OF UP TO THREE MONTHS; ARREST PEOPLE WITHOUT JUDICIAL WARRANT; EXTEND THE AUTHORIZED PERIOD OF DETENTION WITHOUT FORMAL CHARGES FROM FIVE TO TWENTY DAYS IN CASES OF TERRORIST ACTIVITIES ~~WITH GRAVE CONSEQUENCES~~; AND RESTRICT THE RIGHTS OF ASSEMBLY AND FREEDOM OF INFORMATION. THESE MEASURES ARE NOT SUBJECT TO JUDICIAL REVERSAL. IN SEVERAL INSTANCES, HOWEVER, THE COURTS AND PRESS HAVE TAKEN POSITIONS DEFENDING HUMAN RIGHTS.

THE MARCH 1981 CONSTITUTION, APPROVED IN THE CONTROVERSIAL 1980 PLEBISCITE BY A TWO-THIRDS MAJORITY, PROVIDES FOR A TRANSITION PERIOD OF EIGHT YEARS UNDER MILITARY GOVERNMENT WITH PRESIDENT AUGUSTO PINOCHET REMAINING POWER. THE PROTECTION OF INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS SPELLED OUT IN THE NEW CONSTITUTION IS DIMINISHED BY THE EXECUTIVE POWERS IN THE TRANSITORY PROVISIONS DESCRIBED ABOVE. FURTHER, SOME CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS, INCLUDING ELECTIONS FOR THE SENATE AND CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES, WILL TAKE EFFECT AFTER THE END OF THE EIGHT-YEAR TRANSITION. IN THE MEANTIME, THE MILITARY JUNTA EXERCISES THE LEGISLATIVE POWER OF THE STATE.

FOLLOWING TWO YEARS OF RELATIVE CALM, CHILE SUFFERED A MODERATE INCREASE IN EXTREMIST VIOLENCE DURING 1980 AND EARLY 1981. INCLUDING ASSASSINATION ATTEMPTS, ARMED ROBBERIES, ATTACKS AND BOMBINGS, RESULTING IN THE DEATH OR WOUNDING OF AT LEAST NINE ~~SEC~~ SECURITY PERSONNEL. MOVEMENT OF THE REVOLUTIONARY LEFT (MIR), ~~ENEMA~~, SOME OF ~~WHOM~~ HAVE REPORTEDLY RECEIVED CUBAN TRAINING, HAVE CLAIMED CREDIT FOR MANY OF THESE INCIDENTS, BUT THEIR INVOLVEMENT IN OTHERS HAS NOT BEEN ESTABLISHED. RECENT POLICE SUCCESSES APPEAR TO HAVE DIMINISHED EXTREMIST VIOLENCE SINCE MID-1981.

WITH RESPECT TO SOCIO-ECONOMIC POLICY, THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT HAS EMBARKED ON A PROGRAM TO REDUCE THE ROLE OF GOVERNMENT, TO OPEN THE ECONOMY TO WORLD MARKET COMPETITION AND TO REFORM FISCAL POLICY. THE PERSISTENCE OF HIGH INFLATION, INCLUDING THE HYPERINFLATION OF MORE THAN 600 PERCENT IN 1973,

AND THE DIFFICULT ECONOMIC CIRCUMSTANCES BROUGHT ON BY INTERNATIONAL CONDITIONS OF THE MID-1970'S (HIGH OIL AND LOW COPPER PRICES), FORCED GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS IN 1975 TO IMPLEMENT A SERIES OF AUSTERITY MEASURES WHICH ACCELERATED THE TRANSITION TO A FREE MARKET ECONOMY. AFTER THE INITIAL, SHARP DECLINE IN ECONOMIC ACTIVITY, BEGINNING IN 1976, GNP GROWTH HAS AVERAGED MORE THAN 7 PERCENT IN REAL TERMS; INFLATION ~~HAS~~ DECLINED TO ABOUT 18 PERCENT FOR 1981; AND OFFICIAL UNEMPLOYMENT ~~HAS~~ DECLINED TO 9 PERCENT BY MID-1981. HIGH GROWTH RATES AND BETTER TAX COLLECTION HAVE ENABLED THE GOVERNMENT TO INCREASE SOCIAL SPENDING BOTH AS A PERCENTAGE OF THE BUDGET AND BY COMPARISON (IN REAL TERMS) WITH PREVIOUS PERIODS IN CHILEAN HISTORY. SOCIAL SPENDING IS NOW MORE CAREFULLY FOCUSED ON POORER SEGMENTS OF THE POPULATION. IMPORTANT EFFORTS IN HEALTH AND NUTRITION PROGRAMS HAVE SUBSTANTIALLY CUT INFANT MORTALITY OVER THE DECADE. THE GOVERNMENT HAS INCREASED REAL SPENDING ON EDUCATION BUT, IN LINE WITH THE EFFORT TO TARGET SOCIAL SPENDING ON THE MORE NEEDY, THE PERCENTAGE ALLOCATED TO PRE-PRIMARY, PRIMARY AND INTERMEDIATE LEVELS HAS BEEN INCREASED RELATIVE TO HIGHER EDUCATION.

1. RESPECT FOR THE INTEGRITY OF THE PERSON, INCLUDING FREEDOM FROM:

A. TORTURE

ARTICLE 19 OF THE 1981 CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS "USE OF ALL ILLEGAL PRESSURE" AND "GUARANTEES TO ALL PERSONS THE RIGHT TO LIFE AND TO THE PHYSICAL AND PSYCHIC INTEGRITY OF THE INDIVIDUAL." HIGH-LEVEL GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS PUBLICLY AND PRIVATELY DENY THAT THE USE OF TORTURE BY GOVERNMENT AGENTS IS AUTHORIZED. IN THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 1981, 46 PERSONS (COMPARED TO 87 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1980) FILED COMPLAINTS WITH THE COURTS ALLEGING TORTURE -- WITH MOST INDIVIDUALS ALLEGING PSYCHOLOGICAL DURESS, BEATINGS AND THE USE OF ELECTRIC SHOCK DURING INTERROGATIONS. WHILE THE POLITICAL BACKGROUNDS OF SOME OF THESE ALLEGING TORTURE REFLECT SUFFICIENT ANTI-GOVERNMENT SENTIMENT TO RAISE QUESTIONS ABOUT THE VALIDITY OF THE ALLEGATIONS, IN OTHER CASES THERE IS NO APPARENT REASON FOR THE INDIVIDUALS TO MAKE FALSE CLAIMS. MOST COMPLAINTS OF TORTURE WERE AGAINST MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL INFORMATION CENTER (CNI).

MANY INDIVIDUALS HAVE SOUGHT AID FROM CHURCH LEGAL OFFICES IN THE PREPARATION AND FILING OF SWORN COMPLAINTS WHICH, IN THEIR SIMILARITY AND SPECIFICITY, ENHANCE THE CREDIBILITY OF THE ALLEGATIONS OF TORTURE. ACCORDING TO SUCH ACCOUNTS, TORTURE USUALLY OCCURRED IN THE FIRST OR SECOND DAY OF DETENTION TO ALLOW SUFFICIENT TIME FOR HEALING OR RECOVERY BY THE TIME OF RELEASE. LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS CONTINUE TO EXPRESS CONCERN THAT THE LENGTHENING OF THE PERIOD OF EXECUTIVE DETENTION FROM FIVE TO ~~TWENTY~~ 20 DAYS IN INTERNAL SECURITY LAW VIOLATIONS INVOLVING MURDER, INJURY, OR KIDNAPPING COULD FACILITATE MORE SUSTAINED PHYSICAL ABUSE. ~~BUT NO FIRM EVIDENCE HAS BEEN PRODUCED TO SUBSTANTIATE THIS CONCERN.~~

B. CRUEL, INHUMAN OR DEGRADING TREATMENT OR PUNISHMENT

HUMAN RIGHTS SOURCES REPORT A NUMBER OF CASES OF SERIOUS MISTREATMENT, INCLUDING TORTURE, DURING THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 1981. WHILE MOST DETAINEES REPORT CORRECT TREATMENT, SOME PERSONS DETAINED DURING PEACEFUL DEMONSTRATIONS ~~OR AT DISTANCE TICKETS~~ OR ON SUSPICION OF PROSCRIBED POLITICAL ACTIVITIES, HAVE COMPLAINED OF BEATINGS AND BEING FORCED TO REMAIN UNCLOTHED FOR EXTENDED PERIODS OF TIME.

UNTIL JANUARY 1981, PERSONS DETAINED IN PRISON FOR POLITICAL OR TERRORIST ACTIVITIES WERE NORMALLY SEPARATED BY CELL BLOCKS FROM COMMON CRIMINALS IN KEEPING WITH AN INFORMAL AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE ~~GOC~~ AND AN AD-HOC ~~HR~~ GROUP. SINCE JANUARY 1981 IN KEEPING WITH A ~~GOC~~ POSITION THAT THERE ARE NO POLITICAL PRISONERS IN CHILE, ALL PRISONERS HAVE BEEN TREATED EQUALLY, WITH RIGHTS OF VISITATION AND COMMUNICATION WITH FAMILY, FRIENDS, LEGAL COUNSEL AND REPRESENTATIVES OF THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE RED CROSS. ~~HOWEVER~~

C. DISAPPEARANCES

THE LAST REPORTED "DISAPPEARANCES" OCCURRED IN 1977. ABOUT 635 CASES FROM THE PERIOD 1973-1977 REMAIN UNRESOLVED. ALTHOUGH THE CHILEAN SUPREME COURT APPOINTED SPECIAL JUDGES IN 1979 TO INVESTIGATE MANY OF THESE DISAPPEARANCES, ~~NO DEFINITE CONCLUSIONS HAVE BEEN REACHED.~~ THE INVESTIGATIONS CONTINUE IN SOME CASES, ACTION HAS BEEN SUSPENDED IN NUMEROUS OTHERS, AND STILL OTHERS HAVE BEEN REFERRED TO MILITARY JUSTICE WHEN THE MILITARY OR POLICE ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN INVOLVED. SOME FAMILIES OF THE DISAPPEARED HAVE APPEALED THE SUSPENSION OR REFERRAL TO THE MILITARY COURTS. TO DATE, THE APPEALS HAVE HAD LITTLE EFFECT IN RESOLVING THE WHEREABOUTS OF THEIR RELATIVES.

D. ARBITRARY ARREST AND IMPRISONMENT

WHEN PEOPLE ARE DETAINED FOR POLITICAL ACTIVITIES, FRIENDS OR RELATIVES NORMALLY REPORT THE DETENTIONS, THE PRESS PUBLICIZES THEM AND THE GOVERNMENT EVENTUALLY ACKNOWLEDGES THEM. ALTHOUGH THE GOVERNMENT DENIES HOLDING POLITICAL PRISONERS, 205 PERSONS ARE IN THE JUDICIAL PROCESS CHARGED WITH SEDITIOUS ACTIVITY; 136 ARE IN JAIL AND 69 ARE OUT ON BAIL. MOST ARE ACCUSED OF VIOLATING EITHER THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAW OR THE ARMS CONTROL LAW, OR BOTH. ~~IT SHOULD BE NOTED, HOWEVER,~~ THAT OF 427 SECURITY ARRESTS IN SANTIAGO IN THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 1981, 309 WERE RELEASED WITHOUT CHARGES FOR LACK OF SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE, ALTHOUGH 53 WERE HELD MORE THAN THE SPECIFIED FIVE DAYS.

WHILE THE INTELLIGENCE SERVICE ~~(CNI)~~ HAS ONLY LIMITED LEGAL AUTHORITY TO ARREST PEOPLE ON ITS OWN INITIATIVE, IN PRACTICE IT HAS BEEN ABLE TO OBTAIN VAGUELY-WORDED WARRANTS WHICH PROVIDE CONSIDERABLE LATITUDE IN MAKING SEARCHES OR ARRESTS. PUBLIC CONCERN HAS, HOWEVER, LED TO GREATER CARE BY SECURITY AGENTS TO IDENTIFY THEMSELVES AND TO SHOW WARRANTS WHEN DETAINING PEOPLE.

PEOPLE DETAINED FOR PARTICIPATING IN BANNED PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS OR ILLEGAL MEETINGS ARE OFTEN HELD FOR THE FULL FIVE DAYS PERMITTED UNDER EXECUTIVE DISCRETION AND THEN MAY BE RELEASED (THE LARGE MAJORITY OF CASES), SENT INTO INTERNAL OR EXTERNAL EXILE, OR CHARGED WITH INTERNAL SECURITY VIOLATIONS. IN THOSE CASES REACHING THE COURTS, THE INVESTIGATING JUDGES MAY TAKE UP TO FIVE MORE DAYS TO DELIBERATE BUT, IN PRACTICE, HAVE RARELY ISSUED INDICTMENTS.

IN THEORY, THE RIGHT OF HABEAS CORPUS (WRIT OF AMPARO) EXISTS; AND, SINCE THE MARCH CONSTITUTION, THE COURTS HAVE BECOME FIRMER IN DEMANDING A PROMPT ACCOUNTING FROM THE GOVERNMENT. IN MAY THE COURTS BEGAN REQUESTING COPIES OF ARREST WARRANTS AND TO INSIST THAT ONLY THEY HAD THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT A CASE SHOULD PROCEED. ALTHOUGH THE GAINS SO FAR HAVE BEEN MAINLY THEORETICAL, IN THAT THE COURTS NORMALLY UPHOLD GOVERNMENT ARRESTS OF POLITICAL DISSIDENTS, THEY DO MARK A GREATER ASSERTIVENESS ON THE PART OF THE COURTS.

E. DENIAL OF FAIR PUBLIC TRIAL

CHILE'S CIVILIAN JUDGES ARE CAREER OFFICIALS AND MOST HAVE SERVED IN THE JUDICIARY SINCE BEFORE THE PRESENT MILITARY GOVERNMENT TOOK POWER IN 1973. SINCE 1978, MOST VIOLATIONS OF THE ~~POLITICAL ACCESS~~ present Decree AND MOST CASES RELATING TO ALLEGED HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES HAVE BEEN HANDLED IN THE CIVILIAN COURT SYSTEM. FIRST INSTANCE JURISDICTION FOR THE PROSECUTION OF PROSCRIBED POLITICAL ACTIVITIES LIES WITH REGULAR LOWER LEVEL CRIMINAL COURTS WHOSE PROCEEDINGS ARE CONDUCTED IN ACCORDANCE WITH CHILE'S CIVIL CODE TRADITION. THERE IS NO TRIAL BY JURY; RELIANCE IS PLACED ON THE WRITTEN RECORD. IN THE CRIMINAL COURTS OF FIRST INSTANCE, A JUDGE SERVES MULTIPLE FUNCTIONS: AS PROSECUTOR; AS DEFENSE ATTORNEY, AT TIMES; AND, ULTIMATELY, AS THE ONE WHO DECIDES THE INNOCENCE OR GUILT OF THE ACCUSED. THESE DECISIONS MAY BE APPEALED UP TO THE SUPREME COURT.

ARMS CONTROL VIOLATIONS GO BEFORE A MILITARY PROSECUTOR; HE CARRIES OUT THE INVESTIGATION AND THEN MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS TO A MILITARY JUDGE, WHO ISSUES THE DECISION. APPEALS MAY BE MADE TO A MILITARY COURT OF TWO CIVILIAN JUDGES AND THREE PROFESSIONAL MILITARY JUDGES AND, IN THE LAST RESORT, TO THE SUPREME COURT. DEFENDANTS HAVE THE RIGHTS OF ANY CHILEAN CITIZEN BEFORE THE LAW, INCLUDING THE RIGHT TO LEGAL COUNSEL. ~~THE MOST NOTEWORTHY CASE IN 1981 WAS THE TRIAL OF SELF-DESCRIBED MIR TERRORIST GUILLERMO RODRIGUEZ MORALES, ACCUSED OF ORDERING THE KILLING OF A CNI EMPLOYEE, BEFORE A MILITARY COUNCIL OF WAR ACTING UNDER WARTIME PROCEDURES WHICH LIMIT RIGHTS OF DEFENDANTS, IN ACCORDANCE WITH A DECREE OF FEBRUARY 1981 REQUIRING A COUNCIL OF WAR IN CASE OF ATTACK ON GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL. HE WAS SENTENCED~~

~~TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT BUT HAS APPEALED THE PROCEDURES UNDER WHICH THE COUNCIL OF WAR WAS HELD TO THE SUPREME COURT.~~ the Supreme Court the legality of

INSERT TI PARA A INDICATE

F. INVASION OF THE HOME

THE 1981 CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS SEARCHES OF THE HOME AND INTERCEPTION OF PRIVATE COMMUNICATIONS AND DOCUMENTS EXCEPT AS DETERMINED BY LAW. PROVISIONS IN THE PENAL CODE REQUIRE SEARCH WARRANTS ISSUED BY EITHER A JUDGE OR MILITARY PROSECUTOR FOR SPECIFIC LOCATIONS. IN PRACTICE, HOWEVER, SUCH SEARCHES ARE CARRIED OUT UNDER A GENERAL ORDER ISSUED BY THE JUDGE OR PROSECUTOR. HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS REPORT THAT IN A NUMBER OF SEARCHES LEGAL ~~FORMALITIES~~, SUCH AS THE DISPLAY OF A WARRANT, HAVE NOT BEEN OBSERVED BY THE AUTHORITIES.

II. RESPECT FOR CIVIL AND POLITICAL LIBERTIES, INCLUDING:

A. FREEDOM OF SPEECH, PRESS, RELIGION AND ASSEMBLY

ARTICLE 8 OF THE 1981 CONSTITUTION STATES THAT: "ANY ACTION BY AN INDIVIDUAL OR GROUP INTENDED TO PROPAGATE DOCTRINES WHICH ARE ANTAGONISTIC TO THE FAMILY, OR WHICH ADVOCATE VIOLENCE OR A CONCEPT OF SOCIETY, THE STATE OR THE JUDICIAL ORDER, OF A TOTALITARIAN CHARACTER OR BASED ON CLASS WARFARE, IS ILLEGAL AND CONTRARY TO THE INSTITUTIONAL LEGAL CODE OF THE REPUBLIC." IN CURBING DISSENT, THE GOVERNMENT USUALLY CITES OTHER MORE SPECIFIC LEGAL PROVISIONS AND DECREES OUTLAWING MARXISM AND THE ADVOCACY OF VIOLENT REVOLUTION.

ARTICLE 24 OF THE TRANSITORY PROVISIONS OF THE 1981 CONSTITUTION GIVES THE PRESIDENT AUTHORITY TO exiled INTERNALLY ~~EXILE~~ PERSONS FOR UP TO THREE MONTHS WITHOUT CHARGES, COURT REVIEW OR THE RIGHT OF APPEAL. IN THE FIRST NINE MONTHS OF 1981, 52 INDIVIDUALS WERE INTERNALLY EXILED (COMPARED TO 79 FOR THE SAME PERIOD IN 1980), MOST TO DISTANT VILLAGES, FOR ILLEGAL POLITICAL ACTIVITIES.

II REVIEW FOR UPDATE

The government issued a decree in February 1981 requiring a military council of war acting under wartime procedures limiting the rights of defendants in cases of attacks on government personnel. The decree was invoked in the case of self-described MIR terrorist Guillermo Rodriguez Morales, accused of ordering the killing of an intelligence service employee.

VIRTUALLY ALL PUBLIC MEETINGS REQUIRE PRIOR APPROVAL OF THE LOCAL MILITARY ZONE COMMANDER. IN PRACTICE, PERMISSION IS REGULARLY DENIED WHEN THE SUBJECT IS POLITICALLY SENSITIVE ALTHOUGH SMALL OPPOSITION PARTY MEETINGS HAVE GENERALLY BEEN TOLERATED.

THE MEDIA ARE TECHNICALLY FREE FROM OFFICIAL PRIOR CENSORSHIP, BUT, IN PRACTICE, THE GOVERNMENT INFORMALLY AND REGULARLY TELLS PUBLICATIONS AND BROADCASTERS WHEN THEY ARE CONSIDERED OUT OF LINE WITH GOC POLICY. THUS, SELF-CENSORSHIP IS WIDELY PRACTICED, WITH MOST EDITORS CAREFUL ABOUT THE CONTENT OF MATERIAL, [redacted], ALTHOUGH ARTICLES WHICH ARE CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT APPEAR REGULARLY IN SEVERAL LEADING PUBLICATIONS. USING THE BROAD EXECUTIVE POWERS OF TRANSITIONAL ARTICLE 24 OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION, THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR CAN RESTRICT COVERAGE OF ACTS OF TERRORISM AND OF INTERNAL SECURITY CASES, FORBID PUBLICITY OF NON-OFFICIAL ACTIVITIES OF GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS, AND PREVENT THE PUBLICATION OR DISTRIBUTION OF NEW PERIODICALS.

THE GOVERNMENT OWNS THE ONLY NATION-WIDE TELEVISION NETWORK. OTHER STATIONS ARE OPERATED BY UNIVERSITIES AND COVER SUBSTANTIAL PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. WHILE THE DIRECTORS OF THESE TV STATIONS THEORETICALLY HAVE AUTONOMY, THEY USE CONSIDERABLE DISCRETION AND DO NOT PERMIT CRITICISM OF THE GOVERNMENT. THERE ARE SEVERAL PERIODICALS AND AT LEAST TWO RADIO STATIONS CRITICAL OF THE REGIME; THESE GIVE MAJOR VOICE TO THE OPPOSITION VIEWPOINT. "NON-MARXIST" BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS CRITICAL OF THE GOVERNMENT ARE PERMITTED FREE CIRCULATION. ALTHOUGH ARRESTS OF INDIVIDUALS FOR DISTRIBUTING "SUBVERSIVE" (I.E. MARXIST) LITERATURE OCCUR.

THE INTER-AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION CONTINUES TO NOTE THAT THERE HAVE BEEN IMPROVEMENTS IN PRESS FREEDOM IN CHILE, BUT POINTS OUT THAT RESTRICTIONS ON NEW PUBLICATIONS AND ON PUBLICITY FOR TERRORIST ACTS ARE INCONSISTENT WITH FULL PRESS FREEDOM.

CHILE, PREDOMINANTLY A CATHOLIC COUNTRY, RESPECTS FREEDOM OF RELIGION. A NUMBER OF PROTESTANT AND OTHER SECTS ARE ACTIVE. THE JEWISH COMMUNITY REPORTS FULL TOLERANCE. [redacted]

IN 1979 THE RIGHT TO ELECT STUDENT GOVERNMENT REPRESENTATIVES WAS RESTORED AT THE UNIVERSITIES. MOST RECTORS OF THE UNIVERSITIES ARE MILITARY MEN. VICE RECTORS ARE UNIVERSITY PROFESSIONALS.

B. FREEDOM OF MOVEMENT WITHIN THE COUNTRY, FOREIGN TRAVEL, EMIGRATION AND REPATRIATION

CHILEANS ARE FREE TO LEAVE THEIR COUNTRY. SOME ONE MILLION CHILEANS LIVE ABROAD, PRINCIPALLY FOR ECONOMIC REASONS. OVER HALF THIS NUMBER HAVE RESIDED FOR MANY YEARS IN ARGENTINA (MAINLY PATAGONIA) WHERE THEY PROVIDE THE BASIC LABOR POOL. IN THE JUDGMENT OF INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS DEALING WITH REFUGEES, THE VOLUME OF SKILLED AND UNSKILLED WORKERS RETURNING TO CHILE NOW SLIGHTLY EXCEEDS THE NUMBER LEAVING -- A REFLECTION OF THE IMPROVEMENT IN THE CHILEAN ECONOMY.

MANY THOUSANDS FLED CHILE WHEN THE CURRENT GOVERNMENT TOOK POWER; HUNDREDS SOUGHT ASYLUM IN FOREIGN EMBASSIES,

MANY OTHERS WERE CONVICTED OF INTERNAL SECURITY VIOLATIONS AND HAD JAIL SENTENCES COMMUTED TO EXILE. THE GOVERNMENT WAS EVENTUALLY WILLING TO GRANT SAFE CONDUCT PASSES TO PEOPLE who left to avoid arrest - leave C

GOVERNMENT DECREES REQUIRE THOSE WHO ARE CONSIDERED TO HAVE LEFT CHILE ILLEGALLY TO FILE A PETITION WITH A CHILEAN CONSUL IF THEY SEEK TO RETURN AND TO PROMISE TO REFRAIN FROM POLITICAL ACTIVITY. THE INTERIOR MINISTRY REVIEWS ALL PETITIONS AND REJECTS THOSE FROM PEOPLE WHO ARE CONSIDERED TO HAVE ENGAGED IN ANTI-GOVERNMENT ACTIVITIES ABROAD. THE GOVERNMENT HAS RELEASED NO CURRENT FIGURES ON PETITIONS RECEIVED, REJECTED, APPROVED OR PENDING BUT LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES OF INTERNATIONAL REFUGEE ORGANIZATIONS ESTIMATE THE [redacted] NUMBER OF RETURNEES AT 800-1000 PERSONS PER YEAR. IN MOST CASES THE COURTS HAVE UPHELD INTERIOR MINISTRY DECISIONS BARRING INDIVIDUALS FROM RETURNING. IN A SMALL NUMBER OF CASES, THE GOVERNMENT HAS PERMITTED BARRED INDIVIDUALS TO RETURN, GENERALLY FOR SHORT PERIODS AND ON HUMANITARIAN GROUNDS.

CHILE HAS ACCEPTED A FEW REFUGEES IN RECENT YEARS AND MAKES REGULAR MODEST FINANCIAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS AIDING REFUGEES.

C. FREEDOM TO PARTICIPATE IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS

PARTISAN POLITICAL ACTIVITY IS BANNED. IN 1973 THE GOVERNMENT DISSOLVED THE PARTIES FORMING THE UNIDAD POPULAR POLITICAL FRONT AND ALL OTHER MARXIST PARTIES. A 1977 DECREE LAW DISSOLVED ALL REMAINING PARTIES. THERE WAS UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE IN THE SEPTEMBER 1980 PLEBISCITE (VOTING IS REQUIRED BY LAW), WHICH RESULTED IN APPROVAL OF THE MARCH 1981 CONSTITUTION AS DRAFTED BY THE GOVERNMENT AND THE CONTINUATION OF PINOCHET AS PRESIDENT FOR EIGHT ADDITIONAL YEARS. OPPOSITION ELEMENTS, HOWEVER, CRITICIZED THE ABSENCE OF ELECTORAL REGISTERS OR OTHER ACCEPTABLE SAFEGUARDS.

NOTWITHSTANDING THE FORMAL BAN ON POLITICAL ACTIVITY, THE NON-MARXIST PARTIES ARE ABLE TO CONTINUE TO OPERATE ON A LIMITED BUT OPEN BASIS. SOME SOCIALISTS AND SPLINTER LEFTIST GROUPS MANUEVER AMONG THEMSELVES WITH TACIT GOVERNMENT ACQUIESCENCE. COMMUNISTS WHO ARE FOUND ENGAGING IN POLITICAL ACTIVITIES ARE GENERALLY DETAINED FOR VIOLATING THE INTERNAL SECURITY CODE OR THE 1973 LAW PROHIBITING MARXIST ACTIVITY.

~~EXCLUSION UNIONS~~

MOST TRADE UNION RIGHTS, SUSPENDED AFTER THE MILITARY TAKEOVER IN 1973, WERE LEGALIZED ~~AGAIN~~ IN JULY 1979 BY THE "LABOR PLAN" (A SERIES OF DECREE LAWS FORMING A LABOR CODE), OR ITS SUBSEQUENT TECHNICAL ADDITIONS AND REVISIONS, ALTHOUGH IN MANY INSTANCES THESE RIGHTS ARE LIMITED. THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT HAD NO PRACTICAL INPUT INTO THE FORMULATION OF THE LABOR PLAN OR INTO SUBSEQUENT TECHNICAL REVISIONS OF IT.

TRADE UNION ORGANIZATIONS CAN NORMALLY ELECT THEIR LEADERS INSTEAD OF HAVING THEM APPOINTED BY THE GOVERNMENT. IN INDIVIDUAL UNIONS, HOWEVER, ELECTIONS ARE NOT OBLIGATORY, AND THERE ARE SOME INSTANCES WHERE APPOINTED LEADERS HAVE MANAGED TO HOLD OFF HAVING ELECTIONS DESPITE RANK AND FILE SENTIMENT TO THE CONTRARY. AS ELECTIONS CONTINUE TO BE HELD, THE NUMBER OF APPOINTED LEADERS IS ~~DISAPPEARING~~ diminishing.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING HAS RESUMED FOR THE LARGE MAJORITY OF PRIVATE SECTOR WORKERS--ALBEIT IN A SOMEWHAT RESTRICTED FASHION. THE SCOPE OF WHAT CAN BE BARGAINED HAS NARROWED CONSIDERABLY TO INCLUDE ONLY WAGES, BENEFITS PAID IN CASH OR IN KIND, AND CERTAIN COMMON CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT, SUCH AS SAFETY. WORKERS ARE GUARANTEED THEIR EXISTING WAGE AND BENEFIT PACKAGE, PLUS ANY INCREASE IN THE CONSUMER PRICE INDEX. FOR 1981, THE PROJECTED AVERAGE REAL INCREASE SHOULD BE ABOUT NINE PERCENT.

ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT STATEMENTS, THE CIVIL SERVICE WILL BE ALLOWED TO FORM ONLY ASSOCIATIONS RATHER THAN UNIONS AND WILL NOT HAVE THE RIGHT TO BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY OR TO STRIKE. THE MARITIME SECTOR, INITIALLY EXCLUDED FROM THE "LABOR PLAN," WAS INCLUDED IN IT WITH THE PROMULGATION OF SPECIAL LAWS IN JUNE AND SEPTEMBER 1981 (SEAMEN AND DOCK WORKERS, RESPECTIVELY). IN THE LATTER CASE, THE DOCK WORKERS UNIONS, AS PREVIOUSLY CONSTITUTED, WILL DISAPPEAR BY MARCH 1982, PERHAPS TO BE REPLACED BY UNIONS OF PRIVATE COMPANIES WHICH WILL CONTRACT SKIP HANDLING SERVICES.

EACH YEAR, THE GOVERNMENT MUST PUBLISH A LIST OF THOSE ENTITIES WHICH CAN BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY BUT ARE CLASSIFIED AS "STRATEGIC". APPROXIMATELY THIRTY WERE LISTED IN 1980 AND 1981. MOST ARE PUBLIC UTILITIES, ~~GAS, WATER AND ELECTRIC COMPANIES;~~ THE ONLY MAJOR EXCEPTION BEING THE GIANT CHUQUICAMATA COPPER MINE, ~~ONE OF THE LARGEST MINES IN THE WORLD.~~ FOR THESE COMPANIES, FAILURE TO REACH AGREEMENT DURING NEGOTIATIONS LEADS TO BINDING ARBITRATION.

FOR WORKERS WHO CAN BARGAIN COLLECTIVELY AND CAN STRIKE, THE RIGHT TO STRIKE IS LIMITED ~~IN SEVERAL WAYS~~ STRICTLY; AFTER THE 60TH DAY OF A STRIKE, ALL STRIKING WORKERS ARE CONSIDERED TO HAVE RESIGNED THEIR JOBS AND CAN BE PERMANENTLY REPLACED BY THE EMPLOYER. ALSO LEGAL FOR THE FIRST TIME IN CHILE IS MANAGEMENT'S ABILITY TO HIRE STRIKEBREAKERS, AN EFFECTIVE STRIKE DETERRENT GIVEN THE PRESENT HIGH UNEMPLOYMENT RATE.

THERE IS NO SPECIAL GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE SYSTEM IN CHILE AND, WITH THE 1981 ABOLITION OF THE LABOR COURTS, LABOR CASES ARE NOW HANDLED BY CIVIL COURTS. STRIKES CANNOT RESULT FROM AN INDIVIDUAL GRIEVANCE; THEY ARE ONLY PERMITTED IN THE CASE OF A FAILED COLLECTIVE NEGOTIATION.

III. GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE AND RECORD REGARDING INTERNATIONAL AND NON-GOVERNMENTAL INVESTIGATIONS OF ALLEGED VIOLATIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS.

THE GOVERNMENT ~~SET A PRECEDENT~~ IN JULY 1978 ~~WHEN IT~~ ALLOWED MEMBERS OF THE SPECIAL AD HOC WORKING GROUP OF THE UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION (UNHRC) TO CONDUCT A LONG-DELAYED VISIT TO CHILE. ALTHOUGH THE GROUP SUBSEQUENTLY DISBANDED, A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR WAS TASKED TO SUBMIT HUMAN RIGHTS REPORTS ON CHILE TO THE COMMISSION AND THE UN GENERAL ASSEMBLY (UNGA). ~~ANNUAL~~ HIS REPORT WAS, HOWEVER, DENOUNCED BY THE GOVERNMENT. ~~THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT~~ HAS OFFICIALLY COMMUNICATED YEARLY TO ~~THE~~ AUTHORITIES SINCE 1979 ITS OBJECTION TO, AND REFUSAL TO, COOPERATE WITH, CONTINUING SPECIAL CONSIDERATION OF CHILE BY AD HOC PROCEDURES, SUCH AS THE USE OF A RAPPORTEUR, CONTENDING THAT THESE MEASURES HAVE NO LEGAL OR MORAL VALIDITY.

AS IN PREVIOUS YEARS, THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE IS ON THE 1981 AGENDA OF THE UNGA AND THE UNHRC. IT IS NOT EXPECTED TO BE VOTED ON UNTIL LATER THIS YEAR.

THE INTERGOVERNMENTAL COMMITTEE FOR MIGRATION ~~(ICEM)~~ HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN CHILE, CONDUCTING A PROGRAM PERMITTING CONVICTED POLITICAL PRISONERS AN OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE OUT THEIR SENTENCES IN EXILE. THE GOVERNMENT COOPERATED IN MAKING THIS PROGRAM POSSIBLE. COUNTING ALL CATEGORIES OF REFUGEES, THE COMMITTEE HAS MOVED SOME 20,000 PEOPLE OUT OF CHILE SINCE THE COUP. 1973

AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL, THE LAWYER'S COMMITTEE FOR INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS AND OTHER NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE EXPRESSED SPECIAL CONCERN OVER CHILE. DURING 1981, THE FIRST TWO ORGANIZATIONS ISSUED REPORTS ALLEGING A RELATIVE INCREASE IN HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS IN CHILE AND CRITICIZING THE GOVERNMENT FOR ITS FAILURE TO PROTECT THE RIGHTS OF DETAINEES OR PEOPLE WHO HAVE DISAPPEARED. ALTHOUGH THE GOVERNMENT BELIEVES THAT VIRTUALLY ALL OF THE REPORTS PRODUCED BY THESE FOREIGN ORGANIZATIONS EXAGGERATE THE SCOPE AND VOLUME OF ABUSES, IT HAS PERMITTED VISITS BY THEIR REPRESENTATIVES.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, ALONG WITH THE REPRESENTATIVES OF SEVERAL OTHERRELIGIOUS COMMUNITIES, HAS TAKEN THE LEAD IN DEFENDING HUMAN RIGHTS AND IMPLEMENTING SOCIAL ACTION PROGRAMS. THIS HAS RESULTED IN VISIBLE TENSIONS BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE CHURCH, AND DISAGREEMENT OVER THE CHURCH POSITION BY MORE CONSERVATIVE CATHOLICS. CHURCH ACTIVISTS AND HUMAN RIGHTS LAWYERS HAVE BEEN ANONYMOUSLY THREATENED.

THE CHILEAN COMMISSION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, NOW THREE YEARS OLD, HAS ALSO PUBLICIZED ABUSES AND SPOKEN OUT STRONGLY AGAINST THEM. IT AND THE OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS OPERATE OPENLY, ALBEIT CAUTIOUSLY, IN CHILE; SOME OF THEIR MEMBERS HAVE EXPERIENCED HARRASSMENT IN THE FORM OF ARRESTS AND SEARCHES AND, IN AUGUST 1981, ITS PRESIDENT, JAIME CASTILLO, WAS EXPELLED FROM CHILE FOR POLITICAL ACTIVITY.

FOR OVER FORTY YEARS PRIOR TO THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT, CHILE ~~[illegible]~~ ATTEMPTED TO INDUCE DOMESTIC INDUSTRIALIZATION AND TO INSULATE THE ECONOMY FROM FOREIGN ECONOMIC FLUCTUATIONS THROUGH TRADE PROTECTIONISM AND EXTENSIVE GOVERNMENT INTERVENTION IN THE ECONOMY. SUCH MEASURES, HOWEVER, PREVENTED THE ECONOMY FROM BEING STRUCTURED ALONG THE LINES OF ITS COMPARATIVE ADVANTAGE, EXCEPT IN THE NOTABLE CASE OF COPPER, UPON WHICH CHILE BECAME EXCESSIVELY DEPENDENT FOR EXPORT EARNINGS. WITHOUT AN EFFICIENT ECONOMIC BASE, THE ECONOMY GREW SLOWLY, SUFFERED ENDEMIC INFLATION, AND EXPERIENCED CHRONIC BALANCE OF PAYMENTS DIFFICULTIES.

THE PROCESS OF GOVERNMENT INTERVENTION IN THE ECONOMY REACHED A PEAK DURING THE ALLENDE YEARS (1971-73) WITH DISASTROUS ECONOMIC RESULTS THAT HELPED BRING ABOUT ~~THE~~ MILITARY INTERVENTION. THE MAJOR ECONOMIC POLICY CHANGES IMPLEMENTED BY THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT INCLUDED OPENING UP THE ECONOMY TO FOREIGN COMPETITION BY LOWERING TARIFFS IN STEPS TO A BASIC LEVEL OF 10 PERCENT; SELLING HUNDREDS OF NATIONALIZED COMPANIES TO THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND REQUIRING THOSE COMPANIES REMAINING UNDER STATE CONTROL TO OPERATE COMPETITIVELY WITHOUT SUBSIDIES; ENDING PRICE CONTROLS AND MANY CUMBERSOME GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS; ELIMINATING THE FISCAL DEFICIT; OVERHAULING THE TAX SYSTEM; LIBERALIZING CAPITAL FLOWS; AND WELCOMING FOREIGN INVESTMENT BY GRANTING IT THE SAME TREATMENT AS DOMESTIC CAPITAL AND PERMITTING LIBERAL PROFIT REMITTANCES.

THESE NEW POLICIES ARE OFTEN BLAMED BY CRITICS FOR THE SHARP RECESSION OF 1975 WHICH SAW GNP DECLINE 13 PERCENT AND UNEMPLOYMENT RISE TO NEARLY 20 PERCENT. IT MAY ALSO BE ARGUED THAT REGARDLESS OF WHAT POLICIES HAD BEEN IN EFFECT IN 1975, CHILE WOULD HAVE EXPERIENCED A SEVERE RECESSION. IN 1975, WHEN MOST OF THE NEW POLICIES FOR THE ECONOMY WERE ESTABLISHED, COPPER PRICES HAD JUST DECLINED BY HALF, OIL PRICES HAD COMPLETED THEIR LARGE JUMP AS A RESULT OF THE OPEC CARTEL ACTIONS, AND CHILE HAD ONE OF ITS LOWEST CREDIT RATINGS EVER.

THE SEVERE ECONOMIC DECLINE BOTTOMED OUT IN EARLY 1976. SUBSEQUENTLY THE ECONOMY HAS EXPANDED AT HISTORICALLY UNPRECEDENTED RATES. FROM 1976 TO 1980, REAL GDP GROWTH AVERAGED MORE THAN 7 PERCENT PER YEAR, CONSIDERABLY ABOVE THE HISTORICAL AVERAGE. IN 1981, REAL GROWTH IS EXPECTED TO BE IN THE 4 TO 6 PERCENT RANGE, DESPITE THE INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC SLOWDOWN. AT THE SAME TIME, INFLATION HAS BEEN BROUGHT DOWN TO WHAT IS ESTIMATED TO BE ABOUT 18 PERCENT FOR 1981. BY THE END OF 1980, REAL WAGES HAD MORE THAN DOUBLED FROM THE LOW AVERAGE OF 1973. THE OFFICIAL UNEMPLOYMENT RATE, OF ABOUT 9 PERCENT IN SANTIAGO BY MID-1981, IS DOWN FROM 19.6 AT THE BOTTOM OF THE DEPRESSION IN EARLY 1976.

CHILE'S FREE MARKET-ORIENTED ECONOMIC POLICIES ESTABLISH A SUBSIDIARY ROLE FOR THE STATE. NONETHELESS, AUTHORITIES BELIEVE THAT THE GOVERNMENT RETAINS A RESPONSIBILITY TO ALLEVIATE THE CONDITIONS OF POVERTY AND TO PROMOTE MORE EQUAL OPPORTUNITY THROUGH BETTER ACCESS TO BASIC EDUCATION, NUTRITION AND HEALTH PROGRAMS. SOCIAL PROGRAMS HAVE BEEN FOCUSED MORE ON THE POOR IN RECENT YEARS AND THE ELIMINATION OF "EXTREME POVERTY" HAS BEEN DECLARED TO BE A PRIMARY SOCIO-ECONOMIC OBJECTIVE. A GREATER EFFORT IS REQUIRED IN RURAL AREAS WHERE THE DISPERSION OF THE EXTREMELY NEEDY LIMITS ACCESS TO GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS.

THE GOAL OF ELIMINATING EXTREME POVERTY WAS MADE MORE DIFFICULT BY THE AUSTERITY MEASURES REQUIRED IN 1975 AND BY THE GOVERNMENT'S DETERMINATION TO REDUCE THE SIZE OF THE PUBLIC SECTOR. WHILE THE PERCENTAGE OF THE BUDGET DESIGNATED FOR SOCIAL PROGRAMS REMAINED HIGH, ABSOLUTE SPENDING LEVELS DROPPED OFF UNDER THE AUSTERITY PROGRAM. SINCE THEN, THE LEVEL OF SOCIAL EXPENDITURES HAS RECOVERED. IN 1980, 53.4 PERCENT OF TOTAL GOVERNMENT EXPENDITURE WAS DEVOTED TO SOCIAL PROGRAMS WHICH AMOUNTED TO $268 PER CAPITA, THE HIGHEST FIGURE (IN CONSTANT DOLLARS) IN CHILEAN HISTORY. THE PERCENTAGE OF THE 1981 BUDGET ALLOCATED TO SOCIAL PROGRAMS REMAINS IN EXCESS OF 50 PERCENT. EFFECTIVENESS OF SOCIAL PROGRAMS IS SUBJECT TO INTERPRETATION AND ESTIMATES OF CHILEANS LIVING UNDER CONDITIONS OF EXTREME POVERTY RANGE FROM 13.6 TO 23 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION.

OTHER INDICATIONS OF PROGRESS ARE LESS CONTROVERSIAL. HEALTH AND NUTRITION PROGRAMS HAVE LED TO REDUCTIONS IN THE INCIDENCE OF MALNUTRITION IN THE INFANTILE POPULATION TREATED UNDER THE NATIONAL HEALTH SERVICE (SOME ONE MILLION CHILDREN UNDER SIX YEARS OF AGE) FROM 15.4 PERCENT IN 1975 TO 12.2 PERCENT IN 1979 AND IN THE INCIDENCE OF ADVANCED MALNUTRITION

FROM 8.7 TO 8.2 PERCENT. THIS IMPROVEMENT STEMS, IN PART FROM GOVERNMENT FOOD PROGRAMS, THE ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW NURSERY SCHOOLS AND NUTRITION CLASSES FOR PARENTS. THERE ALSO HAVE BEEN STEADY DECLINES IN INFANT MORTALITY, FROM 78.3 PER THOUSAND LIVE BIRTHS IN 1970 TO 31.9 IN 1980, AND IN MATERNAL MORTALITY AT CHILDBIRTH FROM 1.68 TO .73 PER THOUSAND LIVE BIRTHS OVER THE PERIOD 1978-79. FROM 1970 TO 1979, THE OVERALL DEATH RATE PER THOUSAND DECLINED FROM 8.9 TO 6.8, AND AVERAGE LIFE EXPECTANCY INCREASED FROM 63.2 TO 66.9 YEARS. THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH ESTIMATES THAT THE HEALTH NEEDS OF 95 PERCENT OF THE POPULATION ARE NOW BEING MET, PARTICULARLY AS A RESULT OF THE EXTENSIVE NETWORK OF ~~220~~ HOSPITALS, ~~350~~ CLINICS AND ~~1,200~~ EMERGENCY HEALTH UNITS.

IN 1981 THE GOVERNMENT ~~OF CHILE~~ INSTITUTED A MAJOR OVERHAUL OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM WHICH WAS, BY ALL ACCOUNTS, INEQUITABLE. THIS INVOLVED THE RESTRUCTURING OF SOCIAL SECURITY CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE VARIOUS SEMI-PUBLIC PENSION FUNDS TO CONFORM TO BENEFITS RECEIVED, AND THE INSTITUTION OF PRIVATE PENSION AND HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS. PARTICPANTS UNDER THE NEW, PRIVATE PLAN--WHICH BECOMES COMPULSORY FOR NEW ENTRANTS TO THE LABOR FORCE AFTER 1982-- PAY 17 PERCENT OF GROSS SALARY TOWARD PENSION (10 PERCENT) HEALTH (4 PERCENT) AND DISABILITY AND SURVIVOR INSURANCE (3PERCENT). WHILE THE EMPLOYER IS NO LONGER REQUIRED TO PAY FROM 17 TO 31 PERCENT OF SALARY DIRECTLY FOR SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS, HE MUST INCREASE THE SALARY OF EMPLOYEES WHO CHOSE THE NEW SYSTEM BY 6 TO 17 PERCENT. THE PENSION CONTRIBUTION IS PAID TO A PRIVATE, GOVERNMENT REGULATED PENSION FUND ADMINISTRATOR WHO INVESTS THE CAPITAL ON BEHALF OF THE INDIVIDUAL CONTRIBUTOR. THE GOVERNMENT REQUIRES THAT EACH PENSION FUND ADMINISTRATOR PAY NO LESS THAN 2 PERCENTAGE POINTS BELOW THE AVERAGE MONTHLY RETURN ON INVESTED FUNDS PROVIDED BY ALL ADMINISTRATORS. THIS REQUIREMENT AND THE SECURITY OF THE PENSION FUNDS ARE ULTIMATELY BACKED BY THE GOVERNMENT'S OWN RESOURCES, IN THE EVENT AN INDIVIDUAL PENSION FUND ADMINISTRATOR DEFAULTS. THE GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, DOES NOT GUARANTEE AGAINST LOSSES DUE TO POOR AVERAGE ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE OF THE SYSTEM. THUS, EXCEPT FOR A MINIMUM PENSION (CURRENTLY ABOUT $95/MONTH) GUARANTEED BY THE GOVERNMENT AGAINST ALL CIRCUMSTANCES, PENSION BENEFITS ARE ULTIMATELY TIED TO OVERALL ECONOMIC PERFORMANCE. AN INDIVIDUAL'S CONTRIBUTION FOR HEALTH SERVICES MAY BE MADE TO A PRIVATE INSTITUTION (A GROUP HEALTH PLAN OR A MEDICAL INSURANCE FUND) OR THE GOVERNMENT HEALTH SERVICE. THE GOVERNMENT MAINTAINS THAT THE ELEMENT OF CHOICE INSURES MEDICAL SERVICES AS GOOD AS OR BETTER THAN AVAILABLE THROUGH THE GOVERNMENT HEALTH SERVICES.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS INCREASED FUNDING SUPPORT TO ALL LEVELS OF EDUCATION, PARTICULARLY TO PRE-PRIMARY, PRIMARY, AND INTERMEDIATE LEVELS. ALTHOUGH UNIVERSITIES STILL RECEIVE BY FAR THE GREATER SUBSIDY PER STUDENT, CURRENT POLICY IS DESIGNED TO REDUCE THE EXTENT OF SUBSIDIZATION FOR THE SMALL, GENERALLY LESS NEEDY UNIVERSITY SEGMENT OF THE POPULATION. A GOVERNMENT LOAN PROGRAM WAS INSTITUTED IN 1981, TO HELP FINANCE INDIVIDUAL STUDENTS' UNIVERSITY EDUCATION.

DESPITE CHILE'S HIGH LITERACY RATE AND HIGH PRIMARY SCHOOL ENROLLMENT RATIOS, THE AVERAGE NUMBER OF YEARS OF SCHOOL ATTENDED IS 4.7. BESIDES IMPROVING THE AVAILABILITY OF PRE-PRIMARY AND BASIC EDUCATION, GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS ATTEMPT TO IMPROVE THIS AVERAGE BY LINKING SPECIAL FAMILY WELFARE PAYMENTS FOR THE CHILDREN OF THE POOR TO THEIR SCHOOL ATTENDANCE. PROGRAMS FOR ADULT EDUCATION HAVE BEEN AUGMENTED WITH PARTICULAR EMPHASIS BEING PLACED ON LITERACY. IN 1980 A NEW LITERACY CAMPAIGN WAS INSTITUTED TO BENEFIT THE URBAN AND RURAL POOR. THE OBJECTIVE OF THE PROGRAM IS TO REDUCE ILLITERACY THROUGH A SYSTEM OF SIX MONTH COURSES OFFERED TO 400,000 PERSONS OVER A FIVE YEAR PERIOD. ANOTHER 150,000 ADULTS ARE TO BE PROVIDED ADDITIONAL PRIMARY EDUCATION.

PUBLIC EDUCATION IS NOW BEING DECENTRALIZED THROUGH THE TRANSFER OF FEDERAL EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS TO MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENTS. AT THE SAME TIME TUITION FREE PRIVATE (MOSTLY CATHOLIC) SCHOOLS HAVE RECEIVED INCREASED GOVERNMENT FINANCIAL SUPPORT.

~~RECENT FIGURES FOR AVERAGE NUMBER OF PERSONS HOUSED PER ROOM WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE UNTIL A NEW CENSUS IS UNDERTAKEN BUT~~ CHILE'S HOUSING NEEDS ARE KNOWN TO BE ACUTE. ALTHOUGH CONSTRUCTION REACHED A HIGH POINT OF 58,000 UNITS ANNUALLY IN 1980, IT WILL HAVE TO RISE CONSIDERABLY IF THE GOVERNMENT'S COMMITMENT TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF 900,000 UNITS BY THE TURN OF THE DECADE IS TO BE MET.

THE BULK OF THE BURDEN WILL BE LEFT TO THE PRIVATE SECTOR BUT GOVERNMENT HOUSING SUBSIDIES SHOULD PROVIDE SOME HELP. THE FORMERLY COSTLY AND INEFFICIENT SYSTEM OF LOAN SUBSIDIES, WHICH BENEFITED MIDDLE INCOME GROUPS MORE THAN THE POOR, HAS BEEN REPLACED BY A SYSTEM OF DIRECT SUBSIDIES, INVERSELY RELATED TO THE VALUE OF THE DWELLING, INTENDED TO HELP LOW INCOME BENEFICIARIES TO PURCHASE HOMES IN THE PRIVATE SECTOR. THE 1981 BUDGET ALLOWS FOR 17,800 HOUSING AND SUBSIDIES: 10,000 ALLOCATED TO URBAN AREAS, AND 2,800 TO RURAL AREAS FOR BENEFICIARIES WITH SOME PRIOR SAVINGS TO COVER DOWN PAYMENTS AND ANOTHER 15,000 WITHOUT A REQUIREMENT OF PRIOR SAVINGS. MODEST AMOUNTS OF ADDITIONAL FUNDS CONTINUE TO BE SPENT PROVIDING PUBLIC SERVICES TO POOR AREAS.

THE IMPACT OF GOVERNMENT ECONOMIC POLICIES ON LOWER INCOME PORTIONS OF THE POPULATION REMAINS A CONTROVERSIAL ISSUE IN CHILE. ON THE ONE HAND, IT IS ARGUED THAT THE PRESENT ECONOMIC POLICIES HAVE NOT BROUGHT UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN TO A LOW ENOUGH LEVEL AND HAVE NOT INCREASED THE PURCHASING POWER OF THE POOR RAPIDLY ENOUGH. ON THE OTHER HAND, IT IS ARGUED THAT CHILE'S ENDEMIC INFLATION AND HYPERINFLATION OF THE EARLY 1970'S HAD THE MOST SEVERE IMPACT ON LOW INCOME CATEGORIES AND THAT THE RECENT LOWERING OF INFLATION HAS THEREFORE HELPED THE LOWEST INCOME GROUPS. WHILE THE PRESENT REGIME IS MAKING A DETERMINED EFFORT TO CHANNEL MORE RESOURCES TO POORER SECTORS, THERE REMAINS A SIGNIFICANT BREACH BETWEEN RESOURCES AND NEEDS.

OF THE TGGH, OCTOBER 23 IN WHICH HE SAID THE JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES WILL RELEASE THE TRANSCRIPTS AND RECORDINGS OF THE INTERVIEW OF CHEN WHEN THE INVESTIGATION REACHES A CERTAIN STAGE. HE SAID THE SUGGESTIONS IN THE DEGROOT REPORT ABOUT THE TGGH WILL BE SERIOUSLY CONSIDERED. HE SAID THE SUGGESTION THAT THE GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE THAT THE OPINIONS

A FORMER POLICE OFFICIAL SAID THAT THE OUTCOME OF TESTS ALREADY UNDERTAKEN RELATING TO THE DISTANCE OF THE BODY FROM THE NTU LIBRARY WOULD IMPORTANTLY INFLUENCE THE DETERMINATION OF WHETHER THE DEATH WAS AN ACCIDENT, SUICIDE OR HOMOCIDE.

– MOST MAJOR PAPERS REPORTED OCTOBER 24 THAT HAN LIH-WU, CHAIRMAN OF THE CHINESE ASSOCIATION FOR HUMAN RIGHTS, SAID ON OCTOBER 23 THAT PROFESSOR DEGROOT'S PROPOSAL THAT AN INDEPENDENT NON-GOVERNMENTAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE THE CHEN CASE BE FORMED WAS AN AMERICAN PRACTICE WHICH WAS NOT COINCIDENT WITH THE SOCIAL STRUCTURE AND CONDITIONS OF THE ORIENT.

– THE UNITED DAILY NEWS REPORTED OCTOBER 24 SHIH MING-CHIANG, CHIEF PROSECUTOR OF THE TAIPEI DISTRICT COURT, SAID OCTOBER 23 THAT MUCH EVIDENCE AND THE TAPE RECORDING OF CHEN'S

INTERVIEW AT THE TGGH CANNOT BE MADE PUBLIC BECAUSE THE INVESTIGATION IS STILL IN PROGRESS.

– THE UNITED DAILY NEWS REPORTED OCTOBER 24 THE TGGH SAID OCTOBER 23 THAT THE TAPE RECORDING OF CHEN'S INTERVIEW COULD NOT YET BE MADE PUBLIC BECAUSE IT INVOLVED OTHER AFFAIRS AND PERSONS, SOME OF WHOM ARE ABROAD AND MIGHT BE UNNECESSARILY DAMAGED BY THE TAPE'S CONTENT.

COMMENTS ON THE CHEN CASE

– THE CHINA TIMES REPORTED OCTOBER 23 PROFESSOR YANG KUO-SHU SAID THE PEOPLE'S LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN THE GOVERNMENT GROWS WHEN THE GOVERNMENT FAILS TO PRACTICE WHAT IT PREACHES. PROFESSOR CHU HAI-YUAN OF NTU SAID THE CASE INFLUENCED INTELLECTUALS THE MOST, BECAUSE THEY THINK INFORMATION FROM ABROAD IS MORE RELIABLE AND CREDIBLE THAN LOCAL REPORTS. PROFESSOR RUDOLF CHU SAID TO BUILD CONFIDENCE IN THE GOVERNMENT IS A TOP PRIORITY TODAY.

HE SAID PEOPLE DID NOT BELIEVE IN THE AUTOPSY UNTIL IT WAS PROVED CORRECT BY OUTSIDERS.

-- THE UNITED DAILY NEWS SAID IN AN EDITORIAL OCTOBER 23 THE DEGROOT REPORT BASICALLY SUPPORTS THE CONCLUSIONS OF THE TAIPEI DISTRICT PROSECUTOR AND HAS CLARIFIED CERTAIN DOUBTS AND RUMORS. HOWEVER, IT SAID, THE GOVERNMENT AND THE JUDICIAL AUTHORITIES SHOULD CONTINUE THE EFFORT TO BE HONEST WITH THE PUBLIC.

2. SUMMARY: ON NOVEMBER 2 FATHER RFAEL URRUTIA TOLD POLOFF THAT ON NOVEMBER 13 TWO REPRESENTATIVES OF CARDINAL COOKE WILL ARRIVE HERE PROBABLY ON A MISSION RELATED TO THE CHURCHWOMEN MURDERS INVESTIGAION. URRUTIA IS ATTEMPTING TO LOCATE FRANCISCO SERRANO AND WILL ATTEMPT TO CONVINCE FATHER BRITO TO TALK WITH EMBOFFS ABOUT THE STOP AND SEARCH OUTSIDE THE AIRPORT ON DECEMBER 2, 1980. URRUTIA SEES SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS IN DEPOLITICIZING THE CHURCH. END SUMMARY.

4. URRUTIA TOLD POLOFF THAT MARIO PAREDES OF THE NEW YORK ARCHDIOCESE WOULD ARIVE IN SAN SALVADOR ON NOVEMBER 13 ACCOMPANYING AN EMISSARY OF CARDINL COOKE. URRUTIA SAID--IN STRICT CONFIDENCE--THAT HE BELIEVES THAT THE TWO MEN HAVE SOMETHING SIGNIFICANT RELATIVE TO THE CHURCHWOMEN MURDERS WHICH THEY WISH TO DISCUSS WITH BISHOP RIVERA. HE ADDED THAT PARHAS REQUESTED A MEETING WITH EMBOFFS AND ASKED, IF POSSIBLE, FOR USG TRANSPORATION BETWEEN THE AIRPORT AND SAN SALVADOR.

5. POLOFF RENEWED A REQUEST FOR URRUTIA'S ASSISTANCE IN LOCATING FRANCISCO SERRANO, THE SACRISTAN WHO CLAIMS TO HAVE SEEN A LIST OF PEOPLE MARKED FOR DEATH WHICH INCLUDED THE NAMES OF ITA FORD AND MAURA CLARKS. URRUTIA SAID HE WOULD PROBABLY HAVE SERRANO LOCATED IN ANOTHER WEEK. POLOFF ALSO ASKED URRUTIA TO CONVINCE FATHER BRITO TO SPEAK ITH EMBOFFS ABOUT THE STOP AND SEARCH OF THE VEHICLE HE WAS DRIVING FROM THE AIRPORT ON DECEMBER 2, 1980. URRUTIA EXPLAINED THAT FATHER BRITTO IS AN EXTREMELY FEARFUL MAN AND THUS UNWILLING TO TALK ABOUT HIS DECEMBER EXPERIENCE. NEVERTHELESS, URRUTIA CONSIDERED THAT HE COULD CONVINCE HIS COLLEAGUE TO SPEAK WITH POLOFF ABOUT THE INCIDENT.

6. URRUTIA ALSO SUD THAT THE CHURCH IS SUCCESSFULLY DEPOLITICIZING ITSELF UNDER BISHOP RIVERA'S LEADERSHIP. FOR THE MOST PART, HE SAID, PRIESTS WHO WERE INVOLVED IN REVOLUTION HAVE LEFT. HE ADDED THAT THOSE WHO OPPOSED THEM AND ARE STILL HERE ARE THE ONES WHO ARE PAYING THE PRICE FOR THE ACTIVITIES OF THE DEPARTED REVOLUTIONARIES BUT, DESPITE THE, PROBLEMS--THREATENING LEAFLETS AND TELPHONE CALLS FOLLOWING THE PELLECER DECLARATIONS, FOR INSTATNCE--THINGS, SAID URRUTIA, ARE GETTING BETTER. THERE ARE TWICE AS MANY APPLICANTS AS THERE ARE PLACES FOR THE NEXT ENTERING CLASS OF SEMINARIANS, A NEW AND POSITIVE DEVELOPMENT, HU SAID. ANOTHER POSITIVE ELEMENT, URRUTIA ADDED, IS THAT THE APPLICANTS SEEM TO BE LESS INCLINED TOWARD REVOLUTIONARY POLITICS AND MORE TOWARD SINCERE RELIGIOUS WORK THAN APPLICANTS IN THE PAST.

Chile: Terrorism's Mounting Toll (C)

The President of the Chilean Supreme Court, Dr. Israel Borquez, was seriously wounded in a well-coordinated assasination attempt on November 6. Four days later a car carrying four men who apparently were planning a similar attack on Foreign Minister Rene Rojas was fired upon in front of Rojas' home by security guards and exploded, killing the occupants.

Those responsible for the attempt on Borquez's life and the aborted attack on the Foreign Minister, as well as numerous other attacks on government personnel, bombings, sabotage and bank robberies in the past year, probably are members of the outlawed Movement of the Revolutionary Left (MIR). Their ultimate objective is to provoke President Pinochet to carry out a harsh crackdown. Such action, they hope, would trigger a spontaneous popular rising to overthrow the regime that has dominated Chile since 1973. Frustrated by the glacial progress toward democratic rule and the restraints on political activity and dissent, the small radical left in Chile considers violence the only effective vehicle of political expression.

Their hope of sparking a revolt against Pinochet, however, is a chimera. The economic recovery and political stability that military rule has brought to Chile, after the chaos of the Allende years, have turned most Chileans into passive supporters of the status quo. The government, moreover, has skillfully balanced incentives and repression. The current wave of terrorism probably will not provoke the security forces to resort to extreme measures that could play into the hands of the radical left.

SUBJECT: 36TH UNGA: THIRD COMMITTEE: DRAFT RESOLUTION ON CHILE

1. USUN HAS OBTAINED ADVANCE TEXT OF DRAFT RESOLUTION ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE TO BE TABLED 11/20 UNDER ITEM 12 BY DENMARK, NETHERLANDS, AND OTHERS. (IT IS POSSIBLE THAT THERE WILL ALSO BE A SECOND, MORE CRITICAL RESOLUTION ON CHILE DRAFTED BY MEXICO AND CUBA). THE RESOLUTION DRAFTED BY DENMARK AND NETHERLANDS IS GENERALLY STRONGER AND MORE DETAILED THAN THAT ADOPTED BY THE 35TH UNGA (RES 35/188, ON WHICH THE US VOTED IN FAVOR). THE DRAFTERS EXPLAIN THAT THEY STRENGTHENED THE TEXT IN KEEPING WITH THE TONE OF THE RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION IN FEBRUARY 1981 (RES 9 (XXXVII)), ADOPTED BY A VOTE OF 22-~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

ABUSES IN CHILE WHICH WITHOUT QUESTION HAVE TAKEN PLACE AND WHICH THE US DOES NOT CONDONE.

2. CHILE IS SEEKING SPONSORS FOR A PROCEDURAL RESOLUTION WHICH IT HOPES COULD BE SUBSTITUTED FOR THIS WHICH WOULD REFER THE QUESTION TO THE HUMAN RIGHTS SUBCOMMISSION. CHILE WOULD PREFER THIS BECAUSE IT IS LESS POLITICIZED AND PUBLIC (REPORTS ARE MADE CONFIDENTIALLY TO GOVERNMENTS) AND BECAUSE A NUMBER OF OTHER COUNTRIES' HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS ARE ALSO REVIEWED THERE. COLOMBIA OR COSTA RICA ARE CONSIDERING ACTING AS SPONSORS.

3. USUN'S INITIAL INCLINATION IS TO SUPPORT CHILE'S EFFORT TO SUBSTITUTE A PROCEDURAL RESOLUTION. IF THIS FAILS, USUN RECOMMENDS VOTING AGAINST THE DANISH/DUTCH DRAFT AND DELIVERING AN EXPLANATION OF VOTE ALONG THE LINES OF THAT GIVEN BY MICHAEL NOVAK IN FEBRUARY. SPECIFIC EXAMPLES WHICH COULD BE CITED IN IMPROVEMENT OF THE SITUATION IN CHILE SINCE LAST FEBRUARY WOULD BE HELPFUL.

1. (C - ENTIRE TEXT).

2. FROM OUR VANTAGE POINT, COURSE OF ACTION SUGGESTED IN PARA 3 OF REFTEL SEEMS SENSIBLE. MOVING AWAY FROM THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR AND INTO REGULAR UN HUMAN RIGHTS CHANNELS IS THE MOST LIKELY WAY TO GET CHILE TO COOPERATE WITH THE UN. VOTING FOR THE PROPOSED PROCEDURAL RESOLUTION WOULD THUS CONTRIBUTE MORE TO PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS THAN THE TRADITIONAL AND INEFFECTIVE CONDEMNATIONS OF CHILE. IF THIS EFFORT IS NOT SUCCESSFUL, IT WOULD BE CONSISTENT WITH OUR POSITION IN THE UNHRC IN FEBRUARY TO VOTE AGAINST THE DANISH/DUTCH DRAFT OR ANY OTHER RESOLUTION WHICH WOULD EXTEND THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR.

3. IN DISCUSSING THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE, IT IS PROBABLY MORE PERSUASIVE TO ARGUE THAT THERE HAS BEEN CONFIDENTIAL

SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENT SINCE 1977 AND THAT THE UN REPORTS AND RESOLUTIONS HAVE FAILED TO RECOGNIZE SUCH PROGRESS, RATHER THAN TO SEEK TO SHOW SPECIFIC IMPROVEMENTS IN 1981. THE RECORD FOR 1981 IS MIXED, WITH SOME FAVORABLE DEVELOPMENTS AND OTHERS LESS SO. ON THE FAVORABLE SIDE, REPORTS OF TORTURE ARE AT A LOWER RATE THAN 1980, AS ARE CASES

OF THIS EFFORT, ACCORDING TO CARNITI, IS TO LAUNCH A "POSITIVE INITIATIVE" ON BEHALF OF THE RIGHTS OF CHILEAN WORKERS AND ESPECIALLY OF IMPRISONED TRADE UNION LEADERS. CARNITI ADDS HIS OWN CONCERN ABOUT THE POSSIBLE "NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES" WHICH RESUMPTION OF U.S. MILITARY AID TO CHILE COULD HAVE UPON CHILEAN WORKERS, BECAUSE -- CHILEAN DECLARATIONS TO THE

CONTRARY NOTWITHSTANDING -- HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT INTENDS TO RESPECT THE HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS WHICH ARE THE "FUNDAMENTAL PATRIMONY OF OUR TWO COUNTRIES WHICH REALLY BELIEVE IN LIBERTY AND DEMOCRACY."

3. ICFTU POSITION PAPER, DATED OCTOBER 1981, IS A 7-PAGE DOCUMENT WHICH ENDEAVORS TO PRESENT AN OVERVIEW OF THE LABOR SITUATION IN CHILE SINCE 1973. IT DENOUNCES THE CURRENT CHILEAN GOVERNMENT FOR SEEKING TO PROMOTE RAPID ECONOMIC GROWTH "WHATEVER ITS SOCIAL COST" -- I.E., AT THE EXPENSE OF THE WORKERS. PAPER DISCUSSES THE CREATION AND PROGRAM OF THE COORDINACION NACIONAL SINDICAL (CNS) AND THE TRIAL AND IMPRISONMENT OF MANUEL BUSTOS, ALAMIRO GUZMAN AND OTHER CNS LEADERS. IT CONCLUDES THAT RECENT ACTIONS AGAINST CNS CONSTITUTE "A NEW ATTACK ON CHILEAN WORKERS."

4. COMMENT. CARNITI'S ENCLOSURE IS PRESUMABLY ONE OF THE ICFTU STUDY PAPERS REFERRED TO IN REFTEL, WHOSE AIM INTER ALIA IS TO PRESSURE GOVERNMENTS OF INDUSTRIAL COUNTRIES INTO DESISTING FROM PROVIDING MILITARY/ECONOMIC AND/OR POLITICAL COOPERATION TO MILITARY REGIMES. END COMMENT.

IN THE LETTER, CASTILLO STATED HE WILL SEND A NEW PETITION TO CHILEAN AUTHORITIES REQUESTING RECONSIDERATION OF HIS EXPULSION. FROM : POL -- Don Harrington

SUBJECT: November 16 Article on "disguised executions" in Miami Herald

On November 17, I spoke with Alejandro Gonzalez of the Vic about the above article. He said it did not represent the public, official view of the Vic and, if challenged by the government, would be denied as unauthorized. Speaking more personally, however, he said that, while Caucoto (a collaborator and not a full-time lawyer of the Vic) and Lopez may have acted imprudently in publicly stating their ideas, they were merely saying what was the moral but unprovable conviction of the Vic. In the case of Sandoval, for example, there were witnesses to the "execution" but Gonzalez feared they would not stand up to government pressure. In partial support of the above, he gave me the attached internal communication of the Vicaria (see marked passages).

Gonzalez also showed me a printed version of the article which had been given him by William Long prior to its publication and he spoke of Long as a newspaperman with whom he had had previous relations and in whom he had confidence.

3. AS FURTHER BACKGROUND ON INITIATIVE BY CARNITI (AND POSSIBLE SIMILAR INITIATIVES BY SOME OTHER ICFTU AFFILIATES), WE WOULD NOTE THAT RESOLUTION ON POLITICAL AND TRADE UNION SITUATION IN SOUTH AMERICA ADOPTED BY EXECUTIVE BOARD AT ITS MEETING ON JULY 1981, INVITED "ALL AFFILIATES, ESPECIALLY THOSE IN INDUSTRIALIZED COUNTRIES, TO PUT PRESSURE ON THEIR RESPECTIVE GOVERNMENTS TO ENSURE THAT ALL FORMS OF AID, WHETHER MILITARY OR ECONOMIC, AND OF POLITICAL COLLABORATION ARE DISCONTINUED" WITH MILITARY REGIMES OF SOUTHERN CONE, INCLUDING CHILE. WE UNDERSTAND THAT, AT SEPTEMBER 4 MEETING OF ICFTU COMMITTEE FOR DEFENSE OF HUMAN AND TRADE UNION RIGHTS IN LATIN AMERICA, SOME PARTICIPANTS ADVOCATED EXTENSION OF SUCH ACTIONS BY AFFILIATES TO INCLUDE APPROACHES TO USG. THIS DISCUSSION MAY WELL HAVE BEEN CATALYST FOR ITALIANS AND SOME OTHERS EVEN THOUGH COMMITTEE DID NOT DECIDE TO MOUNT ANY SUCH FULLBLOWN CAMPAIGN. ICFTU HQS. AS WELL HAS NO PLANS TO ORCHESTRATE SUCH A CAMPAIGN ALTHOUGH IT IS OCCASIONALLY PUBLICIZING ACTIONS BY AFFILIATES IN CONTEXT OF JULY RESOLUTION. EXPULSION COULD NOT LEGALLY BE MAINTAINED BEYOND THE PERIOD OF VALIDITY OF THE DECREE UPON WHICH IT WAS BASED. CASTILLO THEN REVIEWED FOR THE CHARGE HIS ARGUMENT THAT THE NEW DECREE IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL BECAUSE:
-- EXPULSION ORDER ONLY BE ISSUED IN RESPONSE TO SPECIFIC ACTS COMMITED ON CHILEAN SOIL, AND
-- THE VALIDITY OF THESE ORDERS EXPIRES ALONG WITH THE STATE OF EMERGENCY UNDER WHICH THEY WERE ISSUED.
ACCORDING TO CASTILLO, THE CHILEAN CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS THE INDEFINITE RENEWAL OF SUCH ORDERS AND FOR THE SECOND EXPULSION ORDER AGAINST HIM TO BE BALID HE WOULD HAVE HAD TO HAVE COMMITTED A NEW EXPELLABLE ACT ON CHILEAN SOIL AFTER SEPTEMBER 11 -- WHICH HE HAS NOT DONE.

6. CASTILLO ARRIVED FOR HIS MEETING WITH THE CHARGE IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING A LUNCHEON WITH THE VENEZUELAN MINISTER OF INFORMATION AND TOURISM. HE CANDIDLY STATED THAT HIS CURRENT STRATEGY IS TO MAINTAIN PRIVATE AND PUBLIC PRESSURE ON THE GOC UNTIL IT ACCEDES TO HIS REQUEST TO BE ALLOWED TO RETURN.

SUBJECT: Terrorist Activity

Per your request this morning that I put this message in writing, here it is.

A close friend in the business community told me on Sunday that his security people said that they had heard that those responsible for the attempted assassinations of prominent GOC officials had received instructions to make an attempt on a head of a multinational corporation or on a diplomat. The same source said that his security people were led to believe that the orders for the previous, and possible future, terrorists activities come from outside Chile, and some specifically come from East Germany. In response to my friend's question about what we knew in the Embassy, I responded that we had understood that a few months ago terrorist groups had decided or had been instructed to make assassination attempts only on prominent GOC officials.

I am not in a position to evaluate the probable accuracy of the report from my friend but I can say that he does not have an alarmist-type personality and has been exposed to terrorist threats in at least one country in which the terrorist threat was probably greater than at present in Chile.

I delivered this message personally to Ambassador Landau yesterday.

I. BACKGROUND
A. DEVELOPMENT OF THE LABOR PLAN
REACTING IN LATE 1978 EARLY 1979 TO A THREAT BY THE ORIT

AND THE AFL-CIO TO BOYCOTT CHILEAN VESSELS AND GOODS DURING THE CRITICAL PERIOD OF THE EXPORT OF THE AGRICULTURAL HARVEST, THE GOC PROMOSED TO COME UP WITH A LAW THAT WOULD REINSTATE WITHIN SIX MONTHS A NUMBER OF TRADITIONAL TRADE UNION FREEDOMS SUCH AS, INTER ALIA, THE RIGHT TO STRIKE AND COLLECTIVE BARGAINING IN CHILE (ALMOST ALL TRADE UNION ACTIVITY HAD BEEN MADE ILLEGAL BY THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT SHORTLY AFTER THE SEPTEMBER 1973 COUP. AND, IN JULY, 1979, A SERIES OF DECREE LAWS WAS PROMULGATED CALLED THE LABOR PLAN (LP). THESE DECREE LAWS AND SUBSEQUENT MODIFICATIONS AND ADDITIONS, ALONG WITH A 1978 LAW REVISING THE MANDATORY INDIVIDUAL LABOR CONTRACT, FORMED THE BASIS FOR A NEW LABOR CODE COMPLETELY DIFFERENT FROM ANYTHING THAT HAD PREVIOUSLY EXISTED IN CHILE SINCE THE PASSAGE OF THE ORIGINAL LABOR CODE IN 1924, THE FIRST IN LATIN AMERICA.

THE GOC'S PUBLICLY STATED DOMESTIC PURPOSE FOR THE LP WAS TWO-FOLD: TO "DEPOLITICIZE" THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT, CREATING A "NEW TYPE" OF CHILEAN UNION AND CHILEAN WORKER; AND TO PARTIALLY REINSTATE TRADITIONAL TRADE UNION ACTIVITIES, BUT NOT TO THE EXTENT THAT A RENEWAL OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING MIGHT JEOPARDIZE THE GOC'S PREVAILING FREE MARKET ECONOMIC POLICIES. AT THE SAME TIME, OF COURSE, THE NEW LABOR LAWS HAD TO DEFUSE THE ABOVE MENTIONED BOYCOTT THREAT.

THE MOST IMPORTANT POINTS OF THE LP INCLUDED: PLACING A FLOOR ON WAGES AND BENEFITS TO BE NEGOTIATED AT THE EXISTING LEVEL PLUS ANY INCREASE IN THE CONSUMER PRICE INDEX SINCE THE LAST ADJUSTMENT; ALLOWING MANAGEMENT TO CHANGE THE WAGE-BENEFIT MIX AS LONG AS THE TOTAL PACKAGE WAS NOT REDUCED (A PARTICULAR BENEFIT, SUCH AS FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR A MEDICAL CLINIC, COULD BE REDUCED OR ELIMINATED AS LONG AS ITS NOMINAL VALUE WAS STIPULATED AND MADE UP SOMEWHERE ELSE IN THE CONTRACT); LIMITING COLLECTIVE BARGAINING TO THE PLANT OR INDIVIDUAL WORKER LEVEL, WHILE EXPLICITLY PROHIBITING FROM PARTICIPATING DIRECTLY IN BARGAINING THE NATIONAL FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS; NARROWING CONSIDERABLY THE SCOPE OF WHAT COULD BE LEGALLY BARGAINED; LIMITING A STRIKE TO 60 DAYS, AFTER WHICH TIME ALL STRIKING WORKERS ARE CONSIDERED TO HAVE VOLUNTARILY RESIGNED THEIR JOBS; PERMITTING, FOR THE FIRST TIME IN CHILE, MANAGEMENT TO HIRE "STRIKE BREAKERS"; PROHIBITING TRADITIONAL ACTIVITIES OF THE PUBLIC SECTOR UNIONS, DESPITE AN ALMOST SIMULTANEOUS CHILEAN VOTE AT THE ILO (1979) RECOGNIZING THE RIGHT OF PUBLIC SECTOR EMPLOYEES TO FORM UNIONS; AND PROHIBITING THE CLOSED OR UNION SHIP WHILE PERMITTING THE FORMATION OF MULTIPLE UNION ORGANIZATIONS (OR NO UNIONS)AT ALL LEVELS.

B. NEW FEATURES OF THE LP IN 1980-1981

MARITIME SECTOR TRADE UNIONS WERE INITIALLY EXEMPTED

FROM INCLUSION IN THE LP. ACCORDING TO A SURPRISINGLY FRANK ADMISSION TO LABATT BY A RANKING LABOR MINISTRY OFFICIAL, THE REASONS FOR THIS WERE THAT THE SECTOR IS TECHNICALLY DIFFERENT FROM THE REST, AND THAT THE GOC WAS AFRAID OF THE POWER AND INTERNATIONAL CONTACTS OF THE SECTOR'S OPPOSITION UNION LEADERS.

LAW 18011 OF JUNE 1981 INCORPORATED SHIP'S CREW AND OFFICERS INTO THE LP. THE NEW LAW REMOVED THE SEAMAN'S OR OFFICER'S CARD AS A REQUIREMENT FOR EMPLOYMENT ON BOARD A SHIP AND GAVE ALMOST TOTAL FREEDOM TO SHIPPING COMPANIES, TO USE NON-CHILEAN CREWS AND OFFICERS (EVEN ON CHILEAN FLAG VESSELS) AND TO USE FLAGS OF CONVENIENCE.

NOT SURPRISINGLY, THERE HAVE BEEN A FEW INSTANCES OF COMAPNIES CUTTING DOWN ON THE USE OF LOCAL FLAG VESSELS, AND IMPORTING INDIAN AND PHILLIPPINE NATIONALS AS CREW.

LAW 18032 OF SEPTEMBER 1981 INCORPORATED THE REST OF THE SECTOR, I.E., THOSE WHO WORK IN ANY OF THE SEVERAL UNIONS INVOLVED IN THE VARIOUS FACETS OF WORK ON THE DOCKS. IN THIS PARTICULAR CASE, HOWEVER, THE GOC EFFECTIVELY DESTROYED THE EXISTING UNION ORGANIZATIONS AND IN SO DOING UNDERMINED SOME OF THE MOST IMPORTANT AND OUTSPOKEN OPPOSITION UNION LEADERS IN THE SECTOR. ALL COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS WERE VOIDED EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY; UNION CARDS (MTRICULA) ARE NO LONGER VALID OR MANDATORY FOR DOCK WORK AND ARE REPLACED BY A "PERMIT" TO WORK IN THE PORT, AVAILABLE TO ANYBODY WITHOUT A PHYSICAL HANDICAP OR CRIMINAL RECORD; AND THE UNION "HIRING HALL" CONCEPT WILL BE

REPLACED BY CONTRACT SHIP HANDLING COMPANIES OR BY INDIVIDUAL WORKER CONTRACTS WITH SHIPPING COMPANIES, WHICH, BY LAW, CAN HAVE A DURATION OF NOW MORE THAN 20 DAYS. THUS, ALMOST ALL WHO WANT TO ARE NOW ELIGIBLE TO WORK IN THE PORTS, NOT JUST UNION MEMBERS; THEY WILL ALSO WORK FOR WHATEVER ARRANGEMENT THE WORKER

AND MANAGEMENT CAN AGREE ON, IN REALITY, WHAT MANAGEMENT WILL GIVM. MANAGEMENT, ON THE OTHER HAND, NO LONGER HAS TO ABIDE BY THE RELATIVELY HIGHWAGES AND RESTRICTIVE CONDITIONS OF THE PREVIOUS COLLECTIVE CONTRACTS (COMPARED WITH THE TOTAL FREEDOM THEY ARE NOW GIVEN), AND HAS TOTAL AUTHORITY TO DETERMINE THE SIZE OF THE WORK CREWS IT HIRES AND THE NUMBER OF SHIFTS WORKED. IN ADDITION, THE NEW SYSTEM WILL ELIMINATE A NOTORIOUS ABUSE OF THE PREVIOUS SYSTEM, WHEREIN THE HOLDER OF THE "MATRICULA" COULD, IN EFFECT, RENT OUT HIS MATRICULA FOR A FEW (USUALLY TO FRIENDS, NEIGHBORS OR RELATIVES), THUS EARNING A REASONABLE AMOUNT OF MONEY WITHOUT LIFTING A FINGER IF HE DID NOT WANT TO (THE MATRICULA WAS VALID FOR THE BEARER, NOT FOR THE INDIVIDUAL NAMED ON IT, WHICH MADE IT ALL POSSIBLE).

ANOTHER LAW (LAW 18018 OF JULY 1981,) WHICH BECAME PART OF THE LP RECENTLY, REVISED AND MADE UNIFORM DOZENS OF SPECIAL BENEFITS AND CONDITIONS WHICH HAD EXISTED FOR DIFFERENT GROUPS, SOME OF WHICH HAD EXISTED FOR DECADES. WHILE THIS LAW GENERALLY DEALT WITH THINGS SUCH AS EXTRA VACATION FOR CERTAIN DIFFICULT OCCUPATIONS OR FOR PERSONS WORKING IN REMOTE AREAS OF CHILE, SOME PROVISIONS OF IT WARRANT SPECIFIC MENTION. ONE IS THE REMOVAL OF THE "LEGAL TIP" OF 10 PERCENT OF THE BILL IN ANY ESTABLISHMENT THAT SERVED FOOD AND DRINK. PREVIOUSLY, MOST OF THE SALARIES OF WAITERS AND WAITRESSES CAME FROM THIS 10 PERCENT, WHILE RESTAURANT OWNERS PAID PRACTICALLY NOTHING FROM THEIR OWN POCKETS. THE GOVERNMENT'S OBJECTIVE IS TO REQUIRE THAT INDIVIDUAL CONTRACTS BETWEEN THE WORKERS IN THESE ESTABLISHMENTS AND THE OWNERS BE NEGOTIATED, BUT ON A BASIS THAT LEGALLY INCLUDES THE FORMER 10 PERCENT TIP. EXTRAS IN THE FORM OF TIPS WILL DEPEND UPON VOLUNTARY COMPENSATION FOR SERVICE, WHICH WILL REQUIRE CHANGES IN THE CUSTOMARY PRACTICE IN CHILE. A SECOND PROVISION OF INTEREST DEALS WITH LARGE LAYOFFS OF EMPLOYEES, EITHER AS A RESULT OF A REDUCTION IN PERSONNEL OR

THE CLOSING OF THE FIRM. PREVIOUSLY, LAYING OFF MORE THAN NINE EMPLOYEES IN ANY MONTH REQUIRED AN INVESTIGATION AND APPROVAL BY THE MINISTRY OF LABOR. NOW, EMPLOYEES CAN BE LAID OFF IN ANY NUMBER BY THE EMPLOYER WITHOUT HAVING TO RESORT

TO PERMISSION FROM THE LABOR MINISTRY. AS WAS TO BE EXPECTED, EMPLOYERS WHO WERE THINKING OF LAYOFFS HAVE BEEN QUICK TO PICK UP ON THIS AND THE PRESS GENERALLY REPORTS LAYOFFS ALMOST DAILY. RECENT TRIPS BY THE LABOR ATTACHE THROUGHOUT CHILE SEEM TO INDICATE THAT LAYOFFS ARE UBIQUITOUS AND NOT CONFINED TO ANY ONE SECTOR. AS MANY, IF NOT MORE, CAMPESINO WORKERS HAVE BEEN AFFECTED BY THIS PROVISION THAN INDUSTRIAL WORKERS. ONE OTHER PROVISION OF LAW 18018 WAS TO REMOVE WORKERS OVER 65 AND UNDER 21 FROM COVERAGE UNDER THE MINIMUM WAGE LAW, WHICH ITSELF MAY IDSSAPPEAR IN THE NOT TOO DISTANT FUTURE. THE IDEA WAS TO BOOST EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR THESE SEGMENTS OF THE POPULATION AND TO LOWER THE EMPLOYERS' LABOR COSTS. TO DATE, THERE HAS BEEN LITTLE NOTICEABLE EFFECT, BUT ONE RESULT IN THE RURAL SOUTHERN PART OF CHILE, THE COUNTRY'S BREADBASKET, HS BEEN THE LAYING OFF OF MATURE FARM WORKERS AND THE HIRING OF EXPERIENCED TEENAGERS IN THEIR PLACE.

WHILE NOT TECHNICALLY PART OF THE LP, ANOTHER RECENT LAW WHICH AFFECTED ALL WORKERS WAS THE MARCH 10, 1981, DECREE LAW WHICH DISSOLVED CHILE'S LABOR COURTS. THESE SPECIAL TRIBUNALS DEALING ONLY WITH LABOR MATTERS WERE HIGHLY ESTEEMED BY WORKERS AS IT WAS FELT THAT THEY WERE GENERALLLY SYMPATHETIC TO THEM. THE LAW CREATED SEVERAL NEW CIVIL COURTS TO REPLACE THE LABOR COURTS AND SPECIFIED THAT ALL LABOR MATTERS WHICH COME BEFORE THE COURTS WILL BE HANDLED BY CIVIL COURTS WITH CIVIL JUDGES. SOME LABOR COURT JUDGES PASSED OVER INTO THE NEW SYSTEM AS CIVIL JUDGES, BUT SEVERAL OTHERS RESIGNED OR RETIRED BECAUSE THEY DID NOT MEET THE QUALIFICATIONS FOR A CIVIL JUDGE. ORGANIZED LABOR STRONGLYICIZED THE MOVE, LCAINING

THAT THEY WOULD LOSE WHATEVER DEGREE OF PROTECTION THE OLD LABOR COURST HAD GIVEN THEM, THAT THE CIVIL COURTS WERE HOPELESSLY BACKLOGGED SO THAT DECISIONS THAT WERE NEEDED IN DAYS (AN INTERPRETATION OF A POINT OF LAW DURING A COLLECTIVE NEGOTIATION, FOR EXAMPLE) WOULD NOW TAKE SEVERAL MONTHS, AND THAT MOST OF THE JUDGES WHO WOULD NOW HANDLE LABOR MATTERS HAD NO TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE WHATEVER IN LABOR LAW. PARALLEL TO THE ELIMINATION OF THE LABOR COURTS, THE GOC, AS PART OF ITS REDUCTION OF THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT'S SIZE AND ITS DESIRE TO REDUCE ITS ROLE IN CHILEAN LIFE, REDUCED TO A SMALL FRACTION OF ITS FORMER SIZE THE STAFF OF THE DIRECTORATE OF LABOR IN THE MINISTRY OF LABOR, WHICH HAS GENERAL OVERSIGHT RESPONSIBILITIES INCLUDING (PREVIOUSLY) PROVIDING QUICK INTERPRETATIONS OF LAWS, REGULATIONS AND CONTRACT PROVISIONS. IT HAS THUS BECOME IMPOSSIBLE FOR THEM TO ANSWER ALL THE REQUESTS FOR THEIR SERVICES WHICH, IN TURN, HAS LED UNIONS TO DESIST FROM MAKING FORMAL COMPLAINTS OR PRESSING CHARGES AGAINST

A COMPANY FOR ALLEGED ABUSES, SINCE THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE NOW IS THE LENGTHY AND COSTLY PROCEDURE OF GOING TO COURT.

THE GOC, CONSCIOUS OF THE SENSITIVITY OF EXECUTIVE DECISIONS AFFECTING THE JUDICIARY, PROMULGATED THE DISAPPEARANCE OF THE LABOR COURTS ON MARCH 10, 1981, THE DAY BEFORE THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION APPROVED IN A NATIONWIDE VOTE ON SEPTEMBER 11, 1980. ACCORDING TO THE NEW CONSTITUTION, BEGINNING MARCH 11, 1981, ANY PROPOSED REFORM TO THE JUDICIAL SYSTEM REQUIRES THE PRIOR APPROVAL OF THE SUPREME COURT, SOMETHING WHICH MAY NOT HAVE HAPPENED WITHOUT LONG AND PROTRACTED BARGAINING. THUS, A DECREE LAW ON THE LAST DAY THAT THE MILITARY JUNTA COULD DIRECTLY RE-ORGANIZE THE JUDICIAL BRANCH.

II. CURRENT SITUATION

A. RESULTS OF THE LP FOR THE GOC

FROM ANY POINT OF VIEW, THE IMPLEMENTATION OF THE LP HAS BEEN A SUCCESS FOR THE GOC. THE LP'S PARTIAL REINSTATEMENT OF TRADITIONAL LABOR FREEDOMS NOT ONLY AVERTED THE BOYCOTT THREAT, BUT ALSO PUTS LABOR PRACTICES IN LINE WITH THE GOC'S BASIC ECONOMIC POLICIES. MEANINGFUL PARTISAN POLITICAL ACTIVITY, OTHER THAN IN A GENERAL ANTI-GOC VEIN, HAS ALMOST DISAPPEARED FROM THE UNION MOVEMENT. MOST UNIONS AND THEIR LEADERS ARE MORE CONCERNED WITH BREAD AND BUTTER ISSUES, SUCH AS AVOIDING THE REDUCTION OR ELIMINATION OF SPECIFIC BENEFITS THAT THEY MAY NOT WANT TO SACRIFICE IN RETURN FOR INCREASED COMPENSATION, AS THE LP PROVIDES. THEY ARE ALSO MORE CONCERNED WITH MAINTAINING THE EXISTENCE OF THE UNION ORGANIZATION IN THE FACE OF THE BEGINNING OF AN ECONOMIC SLOWDOWN, RISING UNEMPLOYMENT, AND MANAGEMENT'S UNPRECEDENTED (FOR CHILE) ABILITY TO LAY OFF WORKERS

AS IT CHOOSES WITHOUT THE NEED TO SHOW CAUSE.

THE GOC HAS ALSO BEEN SUCCESSFUL IN DRASTICALLY REDUCING THE INFLUENCE OF ORGANIZED LABOR, ESPECIALLY IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR. ALMOST THE ONLY AREA WHERE THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOT HAD MUCH SUCCESS IS IN THE ELECTION OF LABOR LEADERS PARTISAN TO IT IN THE VARIOUS LARGE AND IMPORTANT UNION ORGANIZATIONS, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF A FEW WHO HAVE OBTAINED MINORITY POSITIONS. ALL OF THE LARGE INDUSTRIAL UNION ORGANIZATIONS THAT HAVE HAD ELECTIONS SINCE JULY 1979 EITHER ARE COMPLETELY CONTROLLED BY LEADERS IN OPPOSITION TO THE GOC OR HAVE AN OPPOSITION CONTROLLING MAJORITY. THE ONLY EXCEPTIONS TO THIS ARE THE COPPER WORKERS CONFEDERATION, WHOSE LEADERS PRESENTLY ARE APPOINTED BY THE GOC, BUT WHO APPARENTLY WILL FINALLY HAVE ELECTIONS IN DECEMBER; AND THE EL TENIENTE COPPER MINE WHERE THE RANK AND FILE IS STRONGLY ANTI-GOC, BUT WHERE THE LEADERSHIP IS A MIXED BAG OF BOTH PRO- AND ANTI-GOVERNMENT TYPES. IN THIS LATTER CASE, THE MARXIST LEFT, WHICH HAS HISTORICALLY HAD A MAJORITY AMONGST EL TENIENTE'S RANK AND FILE, DECIDED TO ELECT SEVERAL PRO-GOVERNMENT LEADERS, ESPECIALLY IN THE MINERS UNION AT SEWELL Y MINA, TO TAKE THE HEAT FOR WHAT WOULD PROBABLY BE DIFFICULT COLLECTIVE NEGOTIATION SOON AFTER THE ELECTIONS. THIS IS EXACTLY WHAT HAPPENED AS THE UNIONS COULD GET NOTHING NEAR WHAT THEY WANTED, WENT ON STRIKE DESPITE THE BEST EFFORTS OF THE PRO-GOVERNMENT LEADERS TO GET ACCEPTANCE OF MANAGEMENT'S OFFER, AND AFTER ALMOST 2 MONTHS, LOST THE STRIKE, RETURNING TO WORK UNDER THE CONDITIONS OF MANAGEMENT'S LAST PRE-STRIKE OFFER. IN THE CASE OF THE COPPER WORKERS CONFEDERATION, THE EXISTING PRO-GOVERNMENT DIRECTORATE, KNOWING IT HAS NO CHANCE IN THE UPCOMING ELECTIONS, HAS ALREADY ANNOUNCED THAT IT WILL NOT RUN FOR ELECTION.

IN SUM, ECONOMICALLY THE LP HAS CAUSED NARY A RIPPLE; POLITICALLY, A THREAT OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE UNION ACTION AGAINST CHILE WAS AVERTED AND SHOWS NO

II. B. RESULTS OF THE LP FOR ORGANIZED LABOR
1. NATIONAL LABOR ORGANIZATIONS, PUBLIC SECTOR UNIONS

WHILE THE GOC CAN CLAIM THAT, THE LP IS A SUCCESS, ALL OF ORGANIZED LABOR, ALBEIT SOME LESS VEHEMENTLY THAN OTHERS, VIEWS THE LP AS HOSTILE TO IT. TIS IS NOT SURPRISING SINCE THE LP REPRESENTS A CHANGE FROM PAST LABOR LAW AND PRACTICE IN CHILE. PREVIOUSLY, THE MOST POWERFUL LABOR ORGANIZATION WAS THE NATIONAL LABOR CENTRAL, CUT; MULTI-SECTORAL LABOR CENTRALS OF ANY KIND ARE NOW SPECIFICALLY OUTLAWED. PUBLIC SECTOR UNIONS AND THE NATIONAL PUBLIC SECTOR CENTRAL (ANEF), USED TO BE AMONG THE LARGEST AND MOST POWERFUL IN CHILE; NOW, FOR ALL PRACTICAL PURPOSES, THEY ONLY HAVE A SHADOW EXISTENCE--THEY EXIST LEGALLY AS ASSOCIATIONS BUT CANNOT INVOLVE THEMSELVES IN ANY OF THE TRADITIONAL TYPES OF UNION ACTIVITIES. IN ADDITION, PUBLIC SECTOR UNION LEADERS IN OPPOSITION TO THE GOC HAVE ALMOST ALL LOST THEIR JOBS, USUALLY UNDER THE REAL OR IMAGINARY GUISE OF DEPARTMENTAL RESTRUCTURING.

IN MOST IMPORTANT INDUSTRIAL SECTORS, BARGAINING TRADITIONALLY TOOK PLACE ON A REGIONAL AND/OR NATIONAL BASIS WITH THE BULK

OF THE BARGAINING DONE BY THE NATIONAL FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS. NOW, BARGAINING BEYOND THE PLANT LEVEL AND BARGAINING BY FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS IS EXPLICITLY PROHOBITED. HOWEVER, IN MANY NEGOTIATIONS THE FEDERATIONS AND CONFEDERATIONS HAVE PROVIDED ASSISTANCE AND CONSULTATION TO INDIVIDUAL BARGAINING UNITS. DESPITE THIS, THE LP HAS RENDERED MOST NATIONAL LEVEL UNION ORGANIZATIONS RELATIVELY POWERLESS AND LESS ABLE TO ASSIST AFFILIATES OR TO EXERCISE ANY KIND OF INFLUENCE ON LABOR PROBLEMS AND POLICIES. (*-:5, LABOR ORGANIZATIONS HAVE HAD ALMOST NO INPUT WHATEVER IN THE FORMULATION OF THE LP OR IN THE GOC'S ECONOMIC POLICIES AS THEY RELATE TO WORKER ORGANIZATIONS, A FACT THAT EVEN THE MOST DIEHARD GOVERNMENT SUPPORTERS WITHIN THE LABOR MOVEMENT HAVE RECOGNIZED AND LAMENTED).

IIB. 2. CAMPESINO ORGANIZATIONS

WITH THE PASSAGE OF THE 1967 LAW ALLOWING THE FORMATION OF FARM WORKERS UNIONS, SOME OF CHILE'S LARGEST AND MOST SUCCESSFUL UNION ORGANIZATIONS WERE THE CAMPESINO UNION CONFEDERATIONS, AT LEAST TWO OF WHICH COULD CLAIM MORE THAN 200,000 MEMBERS EACH. THE LP HAS EFFECTIVELY ELIMINATED THE CAMPESINO UNION MOVEMENT BY ESTABLISHING LEGAL MINIMUMS FOR THE FORMATION OF A UNION ON A FARM (USUALLY EIGHT WORKERS) AND PROHIBITING BARGAINING BEYOND THE INDIVIDUAL FARM LEVEL. SINCE OVER 95 PERCENT OF CHILE'S FARMS HAVE FEWER THAN EIGHT WORKERS, FEW UNIONS AND LITTLE OR NO BARGAINING EXIST. THE FEW REGIONAL CAMPESION ORGANIZATIONS STILL FUNCTIONING TO SOME DEGREE HAVE DESISTED IN THEIR ATTEMPTS TO ORGANIZE OR TO BARGAIN WITH THE OWNERS OF THE RELATIVELY FEW LARGE FARMS WITH MORE THAN EIGHT WORKERS. THEIR RECENT EXPERIENCE HAS BEEN THAT, IN A NUMBER OF CASES, IF APPROACHED TO BARGAIN, MANAGEMENT ON FARMS WITH EIGHT TO FIFTEEN WORKERS HAVE LAID OFF ENOUGH WORKERS TO BRING THEIR NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES DOWN TO SEVEN; THUS, NO BARGAINING AND MORE EMPLOYMENT. THESE ORGANIZATIONS HAVE THERE-

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

FORE ADVISED THEIR REMAINING AFFILIATES NOT TO EVEN ATTEMPT TO BARGAIN, A TACTIC THAT MANY OTHER, NON-CAMPESINO ORGANIZATIONS ARE TURNING TO IN INCREASING NUMBERS.

WITH THE PRESENT GOVERNMENT NO LONGER GIVING SUBSIDIES TO FARMERS TO PRODUCE CROPS, MANY FARMERS IN THE RURAL SOUTH ARE CONVERTING FROM CROP FARMING TO LIVESTOCK RAISING TO MAKE ENDS MEET AS THIS REQUIRES ONLY ABOUT ONE-FOURTH THE MANPOWER NEEDED FOR CROP AGRICULTURE. THIS, COMBINED PRINCIPALLY WITH THE EFFECTS OF THE AGRARIAN REFORM AND THE PROVISIONS OF LAW 18018 ALLOWING EMPLOYERS TO DISMISS ANY NUMBER OF WORKERS, HAS CONTRIBUTED TO HIGH UNEMPLOYMENT IN THOSE REGIONS, AND HAS LED MANY CAMPESINOS TO MIGRATE TO THE CITIES, SINCE THE MAJORITY OF AGRICULTURAL WORKERS LIVE ON THE FARMS ON WHICH THEY WORK, AND IN DWELLINGS PROVIDED BY THE FARM OWNERS. THUS, WHEN THEY LOSE THEIR JOBS THEY ALSO LOSE THE ROOF OVER THEIR HEADS. THEY THEN AVE NO CHOICE, SINCE THERE IS NO WORK ON OTHER FARMS, BUT TO MOVE TO THE CITIES, STAY WITH FRIENDS OR RELATIVES, AND, IF THEY CANNOT FIND WORK (OFTEN THE CASE), TO WORK ON THE GOC'S MINIMUM EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM (PEM), IF THEY CAN (THE PEM PAYS ABOUT $US 40 PER WEEK, A BIT LESS THAN ONE-THIRD OF THE MINIMUM WAGE). THE ATTITUDE OF GOC ECONOMIC AUTHORITIES, ON THE OTHER HAND, IS THAT THE AGRICULTURAL SECTOR IS GOING THROUGH A NECESSARY STRUCTURAL ADJUSTMENT THAT WILL REQUIRE ADDITIONAL REDUCTIONS IN THE POPULATION DEDICATED TO TRADITIONAL AGRICULTURE.

II. B. 3. PORT WORKER UNIONS

AS MENTIONED EARLIER, THE TRADITIONAL PORT WORKER UNIONS, ALWAYS RELATIVELY STRONG AND OFTEN IN OPPOSITION TO THE MILITARY GOVERNMENT, HAVE EFFECTIVELY CEASED TO EXIST WITH THE PUBLICATION OF LAW 18032. THUS, THE SECOND MOST IMPORTANT TRADE UNION SECTOR IN CHILE AFTER THE COPPER WORKERS, AS PREVIOUSLY CONSTITUTED, WILL NO LONGER POSE A THREAT TO EITHER THE GOC OF CHILE'S RAPIDLY INCREASING FOREIGN TRADE, IMPORTANT IN A COUNTRY WHICH IS PRACTICALLY A FREE MARKET FOR IMPORTS AND WHICH STRONGLY PUSHES ITS EXPORTS, ESPECIALLY NON-TRADITIONAL

DURING THE HARVEST EXPORT SEASON.)
IN SUM, FROM THE TRADE UNION POINT OF VIEW, THE LP HAS BEEN A GIANT STEP BACKWARDS WITH UNIONS INCREASINGLY STRUGGLING TO MAINTAIN WHAT THEY HAVE, RATHER THAN TRYING TO IMPROVE ON THAT BASE. SOME SECTORS HAVE DISAPPEARED ALTOGETHER, IN EFFECT, SUCH AS THE CAMPESINOS, THE COMMERCIAL SECTOR (VERY FEW STORES HAVE MORE THAN EIGHT EMPLOYEES), AND THE TRADITIONAL MARITIME UNIONS (WHICH ARE BEING REPLACED IN APRT BY UNIONS OF SOME OF THE TO-BE-CREATED, LARGER SHIP HANDLING COMPANIES, BUT ALMOST CERTAINLY WITHOUT THE INFLUENCE OR EFFECTIVENESS OF THE PREVIOUS UNIONS).

III. TRENDS, IMPLICATIONS FOR THE FUTURE
A. REDUCTIONS IN SIZE AND ROLE OF ORGANIZED LABOR
WITH A DECLINE IN THE INFLUENCE OF THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT, COUPLED WITH ITS RELATIVE INABILITY TO MAINTAIN WHAT IT HAD BEEN ABLE TO OBTAIN OVER THE YEARS IN THE WAY OF BENEFITS, THERE SEEMS LITTLE DOUBT THAT THERE
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

HAS BEEN AND PROBABLY WILL CONTINUE TO BE A DECLINE IN THE PERCENTAGE OF THE WORKFORCE THAT IS ORGANIZED (ESPECIALLY GIVEN THE VAST NUMBERS OF COMMERCIAL AND AGRICULTURAL WORKERS WHO WERE ONCE UNIONIZED AND ARE NOW, FOR THE MOST PART, UNABLE TO FORM UNIONS). SINCE THIS DIRECTLY IMPLIES INDIVIDUAL NEGOTIATIONS WITH EMPLOYERS, IT ALSO MEANS THAT CHILEAN UNIONIZED WORKERS WILL NOT BE GETTING AS MUCH IN THE WAY OF WAGES AND BENEFITS AS THEY MIGHT UNDER THE PRE-LP LABOR CODE AND SYSTEM OF LABOR RELATIONS. THIS, THE GOC ARGUES, MUST BE BALANCED WITH THE PROSPECT OF HIGHER DEMAND FOR LABOR IN A MORE FLEXIBLE MARKET, WHICH IS ONE OF THE ECONOMIC OBJECTIVES OF THE LP.

III. B. POLARIZATION OF THE LABOR MOVEMENTS
ONE OF THE MAJOR EFFECTS OF THE LP HAS BEEN TO POLARIZE INCREASINGLY THE LABOR MOVEMENT BETWEEN THE VERY SMALL PRO-GOVERNMENT SECTOR ON THE RIGHT AND AN INCREASINGLY LEFTIST ORIENTED OPPOSITION. THE ORIGINAL, RELATIVELY MODERATE NON-MARXIST CENTER OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT (AND STILL THE LARGEST SEGMENT OF IT) HAS BEEN REPRESENTED BY THE UNION DEMOCRATICA DE TRABAJADORES (UDT), DOMINATED BY THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS BUT ALSO WITH A FEW INFLUENTIAL AND MODERATE RADICAL PARTY PUBLIC SECTOR UNION LEADERS. CAUGHT BETWEEN THE ACTIVE HOSTILITY OF THE GOVERNMENT ON ONE HAND (ALL OF THE MAJOR UDT LEADERS HAVE NOW LOST THEIR JOBS THROUGH DIRECT OR INDIRECT GOC ACTION) AND THE MARXIST DOMINATED COORDINADORA NACIONAL SINDICAL (CNS) ON THE OTHER, THE UDT HAS BEEN FORCED GRADUALLY TO WORK CLOSER WITH THE CNS BECAUSE OF LACK OF FUNDS. THE ORIT AND THE AFL-CIO, LONG-TIME SUPPORTERS OF THE UDT, HAVE BEEN UNABLE TO PROVIDE SUFFICIENT ASSISTANCE TO MAINTAIN A VIABLE UDT ON A NATIONAL LEVEL, WHILE THE VARIOUS SEGMENTS OF THE EUROPEAN TRADE UNION MOVEMENT AND SEVERAL OF THE EUROPEAN FOUNDATIONS HAVE BEEN UNWILLING TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE NOT TIED TO THE INCLUSION OF THE COMMUNISTS AND OTHER LEFTISTS. THIS HAS CAUSED A GRADUAL DIMINUTION OF UDT ACTIVITIES AND THE WOOING AND OUTRIGHT PIRATING OF UDT SYMPATHIZERS BY THE CNS. THE END RESULT HAS BEEN A GRADUAL MOVE TOWARD ACCOMMODATION WITH THE LEFT IN THE HOPE OF BEING ABLE TO ATTRACT SOME OF ITS LIQUIDITY WITHOUT BECOMING DOMINATED BY IT. THIS TENDENCY WILL PROBABLY BE ACCELERATED AS A RESULT OF THE FAILURE OF THE MARITIME SECTOR UNIONS TO RECEIVE ANY OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE IN THEIR ILL-FATED ATTEMPT TO BRING ABOUT A PORT STOPPAGE AND RESULTING CHANGES IN LAW 18032.

THIS PROBABLE LEFTWARD SHIFT IN TURN, WILL ALMOST CERTAINLY MEAN THAT THE EMBASSY AND AIFLD WILL HAVE LESS AND LESS CONTACT AND INFLUENCE WITH THE UDT, ALTHOUGH CONTACT WILL NEVER BE CUT OFF COMPLETELY BECAUSE OF THE UDT'S FREE AND DEMOCRATIC ORIENTATION. IT COULD BE WORRISOME IN THE LONG RUN WHEN DEMOCRACY RETURNS TO CHILE SINCE THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT HAS ALWAYS PLAYED AN IMPORTANT POLITICAL AS WELL AS ECONOMIC ROLE IN CHILE, MORE SO THAN IN MOST COUNTRIES IN LATIN AMERICA.

UNTIL SUCH TIME AS THIS MIGHT HAPPEN, HOWEVER, THE OUTLOOK IS CLOUDED FOR CHILE'S TRADE UNION MOVEMENT. IN FACT, THE GOC'S POLICIES TOWARD THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT MAY LEAD TO THE VERY THING OVERNMENT OFFICIALS HAVE OFTEN SAID THEY ARE TRYING TO PREVENT WITH THOSE SAME POLICIES -- A POLARIZATION OF THE WORKING CLASS, LEADING TO INCREASING POLITICIZATION AND A CORRESPONDING RISE IN THE INFLUENCE OF, IF NOT OUTRIGHT DOMINATION BY, MARXIST ELEMENTS, HISTORICALLY (AND STILL) STRONG, ORGANIZED, AND VERY ACTIVE SEMI-CLANDESTINELY TODAY AMONG CHILE'S WORKERS, ESPECIALLY IN THE MOST IMPORTANT INDUSTRIAL SECTORS, SUCH AS MINING.

III. C. IMPORTANCE OF FOREIGN ASSISTANCE
AN INTERESTING POSSIBILITY WHICH MAY ALTER THE SOMEWHAT BLEAK PICTURE PAINTED ABOVE HAS COME TO OUR ATTENTION. THE KONRAD ADENAUER STIFTUNG IN GERMANY RECENTLY APPEARS TO HAVE DECIDED TO INCREASE SUBSTANTIALLY ITS PRESENCE IN LATIN AMERICA, PARTICULARLY WITHIN THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT. THERE IS ALSO SOME INDICATION THAT, IN CHILE AT ANY RATE, THEY WILL BYPASS THE CLAT, THE LATIN AMERICAN ARM OF THE SMALL, CHRISTIAN WORLD LABOR CENTRAL. THE CLAT, NOTORIOUSLY LEFTIST AND ANTI-AMERICAN, HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE FUNNEL THROUGH WHICH THE ADENAUER STIFTUNG PROVIDED ASSISTANCE TO WORKER ORGANIZATIONS IN LATIN AMERICA. HOWEVER, THE CLAT AFFILIATE IN CHILE, THE FUT, IS MINISCULE AND PRACTICALLY MORIBUND. THE ADENAUER APPARENTLY WANTS TO DEAL WITH A NON-MARXIST ORGANIZATION OF SOME MEANING AND SEEMS TO BE CONSIDERING THE UDT. WHAT WE UNDERSTAND MAY HAPPEN IS THAT, SIMILAR TO THE RECENT START-UP OF ADENAUER OPERATIONS IN ARGENTINA, A SPECIAL INSTITUTE FOR TRADE UNION STUDIES AND ASSISTANCE MAY BE SET UP IN CHILE IN THE NEAR FUTURE, IN

THROUGH SIMILAR INSTITUTES). IT IS INTERESTING TO NOTE IN THIS REGARD THAT THE TREASURER OF THE UDT IS ALSO THE PRESIDENT OF THE PDC'S TRADE UNION DEPARTMENT AND ONLY LAST MONTH TRAVELED TO GERMANY AS A GUEST OF THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT ON A GRANT SIMILAR TO THE DEPARTMENT'S IV GRANTS.

IF SUCH ASSISTANCE, SUPPLEMENTED BY THE USEFUL BUT MUCH MORE MODEST ASSISTANCE FROM AIFLD, DOES IN FACT MATERIALIZE IN CHILE, IT COULD HAVE IMPORTANT LONG-TERM CONSEQUENCES FOR THE LARGE MODERATE CENTER OF CHILE'S TRADE UNION MOVEMENT, PRESUMING OF COURSE THAT UDT MODERATES CAN MANAGE TO INFLUENCE THE PROPOSED INSTITUTE. IT PERHAPS WOULD ALLOW THEM TO FORTIFY THEMSELVES ON A NATIONAL LEVE); TO KEEP ACTIVE THE EXPERIENCED LEADERSHIP, CURRENTLY IN DANGER OF LEAVING THE SCENE FOR GOOD; PERMIT THEM TO ORGANIZE THEMSELVES IN THE PROVINCES; TO DEVELOP AND TRAIN NEW, YOUNGER LEADERS FOR THE FUTRE; AND , WITH A FUTURE RETURN OF DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT, ALLOW FOR A REASONABLE AND RELATIVELY ATTRACTIVE ALTERNATIVE FOR CHILE'S WORKERS TO THE MORE POLITICIZED MARXIST ALTERNATIVE OF CLASS STRUGGLE, ALL DEFINITELY POSITIVE FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF U S NATIONAL INTERESTS.

IV. LABOR FORCE AND UNEMPLOYMENT

AS IN MANY DEVELOPING COUNTRIES, STATISTICAL INFORMATION ON THE WORK FORCE AND UNEMPLOYMENT IN CHILE IS RELATIVELY SCARCE AND QUESTIONS ARISE AS TO THEIR ACCURACY. THERE ARE TWO SOURCES OF THESE STATISTICS IN CHILE, THE GOC'S NATIONAL STATISTICS INSTITUTE (INE) AND SURVEYS CONDUCTED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF CHILE (UC) FOR THE CENTRAL BANK. STATISTICAL DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE TWO ASIDE, THEY REFLECT REASONABLY WELL THE GENERAL TRENDS IN CHILE'S UNEMPLOYMENT RATE, IF NOT THE EXACT DEGREE.

THE UC STUDY IS THE ONLY ONE THAT HAS RELEASED RECENT FIGURES AT THE NATIONAL LEVEL; BOTH DO DETAILED SURVEYS OF THE SANTIAGO METROPOLITAN AREA WHICH CONTAINS MORE THAN ONE-THIRD OF THE COUNTRY'S POPULATION AND WORK FORCE. THE UC'S LATEST NATIONAL LOOK AT THE WORK FORCE (MARCH 1981) SHOWS A WORK FORCE (THOSE OVER THE AGE OF 14 WHO WANT TO WORK) OF 3,815,400 PERSONS OF WHOM 420,400 ARE UNEMPLOYED, OR 11 PERCENT. UNEMPLOYMENT IS HIGHEST IN THE AGRICULTURAL (13.1 PERCENT), INDUSTRIAL (21.5), CONSTRUCTION (15.5), COMMERCIAL (12.7) AND PERSONAL SERVICES (13.1) SECTORS, AND IS LOWEST IN MINING(2.8), GOVERNMENT (6.2), TRANSPORT-COMMUNICATIONS-PUBLIC UTILITIES (7.5), AND SOCIAL AND COMMUNITY SERVICES (6.9).

FOR THE GREATER SANTIAGO AREA, THE UC SHOWS AN UNEMPLOYMENT RATE (MARCH 1981) OF 11.3 PERCENT. INTERESTINGLY, THE INE STUDIES REPORTED AN 8.3 PERCENT SANTIAGO UNEMPLOYMENT RATE FOR THE THREE MONTH PERIOD ENDING IN MARCH 1981. NEITHER OF THE TWO

STUDIES TAKE INTO ACCOUNT AS UNEMPLOYED THOSE PERSONS WHO WORK FOR THE PEM AT A FRACTION OF THE MINIMUM WAGE (AS NOTED EARLIER). IF THESE MEMBERS OF THE LABOR FORCE WERE COUNTED AS UNEMPLOYED, THE RATE FOR THE SANTIAGO AREA WOULD BE ABOUT TWO PERCENT HIGHER THAN THAT REPORTED, WHILE THE RATE FOR THE PROVINCES WOULD BE ABOUT FIVE PERCENT HIGHER. INTERESTINGLY, THE UC STUDY SHOWS A SLIGHTLY HIGHER RATE OF UNEMPLOYMENT FOR THE SANTIAGO AREA THAN FOR CHILE AS A WHOLE. HOWEVER, AS NOTED IN SANTIAGO 4100, SINCE THE PEM PROGRAM NATIONWIDE IS TWICE THE LEVEL OF THE SANTIAGO PROGRAM, THERE IS NO REASON TO SUPPOSE THAT THE NATIONAL UNEMPLOYMENT RATE IS LOWER THAN SANTIAGO'S. RECENT VISITS TO MOST OF CHILE BY THE LABOR ATTACHE SEEM TO BEAR THIS OUT. THE DISTINCT IMPRESSION WAS THAT ACTIVITY WAS AT A LOW LEVEL IN THE CITIES, AND UNEMPLOYMENT IN THR RURAL AREAS WAS VERY HIGH, CONTRIBUTING TO BOTH UNEMPLOYMENT IN THE NEARBY CITIES AND THE SIZE OF THE LOCAL PEM.

CHILE'S UNEMPLOYMENT RATE HAS BEEN GRADUALLY DECREASING FROM THE VERY HIGH LEVELS EXPERIENCED AFTER THE 1975

INAUGURATION OF THE PRESENT FREE MARKET ECONOMIC POLICIES. BY EARLY 1981, THE RATE WAS STILL SOMEWHAT HIGH BY HISTORICAL STANDARDS, BUT THE LONG, GRADUAL DROP IN THE RATE WAS BEGINNING TO BE AFFECTED BY THE BEGINNINGS OF AN ECONOMIC SLOWDOWN.

Dear Mr. Hollenbeck:

Thank you for your letter of November 3 which transmitted a letter from [redacted] condemning U.S. support for the Government of Chile. [redacted] apparently bases his objections to current U.S. policy toward Chile on a lecture given by Isabel Letelier, widow of Orlando Letelier, at his college.

The U.S. Government places a high priority on human rights observance by the governments of all nations throughout the world. Our ability to promote this observance depends in large measure on our ability to influence particular governments through our bilateral relations. In the case of Chile, as the enclosed copy of the Department's 1980 report on human rights in Chile will show, the situation has improved significantly. Economic conditions have also improved markedly since 1976, and this may be one of the factors contributing to the substantial internal support that the military government maintains.

I hope the above information will be of use to [redacted]

Sincerely,

Richard Fairbanks
Assistant Secretary

MEMORANDUM

TO: HA - Elliott Abrams, Designate

THROUGH: HA - Steve Palmer, Acting

FROM: HA/HR - Ray Jorgenson

SUBJECT: Your Meetings with Ambassador Designate Theberge (11:45 a.m., November 27), and Chilean Minister-Counselor de Costa Nora (lunch, November 30)

Chile continues to present us problems on human rights questions. Since January 20, we have taken steps to return our relations to a more constructive basis, including: the lifting of the ban on Ex-Im Bank financing; inviting Chile to participate in the UNITAS exercise this year; voting against continuation of a Special Rapporteur for Chile in the UNHRC; positive votes for Chile in the MDBs. These actions have had a high cost in terms of perception of our global human rights policies. In return, the GOC has generally supported the U. S. on important world and hemispheric issues. Nevertheless, it is difficult to articulate a credible statement of what specific interests have been served by closer relations. Unlike other Southern Cone countries (notably Uruguay and Argentina) Chile has shown little sensitivity to the Administration's need to be able to identify positive human rights trends. If anything, the GOC's human rights performance over the past year has probably deteriorated, rather than improved. The draft submission for the Annual Human Rights Report (copy attached) is an honest effort at candor. It does pose a problem in that a comparison of this year's report with last year's will belie our public statements about "significant" improvements.

A report of the U. N. Special Rapporteur issued November 18 states that it is not possible to report any improvement in the human rights situation in Chile. "None of the appeals by the General Assembly and the Commission on Human Rights has been heard, nor is it possible to report the adoption of any measures conducive to restoring the exercise of human rights." The report charges that torture continued to be routinely practiced during police interrogations and the report expresses concern "at the presence of professional torturers in the institutional structures of society..."

While the human rights situation is significantly improved over what it was in 1976, the bulk of those improvements occurred through 1979. It is very difficult to point to significant advances during the past two years. Critics of our Chile policy are able to cite government actions or policies that either represent or appear to represent a deterioration in the human rights picture. The fact that some of these measures were prompted by renewed terrorist activities is not persuasive to critics on the Hill. Other incidents, entirely unrelated to terrorism, for example the August expulsion of four political leaders (following Ambassador Kirkpatrick's visit) and the refusal to permit a Christian Democratic leader to return to Chile have been particularly damaging. The increased use of internal exile, without recourse to judicial review, is frequently cited as a major deterioration in the human rights picture.

We presently have at least four separate real or potential issues before the Bureau with respect to Chile.

1. Repeal of Kennedy Amendment

Senate action October 22 to repeal the arms sales/assistance ban on Chile (Kennedy Amendment) was only the first step toward eventual repeal. The final senate vote of 86-0 was misleading. The Kennedy motion to table attracted 30 supporters (30-57). Many of the Senators supporting the Kennedy motion subsequently voted for repeal because they anticipate that the administration will have a difficult case to argue regarding human rights improvements and the issue of aiding or abetting international terrorism. A colloquy between Senators Percy and Kennedy during the floor debate made clear that there will be Senate hearings at such time as a Presidential certification is sent forward.

We do not have a good reading as yet on whether the House will adopt the Senate formula for repeal. There is strong sentiment against such action in the lower body and it is conceivable that the House will take no action on the Kennedy Amendment. If it follows the Senate lead, we also anticipate House hearings on the certification.

In order to strengthen the prospects for successful repeal of the Kennedy Amendment, it is essential to make clear to the GOC that the human rights situation in Chile remains a matter of serious concern in the U. S. Congress and that final repeal, including the certification, will be assisted by and may depend on actions that the GOC takes in the coming weeks and months.

2. Chilean Complaint Against the IAHRC

Chile potentially could question the IAHRC's role while at Saint Lucia. There are others which might resent IAHRC criticisms. So far soundings with the Chileans reveal no inclination to initiate a controversy -- although Chile seems firmly set on its position of non-cooperation with the IAHRC. (Following IAHRC Chairman Tom Farer's February published attack on the Reagan administration, Argentina and Chile, the Chileans had questioned the propriety of Farer's essay, announced that Chile would do no further business with the Commission until it corrected abuses of its mandate, and indicated that Chile would seek a full-fledged debate on this subject at the XI OASGA.)

3. Submission to Congress of Proposed FY-83 Security Assistance for Chile

We have a pending disagreement with ARA and PM over whether to send to Congress in January a proposed Security Assistance Program for Chile. The proposed FY-83 program consists of international military education and training (IMET). In addition, Chile is expected to seek to purchase other training, spare parts and support for U. S. equipment acquired previously, and perhaps limited amounts of new U. S. equipment through FMS cash and/or commercial procedures. We have taken the position that given the present prohibition on security assistance, it is inappropriate, and probably counterproductive to the Administration's effort to repeal the Kennedy Amendment, to inform Congress of our intent to provide assistance.

The Senate voted repeal of the Kennedy Amendment, subject to Presidential certification that there has been significant human rights progress, that it is in the U. S. national interest and that the GOC is not aiding international terrorism. Senators Kennedy and Pell made clear they do not think Chile satisfies these conditions and Percy is committed to holding hearings if a certification goes forward. It is doubtful the House will take action; repeal will then depend on what happens in conference.

Submission of security assistance program at this time could be antagonistic to Congress and imply that we are already prepared to submit the Presidential certification. HA has taken the position that we should not submit a proposal to Congress but reprogram funds if and when we are prepared to make the Presidential certification. The amount requested for Chile is modest, probably about $50,000.

4. Crime Control Equipment

HA has refused to concur in issuance of an export license for the sale of 100 handcuffs to a private importer for resale to private agencies for bank security. This is not a major issue but is fairly representative of some of the daily skirmishes we have with ARA over import licenses.

UNCLASSIFIED

The following talking points were prepared for General Walters' use in conversation with Chilean officials but apparently not cleared within ARA. I understand he may have used them in somewhat modified form during his visit to Chile earlier this month.

TALKING POINTS

-- The Administration is pleased by the Senate action to repeal the Kennedy Amendment. We supported and worked toward that outcome.

-- The 86-0 final vote should not be misunderstood; 30 Senators voted to table the repeal legislation; there will be Senate hearings when the Presidential certification goes forward and we expect strong opposition on both human rights and Letelier/Moffitt grounds.

-- We will work for repeal in the House but expect even stronger opposition than was true in the Senate. We expect that there will also be House hearings on the Presidential certification.

-- In our view there has been significant human rights improvements in Chile since 1976 but very little improvement during the past two years. In some respects, the situation is less favorable and the opponents of Kennedy Amendment repeal focus on the most recent period.

-- I am sure your government is fully aware of which policies and actions have attracted the strongest criticism.

-- GOC efforts during the coming weeks and months to offset or overcome the negative image of human rights performance during the past two years will greatly assist and may be critical to repeal of the Kennedy Amendment during this session of Congress.

B. (U) HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE.

(C) WEOG THIRD COMMITTEE GROUP DISCUSSED TWO DRAFT RESOLUTIONS SUBMITTED ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE, ONE SPONSORED BY THE NETHERLANDS (L.64) AND ANOTHER BY ALGERIA, CUBA, MEXICO AND YUGOSLAVIA (L.60). NETHERLANDS WISHED TO APPROACH MEXICO TO MERGE THE TWO TEXTS. USUN NOTES THAT CHILE DOES NOT WANT ANYONE TO INTRODUCE ANY AMENDMENTS TO THESE RESOLUTIONS. USUN'S PRELIMINARY REACTION IS THAT WE PLAN TO VOTE NO ON WHICHEVER RESOLUTION IS PUT TO VOTE. WE WOULD EXPLAIN THAT TEXT IS UNBALANCED AND IGNORES MODEST IMPROVEMENTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. THE RESOLUTION JUDGES CHILE BY STANDARDS THAT THE COSPONORS THEMSELVES DO NOT MEET IN SOME AREAS. WE WOULD ALSO POINT OUT OUR OBJECTIONTO CONCENTRATING ON HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY IN LATIN AMERICA.

REF: USUN 4041

1. WEOG THIRD COMMITTEE GROUP DEVOTED MEETING OF 11/25 TO RESOLUTIONS SUBMITTED ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATIONS IN EL SALVADOR AND CHILE (TEXTS OF RESOLUTIONS FOLLOW).
2. THERE ARE TWO DRAFT TEXTS ON CHILE, L.60 SPONSORED BY ALGERIA, CUBA, MEXICO, AND YUGOSLAVIA, AND L.64, SPONSORED BY THE NETHERLANDS. AUSTRALIA SUMMARIZED THE OPTIONS FOR DEALING WITH THESE TWO RESOLUTIONS UNDER THE SAME ITEM AS FOLLOWS: (1) NETHERLANDS COULD APPROACH MEXICANS TO MERGE THE TWO TEXTS; (2) LEAVE THE TWO TEXTS SEPARATE, AS THEY STAND AND ALLOW L.60, THE MORE UNBALANCED TEXT, TO BE VOTED ON FIRST;
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

(3) LEAVE THE TWO TEXTS SEPARATE AND CALL FOR A PRIORITY VOTE WHICH, IF SUCCESSFUL WOULD ALLOW THE NETHERLANDS' LESS UNBALANCED TEXT TO BE VOTED FIRST (BUT WEOGS MIGHT WELL LOSE ON A MOTION FOR A PRIORITY VOTE).

UNCLASSIFIED

3. NETHERLANDS WISHED TO APPROACH MEXICO TO MERGE THE TWO TEXTS IF WEOGS SUPPORTED THIS IDEA, ON THE BASIS THAT THE MEXICAN TEXT OFFENDED MANY WEOGS BUT NONETHELESS SOME WOULD FEEL COMPELLED TO VOTE IN FAVOR OF A RESOLUTION CONCERNED WITH CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION NO MATTER HOW BAD ITS TEXT. UK EXPRESSED HORROR AT THIS IDEA, AND INSISTED THAT IT COULD NOT ACCEPT ANY STRONGER NETHERLANDS TEXT. SOME OTHER WEOGS SEEMED TO AGREE WITH THIS, APART FROM SWEDEN AND DENMARK.

4. SWEDEN NOTED THAT HE WOULD NOT SUPPORT ANY REQUEST FOR A PRIORITY VOTE. SWEDEN WOULD VOTE IN FAVOR OF WHICHEVER TEXT THIRD COMMITTEE CONSIDERS FIRST. SWEDEN WOULD ALSO SUPPORT THE SECOND TEXT AND ANY MOTION CALLING FOR MERGING THE TEXTS. DENMARK NOTED THAT IN THE CASE OF A PRIORITY VOTE HE'D VOTE FOR THE NETHERLANDS DRAFT, BUT THIS DOESN'T MEAN THAT DENMARK WOULD VOTE AGAINST MEXICO. US DEL SPECULATES THAT OTHERS SUCH AS IRELAND, FINLAND AND FRANCE MIGHT ALSO SUPPORT MEXICO'S TEXT.

5. THERE WAS NO TIME FOR OTHER WEOGS TO EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS ON THESE RESOLUTIONS, BUT AUSTRALIA SUMMED UP THE GENERAL FEELING THAT NETHERLANDS SHOULD NOT AT PRESENT INITIATE ANY MERGING OF THE TEXTS,AND THAT THERE WAS UNCERTAINTY ABOUT THE TACTIC OF CALLING FOR A PRIORITY CONFIDENTIAL VOTE.

6. US DEL POINTED OUT THAT EVEN THE NETHERLANDS DRAFT IN PARTICULAR JUDGES CHILE BY FAR HARSHER STANDARDS THAN THOSE ENJOYED BY SOME OF THE CITIZENS OF THE SPONSORS OF THE OTHER DRAFT, SUCH AS FULL RESTRICTION OF RIGHTS FOR TRADE UNIONS (OPERATIVE PARAGRAPH 5 (F) OF L.64.

7. COMMENT: USUN NOTES THAT CHILE DOES NOT WANT ANYONE TO INTRODUCE ANY AMENDMENTS TO THESE RESOLUTION USUN'S PRELIMINARY REACTION IS THAT WE WOULD PLAN TO VOTE NO ON WHICHEVER RESOLUTION IS PUT TO VOTE. WE WOULD EXPLAIN THAT TEXT IS UNBALANCED AND IGNORES MODEST IMPROVEMENTS IN HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE. THE RESOLUTION JUDGES CHILE BY STANDARDS THAT THE CO-SPONSORS THEMSELVES DO NOT MEET IN SOME AREAS. WE WOULD ALSO POINT OUT OUR OBJECTION TO CONCENTRATING ON HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY IN LATIN AMERICA. MEXICAN RESOLUTION IS MORE OBJECTIONABLE OF THE TWO AND WAS TABLED FIRST. THEREFORE IT WILL PROBABLY BE VOTED UPON FIRST. UNLESS THE TWO TEXTS ARE MERGED, WHICH APPEARS TO BE THE MOST LIKELY OUTCOME.

2. ACCORDING TO LOCAL LEGAL SOURCES WHO SPOKE TO JOSE MIGUEL BENADO MEDVINSKY'S LAWYER ON NOVEMBER 24, THE CASE IS AWAITING THE DECISION OF THE MILITARY JUDGE, EXPECTED WITHIN 15 DAYS. THE PROSECUTION IS REQUESTING A SENTENCE OF 43 YEARS ON THREE CHARGES: A) 15 YEARS FOR ILLEGAL RE-ENTRY INTO CHILE; B) 20 YEARS FOR MILITARY SEDITION; AND C) 8 YEARS FOR VIOLATION OF THE LAW TO CONTROL FIREARMS AND EXPLOSIVES. ALL DEFENSE EFFORTS TO HAVE THESE CHARGES DROPPED OR TRIED UNDER LESS STRICT MEASURES THAN DECREE LAW 81 (WHICH INCLUDES ALL ILLEGAL RE-ENTRIES THROUGH 1978) HAVE BEEN DENIED. SHOULD BENADO BE CONVICTED, HE HAS THE RIGHT OF APPEAL TO THE CORTE MARCIAL; IF DECLARED INNOCENT, HE STILL FACES A CHARGE OF FALSIFYING AN IDENTITY CARD BEFORE A CIVIL COURT. Thank you for showing me Mayer's letter. I think he is being a little disingenuous but maybe we aren't being explicit enough. I assume the mere expulsions are the bush league variety or those for whom there is no current linkage with the movement. Subject to Mike's views, of course, you might respond to Mayer with a clarifying Official-Informal, adding more specificity in this area of our wrap-ups in the future.

SUBJECT: KISSINGER VISIT TO CHILE

1. FROM BEGINNING TO END (NOVEMBER 22-25) DR. HENRY KISSINGER'S VISIT TO SANTIAGO, CHILE WAS WELL RECEIVED AND POSITIVE. THERE WERE NO DEMONSTRATIONS AND, IN FACT, THE VISIT WAS SO PEACEFUL THAT DR. KISSINGER WAS ABLE TO STROLL THROUGH THE STREETS UNMOLESTED TO SEVERAL OF HIS APPOINTMENTS. IN HIS PUBLIC STATEMENTS, AS WELL AS IN HIS PRIVATE MEETINGS WITH HIGH CHILEAN OFFICIALS, DR. KISSINGER UNIFORMLY SUPPORTED THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION ON GLOBAL ISSUES AND ITS EFFORTS TO IMPROVE US-CHILEAN RELATIONS, AND MADE CAUTIOUSLY POSITIVE STATEMENTS ON ISSUES OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO CHILE.

2. HUMAN RIGHTS: DR. KISSINGER ENCOURAGED CHILEAN OFFICIALS ON THE NEED TO BE MINDFUL OF "FUNDAMENTAL US VALUES" AND OUR SENSITIVITY ON THE ISSUE OF HUMAN RIGHTS. IN SUMMARIZING HIS VIEWS IN A FINAL PRESS CONFERENCE, HE SAID: "BOTH SIDES SHOULD RESPECT THE SPECIAL SENSITIVITIES OF THE OTHER. IT IS CLEAR THAT THERE IS SPECIAL CONCERN IN THE US AND ALSO THAT THERE ARE SPECIAL CONDITIONS IN CHILE. MY IMPRESSION IS THAT CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE HERE SINCE MY LAST VISIT IN 1976".

3. CHILEAN ECONOMY: IN A LENGTHY INTERVIEW WITH ECONOMICS MINISTER SERGIO DE CASTRO, DR. KISSINGER EXPRESSED A GENERALLY UPBEAT OPINION OF CHILEAN ECONOMIC PROGRESS AND THE VIRTUES OF A FREE ECONOMIC SYSTEM. HIS COMMENT TO THE PRESS FOLLOWING THE MEETING WAS: "I AM IMPRESSED BY THE SUCCESS OF ALL COUNTRIES WHICH, LIKE OURS, HAVE A FREE MARKET POLICY."

4.C PAPAL MEDIATION ON CHILEAN-ARGENTINIAN BORDER DISPUTE: FOLLOWING BREAKFAST WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET ON NOVEMBER 23 AND A MEETING LATER THE SAME MORNING WITH FOREIGN MINISTER ROJAS, DR. KISSINGER WAS QUOTED AS HAVING SAID THAT: "I THINK YOU SHOULD SEEK A NEGOTIATED SOLUTION." THIS STATEMENT CAUSED THE ONLY CONTROVERSY OF THE VISIT, WHEN IT WAS NOTED DISAPPROVINGLY BY "EL MERCUIRO", WHICH ESPOUSED THE CHILEAN LEGALIST VIEWPOINT, INSISTING ON THE SANCTITY OF INTERNATIONAL TREATIES AND LAW OVER NEGOTIATIONS AND COMPROMISE. TO A CONSIDERABLE EXTENT, DR. KISSINGER SMOOTHED OVER THE MINOR CONTROVERSY IN HIS FINAL INTERVIEW WHERE HE EXPRESSED THE GENERAL HOPE THAT THE PAPAL MEDIATION WOULD "HAVE SUCCESS IN FINDING A SOLUTION TO THE PROBLEM".

Dear Mayer:

In response to your letter of November 20, 1981, I hope the discussion below will clear up your questions on recent court sentences for MIR members convicted of internal security violations.

Normally, persons accused of violations of one or more sections of the internal security law are tried by a civil court judge attached to the Court of Appeals. An accused may be tried concurrently or separately by a military court for offenses in which military personnel or targets are attacked (for fuller discussion of council of war proceedings see Santiago 1101 and 5199) or for violations of the arms control laws. The judge investigates the alleged acts constituting the offense and closes the investigation (sumario) when sufficient evidence is at hand to render a decision. He issues a written decision after studying the evidence, the briefs of the government and the defense, and the applicable law. This decision may be appealed by either the government or the accused to the full Court of Appeals and then to the Supreme Court. An appeal to the full Court of Appeals is normal in internal security cases, though few cases are elevated to the Supreme Court.

Normally, conviction on an internal security violation carries a sentence of imprisonment for varying lengths of time, depending on the seriousness of the offense. The court may also sentence an accused to internal exile (relegación). Since 1977, the GOC has commuted a number of prison sentences of convicted extremists to external exile to a country of the prisoner's choice. Human rights organizations, such as UNHRC, ICM, FASIC and the Vicariate of Solidarity, often arrange for visas and facilitate the departure of such prisoners.

The unusual features of the cases of the 11 MIRistas recently expelled, which triggered Santiago 6525 and 6780, were the sentence of expulsion in lieu of imprisonment and the absence of appeals by the accused. A Vicariate of Solidarity source told us that the 11 chose expulsion out of fear of meeting the same fate as one of their number, Hugo Riveros Gomez, who was murdered while out on bail by unknown persons. Technically, once the 11 individuals serve their sentences abroad, they could be readmitted to Chile. As a practical matter, however, we think it unlikely that they will be allowed to return. Presumably, the Interior Ministry will issue an appropriate decree barring their re-entry when the time comes.

This type of sentence does not necessarily indicate insufficient GOC evidence to prosecute the eleven, but rather, shows that the charges against them were not serious enough to warrant a council of war proceeding (reserved for attacks on government personnel) or a prison term. The eleven were accused of illegal occupation of churches and land, forming an illicit organization, and holding armed meetings; they were not charged with armed attacks on persons or property, which might have altered both the judicial process and type of sentence considerably.

The logic of expelling convicted MIRistas is hard to grasp, but, in our view, it demonstrates the GOC's desire to eliminate political nuisances, cut administrative headaches, and cultivate a more lenient international image while satisfying its own public pledge to rid Chile of the "cancer of marxism" once and for all.

I hope this discussion makes the picture a bit clearer. Please let me know if we can clarify other related issues for you.

Sincerely,

Donald B. Harrington

1. (LOU) IN WHAT SEEMS TO BE THE DENOUEMENT OF THE RECENT MARITIME SECTOR DISPUTE, THE LABOR MINISTRY HAS PETITIONED THE APPELLATE COURT IN VALPARAISO FOR THE DISSOLUTION OF THE BAY EMPLOYEES FEDERATION AND HAS EMBARGOED THE PROPERTY OF ITS LEADERS. AFTER THE DOCK WORKERS ENDED THEIR STOP WORK ACTION (SANTIAGO 6931AND PREVIOUS) THE LABOR MINISTRY ORDERED AN AUDIT OF THE BOOKS OF SEVERAL MARITIME UNION ORGANIZATIONS, PARTICULARLY THE BAY EMPLOYEES FEDERATION HEADED BY EDUARDO RIOS, THE LEADING OPPOSITION TRADE UNIONIST IN CHILE AND PRESIDENT OF THE UNION DEMOCRATICA DE TRABAJADORES. A VERY EFFECTIVE AND VOCAL OPPONENT, RIOS HAD OFTEN BEEN THE SUBJECT OF VERBAL ATTACKS AND OTHER FORMS OF HARRASSMENT BY THE GOC (SEVERAL YEARS AGO HE WAS REMOVED BY FIAT BY THE GOC FROM THE PRESIDENCY OF THE MARITIME CONFEDERATION, EFFECTIVELY DESTROYING THE ORGANIZATION), AND IT IS AN OPEN SECRET THAT THE GOVERNMENT DELAYED THE REORGANIZATION OF THE MARITIME SECTOR'S UNIONS MORE THAN TWO YEARS AFTER ALMOST ALL OTHER UNIONS WERE RECOGNIZED BY THE 1979 LABOR PLAN
~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

BECAUSE OF RIOS' CONTACTS WITH THE ITF AND THE AFL-CIO.

2. (LOU) REPORTEDLY PIQUED BY RIOS' ROLE IN THE MARITIME WORKERS ACTIONS TO HAVE LAW 18032 REVOKED (THE LAW EFFECTIVELY ENDED THE EXISTENCE OF THE TRADITIONAL UNIONS IN THE SECTOR), THE GOC ORDERED THE AUDIT OF ALL THE SECTOR'S UNION

ORGANIZATIONS, BUT WAS PARTICULARLY ANXIOUS TO FIND EVENTUAL EVIDENCE OF WRONGDOING ON THE PART OF THE BAY EMPLOYEES, WHICH WOULD ALLOW THE GOC TO REMOVE THE ORGANIZATION'S OFFICERS, POSSIBLY PLACE CRIMINAL CHARGES AGAINST THEM, AND PERHAPS TO SEIZE THE FEDERATION'S NOT INCONSIDERABLE ASSETS. RIOS IMMEDIATELY CHALLENGED IN COURT THE LEGALITY OF THE AUDIT ITSELF AND, INTER ALIA, THE LABOR MINISTRY'S ORDER THAT THE FEDERATION PAY FOR THE AUDIT, THE COST OF WHICH, ACCORDING TO THE FEDERATION, COULD BE AS HIGH AS US$15,000. IN RESPONSE TO THE CHALLENGE, THE LABOR MINISTRY THEN ORDERED THE FEDERATION DISSOLVED AND THE OFFICERS' ASSETS ATTACHED, CHARGING THEM, IN EFFECT, WITH INSUBORDINATION.

3. (C) COMMENT: THE GOC HAS LONG WANTED TO GET AT RIOS, ESPECIALLY SINCE 1979 WHEN THE ORIT AND THE AFL-CIO THREATENED A BOYCOTT OF CHILEAN VESSELS AND GOODS. WITH THE FAILURE OF THE RIOS-LED MARITIME PROTEST AGAINST THE NEW LAW, THE GOC MAY WELL HAVE DECIDED TO GET RID OF HIM ONCE AND FOR ALL; THUS THE AUDIT WITH ITS CONDITIONS AND THE REACTION TO THE FEDERATION'S CHALLENGE OF IT. WHILE POSSIBLE, IT IS UNLIKELY IN OUR VIEW THAT RIOS WILL WIN THE COURT CHALLENGE. THE GOC GENERALLY GETS ITS WAY WHEN IT REALLY WANTS TO WITH CHILE'S INDEPENDENT COURT SYSTEM. IF RIOS GOES, THE LAST OF CHILE'S MAJOR DEMOCRATIC UNION LEADERS WILL HAVE BEEN REMOVED FROM A POSITION OF INFLUENCE WITHIN THE TRADE UNION MOVEMENT.

touched upon no significant political topics. It was essentially a pastoral message. Rivera y Damas described the service work that the four Maryknoll churchwomen performed prior to their murders. He noted that they dedicated their lives to community service. He called upon his listeners to follow this example of selfless dedication.

3. No special invitations were issued for this mass. The Embassy was represented by PolOff. He saw no other diplomatic or government officials.

THE FOREIGN MINISTER ALSO NOTED THE CIR-CULAR ROUTE THESE TERRORISTS ARE FOLLOWING--CHILE TO CUBA TO FRANCE FOR FALSE DOCUMENTATION TO SPAIN TO ARGENTINA, BUENOS AIRES OR MENDOZA. NOVEMBER 28 IN A GUN BATTLE WITH GUERRILLAS IN THE NELTUME REGION EAST OF VALDIVIA, WHERE GOVERNMENT FORCES HAVE BEEN PURSUING THE REMAINDER OF A TERRORIST GROUP ORIGINALLY DISCOVERED IN SEPTEMBER (SANTIAGO 5525). THE ALLEGED EXTREMIST WAS IDENTIFIED AS JUAN OJEDA AGUAYO, WHO REPORTEDLY SERVED THE BAND AS A MEDIC.

OJEDA, CONVICTED IN 1974 OF PARTICIPATING IN AN ARMED ASSAULT ON THE NELTUNE CARABINEROS HEADQUARTERS ON SEPTEMBER 11, 1973, HAD BEEN LIVING IN HOLLAND AFTER HIS PRISON SENTENCE WAS COMMUTED TO EXILE IN 1978 AND PRESUMABLY RETURNED TO CHILE SECRETELY. THE GOC COMMUNIQUE ALSO SAID THAT ISAIAS AGUAYO MARQUEZ WAS DETAINED BY SECURITY FORCES DURING THE CONFRONTATION. HIS PAST AND PRESENT LINKS TO SUBVERSIVE GROUPS ARE BEING INVESTIGATED BY SECURITY AGENTS. NO GOVERNMENT CASUALTIES WERE REPORTED.

3. (C) FAMILY MEMBERS ALLEGED IN A NOVEMBER 21 PRESS STATEMENT THAT ONE OF THE TWO UNIDENTIFIED BODIES BURNED IN AN EXPLOSION DURING A NOVEMBER 10 SHOOTOUT WITH SECURITY AGENTS NEAR THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S RESIDENCE (SANTIAGO 6603) IS THAT OF JUAN SOTO CERDA, A 30 YEAR-OLD CAB DRIVER MISSING SINCE THE EVENING BEFORE THE CONFRONTATION. SOTO HAD LUNCHED AT HOME ON NOVEMBER 9, ACCORDING TO HIS WIFE, BUT DID NOT RETURN AS USUAL FOR DINNER THAT EVENING. SHE SPENT THE DAY NOVEMBER 10 SEEKING INFORMATION ON HIS WHEREABOUTS AT A NUMBER OF POLICE STATIONS, FINALLY FILING A WRIT OF AMPARO WITH A SANTIAGO MILITARY COURT ON NOVEMBER 11. THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR REPLIED TO THE COURT ON NOVEMBER 12, SAYING SOTO WAS NEITHER IN CUSTODY NOR THE SUBJECT OF AN ARREST WARRANT. THE FAMILY THEN ASKED PERMISSION TO VIEW THE REMAINS OF THE TWO UNIDENTIFIED BODIES HELD AT THE MEDICAL-LEGAL INSTITUTE PENDING INVESTIGATION OF THE PUTATIVE ATTACK ON THE FOREIGN MINISTER. A FAMILY DENTIST IDENTIFIED DENTAL WORK ON ONE OF THE CORPSES AS WORK HE HAD DONE ON SOTO AND FILED A DETAILED REPORT WITH THE MILITARY COURT. ACCORDING TO A VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY ATTORNEY INVOLVED IN THE CASE INTERVIEWED IN THE OPPOSITION NEWSWEEKLY HOY (DECEMBER 2), THE BODY IS SOTO'S "BEYOND THE SHODOW OF A DOUBT," ALTHOUGH NO OFFICIAL STATEMENT HAS BEEN ISSUED BY THE GOC CONFIRMING THE IDENTIFICATION. (COMMENT: THE MYSTERY SURROUNDING THE SOTO CASE SUPPORTS THE WIDELY-CIRCULATED RUMOR THAT CNO AGENTS STAGED THE INCIDENT NEAR THE FOREIGN MINISTER'S HOME FOR PURPOSES OF THEIR OWN. THE HOY INTERVIEW SUGGESTS THAT SOTO WAS A MMBER OF THE SOCIALIST PARTY DURING HIS LAW STUDIES PRIOR TO 1975, BUT THE FAMILY CLAIMS THAT HE HAD NO INVOLVEMENT IN POLITICS SINCE THAT TIME. SOTO'S APPARENT LACK OF TIES TO THE VIOLENT LEFT AND THE GOVERNMENT'S FAILURE TO PROVIDE MORE CONVINCING EVIDENCE THAT PREVIOUSLY-IDENTIFIED JAIME CUEVAS CUEVAS WAS TRULY A MEMBER OF THE MIR ONLY SERVES TO FUEL SPECULATION ABOUT THE FACTS BEHIND

THE INCIDENT. ALTHOUGH THE OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION CONTINUES, THE INVOLVEMENT OF THE VICARIATE OF SOLIDARITY MAY CAUSE EMBARRASSING FACTS TO COME TO LIGHT. END COMMENT)

4. (U) THE GOC ANNOUNCED DECEMBER 1 THAT SECURITY AGENTS ARRESTED TWO ALLEGED MILITANTS OF THE PROSCRIBED IZQUIERDA CRISTIANA PARTY AFTER A WEEKEND SEARCH OF SEVERAL PRIVATE HOMES AND A BUSINESS UNCOVERED A CLANDESTINE PRESS AND AN ARMS CACHE. THE TWO MEN WERE IDENTIFIED AS RAUL REYES SUSARTE AND RAMON PINA VARGAS, BOTH ACCUSED OF ENGAGING IN LIASON AND PROPAGANDA COORDINATION FOR THE PARTY. BOTH HAVE BEEN CHARGED WITH VIOLATIONS OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY AND ARMS CONTROL LAWS, WHILE POLICE CONTINUE THE SEARCH FOR OTHER MEMBERS OF THE UNDERGROUND ORGANIZATION. POLICE CLAIM TO HAVE CONFISCATED AUTOMATIC WEAPONS, PISTOLS, AMMUNITION AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES, AS WELL AS A PRINTING PRESS.

COPIES OF THE MIR NEWSPAPER EL REBELDE FOR DISTRIBUTION. POLICE ALSO ALLEGEDLY FOUND EXPLOSIVES HIDDEN IN THE APARTMENT. (C) A MILITARY APPEALS PANEL UPHELD THE DECISION OF THE MILITARY JUDGE FOR SANTIAGO SENTENCING ACCUSED MIRISTA RAUL LOPEZ PERALTA TO THREE YEARS IMPRISONMENT FOR ASSOCIATION WITH A PARAMILITARY GROUP. LOPEZ WAS ARRESTED IN MID-1979 AFTER HE AND AN ACCOMPLICE PLACED A BOMB UNDERNEATH A POLICE VEHICLE PARKED IN DOWNTOWN SANTIAGO. THE BLAST DESTROYED THE VEHICLE, BUT CAUSED NO INJURIES. THE SAME DECISION COMMUTED THE SENTENCE OF HIS ACCOMPLICE, VICTOR CORNEJO ALFARO, TO TIME SERVED. A THIRD ACCUSED, LUISA GATICA CHAVEZ, WAS ACQUITTED OF CHARGES STEMMING FROM THE SAME INCIDENT.

6. (U) THE COURT OF APPEALS AGREED TO HEAR THE APPEALS OF SEVEN MEN CONVICTED NOVEMBER 27 OF VIOLATIONS OF THE INTERNAL SECURITY LAW AND DECREE LAW 77 GOVERNING ILLICIT ASSOCIATION. A LOWER COURT JUDGE SENTENCED THE SEVEN, ALLEGEDLY MEMBERS OF A COMMUNIST PARTY CELL, TO INTERNAL EXILE IN VARIOUS LOCATIONS FOR 1,082 DAYS EACH. THE SEVEN ARE: JORGE VALDES SEPULVEDA, HECTOR NUNEZ FERRADA, JOSE ESPERGUEL VERA, MILTON FLORES MAHUIDA, VICTOR ARIAS VEGA, TEOBALDO BRAVO GONZALEZ, AND OMAR ROSALES CHAVEZ.

7. (U) PLAINCLOTHES OFFICIALS SEARCHED THE HOME OF FORMER ALLENDE INFORMATION MINISTER JUAN IBANEZ, DETAINING HIM AND HIS FAMILY FOR 10 HOURS ON NOVEMBER 23. ALL WERE LATER RELEASED WITHOUT CHARGE. IBANEZ, WHO SITS ON THE METROPLITAN COUNCIL OF THE COLEGIO DE PERIODISTAS, ALLEGED THAT THE SEARCHERS COMBED HIS LIBRARY AND PERSONAL PAPERS, LATER SEARCHING THE HOUSE FOR A HIDDEN BASEMENT. SEVERAL OTHER PERSONS IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD WERE ALSO

DETAINED AND RELEASED LATER. NO EXPLANATION WAS GIVEN FOR THE ACTION, AND THE COLEGIO DE PERIODISTAS DECIDED AGAINST LODGING A FORMAL PROTEST AFTER IBANEZ WAS RELEASED.

8. (U) UPDATE ON COURT CASES: (A) ON NOVEMBER 25, THE SUPREME COURT RULED IN FAVOR OF THE THREE STUDENTS CHARGED WITH DISTRIBUTION OF SUBVERSIVE LITERATURE (SANTIAGO 6123 AND PREVIOUS). MARIA BRAVO MERCHANT, FERNANDO LEMICH BETANCOURT, AND GREGORY COHEN MUNOZ WERE RELEASED UNCONDITIONALLY AFTER THE COURT FOUND THAT THE COURT OF APPEALS DECISION BRANDING THE THREE AS "DANGEROUS TO SOCIETY" AND DENYING THEM BAIL WAS NOT WARRANTED BY THE EVIDENCE PRESENTED IN THE CASE. A FOURTH STUDENT, MARIA VILLAVICENCIO GONZALEZ, WAS RELEASED PREVIOUSLY AFTER A SIMILAR COURT RULING (SANTIAGO 6780). (B) A MILITARY COURT DISMISSED ALL REMAINING CHARGES AGAINST AIDA CERRO SAAVEDRA AND LUIS RODRIGUEZ ALVAREZ, WHO HAD ALLEGED IN CIVIL COURT PROCEEDINGS THAT THEY WERE THREATENED BY AN UNEXECUTED ORDER OF DETENTION FOR SECURITY REASONS BY THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR (SANTIAGO 6780 AND PREVIOUS). (C) IN AN UNUSUAL DECISION HANDED DOWN NOVEMBER 20, THE COURT OF APPEALS MODIFIED A LOWER COURT DECISION SENTENCING FORMER STUDENT EUGENIO RIVAS MANCILLA TO 541 DAYS OF INTERNAL EXILE (SANTIAGO 6525). THE COURT'S 2-1 VOTE CHANGED THE SENTENCE TO IMPRISONMENT FOR AN EQUAL PERIOD. RIVAS WAS ARRESTED JULY 17 AFTER A VIOLENT STREET DEMONSTRATION. LAWYERS FOR THE ACCUSED IMMEDIATELY FILED A WRIT OF COMPLAINT IN THE SUPREME COURT, ALLEGING ABUSE OF LEGAL PROCESS.

RIGHTS IN CHILE AFTER THOUGHTFUL REVIEW OF CHILE'S HUMAN RIGHTS RECORD AND OF THE OBLIGATIONS OF THIS COMMITTEE. WE DO SO FOR THE SAME REASONS EXPRESSED BY OUR REPRESENTATIVE AT THE LAST SESSION OF THE COMMISSION ON HUMAN RIGHTS IN FEBRUARY.

WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THE CIRCUMSTANCES IN CHILE, WHEN COMPARED WITH THE SITUATION EXISTING PRIOR TO 1977 OR BY COMPARISON WITH MANY OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD, JUSTIFY CONTINUATION OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR PROCEDURE. IT IS IMPORTANT TO THE CREDIBILITY OF THIS BODY THAT WE APPLY EVENHANDED TREATMENT TO THE PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD.

WE WOULD BE THE LAST TO ARGUE THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE IS PERFECT. ON THE CONTRARY, THE RECENT EXPULSIONS OF FOUR CHILEANS, ONE OF WHOM WAS THE PRESIDENT OF THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, WAS CONTRARY TO THE BASIC RIGHTS OF PEACEFUL POLITICAL DISSENT. NEVERTHELESS, THERE HAVE BEEN SIGNIFICANT HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE SINCE 1977. I WOULD NOTE PARTICULARLY THE END TO INDEFINITE DETENTIONS WITHOUT TRIAL IN 1976, THAT THERE HAVE BEEN NO DISAPPEARANCES SINCE OCTOBER 1977, THE RELEASE OF MOST POLITICAL PRISONERS BY EARLY 1978, AND THE FACT THAT, ALTHOUGH STILL CIRCUMSCRIBED, OPPOSITION VIEWPOINTS DO HAVE MEDIA ACCESS. IT IS ALSO IMPORTANT TO REMEMBER THAT CHILE PERMITTED A VISIT OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION'S AD HOC WORKING GROUP ON CHILE IN JULY 1978, AND THAT NO OTHER COUNTRY HAS YET PERMITTED A SIMILAR VISIT BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION.

UNCLASSIFIED

THE ANNUAL REPORTS OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR HAVE GIVEN RELATIVELY LITTLE ATTENTION TO THESE AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS, CONCENTRATING INSTEAD ON THOSE AREAS WHERE THERE HAS BEEN LIMITED PROGRESS OR WHERE THERE HAS BEEN AN INCREASE IN GOVERNMENT POWERS NOT SUBJECT TO JUDICIAL REVIEW.

THE UNITED STATES YIELDS TO NO COUNTRY IN SUPPORT FOR THE DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES WHICH ARE CONTAINED IN THE RESOLUTION ON CHILE. BUT WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT CONTINUING TO SINGLE OUT CHILE FOR SPECIAL TREATMENT BY THIS BODY IS THE BEST WAY TO ACHIEVE THEM. WE HOPE THAT THE UNHRC AT ITS NEXT SESSION WILL CAREFULLY EXAMINE ALTERNATIVE PROCEDURES FOR HANDLING ITS EXAMINATION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE, AS WELL AS ALL OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD WHERE THERE ARE SIMILAR OR MORE SEVERE PROBLEMS. SUBJECT: GOC CONTROL OF THE MEDIA

REF: SANTIAGO 6039 AND PREVIOUS

1. SUMMARY: IN ADDITION TO THREE RECENT DECREES DESIGNED TO CONTROL THE MEDIA, THE GOC ALSO INITIATED TWO COURT CASES (REFTEL). IN ONE CASE, THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE RULED AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT'S CHARGE THAT "LAS ULTIMAS NOTICIAS" HAD VIOLATED THE LAW FORBIDDING PUBLICIZING TERRORIST ACTS. IN THE OTHER, STRANGELY CONFLICTING TESTIMONY LED TO A SUPREME COURT DECISION WHICH, FOR THE MOMENT AT LEAST, LEFT APSI FREE TO PUBLISH BOTH NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL NEWS. NEVERTHELESS, THE CASES MAY HAVE SERVED THE GOVERNMENT'S PURPOSE IN THAT THE MEDIA ARE BEHAVING MORE CAUTIOUSLY, ALTHOUGH FAR FROM MUZZLED. END SUMMARY.

2. USING THE WIDE-RANGING EXECUTIVE POWERS GRANTED BY ARTICLE 24 OF THE TRANSITORY PROVISIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION, THE GOC HAS ATTEMPTED TO EXTEND ITS CONTROL OVER DISSEMINATION OF NEWS IN CHILE BY PROMULGATING PRESS LAWS WHICH, AMONG OTHER THINGS, GRANTED THE MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR SOLE POWER TO AUTHORIZE NEW PUBLICATIONS AND REQUIRED THE MEDIA TO REFRAIN FROM

PROMINENTLY PUBLICIZING TERRORIST ACTS. USING THESE POWERS, THE GOC MOVED ON AUGUST 7 TO PROHIBIT THE MAGAZINE "APSI" FROM PUBLISHING NATIONAL AS WELL AS INTERNATIONAL NEWS AND ON OCTOBER 9 TO PUNISH THE DAILY NEWSPAPER "LAS ULTIMAS NOTICIAS" FOR PUBLISHING REPORTS ON TERRORIST ACTIVITIES (FOR FULLER DESCRIPTION OF PRESS LAWS AND THE TWO CASES CITED ABOVE, SEE SANTIAGO 6039).

3. "LAS ULTIMAS NOTICIAS" CASE: ON NOVEMBER 16, THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE NAMED BY THE SANTIAGO COURT OF APPEALS DECIDED NEWS PUBLISHED BY NEWSPAPER DID NOT CONSITTUTE A VIOLATION OF PRESS LAWS AS GOVERNMENT HAD CLAIMED. LATER IN THE MONTH, ON NOVEMBER 27, THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR ANNOUNCED IT WOULD NOT APPEAL THE JUDGE'S DECISION. THIS EFFECTIVELY ABSOLVES "LAS ULTIMAS NOTICIAS" AND ITS EDITOR OF ALL CHARGES.

4. "APSI CASE": ON NOVEMBER 23, THE CHILEAN SUPREME COURT VOTED 5-0 TO DENY A WRIT OF PROTECTION FILED AGAINST THE GOC BY THE NEWS MAGAZINE APSI. THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE COURT'S DECISION WERE AS TANGLED AS THE BACKGROUND OF THE CASE ITSELF (SEE REFTEL). FOLLOWING DENIALS OF THE SRIT OF PROTECTION IN LOWER COURTS, APSI APPEALED THE CASE TO THE SUPREME COURT. THERE, IT LOST ITS APPEAL BATTLE BUT WON ITS WAR. DURING TESTIMONY BEFORE THE INVESTIGATING JUDGE, THE EDITOR OF APSI TESTIFIED HE HAD RECEIVED VERBAL, BUT NOT WRITTEN ORDERS FROM DINACOS TO STOP PUBLISHING NATIONAL NEWS ON THE GROUNDS THAT APSI HAD NEVER RECEIVED WRITTEN AUTHORIZATION TO PUBLISH NATIONAL NEWS. THE DIRECTOR OF DINACOS DENIED ORDERING APSI TO STOP PUBLICATION OF NATIONAL NEWS, DESPITE A SERIES OF NEWSPAPER INTERVIEWS HE GAVE IN AUGUST WHICH ESSENTIALLY AGREEED WITH THE TESTIMONY OF THE APSI EDITOR. GIVEN THIS TESTIMONY, THE SUPREME COURT DENIED THE WRIT OF PROTECTION ON THE GROUNDS IT WAS UNNECESSARY.

5. BASED ON THE TESTIMONY OF THE DIRECTOR OF DINACOS AND THE SUPREME COURT DECISION, APSI ANNOUNCED IT WILL RESUME PUBLICATION OF BOTH NATIONAL AND INTERNATIONAL NEWS BUT DID NOT SPECIFY A DATE. SINCE DINACOS REMAINS FREE TO INITIATE ACTION AGAINST APSI, THE FINAL OUTCOME OF THE CASE IS STILL SOMEWHAT DOUBTFUL. ADDITIONALLY, THE EDITOR OF APSI TOLD EMBASSY THE MAGAZINE IS IN VERY BAD SHAPE ECONOMICALLY (ITS NORMAL PRE-CRISIS CIRCULATION WAS ONLY ABOUT 2,000 WHICH ROSE TO NEARLY 8,000 DURING THE CONTROVERSY, BUT HE MAGAZINE HAS NOT BEEN PUBLISHED AT ALL SINCE EARLY AUGUST).

6. EMBASSY COMMENT: IN LIGHT OF RECENT COURT DECISIONS, IT REMAINS TO BE SEEN WHAT THE GOC WILL DO ABOUT ITS OWN INCREASINGLY STRINGENT PRESS LAWS. IN ONE SENSE, HOWEVER, IT HAS ALREADY GAINED PART OF ITS OBJECTIVE, THE RESTRICTION DYGDTWN OF NEWS ABOUT TERRORIST ACTIVITIES, IN THAT THE CHILEAN MEDIA APPEAR TO BE SOMEWHAT MORE CAUTIOUS THAN BEFORE, ALTHOUGH BY NO MEANS MUZZLED.

RAPPORTEUR PROCEDURE.

WE WOULD BE THE LAST TO ARGUE THAT THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE IS PERFECT. NEVERTHELESS, THERE

HAVE BEEN SIGNIFICANT HUMAN RIGHTS IMPROVEMENTS IN CHILE SINCE 1977. I WOULD NOTE PARTICULARLY THE END TO INDEFINITE DETENTIONS WITHOUT TRIAL IN 1976, THAT THERE HAVE BEEN NO DISAPPEARANCES SINCE OCTOBER 1977, THE RELEASE OF MOST POLITICAL PRISONERS BY EARLY 1978, AND THE FACT THAT, ALTHOUGH STILL CIRCUMSCRIBED, OPPOSITION VIEWPOINTS DO HAVE MEDIA ACCESS. IT IS ALSO IMPORTANT TO REMEMBER THAT CHILE PERMITTED A VISIT OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION'S AD HOC WORKING GROUP ON CHILE IN JULY 1978, AND THAT NO OTHER COUNTRY HAS YET PERMITTED A SIMILAR VISIT BY THE HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS OF THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR HAVE GIVEN INADEQUATE

ATTENTION TO THESE AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS, CONCERNTRATING INSTEAD ON THOSE AREAS WHERE THERE HAS BEEN LIMITED PROGRESS OR WHERE THERE HAS BEEN AN INCREASE IN GOVERNMENT POWERS NOT SUBJECT TO JUDICIAL REVIEW.

THIS RESOLUTION PROPOSES FOR CHILE STANDARDS AND TERMS NO OTHER NATION IS ASKED TO MEET. IT CONSTITUTES ONE MORE EXAMPLE OF THE UNFAIR APPLICATION TO THE NON-COMMUNIST NATIONS OF LATIN AMERICA OF STANDARDS NOT APPLIED TO OTHER COUNTRIES.

THIS UNBALANCED TREATMENT OF NON-COMMUNIST LATIN AMERICAN NATIONS DOES NOT ADVANCE THE CAUSE OF HUMAN RIGHTS ANYWHERE. INSTEAD, IT MERELY CREATES CYNICISM ABOUT U.N. JUDGEMENTS ON HUMAN RIGHTS.

MR. CHAIRMAN, THE RESOLUTION LISTS A NUMBER OF CONCRETE STEPS THAT THE CHILEAN AUTHORITIES MUST TAKE BEFORE THE SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR WILL BE REMOVED. MANY COUNTRIES, PERHAPS A MAJORITY, COULD NOT MEET THESE STANDARDS. FOR EXAMPLE, IT URGES "AN END TO ARBITRARY DETENTIONS, PHYSICAL OR PSYCHOLOGICAL INTIMIDATION AND PROSECUTION OF PERSONS WHO EXERCISE THIS RIGHT TO FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION AND OPINION. YET IN A REPORT ISSUED JUST LAST MONTH BY AMNESTY INTERNATIONAL, IT WAS POINTED OUT THAT ABOUT HALF THE MEMBERS COUNTRIES OF THE UNITED NATIONS ARE BELIEVED TO HOLD PRISONERS OF CONSCIENCE. ARE WE TO HAVE A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR EACH OF THESE COUNTRIES?

RAPPORTEUR IS THAT FULL RESTORATION"OF TRADE UNION RIGHTS, ESPECIALLY THE FREEDOM TO JOIN TRADE UNIONS WHICH CAN OPERATE FREELY WITHOUT GOVERNMENT CONTROL AND CAN EXERCISE FULLY THE RIGHT TO STRIKE."

AGAIN, MR. CHAIRMAN, HOW MANY MEMBERS OF THE UNITED NATIONS RESPECT THE RIGHT OF FREE ASSOCIATION AND PERMIT THE EXISTENCE OF FREE TRADE UNIONS? RECENTLY, IN ONE LARGE COUNTRY THAT MOUTHS THE RHETORIC OF PROLITARIANISM, EVEN AS IT IMPOSES ON WORKERS STATE CONTROLLED LABOR FRONTS, A HANDFUL OF WORKERS WHO TRIED TO START A FREE TRADE UNION WERE THROWN INTO JAIL OR SENT TO PSYCHIATRIC PRISONS. SHOULDN'T WE ALSO HAVE A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR THIS COUNTRY AND FOR ALL THE OTHERS WHICH DENY THE RIGHT TO FORM FREE TRADE UNIONS?

MR. CHAIRMAN, CHILE CANNOT BE CHARACTERIZED AS A FREE SOCIETY. BUT ACCORDING TO THE CAREFULLY DOCUMENTED REPORT OF FREEDOM HOUSE ON THE STATE OF FREEDOM IN THE WORLD, CHILE IS LESS UNFREE THAN 56 COUNTRIES IN THE UNITED NATIONS, INCLUDING 2 SPONSORS OF THE RESOLUTION NOW BEFORE US. THE DEGREE OF FREEDOM IS THE SAME AS IN 9 OTHER COUNTRIES, INCLUDING 1 SPONSOR OF THE RESOLUTION. SHOULDN'T WE HAVE A SPECIAL RAPPORTEUR FOR EACH OF THESE 65 COUNTRIES? AND IF WE DO NOT, IS NOT THE UNITED NATIONS GUILTY OF HAVING A DOUBLE STANDARD ON HUMAN RIGHTS? MR. CHAIRMAN, THE UNITED STATES YIELDS TO NO COUNTRY IN SUPPORT FOR DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES, OR IN ITS SEARCH FOR INSTITUTIONS WHICH WILL PRESERVE AND EXPAND FREEDOM, LAW, DEMOCRACY, AND DEVELOPMENT.

BUT WE DO NOT BELIEVE THAT CONTINUING TO

WE HOPE THAT THE UNHRC AT ITS NEXT SESSION WILL CAREFULLY EXAMINE ALTERNATIVE PROCEDURES FOR HANDLING ITS EXAMINATION OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN CHILE, AS WELL AS ALL OTHER COUNTRIES IN THE WORLD WHERE THERE ARE SIMILAR OR MORE SEVERE PROBLEMS.

4. GOVERNMENT RESTRICTIONS ON POLITICAL ACTIVITY, HOWEVER, SERIOUSLY LIMIT THE FORMATION OF PARTY ORGANIZATIONS, PARTICULARLY IN THE PROVINCES. THIS IS ESPECIALLY TRUE OF THE PSD, WHICH, AS THE NEWEST AND SMALLEST OF THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION PARTIES, SCARCELY EXISTS OUTSIDE OF SANTIAGO.

5. HISTORY: THE PSD BEGAN AS S SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC REACTION AGAINST THE GROWING LEFTIST TOTALITARIANISM OF ALLENDE'S UNIDAD POPULAR (UP) COALITION. IT GREW OUT OF THE MODERATE WING OF THE OLD RADICAL PARTY AND ORGINALLY CALLED ITSELF THE PARTIDO DE IZQUIERDA RADICAL (PIR - LEFT RADICAL PARTY). DESPITE ITS ORIGINAL NAME, THE PARTY WAS AND IS COMPOSED MAINLY OF PROFESS-IONALS WITH A SMATTERING OF SMALL BUSINESSMEN AND TEACHERS, MOST OF WHOM HAVE THEIR ROOTS IN THE OLD RADICAL PARTY.

6. PARTY ORGANIZATION: THE PSD HAS VERY LITTLE IN THE WAY OF A FORMAL PARTY ORGANIZATION AND EVEN LESS EXPERIENCE AS A PARTY, SINCE IT HAS TAKEN PART IN ONLY ONE ELECTION, THE MARCH 1973 PARLIAMENTARY ELECTION. RATHER, IT IS A GROUP OF LIKE-MINDED INDIVIDUALS WHO HOPE TO BUILD, FIRST, AN INFLUENTIAL CURRENT OF OPINION AND EVENTUALLY A GENUINE POLITICAL PARTY, OUT OF THE MODERATE REMNANTS OF THE SPLINTERED RADICAL PARTY. THE PSD IS CENTERED ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY IN SANTIAGO, MAINTAINING ONLY A SKELETAL MEMBERSHIP IN OTHER CITIES. OUTSIDE OF SANTIAGO, THERE IS ALMOST NOTHING IN THE

WAY OF A PARTY ORGANIZATION AND, EVEN IN SANTIAGO, PARTY ORGANIZATION TENDS TO BE INFORMAL AND MEETINGS IRREGULAR. THE FURTHER AWAY FROM SANTIAGO ONE GOES, THE WEAKER THE PARTY BECOMES. AS A RESULT, WHAT MEETINGS THERE ARE CONSIST OF 5-6 MEMBERS MEETING IN THE HOME OF ONE ANOTHER AND DISCUSSING THE ISSUES OF THE DAY. OUTSIDE OF SUCH MEETINGS, WHICH ARE MORE IN THE NATURE OF DISCUSSION GROUPS THAN OF POLITICAL PARTY MEETINGS, THE PARTY IS HELD TOGETHER LARGELY BY A MONTHLY NEWSLETTER AND LIMITED PERSONAL CONTACTS BETWEEN THE LEADERS IN SANTIAGO AND MEMBERS IN THE PROVINCES.

7. IN SANTIAGO, THE PARTY LEADERS ARE RENE ABELIUK, EX-RADICAL PARTY FUNCTIONARY AND PRESIDENT SINCE HE TOOK OVER FROM LUIS BOSSAY IN 1980; ARTURO VENEGAS, PIR CANDIDATE FOR DEPUTY IN MARCH 1973 AND PROBABLY THE PARTY'S LEADING IDEOLOGIST; AND MARIO PAPI, EX-YOUTH LEADER AND STILL THE PARTY'S MAIN LINK TO YOUTH GROUPS. MUCH CAN BE UNDERSTOOD ABOUT THE PARTY ORGANIZA-TION WHENONE REALIZES THAT THE THREE ARE PART OF THE SAME LAW FIRM IN DOWNTOWN SANTIAGO. MOST OF THEIR ACTIVE MEMBERSHIP THROUGH-OUT CHILE IS ALSO MADE UP OF LAWYERS AND EX-RADICAL PARTY MEMBERS.

8. IDEOLOGY: IDEOLOGICALLY, THE PSD CONTINUES THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC LINE OF ITS MODERATE RADICAL PARTY ANCESTRY. THEY SEE THEMSELVES AS SOCIAL DEMOCRATS IN THE EUROPEAN SENSE (THEY RECEIVE SOME LIMITED HELP FROM SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC PARTIES IN WESTERN EUROPE), ALTHOUGH THAT IS COMBINED WITH CONSIDERABLE TRADITIONAL CHILEAN POPULISM. THEY WANT A MIXED ECONOMY WITH MORE PROTECTIONISM, GOVERNMENT SUBSIDIES FOR INDUSTRY, AND INCREASED SOCIAL WELFARE BENEFITS THAN EXIST TODAY IN CHILE'S COMPETITIVE FREE MARKET SYSTEM. FOR INSPIRATION, THEY HARKEN BACK TO A MODIFIED VERSION OF THE RADICAL PARTY ECONOMIC PROGRAM WHICH INDUSTRIALIZED CHILE IN THE 1940'S.

9. IN GENERAL, THEY VIEW THEMSELVES AS PROVIDING A NECESSARY, SLIGHTLY LEFT-OF-CENTER ALTERNATIVE TO THE PDC. THEY HOPE TO DISTINGUISH THEMSELVES FROM THE PDC BY PLAYING UPON THEIR: A) SECULARITY, AS OPPOSED TO PDC-CHURCH TIES, ALTHOUGH THEY PERCEIVE THAT THE ANTI-CLERICALISM OF THE 1930'S AND 1940'S IS DEAD AS A POLITICAL ISSUE IN CHILE; B). LACK OF A POLITICAL PAST ,COMPARED TO THE COMPROMISES AND MISTAKES MADE OVER THE YEARS BY THE PDCV C) SELF-PERCEPTION AS HAVING A BETTER DEFINED AND MORE UNIFIED PARTY IDEOLOGY, AS COMPARED TO PDC ATTEMPTS TO ACCOMMODATE WIDELY DIVERGENT OPINIONS; AND D) OFFER OF A MILD BRAND OF POPULISM/SOCIALISM AS THE ANSWER TO THE ECONOMIC PROBLEMS OF CHILE. INTERESTINGLY ENOUGH, THE PDC HAS MADE SOME ATTEMPTS, IN THE NAME OF RESTORING DEMOCRACY, TO AID PSD DEVELOPMENT. PDC LEADERS MAY SEE SOME VALUE IN SOCIAL DEMOCRACY AS A KIND OF FIRE BREAK AGAINST THE ORTHODOX MARXISTS.

UNCLASSIFIED

10. THEIR ILD BRAND OF POPULISM/SOCIALISM SHOULD NOT HOWEVER, BE MISUNDERSTOOD. THEIR ANTI-COMMUNISM YIELDS NOTHING TO THAT OF THE PDC. IN FACT, THEY ARE WILLING TO SAY PRIVATELY
CONFIDENTIAL

THAT, IN A CHOICE BETWEEN A MILITARY AND A COMMUNIST DICTATORSHIP, THE PREFER THE MILITARY VARIETY. IT SHOULD BE MADE CLEAR, HOWEVER, THAT THEIR PRIMARY EMPHASIS IS ALWAYS AND CLEARLY PLACED ON DEMOCRACY.

11. IDEOLOGICALLY, THE PSC BELONGS IN THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL BUT IT HAS NEVER OFFICIALLY APPLIED BECAUSE: A) THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL CONTINUES TO RECOGNIZE THE NOW-DEFUNCT RADICAL PARTY IN EXILE; B) MEMBERSHIP MIGHT BRAND THE PSD AS DANGEROUS LEFTISTS IN CHILE'S CURRENT POLITICAL CLIMATE; C) PSD ORGANIZATION WEAKNESSES ARE SO GLARING AT THE PRESENT TIME THAT BOTH THE PSD AND THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL MIGHT BE EMBARRASED BY A REJECTED APPLICATION; AND D) THE PSD FEELS SI MEMBERSHIP WILL FOLLOW NATURALLY AS THE PARTY DEVELOPS.

12. ONE INTERESGING IDEOLOGICAL SIDELIGHT OF PSD IDEOLOGY IS ITS CONTINUING LINKS WITH THE MASONICS LODGES IN CHILE. THESE LINKS GO BACK TO THE 1930'S AND WERE ORIGINALLY BASED ON A CONFLUENCE OF LIBERALISM AND SECULARIS. ALTHOUGH THE IDEOLOGICAL LINKS ARE PRETTY MUCH PASSE TODAY, THE PSD CONTINUES TO USE THE LODGES AS A SUBTERFUGE FOR HOLDING SMALL-SCALE POLITICAL MEETINGS WHICH ARE OFFICIALLY FORBIDDEN.

13. PSD YOUTH: IN CHILE, THE PROBLEM OF WHAT TO DO WITH THE POLITICAL YOUTH GROUPS IS LIKE THAT OF THE WEATHER: EVERYONE TALKS ABOUT THEM BUT NO ONE DOES MUCH OF ANYTHING, ONE DIFFICULTY IS THAT WHATEVER PROBLEMS THE PSD HAS, THEIR YOUTH HAVE THEM IN RE-DOUBLED FORM--OVER CENTRALIZATION IN SANTIAGO, SHORTAGE OF FUNDS, LACK OF EFFECTIVE ORGANIZATION, LACK OF COMMUNICATION, APATHY, ETC. AS A RESULT, EXCEPT IN SANTIAGO AND VALPARAISO PSD YOUTH GROUPS ARE NON-EXISTENT. IN ADDITION TO THE SAME GENERAL PROBLEMS WHICH AFFLICT ALL YOUTH GROUPS, THE PSD ALSO SUFFERS FROM A PAUCITY OF YOUTH-OREINTED LITERATURE AND THE

LACK OF A LARGER ORGANIZATION SUCH AS THE CHURCH OR THE MASONS TO COVER THEIR ACTIVITIES.

14. DESPITE THESE PROBLEMS, MOST OBSERVERS SEE A RISE IN

GENERAL STUDENT INTEREST AND POLITICAL ACTIVITY IN THE PAST YEAR OR TWO, USUALLY ATTRIBUTED TO THE SEPTEMBER 1980 PLEBISCITE, LACK OF EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES, UNIVERSITY STUDENT REFORMS AND THE RISING COSTS OF HIGHER EDUCATION. IN THE LONG RUN, THIS MAY BENEFIT THE PSD IN ITS YOUTH ACTIVITIES. EVEN SO, POLITICAL ACTIVITY PROBABLY DIRECTLY INVOLVES LESS THAN FIVE PERCENT OF THE UNIVERSITY STUDENT POPULATION AND MANY BELIEVE IT HAS ALREADY PEAKED AND IS NOW LEVELING OFF.

15. CONCLUSIONS: THE CURRENT POLITICAL SITUATION IN CHILE MIGHT BEST BE DESCRIBED AS A STATE OF SUSPENDED ANIMATION CAPABLE OF RAPID REVIVAL ONCE ARTIFICCIAL RESTRAINTS ARE REMOVED. RELATIVELY LITTLE IS BEING DONE, HOWEVER, TO REMOVE THOSE RESTRAINTS. MOST POLITICAL ACTIVISTS ACCEPT THE FACT THAT THEY CAN DO VERY LITTLE AGAINST THE POWER OF THE MILITARY GOVERN-MENT AND INSTEAD ARE BIDING THEIR TIME AND HUSBANDING THEIR SCANTY RESOURCES FOR THE PROMISED LAND OF FREE ELECTIONS IN 1989 AND AFTER.

16. THE HOPE AND THE POTENTIAL OF THE PSD IS THAT ONCE THE RESTRAINTS ARE OFF, THE PARTY WILL BENEFIT FROM A MASSIVE INFLUX OF POLITICAL SUPPORTERS, LEFT OVER FROM RADICAL PARTY DAYS, FOR A SECULAR, CENTER, POPULIST PARTY. SUCH CONSTITUENCY WOULD MAKE THE PSD THE LOGICAL DEMOCRATIC ALTERNATIVE TO THE PDC AND, AT THE SAME TIME A NATURAL BULWARK AGAINST MORE RADICAL LEFTISTS. IN THE MEANTIME, THEY CARRY ON THEIR LIMITED ACTIVITIES, WHICH THE GOVERNMENT WINKS AT AS LONG AS A LOW PROFILE IS MAINTAINED AND NO SIGNIFICANT THREAT IS PERCEIVED. IF THE PROFILE BECOMES TOO HIGH OR A THREAT IS PERCEIVED, THE GOVERNMENT ACTS, OFTEN BY EXPELLING A FEW LEADING INDIVIDUALS AS IN THE CASE OF EUGENIO VELASCO, VICE PRESIDENT OF THE PSD, IN 1976.

16. TO REALIZE ITS POTENTIAL AND TAKE A PLACE OF IMPORTANCE ON THE POLITICAL STAGE, THE PSD MUST SURMOUNT THREE MAJOR PROBLEMS IN THE DECADE AHEAD. THESEMIGHT BE SUMMED UP AS GROWHT, GOVERNMENT AND ALLENDE. THE PSD, WHICH IS BARELY A PARTY NOW, MUST GROWN IF IT IS TO BECOME A SIGNIFICANT POLITICAL FORCE BY 1989 AND AFTER. TO DO SO, IT MUST NOT ONLY FIND BETTER KNOWN, MORE CHARISMATIC LEADERS, CLARIFY ITS PROGRAM TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE CURRENT ECONOMIC MALAISE IN CHILE, AND ENLARGE ITS BASE OF SUPPORTAV IT MUST, AT THE SAME TIME AVOID PROVOKING RENEWED GOVERNMENT REPRESSION. WHILE DOING ALL THIS, IT MUST OVERCOME THE LINKAGE WHICH EXISTS IN THE MINDS OF MANY CHILEANS BETWEEN THE CATAS-TROPHE OF THE ALLENDE YEARS, PARTY POLITICS AND SOCIALISM-IN ALL OF WHICH THE PSD'S PREDECESSOR, THE RADICAL PARTY, WAS DDEEPLY INVOLVED. TO DO ALL OF THESE THINGS SUCCESSFULLY AND SIMULTANEOUSLY WILL REQUIRE THAT THE PSD TRAVEL A VERY NARROW AND DIFFICULT PATH.

WHILE THERE HAVE BEEN NO GIGANTIC LEAPS CAUSING IMPROVEMENTS IN WOMEN'S RIGHTS, MORE OPPORTUNITIES NOW EXIST FOR WOMEN'S PARTICIPATION IN AREAS FORMERLY RESERVED TO MEN, THIS REPORT SUMMARIZES THE CURRENT STATUS OF CHILEAN WOMEN, APPENDING THEREAFTER SPECIFIC RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING THE EMBASSY'S POSSIBLE CONTRIBUTION TO IMPROVEMENT OF WOMEN'S RIGHTS IN CHILE. END SUMMARY.

2. THE CONSTITUTIOVN OF 1980 PROVIDES FOR EQUAL RIGHTS FOR CHILEAN MEN AND WOMEN, AND CHILEAN LAW GENERALLY PERMITS WOMEN TO ENTER THE WORK FORCE ON EQUAL TERMS WITH MEN. IN PRACTICE, HOWEVER, THERE ARE SUBTLE DIFFERENCES IN TREATMENT OF WORKING MEN AND

WOMEN, ALTHOUGH WOMEN ARE ENTERING THE WORK FORCE IN FAR GREATER NUMBERS THAN BEFORE, ENTRY-LEVEL SALARIES FOR WOMEN ARE GENERALLY LOWER AND WOMEN OFTEN ARE LIMITED TO FIELDS TRADITIONALLY RESERVED FOR WOMEN, SUCH AS TEACHING, NURSING, OR CLERICAL WORK. MOST EMPLOYERS REMAIN RELUCTANT TO CONSIDER WOMEN FOR JOBS

FOR WHICH SIMILARLY QUALIFIED MALES HAVE APPLIED. THE FOREGOING NOTWITHSTANDING, WHAVE BEEN ENTITLED BY LAW TO KEEP AND DISPOSE OF THEIR OWN SALARIES SINCE 1952. FURTHERMOR, THE WORKING MOTHER IS GIVEN BENEFITS WHICH FAR EXCEED THOSE NORMALLY PROVIDED IN THE UNITED STATES. FOR EXAMPLE, A WORKING MOTHER-TO-BE MUST BE PAID HER FULL SALARY DURING THE MATERNITY LEAVE PERIOD OF SIX WEEKS PRIOR TO DELIVERY AND TWELVE WEEKS POST-PARTUM. MOREOVER, IF THE EXPECTANT MOTHER'S WORKPLACE IS DETERMINED HAZARDOUS TO HERHEALTH, THE EMPLOYER IS REQUIRED BY LAW TO TRANSFER HER TOA JOB WHICH DOES NOT JEOPARDIZE HER HEALTH. THE EMPLOYER MUST PROVIDE DAY CARE FOR PRE-SCHOOLERS, EITHER ON PREMISES OR ELSEWHERE, IF HE EMPLOYS MORE THAN TWENTY WORKING MOTHERS.

3. IN OTHER MATTERS, THE CURRENT PICTURE IS LESS ENCOURAGING, ALTHOUGH SOME IMPROVEMENTS HAVE BEEN MADE. CHILEAN WOMEN HAVE HAD THE VOTE FOR PRESIDENT SINCE 1949, AND ENJOY EQUAL ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION IN ALL PROFESSIONAL FIELDS. MOST REMAINING LEGAL DISCRIMINATION OCCURS IN THE FIELD OF MARRIAGE AND FAMILY LAWS. PRIOR TO CHANGES INTHE LAWS AROUND 15 YEARS AGO, GOVERNING ALIENATION OF MARITAL PROPERTY, THE MALE SPOUSE COULD SELL OR ENCUMBER JOINTLY HELD PROPERTY AT WILL. NOW, WHERE THERE IS NO "SEPARATION" OF PROPERTY AT THE TIME OF MARRIAGE, THE CONSENT OF BOTH

SPOUSES IS REQUIRED. MOST COUPLES FROM MIDDLE AND UPPER CLASS FAMILIES CHOOSE TO INCLUDE A "SEPARATION OF PROPERTY" CLAUSE IN THE MARRIAGE AGREEMENT, THUS AVOIDING THE NEED FOR THE SPOUSE'S CONSENT TO DISPOSE OF REAL PROPERTY. CHILEAN LAW DOES NOT PERMIT DIVORCE, OR RECOGNIZE FOREIGN DIVORCES; THUS MARRIED COUPLES WISHING TO DISSOLVE THEIR RELATIONSHIP MUST RESORT TO EITHER ANNULMENT, USUALLY BY ONE OR MORE LEGAL SUBTERFUGES, OR PERMANENT LEGAL SEPARATION. IN BOTH CASES, THE LAW TENDS TO AFFECT THE WOMAN NEGATIVELY. FOR EXAMPLE, IN THE CASE OF AN ANNULLED MARRIAGE, THE MALE SPOUSE IS NOALLY REQUIRED TO SUPPORT THE FEMALE FORMER SPOUSE, ALTHOUGH HE IS OBLIGATED TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR ANY CHILDREN OF THE MARRIAGE. FURTHER, UNLESS THE WOMAN OBTAINS A COURT ORDER GRANTING HER CUSTODY OF THE CHILDREN, THE FATHER RETAINS LEGAL CUSTODY OF BOTH MALE AND FEMALE CHILDREN UNTIL AGE 16, AND OF MALE OFFSPRING THEREAFTER UNTIL THEY RACL MAJORITY. WHETHER THE PARENTS ARE MARRIED OR SEPARATED, TH FATHER MUST LEGALLY CONSENT IN WRITING TO THE TRAVEL OF MINOR CHILDREN OUTSIDE CHILE, EVEN IF THE MOTHER HAS CUSTODY. THE REVERSE IS NOT THE CASE, HOWEVER, UNLESS THE MOTHER HAS A COURT ORDER RESTRAINING THE FATHER FROM TAKING THE CHILDREN OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY.

4. ALTHOUGH WIDESPREAD EMPLOYMENT OF DOMESTIC SERVANTS AMONG MIDDLE AND UPPER CLASS FAMILIES ENABLES MANY CHILEAN WOMEN TO WORK OUTSIDE THE HOME, CHILEAN WOMEN REMAIN THE DOMINANT FIGURES IN THE HOME. THE GROWING INCIDENCE OF TWO-INCOME FAMILIES COUPLED WITH THE PROFESSIONAL INDEPENDENCE OF CHILEAN WORKING WOMEN, HAS PRECIPITATED AN EMERGING PATTERN OF CHANGE IN CERTAIN SOCIAL ROLES. HUSBANDS, FOR EXAMPLE, ARE MORE LIKELY THAN IN THE PAST TO SHARE DOMESTIC CHORES SUCH AS SHOPPING, CHILD CARE, AND HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT WITH THEIR WORKING WIVES. OTHER TRADITIONAL SOCIAL TABOOS SEEM TO BE ERODING AS WELL; FOR EXAMPLE, UNESCORTED WOMEN ARE SEEN MORE OFTEN IN RESTAURANTS AND OTHER PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS, WHEREAS IN THE PAST, SUCH BEHAVIOR WAS ACTIVELY DISCOURAGED.

3. RECOGNIZING THE POTENTIAL POLITICAL POWER OF CHILEAN WOMEN, AS WELL AS THE IMPORTANCE OF THE NATION'S WOMEN AS WELL AS THE IMPORTANCE OF THE NATION'S WOMEN AS A HUMAN RESOURCE, THE PINOCHET REGIME HAS APPOINTED WOMEN TO HIGH LEVEL GOVERNMENT POSITIONS, A WOMAN ATTORNEY SITS ON A LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION, AND TWO OTHERS SERVE ON AN ADVISORY PANEL DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE TO THE PRESIDENT. IN ADDITION, THE GOVERNMENT HAS APPOINTED WOMEN AS AMBASSADORS AND MAYORS. IN MAY 1981, A WOMAN WAS APPOINTED MINISTER WITHOUT PORTFOLIO TO HEAD A NEW MINISTRY OF THE FAMILY. THE REGIME ALSO CONSITTUTED A SECRETARIAT FOR WOMEN IN THE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT. IN ADDITION, A WOMAN SERVES AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF ONE CABINET MINISTRY, AND ANOTHER IS DIRECTOR OF TOURISM.

A CONSIDERABLE NUMBER OF WOMEN ARE JUDGES IN THE CHILEAN COURT SYSTEM, AND MANY WOMEN SERVE THE GOVERNMENT AS PHYSICIANS AND MEDICAL SPECIALISTS.

6. SPECIAL MENTION SHOULD BE MADE OF THE WELFARE OF CHILEAN WOMEN IN DOMESTIC SERVICE, TRADITIONALLY A LARGE PERCENTAGE OF WORKING WOMEN IN THE LOWER ECONOMIC CLASSES. DOMESTICS EARN MORE TODAY IN REAL TERMS THAN EVER BEFORE, AND ENJOY LIBERAL HEALTH AND PENSION PLANS UNDER CURRENT SOCIAL SECURITY LAWS. IN ADDITION, A SPECIAL WORKER'S COURT HEARS LEGAL AND EQUITABLE COMPLAINTS BY DOMESTICS WHO BELIEVE THEY HAVE BEEN WRONGED BY THEIR EMPLOYERS. WHILE WAGES ARE STILL RELATIVELY LOW FOR DOMESTICS, THERE APPEARS TO BE SUBSTANTIAL IMPROVEMENT IN WORKING CONDITIONS, AS YOUNGER MIDDLE CLASS COUPLES TEND TO VIEW THEIR HOUSEHOLD SERVANTS LESS FEUDALLY AND MORE AS PART OF THE FAMILY.

7. THE EMBASSY'S ROLE IN ADVANCING THE STATUS OF WOMEN IN CHILE IS A LOGICAL EXTENSION OF THE DIRECTIONS ORIGINALLY CHARTED IN REF (B). WE MUST CONTINUE TO INSURE THAT ALL AMERICAN AND CHILEAN SUPERVISORS ARE REQUIRED TO ADHERE TO EQUAL OPPORTUNITY HIRING PRINCIPLES AND FAIR TREATMENT FOR FEMALE EMPLOYEES. IN THIS REGARD, WE NOTE WITH SATISFACTION THAT, SINCE OUR LAST REPORT, TWO MORE AMERICAN WOMEN OCCUPY PROFESSIONAL POSITIONS ON THE STAFF, AND THAT A FEMALE AIR FORCE NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICER SERVES IN DAO. OUR FEMALE BUDGET AND FISCAL OFFICER HAS SERVED PERIODICALLY
AS ACTING COUNSELOR FOR ADMINISTRATION. THE NUMBER OF WOMEN EMPLOYED ON OUR NATIONAL STAFF HAS INCREASED TWO PERCENT SINCE 1979, AND THE NUMBER OF PROFESSIONAL WOMEN IN GRADES 8-10 HAS DOUBLED DURING THHE SAME PERIOD. IN ADDITION A FEMALE FSO IS IN TRANSIT TO SANTIAGO TO SERVE AS A VISA OFFICER IN THE CONSULAR SECTION. THE EMBASSY IS STUDYING A NUMBER OF SUGGESTIONS DESIGNED TO IMPROVE COMMUNICATION AMONG WOMEN IN THE MISSION.

THEY IMCLUDE: PERIODIC DISCUSSION MEETINGS OPEN TO ALL EMBASSY WOMEN UNDER THE AEGIS OF THE FWP COORDINATOR, INCLUDING MORE CHILEAN PROFESSIONAL WOMEN IN INVITATIONS TO EMBASSY REPRESENTATIONAL FUNCTIONS, GREATER IDENTIFICATION OF SUITABLE WOMEN CANDIDATES FOR IVP GRANTS, ENLARGING THE MANDATE OF THE FWP COORDINATOR TO INCLUDE OFFERING ASSISTANCE TO CHILEAN WOMEN IN THE EMBASSY, ENCOURAGING ALL EMBASSY WOMEN TO JOIN AND PARTICIPATE IN ORGANIZATIONS DESIGNED TO IMPROVE WOMEN'S RIGHTS IN CHILE (SUCH AS THE INTERNATIONAL FEDERATION OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN), AND PERSUADING THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF CHILE AND THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION TO HOLD SOME OF THEIR MEETINGS AFTER WORKING HOURS, SO THAT WORKING WOMEN CAN PARTICIPATE MORE FULLY

IN THESE ORGANIZATIONS. FINALLY, THE EMBASSY HOPES TO CONTINUE EFFORTS, BEGUN EARLIER IN THE YEAR, TO REACH AN AGREEMENT WITH THE GOC PERMITTING SPOUSES OF AMERICAN DIPLOMATS TO ACCEPT EMPLOYMENT OUTSIDE THE MISSION. WE NOTE, IN THIS REGARD, THAT SPOUSES OF CHILEAN DIPLOMATS ASSIGNED TO THE UNITED STATES HAVE BEEN ABLE TO WORK SINCE MARCH 1981, WHEN THE SUBJECT WAS FIRST BROACHED IN BILATERAL DISCUSSIONS.

3. WE RECOGNIZE THAT SOME OF THIS PHENOMENA CAN BE EXPLAINED BY THE SOLIDARITY OF THE LATIN NATIONS WITH CORRESPONDING DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATION HERE AND ALSO THAT THERE WOULD BE A NATURAL TENDENCY FOR NATIONS FRIENDLY TO THE GOES TO DEMONSTRATE IT BY MAINTAINING DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATION. NONETHELESS, THE OVERWHELMING CONCLUSION MUST BE THAT THE 86 PCT OF THE NATIONS WHO VOTED FOR THIS RESOLUTION DID SO WITHOUT ANY FIRST HAND PROFESSIONAL KNOWLEDGE ABOUT SALVADOR. BY CONTRAST, THE MAJORITY OF NATIONS WITH THEIR OWN REPRESENTATIVES HERE VOTED AGAINST THE RESOLUTION. IN MAKING LAST MINUTE ARGUMENTS WITH DELEGATIONS FAVORING THE RESOLUTION, IT MAY BE USEFUL TO URGE THEM TO ABSTAIN ON A MATTER OF SUCH IMPORTANCE ON WHICH THEIR OWN INFORMATION, BASED PERHAPS ON BIASED THIRD SOURCES, MUST NECESSARILY BE INACCURATES. LIKEWISE IT MAY PROVE EFFECTIVE IN SOME CASES TO URGE THESE COUNTRIES WHO HAVE EXPRESED THEMSELVES SO FORCEFULLY ON SALVADOR'S INTERNAL AFFAIRS TO SEND DIPLOMATIC REPRESENTATION TO GAIN FIRST HAND INFORMATION ON A REGULAR BASIS; OR, AT THE VERY LEAST, TO ACCEPT PRESIDENT DUARTE'S INVITATION OF SEPTEMBER 15 TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO OBSERVE THE ELECTORAL PROCESS.

1. PHILIP J. HILTS OF THE WASHINGTON POST REPORTED THAT ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT AND ACADEMIC PANELISTS AT ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN ASSOCIATION FOR ADVANCEMENT OF SCIENCE THE UNITED STATES STANDS AT BRINK OF NEW ARMS RACE -- RACE TO MAKE AND STOCKPILE NEW CHEMICAL WEAPONS OF WAR. HILTS QUOTED ROBERT MIKULAK, PHYSICAL SCIENCE OFFICER WITH THE FEDERAL ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT AGENCY, AS SAYING "YES,

UNCLASSIFIED

THERE IS A REAL RISK NOW OF A CHEMICAL ARMS RACE," AND NOTED MIKULAK BLAMED POSSIBLE ARMS RACE ON SOVIET UNION. MIKULAK ADDED, SAID HILTS, WHAT MAY TRIGGER CHEMICAL ARMS RACE IS FAILURE OF FIVE YEARS OF U.S.-SOVIET NEGOTIATIONS ON A TREATY. ACCORDING TO MIKULAK MAJOR OBSTACLE TO THAT TREATY WAS SOVIET UNWILLINGNESS TO ALLOW AMERICAN OR NEUTRAL VERIFICATION OF THEIR CHEMICAL WAR STOCKS.

2. GEORGE C. WILSON OF WASHINGTON POST REPORTED THAT ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS SAID REAGAN HAS APPROVED 245 BILLION DOLLAR DEFENSE BUDGET FOR COMING FISCAL YEAR, INCREASE OF 15 PERCENT OVER THIS YEAR'S LEVEL. WILSON OBSERVED THAT BESIDES COSTS OF FINANCING ARMY'S BIGGEST MODERNIZATION SINCE WORLD WAR II, DEFENSE BUDGET WAS DRIVEN UP BY REAGAN'S PLANS TO BUILD TOWARD 600-SHIP NAVY; MODERNIZE AIR FORCE THROUGH BIG PURCHASES OF F15 AND F16 FIGHTERS; FULFILL MARINES' REQUEST FOR MORE SHIPS AND FOR AV8B HARRIER JUMP JET; AND UPGRADE STRATEGIC NUCLEAR FORCES BY SETTING ASIDE BILLIONS FOR FIRST SEVEN B1 BOMBERS, MX LAND-BASED MISSILE, AND CRUISE MISSILES. SOME SPECIFIC WEAPONS REQUESTED WITHIN REAGAN'S FISCAL 1983 BUDGET, SAID WILSON, INCLUDE: AIRCRAFT CARRIERS: NAVY WOULD GET 1.3 BILLION DOLLARS TOWARD TWO MORE OF UNCLASSIFIED

NIMITZ CLASS, IN ADDITION TO THREE ALREADY BUILT AND ONE UNDER CONSTRUCTION; SUBMARINES: TWO MORE LOS ANGELES CLASS NUCLEAR ATTACK SUBMARINES COSTING ABOUT 600 MILLION DOLLARS EACH AND ANOTHER TRIDENT WITH A PRICE OF ABOUT 2 BILLION DOLLARS; AND AIRLIFT: ADMINISTRATION WILL AGAIN TRY TO CONVINCE CONGRESS TO APPROVE BUILDING OF NEW LONG-DISTANCE CX MILITARY CARGO PLANE. BETWEEN 150 MILLION DOLLARS AND 200 MILLION DOLLARS WOULD GO TOWARD BUYING C17, WINNER OF AIR FORCE CX COMPETITION.

3. MICHAEL GETLER OF WASHINGTON POST REPORTED SCHMIDT, "UNDER PRESSURE FROM REAGAN ADMINISTRATION," FOR FIRST TIME JOINED PRESIDENT IN PUBLICLY CHARGING MOSCOW WITH "RESPONSIBILITY", FOR CRISIS IN POLAND. GETLER SAID THAT IN JOINT STATEMENT TWO LEADERS "NOTED THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE SOVIET UNION FOR DEVELOPMENTS IN POLAND AND EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT THE SERIOUS PRESSURE IT IS BRING-ING TO BEAR AGAINST POLISH EFFORTS FOR RENEWAL. THEY INSIST POLAND BE ALLOWED TO RESOLVE ITS PROBLEMS WITHOUT EXTERNAL INTERFERENCE." STATEMENT ADDED, OBSERVED GETLER, THAT CRISIS "DEMONSTRATES ONCE AGAIN THE OBVIOUS INABILITY OF THE COMMUNIST SYSTEM TO ACCEPT THOSE CHANGES NECESSARY TO MEET THE LEGITIMATE ASPIRATIONS OF THEIR PEOPLES."

1. WILLIAM BE"CHER OF BOSTON GLOBE REPORTED THAT, ACCORDING TO "HIGH ADMINISTRATION SOURCES," U.S., DESPITE CRISIS IN POLAND, IS HOPING TO OFFER A SPECIFIC DRAFT TREATY ON REDUCING MISSILES IN EUROPE WHEN NEGOTIATIONS WITH SOVIET UNION RESUME. SOURCES ADDED, SAID 0EECHER, DETERMINED EFFORT IS BEING MADE THIS WEEK TO RESOLVE FEW REMAINING ISSUES IN AMERICAN NEGOTIATING POSITION ON INTERMEDIATE-RANGE MISSILES SO THAT DRAFT TREATY MAY BE PRESENTED AT SECONDROUND OF TALKS NEXT WEEK. ACCORDING TO BEECHER'S

"WELL PLACED SOURCES" PRINCIPAL ISSUES STILL BEING DEBATED WITHIN ADMINISTRATION ARE: HOW TO PROVIDE NUMERICAL LIMITS ON SOMEWHAT SHORTER-RANGE SOVIET MISSILES SUCH AS SS12, SS22 AND SS23 SOSOVIETS COULD NOT COMPENSATE FOR LOSS OF LONGER-RANGE SYSTEMS BYDEPLOYING HUNDREDS MORE OF OTHERS WHICH, FROM EASTERN EUROPE, COULD COVER TARGETS THROUGHOUT WESTERN EUROPE; HOW TO WORK OUT FOOL-PROOF VERIFICATION PROCEDURES TO ENSURE IN EVENT OF AGREEMENT, THAT INTER-MEDIATE-RANGE SOVIET MISSILES WERE ACTUALLY DESTROYED; AND WHETHER PROPOSAL SHOULD COVER ONLY MISSILES WITH NUCLEAR WARHEADS OR ALSO SAME TYPES ARMED WITH NON-NUCLEAR WARHEADS THEUS,OBSERVED BEECHER, HAS DEVELOPED CONVENTIONAL WARHEADS FOR ITS CRUISE MISSILES AND PREFERS THAT SUCH WEAPONS NOT BE CONSTRAINED IN A NUCLEAR ARMS CONTROL AGREEMENT.

2. GEORGE C. WILSON OF WASHINGTON POST REPORTED RICHARD D. DELAUER, HEAD OF WEAPONS RESEARCH AND PROCUREMENT FOR DOD, WARNED PENTAGON EXECUTIVES THAT REAGAN'S PLAN TO REARM AMERICA, AS INTERPRETED BY JOINT CHIEFS OF STAFF, COULD COST UP TO 7.5 BILLION DOLLARS MORE THAN ADMINISTRATION HAS MARKED OVER NEXT FIVE YEARS. ACCORDING TO WILSON, WARNING, WHICH CAME IN SECRET SESSION OF DEFENSE RESOURCES BOARD, UNCLASSIFIED IS MOST DRAMATIC EVIDENCE YET THAT REAGAN'S PENTAGON TEAM FEARS THAT DEFENSE SPENDING THREATENS TO RUN OUT OF CONTROL IN FUTURE, SOARING ABOVE EVEN 1.5 TRILLION DOLLARS PROJECTED FOR FISCAL 1984 THROUGH 1988. WILSON ALSO RE-PORTED PENTAGON'S OWN REAPPRAISAL IS EXPECTED TO INTENSIFY CONGRESSIONAL SCRUTINY OF COST OF REAGAN'S REARMAMENT PRO-GRAM. SEN. SAM NUNN (D-GA.) OF THE SENATE ARMED SERVICES COMMITTEENOTED WILSON, HAS SAID, FOR EXAMPLE, THAT THERE IS NO WAY NATION CAN AFFORD TO BUY 600-SHIP NAVY, GTVEN HIGH PRICE OF WARSHIPS AND LIMITED DOLLARS AVAILABLE EVEN UNDER CURRENTLY RECORD HIGH PEACETIME DEFENSE BUDGETS.

3.. BERNARD GWERTZMAN OF N.Y. TIMES REPORTED THAT STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SAID THAT POLISH CRISIS HAD PROMPTED NEW CONSIDERATION WITHIN ADMINISTRATION OF POSSIBLE MEETING BETWEEN PRESIDENT REAGAN AND LEONID I. BREZHNEV. OFFICIALS ADDED, SAID GWERTZMAN, THAT WHILE THERE HAD BEEN NO DISCUSSION WITH SOVIET UNION ABOUT SUCH MEETING SINCE IMPOSITION OF MARTIAL LAW IN POLAND ON DEC. 13. THEY SAID SUBJECT WAS LIKELY TO BE RAISED IF, AS EXPECTFD, HAIG MEETS IN GENEVA ON JAN. 27 WITH GROMYKO. GWERTZMAN NOTED, HOW-EVER, STATE OFFICIALS CAUTIONED AGAINST ASSUMING A MEETING WAS IMMINENT. ACCORDING TO WEST GERMAN OFFTCIALS, SAID GWERTZMAN, SCHMIDT TOLD REAGAN THAT PRESIDENT WOULD BE ABLE TO MAKE STRONG IMPRESSION ON BREZHNEV, AND WEST GERMAN OFFICIALS SAID MR. REAGAN SEEMED INTERESTED BUT DID NOT INDICATE THAT HE WAS PLANNING ANY IMMINENT MEETING WITH SOVIET LEADER.

4. JIM HOAGLAND OF WASHINGTON POST REPORTED THAT FRENCH GOVERNMENT DISCLOSED DETAILS OF ITS NEW DEFENSE BUDGET. HOAGLAND QUOTED DEFENSE MINISTER HERNU AS SAYING FRANCE WAS ATTEMPTING TO MODERNIZE ITS NUCLEAR FORCE "TO SOLVE OUR DEFENSE PROBLEM OF TIME." UNITED STATES, EXPLAINED HERNU, AND SOVIET UNION CAN HAVE MILITARY CONCEPTS OF DEFENDING SPACE, SINCE THEY ARE NOT ON EACH OTHERS BORDERS.
UNCLASSIFIED

BUT IN EUROPE, WHERE FRONTIERS ARE SO CLOSE, THAT CONCEPT DOESN'T EXIST. WE HAVE TO THINK IN TERMS OF SPEED OF RESPONSE, OF MEASURING OUR DEFENSE IN TIME. THUS WE ARE BUDGETING FOR EVERYTHING THAT CAN GAIN US TIME." HERNU'S BUDGET, OBSERVED HOAGLAND, CONTAINED FUNDS FOR DEVELOPMENT OF NEW GROUND-TO-GROUND MOBILE BALLISTIC MISSILE, AND FOR SHORT-RANGE HADES MISSILE, WHICH COULD TRANSPORT NEUTRON WARHEAD IF FRANCE DECIDES TO DEPLOY ENHANCED RADIATION WEAPONS. ALTHOUGH FRENCH GOVERNMENT HAS NOT ACKNOWLEDGED THAT IT HAS TESTED NEUTRON WARHEAD, HERNU, NOTED HOAGLAND, SAID "AS FAR AS STUDY AND TESTS GO WE ARE READY. AS FAR AS PRODUCTION AND DEPLOYMENT GO, THE PRESIDENT IS STILL STUDYING THE FILE. THE ONLY DECISION THAT HAS BEEN TAKEN IS TO CONTINUE THE STUDIES AND THE TESTS. TECHNICALLY, WE KNOW WE CAN PRODUCE THEM. BUT THAT DECISION HAS YET TO PE MADE." HOAGLAND ALSO REPORTED HERNU DISCLOSED THAT FRANCE HAS INITIATED MODEST MILITARY SUPPLY RELATIONSHIP WITH NICARAGUA AT TIME WHEN UNITED STATES IS SEEKING TO PUSH REVOLUTIONARY SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT DEEP INTO ISOLATATION AND TO HALT WHAT WASHINGTON ASSERTS IS DANGEROUS ARMS BUILDUP IN CENTRAL AMERICA. THE STATE DEPARTMENT, SAID HOAGLAND, HAD NO IMMEDIATE REACTION TO ANNOUNCEMENT IN PARIS OF 15.8 MILLION DOLLAR CONTRACT SIGNED IN DECEMBER, BUT APPEARED TO REPRESENT NEW POTENTIAL FLASH POINT OF CONFLICT BETWEEN WASHINGTON AND THE SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT OF MITTERAND, WHICH HAS STRONGLY SUPPORTED REAGAN ADMINISTRATION'S TOUGH APPROACH TO SOVIET UNION BUT JUST AS STRONGLY DISSENTED FROM AMERICAN POLICIES IN THE THIRD WORLD.

5. ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTED FROM MOSCOW THAT SOVTET COMMUNIST PARTY DAILY PRAVDA CALLED ON UNITED STATES TO AGREE ON JOINT BAN ON CRUISE MISSILES, DESCRIBING THEM AS DANGEROUSLY DESTABLIZING. AP SAID PRAVDA SUGGESTED THAT

1 C-ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: SENATORS BAKER , LAXALT AND HOLLINGS HAD WIDE-RANGING DISCUSSIONS WITH A BROAD CROSS SECTION OF CHILEAN LEADERSHIP. PRESIDENT PINOCHET MADE CLEAR THAT NO POLITICAL OPENING WAS PLANNED FOR THE NEXT SEVEN YEARS. DISCUSSIONS WITH FOREIGN MINISTRY OFFICIALS CONFIRMED THE CONVERGENCE BETWEEN CHILEAN AND U S VIEWS ON CENTRAL AMERICA AND OTHER INTERNATIONAL ISSUES. DISCUSSIONS OF HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS WITH FOREIGN MINISTRY OFFICIALS AND LATER WITH HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS PRODUCED SHARPLY DIVERGENT ASSESSMENTS OF THE EXTENT OF IMPROVEMENTS. PRESS PLAY WAS PROMINENT AND VERY FAVORABLE. END SUMMARY.

SUMMER OFFICE AT VINA DEL MAR, WHERE THEY LUNCHED WITH THE PRESIDENT, INTERIOR MINISTER FERNANDEZ, ACTING FOREIGN MINISTER COVARRUBIAS (ROJAS IS ILL), FINANCE MINISTER DE CASTRO, SECRETARY GENERAL OF GOVERNMENT BRAVO, AND NATIONAL PLANNING DIRECTOR DANUS. AFTER RETURNING TO SANTIAGO, THEY ATTENDED A WORKING SESSION AT THE FOREIGN MINISTRY LED BY COVARRUBIAS AND ACTING UNDER SECRETARY ZEGERS. THE AMBASSADOR'S FAREWELL RECEPTION PROVIDED EXPOSURE TO A WIDE RANGE OF PROMINENT CHILEANS, RANGING FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER LUCIA TO THE LEADERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION GROUPS, AS WELL AS BUSINESS, FINANCIAL AND CULTURAL LEADERS. A MEETING WITH MAXIMO PACHECO, ACTING PRESIDENT OF THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION, ROUNDED OUT THE VISIT. FOLLOWING IS A SUMMARY OF THE PRESIDENTIAL LUNCH AND A SYNTHESIS OF THE SUBSTANTIVE HIGHLIGHTS OF THE OTHER DISCUSSIONS.

4. MEETING WITH PINOCHET: DURING THE LUNCHEON HOSTED BY THE PRESIDENT [redacted] NR

[redacted] DURING THE REST OF THE DISCUSSION PINOCHET OUTLINED HIS VIEWS ON THE CHILEAN SITUATION PAST AND PRESENT, MAKING CLEAR THAT HE PLANNED O RELAXATION OF HIS AUTHORITARIAN RULE DURING THE REMAINING SEVEN YEARS OF THE TRANSITION PRIODD. HE DID NOT PLAN TO PERMIT ANY POLITICAL PARTY ACTIVITY, NOT EVEN BY THE NON-MARXIST DEMOCRATIC OPPOSITION. HE CONSIDERED THE UNIVERSITIES AS POSSIBILE CENTERS OF AGITATION AND THEREFORE PLANNED TO KEEP MILITARY RECTORS IN CHARGE INDEFINITELY.

DISCUSSIONS THAT RELATIONS WITH CHILE AROUSED CONTROVERSY IN THE U S BECAUSE OF CONCERN ABOUT HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE LETELIER/ MOFFIT CASE AND ASKED FOR CHILEAN VIEWS OF THESE MATTERS. ZEGSPEAKING FOR COVARRUBIAS, REPLIED BY RECALLING THAT THE U S PRESIDENT WOULD HAVE TO CERTIFY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THAT THERE HAD BEEN A SIGNIFICANT IMPROVEMENT IN THE HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION; THE GOC BELIEVED THAT THIS WAS EVIDENT. THERE HAD BEEN GREAT IMPROVEMENT FROM 1973, FROM THE CONDITIONS OF ECONOMIC CHAOS AND UNDECLARED CIVIL WAR WHICH HAD PREVAILED THEN, AND CHILE WAS NOW EMBARKED ON A POLITICAL TRANSITION, APPROVED BY THE PLEBISCITE, TOWARD FULL DEMOCRACY. ZEGERS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT THE POLITICAL RECESS DID NOT CONFORM TO THE U S EXPERIENCE, BUT THE COUNTRY NEEDED TO ESTABLISH AN ADEQUATE ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL BASE BEFORE POLITICAL FREEDOMS COULD BE COMPLETELY RESTORED. ON THE LETELIER/MOFFIT CASE, ZEGERS NOTED THAT THE SUPREME COURT WAS NOW CONSIDERING IT AND IT WAS THEREFORE STILL OPEN. IN RESPONSE TO ANOTHER QUESTION FROM SENATOR HOLLINGS ABOUT GOC POLICY ON EXPULSIONS, ZEGERS SAIS THAT THE PRESIDENT USED HIS CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY TO EXPEL PEOPLE ONLY WHEN THEY RE-PRESENTED A DANGER TO THE COUNTRY; THE EXPULSION OF JAIME CASTILLO WAS DUE TO CASTILLO'S SUPPORT FOR A CHALLENGE MOUNTED BY A MARXIST LABOR GROUP. SENATOR LAXALT THEN ASKED WHETHER THE GOC BELIEVED THE CONDITIONS IMPOSED FOR RESUMING MILITARY SALES WERE MET, TO WHICH ZEGERS SAID YES, RECALLING THAT CHILE WAS THE ONLY COUNTRY TO PERMIT A VISIT FROM THE UN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION.

(2) THE JANUARY 9 MEETING WITH MAXIMO PACHECO OF THE CHILEAN HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION OBVIOUSLY TOOK A DIFFERENT TACK. PACHECO OPENED THE DISCUSSION BY NOTING THAT JAIME CASTILLO, PRESIDENT OF THE COMMISSION, HAD BEEN EXPELLED FROM CHILE AND THAT

INSTITUTIONALIZED BY THE TRANSITORY PROVS OF THE NEW CONSTITUTION, WHICH WENT SO FAR AS TO SET ASIDE THE RIGHT OF HABEUS CORPUS IN CASES INVOLVING EXECUTIVE DECISIONS UNDER THE CONSTANTLY RENEWED STATE OF EMERGENCY. HE URGED THAT THE U S, IN CONSIDERING ANY REQUESTS FROM THE CHILEAN GOVERNMENT, CONDITION THE RESPONSE ON CONCRETE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PERFORMANCE OF THE GOC ON HUMAN RIGHTS; HE INSISTED THAT HE WAS NOT SUGGESTING U S INTERVENTION IN CHILEAN AFFAIRS OR THAT THE U S ADOPT ANY SPECIFIC MEASURES, BUT HOPED INSTEAD THAT THE SENATORS WOULD HELP STRENGTHEN HUMAN RIGHTS IN CHILE AS IN OTHER COUNTRIES, SUCH AS POLAND OR CUBA, WHERE THOSE RIGHTS WERE DENIED. THE SENUUUTORS SAID THEY WOULD CONSIDER CAREFULLY THE DOCUMENT PROVIDED BY PACHECO (COPY POUCHED TO ARA/SC) AND ASKED THAT THEY BE INFORMED, THROUGH THE EMBASSY, OF FUTURE SIGNIFICANT DEVELOPMENTS, INCLUDING POSSIBLE REPRISALS AGAINST PACHECO AND HIS COMMISSION ASSOCIATES BECAUSE OF THIS MEETING.

6. PRESS PLAY: USICA HAS REPORTED THE JANUARY 10, PRESS CONFERENCE AND THE COVERAGE GIVEN THE VISIT IN SEPARATE MESSAGES (SANTIAGO 0131 AND 0128.) WORTH NOTING, HOWEVER, IS THAT THE MAJOR PAPERS WERE CAREFUL TO ACCENTUATE THE POSITIVE IN THE STATEMENT AND SUBSEQUENT COMMENTS BY SENATOR BAKER, THUS GIVING LESS ATTENTION TO HIS STATEMENT THAT THE PROBLEMS REMAINING BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES HAD BEEN DISCUSSED WITH PRESIDENT PINOCHET AND OTHER MEMBERS OF THE GOVERNMENT. "LA SEGUNDA", THE AFTERNOON PAPER OF THE GENERALLY PRO-GOVERNMENT "EL MERCURIO" CHAIN, CARRIED A BRIEF ITEM ON JANUARY 11 EXPLAINING THAT THE "PROBLEMS" WERE RELATED TO THE REQUIREMENT FOR RESUMPTION OF MILITARY SALES THAT PRESIDENT REAGAN CERTIFY SIGNIFICANT PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS AND LACK OF CHILEA N INVOLVEMENT IN INTERNATION TERRORISM.

Dear Mr. Price:

The National Group of Families of Detained-Disappeared thinks it timely and necessary to send a letter to you, before the end of your visit, in order to clarify for the delegation the critical situation of our people in the area of Human Rights.

Chief among the many questions raised throughout these years, is (the desire) to know the resting place of our family members detained by the security organs of the Government. On repeated occasions, we have written to the Ambassador, Mr. Landau, to the former President (of the United States) and to the representative for Human Rights of the United Nations, and have asked them to demand the answer awaited by the Chilean people.

This problem of the Detained-Disappeared is one more example of those outrageous acts of violence against the fundamental rights of the person occurring daily in our country. The systematic application of repressive policies in order to control social unrest caused by the grave economic, labor, social and political crisis into which our country is plunged means, for each man and women: unemployment, with only minimal benefits or none at all, lack of medical attention and other health benefits, lack of adequate rentals, lack of education and, in general, all that which is required to cover the most basic necessities. It has resulted in painful and dramatic social costs for our people, which are practically unimaginable in their magnitude and future consequences.

The form of control in such a desperate situation has been repression through security organisms created and endowed with the best technology available in order to carry out their ends with the greatest efficiency. Certainly, this situation is abhorrent to the temperament and history of our country, as may be seen in the fact that, in the more than eight years since its inception, thousands of arrested persons have passed through the jails of the country, hundreds of relegated have been sent to inhospitable places in the national territory, hundreds of persons have been assassinated, thousands and thousands of exiles have been forced to move all over the world with their families--including your country which received a large number of them--and hundreds have been detained-disappeared, with respect to whom the highest authorities of the Government maintain an impenetrable silence.

The interest of your delegation in learning the Chilean reality is, in our opinion, extremely limited, since your meetings have been only with those unlawfully retaining the full economic, political and military power of the country. It is objectively clear that you do not have the least interest in meeting those who suffer the consequences of the ruling power, those who would have given you a truer picture of the Chilean situation. There exists no better way for learning about the national anguish than to relate it to the social sectors (workers, intellectuals, etc.), who search for means to return to a system of respect for Human Rights.

The lack of interest about Human Rights affairs demonstrated by the delegation presided over by Mrs. Jeanne Kirkpatrick has not changed in the U.S. delegations which have followed. That is why we think it necessary to make it known that the security of the entire region, or of any region of the world, is possible, in our view, only when there exists respect at the highest levels for the fundamental rights of persons, of liberty, in sum, of all the national interests.

The National Group of Families of Detained-Disappeared, appeals to all the above, with all our moral force, to overcome one of the most anguishing things that can confront any human being--which is to have a loved one detained-disappeared by the action of the repressive forces of the Government. We suffer the consequences of a repressive method that has been applied at the continental level with a rare coincidence of form, orientation and finality. For all, there exists a continental responsibility for the problem, one which is not foreign to the government you represent.

For that reason, please permit us, through your intermediation, to demand that the Chilean Government immediately answer the question of what has happened to each one of our detained-disappeared family members. Without this answer, one cannot say that the situation of Human Rights has improved in Chile when there are hundreds of persons of whom nothing is known since their detention by the subordinant security services of the Government.

With our complements,

/Signed/

(U) SUMMARY: A survey of one year of violence reporting by the Embassy and Salvadoran institutions, as well as a study of historical antecedents, provide insights into El Salvador's present crisis. El Salvador has long been a country where violence is routine. The breakdown of the country's social and political systems and the onset of civil war exacerbated the march toward a society where violence is the central factor of daily life. Nonetheless, our study indicates that political violence has decreased in the one year period of the survey. However encouraging the decrease, this is a society which cannot forever endure continuing political murder and terrorist violence. The Salvadoran Government has proposed elections as a significant first step in the reconstruction of an ordered society. It is a crucial first step but only the beginning of a long process of social pacification. END SUMMARY.

(U) INTRODUCTION: The Embassy has kept systematic records on public reports of violence in El Salvador since September 16, 1980. What follows is an examination of the trends that emerge from a close look at the weekly violence reports assembled by the Embassy over a twelve month period. Each of the violence reports has been forwarded with caveats. The Embassy has attempted to organize its statistical record utilizing the information contained in the Salvadoran media. We are fully aware of the inadequacy of a method which submits data to the vagaries of the Salvadoran press. However, considering the nature of the problem, this seemed the most reasonable course.

PART I - POLITICAL MURDER

NUMBERS OF KILLED Nowhere is the confusion inherent in a statistical survey of violence here more apparent than in a determination of the numbers of killed. The San Salvador dailies only report deaths in areas where they momentarily have correspondents or in areas into which correspondents do not fear to enter. There is extensive reporting from areas such as Santa Ana department which, precisely because it is relatively safe and well policed, permits travel, communication, and newspaper coverage. This results in a high number of dead reported during the 52-week period under study: 1,449. The same is true of San Salvador, the capital and department together, where 2,297 people were reported killed. By contrast the battleground departments of Chalatenango and Morazan have been reported at 247 and 47 dead respectively. This is certainly an under-reporting of events, even considering the lower population density of those departments. Nevertheless, the Embassy believes that the statistics have value. We can only estimate the accuracy of the reporting (we believe it may be within 30% of the actual total), but trends and patterns can be discerned. We present first the monthly totals of deaths by political murder as reported by the Embassy. (N.B. for greater accuracy essentially military casualties have been culled from our figures. The monthly and yearly totals are, therefore, somewhat lower than the accumulated totals of the Embassy's weekly "grim-grams").

(U) GEOGRAPHIC STATISTICS OF THE DEAD: An approximate geographic distribution of the victims of political murder can be drawn from our source. The survey must be approximate as it is believed that many of the persons found dead in one department were residents of or were killed in other departments. In the period from 9/16/80 to 9/15/81 the following murders can be fixed by department.

TOTAL	468	819	779	575	665	481	599	493	454	392	534	479	171	6,909

The foregoing may seem to indicate a concentration of political murder in the departments of San Salvador and Santa Ana. As mentioned, this is illusory due to the under-reporting of our source. Also, the bodies of the dead are not always immediately found. In what we do not believe to be a unique case San Salvador 5012 (Ref J) reported on the discovery of a well in which were found a large number of bodies in various states of decomposition. Thus, any figures are imprecise at best.

(U) AGE BREAKDOWN OF THE DEAD: The chart below is a schematic of the various age groups who have fallen victim to violence. Without question it is the young who are the principal victims here. This is a judgment considerably reinforced by the fact that the majority of bodies characterized as of unknown age are physically young in appearance.

2.	Ages 18-25	1,483

5.	Ages 51 and over	262
6.	Unknown	3,175

(U) THE NUMBERS TALK: An unexpected result of the statistical depiction of political murders month by month is the conclusion that violence in El Salvador has diminished during the period under study, or that at least is in a state of remission. This appears to be true despite the fact that July and August of 1981 were commonly regarded as extremely violent months because the capital was subjected to power outages and scores of decapitated bodies were found in Santa Ana department. Subsequent mention of this phenomenon of statistically lower violence, however, was not surprising to at least one Salvadoran minister who, through his contacts in all the departments of the country, keeps a close, though subjective and not statistical, watch on violent events here. In brief our finding is that from our starting point in September, 1980 there were overall gains in violence as the guerrilla "final offensive" built up followed by patterns of diminution. The monthly breakdown of deaths bears this out.

(U) RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE KILLING: Elusive as the dead themselves may be in El Salvador, the killers of the majority are in fact the true phantoms of this struggle. Responsibility for the overwhelming number of deaths that occur here is never legally determined nor usually ever accounted for by reasonably clear and coherent published evidence. Reports of leftist terrorists committing murder garbed in stolen military uniforms have circulated. Murders committed by rightist death squads may be marked by placards blaming their opposite numbers on the left. In some

UNCLASSIFIED

DECLASSIFIED

es depredations may be carried out by the security forces under the se of, or in active participation with, rightist forces. Therefore ures in the following categories must be viewed as guarded:

1. Reported total of political murders:	6,909
2. Murders believed committed by security forces	922
3. Murders believed committed by leftist terrorists:	952
4. Murders believed committed by rightist terrorists:	136
5. Murders committed by unknown assailants:	4,889

uncertainty involved here can be seen in the fact that responsibility not be fixed in the majority of cases. We note, however, that it is erally believed in El Salvador that a large number of the unexplained llings are carried out by the security forces, officially or unoffi-lly. The Embassy is aware of dramatic claims that have been made by interest group or another in which the security forces figure as the imary agents of murder here. El Salvador's tangled web of attack and ngeance, traditional criminal violence and political mayhem make this impossible charge to sustain. In saying this, however, we make no tempt to lighten the responsibility for the deaths of many hundreds, d perhaps thousands, which can be attributed to the security forces. ese forces have responded with the terrible ferocity which guerrilla ctics provoke among marginally-trained forces and upon which guerrilla ements depend to carry forward their cause.

TURE OF THE KILLING: Perhaps more important than the number of peo- killed or the authors of the murders are the motivations for their aths. Without question the ongoing civil war has left a mark upon lvadoran society. This is characterized by a nearly complete break-wn of a belief and value system which was tenuous at best. El Salva-r is a society long plagued by high rates of violence. According to atistics published by the Ministry of Economy's Department of Statis-cs, homicide was in 1976 (one of the last normal years here) the third st common cause of death--after intestinal infections and gastric seases. Homicides total 1,279 for that year, surpassing accidental aths which total 1,153.

ditionally, El Salvador's system of criminal justice has for several ars now been awash in a sea of violence. It is now completely normal r someone to exact his own vengeance outside any formal system of stice. Revenge cannot help but set off its own countereffect under ese conditions. We feel that not all the deaths reported as "political violence" should be classified within that category. However, such crimes of passion and vengeance have the same hallmarks--machete blows, torture, decapitation, etc.--, and it is impossible to eliminate such crimes from the statistics.

For comparison purposes the Embassy examined three representative months before the present troubles in El Salvador began and used the same methods employed today to effect a comparison. The findings are as follows:

October 1974:	52 reported deaths by violence
October 1980:	819 reported deaths by violence
February 1975:	44 reported deaths by violence
February 1981:	481 reported deaths by violence
May 1975:	63 reported deaths by violence
May 1981:	454 reported deaths by violence

An examination of the circumstances of the deaths reported for 1974-1975 indicates that most of the dead were the victims of crime. The absence of circumstances pointing towards "normal" crime in our study period is striking.

From an examination of the historical record, we believe that Salvadorans who speak of their country's violent cultural heritage are not engaging in a post-facto rationalization. The blend of this heritage and the politics of civil war have resulted in a descent into ad-hoc summary justice and unimaginable savagery. The historical problems pushing the security forces towards the commission of abuses has already been discussed in San Salvador 6253 (Ref H). The recently revealed (August 1981) and subsequently denied mass killing in Armenia emphasizes the gravity of the problem. These same problems and the unravelling of social order have resulted in other violent anomalies. For example, the scope of the present struggle and the inadequacy of security force resources has led to the creation of the "patrulleros", armed civilians who ostensibly form part of the state's security net. They have, however, become a law unto themselves in many areas, operating within loosely defined boundaries, and often becoming a "third force" with which the populace must contend. (see Ref D, San Salvador 5413). It should be noted that "patrulleros" are judged responsible for a fair share of anonymous murders, including many marked by torture.

Patrulleros, nonetheless, form part of the official security structure here. San Salvador 5666 (Ref E) and San Salvador 5786 (Ref F) reported on one of the more shadowy elements of the violent scene here, the death squad. Existence of these groups has long been disputed, but not by many Salvadorans. San Salvador 5203 (Ref C) described the attitude of the citizens of Metapan, [redacted] tern El Salvador, towards their local death squads as one of acceptance tempered with disquiet at the severity of their methods and the odiousness of their task. Who constitutes the deaths squads is yet another difficult question. We do not believe that these squads exist as permanent formations but rather as ad-hoc vigilante groups that coalesce according to perceived need. Membership is also uncertain, but in addition to civilians we believe that both on and off-duty members of the security forces are participants. This was unofficially confirmed by right-wing spokesmen Maj. Roberto D'Aubuisson who stated in an interview in early 1981 that security force members utilize the guise of the death squad when a potentially embarrassing or odious task needs to be performed.

In addition to the seemingly senseless killing which denotes contemporary El Salvador, assassination as a strategic weapon is also widespread. These actions, carried out by both the left and the right, are, we believe, designed to cripple or reverse the cause represented by the victims. These murders appear to use killers selected for this particular purpose. The list of such strategic slayings is long; we number among them the Hammer-Pearlman-Viera killings, the murder of South African Ambassador Archibald Dunn, the murders of four American churchwomen, the slayings of five members of the FDR directorate, and killings such as those of the Director of International Fair and the head of the Salvadoran Demographic Association. Other murders, and kidnappings as well, all apparently designed to paralyze various sectors of society, have ranged from officials of the government and security forces, to labor leaders, teachers, and members of organizations such as the Red Cross.

(U) ALTERNATE STATISTICAL DATA: There are two other organizations in El Salvador that regularly keep data on violence here, the Central American University (UCA) and the Legal Aid Office of the Salvadoran Archbishopric (Socorro Juridico). Unfortunately, the data tabulated by these two organizations has bases at least as distorting as those built into the Embassy tabulations and also reflects the motivations of and the pressure within those organizations. Socorro Juridico, for example, issued a January through June, 1981 report entitled "Balance Sheet on the Repression in El Salvador", which in keeping with its purpose in detailing only one side of the conflict ("repression" as opposed to "generalized violence") found that 2,644 people had been killed during the January "final offensive" month. None of the victims were members of the armed or security forces. Similarly, the report indicates that all 2,644 victims were killed by official security-military forces (1,933) or para-military forces (711) and not one by leftist guerrillas or terrorist organizations. Until Socorro Juridico publishes its sources and methodology its total figures remain suspect, however competent the organization may be in documenting individual cases of disappearances and the unquestionably savage acts of the security forces.

(Ref. I describes the publishing by Socorro Juridico of a list of more than 800 people whose disappearances have been reported to that organization since October 1979. This does not appear to the Embassy to be a far-fetched or exaggerated number. Verifiable names and circumstances of these disappearances are given.)

Similarly, figures kept by the Central American University (UCA) appear to be skewed by the force of ideological necessity or wishful thinking. The University's "Centro Universitario de Documentación e Información" publishes a "Balance Estadistico" which details by month the depredations of the government forces and the achievements of the guerrillas. These publications are plagued by formats and commentaries that betray a strong ideological bias. In its issue for the month of August 1980, UCA claims the deaths in actions of 2,259 members of the armed forces during the June-August quarter with a further 540 wounded.

This is contrasted with the casualties of the "Combatants of the Political-Military Organizations"(read guerrillas) who lost only 351 dead and had 16 wounded. Estimates of army casualties in 1981, even if inaccurate, have been more in keeping with the scope of the present war. Elsewhere, UCA's own figures, registering a drop in the number of civilian deaths from July to August 1980, elicits the comment that "decrease in the number of deaths in the civil population during the month of August does not necessarily reflect a decrease in the repression". In another table is found a linkage which betrays the UCA's ideological slant. A tally of the dead for the month of August lists four categories grouped in pairs. The first pair links deaths in the "Civil Population" with those of "Combatants of the Political-Military Organizations". The second pair joins "Members of the Military Forces" to "Ajusticiados" (i.e. those presumably "legally" executed by the left). Presentation of statistics in this form proceeds from the assumption that there is natural solidarity between the civil population and the guerrillas, and that deaths among the "civil population" are the exclusive result of action by military or para-military forces or by unknowns. None are committed by leftist groups. It should be noted that "ajusticiamientos" are here listed and continue to be listed by UCA as "military actions". (Note: 109 such "ajusticiamientos" were reported for October 1980 including that of the South African Ambassador Archibald Dunn. Credit for his death was claimed by the Fuerzas Populares de Liberación (FPL). In assigning responsibility for the murder, the "Balance Estadistico" quotes, without comment, the FPL communique blaming the governments of El Salvador and South Africa which refused to negotiate with the FPL to spare Dunn. Dignifying this particular act of savagery by labeling it a military action appears to us to be exceedingly cynical.)

(C) FURTHER CAVEATS: Weekly Embassy reporting has routinely included military deaths when these were announced publicly in the "condolence notices" published in the capital's newspapers or when (and this also occurs) there were estimates of military casualties made in published sources. As indicated, for greater reliability these numbers have been culled from the Embassy monthly totals reported here. For an accurate picture of military casualties in El Salvador, the available official figures through September 15, 1981 from the Salvadoran Ministry of Defense are reported below.

(U) 2. ATTACKS ON CIVIL MILITARY GOVERNMENT FACILITIES

This related category is also broad and encompasses, first of all, guerrilla assaults on military facilities by large or small groups of leftists (even if the result of the assault is further open combat). Next in consideration are attacks on security posts without an accompanying assault designed either to inflict damage or simply to harass. Attempts to assassinate public officials or to blow up their homes, and bombings of civil government offices are also tallied. It should be noted that only offices are included here; facilities such as electrical grids and water systems are included in the next category.

(U) 3. ECONOMIC ATTACKS

This category covers all attacks construed as directed against the economic foundation of the country. Included are attacks on the basic economic infrastructure (power, water, highways), as well as attacks on individual industrial and commercial establishments, the banking system, and attacks such as bus burnings, considered to be economic even if deaths result from the action.

(U) 4. MISCELLANEOUS ATTACKS

This is a collection of unrelated acts which may or may not be of terrorist origin (terrorist authorship of such acts is assumed in most news accounts). The tally includes seizures of radio stations to force broadcasts of messages supporting the cause, robberies whose modus operandi suggests guerrilla initiative, and crimes such as arson which may or may not be construed as the work of terrorists.

(U) 5. RIGHTIST TERROR

This is the most elusive of all categories. Nonetheless, we believe it to be a significant factor of the violence in El Salvador. Bombings are the overt form of rightist terror, with the targets serving as effective means for our judging the attack the work of the right. Killing, however, appears to be the preferred medium for rightist terrorists and their shadowy efforts have been dealt with in the preceding section. The absence of rightist attacks from the charts which follow should in no way be construed as evidencing an absence of rightist terrorist violence.

(U) PART II - VIOLENT INCIDENTS

The unreliability which makes the evidence regarding deaths in El Sal questionable extends also to the reporting of violent incidents. To uniform standards for the coverage of both deaths and violent incider Embassy has relied on information in the Salvadoran media. Built-i tortions are inevitable. Much as in the case of deaths, the traditi "battleground" departments here (Morazán, Chalatenango, Cabañas, and Vicente) are believed to be under-reported, particularly with regard skirmishes between government and guerrilla troops. In these departr as well as in the rest of the country, the guerrillas' clandestine R. Venceremos proclaims achievements beyond those reported in the press is strongly indicative of a wider scope to guerrilla operations. Ra ceremos has been broadcasting, however, only since March of 1981 and the air for short periods. An additional problem arises when the lo and Radio Venceremos use different geographical points of reference cribing an incident. A single incident may be duplicated when the p of reference cannot be reconciled. The UCA "Balance Estadístico" al sents a summary of leftist activities which far exceeds that reporte the press (see below). Confirmation of the majority of the acts rep by these two sources is also lacking.

To characterize the different types of violent incidents here is an tional difficulty. Often reports differ as to the circumstances and sults of a particular event. At times an interpretation of an event its motivations is necessary in order to classify it. To prevent a ing of incident categories, five broad areas have been defined, eac which embraces a variety of activities. With necessary caveats, the as follows:

(U) 1. GUERRILLA CONFRONTATIONS AND TERRORIST ATTACKS

This is the broadest category and takes account of most types of act involving direct guerrilla participation. Five types of events are ed headed by confrontations between guerrilla units and government forces. These confrontations range in size from combat between smal of men to the full-scale battles between groups numbering in the hun which characterized the guerrilla "final offensive" in January 1981. types of guerrilla activity included here are staged ambushes on go ment military convoys, guerrilla seizures of isolated small towns wi without opposition from the local defenders, guerrilla attacks on r where the result, if not the intention, is the death of farm workers similar attacks on interurban buses for the purpose of killing suspe enemies or sowing terror. A few additional numbers report Salvadoran tary sweeps which the press reported as having resulted in significa tacts with the guerrilla forces.

(U) ALTERNATIVE DATA:

Alternative data on the number and variety of terrorist incidents is readily available in the monthly "Balance Estadfstico" published by the Central American University (UCA). However, the UCA does not independently confirm the incidents reported and uses criteria different from our own. For example, included in their tally are actions by so-called mass organizations which have an alleged military aspect. What constitutes that aspect is not revealed. In addition, UCA's categorization is different. Economic attacks are grouped with assaults on government civil facilities as "Acts of Sabotage". "Military Actions" includes not only activities included in our "Guerrilla Confrontations" category, but "Ajusticiamientos" (i.e. "legal" leftist murder) as well. Remaining categories in the UCA lexicon are "Seizures of Town and Cities" and a miscellaneous category analogous to our own. To effect a comparison we have carefully rearranged the incidents reported by UCA to conform with our categorization. The exception is the concept of "Ajusticiamientos" which merits a separate listing. Paralleling Chart No.9, the UCA figures for terrorist incidents are as follows:

MBERS TALK:

mination of the preceding charts reveals a surprising parallel n the categories of figures reported in the press (our source) ose reported by UCA. Though the UCA figures generally exceed n by fourfold in most categories, the parallels endure. In both "Guerrilla Confrontations" are predominant, followed by attacks economic system. Thus, it appears that the two sources here ccurately reported the thrust of guerrilla activity, irregardless cors as to its scope. Another parallel appears when the monthly s are compared. Assuming error regarding scope, both Chart No. 10 hart No. 12 reflect a gradual buildup through the last months of to the January 1981 "final offensive" and a slackening thereafter. the January figure of Chart No. 10, though not significantly high- epresents large-scale combat; details reported in the press were unclear and many of these battles could be considered multiple ements).

TION OF THE TERROR:

errilla Confrontations. After the January 1981 "Final Offen- failed the insurgents adopted a strategy of prolonged classic lla warfare. They focused their attacks on the country's in- ucture by attacking power lines and telephone switching boxes. ontinually ambush and harass the Armed Forces. Their purpose undermine the economy, wear down the Armed Forces morale and dually diminish the will to resist of the country as a whole. their attacks may appear erratic, their purpose seems to fit in with this strategy.

vil-Military Attacks. The frequency of attacks in this category for guerrilla conviction that the governmental civil-military ure can be systematically weakened. However, with regard to mil- sites, the frequency of attacks may be a reflection of the nature war and the Salvadoran military's conduct of it so far. Apart eriodic sweeps through the countryside, Salvadoran military policy s many troops to fixed locations. Much of this is unavoidable; ed to guard strategic facilities, choke-points, and population s cannot be ignored. Salvadoran policy, though, has been ive with many troops confined to barracks and cuartels. Routine ls to match the guerrillas in terms of movement do not often occur. ed to fixed points, the troops become easy targets for attacks taken at guerrilla initiative.

ks on the civil sector of the Salvadoran Government appear to us to be a wan hope of destroying a functioning government. Some partial guerrilla successes can be noted however. The frequent burning of village and town halls over the past year have encumbered, but by no means crippled the daily administration of government. Terrorism in the countryside did force the government to abandon the planned decennial census. It should be noted that a proportion of the attacks on government facilities can be attributed to rightist forces. We believe that many attacks on government sites involved with the land reform program, including the October 1980 bombing of the Ministry of Agriculture can be attributed to the right.

(U) 3. Economic Attacks. In keeping with the guerrilla strategy of prolonged warfare the insurgents have attacked the country's economic infrastructure. The most recent campaigns have been against the electric transmission system and the telephone system. The attacks against the power grid take place in the countryside where the guerrillas blow up transmission towers and poles; the government doggedly replaces the poles as they fall. The attacks against the telephone system are targetted on the switching boxes in the cities. The effect is two fold: It disrupts the telephone system if only momentarily and it creates an atmosphere of insecurity. In 1980 the guerrillas also tried to disrupt agricultural harvests by burning parts of the nation's cash crops, coffee, cotton and sugar.

During the past several months the guerrillas have made several probing attacks against the Cerron Grande and 5 de Noviembre hydroelectric dams. To date they have not mounted a full scale attack on these facilities which provide a lion's share of the electrical power in El Salvador. To disrupt the transportation system, the guerrillas have destroyed many highway bridges; their major success was the destruction of the Puente de Oro bridge on October 14, 1981. The national railroads have also suffered considerably at the hands of the insurgents. In all these cases the objective is the same: undermine the will to resist by attacking the economic base of the country.

(U) 4. Miscellaneous Attacks. As we have said, many of the activities covered by this category may or may not be the result of "official" terrorist action. Those which we are certain are leftist activities are the takeovers of various radio stations to broadcast tapes extolling one leftist group or another. This type of action has declined precipitously over the year from September 1980 and now (for whatever reason) does not often occur.

5. Rightist Terror. We emphasize again the murky nature of right-wing terrorist actions in El Salvador. Though specific activity by the right appears infrequent (much rightist terror belongs to the faceless category of political murder), the effect of terror from this sector is palpable to many Salvadorans. Reftels (A), (B), and (G) provide an insight into this particular brand of horror.

As the reported incidents of rightist terror are infrequent, we feel it advantageous to list those incidents we believe originated with the right. The major criterion for the judgment is the identity of the victims. Month by month these acts are as follows:

Sept. 1980

1. the murder of several peasants in Usulután department by BAGO (Brigada Anti-Guerrillera del Oriente).
2. the shooting and wounding of Agrarian Reform director Rodolfo Viera in San Salvador.
3. the machine-gun killing of several teachers of the San Salvador Jesuit High School while waiting for a bus.

October 1980

1. the bombing of a Jesuit residence in San Antonio Abad.
2. the bombing of the Ministry of Agriculture building in the capital.

November 1980

1. the bombing of a residence for Belgian priests in San Salvador.
2. the murders of five leaders of the FDR in San Salvador.

December 1980

1. the murders of four American religious workers in La Paz department.

January 1981

1. the murders of Rodolfo Viera, Mark Pearlman, and Michael Hammer in San Salvador.
2. the bombing of the Nicaraguan Embassy in San Salvador.

March 1981

1. a strafing of the American Embassy in San Salvador.

2. a rocket attack on the Nicaraguan Embassy in San Salvador.

June 1981

1. the murder of Col. Benjamín Mejía in Cuscatlán department.

July 1981

1. the murders of ten clowns and circus workers in Santa Ana.

Outside the scope of this one year survey can be added the October 8 bombing of the offices of the Chief Justice of the Salvadoran Supreme Court.

(U) SUMMING UP.

The present situation in El Salvador is the result of a long-term evolutionary process. It is obvious to us that the roots of violence here are not solely political; historical, sociological, and cultural factors are essential elements as well. A survey of but one year of this long term process does provide some valuable insights.

Our research indicates that El Salvador is a traditionally violent society. It is one in which the number and nature of violent crimes are matched by a high level of tolerance for the violent solution. Starting some five years ago, the delicate social balance, of which these attitudes are indicative, began to break down under the strains of profound social change, the frustration of normal political aspirations, and the radicalization of the means of political expression. For many parties the violent alternative became the sole and preferred means of action. We believe that Salvadoran institutions were unable to stem the crescendo of violence because of factors which impelled the society to violence. The active participation of significant Salvadoran institutions in actions which hastened the march toward violence was a sign of the general descent into literally bloody rebellion. The institutions became a reflection of their times. The subsequent swamping of the Salvadoran judicial system has resulted in a multiplication of the violence which legal impunity inspires.

Despite our emphasis on the unreliability of evidence here, we believe the data leads to some conclusions about the violence and killing in El Salvador. First, we began compiling our data when the violence and killing were reaching a climax. The climax was the January 1981 "final offensive". Ever since that time all sets of data show a decline month by month. Many people in El Salvador claim that violence will increase

PRIESTS AND BROTHERS FROM THE FOLLOWING ORDERS ALSO ATTENDED: BENEDICTINES, CHRISTIAN BROTHERS, MARYKNOLL PRIESTS AND VARIOUS US SECULAR PRIESTS NOT ASSOCIATED WITH ANY ORDER. IN THE MEMORY OF MANY OF THE CLERGY WHO HAVE BEEN IN GUATEMALA MORE THAN TEN YEARS, THIS TYPE OF FORMAL MEETING AT THE EMBASSY HAD NEVER OCCURRED. VIRTUALLY EVERY RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY CONTACTED BY EMBASSY FROM AS FAR AWAY AS THE PETEN AND HUEHUETENANGO ATTENDED THE MEETING.

4. THE AMBASSADOR BEGAN THE MEETING BY PLAYING FOR THE GROUP THE TAPE RECORDED STATEMENT OF CHIEF OF STAFF BENEDICTO LUCAS IN WHICH HE ACCUSED THE CLERGY, ESPECIALLY FOREIGNERS SUCH AS JESUITS, MARYKNOLL PRIESTS AND SISTERS OF CHARITY OF ACTIVELY PARTICIPATING IN SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITIES (REF A). AMBASSADOR NOTED THAT PRESIDENT LUCAS HIMSELF WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR TELLING HIS BROTHER QTE THAT THE MAJORITY OF AMERICAN, CANADIAN AND BELGIAN RELIGIOUS WORKERS WERE ENGAGED IN SUBVERSION END QTE (REF B). THE AMBASSADOR ALSO READ TO THE GROUP STATEMENTS TAKEN FROM HOMILIES ALLEGEDLY GIVEN BY THE ABDUCTED BELGIAN

PRIEST PAUL SCHILDERMAN WHO WAS SUBSEQUENTLY RELEASED (REF C). REACTION BY THE GROUP TO GENERAL LUCAS' STATEMENT WAS ONE OF INCREDULITY AT THE GENERAL'S OBVIOUS EXAGGERATION FROM THEIR PERSPECTIVE. NO ONE INDICATED THAT THE BELGIAN'S HARD-HITTING PRO-PEASANT HOMILIES COULD NOT HAVE BEEN DELIVERED. MANY PRIESTS HAD NOTED ARMY OBSERVERS ATTENDING THEIR SERVICES AND LEAVING THE MASS AFTER THE SERMON HAD BEEN GIVEN. IN THE PAST IT HAS BEEN REPORTED TO THE EMBASSY THAT TAPE RECORDERS HAVE BEEN BROUGHT INTO CHURCHES (REF D).

5. WHEN ASKED BY THE RELIGIOUS WORKERS WHY THE GOG WAS

UNCLASSIFIED

STEPPING UP ITS ATTACKS ON THE CHURCH, EMBOFFS RESPONDED THAT THERE APPEARED TO BE A GREAT DEAL OF CONCERN IN THE GOVERNMENT WHICH WAS ONLY FED BY HOMILIES SUCH AS THAT ATTRIBUTED TO THE BELGIAN PRIEST. THE MARYKNOLL SUPERIOR NOTED THAT SEVERAL MONTHS AGO WHEN BENEDICTO LUCAS HAD BEEN IN CHARGE OF THE MILITARY POST IN EL PETEN HE HAD INDICATED TO THE BISHOP OF THAT DIOCESE THAT THE MARYKNOLL PRIESTS IN THAT AREA SEEMED TO BE ACTING WITHIN THE BOUNDS OF MISSIONARY BEHAVIOR. IN FACT THE MARYKNOLL SUPERIOR POINTED OUT THAT LUCAS WAS OFTEN A VISITOR AT THEIR PARISH HOUSES IN EL PETEN. ANOTHER PRIEST POINTED OUT THAT PRESIDENT LUCAS HAD INVITED US PRIESTS AND NUNS PARTICIPATING IN HIS LITERACY PROGRAM TO THE NATIONAL PALACE NOT MORE THAN SIX MONTHS AGO TO THANK THEM FOR THEIR FINE WORK.

6. MEMBERS OF THE GROUP ASKED IF ANY SPECIFIC CHARGES HAD BEEN MADE AGAINST INDIVIDUAL AMERICAN RELIGIOUS WORKERS. WE RESPONDED THAT NONE HAD BEEN MADE, BUT THAT PRESIDENT LUCAS SAID HE HAD EVIDENCE OF SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITY AND WOULD SUPPLY IT TO THE EMBASSY. IT WAS NOTED BY EMBOFFS THAT LEADERS OF THE CHURCH HIERARCHY HAD EVIDENCE THAT SOME CLERGY WERE COOPERATING EXTENSIVELY WITH ELEMENTS

OF THE GUERRILLA FORCES. CHURCH WORKERS ASKED IF THEY WOULD BE NOTIFIED IF CHARGES WERE MADE AGAINST THEM. EMBOFFS RESPONDED THAT DEFINITELY THEY WOULD BE NOTIFIED IF SUCH INFORMATION BECAME AVAILABLE TO US AS OUR PURPOSE WAS TO PROTECT USCITS AND, HOPEFULLY, ALLOW FOR DUE PROCESS OF LAW, THOUGH IT WAS NOTED THAT THE RULE OF LAW DOES NOT ALWAYS APPLY IN GUATEMALA.

7. THERE WAS A GENERAL CONSENSUS AMONG THE RELIGIOUS GROUP AND EMBOFFS THAT THE NATIONAL PALACE (READ PRESIDENT LUCAS) DOES NOT HAVE FULL CONTROL OVER SMALL MILITARY GROUPS IN RURAL AREAS. LOCAL MILITARY LEADERS ARE KINGS. IT WAS GENERALLY FELT THAT MANY ACCUSATIONS (DENUNCIAS) CAME FROM LOCAL MILITARY SPIES WHO MIGHT HAVE PERSONAL GRUDGES AGAINST CERTAIN RELIGIOUS WORKERS. RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY SOME MEMBERS OF THE GROUP WERE THAT ALL ACTIVITIES IN ONE'S PARISH SHOULD BE MADE KNOWN TO LOCAL GOG OFFICIALS, AND THAT EFFORTS SHOULD BE MADE TO ESTABLISH GOOD RELATIONS WITH LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

8. IN REGARD TO THE JESUIT FATHER PELLECER'S REVELATIONS, SOME RELIGIOUS WORKERS SUGGESTED THAT HE MISINTERPRETED CHURCH DOCTRINE AND HAD PAINTED EVERYONE IN MISSIONARY WORK WITH THE SAME BRUSH. THE MARYKNOLL SUPERIOR NOTED THAT ONLY

[redacted]

ONE OF HIS PRIESTS HAD EVER HAD CONTACT WITH PELLECER AND THAT HAD OCCURRED AT A LARGE GENERAL MEETING OF THE CONFERENCE OF FOREIGN RELIGIOUS WORKERS IN GUATEMALA (CONFREGUA). AS A RESULT OF THE PELLECER STATEMENTS AN INVESTIGATION OF CATHOLIC SCHOOLS HAD BEGUN. SOME HAD ALREADY BEEN VISITED BUT NOTHING OUT OF THE ORDINARY HAD BEEN FOUND. MARYKNOLL SISTERS HAD ASKED THAT THEIR LAWYER AND A REPRESENTATIVE FROM THE NUNCIO'S OFFICE BE PRESENT. THE INVESTIGATION HAD BEEN POSTPONED UNTIL FEBRUARY. SOME SCHOOLS NOTED THAT THEY HAD GREAT DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING DIPLOMAS FOR THEIR GRADUATIONS STUDENTS FROM THE MINISTRY OF EDUCATION. THEY FELT THIS WAS MINOR HARRASSMENT.

9. THE GROUP ASKED IF A CLEAR STATEMENT OF THEIR WORK AND PROGRAMS SHOULD BE SENT TO THE EMBASSY OR THE GOG. EMBOFFS RESPONDED THAT THIS WOULD BE HELPFUL IN THE CASE OF ANY EMERGENCY, BUT THAT IT WAS NO GUARANTEE OF PROTECTION. (NOTE: EMBASSY HAS ALREADY RECEIVED FROM THE MARYKNOLL SUPERIOR A STATEMENT DATED DECEMBER 9, 1982 (PROBABLY JAN. 9), IN WHICH THE WORK AND FUNCTIONS OF THE MARYKNOLL ORDER ARE SET FORTH. IT NOTES THAT THE ORDER IS HERE WITH THE PERMISSION OF THE GOG AND SHOULD THE AUTHORITIES HAVE ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT THE ACTIVITIES OF ANY MARYKNOLL MEMBER IT SHOULD BE BROUGHT TO THE ATTENTION OF THE BISHOP OR PAPAL NUNCIO.)

10. COMMENT: THE MEETING WAS WELL-RECEIVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE CLERGY. THEY EXPRESSED THEIR APPRECIATION FOR THE CONCERN SHOWN BY THE EMBASSY AND WERE VERY

RECEPTIVE TO THE REGISTRATION PROGRAM SET UP BY THE CONSULAR SECTION. THEY NOTED THAT THE EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE OF BISHOPS OF GUATEMALA HAD DECLARED THAT QTE THE CHURCH

WAS UNDER PERSECUTION IN THIS COUNTRY END QTE, BUT THAT THEY WOULD ATTEMPT TO CONTINUE THEIR WORK WITHOUT INCURRING THE WRATH OF GOG OFFICIALS. THE MOST OBVIOUS REACTION EXPRESSED AT THE MEETING WAS OVER THE STATEMENTS MADE BY CHIEF OF STAFF LUCAS. THE GROUP AGREED TO KEEP IN CLOSE TOUCH WITH THE EMBASSY. MANY IN THE GROUP COME TO THE EMBASSY REGULARLY TO REPORT EVENTS IN THEIR RESPECTIVE PARISHES. END COMMENT.

2. A RELIABLE AMERICAN JOURNALIST TOLD AMBASSADOR AND PAO JANUARY 19 ABOUT HIS VISIT THIS WEEK TO A GUERRILLA CAMP IN THE DEPARTMENT OF USULUTAN AND HIS INTERVIEW WITH ERP LEADER JOSE RAMON MEDRANO. ACCORDING TO THE SOURCE, THE MEETING WAS EXTREMELY EASY TO ARRANGE. SEVERAL EUROPEAN JOURNALISTS HAD BEEN TO THE CAMP BEFORE HIM. AS HE PUT IT, "ALL OF A SUDDEN YOU'RE IN THEIR TERRITORY." HE CLAIMED TO BE 31, A FORMER SOCIOLOGY STUDENT IN THE NATIONAL UNIVERSITY, A MILITANT OF THE ERP, THOUGH HIS TROOPS WERE A MIXTURE FROM SEVERAL GUERRILLA GROUPS, AND THE COMMANDER OF THE SOUTHEASTERN SECTOR FOR THE FMLN.

4. THE REPORTER WAS IMPRESSED BY THE AIR OF PERMANENCY OF THE CAMP. THE GUERRILLAS WERE LIVING IN HOUSES, THERE WAS A SCHOOL, OFFICE, INFIRMARY, ETC. ACCORDING TO MEDRANO, THE GUERRILLAS HAD OCCUPIED THE SAME CAMP SINCE MAY OF 1981 AND HAD ONLY BEEN FORCED TO VACATE IT FOR TWO WEEKS IN EARLY OCTOBER DURING AN ARMY SWEEP OF THE AREA. MEDRANO REMEMBERED THAT HE WAS LYING IN HIS HAMMOCK LISTENING TO THE DANILE ORTEGA U.N. SPEECH ON SHORTWAVE WHEN THE ARMY ATTACKED THE CAMP. (ORTEGA SPOKE TO THE UNGA OCTO ER 7.) HE MENTIONED CERRO EL MONO AS BEING THE OBJECTIVE OF THE ARMY SWEEP.

5. THE JOURNALIST WAS SURPRISED WHEN COMMANDER BALTHASAR VOLUNTEERED HIGH PRAISE FOR THE SALVADORAN ARMY'S QUCK REACTION BATTALION, THE ATLACATL BATALLION TRAINED BY A U.S. MOBILE TRAINING TEAM. ACCORDING TO THE GUERRILLA COMMANDER, THE ATLACATL BATTALION WAS BY FAR THE BEST ARMY OUTFIT THE GUERRILLAS UNDER HIS COMMAND HAD FACED IN BATTLE. HIS RESPECT FOR THEM WAS BASED NOT ONLY ON THEIR SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE UNDER FIRE, BUT THEIR ENLIGHTENED TREATMENT OF THE CIVILIAN POPULATION. HE PRAISED THEM FOR THEIR DISCIPLINE IN CARRYING OUT SMALL UNIT TACTICS IN THE FIELD AND IN GENERAL GAVE THEM HIGH MARKS AS THE MOST FORMIDABLE OPPONENT HIS MEN HAD FACTED TO DATE.

6. ON A STRICTLY POLITICAL MATTER, MEDRANO STRESSTED TO THE REPORTED WHAT HE, MEDRANO, CHARACTEREIZED AS A NEW FMLN NEGOTIATING POSITION. CLAIMING TO SPEAK ON BEHALF OF THE FMLN, HE PROPOSED THAT THEY WOULD BE WILLING TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE GOES UNDER THE CONDITION THAT ONLY THE SECURITY FORCES WERE RESTRUCTURED, LEAVING THE ARMY INTACT. THE AMBASSADOR EXPLAINED TO THE JOURNALIST THAT THE SECURITY FORCES REPRESENTED THE PRINCIPAL BONE OF CONTENTION WITH TME FOR-FMLN AND THAT LEAVINT THE ARMY INTACT DID NOT REPRESENT A SIGNIFICANT CHANGE IN THE GUERRILLA POSITION. THE REPORTER ACCEPTED THE AMBASSADOR'S ASSESSMENT, BUT STILL INTENDS TO INCLUDE MEDRANO'S PROPOSAL IN HIS STORY.

7. A SECOND GUERRILLA OFFICER, ROLANDO JULIAN, WHO SEEMED TO BE THE POLITICAL OR PROPAGANDA OFFICER, WAS PRESENT DURING THE INTERVIEW. THE REPORTER REMEMBERED HIM WELL BECAUSE ALTHOGH HE REPRESENTED HIMSELF AS A MEDICAL DOCTOR, HE WAS GROSSLY OVERWEIGHT AND, IN FACT, THE ONLY OBESE INDIVIDUAL OBSERVED AT THE CAMP. (COMMENT: WHILE THE MBASSY HAS RECEIVED SEVERAL COMPARATIVELY GOOD REPORTS FROM JOURNALISTS AND OTHERS AS TO THE PERFORMANCE OF THE ATLACATL BATTALION, THIS IS THE FIRST ENDORSEMENT TO COME FROM A COMMANDER OF THE ENEMY FORCES. REPORTS OF SIMILAR INTERVIEWS WITH MEDRANO CAN BE EXPECTED TO APPEAR AROUND THE WORLD FROM SUCH MEDIA OUTLETS AS UPI, GERMAN RADIO AND PRESS,

6. AMBASSADOR'S COMMENT: NOTE THAT REPORTED PRAISE FOR AN ELITE ARMY UNIT IS COMPATIBLE WITH POLITICAL POSITION THAT FMLN ASKING PRICE FOR NEOGTIATIONS HAS BEEN LOWERED TO CONCENTRATE ON SECURITY FORCES. 3. (C) EVEN A CURSORY READING OF THE JANUARY 11 ARTICLE RAISES TWO QUESTIONS. HOW COULD THE NYT PUBLISH SO PROMINENTLY SUCH A CONDEMNATORY ARTICLE BY A SALVADORAN ARMY DESERTER WITHOUT CHEKCING OUT THE FACTS ON THE GROUND? A SECOND AND EVEN MORE SERIOUS QUESTION HAS TO DO WITH THE TIMING OF THE RELEASE OF THE STORY WHICH ITSELF IS NOT DATED. WE HAVE LEARNED THROUGH JOURNALISTS THAT A GROUP OF SALVADORAN EXILES IN MEXICO, INCLUDING DISSIDENT CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT HECTOR DADA HIREZI AND EX-OWNER OF THE SAN SALVADOR LEFTIST DAILY EL INDEPENDIENTE, JORGE PINTO, OFFERED GOMEZ' TALE SEVERAL WEEKS BEFORE ITS JAN. 11 PUBLICATION, TO SEVERAL AMERICAN JOURNALISTS IN MEXICO CITY, NONE OF WHO WOULD TOUCH IT FOR ITS OBVIOUS LACK OF CREDIBILITY. THE NYT NOT ONLY ACCEPTED THE STORY BUT HELD IT UNTIL THE FIRST CONTINGENT OF SALVADORAN MILITARY ARRIVED FOR TRAINING IN NORTH CAROLINA. THE TIMES THEN RAN THE STORY IN AN EXTREMELY PROMINENT POSITION ON PAGE FOUR ALONG WITH A PHOTO OF THE ARRIVAL OF THE SALVADORAN MILITARY.

4. (C) WE SHOULD NOT ALSO THAT MOSCOW RADIO IN SPANISH TO LATIN AMERICAN (FBIS BY 182200) USED THE STORY THE FOLLOWING DAY, JAN 12, TO LAUNCH A PARTICULARLY VICIOUS ATTACK AGAINST THE US. IT MADE A SIMILAR LINK BETWEEN ACCUSATION OF WIDESPREAD INSTRUCTION IN TORTURE BY THE US AND THE ARRIVAL OF SALVADORAN MILITARY TRAINEES IN THE US.

Foreign Minister Gromyko did not know whether Secretary Haig had anything to add on the question of medium-range nuclear systems in Europe. If the Secretary had nothing to add, then there was nothing further that Gromyko could say on that subject. Accordingly, he proposed to move on. Though Gromyko did not know the Secretary's possibilities, he, Gromyko, wanted to address briefly the matter of strategic arms and to listen to the Secretary's views on that subject. Lately there had been speculations galore in the press, including speculations to the effect that the Secretary did not want to discuss this issue at the current meeting. There were even press suggestions that the Secretary's intention was to displease the Soviet Union. Gromyko wanted to think that the situation was different, that such reports were incorrect and that they misinterpreted the views of the Secretary and the US Administration. This was a serious issue. The Soviet Union thought that now that discussions were underway on medium-range nuclear arms, the two states should deal with this question as well. After all, time was marching on and by force of circumstances it would be necessary to deal with the subject. But the more time elapsed, the more difficult it would become to deal with the subject, and the more difficult it would be to find appropriate solutions. Gromyko wanted to believe that the Secretary was prepared to exchange views on this matter, at least briefly. If so, Gromyko, too, was prepared to address it.

The Secretary replied that in the spirit of the principle of equal security he wanted to comment very briefly on some observations made this morning by Gromyko on the INF topic. Gromyko had really touched on three areas, and during lunch the Secretary had an opportunity to consider Gromyko's comments regarding the written proposal he had read. The Secretary considered it important to reiterate again the basic observation he had made regarding the Geneva discussions thus far. What was involved was a basic difference in approach in assessing data, threats and arms, both quantitatively and qualitatively. Gromyko had made the point very vigorously that the arms in Western Europe were strategic for the Soviet Union. That, of course, was also true with respect to our Western European allies, especially in the case of the SS-20. Furthermore, Gromyko had raised the question of global versus regional. The Secretary wanted to assure Gromyko that our problem involved mobile application of these systems, especially medium-range missiles, the capability of shifting and moving them.

It was necessary to deal with this matter at the ongoing negotiations in such a way that all sides would be confident that the picture was balanced. Certain statements had been made in Geneva to the effect that aircraft carriers and aircraft on them, the A-6s and the A-7s, which were never deployed here, even FB-111s which were in the United States, were included in Soviet force balances. Accordingly, it was a very difficult problem to be sure that we viewed the threats to each country in a common perspective.

The US saw a number of flaws in the Soviet presentation of the balance of capability. The Soviet position presented thus far in Geneva obscured the fact that the Soviet side had a greater number of nuclear systems, including land-based missiles which have great precision and involve greater accuracy, and also have numerous delivery capabilities. The Soviet position presented in Geneva ignored warheads and focused only on launchers, although a more significant measure of capability involves the question of warheads. The Soviet side insisted on including the arms of the United Kingdom and France, in the balance, overlooking the fact that these were strategic systems of sovereign states outside US control.

Gromyko had focused earlier on FB-111s, A-6s and A-7s, but the Soviet side wanted to exclude several Soviet aircraft with ranges comparable to those of US systems which allegedly constituted a threat to the Soviet Union. It was necessary to have a balance in the figures and to resolve the differences in that regard. Until that occurred, it would be very difficult to make meaningful proposals on reductions. For example, the Secretary did not know how to tabulate the balances, even including allied systems. The Soviet inventory was overwhelmingly superior. The 580 SS-20s, SS-5s and SS-4s were associated with over 1,140 warheads, and using the approach the Soviet side had applied with regard to US nuclear-capable aircraft, the Soviet inventory involved 8,500 systems. On the other hand, F-111s, F-16s and F-4s added up to only 1,800. While the Secretary did not want to take the time now to discuss these numbers, because this should be left to experts, he had listed them in order to point out that this is where the problem started. He thought that, generally speaking, we should work toward resolving these approaches.

The Secretary said that the second area he wished to raise involved Gromyko's rationale regarding Soviet deployment of SS-20s. The Secretary knew the facts because he had much experience with NATO and with military forces, and had witnessed the evolution of the threat to NATO Europe. He also knew very clearly the situation regarding development and deployment of SS-20s, because at that time -- that is, in the late '60s and early '70s -- he had been Dr. Kissinger's Deputy in Washington. In this connection, it was necessary to take into account other dramatic changes in the Soviet posture, such as an increase in troop strength by one-third, a thickening of the combat echelons, a buildup in tank divisions and in mobile divisions, along with greater fire power. There had also been the most dramatic buildup in aircraft of modern times. The entire character of the Soviet Air Force had changed with respect to Western Europe during the period 1970 to 1978/79. It had gone from air defensive capabilities to long-range, dual-capable offensive capabilities. Manpower advantages had gone to a two-to-one ratio, the advantage in tanks to a three-to-one ratio. In the course of this, the number of nuclear warheads had increased six-to-one. All that had occurred simultaneously with the deployment of the SS-20s.

No objective observer could attribute SS-20 deployment to a reaction to Western modernization at a time when more than 1,000 warheads were withdrawn on our side. The Secretary was familiar with that withdrawal because he had fought that decision, but it was nevertheless carried out. It was important to get a clear picture on where we were with respect to SS-20s and how we got there, because only from that standpoint would it be possible to establish some basis for reductions which were in order. The Secretary had presented the above to be sure the record was clear in light of what Gromyko had said this morning, and so that the Soviet side would understand our concern.

The Secretary continued that, with respect to the question raised by Gromyko about SALT/START, we, too, had read all about that. It was true that we were not prepared, as we might have been in the absence of events, to move forward to discussing this subject now. Gromyko would know that we had worked intensively, as the Secretary had noted in September, to prepare our position. He hoped that we could initiate START negotiations at the earliest possible time. Those preparations were continuing, but at this time the Secretary was not prepared to engage in a substantive or procedural discussion, such as on the time of resuming these negotiations, and would not be prepared until the climate was right. When the climate was right, he knew that the President would make this very evident through diplomatic channels. The Secretary hoped that this would occur in the not too distant future.

Gromyko would know that, as the President said in November, the latter was anxious to resume the dialogue on this subject and was seeking substantial reductions in strategic arms. He thought that it was evident from the current INF discussions that there was a strong and clear interrelationship between the two topics, and that progress would be produced simultaneously with regard to INF, as well as strategic systems. The Secretary wanted to underline the relationship between the two. Therefore, we would always approach INF from the standpoint of negotiations on strategic systems, even though there would be different venues and different delegations. The Secretary had wanted to make this observation, as Gromyko had done with regard to the areas he wanted to discuss, because in his view it had been important for him to respond so that there be no question about the area of strategic arms. We were here to listen to each other, not to raise fences to communications on questions of major significance to our overall relationship.

Gromyko replied that he had little to add to what he had said this morning with regard to medium-range nuclear arms in Europe. He wanted to emphasize that, of course, he could not accept the statement that the SS-20 deployment was not caused by corresponding actions by the NATO bloc. It was precisely NATO activities--and NATO was constantly modernizing its corresponding nuclear arms--which had forced the Soviet Union to deploy the SS-20s, even though this had not resolved the problem by a long shot, that is, the problem caused by NATO in upsetting the balance of nuclear arms in Europe. Failure by the Secretary to recognize that the factors with respect to the Soviet Union were justified showed that the US position was not objective, and the Soviet Union could not accept the Secretary's views of the US position or the Soviet position.

In trying to reverse the ratio between US and Soviet arms in Europe, the Secretary was ignoring one simple fact, namely that with respect to nuclear-capable aircraft, for example, the count proposed by NATO and US representatives involved understating the combat radius of US aircraft and artificially exaggerating the combat radius of Soviet aircraft. The Soviet Delegation had partly noted this already; it had cited specific types of aircraft, that is, aircraft with a range of "X". The US side on the other hand, without offering any proof had contested this data, claiming that the range was "X plus Y". The US side pretended that it knew more about Soviet systems than the Soviet side, and was engaging in this practice in order to fit the figures to its preconceived notion. The Soviet side had encountered this more than once, and the Soviet Union could not accept that kind of approach. The US side's failure to accept Soviet data involved certain preconceived notions. This was being done artificially, intentionally. Gromyko did not want to attribute these actions to the Secretary personally, he did not know who was responsible, but he was asking the Secretary to sort out the figures objectively and if the Secretary did this he would see an entirely different picture. The force relationship cited by US representatives was incorrect, it was a total invention.

Of course, the Secretary could respond, "no, we are correct." If the Secretary were to say that, Gromyko could not but express his regrets that the US position involved such an absence of seriousness. The question arises, what individuals, what organizations supply such data which are at odds with reality. For example, some Soviet aircraft which played no significant role in Europe and posed no threat in the European arena were claimed to be strategic. In this connection, Gromyko wanted to cite the example of Cuba where the US side was making absurd assertions about certain aircraft being nuclear-delivery vehicles, though in fact these aircraft are of no significance to the region involved. Nevertheless, the US was perceiving them as a threat. Gromyko had mentioned Cuba because the analogy could not be escaped. He did not wish to call this matter by its proper name, it was best to refrain from such words. There had been at least a minimum amount of objectivity during preparation of the SALT I and SALT II Agreements, and as a result we had moved forward. If that principle were not adhered to now, if it were crossed out, it would be very difficult to make any progress.

Gromyko, turning to strategic arms, said that he was very sorry to hear the Secretary say that he was unable at this time to talk about resumption of the strategic arms negotiations, to hear him say that this entire topic had to await a better climate, presumably not only in Soviet-US relations, but also internationally. This was a fallacious conception which did not promise anything good. The US will gain nothing from this. If the US regarded this as a way of applying pressure, Gromyko would point out that the Soviet Union did not recognize such pressure. This was contrary to conducting relations between states and such a tactic did not work when major powers were involved.

The Soviet Union, of course, would try to make it clear that it did not bear the responsibility for failure to resume strategic arms talks, for failure even to obtain clarity regarding the time for such a resumption. Gromyko thought that it would not be difficult to make this clear to the general public. After all, there can only be two alternatives: either one is in favor of such talks or one is opposed to them. The Soviet Union was very much in favor of them, while the US was opposed to them, was putting them off. That should be clear to anyone. As Gromyko had said earlier, he could only express regret concerning this position of the US Administration.

Southern Africa, Cuba and Nicaragua

Gromyko said that since the Secretary had already touched the problem of Cuba, he, Gromyko, would expand on this matter by setting forth the Soviet Union's standpoint regarding the complex of problems involving Cuba, Angola and Namibia. He wanted to express some considerations and present some Soviet views on how the US and USSR should act in order to facilitate and promote a resolution of this complex of problems. The Soviet Union had studied these matters in detail and had come to the conclusion that a comprehensive approach could facilitate a solution. The Soviet Union was convinced that this was a constructive and objective standpoint. At our New York meeting the Secretary had spoken very sharply on the question of Cuba. Subsequently, the US Administration and the Secretary himself had made very sharp statements, and more than once. The Soviet Union knew that the US was consciously exacerbating the situation with regard to Cuba. Gromyko did not mean to blame the Secretary personally, he was referring to the US Administration. But Cuba did not merit such treatment. Cuba is being painted as having incredible capabilities and as posing an unbelievable threat, both quantitatively and qualitatively.

In fact, the arms supplied by the Soviet Union in the past and at present were of infinitesimal quantities. They did not constitute a threat to the US and were not intended for that. Cuba, whether it had such arms or not, did not pose a threat now and had not posed a threat in the past. The US was trying to blame Cuba for situations in other Latin American countries, notably in El Salvador. Clearly, there was no justification for making such changes. But, the US evidently needed this to maintain the fires in Latin America. What was the reason for this? When Castro directly asked the US to furnish proof and facts in support of US allegations, the US did not cite any evidence, it did not even make an effort to cite such evidence. The reason was that there were no facts in support of US charges about Cuban complicity.

Gromyko continued that what he had said about Cuba also applied to Nicaragua. In New York, the Secretary had referred to his meeting with the Foreign Minister of Nicaragua. Gromyko had also spoken to him, and the Foreign Minister had given him an overall account of his meeting with the Secretary. Of course, Gromyko did not know whether he had been told everything or not. Incidentally, the Foreign Minister of Nicaragua had said that his country wanted good relations with the US. He had said this during a visit to Moscow several weeks ago. Cuba certainly did not pose a thrat to El Salvador, and neither did Nicaragua. Yet the US side refers to such a threat here and elsewhere. Accordingly, the Soviet Union has concluded that the underlying reason was US dislike for the social system in Cuba. Gromyko recalled that he had told this to the Secretary during the New York meeting. But the Secretary should understand very well that the form of government should not be imposed on others. That was an internal matter, a result of social development.

At the last meeting, the Secretary had raised questions regarding Cuban activities in Ethiopia and Angola. It was true that there were Cuban troops in Angola. The Secretary had virtually claimed that the Cubans ran the show in Angola, he had for all intents and purposes suggested that through its military forces Cuba was calling the tune in some areas of Africa. But Gromyko knew the real intentions of the Cubans, and the Secretary would recognize that Gromyko was sure of his facts. Thus, Gromyko could say that neither now nor in the past had Cuba done anything evil in rendering aid to Ethiopia and Angola. Cuba was acting legally, consistent with the UN Charter and at the request of the Governments of Angola and Ethiopia. Accordingly, there were no grounds for reproaching Cuba for anything. After all, US troops were stationed in dozens and dozens of countries. And what about other Western countries? France has repeatedly introduced its forces into a number of countries, notably in Africa. Nor is Great Britain innocent, although at present its abilities have declined; history has played a role in this. Why was the US singling out Cuba? Could anyone really believe that Fidel Castro has decided to take over all of Africa. Gromyko was sure that the Secretary did not believe this.

Turning to Namibia, Gromyko said that this issue was in fact separate from the issue of Cuban forces in Angola and Ethiopia. Namibia should be granted independence in line with the UN resolution. With Washington's blessings, South African troops were occupying Namibia. The "group of five," which included US representatives, was operating under the wings of the South African occupation forces. Today South Africa had grabbed a piece of Namibian territory for a military base, probably with US agreement, though the Secretary should know this better than Gromyko. South Africa has carried out aggression against Angola, carried out bombing raids against that country, and at this very moment when we were talking, was maintaining several battalions of troops there.

Surely the Secretary could not believe that Angola had no right to ask for assistance to defend itself. Moveover, there was the question of Unita and all manner of other bands opposing the government. Naturally, the Secretary could say that such bands were an internal matter. Indeed, most of the personnel were Angolans, but a large part of the commanders were white mercenaries from other countries, including the US. They were operating with the tacit approval of their governments. Gromyko was not familiar with the number of these mercenaries or who they were, but the Soviet Union was studying the matter and would have an answer. Gromyko did not know the number of mercenaries in Savimbi's bands, though the US could help with this information. But whether the US did or did not help, the Soviet Union would know the answer soon. One could not divorce Cuban activities in Southern Africa from what was being done there by the US and other states. In order to alter the situation it was necessary to cease assistance to Savimbi, to stop South Africa's aggression against Angola and to permit Namibia to become a truly sovereign state.

Gromyko said he now wanted to formulate what he would call a constructive solution to this complex of problems. The Namibian issue was a separate one, but it so happened that it had become linked in time because South African aggression against Angola is related to South African aggression against Namibia. Gromyko wanted to present for the Secretary's consideration a Cuban plan, which Gromyko was presenting with Cuba's knowledge. To begin with, he wanted to outline the Soviet Union's position on this question, after which he would address the outline of the Cuban plan. Inasmuch as this was a concentrated program, he wanted to dispense with a Russian language presentation and asked his interpreted to read from a prepared statement:

-- First, settlement of the Namibian problem should be carried out in strict conformity with UN resolutions which provide for the granting to Namibia of full independence with the preservation of its territorial integrity, including the region of Walvis Bay. South African troops must be completely withdrawn from Namibia. Any international understanding on that question must be acceptable to the independent African states and SWAPO. The US, for its part, also should propose precisely such a solution of the Namibian problem. The Soviet Union, as a permanent member of the Security Council, also has in mind to play an active part in the Namibian settlement.

-- Second, there must be an end to all aggressive activities by South Africa against the People's Republic of Angola, whether directly or through support for Unita actions. The United States and other Western powers, along with South Africa, must cease all support for Unita and other anti-government groupings in Angola, whose hostile activities against the Angolan Government are directed from the outside, i.e., with regard to the territorial integrity and security of Angola, including its inalienable part, the Cabinda Province, must be secured.

-- Third, the presence of Cuban forces in Angola and the question of their possible withdrawal therefrom is, of course, a bilateral matter between Cuba and Angola. The objective reasons why Cuban forces were sent to, and are in Angolan territory, involve the defense of the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Angola against aggression by South Africa, as well as against the bandit formations of Unita, which are armed by and whose activity is directed from, the outside.

-- Fourth. Therefore, withdrawal of Cuban forces from Angola can be carried out when the threat to the security of the People's Republic of Angola is removed and when the Government of Angola takes such a decision by virtue of its sovereignty.

-- Fifth. As is known, as far back as April 1976 the Governments of Angola and Cuba agreed on a plan for the gradual withdrawal of Cuban forces from Angola, and less than one year thereafter the numerical strength of the Cuban military contingent was reduced by more than one-third. But subsequently, at the request of the Angolan leadership, implementation of this plan was suspended in connection with the intensified aggressive activities of South African racists and mounting support by them and the US for formations hostile to the Government of the People's Republic of Angola.

-- Sixth, resolution of the Namibian problems along the lines described above, and a guaranteed cessation of all forms of aggressive activities against the People's Republic of Angola, will enable the Governments of Angola and Cuba to return to the implementation of the previously agreed plan for the gradual withdrawal of Cuban forces from Angola.

Gromyko said that he had wanted to say all the above by way of summarizing the views of the Soviet Union. Cuba had also provided the Soviet Union with its own assessment of the situation. Gromyko wanted to inform the Secretary of this assessment and in order to save time asked his interpreter to read the Cuban text, which he then handed over (attached). In reply to the Secretary's question, Gromyko answered that this text had not been released elsewhere, that it was prepared for the Secretary's benefit. Gromyko wanted to add that the Soviet Union viewed this plan by way of a solution to the entire complex of problems which were linked in the US view, that is, regarding Cuba, Angola, Namibia and South Africa. Of course, in the Soviet view the relationship was different, but since there is a relationship in time, these issues could be grouped together. Gromyko had already emphasized that Namibia and Angola involved different questions, but South Africa, through its aggression, had tied everything into one knot. The Soviet Union saw a possibility for resolving these problems, provided the US approached them with understanding. Gromyko thought that this would also be useful from the standpoint of Soviet-US relations and that perhaps it would cast a ray of light on the overall international situation.

The Secretary responded that he had listened with great care. He had looked for and listened for the gleam of light of a possible solution within the dense jungle of propaganda statements. He wanted to deal with these statements first, and noted that he seemed to have discerned more of a glimmer of light in the Soviet articulation than in the Cuban one. With regard to Cuba, he wanted to remark sharply about Cuba's inflation of tensions. As Gromyko knew, the Secretary had discussed this issue in Mexico with the Cuban Vice President and had further discussed it with him in New York in terms of future relations between the two countries. Asked by Gromyko when this discussion had taken place, the Secretary replied that it had occurred some three or four weeks ago. We were carefully assessing the most recent intelligence information regarding Soviet shipments to Cuba, which we did not regard as purely symbolic. We will make our decision on this in the days and weeks ahead. Even in the discussions with the Cuban Vice President it had been clear, and the latter admitted, that Cuba was sponsoring revolution in Colombia and that the Cuban presence in Nicaragua at this time was in excess of 4,000.

Gromyko interrupted that these were teachers and physicians.

The Secretary noted that at least 1,500 of them were military personnel. There was one Cuban for every twenty Nicaraguan soldiers. These were not advisors, this was command and control.

Gromyko repeated that they were doctors.

The Secretary noted again that there were at least 1,500 military personnel. We were also well aware of the direction from Nicaragua of so-called guerrillas in El Salvador. We were listening to radio broadcasts and monitoring the shipment of arms by air. This week the Secretary had spoken to a Canadian journalist who had been invited to join the guerrilla groups in El Salvador in order to write a story supporting Nicaraguan forces. There was no question on this. We were listening daily and hourly to radio transmissions. The Secretary thought that it was essential to make note of the unsatisfactory character of these activities, which must be understood by all.

Secondly, the Secretary, too, like Gromyko, had spoken to the Nicaraguan Foreign Minister in Santa Lucia. Incidentally, the Secretary agreed that that regime wanted good relations with the US. It was very unpopular. Just last week there were riots during which Sandinista forces had fired tear gas. The level of dissatisfaction among the people of Nicaragua was growing daily because of its police state tactics, internment without due process, suspension of civil liberties, destruction of the private sector and militarization of the regime. The Foreign Minister had told the Secretary that there would be no delivery of MiG aircraft. We took this assurance very seriously and expected that it would be adhered to.

The Secretary recalled telling Gromyko in New York that the social systems of Nicaragua and Cuba were of no concern to the US. What is of concern to us, however, is the illegal infiltration elsewhere by both governments. Cuba, by its own admission, has been engaged in this over a long period of time, whereas Nicaragua has initiated this kind of activity against neighboring states more recently. The Secretary thought that Gromyko should be as impressed by this as we, because the concern with regard to Nicaragua was generating pressure towards concerted action which we would support if it develops.

The Secretary noted that we have not terminated all assistance to that regime, but we did not understand why it needed 200,000 troops. This was similar to Cuba, which had 50,000 troops in Africa and in the Middle East. We did not believe that this was conducive to international peace and stability, or consistent with UN norms. The Secretary wanted to repeat that the US was not threatening the character of the government of any state; that was up to the people of each country. But, if illegal means were used, as Nicaragua was doing today, then it does concern us, as it should concern the Soviet Union.

The Secretary wanted to say a word about Namibia. Gromyko had labeled his and the Cuban statements as constructive and had referred to US support for South Africa and Unita. The US is prohibited by law from supporting Unita and has not supported what Gromyko had called "bandits." We have not supported it directly or indirectly, through arms supply or funds, since 1976. Prior to that, the history is clear. Unita had as much right to inherit power in Angola as did the MPLA. It was not a question of legality, but of de facto military support from the outside, including support by Cuba and the Soviet Union.

As for South Africa, both the Soviet Union and Cuba knew that US relations with South Africa were such as to encourage an opening of that society, of eliminating apartheid policies and of engaging South Africa in constructive actions in Southern Africa, including the independence of Namibia. Unlike the previous US Administration, the US had now ascertained that during the past three years the situation had deteriorated and the likelihood of Namibian independence was growing more distant every day. In good faith, therefore, we had tried a new approach, consistent with UN Resolution 435, in concert with the Contact Group, the Front Line States, SWAPO and the South African Government, in moving forward with a three-phased program. In six months we achieved more progress than in the previous four years of failed effort. This progress was becoming increasingly more clear because South Africa can never be forced to withdraw from Namibia in accordance with Resolution 435, unless its legitimate security concerns are taken into account by the Contact Group and the Front Line States. Sometimes conflicting evidence is heard here.

When South Africa moved into Angola, we were opposed to this action but did not condemn it because of Soviet involvement. Some Soviet personnel had been captured, others had been killed. There was physical proof in this regard, including documents, plans and statements by captured Soviet personnel indicating heavy Soviet involvement in overall SWAPO operations. The Secretary would ask if Gromyko could cite similar evidence regarding US involvement with Unita. If Gromyko could find such evidence, the Secretary would gladly consider it. We know of no such evidence because we do not provide any such support. The Soviet Union could not say the same about SWAPO.

Gromyko interjected that there was no point to this discussion. The Secretary underscored that what he had just said was fully documented -- indeed, South Africa had obtained a great deal of evidence. Gromyko insisted that the Soviet Union was helping Angola, not SWAPO. The Secretary noted that among other things, Soviet advisors had been encountered with SWAPO forces and had admitted their presence there for two years.

Gromyko asked why the US was protecting South Africa. The Secretary cited the large amounts of Soviet weapons captured by South Africa, which went beyond token quantities and involved large caches, and noted that SWAPO personnel had been guarding these stocks.

The Secretary went on to say that he hoped to clear the air with regard to some of the rhetoric in order that Gromyko understand the picture we have with respect to the Soviet Union and Cuba on this problem. However, we wanted to find a solution to this problem. That was our goal, and it would improve our relations. Gromyko had referred to taking small steps on our way back to a more normal relationship. The Secretary thought that it would be a big step if we could achieve peace and stability in Southern Africa. We should disengage super-power competition from this area and let the people in the area find their own solutions. He hoped that the Soviet proposal would arrive at the same reality. However, the Secretary was fully confident that we will succeed with or without Soviet cooperation. We were substantially at the end of the first phase with the Front Line States. We have the agreement of South Africa to the constitutional framework and the enthusiastic support of the Contact Group.

In response to Gromyko's question about the position of SWAPO, the Secretary replied that we have received their comments which, along with other comments from Namibia and the Front Line States, were basically very positive. The Secretary wanted to add that we had also been in touch with the Angolan Government, which clearly wants the Cuban troops to depart. Angola wanted peace and help from its neighbors. Gromyko questioned the Secretary's information and asked who could stop Angola if that was its desire. The Secretary said that he was confident of what he was saying. Gromyko suggested that the Secretary read the Cuban position, which was a fresh presentation of its views.

The Secretary said that the real question involved development of simultaneous assurances with regard to Angolan borders and agreed international conditions for resolving the problem of minority rights in Angola. He was referring to tribal considerations, that is, Unita. He was confident that this was possible, if the sides were left to their own independent choice. With all the talk about South African withdrawal from Namibia and a separate Cuban withdrawal from Angola, he thought that these circumstances could be provided.

Gromyko responded that the Soviet Union was in favor of this, as was evident in the plan he had presented. What Gromyko had told the Secretary was true. The Secretary said that accordingly he was optimistic that we could solve the problem. Gromyko remarked that this was so if we worked in the same direction, that is, if South African aggression against Angola was stopped -- aggression which was open, occurring daily for all the world to see -- and if Namibia was granted independence. He wanted to emphasize that Namibia should be granted independence in line with the resolutions of the UN and without outside interference.

The Secretary remarked that he had spoken to Savimbi. Gromyko said that he was incredulous why the Secretary had received him, why he had deemed this to be appropriate after the discussions between Gromyko and the Secretary.

The Secretary replied that we had to know where Savimbi stood and what his position was in order to know whether our proposals were achievable. Savimbi clearly was not an ally of South Africa and was not receiving any support from South Africa. He was receiving support from other countries in the region, but not from South Africa or the US.

After again registering his disagreement with US recognition of Savimbi, Gromyko inquired about the process that was envisaged. The Secretary responded that the process involved understanding each other. We were not explicitly linking Cuban withdrawal from Angola with the independence of Namibia; the objective was an empirical outcome. It was necessary to provide for security guarantees for the Angolan Government, which would permit simultaneous withdrawals. The two were not linked, but were empirically related, along the lines of a phased withdrawal of Cuban forces, with physical guarantees for Angola, while Namibia would obtain real independence.

The Secretary added that there was a separate question involving Walvis Bay. This involved an independent history, was controversial since the very beginning, and was separate from all the other concerns.

Gromyko remarked that there should also be agreement with SWAPO.

The Secretary replied that this pertained to whomever was elected. We were not prepared to designate SWAPO as the government in advance. All sides involved thought that progress was being made. We were finishing the discussions with the Contact Group regarding the first phase and would be reporting about the constituent assembly. At present, work was beginning with regard to the modalities of the second phase. There was a small difference with regard to Resolution 435 and the South African attitude to the UN presence, but pressure was being exerted on South Africa and the Secretary thought that this matter could be resolved. At the same time, this question was being discussed with Angola. It was for this reason that we had talked to Savimbi, in order to learn his objectives. The Secretary believed that this was a manageable problem as far as the Angolan Government was concerned, perhaps with the use of some peacekeeping force from the African continent, that is through the OAS. We were continuing our work and the Secretary had apprised Gromyko of our progress. He thought that this would constitute a major assistance to our joint goal.

Gromyko replied that if all this were done more directly -- and we had addressed this subject with Cuban consent -- then the Soviet Union would go along. Of course, much would depend on the US position as well. The Secretary assured Gromyko that we were intent on resolving the problem, thereby letting the nations of Southern Africa determine their own future -- keeping the super-power relationship out of Southern Africa. Otherwise, South Africa would commit further agression and would do it successfully, going deeper and deeper into Angola. The Cuban forces would become more involved and both the Soviet Union and the US would become increasingly concerned. Gromyko responded that neither Cuba nor the Soviet Union wanted this.

The Secretary said that, Angola aside, the problem of Cuba had to be resolved quickly. Gromyko must be aware that this situation was serious and that the President would not stand by and let Castro disturb the peace in the Western Hemisphere.

Gromyko said that the Secretary was again returning to the same story. Nothing would shake the Soviet Union in its view that this campaign against Cuba was the result of falsifications and tendentious inventions. Why would Nicaragua, which was not yet standing firmly on its legs, be ramming an alien regime down the throat of others, against their will. This was the same story as with Cuba. The Cubans wanted to live in peace in their own house. Moreover, Cuba wanted good relations with the US, but the US was turning its back.

Gromyko asked whether, upon his return to Moscow, he could inform the Soviet leadership and President Brezhnev that the Secretary and Gromyko had concluded that the two sides could act in a common direction with respect to Cuba, Angola, Namibia and South Africa. Could he report that there was agreement between the two countries regarding the way to solve this problem, namely by ensuring the security of Angola and providing for the independence of Namibia. Could he also report that with regard to the question of Cuban forces, the possibility was crystallizing of Soviet-US cooperation in the solution of this question as well? The Secretary said that, on the basis of today's exchange, he could make such a report.

Gromyko expressed the view that we should make use of this possibility, because this was a major issue which required a major effort. We ought to agree that in the event of slight hitches along the way, we would not act like young ladies of a certain age, who lose their temper and display impatience. We should remain calm and should persevere in working towards implementation of this plan and this objective. Gromyko thought that this would be beneficial to both countries and, generally speaking, for Africa and the world as well. He thought that we could end our discussion on this.

Chemical and Toxic Weapons

Gromyko said that he wanted to react to something the Secretary had said this morning. First, the Secretary had hinted at some instances of Soviet use of chemical and toxic weapons in Southeast Asia and Afghanistan. In this connection, he wanted to say that it was time to cease spreading false rumors containing allegations to the effect that the Soviet Union either had undertaken some steps involving the use of chemical or toxic weapons, or intended to do so. This was a fabrication from start to finish. It was an invention of Washington, though Gromyko did not know who was responsible for this. But then, the situation in Washington was so complex that it was difficult to sort things out. The Soviet Union has not used such weapons, and was categorically opposed to the use of these cursed weapons. There had been discussions regarding their total ban, but an accord was not concluded. What were the reasons? It was the Soviet Union's impression that when the US had started this rumor involving the Soviet Union, it had concluded that it needed a cover for the production of its own chemical and toxic weapons. Gromyko did not know for how long the US would be able to maintain this position and keep this rumor going. No one in the world believed the US. In Washington people were trying to convince each other. Gromyko wanted to repeat that the Soviet Union resolutely condemns anyone who should use chemical or toxic weapons. We should sit down at a table and work out and sign an agreement on banning these weapons. It was the US position which was responsible for failure to complete this work. Gromyko was asking the Secretary to tell the President and the entire Cabinet that the Soviet Union did not use chemical or toxic weapons anywhere and did not intend to use them. The Soviet Union had no such intent and was opposed to any country having chemical or toxic weapons in their arsenals. The Soviet Union was for banning these weapons, for negotiating, concluding and signing an agreement to that effect. That was the Soviet position.

The Secretary said he wished to give Gromyko a prepared fact sheet on this subject. Surely Gromyko would understand that the Secretary would never make a public statement, as he had, if there had not been overwhelming evidence concerning the facts of the use of such weapons. We had films, first-hand reports, blood tests and chemical samples, and not just from government sources, but also from independent sources. It was perhaps conceivable that the regimes with which the USSR associated might have somehow developed this capability, but there was a very clear tie to Soviet advisors and Soviet military personnel. The Secretary wanted to hand over the fact sheet in order that Gromyko understand that we had facts and evidence.

Gromyko replied that as a sign of his indignation regarding this falsified information, he did not wish to take this document. He inquired whether this document had been released. The Secretary said that the fact sheet had been prepared for Gromyko and no one else. The Secretary went on to say that he wanted to reiterate that the information presented to him and to the President was absolutely multi-sourced, that it included films, laboratory tests and independent opinions, not just the opinions of government agencies. Clearly, there was a problem -- a problem that would not go away.

Poland

Gromyko now wanted to turn to the matter of Poland. He had no intention of discussing the internal affairs of the Polish people with anyone. Other Soviet officials also had no such intention. However, he did want to say that the Soviet Union was resolutely opposed to interference in Poland and objected to the insinuations emanating from Washington and some other NATO capitals. What has not been attributed to the Soviet Union? Allegations were being made that Soviet troops were massing on the Polish border, that they were about to intervene, that the Soviet Union was already intervening. From time to time the Soviet Union denied these allegations, yet new versions of an alleged Soviet interference in the internal affairs of Poland surfaced again and again. The fact was that the Soviet Union had no intention of interfering in the internal affairs of Poland. Incidentally, the decree on the imposition of martial law was strictly constitutional, and both the Soviet Union and Poland had been saying that this was a national decision.

0130340016

Had the Soviet Union been involved when Poland took the step, it would be impossible to conceal that from history. The Soviet Union as well as Poland had assured the US that the USSR was not involved in that decision. The question arose why was an effort made to accuse the Soviet Union? In the Soviet opinion -- and the Secretary would probably not agree -- the explanation was that Washington needed to accuse the Soviet Union in order to cover up longstanding US interference. The US was not alone, but the US was playing the first fiddle. Evidently, the US believed that an accusation against the Soviet Union would act as a shock absorber. Gromyko recognized that some Americans fell for this line, but that was because most Americans read only US statements in US propaganda publications. The US was simply disregarding Soviet statements by failing to publish them. Gromyko said that this was not merely a reproach, but an accusation against the US Government. Gromyko did not need to apologize on behalf of the Soviet Union, because the latter was not interfering in the internal affairs of Poland. No one had the right to such interference, which was of a political and economic nature.

The new dance -- sanctions -- is again appearing. In Europe there were provocative radio stations which Gromyko occasionally had to listen to in the line of his duties, though he could not tolerate such broadcasts for very long. These stations were giving the Poles lessons on how to arrange their affairs. Thus, they were saying that the Poles should turn over one-third of the power to the Church, and another third to Solidarity, or rather the reactionary wing of Solidarity; better yet, they should turn over all power to the latter. Why should Washington be engaged in handing out power, why should it be saying who should receive power and who should lose it?

Did the U.S. expect the Soviet Union to interfere in a backward way to turn power over to the Church and Solidarity? That was absolute fantasy. The Poles should be permitted to live and make their own decisions. Of course, like decent people, the Soviet Union wanted to help. If the US wanted to render honest assistance it, too, could do so. The Soviet Union was providing much assistance; The US could do the same, but it acted otherwise, it chose to exacerbate the situation. Gromyko did not want to discuss Polish affairs, and he would not have addressed the matter if the Secretary had not touched on it. Though, come to think of it, perhaps he would in any case have said, "stop interfering in Polish affairs."

The Secretary responded that he saw no useful purpose in debating the issues Gromyko had raised. It would serve a useful purpose if both of us recognized that the Polish situation had now become extremely dangerous for the world at large and for our future relationship. As categorically as Gromyko insisted that the Soviet Union was not involved, the Secretary also would insist that there was no US interference in Poland and that there could be no such interference.

The Secretary did know, however, that our own estimate of the situation was fairly accurate and he thought that it did not depart much from the Soviet estimate, namely that the situation in Poland was deteriorating. This should concern everyone. It was not a matter of meddling in the affairs of the Polish people, it was a matter of a threat to international peace. We had made very clear that we wanted to help. Last year we had provided more than one billion dollars by way of credits and food. The same was true of other Western European countries. Today Poland is drifting either toward total anarchy or toward violence.

We were convinced that the ultimate outcome must be a compromise. Something had to be said publicly on this score because this matter involved all the signatories of the Helsinki Accords which, in their essence, sanctified territorial integrity and noninterference, but also contained fundamental obligations with respect to human rights. The Secretary thought that Gromyko would understand why the strongest forces in the US and in Western Europe with respect to the Polish situation involved unions and working people. The Secretary had looked for some hopeful sign in Gromyko's comments. Frankly, he had found only propaganda. He was not saying this to add still more propaganda to the discussion, but because this problem was pivotal for the world at large and for the US-Soviet relationship in particular.

We were not here to pressure or to preach, but we could suggest that there ought to be some formula that would be perceived by the world at large as suggesting a moderating approach in all of the following three areas: the release of prisoners, the lifting of martial law and the institution of a dialogue. The above suggestions came from Western Europe, and the US agreed with them. He would refer Gromyko to the statements made in a number of capitals -- including Bonn -- which mentioned these three conditions. It was the Secretary's great concern, and it should be Gromyko's concern too, that if this situation was permitted to drift, it would lead to deterioration in terms of the economy and in terms of law and order, and would heighten the strains. He thought that everyone understood the paramount need for safety valves to relieve the pressures generated by the situation in Poland.

Our standpoint was that the situation was extremely unsatisfactory, very dangerous, and concerned the entire world, not only Europe or the US, and could lead to a very dire outcome. The Secretary believed that it was in the interest of each of us to seek remedies which would bring Poland back on the road of economic and social recovery. The Secretary had listened carefully to Gromyko's statement that this is what mattered for the Soviet Union. But history belied that. Previously in history the Soviet Union at times had acted in ways which we very much opposed. The Secretary thought that credible, demonstrable moderation was in everyone's interest; he did not believe this would entail risks that were unacceptable to the Soviet Union.

Gromyko responded that the Secretary's information was totally incorrect. The situation was improving and improving quite successfully. No one should hamper this process and the Secretary's gloomy information was inaccurate.

Afghanistan

Gromyko wanted to turn to Asia, specifically Afghanistan. The Secretary would recall that during our New York discussion of the situation in and around Afghanistan mention had been made of a possible meeting between US and Soviet experts. The Soviet Union had mentioned this on several occasions, but the US was not interested and thus no meetings had been held. Gromyko was not saying this by way of a reproach, for it was the Secretary's business how he intended to discuss this question and with whom. At this time, Gromyko wanted to repeat briefly the Soviet position in case the Secretary was unclear about any parts of it. The Soviet Union had come to Afghanistan to provide assistance against outside aggression. This outside aggression was being committed by individual bands, sometimes numbering ten individuals, sometimes a bit more. Of course, whoever is sending them in is trying to coordinate this activity, but bands are bands. They are engaged in terrorism and were killing peasants, teachers and even school children. They were not active everywhere, only in some provinces. It would seem that those governments which stood behind these bands should recognize that the situation in Afghanistan was irreversible, that the Afghanistan government was firmly in power and would remain so. This was a fact, whether anyone liked it or not. Blood was being spilled needlessly because these bands were treated as they deserved to be treated, that is, they were considered aggressors. Of course, whoever stood behind them did not care about the spilling of Afghan blood. The Soviet Union for its part was, of course, doing its duty and would continue to do so. Accordingly, it would seem that a solution was possible only in one way -- by ceasing outside aggression. These bands had to be withdrawn or they had to lay down their arms. All power had to be held by the legal authorities.

Internationally, Afghanistan should have a nonaligned status and there ought to be no question on that score, whether on the US side or on the Soviet side. Let it remain nonaligned. If everyone was in favor of that and against spilling blood, against aggression, if everyone favored the independence and nonaligned status of Afghanistan, then this should be formalized. The Soviet Union and Afghanistan saw no other way to achieve this than to hold a meeting between the representatives of Afghanistan and Pakistan, with a view to reaching an understanding on whatever matters were at issue.

The Soviet Union thought that Pakistan was uneasy about its border, for example, there was an area called Baluchistan. Gromyko had told the Secretary during their last meeting that a resolution of this matter was possible between the current

Afghanistan government and Pakistan. Gromyko believed that this would provide certain benefits to Pakistan, because the latter was concerned about its borders. This would also be advantageous for Afghanistan, for it would end the shedding of blood. Let there be such a meeting. Why should that be unacceptable to Washington? Why did the US not say a good word in favor of this?

As for Pakistan, sometimes it seems to be in favor of such an approach, sometimes it seems to make an about-face, at other times it seems to lack interest. Sometimes the Pakistanis speak of bilateral discussions, sometimes they refuse to engage in discussions without the US friend Iran. But the situation with Iran was at a different level of development. It could participate in such a meeting when the time came, but at this time the main thing was a meeting between Afghanistan and Pakistan. Perhaps this could be accomplished with the assistance of the Secretary General of the UN or one of his deputies. It should not be impossible to organize such a meeting. What was diplomacy for? If diplomats could not find a way to set up such a meeting, they should be wrapped up in a package and sent into outer space, beyond our galaxy. Such a meeting could be of a formal or informal nature, it could be governmental or nongovernmental. But if this was done, and if the aggression ceased, then the Soviet troops would be withdrawn. The US did not like the presence of Soviet personnel in Afghanistan, but did the Secretary think that the Soviet Union was happy with this? Soviet forces would stay as long as they have to, they would carry out their duty, but would not stay any longer.

If the US was truly in favor of a relaxation of tension, it could use its influence with Pakistan with respect to such a meeting. If this were to occur, Gromyko thought that it would also reduce tensions between India and Pakistan. As for Soviet-Pakistani relations, the Soviet Union had no claims against Pakistan and did not need anything from Pakistan, all it wanted was to develop its relations with that country. Furthermore, this would also be beneficial for the general atmosphere of the entire area, an important area. This would be true not only from the standpoint of the countries in that area, but also, the Soviet Union believed, would serve the interests of the US and the USSR, as well as other states. This would act as a kind of fresh breath of air, Gromyko hesitated calling it a warm breath. He asked the Secretary to consider all of this. The Soviet Union had gained the impression that the US was not concerned very much about improving the sitation. It would almost seem as if the US liked the presence of Soviet personnel there.

The Secretary said it seemed to him that something had been forgotten between September and now. We had discussed this matter actively in September and Ambassador Hartman had been instructed to discuss the question further in Moscow. But it seems that there was a serious difference on one of the three elements required for a solution. That was the obstacle. Gromyko would recall the Secretary saying in September that as soon as Soviet troops were withdrawn the present leadership would be finished within a matter of days. The elements discussed included guaranteed borders and a timetable for Soviet troop withdrawal. The third area we discussed was the formula regarding self-determination, that is, the matter of a leadership which could preside over national recovery. Historically, we had no direct and vital interest in Afghanistan, except for its nonaligned status, and Gromyko has said the same with respect to the Soviet Union. We had been comfortable with the many years of Afghanistan's nonalignment. But the Secretary could not but fail to note Gromyko's statement that the present government was irreversible. The present government would ever be able to survive without a Soviet presence. Surely we could imagine a solution to this issue. The US had raised this question with Pakistan after September, but, like us, they view the Kabul regime as an inherent contradiction, which would collapse as soon as Soviet forces were withdrawn. Neither could we condone a circumvention of an accord. The Secretary added that we were not interested in seeing Soviet troops bogged down in Afghanistan. Gromyko remarked that he had said that jokingly, in view of US behavior.

The Secretary said that we had made a conscious effort to find a solution, but self-determination is an essential factor without which there could be no solution. He wanted to assure Gromyko that we were prepared to deal with this question constructively. We had our own views with regard to Pakistan. On all these questions Gromyko had really confirmed to the Secretary that if some of the fundamental questions were to be resolved, this would facilitate resolution of the specific problems. The US remained prepared to seek solutions to the fundamental questions.

Secretary Haig's Summary and Bilateral Relations

The Secretary had to tell Gromyko that in whatever statement was subsequently made to the press, he would have to say that the Polish question was an overhanging cloud, that this cloud remained and inevitably affected everything we had spoken of. He would also have to say that objectively the reaction to Poland did not involve Poland alone. The Polish situation was seen in the context of Afghanistan, the Soviet arms buildup, as well as Soviet activities and perceptions thereof on the African continent. All of these things over the years made this problem qualitatively different, both in the US and in Europe. He thought that this made the situation of Poland a most serious issue. Therefore, it affected all other solutions and future developments to a greater extent than if this had been an independent problem.

The Secretary noted that we had not talked about bilateral relations. He was never satisfied with respect to matters of human rights. He would note that Jewish emigration had gone down from 50,000 to 10,000, that there were a number of unresolved family reunification cases involving about ten US citizens. A very unsatisfactory situation had developed in our Embassy in Moscow, which was now at a crisis stage, because it seemed that doctors would need to evacuate the people who are starving themselves.

Afghanistan

Gromyko remarked that evidently the US position on Afghanistan had not improved, and the US contention that there should be interference in the internal affairs of that country -- i.e., with respect to its leadership -- was hopeless. Gromyko suggested that the Secretary once again weigh US policies and give some further thought to them. Perhaps he would reach more hopeful conclusions.

Near East

Gromyko wanted to say a few words about the Near East. Of course, the Secretary knew the Soviet position in that regard. The Soviet side was in favor of Israel vacating all Arab territories. The Soviet Union was also in favor of the independence of Israel and had said this many times as well, specifically to the Israeli Foreign Minister at the UNGA. The Soviet Union, like a mountain, defended the legitimate rights of the Palestinians, inluding their right to the creation of an independent, albeit small, Palestinian state, headed by the PLO. The Soviet Union had resolutely denounced Camp David which had brought everything to an impasse. Gromyko recognized that the Secretary was trying to paint the prospects in brighter colors, but these prospects were not encouraging.

The developments in the Sinai involving the US and other countries, chiefly US allies, were not promising either. With time this would produce a hatred for everyone who brought military units to the Sinai. The Secretary could not be unaware that the Sinai deal was not the last such deal. This area must be genuinely liberted. A genuine solution, including the solution to the Sinai problem, was possible only through a radical resolution of the entire Middle East problem.

Gromyko wanted to ask why the US had found it necessary to conclude a strategic agreement with Israel. After all, Israel was a US military and political base anyway. Yet the US evidently wanted to demonstrate to the world and to the Arabs that Israel and the US were enemies of the Arabs, and to do so graphically. The Soviet Union viewed this as an anti-Soviet action.

In conclusion, he wanted to say that the situation had worsened since our last meeting, despite US efforts to sweeten the Middle East situation with sugar. The Soviet Union was in favor of solutions. The Soviet Union condemned most seriously Israel's annexation of the Golan Heights. If the Secretary was planning to say that the US had been opposed to this, he should not depart with the impression that his argument had been convincing. Israel would not have taken this step without US participation. This annexation of foreign land is aggression, pure and simple. The only thing beyond it would have been open warfare. Thus, emotions were building and the situation was being exacerbated. There has been no explosion yet, but it could come any time. The Soviet Union was not in favor of exacerbating the situation. There was a time in the past when it seemed as if there might be some improvement, but then came "Mr." Camp David and crushed everything.

Accordingly, the Soviet Union had a very negative view of the situation. The situation was complex and dangerous and required the attention of the US and the USSR. Gromyko would welcome it if we could find some joint language on this problem or aspects of this problem. The Soviet Union believed that all countries in this area should be permitted to develop under conditions of peace, and this included Israel. Of course, there were some extremist elements in the Arab World and if there were to appear a front aimed at the annihilation of Israel, the Soviet Union would resolutely oppose this. Yet, Israel did not even have a kind word for the Soviet Union.

Humanitarian Issues

Gromyko asked rhetorically what he could say about humanitarian issues. Was it the Soviet Union which had created these problems? Everyone had to honor the laws of their lands. Americans had to observe US laws, while Soviet citizens and everyone who was on Soviet territory had to respect Soviet laws. The Secretary had raised the question with regard to certain individuals who were Soviet citizens. They had to abide by Soviet laws. Here was a minor matter, but the Secretary may have heard, for example, about the case of the Polovchak boy. The issue arose when he was 12, though he was 14 now. He was not permitted to return to his family, he was forced to stay behind. Even when a US court had issued a favorable ruling, the US Secretary of Justice had said that court or no court, the boy would stay. Perhaps the Secretary was too close to the situation. Thus, he suggested that the Secretary take a look at the political clothing of the US. In any event, the matter of human rights was a question that could be discussed, but Washington abuses it.

CSCE

Gromyko said that it would be good if the current Madrid meeting could be brought to a close with some resolution on holding a conference about CBMs and disarmament issues. There was a draft text on the table, which had been proposed by the neutral countries. Even though in the Soviet view this draft required some modifications, the Soviet Union was prepared to discuss it and thought that such a discussion would be useful. Gromyko did not want to say anything about possible US efforts to complicate this meeting. The Soviet Union was opposed to such an approach. We ought to conclude this session on some positive note. That would be useful and would serve the interests of the USSR and the US, and would have a favorable impact upon the situation in Europe. Yet, the US was actively inflamming the situation. Thus, Gromyko suggested that the Secretary take a look at this question in terms of the forthcoming Madrid session. Perhaps, for a change, the meeting could end on a positive note. After all, the only thing involved is the forum for a follow-on meeting. The problems as such would be solved in the forum itself. He thought that we might talk briefly about the need for a future forum without getting into any details in Madrid.

The Secretary said that, considering the views he was hearing from Western Eruope, Madrid would inevitably develop into a platform for expressing concern over Poland. We had studied the draft mentioned by Gromyko and had found that the first part of it involved a major problem. The others seemed a good deal less troublesome. In any event, we had no fundamental problem with the CSCE process, which should continue.

Middle East

The Secretaty said that with respect to the Middle East and value judgments about Camp David, we saw no viable alternative to keeping it in force. We had no other way to ensure Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai. We were continuing to seek solutions pursuant to Camp David because we could not permit ourselves the luxury of not trying. We condemned the Golan annexation, and since Israel did not act in accordance with Resolution 242, we look upon this as a non-event which was without standing. The situation was dangerous, especially if Israel should move into Lebanon to clean out the PLO. We have restrained them in the past, but if there should be a provocation before an Israeli pull-out from the Sinai, the Secretary thought that Israel might seize on this quickly, because there was a major proclivity to settle problems by force of arms. Thus, he considered the situation dangerous.

Press Contacts

Gromyko said that evidently there would be no joint statement regarding our meeting. Did the Secretary expect to make some statement? If so, in what form did he plan to describe or assess this meeting, that is, in what spirit did he plan to do so. The Secretary replied that clearly the Soviet side would be asked whether we had discussed Poland. Frankly, from the Secretary's standpoint, Poland cast a shadow on our discussions. But he was not looking for a basis for further polemics.

Gromyko replied that it would be incredible if the Secretary or his Washington colleagues should refrain from polemics. The Secretary reminded Gromyko that the US had abided very carefully to the agreed line following the New York meeting. Gromyko agreed.

Gromyko suggested that we could now terminate our discussion. He thought that this meeting had been necessary and useful and remarked that we had exchanged views on many issues, all of which were important. This exchange was necessary and useful. At the beginning of his summary he would have to say, of course, that at a meeting such as this one a special place should have been assigned to strategic arms limitations, and that for reasons which the Soviet Union could not accept, the US side had found it impossible to discuss this subject even in terms of setting the date for resuming these negotiations. That left an imprint on our relations.

The Secretary noted that he had anticipated that Gromyko would deal with that subject and he was prepared to do the same. As for Gromyko's summary sheet on INF questions, the Secretary thought that this should not be a topic for discussion with the press. But if Gromyko intended to discuss it, the Secretary wanted to know ahead of time, because he would have to do the same. Gromyko replied that at this time he had no intention of publicizing it. It would be a different matter if it became necessary to do so in the course of subsequent negotiations. He added that the Soviet delegation would table a corresponding proposal. The Secretary noted that he was pleased with the public relations in general, with respect to INF. He thought that if public relations dealt with the substance, this could be counterproductive.

Gromyko said that he would see how the Secretary and his representatives in Washington reacted to this meeting. Of course, if the need arose to make a special statement regarding our discussions, the Soviet side would certainly do so. Presumably the Secretary would act likewise. He could only say that he hardly expect the Secretary or his colleagues to refrain from making statements. The Secretary said that he expected to make a statement this evening; this was necessary. But generally he intended to follow the line just discussed. Gromyko remarked that the Secretary would be speaking on his own behalf and if his comments required a response, the Soviet side would provide one. If a response was not necessary, it would not be made. The Secretary noted that it had always been so.

Cuban Paper on Angola, Namibia and South Africa

As learned through diplomatic channels and inferred in statements by various US officials, Reagan's Administration intends to make the solution of the independence of Namibia conditional on withdrawal of the Cuban troops stationed in the People's Republic of Angola.

In the face of that intention, the Government of Cuba abides firmly by the following principled positions.

First: The presence and withdrawal of the Cuban troops stationed in Angola is a bilateral matter between sovereign States -- the People's Republic of Angola and the Republic of Cuba -- and complies with Article 51 of the United Nations Charter.

Second: The purpose for which they went, at the request of President Neto, and the reason for which the troops remain in Angola, at the request of that nation's Government, is to cooperate with the People's Liberation Armed Forces of Angola (PLAF) in defense of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of the People's Republic of Angola, threatened by the South African racists, imperialism and its puppet bands.

Third: On April 21-22, 1976, scarcely one month after the expulsion of the South African racists on March 27, the Governments of Angola and Cuba had agreed on a program for the gradual reduction of the troops.

The implementation of the said program was stopped when the so-called "Shaba War" broke out, in March 1977, due to the presence of hostile foreign troops near the Angolan border. During that period of time, -- less than one year -- the Cuban military contingent was reduced by one third.

The brutal south African aggression against Kasinga, 250 kilometers from the PRA's southern border and other points further south, took place in May the following year. The second "Shaba War" began a few days later, this time not only with the interference of Morocaan troops as in the first, but also with paratroopers from two NATO member nations.

The extent and depth of South Africa's aggression and the threatening presence of those forces near its eastern border meant a serious danger to Angola and made the Cuban military presence -- with all necessary forces and means -- ever more indispensable in order to guarantee, together with the PLAF, the security of that young nation.

SCORCHED EARTH.

(SUBHEADING): IN THE PROVINCE OF MORAZAN, GOVERNMENT TROOPS MURDERED SOME NINE HUNDRED CIVILIANS. BUT THEY ARE NOT ABLE TO MAKE AN IMPRESSION ON THE GUERRILLAS.

(BODY): THEY WERE PROTESTANTS AND BELIEVED THEMSELVES SAFE. FOR AS MEMBERS OF THE 75,000 STRONG EVANGELICAL COMMUNITY OF EL SALVADOR, THE INHABITANTS OF THE DISTRICT OF MOZOTES CONSIDERED THEMSELVES NEUTRAL.

BUT THE CIVIL WAR IN THE CENTRAL AMERICAN COFFEE REPUBLIC, WHICH CLAIMED THE LIVES OF 12,000 VICTIMS LAST YEAR, NO LONGER PERMITS NEUTRALITY.

THE PEASANTS OF MOZOTES LEARNED THAT TOO LATE. GOVERNMENT TROOPS RETURNING FROM AN UNSUCCESSFUL HUNT FOR GUERRILLAS IN THE MOUNTAINS OF THE PROVINCE OF MORAZAN, SUDDENLY ATTACKED THE CIVILIAN POPULATION.

THREE VILLAGES -- EL MOZOTE, POZA HONDA AND CERRO PANDO -- WERE WIPED OUT. RETURNING GUERRILLAS COUNTED 472 CORPSES IN EL MOZOTE ALONE. TWO HUNDRED AND SEVENTEEN HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED SO FAR. OF THESE, ALMOST HALF ARE CHILDREN UNDER 14. SURVIVORS REPORTED THAT FEMALE VICTIMS -- INCLUDING 12-YEAR OLD GIRLS -- WERE RAPED BEFORE BEING MURDERED.

SUBJECT: CBS DAN RATHER INTERVIEW WITH PRESIDENT REAGAN - JANUARY 27, 1982

FOLLOWING ARE FURTHER COMMENTS ON FOREIGN POLICY FROM REAGAN-RATHER INTERVIEW:

A: WHAT WILL TRIGGER YOUR NEXT STEPS(ON POLAND)?

Q: I CAN'T SPECIFY SPECIFIC THINGS. BUT IF WE REACH A POINT IN WATCHING THEM THAT WE DON'T THINK ANY PROGRESS IS BEING MADE THEN WE ARE GOING TO FACE THE DECISION OF THE FURTHER ACTIONS WE CAN TAKE. IN THE MEANTIME, WE ARE WORKING HARD TO PERSUADE OTHERS IN THE WORLD TO JOIN US IN THIS, OTHERS WHO HAVE FAR HIGHER PORTIONS OF TRADE WITH THOSE COUNTRIES THEN WE DO.

Q: THERE'S ABOUT AS MUCH CHANCE OF THE WEST GERMANS, THE UNCLASSIFIED

FRENCH AND OUR OTHER NATO ALLIES GETTING TOGETHER ON THIS GRAND DESIGN AS THERE IS OF A MULE FLYING, ISN'T THERE?

A: WE HAVE MADE GREAT PROGRESS AND THEIR STATEMENTS RECENTLY HAVE INDICATED THAT,INCLUDING THE STATEMENT THAT THEY WOULD NOT UNDERCUT SANCTIONS THAT WE HAVE TAKEN. I THINK WE HAVE BEEN MORE UNITED ON THIS SUBJECT WITH OUR ALLIES THEN WE HAVE ON ANY CRISIS IN THE LAST TWENTY YEARS.

Q: WHERE DO WE GO ON ARMS CONTROL. IS THAT PHYSICALLY DEAD NOW UNTIL AND UNLESS THE POLISH SITUATION IMPROVES?

A: NO, WE ARE PRESENTLY CONTINUING OUR NEGOTIATIONS ON THE INTERMEDIATE NUCLEAR FORCES IN GENEVA AND WE ARE GOING TO PURSUE THEM AS FAR AS WE CAN TOWARDS THAT ZERO CONCEPT. WE ARE CONTINUING OUR STUDYING AND OUR PLANNING FOR NEGOTIATIONS ON OTHER NUCLEAR WEAPONS, ON THE STRATEGIC OR INTERCONTINENT MISSILES. WE HAVE NOT SET A DATE FOR THOSE AND I THINK ALSO BEFORE YOU SET A DATE YOU WANT TO TAKE INTO CONSIDERATION THE GLOBAL SITUATION.

Q: I GATHER YOU DO PLAN A TRIP TO MAINLAND CHINA THIS YEAR?

A: NO, I HAVE NO SUCH PLAN.

Q: IS (THE CUBAN MILITARY BUILDUP) THIS THE REASON THAT SECRETARY HAIG MET SECRETLY WITH THE CUBAN VICE PRESIDENT WHEN MR. HAIG WAS IN MEXICO?

A: THIS WAS EARLIER THEN THE SIZE OF THE BUILDUP WAS APPARENT, BUT IT WAS ALSO IN RESPONSE TO CERTAIN QUERIES UNCLASSIFIED

THAT HAD COME FROM CUBA, INDICATIONS THAT MAYBE THEY HAD SOMETHING THEY WANTED TO SAY.

Q: DID THEY SAY IT?

A: NOT LOUD ENOUGH.

Q: WHAT HAS HAPPENED TO THE LIBYAN HIT SQUAD?

A: WE HAVE NO EVIDENCE THAT THERE HAS BEEN ANY CHANGE WITH REGARD TO THAT.

Q: WHAT ARE THE CHANCES THAT THE LIBYAN HIT SQUAD STORIES WERE NOT TRUE?

A: NO, WE HAD TOO MUCH INFORMATION FROM TOO MANY SOURCES AND WE HAD OUR FACTS STRAIGHT.

Q: IS THERE ANY CHANCE YOU WILL CHANGE THE ADMINISTRATION'S POLICY TOWARDS SOUTH AFRICA?

A: THERE IS NO QUESTION ABOUT OUR REPUGNANCE FOR APARTHEID. IT IS COMPLICATED TODAY BY THE NAMIBIA SITUATION. YOU CANNOT SETTLE THE MATTER OF NAMIBIA WITHOUT SOUTH AFRICA'S COOPERATION. WHEN WE TOOK OFFICE THE WHOLE EFFORT AT A FREE NAMIBIA WAS STALLED TOTALLY. WE HAVE THAT IN ACTION AGAIN. WE ARE GETTING COOPERATION FROM SOUTH AFRICA AS WELL AS FROM THE FRONTLINE AFRICAN STATES AND FROM OUR EUROPEAN ALLIES. AND WE THINK WE ARE MAKING AND HAVE MADE PROGRESS TOWARDS A FREE NAMIBIA. MY OWN FEELING ABOUT SOUTH AFRICA IS THAT MAYBE YOU CAN HAVE A FAR BETTER EFFECT IF YOU TRY AS A FRIEND TO HELP THEM RESOLVE THEIR PROBLEMS RATHER THEN JUST TURNING YOUR BACK ON A COUNTRY THAT HAS BEEN AN ALLY. 2. WE ARE MYSTIFIED BY QUOTATION ATTRIBUTED TO EMBASSY MEXICO IN LAST PARAGRAPH OF DER SPIEGEL ARTICLE IN REFTEL. OBVIOUSLY THE QUOTATION DOES NOT COME OUT OF ANY PUBLIC RELEASE, AND NO ONE IN U.S. EMBASSY HAS MET WITH REPRESENTATIVE FROM DER SPIEGEL IN RECENT MEMORY.
3. REMAINING REMOTE POSSIBILITY IS THAT QUOTATION COULD BE BASED ON SOMETHING THAT MAJANO TOLD DER SPIEGEL. EMBASSY POLITICAL OFFICER ON INSTRUCTIONS MET TWICE WITH MAJANO AND AN ASSOCIATE HERE ON DECEMBER 19 AND JANUARY 7. EMBOFF DEFENDED U.S. SUPPORT OF EL SALVADOR ELECTION PROCESS, AND OFFERED NO PERSONAL JUDGMENTS ON SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR. MOREOVER, MAJANO HAS NOT PREVIOUSLY BREACHED CONFIDENTIALITY OF OUR CONVERSATIONS AND APPEARS TO DESIRE TO KEEP OPEN CHANNEL OF COMMUNICATIONS WITH U.S. THUS WE CONCLUDE THAT DER SPIEGEL QUOTATION IS FICTITIOUS.

4. IN CONTRAST, QUOTATIONS DIRECTLY ATTRIBUTED TO MAJANO ARE GENERALLY CONSISTENT WITH THE VIEWS HE EXPRESSED TO EMBOFF HERE, AND WITH HIS STATEMENTS TO LOCAL PRESS. [redacted] / GAVIN

SUBJECT: MURDERS OF FOUR CHURCHWOMEN.

REASONS DC

1. ENTIRE TEXT - SECRET.

2. FOR INFORMATION, U. S. EMBASSY, MEXICO CITY, RECEIVED AN ANONYMOUS LETTER DATED JULY 21, 1981, DIRECTED TO THE U.S. CONGRESS. THE WRITER CLAIMED TO HAVE BEEN A WITNESS TO THE KILLING OF THE CHURCHWOMEN AND STATED THAT IF THE CONGRESS WAS INTERESTED IN THE IDENTITY OF THE KILLERS, AN ADVERTISEMENT SHOULD BE PLACED IN SEVERAL MEXICAN NEWSPAPERS. THIS LETTER WAS RECEIVED BY AMEMBASSY MEXICO ON SEPTEMBER 3, 1981, AND ADS WERE PLACED. A MR. MORAN CONTACTED THE EMBASSY AND STATED HE KNEW THE WRITER OF THE LETTER AND LEGAT, MEXICO CITY (ORDERED TO HANDLE MATTER BY SECSTATE), INTERVIEWED MORAN OUTSIDE THE EMBASSY. MORAN IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS JUNA JOSE MORAN AND DISPLAYED CREDENTIAL IDENTIFYING HIMSELF AS OTE JEFE DE SERVICIOS UNOTE FOR SAN SALVADOR. MORAN WAS ADEMANT THAT HIS CONTACT WITH EMBASSY NOT BE MADE KNOWN TO DUARTE GOVERNMENT AS HE FEARED REPRISALS. MORAN IDENTIFIED THE WRITER OF THE LETTER TO CONGRESS AS CESAR CORTEZ WHOM HE DESCRIBED AS A CHAUFFEUR FOR HANS CHRIST WHOM HE ADVISED IS GENERALLY KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN IMPLICATED IN THESE MURDERS. HE INECCATED THAT CORTEZ HAD BEEN PPECED IN THE HANDS OF AN ALIEN SMUGGLER TO EXIT MEXICO AND THAT HE WAS NOT AWARE OF THE WHEREABOUTS OF CORTEZ. CORTEZ WAS TO CONTACT MORAN AT A LATER DATE.

3. MORAN ADVISED THAT HE FEELS THE PERSON ULTIMATELY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE MURDERS IS COLONEL VIDES CASANOVA. HE IS CERTAIN THAT VIDES WAS WELL AWARE OF AND HAD PROBABLY GIVEN TACIT APPROVAL FOR THIS EXECUTION. MORAN NOTED THAT VIDES OTE IS A CLOSE FRIEND OF COLONEL (FIRST NAME UNKNOWN) OTE BUSH UNOTE, DESCRIBED BY MORAN AS THE DEFENSE ATTACHE OF THE UNITED STATES EMBASSY, SAN SALVADOR. MORAN FEELS THAT BUSH IS PROBABLY GIVING A GREAT DEAL OF ENCOURGEMENT TO VIDES BY EITHER AFFIRMATIVELY OR TACITLY LEADING VIDES TO BELIEVE THAT THE UNITED STATES HAS NO REAL OBJECTION TO SUCH KILLINGS. MORAN EVEN SPECULATED THAT BUSH MAY HAVE BEEN AWARE THAT VIDES ISSUED ORDERS FOR THESE MURDERS UNOTE.

4. AMEMBASSY SAN SALVADOR WAS ADVISED PREVIOUSLY OF MORAN'S STATEMENTS CONCERNING CORTEZ, HOWEVER, NOT FURNISHED STATEANI REGARDING OTE BUSH UNOTE WHOM IT IS BELIEVED TO REFER TO COLONEL JAMES BOSCH, FORMER DATT YOUR EMBASSY. FBI HAS CONDUCTED EXTENSIVE SEARCH FOR CORTEZ AND HE HAS NOT BEEN LOCATED.

5. LEGAT RESPONDED TO LEGAT, MEXICO CITY, ON OCTOBER 5, 1981, THAT LITTLE CREDENCE SHOULD BE PLACED ON MORAN'S STATEMENTS CONCERNING BOSCH AND THE KILLINGS, AS THE [redacted]

INFORMATION DID NOT FIT IN TO THE RESULTS OF THE INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED. IN ADDITION, LEGAT PIMENTEL HAS KNOWN BOSCH SINCE 1972 AND CONSIDERS HIM TO BE VERY PROFESSIONAL DATT WHO WOULD NOT BECOME EMBROILED IN SUCH A SITUATION. ALSO, LEGAT CONTACTED BOSCH ON NUMEROUS OCCASIONS DURING THE INITIAL STAGES OF THE INVESTIGATION AND HE NEVER DEMONSTRATED ANY KNOWLEDGE CONCERNING THE MURDERS, AND THEREFORE, STATEMENTS CONCERNING HIS ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT WERE NEVER TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

6. THE ABOVE PARAGRAPHS, 3, 4, AND 5, ARE BEING FURNISHED TO YOU, INASMUCH AS CONGRESSWOMEN OAKAR HAS APPARENTLY BEEN PLACED IN CONTACT WITH MORAN THROUGH JOHN MC ALWARD IN BOSTON, AND MORAN HAS APPARENTLY TOLD OAKAR OF BOSCH'S ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT. FBIHQ HAS ADVISED ME THIS AFTERNOON, THAT IT IS BELIEVED THAT OAKAR WILL GO PUBLIC WITH BOSCH'S ALLEGED INVOLVEMENT THIS WEEKEND, TOGETHER WITH OTHER STATEMENTS MADE BY MORAN.

AN ACTION PLAN FOR THE LEBANESE-ISRAELI ARENA

BEST COPY AVAILABLE

The Conceptual Approach:

Our objective will be to change basic conditions in the Lebanese-Israeli arena so as to forestall or minimize the chances of future major military confrontations. We want to set the stage for a more stable security situation within Lebanon which, among other things, would reduce the threats to Israel over time. The highest initial priority must go to reinforcing the ceasefire. There will be, however, other elements in our approach, including those with immediate, short-term, and medium-term target dates. All components will be complementary and will have to mesh with one another at various stages in the process.

Broadly outlined, our strategy would encompass the following:

Reinforcing the Ceasefire (immediate objectives):

The immediate short-term goal is to prevent or ameliorate:

-- Palestinian or Lebanese leftist wildcat shelling or rocketing of either the Haddad area or northern Israel. (This will require continuing efforts with the Saudis and Syrians on our part, and UN and Saudi efforts vis-a-vis Arafat. The Israelis should be kept fully informed of what we are doing to provide reassurance.)

-- Challenges and confrontations in the air stemming from Israeli aerial reconnaissance activities. (We are making continuing strong demarches to the Israelis to refrain from provocative and unnecessary flights, such as the daily schedule causing sonic booms over Beirut and the refugee camps.)

-- Security Council actions criticizing Israeli actions or throwing roadblocks in the path of what we are trying to achieve. (This will require strong efforts to mobilize our supporters and potential supporters while seeking to neutralize negative voices, such as from Uganda and Mexico. The Lebanese must be encouraged to resist radical pressures. Waldheim and Urquhart should be fully consulted as our strategy unfolds.)

Expanding the Role of UNIFIL:

-- We should seek amendment of UNIFIL's basic mandate (Resolution 426, and associated administrative decisions by the UN Secretariat) in order to give UNIFIL more authority and flexibility. We should also seek some expansion of UNIFIL's manpower strength from its present figure of 6,000 men to 9,000 men.

-- This change in the mandate would be intended to make it possible--if the opportunity presents itself--for UNIFIL to put a major presence into the city of Tyre, to take over control of the bridges across the Litani, and to occupy the Beaufort Castle area, replacing the Palestinians at this strategic location which dominates militarily much of Haddad's area and the northern Israeli panhandle. The occupation of these key areas (perhaps in conjunction with Lebanese army units) will require a major diplomatic effort, with a first step ensuring that UNIFIL will have the authority and manpower to do the job.

-- UNIFIL (and UNTSO) already monitor and report ceasefire violations. Our objective, however, should aim at resolving--more quickly and efficiently than is presently the case--ceasefire violations, whether from Haddad or the Palestinians. Such UNIFIL (and UNTSO) functions must be made more acceptable to the Israelis and to Haddad so that they can operate more efficiently as an intermediary with the PLO and the Lebanese leftists. Formulations to take into account Israeli sensitivities could be advanced by the U.S. as well as the UN.

-- The rules of engagement for all the national battalions in the UNIFIL area should be revised and strengthened to parallel those now followed by the Dutch and Fijian battalions. The purpose would be to make UNIFIL as a whole more effective in deterring and forestalling infiltration, whether from the Palestinians and Lebanese leftists or from Haddad's forces and the IDF.

-- Support from the UN Secretariat and key countries, including the UNIFIL contributor states and the Europeans, should be mobilized to bring about the elimination or reduction of the Palestinian military presence within the UNIFIL area, such as in the "iron triangle." (This would be an objective whose handling would have to be meshed carefully with some Israeli concessions, such as those described below, as well as with longer range Lebanese government efforts. Through the Bayt-ad-Din process, the Lebanese want to introduce a stronger official Lebanese presence in southern Lebanon and supersede the so-called Cairo and other accords institutionalizing the Palestinian presence below the Litani River.)

-- UNIFIL should be assisted to recover control over the territorial encroachments made by Haddad and to establish improved security around the UNIFIL headquarters. In addition, Haddad should be persuaded to allow UNTSO to perform its duties without harassment. These steps will improve UNIFIL's (UNTSO's) credibility with the Palestinians and allow trade-offs.

Actions Required of the Israelis (which, if the Israelis are cooperative, could be employed in other negotiations to gain parallel commitments and concessions from the Palestinian and Lebanese leftists):

-- All Israeli military equipment in South Lebanon of U.S. origin subject to U.S. law or to the 1952 U.S.-Israeli agreement must be withdrawn. A second stage would see the total withdrawal of IDF combat personnel from South Lebanon, along with all Israeli military equipment used by those personnel, whether subject to U.S. law or not.

-- Equally important, the Israelis must exert effective control over the activities of Haddad, to prevent the kind of reckless shelling which has led to wider and more serious exchanges of fire. It would be at least implicitly understood, however, that efforts to alter Haddad's status in southern Lebanon or his area of control would be held in abeyance for the indefinite future. The ultimate solution to this problem will require the long-range strengthening of the Lebanese army so that it could control a buffer zone in southern Lebanon which would satisfy most Israeli security concerns.

-- Israel should do its part in persuading Haddad to cooperate with UNIFIL and UNTSO (see above).

Strengthening the Lebanese Government's Military and Civil Role:

-- The Bayt-ad-Din process has laid the "Arab" political framework for a restructuring and expansion of the Lebanese army. Putting a strengthened Lebanese army into "hot spots" in Beirut and elsewhere in central Lebanon (e.g., the Sannin ridgeline) may have to occupy a high priority from our perspective, since these units would be replacing Syrian forces and would thereby contribute to a broad easing of tensions.

-- To the degree it can be done, however, additional Lebanese forces should be sent to southern Lebanon and the UNIFIL area to join the 1500 men already there. The present practice of incorporating engineering and construction troops to assist in civic programs should be encouraged. The basic objective of the additional Lebanese troops, supplemented by those already there, would be to join with UNIFIL in occupying the city of Tyre, the Litani bridges, and the Beaufort Castle, if the Palestinians can be persuaded to cooperate.

The Strategic "Gap" in Southern Lebanon:

Closing the so-called "gap" in the UNIFIL area--by placing UNIFIL troops there--might be one of the more attractive changes in the status quo from the perspective of the Syrians in particular. As it is, the Syrians are concerned that the Israelis could move forces rapidly through this gap to attack Syrian forces in the Bekaa Valley, without having to overrun UNIFIL forces. Occupying this gap should be sought in conjunction with parallel efforts to reduce the Palestinian military presence within the UNIFIL zone, in Tyre, at the Litani bridges, and at Beaufort Castle.

Reducing the Flow of Heavy Weaponry:

While we have already tried to enlist Crown Prince Fahd's support for stopping or at least reducing the flow of heavy weaponry for the Palestinian forces in Lebanon, ultimately the most promising means may be through the strengthening of the Bayt-ad-Din process, since this process calls for a strengthening of Lebanese authority and Lebanese institutions. For all practical purposes, the Libyans and Syrians are the principal suppliers. Those arms acquired by the Palestinians from Eastern Europe or the USSR usually are delivered via the Syrians.

-- In this case, direct approaches to the Syrians by the French, British, and others, as well as the U.S.--supplementing the Saudi efforts--could be employed.

-- The greater problem, however, could be Libya. While many Libyan armed shipments to the Palestinians go through Syria and require Syrian cooperation, a certain amount can get through directly to Palestinian forces through the port of Sidon, which the Palestinians control for the most part. If the French decide in the end to woo Qadhafi and release military shipment to him, we should urge the French to secure a quid pro quo in the form of a reduction in the flow of heavy Libyan military equipment to the Palestinians.

Moving Heavy Weaponry in Lebanon Further Away from the Israeli Border:

The Israelis would be far more comfortable if heavy weaponry (artillery and Katusha rockets) in the hands of the Palestinians and Lebanese leftists were emplaced further north, preferably out of range of Israeli territory. Given the smallness of Lebanon, and the range of present artillery (27 km) held by the Palestinians, this would be an extraordinarily difficult undertaking. Some amelioration of the threat, however, could be accomplished if the Beaufort Castle area were occupied by UNIFIL and the Lebanese army. Over the longer term, the only realistic possibility for Palestinian cooperation in withdrawing their heavy weaponry would lie in a tit-for-tat arrangement whereby Haddad would return his heavy weaponry to Israel. We should hold open this option for a propitious moment.

Withdrawing the Syrian Missiles from Lebanon:

Crown Prince Fahd has promised to continue working for the the withdrawal of Syrian missiles from the Bekaa at a propitious moment, ideally following a period of military quiet and an absence of public Israeli statements on the matter. We have explored with him and Lebanese leaders the idea of setting a time for the withdrawal of at least one of the three SAM batteries to begin with, in conjunction with an appropriate milestone in the Bayt-ad-Din process. This still seems the most promising avenue, and we would pursue it in appropriate ways and possibly in conjunction with Israeli restraint as regards highly provocative aerial reconnaissance activities.

Movement on the missile question must go hand-in-hand with efforts to forestall Israeli-Syrian confrontations in the air over Lebanon. We should make efforts to reinforce Syria's present inclination not to fire--either missiles or antiaircraft artillery--at Israeli reconnaissance flights showing non-hostile intent. We would continue our urgings that Israel avoid highly provocative aerial reconnaissance activity and be prepared to return to the lowered scope and intensity of flights taking place before April 27, 1981.

Withdrawal of Syrian Forces from Lebanon:

Since it is also an objective of the Lebanese Government, we should coordinate our diplomatic efforts so as to encourage a major withdrawal of Syrian forces in Lebanon before August of 1982, at the time when the next Lebanese President is scheduled to be elected and inaugurated. Total Syrian withdrawal from Lebanon is probably unrealistic, since the Syrians consider defense of the Bekaa Valley as a strategic military necessity. Withdrawal of the Syrian forces elsewhere--particularly from Beirut, the Sanniin ridge, and other locations--is, however, feasible, as long as the Bayt-ad-Din process continues with some vigor.

It will be our task--and that of like-minded governments--to encourage the Bayt-ad-Din process without destroying its basically "Arab" character, which has made possible the successes so far. At the same time, however, it will be necessary for us to conduct policy in such a way as to allow the Syrians to save face. It may be necessary, moreover, to make it clear that we would not tolerate Syria insisting on unacceptable political concessions from the Lebanese in return for withdrawal of their forces (e.g., a mutual security pact allowing Syrian forces to return at will to Lebanon).

Supporting the Bayt-ad-Din Process:

The key strategy will be to keep the Saudis and the Kuwaitis engaged. This must be done in a way that does not hurt the concept of "Arabization" that the Saudis brought to bear on the problems of Lebanon. This means inter alia that the U.S. must use its influence within Lebanon--particularly with the Phalange--in ways that will contribute to the on-going process.

Equally important, we--plus other governments such as France--should make it clear--publicly and privately--that we intend to stay actively engaged with the Lebanon problem for the long run. This will keep the Saudis engaged. This also means that the U.S. should be seen as moving forward on the general peace process in the Middle East, which is the only way the Palestinian dimension of the Lebanese problem will ever be dealt with effectively.

PRODUCTION FOR AGRICULTURE, A MOVE TO LESSEN THE DEPENDENCE OF THE ECONOMY ON IMPORTS FROM THE WEST, AND WAGE AND PENSION REFORM.

--NEWSPAPERS HAVE BEGUN PUBLISHING ARTICLES TRYING TO SHOW THAT SOLIDARITY LEADERS WERE UNDEMOCRATIC AND LOOSE WITH UNION FUNDS. CHARGES OF EMBEZZLEMENT HAVE BEEN RAISED.

MAJOR POINTS: "OUR GOAL IS NOT A MILITARY VICTORY," ENDERS TOLDSFRC. "WE WANT TO HELP THE SALVADORANS PREVENT THE INSURGENTS FROM DISRUPTING THE POLITICAL AND SOCIAL TRANSFORMATIONS THAT ARE NOT UNDER WAY."

--A POLITICAL RESOLUTION IS THE ONLY SOLUTION FOR EL SALVADOR, SAID MR. ENDERS.

--HOWEVER, HE SAID, "WE ARE GOING FOR A LARGER AMOUNT OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE AND A LARGER AMOUNT OF ECONOMIC ASSISTANCE."

--PERCY SAID IN INTRODUCTORY REMARKS THAT CONGRESS WAS UNDER STRONG PUBLIC PRESSURE TO REJECT THE ADMINISTRATION'S DECLARATION THAT EL SALVADOR WAS MAKING PROGRESS ON HUMAN RIGHTS.

--PELL ADDED THAT PUBLIC OPINION WAS BECOMING INCREASINGLY INFLAMED ON THE ISSUE.

--MR ENDERS WAS SHARPLY QUESTIONED TODAY BY THREE DEMOCRATIC SENATORS, TSONGAS, DODD AND ZORINSKY, BUT HE WOULD NOT COMMENT DIRECTLY ON RECENT STATEMENTS BY HAIG THAT UNITED STATES MILITARY ACTION IN CENTRAL AMERICA WAS STILL A POLICY OPTION.

--"NOTHING HAS BEEN RULED OUT, BUT NOTHING HAS BEEN RULED IN," HE SAID.

--PRESSED FOR PROOF THAT EL SALVADOR HAD REDUCED THE LEVEL OF POLITICAL VIOLENCE, AND QUESTIONED ON HOW THE UNCLASSIFIED

UNITED STATES EMBASSY THERE HAD COLLECTED ITS EVIDENCE, ENDERS ACKNOWLEDGED THAT EL SALVADOR'S LEGAL SYSTEM "HAD VERY LARGELY BROKEN DOWN," THAT ITS JUDICIAL SYSTEM WAS "LARGELY INOPERATIVE" AND THAT ITS PROSECUTORS WERE SLOW IN PURSUING CASES.

--BUT HE REJECTED SUGGESTIONS THAT THE JUNTA SHOULD NEGOTIATE A NEW FORM OF GOVERNMENT IN WHICH THE GUERRILLAS WOULD TAKE PART. HE SAID THAT WOULD BE TO "HAND OVER" THE COUNTRY TO THE INSUR;ENTS.

--"WE ARE NOT SAYING THE HUMAN RIGHTS PROBLEMS IN THE COUNTRY HAVE BEEN RESOLVED," MR. ENDERS SAID. "ON THE

-- THE OFFICIALLY STATES GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE WAS OFFERED LAST MONTH BY MR. APEL AS PARLIAMENT APPROVED A 1982 MILITARY BUDGET THAT MAKES A DECREASE IN REAL MILITARY SPENDING IN THE YEAR A VIRTUAL CERTAINTY.

JUST THE SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC AND FREE DEMOCRATIC COALITION OF THE LAST 12 YEARS.

-- THE REPORT ALSO SAYS THAT THE PART OF MILITARY OUTLAYS
GOING TO RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT AND TESTING FELL IN THE PAST 10 YEARS TO LOWER LEVELS THAN THOSE OF THE U.S., FRANCE AND BRITAIN.

-- IF, THEORETICALLY, NEW FUNDS COULD SLOW SOME OF THE TRENDS, MONEY STILL CANNOT COMPENSATE FOR THE COMING DE-CADES OF PERSONNEL SHORTAGES.

-- STARTING NEXT YEAR, THE NUMBER OF POTENTIAL RECRUITS
FOR THECONSCRIPT ARMY WILL BEGIN TO SINK AS A RESULT OF A FALL IN THE BIRTH RATE THAT ACCOMPANIED THE INTRODUCTION OF BIRTH CONTROL PILLS HERE A GENERATION AGO.

-- IN 1988, THE AVAILABLE POOL WILL SINK BELOW 252,000 FOR THE FIRST TIME, 1994 TO A LEVEL WHERE IT IS ESTIMATED THAT THERE WILL BE A SHORTAGE OF 109,000 RECRUITS.

NUMBER TRYING TO AVOID MILITARY SERVICE HAS GROWN, GOING
FROM 45,000 IN 1979 TO 58,000 LAST YEAR.

REAGAN ADMINISTRATION IS THAT THEY WILL SERVE AS A SMOKESCREEN FOR A STEPPED-UP OFFENSIVE AND FOR ASKING FOR INCREASED LOGISTICAL SUPPORT FROM THE PENTAGON.

THE HELICOPTERS SUPPLIED BY THE UNITED STATES PROVIDE ESSENTIAL SUPPORT FOR ALL OF THE JUNTA'S MILITARY OPERATIONS. THIS EXPLAINS WHY REAGAN IS CONSTANTLY INSISTING THAT THE UNITED STATES PROVIDE MORE HELICOPTERS. PEOPLE NEED TO UNDERSTAND THE CRIMINAL NATURE OF THIS WEAPON.

BUT WEAPONS ARE NOT THE ONLY FACTOR IN THIS CONFLICT. IF IT WERE ONLY A TECHNICAL QUESTION OF ONE MILITARY UNIT AGAINST ANOTHER, WE COULD MAKE A PREDICTION IN MILITARY TERMS. BUT YOU CAN'T MAKE SUCH CALCULATIONS IN A POPULAR WAR THAT HAS BEEN GOING ON FOR OVER 10 YEARS, PUTTING THE ARMY AGAINST THE PEOPLE, AND ENGULFING THE WHOLE COUNTRY.

THE POPULAR WAR IN ELSALVADOR IS BY NATURE SPREADING THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

OUR PROGRAM IS FOR A DEMOCRATIC, REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT, NOT FOR A SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT. THE PROGRAM FOR THE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT IS VERY BROAD-BROADER THAN THAT OF MANY OF THE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENTS IN EUROPE.

THE POPULAR MOVEMENT IS MADE UP OF A WIDE RANGE OF FORCES WITH DIFFERENT WAYS OF THINKING, WHO HAVE JOINED TOGETHER IN THIS BROAD PROGRAM. THIS COALITION WILL HELP THE COUNTRY FIND SOLUTIONS TO ITS PROBLEMS AND WILL GIVE THE PEOPLE THE POLITICAL FREEDOM NECESSARY TO ORGANIZE

AND CARRY FORWARD THE STRUGGLE FOR A PROGRAM THAT INCLUDES DEMOCRACY, SOCIAL JUSTICE, AND INDEPENDENCE. THE MARXISTS, FOR EXAMPLE, HAVE AGREED TO SUPPORT THIS PROGRAM BECAUSE EVERYBODY MUST BE REALISTIC, AND BEING A MARXIST IS NOT SYNONYMOUS WITH BEING UNREALISTIC.

THERE IS NO TRUTH TO THE CLAIM THAT ALL THE DIFFERENT

UNCLASSIFIED

FORCES THAT SUPPORT THIS PROGRAM WILL HAVE TO GIVE UP THEIR PARTICULAR VIEWPOINTS.

UNCLASSIFIED

THIS IS WHY THE CAMPAIGN BY REAGAN'S PROPAGANDA OFFICE AND BY THE PENTAGON AND THE C.I.A. ABOUT THE IMMEDIATE FORMATION OF A MARXIST GOVERNMENT IN EL SALVADOR IS SO FALLACIOUS. THEY ARE PERFECTLY WELL AWARE OF OUR DEMOCRATIC PROGRAM FOR A NEW GOVERNMENT.

BESIDES, HOW CAN THEY SAY THAT CUBA IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE REVOLUTION IN EL SALVADOR WHEN WE WERE FIGHTING TO CHANGE THE SITUATION LONG BEFORE CUBA ITSELF WAS LIBERATED? OUR REVOLUTION IS ROOTED IN THE INTERNAL SITUATION IN OUR COUNTRY. THE REAL SOURCE OF THE CRISIS IS EXTREME SOCIAL INJUSTICE - THE ENORMOUS GAP BETWEEN THE FEW WHO DOMINATE AND OWN EVERYTHING AND THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE.

THE NORTH AMERICAN PEOPLE, WHO HAVE SUCH DEEP HUMANISTIC VALUES, DO NOT DESERVE TO BE LED ALONG A MILITARISTIC AND AGGRESSIVE PATH.

THE REAGAN GOVERNMENT IS ACTUALLY DISCREDITING ITS PEOPLE. I HAVE SEEN CHILDREN OF 4,6,8 YEARS OLD SHOT DOWN BY BULLETS FROM HELICOPTERS WITH NORTH AMERICAN ADVISERS IN THEM. THE NORTH AMERICAN PEOPLE DO NOT DESERVE THIS IMAGE. THIS IS PERHAPS ONE OF THE GREATEST CRIMES COMMITTED BY THE REAGAN GOVERNMENT IN SUPPORTING THIS KIND OF WAR.

ONSLAUGHT AND PARANOIA

THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION'S POLICY OF CLOSER RELATIONS WITH SOUTH AFRICA MAY BE NUDGING THAT COUNTRY NEARER TO PERMITTING INDEPENDENCE FOR NAMIBIA. BUT COZYING UP THE AFRIKANERS WITH "QUIET DIPLOMACY" HAS DONE NOTHING

TO IMPROVE THEIR RACIST, REPRESSIVE REGIME.

IT'S NOT EVEN CLEAR THAT REAL PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE ON THE NAMIBIAN PROBLEM. SOUTH AFRICA HAS RESISTED INDEPENDENCE SO LONG AND SO ADAMANTLY THAT NO ONE SHOULD BE SURPRISED IF PRETORIA'S LATEST MOVE TURNS OUT TO BE ANOTHER EXERCISE IN MENDACITY.

FOR THE MOMENT, SOUTH AFRICA HAS TERMED "POSITIVE" -WITHOUT FINALLY ACCEPTING-THE REVISED WESTERN PROPOSALS FOR POST-INDEPENDENCE NAMIBIA.

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

BUT MANY STUDENTS OF PRETORIA'S PARANOID WORLD VIEW DO NOT BELIEVE THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF PRIME MINISTER P.W. BOTHA, WHICH REGARDS SWAPO AS A PUPPET OF MOSCOW, INTENDS EVER TO PERMIT A SWAPO GOVERNMENT ON ITS BORDER. IN THIS VIEW, SOUTH AFRICA'S RELUCTANT NEGOTIATION OF INDEPENDENCE PROCEDURES IS NOT DESIGNED MERELY TO LIMIT SOME FUTURE SWAPO GOVERNMENT SO MUCH AS TO CONTINUE DELAYING INDEPENDENCE ITSELF, PERHAPS INDEFINITELY - HENCE PREVENTING THE ELECTION OF ANY SWAPO GOVERNMENT AT ALL.

SO THE POSSIBILITY CANNOT 0E DISCOUNTED THAT AFTER HAVING WRUNG ALL THE CONCESSIONS IT CAN FROM THE WEST, AND UNCLASSIFIED

POSSIBLY HAVING DELAYED A RESOLUTION FOR YEARS, SOUTH AFRICA AGAIN WILL FIND SOME PRETEXT FOR REJECTING WHAT IT HAS APPEARED TO ACCEPT. PRETORIA HAS DONE IT BEFORE, AND NO ONE-NOT EVEN THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION WITH ITS PENCHANT FOR EMBRACING "AUTHORITARIAN" BUT ANTI-COMMUNIST REGIMES-SHOULD UNDERESTIMATE THE WILL AND CAPACITY OF THE AFRIKANERS TO GO THEIR OWN WAY.

NOTHING SUGGESTS, MOREOVER, THAT MR. REAGAN'S PROFFERED HAND HAS MADE SO MUCH AS A DENT IN APARTHEID OR REPRES-SION.

NOW A JUDICIAL COMMISSION HAS REPORTED TO PARLIAMENT THAT SOUTH AFRICA FACES A "TOTAL ONSLAUGHT" FROM EAST AND WEST, DIRECTED PRIMARILY BY THE SOVIET UNION AND TAKING THE FORM OF A WHITE-BLACK POWER STRUGGLE. MOSCOW'S "PROXY" INSTRUMENTS IN FOMENTING IT WOULD BE THE AFRICAN NATIONAL CONGRESS, "BLACK THEOLOGY" (MEANING BISHOP DESMOND TUTU, GENERAL SECRETARY OF THE SOUTH AFRICAN COUNCIL OF CHURCHES), THE UNITED NATIONS AND THE ORGANIZATION OF AFRICAN UNITY.

THE PRESS SAID THE COMMISSION MUST BE RESTRICTED AND

THE PROPOSED LIMITS WOULD EFFECTIVELY SILENCE CRITI-CISM IN BLACK AND ENGLIS -LANGUAGE WHITE NEWSPAPERS. THE NATION'S TOUGH BANNING AND DETENTION LAWS, NOT TO MENTION APARTHEID ITSELF, WOULD HAVE TO BE CONTINUED-WITH A FEW COSMETIC ADJUSTMENTS SUGGESTED.

SINCE THE END OF NOVEMBER, THE AFRICAN-AMERICAN INSTITUTE REPORTS, 17 SOUTH AFRICAN TRADE UNION, STUDENT AND CLERICAL LEADERS HAVE BEEN DETAINED; A FOURTH "INDEPENDENT" BLACK HOMELAND, CISKEI, HAS BEEN CREATED, WITH A POPULATION OF 660,000 OF WHOM 150,000 HAVE BEEN DEPORTED FRON SOUTH AFRICA PROPER AND STRIPPED OF SOUTH

FAR FROM AIMING TO MAINTAIN AN ABSTRACT "BALANCE OF POWER" IN REGIONS OF POTENTIAL CONFLICT, MANY OF THE ACCELERATED U.S. ARMS SHIPMENTS ARE BEING USED IN COMBAT. THE USE OF U.S. HELICOPTERS AGAINST REFUGEES IN EL SALVADOR AND HONDURAS AND U.S. AIRCRAFT IN MOROCCO'S MILITARY OCCUPATION OF THE WESTERN SAHARA ARE ONLY THE MOST BLATANT EXAMPLES OF THE CONSEQUENCES OF EXPANDED ARMS TRANSFERS.

MORE GENERALLY, THE FREE FLOW OF WEAPONRY TO UNREPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENTS LIKE THE SAUDI MONARCHY AND THE ZIA UL-HAQ DICTATORSHIP IN PAKISTAN RAISES SERIOUS QUESTIONS ABOUT WHAT FURTHER COMMITMENTS MIGHT BE MADE TO SUCH REGIMES IN THE NAME OF "STABILITY." PRESIDENT REAGAN HAS SAID THAT HE WILL NOT ALLOW SAUDI ARABIA TO BECOME ANOTHER IRAN, BUT THE SHAH'S FALL PROVED THAT NO AMOUNT OF ADVANCED U.S. WEAPONRY CAN KEEP AN UNPOPULAR REGIME IN POWER INDEFINITELY.

DOMESTICALLY, REAGAN POLICYMAKERS HAVE OVERLOOKED THE DANGERS TO THE U.S. ECONOMY OF GROWING DEPENDENCE ON ARMS SALES. THE MOST RECENT FIGURES FROM THE U.S. ARMS CONTROL AND DISARMAMENT AGENCY SHOW THAT CLOSE TO 5 OF THE TOTAL U.S. EXPORTS CONSISTS OF WEAPONS. PARTICULAR COMPANIES ARE ESPECIALLY EXPORT-DEPENDENT: NORTHROP RECEIVED OVER HALF OF ITS BUSINESS IN FISCAL YEAR 1980 FROM FOREIGN MILITARY SALES CONTRACTS AND CHRYSLERS'S PRODUCTION LINE FOR THE M-60 TANK IS SOLELY DEPENDENT ON SALES TO THE MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA FOR ITS CONTINUED OPERATION. THE AMERICAN LEAGUE FOR EXPORTS AND SECURITY ASSISTANCE, AN ARMS INDUSTRY LOBBYING GROUP WHICH SUPPORTS THE EASING OF ARMS EXPORT CONTROLS "TO ASSIST U.S. EXPORTERS AND PROVIDE AMERICAN JOBS," HAS SEEN MANY OF ITS RECOMMENDATIONS TRANSLATED INTO POLICY DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF THE REAGAN TERM.

WHAT IS GOOD FOR A SMALL GROUP OF ARMS EXPORTING FIRMS

IS NOT NECESSARILY GOOD FOR THE ECONOMY AS A WHOLE. ARMS EXPORTS CREATE FEWER JOBS PER DOLLAR SPENT THAN MOST CIVILIAN ENTERPRISES. AT THE SAME TIME, AGGRESSIVE GOVERNMENT SUPPORT FOR EXPANDED ARMS SALES IS PRACTICALLY AN ADMISSION OF DEFEAT IN THE AREAS OF CIVILIAN PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT WHICH COULD BE BENEFITING FROM THE RESEARCH AND ENGINEERING TALENT CURRENTLY DEVOTED TO PRODUCING WEAPONS FOR EXPORT.

MOST IMPORTANT, A GROWING MARKET FOR ARMS EXPORTS DEPENDS ON CONTINUING INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT, LEAVING WORKERS IN THE ARMS EXPORT SECTOR IN THE UNEVIABLE POSITION OF DEPENDING ON INCREASING WORLD TENSIONS FOR THEIR LIVELIHOODS.

AFTER A Y
EAR IN PRACTICE, THE NEW REAGAN ARMS TRANSFER POLICY HARDLY LOOKS LIKE A LONG-TERM PRESCRIPTION FOR PEACE AND PROSPERITY.

TO: The Acting Secretary

FROM: ARA - Tom Enders

SUBJECT: Your Luncheon for President Jose Napoleon Duarte of El Salvador, 12:30 pm, September 21 at the State Department - Scope Paper

SUMMARY

You have agreed to host, as Acting Secretary, a luncheon for President Duarte and members of his delegation following his call on President Reagan. Immediately before the luncheon you will meet privately with Duarte for fifteen minutes. We intend the luncheon to be an opportunity for a frank, informal dialogue. We wish to use the occasion to reassure Duarte of our support for his government and to discuss a few points of mutual interst.

During Duarte's four-day stay in Washington, most of Duarte's time will be spent in Congress and the media to build support for his government, which is threatened from both the left and the right. A copy of his schedule is attached..

I. OBJECTIVES

1. To reassure Duarte of our firm support for his government and the electoral process he has initiated..

2. To encourage Duarte to broaden support for the civilian-military government, domestically and internationally.

3. To discuss how we can best help the Salvadoran government pursue the war against the Marxist-Leninist guerrrillas.

4. To impress upon Duarte the importance of taking firm steps to control acts of violence against non-combatants.

III. SETTING

This is Duarte's first visit to the US since he became President of El Salvador's Revolutionary Governing Junta in December 1980.

IV. DISCUSSION OF OBJECTIVES

1. To reassure Duarte of our firm support for his government and the electoral process it has initiated.

We strongly support the Duarte government as the best, indeed probably the only hope, for a peaceful moderate solution to El Salvador's political problems. President Duarte has announced plans for elections of a Constituent Assembly in March 1982. This is a key step in enhancing the government's legitimacy and undermining support for the guerrillas. Duarte has invited all groups to participate in elections, but will not negotiate with groups engaged in armed struggle.

There are many pitfalls ahead. The guerrillas remain committed to derailing the elections by force and intimidation. ~~They have stepped up their campaign to sabotage the economy and wear down government forces with hit-and-run attacks. They have blown up 200 electric towers, taxing the government's ability to restore and maintain power, particularly in the eastern third of the country. We have responded by sending emergency generators to El Salvador and are examining how to help with the electrical tower repair problem. We sent four additional UH1H helicopters on short notice. A military strategy assessment team is in~~ The economy is in its third straight year of decline

Special Project (1993)

~~San Salvador now studying how we may best help pursue the war against the guerrillas.~~

TALKING POINTS

-- COMPLIMENT DUARTE ON HIS SUPERB HANDLING OF A VERY DIFFICULT AND PERSONALLY DANGEROUS ROLE.

~~-- WE~~ This administration is committed to being as helpful as possible within our budgetary restraints.

~~-- HE HAS OUR STRONG SUPPORT AND GOOD WISHES FOR SUCCESS.~~

2. To encourage Duarte to broaden support for the civilian-military government, domestically and internationally.

The Salvadoran government needs to broaden its base, both at home and abroad. The upcoming elections present the best opportunity for the Salvadorans to isolate the insurgents. Domestically, Duarte's Christian Democratic Party has been engaged in a dialogue with business leaders in bringing the private sector into the government. Internationally, the Salvadoran government receives mixed support. The recent French-Mexican communique recognizing the radical leftists FMLN-FDR as a legitimate political force is not helpful, although it has been overwhelming rejected by the Latin Americans. The FMLN-FDR is now lobbying its international supporters to use the French-Mexican communique as a lever to raise the El Salvador issue in the UN.

TALKING POINTS

-- WE HOPE THE GOVERNMENT AND PRIVATE SECTOR WILL CONTINUE THE PROCESS OF WORKING OUT THEIR DIFFERENCES.

-- LATIN AMERICAN REBUTTAL TO THE FRENCH-MEXICAN COMMUNIQUE WAS ENCOURAGING. WE EXPRESSED OUR DISPLEASURE PRIVATELY TO FRANCE AND MEXICO IN STRONG TERMS.

-- HOW CAN ~~BE~~ WE WORK TOGETHER TO HEAD OFF EFFORTS TO RAISE THIS ISSUE IN THE UN? SHOULD WE PURSUE OAS INITIATIVE TO PREEMPT UNGA CONSIDERATION?

3. To discuss how we can best help the Salvadoran government pursue the war against the Marxist-Leninist guerrrillas.

In the past several weeks, the Salvadoran guerrillas have mounted an intensified offensive, complicating the already precarious situation of the Duarte government. The guerrillas' new strategy has focused on sabotaging vulnerable economic targets and engaging in harassment attacks against carefully selected targets to minimize their own losses. The guerrillas succeeded in temporarily blacking out much of the country and have taxed the government's ability to restore and maintain electrical power, particularly in the eastern third of the country. Ambushes along the main roads have increased government casualties. In addition, the guerrillas succeeded in occupying the Salvadoran town of Perquin near the Honduras border for more than a week before being driven out by government troops. These tactics have enabled the guerrillas to further damage the already crippled Salvadoran economy, weaken military morale, and enhance their international and domestic prestige. While these developments are troublesome, the guerrilla-military balance of strength does not appear to have changed, with neither side having the capacity for military victory.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

We responded quickly to the Salvadoran military's request for emergency help by sending four additional helicopters and a number of portable generators. We are also examining how we can help the Salvadorans repair quickly the 200 electrical towers sabotaged by the guerrillas. We have sent a military strategy assessment team to San Salvador to examine how we can be more helpful.

TALKING POINTS

-- ASK DUARTE'S ASSESSMENT OF HOW THE WAR IS GOING.

-- ASK WHAT PRIORITY ASSISTANCE IS NEEDED.

4. To impress upon Duarte the importance of taking firm steps to control acts of violence against non-combatants.

Right wing extremist elements opposed to reforms are conducting a campaign of indiscriminate terrorism to undermine the government. Accounts of atrocities committed against non-combatants by right wing "death squads" and elements of the security forces continue to sap the government's domestic and international support. Two cases of particular importance are:

-- the murders in December 1980 of four American churchwomen. Six National Guardsmen suspects have been under detention since May. The evidence against them is compelling.

-- the murders of two American AIFLD advisors and a Salvadoran land reform official in January 1981. Two suspects are under detention. Salvadoran businessman Ricardo Sol Mesa is being held in El Salvador. His alleged accomplice, Hans Christ, is being held in Miami awaiting a hearing on El Salvador's extradition request. A Salvadoran judge has recommended to the Supreme Court that Sol Mesa be freed and the Christ extradition request be dropped for lack of evidence.

El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

The release of the suspects in either of these cases will generate serious concerns in the US and erode political support for our El Salvador policy.

Duarte is aware of the problem (he was once a victim of torture by the military), but thus far has been ineffective in confronting the armed forces or curtailing their excess. The Commander of the National Guard, Colonel Vides Casanova, will be attending the luncheon. Since the National Guard is suspected of perpetrating a number of offenses, it will be useful to raise this issue in his presence.

TALKING POINTS

-- ACCOUNTS OF ATROCITIES GENERATE AN INTENSE REACTION IN THE US PRESS AND CONGRESS. THIS SERIOUSLY THREATENS PUBLIC AND CONGRESSIONAL SUPPORT FOR OUR POLICY OF SUPPORT FOR YOUR GOVERNMENT.

-- THERE ARE PARTICULARLY STRONG EMOTIONS AMONG US CHURCH AND LABOR GROUPS ON THE CHURCHWOMEN AND AIFLD MURDERS.

-- TO PROTECT YOUR OWN INTERESTS YOU MUST CRACK DOWN ON THESE FORMS OF VIOLENCE BRINGING THOSE RESPONSIBLE TO JUSTICE.

2. Apostolic Administrator Bishop Arturo Rivera y Damas delivered the February 14 homily at San Salvador's Metropolitan Cathedral. He also spoke with the press following the Mass. Some of his commentary from both events follows.

3. Rivera's reaction to the announcement of impending trials in the case of the murdered American religious workers was a mixture of approval and doubt. In the homily he called the results of the special investigation of the nuns' case a positive sign though he tempered this judgment by using the phrase: "When they want to, they can". He reiterated his belief that justice is vital to a nation in search of peace. He further stressed his hope that the results of the investigation would be the beginning of the application of impartial justice and not an action undertaken to insure continued American aid.

4. Rivera also addressed the present situation in El Salvador. He noted that the situation "continues to be difficult because the armed struggle has become routine, but sad and bloody. It is a struggle beyond the decisions of Salvadorans, where foreign countries, in their hegemonic zeal, provide the weapons and the Salvadoran people provide the dead and the quota of suffering. The tension continues: on the one hand sabotage, combat, ambushes, and crimes continue; on the other hand military operations, indiscriminate captures, outrages, torture and murder continue. These acts, unfortunately, are a constant in our country, where the people are the victims. We have no standard by which we can say that when some do it, it is a violation of human rights and when others do it, it is justice. The destruction of a single life constitutes an irremedial loss."

~~provide the weapons and the Salvadoran people provide the dead." He listed the types of actions carried out by both sides in the conflict and affirmed that the Church "has no standard by which it can say that when some do it (use violence) it is a violation of human rights and when others do it, it is justice". The destruction of a single life, affirmed the Bishop, was an irreplaceable loss.~~

5. The Bishop also spoke of the ongoing political campaign. He noted that political propaganda had ranged from the honorable to the insulting, but that no party had defined a clear political platform. Such programs were indispensable so that the electorate would know what to expect from its constituent assembly. Rivera also noted that fear existed in some sectors of the electorate and that this did not favor the pre-electoral climate. In a process which could be the beginning of a solution for the nation, said Rivera, the people must feel free to express themselves.

6. Rivera concluded the homily with a series of requests and admonitions. He asked priests to remember their ecclesiastical roles in society, adding that the Church supported no political party. He reminded the political parties not to involve the Church in the campaign and admonished them to develop political platforms so that the people would know what they are voting for. He urged the Armed Forces and the guerrillas to respect prisoners, the wounded, and the civil population. Finally, Rivera said that he would never tire of repeating the need for a reasonable solution, "a dialogue if it were possible", to the costly war.

7. RIVERA MEETS THE PRESS: After the Mass Bishop Rivera answered questions posed by several reporters. The topics covered were as follows:

A. THE NUNS' MURDERS: To a question about his reaction to the resolution of the case, Rivera repeated the substance of his homily commentary. He hoped that the announced result was real justice and not an attempt to ensure continued U.S. aid. A second reporter asked: "Are you satisfied, like the President (Duarte), that no one higher up is involved?" Rivera's response was as follows: "I believe that the act itself may not be (so) linked. But there is one thing which concerns me and it is how a sergeant could give orders if, beforehand, at least in a general way, the road to take decisions of this type had not been opened to them. That is what I think in this particular case."

NOTE: The Spanish text of this exchange is as follows:

Reporter: "El caso de las monjas esta satisfecho usted como el presidente que no esta vinculado algo mas arriba?"

Rivera: "Yo creo que el hecho como tal podria no estar vinculado, pero hay una cosa que sí a mi me preocupa y es como un sargento puede dar ordenes si antes al menos en forma general no se les ha abierto el camino para que tomen decisiones de ese tipo. Eso es lo que yo pienso en este caso particular."

B. GUERRILLA ACTIVITY: Another reporter asked about guerrilla activity in the country. Rivera devoted his answer to the increased combat in Usulutan. He said that "this signifies that there is more activity for the moment, very probably because of the approaching elections."

C. ELECTIONS: One reporter asked the Bishop if elections presented a possible solution for El Salvador. Rivera was only able to say that some rejected them; he began to speak about ~~xxxxxxxxxx~~ a "large percentage" when the same reporter interrupted to ask about the Church (meaning unclear). Rivera then said that he could not "make a judgment out of thin air, we have to be aware of our position." Finally, to a question about the moral duty of Christians to vote, Rivera said that the Christian must confront reality. He concluded as follows: "But certainly, in our situation, where one searches for the peaceful solution, the few possibilities that there are, such as dialogue or elections, can not be ignored."

E.O. 12065: RDS-4 2/25/2002 (FRIEDMAN, T.B.) OR-P
TAGS: AR, SHUM
SUBJECT: ARMY LEADER LASHES OUT AT HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS

1. [redacted] SUMMARY: ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF VAQUERO HAS CONDEMNED ARGENTINE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS AS WITTINGLY OR UNWITTINGLY AIDING INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM. HIS COMMENTS, THE HARSHEST PUBLIC CONDEMNATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS THAT WE CAN RECALL, REFLECTS A WELL DEVELOPED POINT OF VIEW WITHIN ELEMENTS OF THE MILITARY, PARTICULARLY THE INTELLIGENCE SERVICES. THEY ARE ALSO CONNECTED TO THE MILITARY'S FRUSTRATION AT THE EFFECTIVENESS OF HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS IN KEEPING THE ISSUE OF THE DISAPPEARED ALIVE. HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVISTS HAVE A VARIETY OF MOTIVATIONS BUT ONE OF THEM IS TO BRING THE MILITARY TO ACCOUNTS FOR THE WAY THEY CONDUCTED THE "DIRTY WAR". SUCH AN ACCOUNTING CAN ONLY COME, AS THEY AND THE ARMED FORCES KNOW, IF THE ARMED FORCES HOLD ON THE GOVERNMENT IS DECISIVELY BROKEN. DESPITE VAQUERO'S HARSHNESS, OTHERS CLOSE TO PRESIDENT GALTIERI HAVE TOLD US THAT THEY RECOGNIZE THAT HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS HAVE IMPORTANT CONSTITUENTS ABROAD, INCLUDING IN THE UNITED STATES. THUS, THOUGH SOME IN THE MILITARY MAY BE PRESSING FOR A CRACKDOWN, WE DO NOT SEE ONE COMING IN THE NEAR FUTURE. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) ARGENTINE ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF MGEN JOSE ANTONIO VAQUERO HAS PUBLICLY AND HARSHLY ATTACKED ARGENTINE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS.

3. (U) SPEAKING AT A CEREMONY IN WHICH HE AWARDED A MEDAL TO HIS SALVADORAN COLLEAGUE, COL. RAFEAL FLORES LEMA, VAQUERO STATED THAT ON THE ONE HAND THEE ARE THOSE WHO COMBAT "ARMED SUBVERSION" WHILE ON THE "OTHER EXTREME" THERE ARE THE "SO CALLED SOLIDARITY ORGANIZATIONS (A REFERENCE TO HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS). THE LATTER, HE SAID, "APPEAR TO BE INDEPENDENT ENTITIES. BUT LET US NOT BE NAIVE, THEY ARE SERVING, WITTINGLY OR NOT, THE CURRENT STRATEGY OF INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM". "THESE ORGANIZATIONS", VAQUERO SAID, "HAVE PROLIFERATED IN ARGENTINA PROTECTED BY THE LIBERTY THEY SURELY HOPE TO DESTROY".

4. [redacted] COMMENT: VAQUERO'S COMMENTS REFLECT A WELL DEVELOPED ANALYSIS OF HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS PREVALENT AMONG MANY MILITARY OFFICERS--AND ESPECIALLY IN ARMY INTELLIGENCE. ACCOURDING TO THIS ANALYSIS, THE TERRORISTS, DEFEATED IN A TEST OF ARMS, ARE NOW TRYING TO DESTROY THE GOVERNMENT POLITICALLY USING THE ISSUE OF PAST AND PRESENT HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS, PARTICULARLY THE ISSUE OF THE DISAPPEARED. DEMONSTRATIONS IN PARIS, CONDEMNATIONS IN THE UN, HUMAN RIGHTS PROTESTS IN ARGENTINA ARE ALL SEEN AS PART OF WHAT THE PROPONENTS OF THIS ANLYSIS, LIKE VAQUERO, SEE AS A LARGE INTERNATIONAL CONSPIRACY. TO BE SURE, THESE PROPONENTS SAY, THERE ARE SOME UNWITTING INNOCENTS INVOLVED--BUT THE DIRING FORCE COMES FROM INDIVIDUALS WHO ARE CONSCIOUSLY PART OF A LARGER PLOT, DRIVEN BY COMMUNISTS, AND ULTIMATELY THE SOVIET UNION.

5. [redacted] AS IN SO MUCH ELSE HERE, THE ISSUE OF THE DISAPPEARED IS CENTRAL TO THIS WHOLE CONSPIRACY THEORY. THE MILITARY ONCE HOPED THAT THE ISSUE WOULD FADE WITH TIME. INSTEAD, IT HAS CONTINUED TO TORMENT ARGENTINA ABROAD AND IS GETTING INCREASING ATTENTION AT HOME. THE MILITARY, UNDERSTANDABLY, FEEL VULNERABLE. THEY ALSO IDENTIFY ARGENTINE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, AS WELL AS EXILED LEFTISTS AND TERRORISTS, WHO ARE ACTIVE IN EUROPE AND MEXICO, AS HAVING KEPT THE ISSUE ALIVE AND INFLAMED. THEY ARE LESS ABLE TO SEE THAT WESTERN VALUES MADE IT NATURAL FOR MANY OTHERS TO REJECT THE LEGITIMACY OF DISAPPEARANCE AND TO CONDEMN ANY GOVERNMET WHICH PRACTICES IT.

6. [redacted] THERE ARE NOW SEVEN ARGENTINE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS. FOLLOWING ARE THEIR NAMES AND A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF EACH:
A) THE PERMANENT ASSEMBLY FOR HUMAN RIGHTS (PAHR) FOUNDED IN THE MID-1978'S THE PERMANENT ASSEMBLY BROUGHT TOGETHER COMMUNISTS, NON-COMMUNISTS AND EVEN ANTI-COMMUNISTS. THE COMMON CONCERN AMONG THEM WAS THE MASSIVE HUMAN RIGHTS VIOLATIONS THEN TAKING PLACE. MANY OF THE ORGANIZERS HAD RELATIVES AMONG THE DISAPPEARED OR DETAINED. PAHR CENTERED ITS ACTIVITIES ON THE PROBLEM OF THE DISAPPEARED, COLLECTING THE

BEST AND MOST COMPLETE DOCUMENTATION ON THIS PRACTICE AND PRESENTING HABEAS CORPUS PETITIONS ON BEHALF OF THE VICTIMS. THOUGHT THEY DID NOT AND PROBABLY STILL DO NOT CONTROL THE ORGANIZATION, THE ARGENTINE COMMUNISTS HAVE A MAJOR VOICE IN ITS OPERATIONS. FOR EXAMPLE, THE CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER OF THE PAHR IS A COMMUNIST. IN RECENT MONTHS THE PAHR HAS EXPANDED ITS ACTIVITIES TO ATTACK THE GOVERNMENT'S SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC POLICIES;

B) THE CENTERL FOR LEGAL AND SOCIAL STUDIES (CELS): FOUNDED IN 1980, CELS IS THE MOST PROGESSIONAL, RELIABLE AND AGGRESSIVE OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS. ITS FOUNDERS, INCLUDING EMILIO MIGNONE AND AUGUESTO CONTE MACDONALD, WERE AND ARE ACTIVE IN THE PAHR (MIGNONE AND CONTE EACH HAS A DISAPPEARED CHILD). HOWEVER, TODAY MOST OF THEIR TIME IS TAKEN UP IN CELS--THEY HAVE NEVER TOLD US BUT WE BELIEVE THEY WERE UNHAPPY WITH THE COMMUNIST ROLE IN THE PAHR. IN KEEPING WITH THE MODUS VIVENTI BETWEEN THE GOA AND THE LOCAL PARTY, COMMUNISTS IN THE PAHR WERE OFTEN OPPOSED TO THE TACTICS AND STRATEGY OF THE CELS FOUNDER WHO WANTED THE ASSEMBLY TO BE MORE AGGRESSIVE. MOST OF THE LEADERS IN CELS ARE ALSO ACTIVE POLITICIANS: MIGNONE IS ALIGNED WITH THE "INSTRANSIGENT" LEFT WING OF PERONISM, CONTE MACDONALD IS A LEADER OF THE MODERATE LEFTIST WING OF THE CHIRSTIAN DEMOCRATS. (BOTH MEN, WE NOTE, HAVE PUBLICLY CONDEMNED EVENTS IN POLAND AND AFGANISTAN).

C) THE ARGENTINE LEAGUE FOR HUMAN RIGHTS (THE LIGA): FOUNDED IN THE 1930'S THE ORGANIZATION IS A COMMUNIST FRONT, AND IS SO RECOGNIZED EVEN AMONG OTHER HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS. PEOPLE AT CELS, FOR EXAMPLE, PRIVATELY POKE FUN AT THE LIGA FOR ITS UNDENIABLE ALIGNMENT.

D) THE PEACE AND JUSTICE SERVICE: THIS IS THE ORGANIZATION HEADED BY 1980 NOBEL PEACE PRISE WINNER ADOLFO PEREZ ESQUIVEL, PEACE AND JUSTICE'S CHIEF ORNAMENT. THE NOBEL PEACE AWARD TO THE ORGANIZATION AND ITS LEADER ENDOWED HIM WITH AN IMPORTANCE THAT HE HAD NOT EARNED THROUGH HIS EFFORTS IN ARGENTINA, WHERE THE MOVEMENT HAS FEW MEMBERS OR ELSEWHERE IN LATIN AMERICA WHERE IT REPORTED HAS EVEN FEWER. LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS ACTIVITS AND THE GOVERNMENT WERE FOR ONCE UNITED--IN SURPRISE--WHEN THE NOBEL COMMITTEE TAPPED PEREZ. THE HUMAN RIGHTS LEADERS WERE DELIGHTED TO HAVE SUCH A VISIBLE SYMBOL. THE GOVERNMENT, HOWEVER, QUICKLY CONCLUDED THAT SINCE PEREZ WAS SUCH A RELATIVE NON-ENTITY OF THE HUMAN RIGHTS SCENE HIS DESIGNATION COULD ONLY HAVE BEEN THE RESULT OF THE INTERNATIONAL CONSPIRACY TO GET ARGENTINA. FOR MANY MILITARY, PEREZ--WITH HIS INTERNATIONAL WANDERINGS--IS NOW THE EMBODIMENT THE CONSPIRACY THAT THEY ARE CONVINCED SURROUNDS THEM AND THAT VAQUERO DENOUNCED.

E) THE MOTHERS OF THE PLAZA DE MAYO: FOUNDED IN 1976 BY MOTHERS WHOSE CHILDREN DESAPPEARED, THE MOTHERS ARE A SINGLE ISSUE ORGANIZATION. OFTEN UNRELIABLE AS TO FACTS, BUT INCREASINGLY SOPHISTICATED POLITICALLY, THEY MORE THAN ANY OTHER BODY KEEP ALIVE THE HUMAN DIMENSION OF THE PROBLEM THAT SO INVOLVES THEM.

F) THE ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS (EMHR): THIS BODY IS CLOSELY ASSOCIATED WITH PROTESTANT AND CATHOLIC CHURCHMEN. ITS ACTIVITIES DEAL MOSTLY WITH HELPING THE FAMILIES OF THE DETAINED AND RECENTLY RELEASED PRISONERS. IT IS RELATIVELY UNIMPORTANT.

G) THE FAMILY MEMBERS OF THE DISAPPEARED AND DETAINED FOR POLITICAL REASONS: RELATIVELY UNIMPORTANT. THIS BODY MAKES ITS HOME IN QUARTERS PROVIDED IT BY THE LIGA. IT IS NOT SUPPOSED TO BE UNDER COMMUNIST CONTROL, THOUGH WE CANNOT ATTEST ONE WAY OR ANOTHER ON THIS. IT DEVOTES MOST OF ITS ATTENTION TO THE SITUATION OF THE DETAINED.

7. [redacted] GIVEN THIER VARIETY, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO ATTRIBUTE A SINGLE MOTIVE TO THE LOCAL HUMAN RIGHTS BODIES. HOWEVER, MANY OF THOSE INVOLVED ARE DETERMINED TO MAKE THE MILITARY ANSWER FOR ITS TACTICS IN THE "DIRTY WAR." MOREOVER, ALL ARE HIGHLY POLITICIZED--RECOGNIZING THAT THEIR OBJECTIVES, IF THEY ARE TO BE ACHIEFED AT ALL, CAN ONLY COME THROUGH THE POLITICAL PROCESS.

8. [redacted] VAQUERO'S COMMENTS REFLECT VERY CONSIDERABLE SENTIMENTS WITHIN THE MILITARY. HOWEVER, OTHERS--SOME OF THEM CLOSE TO PRESIDENT GALTIERI--HAVE RECENTLY TOLD US THAT THEY RECOGNIZE THAT HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS HAVE IMPORTANT CONSTITUENCES ABROAD. SUB-SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR MENDEZ'S UNPRECEDENTED RECEPTION OF A CELS DELEGATION PROTESTING THE DISAPPEARANCE/MURDER OF ANA MARIA MARTINEZ ACKNOWLEDGED THE GOVERNMENT'S ASSESSMENT OF THE IMPORTANCE OF CELS. THUS, THOUGH WE SUSPECT THAT SOME IN THE ARMED FORCES MAY PRESS FOR SOME SORT OF CRACKDOWN ON THE HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS, WE DO NOT EXPECT THEM TO CARRY THE DAY, FOR THE TIME BEING AT LEAST. 1. GRN JUNTA MEMBER SERGIO RAMIREZ TOLD FSLN DAILY BARRICADA THAT THERE IS A CHANGE IN THE ATTITUDE OF RECENT U.S. CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATIONS. 2. COMMENTING ON THE WASHINGTON POST ARTICLE ALLEGING THAT THE CIA HAS A $19 MILLION PLAN TO INTERVENE IN CENTRAL AMERICA, RAMIREZ SAID THERE IS EVIDENCE THAT THIS PLAN HAS BEEN APPROVED AND CITED THE COUNTERREVOLUTIONARY ATTACKS FROM BASES IN HONDURAS. HE SAID THE AMERICAN POLICY WOULD BE TO CREATE TENSIONS BETWEEN NICARAGUA AND OTHER COUNTRIES BUT AVOID DIRECT AMERICAN PARTICIPATIONS.

RAMIREZ ADDED THAT, IF THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION HAD INDEED APPROVED A $19 MILLION DESTABILIZATION PLAN TO HELP OPPOSITION GROUPS, IT WAS A MUCH MORE DELICATE SITUATION, PROVING THE USG'S DETERMINATION TO CONFRONT THE SANDINISTA REVOLUTION. THE SANDINISTAS IN TURN WOULD BE OBLIGATED TO USE ALL POLITICAL AND DIPLOMATIC FORCES TO DISSUADE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION FROM TAKING THAT POSITION. RAMIREZ REITERATED THE FAMILIAR LITANY THAT THE GRN INSISTS THAT THE U.S. DISMANTLE COUNTERREVOLUTIONARY TRAINING CAMPS IN FLORIDA AND OTHER PARTS OF THE U.S., NOT SUPPORT COUNTERREVOLUTIONARY GROUPS IN HONDURAS, THAT A JOINT HONDURAN- NICARAGUAN BORDER PATROL BE ESTABLISHED, AND FINALLY, THE U.S. SHOULD DESIST FROM OPPOSING TO LOANS TO NICARAGUA, IN INTERNATIONAL FINANCING INSTITUTIONS.

On this date PolOff Gettinger and I met with Mauricio Morales Ehrlich to further discuss captioned matter. The following additional information developed:

Re Julio Osmin Carrillo Sarmiento

Carrillo is now assigned to guard Enrique Sol, father of Ricardo Sol Meza, and he is very upset about this. Carrillo doesn't like the old man and wants to leave his current employment. Carrillo contacted Morales E. to see whether there had been any further developments on possible employment with the Embassy. Carrillo advises he has a friend on the Guard force at the Embassy who might be able to help him get a job. Carrillo advises his wife has recently lost her job and he is in the process of buying a new house. He has sold or traded his motorcycle.

Regarding his arrest, he was actually picked up by two friends of his from the National Police. He was subjected to a hard interview and not even his brother who works in the intelligence division, National Police, knew he had been arrested. The Sol family had planned to let him

Re Ismael Hercules

This individual was previously referred to as Ismael last name unknown. He is the regular companion of Carrillo and believed to be a former member of the National Guard. He is similar in description to Carrillo but is more muscular and somewhat older. Hercules carries an Ingram sub machinegun in his brief case and while he looks and acts tough is basically a weak person. Morales E. of opinion he can be broken. It is noted this is likely the person described by Alejandro Presa as Carrillo's companion at scene of crime.

Re SECORPI Guard Service

SECORPI was founded by Oscar Burbano Chavez, a Colombian and former Capitan de Fragat. Burbano was recommended to Sols and others by International Security Company out of Miami. Several large Salvadoran companies paid SECORPI Colones 14000 per month for guard service. This specifically included Coca Cola company. For Coca Cola service Burbano paid Major Moran and Lt. Lopez Sibrian by check and they furnished National Guard G-2 staff and "friends" as sub contractors to handle the work at about Colones 500 per month. Burbano left San Salvador in late January, 1981 and went to Miami, leaving SECORPI in hands of First Name Unknown (FNU) Rivas and FNU Flores. Flores is currently head of security at the Cartonera (box factory) and he is poorly disposed toward Burbano and Rivas. Flores may be cooperative. Burbano is currently in Miami and can be located through International Security company or through Jack Barber, chief of Security at the Miami airport. Barber is well acquainted with the Sol family.

Re Rodolfo Isidro Lopez Sibrian:

Lt. Lopez is currently in Paraguay and may be working as a military advisor. Even though he has ostensibly been discharged from the National Guard it is believed he is still directly associated in some way. Source noted that a group of Salvadoran cadets from the military school recently went to Paraguay. Lopez told source he had been ambushed in La Union and felt he had been set up. Regarding Sheraton situation, it is likely that Major Moran called Lt. Lopez on his portable radio and instructed him to bring the Guardsmen to kill Viera. The G-2 apparently has a separate radio frequency and both Moran and Lopez carried radios.

Re Ricardo Sol Meza and family

Ricardo Sol Meza is currently in Chiapas, Mexico doing nothing and still very much afraid of being prosecuted.

Eugenia Sol, wife of Ricardo, invested $200,000 in the purchase of stock in the Coca Cola plant in San Jose, Costa Rica. This money was lost in the steep devaluation in Costa Rica.

Heavy legal fees were paid to Jorge Vitelio Luna in behalf of Ricardo by his father, Enrique Sol.

Recommendation:

Discuss best way to utilize Julio Carrillo with Embassy counsel?

SUBJ: LABOR LEADER TUCAPEL JIMENEZ MURDERED

1. (C - ENTIRE TEXT).

2. FAMILY MEMBERS AND FELLOW TRADE UNIONISTS CONFIRMED TO LABATT DURING THE EARLY MORNING HOURS OF FEBRUARY 26 THAT TUCAPEL JIMENEZ, VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNION DEMOCRATICA DE TRABAJADORES AND PRESIDENT OF THE GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES' ASSOCIATION, HAD BEEN FOUND MURDERED IN HIS CAR EARLY THE PREVIOUS EVENING. JIMENEZ WAS A PROMINENT LABOR LEADER WHO HAD OPPOSED ALLENDE AND HAD ALSO OPPOSED PINOCHET IN DEFENSE OF WHAT HE SAW AS WORKERS' RIGHTS; HE WAS ALSO A LONG-TIME EMBASSY CONTACT.

2. ACCORDING TO FAMILY AND UNION SOURCES, JIMENEZ LEFT HOME IN HIS CAR (A TAXI BUT NOT USED AS SUCH) SHORTLY BEFORE 0930

FEBRUARY 25 TO GO TO HIS UNION OFFICE WHERE HE HAD A MEETING SCHEDULED AT THAT HOUR. HE MISSED THAT MEETING AS WELL AS OTHERS SCHEDULED AT NOON AND AT APPROXIMATELY 1600. THE FAMILY THEN BEGAN TO SEARCH LOCAL HOSPITAL EMERGENCY WARDS WITHOUT SUCCESS AND, AT APPROXIMATELY 2200, REPORTED HIM (TO THE PRESS) AS MISSING AND POSSIBLY DETAINED BY SECURITY

POLICE. JUST AFTER MIDNIGHT, A TV NEWS REPORT STATED THAT A BODY WITH ITS THROAT CUT HAD BEEN FOUND IN A CAR IN AN ISOLATED RURAL AREA ABOUT 25 MILES NORTH OF SANTIAGO. THE DESCRIPTION OF THE CAR AND THE LICENSE PLATE MATCHED THAT OF JIMENEZ' CAR; THE BODY WAS POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED AT APPROXIMATELY 0500 ON FEBRUARY 26.

3. MORNING PRESS OF FEBRUARY 26 CARRIED THE STORY OF THE UNIDENTIFIED BODY FOUND IN THE TAXI BEFORE IT WAS KNOWN THAT IT WAS JIMENEZ. "LA TERCERA", WHICH CARRIED WHAT APPEARED TO BE THE LATEST AND MOST COMPLETE INFORMATION, SAID THAT LOCAL POLICE HAD BEEN CALLED TO THE SCENE BY VILLAGERS BECAUSE THE CAR HAD BEEN SEEN PARKED FOR SEVERAL HOURS AND THEY HAD BECOME SUSPICIOUS. POLICE REPORTEDLY FIXED THE TIME OF DEATH AT ABOUT 1100 ON FEBRUARY 25, LESS THAN TWO HOURS AFTER JIMENEZ LEFT HOME, MEANING THAT HE MUST HAVE BEEN INTERCEPTED EN ROUTE TO HIS UNION OFFICE ALMOST IMMEDIATELY AFTER HE LEFT HOME. THE ARTICLE ALSO SEEMED TO RULE OUT ROBBERY AS A MOTIVE AS, ALTHOUGH THE TAXI'S METER AND TITLE AND JIMENEZ' PERSONAL DOCUMENTS HAD BEEN STOLEN, THE CASH HE WAS CARRYING (ABOUT US$30) HAD NOT. HE WAS ALLEGEDLY KILLED ALMOST INSTANTANEOUSLY BY TWO DEEP STAB WOUNDS AND A SEVERE SLASH, ALL IN THE THROAT.

4. COMMENT: WHILE DETAILS OF THE MURDER ARE STILL SKETCHY, WE ARE ALREADY HEARING SUSPICIONS FROM FAMILY AND ASSOCIATES THAT JIMENEZ WAS KILLED BY GOC AGENTS, PRESUMABLY BECAUSE ~~CONFIDENTIA~~AL

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

OF HIS LONG-STANDING OPPOSITION TO THE PINOCHET GOVERNMENT AND IN PARTICULAR BECAUSE OF HIS RECENT PUBLIC CALLS FOR THE VARIOUS SEPARATE SECTORS OF THE CHILEAN UNION MOVEMENT TO MERGE INTO A SINGLE ORGANIZATION. THIS PERCEPTION IS NOT SURPRISING, GIVEN CHILE'S RECENT PAST AND THE CONTINUED TENSIONS BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND ITS OPPONENTS, AND IT WILL BE SHARED BY MANY OUTSIDE CHILE AS WELL. WE WILL LOOK CAREFULLY FOR WHATEVER EVIDENCE MAY BE BROUGHT TO LIGHT, BUT FOR NOW ARE DOUBTFUL THAT THE GOC WOULD HAVE SUFFICIENT MOTIVATION TO TAKE SUCH A DRAMATIC AND RISKY STEP AGAINST A PROMINENT MEMBER OF THE DEMOCRATIC AND NON-VIOLENT OPPOSITION. FURTHER, ATTACKS ON TAXI DRIVERS ARE REASONABLY COMMON IN SANTIAGO, THOUGH LESS COMMON IN THE MORNING SINCE THE DRIVERS HAVE LESS FARE MONEY THAN LATER IN THE DAY. WHATEVER THE FACTS, HOWEVER, THE PERCEPTION OF GOVERNMENT INVOLVEMENT WILL HAVE A LIFE OF ITS OWN, AND FEELINGS WILL BE RUNNING HIGH BEFORE AND AFTER THE FUNERAL, EXPECTED TO BE FEBRUARY 27. A LATE RADIO REPORT STATES THAT PRESIDENT PINOCHET, CURRENTLY TOURING CHILE'S FAR SOUTH WITH SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE CABINET, HAS ORDERED INTERIOR MINISTER FERNANDEZ TO RETURN TO SANTIAGO AND TAKE PERSONAL CHARGE OF THE INVESTIGATION INTO JIMENEZ' DEATH.

1. SUMMARY. ON FEBRUARY 21 BISHOP RIVERA Y DAMAS CONDEMNED ABUSES BY THE SALVADORAN MILITARY ALONG WITH THE DESTRUCTION PERPETRATED BY THE GUERRILLAS. RIVERA ALSO REITERATED HIS IDENTIFICATION WITH THE FEBRUARY 17 STATEMENT BY THE BISHOPS CONFERENCE IN SUPPORT OF ELECTIONS. THE BISHOP

DECRIED THE INTERNATIONALIZATION OF THE SALVADORAN CONFLICT AND ACCUSED THE GREAT POWERS OF LOOKING AFTER THEIR OWN INTERESTS AND IGNORING THE SUFFERING OF THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE. RIVERA BLAMED THE COUNTRY'S CONDITION IN PART ON THE LONG HISTORY OF VIOLATION OF THE RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE. END SUMMARY.

2. APOSTOLIC ADMINISTRATOR ARTURO RIVERA Y DAMAS GAVE THE FEBRUARY 21 HOMILY AT SAN SALVADOR'S METROPOLITAN CATHEDRAL.

SOME OF HIS COMMENTS FOLLOW.

3. VIOLENCE.
BISHOP RIVERA AGAIN CONDEMNED ACTS OF VIOLENCE AGAINST THE "FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS OF MAN." HE SPOKE OUT AGAINST SEIZURES OF CITIZENS SIMPLY ON THE BASIS OF SUSPICIONS OR DENUNCIATIONS BY PEOPLE LINKED TO LOCAL MILITARY AUTHORITIES. THE CHURCH, HE SAID, IS A WITNESS TO AND A VICTIM OF THE USE OF VIOLENT ABUSE BY THE ARMED FORCES. THESE ABUSES, HE ADDED, MAY BE BEYOND THE CONTROL OF THE HIGH COMMAND BUT THEY, NEVERTHELESS, DETRACT FROM THE PROFESSIONALISM OF THE ARMED FORCES. THE BISHOP ADDED A CONDEMNATION OF THE GUERRILLAS' ACTIONS, SPECIFICALLY ATTACKS USING DYNAMITE, BURNING OF BUSES AND ABUSE OF THE CITIZENRY INCLUDING THE DESTRUCTION OF PERSONAL DOCUMENTS. EACH SIDE, RIVERA CONCLUDED, GIVES ITS EXPLANATIONS; UNFORTUNATELY THE ACTIONS OF THE ONE ARE THE JUSTIFICATION FOR THE ACTIONS OF THE OTHER. IN THAT WAY THE SPIRAL OF VIOLENCE CONTINUES WITH THE PUBLIC CONTINUING TO BE THE VICTIM.

4. ELECTIONS.
RIVERA REITERATED HIS IDENTIFICATION WITH THE BISHOPS CONFERENCE STATEMENT OF FEBRUARY 17. HE SUMMARIZED
UNCLASSIFIED

THE BISHOPS' STATEMENT IN A SENTENCE: THE ELECTIONS MAY NOT BE THE SOLUTION BUT THEY CAN BE THE BEGINNING OF A SOLUTION. WITH ITS STATEMENTS THE EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE HAS IDENTIFIED A HOPE AMIDST THE CHAOS AND DARKNESS, HE SAID. RIVERA SAID THAT THAT HOPE WILL BE REALIZED IF THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY, HOPEFULLY THE EXPRESSION OF THE WILL OF A MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE, WIELDS REAL POWER AND IS CAPABLE OF FINDING AND ENFORCING A JURIDICAL AND POLITICAL SOLUTION TO THE CONFLICT. THE ASSEMBLY, SAID RIVERA, SHOULD BE A FORCE CAPABLE OF CALLING A DIALOG. THE ASSEMBLY'S ABILITY TO PROVIDE SUCH A POLITICAL SOLUTION WILL DEPEND ON THE CAPACITY OF THE PARTIES WHICH FORM IT. IT WILL ALSO DEPEND ON THE ATTITUDE OF THE MILITARY, TO WHICH OTHER POWERS IN THE COUNTRY HAVE TO DATE BEEN SUBORDINATE.

5. INTERNATIONALIZATION OF THE CONFLICT.
RIVERA CONDEMNED INTERFERE IN SALVADORAN AFFAIRS BY OUTSIDERS. INTERNATIONAL PRESSURE IN THE MILITARY, ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL FIELDS, HE SAID, IS REMOVING FROM OUR HANDS SOLUTIONS WHICH SHOULD BE SALVADORAN. THE BISHOP SAID THAT THE INTERESTS OF THE GREAT POWERS STRUGGLING FOR WORLD HEGEMONY AND THEIR SATELITES ARE INVOLVED IN THIS CONFLICT. THEY APPEAR TO BE, HE SAID, UNINTERESTED IN THE SUFFERING OF THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE.

6. HEART OF THE PROBLEM.
BISHOP RIVERA IDENTIFIED A ROOT CAUSE OF THE CONFLICT.
THE PROBLEM HAS NOT BEEN, HE SAID, THE ABSENCE OF LAWS OR CONSTITUTION BUT THE VIOLATION AND DISREGATD OF THOSE LAWS. IF NO WAY IS FOUND TO END ONCE AND FOR ALL THIS SYSTEMATIC VIOLATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS THE DISCONTENT OF A GREAT PART OF THE PEOPLE WILL CONTINUE AND THE GROUND
WILL REMAIN FERTILE FOR NEW REBELLIONS. THE SOLUTION, THEN, IS A REAFFIRMATION OF VALUES AND OF AUTHENTIC JUSTICE.

7. IMPROMPTU PRESS CONFERENCE.
DURING A SHORT QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION WITH REPORTERS
AFTER THE MASS RIVERA MADE SEVERAL NOTEWORTHY COMMENTS.
HE SAID THAT THE BISHOPS' STATEMENT'S MENTION OF THE FMLN'S
RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE INCREASE IN VIOLENCE WAS A RECOGNI-TION OF THE FACT THAT THE LEVEL OF ACTIVITY BY THE GUERRILLAS
HAS INCREASED AND THAT IT HAS NO OTHER MOTIVATION. RIVERA
ALSO SAID THAT THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WOULD BE IN A POSITION TO INITIATE A DIALOGUE WITH THE GUERRILLAS.
THE CHURCH, HE SAID, IS WILLING TO ACT AS A MEDIATOR
BUT IS HAS NOT BEEN FORMALLY ASKED TO DO SO. THE POSITION OF THE HIGH COMMAND HAS, SAID THE BISHOP, SO FAR BEEN ONE WHICH IS NOT OPEN TO DIALOGUE. ABOUT THE POSSIBLE REOPENING OF THE INVESTIGATION OF THE MURDER OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO RIVERA SAID THAT HE HOPED THAT IT WAS NOT SIMPLY A PROPAGANDISTIC PLOY.

OF OUR POSTS IN THESE COUNTRIES HAVE SUGGESTED THAT THE EUROPEAN CO-SPONSORS OF THIS RESOLUTION ALSO ENGAGE IN DEMARCHES IN CAPITALS. WE BELIEVE THIS TO BE AN EXCELLENT STRATEGY AS IT IS OUR EXPERIENCE THAT, ON ISSUES WITH SUCH STRONG POLITICAL RAMIFICATIONS, VERY FEW DELEGATIONS OPERATE WITH AUTONOMY IN GENEVA. 2. Summary: The two major topics Argentine officials will wish to discuss are the situation in Central America and Bolivia, which they see as threatening Argentina's own security, and the Alemann economic program on which the Galtieri government's future so heavily depends. Galtieri and his collaborators seek close cooperation with the United States, especially in the security area and are philosophically inclined toward the West. But the GOA continues in the NAM impelled by the need for protection on human rights in international fora and by the search for support on the Malvinas/Falklands and Beagle problems. Our principal difference is in the nuclear field. Other factors in our relationship are human rights, differences on Law of the Sea, occasionally conflicting interests in UN fora and various economic issues such as sugar and our graduation policy in the MDBs. Involvement in Central America carries a political price for the GOA domestically. The GOA also remains sensitive to attitudes and reactions of the Soviet Union, Argentina's principal export market and supporter on human rights issues.

3. Galtieri's vigorous style of leadership has dissipated the atmosphere of paralysis and drift that shrouded his predecessor's incumbency. He continues the policy of liberalization and/greater respect for human rights. The deep recession and the draconian economic measures, after six years of military rule, are raising social tensions, give strong encouragement to the civilian opposition, now more vocal than ever, and leave the regime isolated. The success of the economic program, expressing a conservative-liberal philosophy, remains uncertain. As of now, Galtieri appears to have the full support of his senior Army commanders and the other two branches Navy but if economic recovery does not begin later in the year, growing social tension could bring out latent differences in the armed services. Our own approach to the GOA should take into account the domestic and external constraints under which the Galtieri government operates,

/Assistant Secretary Enders will be visiting Argentina during a period of uncertainty about future economic and political events--and a time of pervasive pessimism among Argentines generally about the future of their country. President Galtieri and his collaborators seek close cooperation with the United States. Especially in the area of Hemispheric security--Central America and, to some extent, Bolivia--they define Argentina's interests in terms similar to ours. His government, however, faces an exceedingly difficult situation domestically. Despite Galtieri's forceful leadership and the presence of several able ministers in the Cabinet, it remains to be seen whether his government's policies--especially its economic program, on which its fortunes so heavily depend--will be effective.

5. Our own approach must take into account the domestic and external constraints under which the Galtieri government operates, its domestic vulnerabilities and--while we foresee no early changes in Argentina's basic power structure--at least the possibility of further political changes over the next year or two.

6. Thus there are two major topics ~~in~~ which Argentine interlocutors will be interested in discussing:

-- Western security interests in the Hemisphere, especially current developments in Central America; and

-- The Argentine economy, including the Alemann economic program, and the outlook for the US economy.

I. The Domestic Situation

7. The basic problem is the economy. In 1976, when they took power, the armed services resolved to liquidate the Peronist/corporatist heritage and create a modern, open-market system. Some basic reforms were undertaken, such as giving free play to market forces, improving the finances of public-sector enterprises and opening the economy. But the failure of two ministers of the economy--Martinez de Hoz (1976-80) and then Sigaut (1986)--to set the country on a path of stable economic growth--there has been little growth in the last six years--has produced deep dissatisfaction in the society. If the present conservative government should fail with its economic program, this would mean the end of liberal market economics in Argentina and the country would turn back toward a more dirigist course. It also would eliminate most of the political influence conservatives now exercise on the Armed Forces and, through the Armed Forces, on the government.

8. The Argentine economy is now in a deep depression. Unemployment (including workers on short hours) may be 10 percent and is rising; utilization of industrial capacity, on the average, is some 50-60 percent. The one sector that is doing well is agriculture which continues to produce record crops and provides some two-thirds or more of Argentina's export earnings. Argentina's GNP last year declined by 6 percent.

9. More important than the low level of business activity is the general nervousness, which last year produced massive outflows of funds, successive devaluations, high interest rates and sharp decline in the level of private investment. Its origins are the progressive overvaluation of the peso under Martinez de Hoz between 1978 and 1981 (resulting from a crawling peg system coupled with continuing large public-sector deficits) and the subsequent collapse of the peso after the first 10 percent devaluation (allegedly undertaken by Martinez de Hoz at the urging of the incoming Minister, Sigaut) in February 1981. The Viola government, which took office in March, sought to reflate the economy while also seeking to stabilize the foreign exchange market; it never succeeded in restoring the confidence lost in the February devaluation. Inflation, which had been declining, increased sharply after March 1982 under the continued effect of the devaluations and progressively larger public-sector deficits. Inflation in 1980 1981 reached 130 percent (PI) and 180 percent (WPI).

10. When the Galtieri government took office in December, its first priority in the economic area was to control inflation and restore confidence. To do so, the new Minister of the Economy, Roberto Alemann, opted for a "shock approach"--severe austerity in the public sector (including a freeze on salaries and retirement benefits) with the goal of reducing the public deficit dramatically by mid-year--and reform of the exchange market, i.e., the unification of the commercial and financial exchange rates in a single floating rate. Reactivation of the economy was not an explicit objective; rather, Alemann's working hypothesis and prediction is that once inflation has been brought under control and confidence been restored, interest rates will come down and business activity will revive. Foreign investment is expected to resume, especially in energy and minerals.

11. Alemann has had some initial successes--some export earnings are beginning to be repatriated, inflationary expectations are declining and the exchange market has been stable. But the large sums--export revenues and short-term money--held by Argentines abroad are not yet being repatriated, the recession is deepening and the government is encountering difficulties reaching its monetary targets because of falling tax revenues. Forecasters generally agree that this will be a year without growth, with inflation declining significantly but remaining somewhere in the area of 60 percent plus. In fact, growth could well be negative.

12. Galtieri, we are told, is resolutely committed to Alemann, but the draconian measures of the Alemann program come after six years of military rule, during a period of--by Argentine standards--high unemployment. The austerity program has given strong encouragement to civilian opposition leaders, now more active than ever, is fostering new efforts for unity in the labor movement and has left the government more isolated than ever--despite Galtieri's efforts to civilianize the government, through the appointment of civilians to the national government and the provincial governorships. Alemann and other conservatives believe that there is now much broader support in the Armed Forces for reform and austerity than during the tenure of Martinez de Hoz. The lesson, they say, that broad reforms are needed to revive the Argentine economy has finally been learned. But many observers sympathetic to the conservative doctrine wonder whether the program does not come too late in the current cycle of military rule. The Galtieri government itself expects growing social tension and political unrest but obviously hopes to ride out the storm until the economy begins to recover. There will be considerable soul-searching in the government about its course if the expected recovery does not develop.

13. Galtieri's vigorous ~~his~~ style of leadership has dissipated the atmosphere of paralysis and drift that shrouded his predecessor's incumbency. As of now, Galtieri appears to have the full support of his senior Army commanders as well as--as far as we can tell--that of Navy Commander Anaya--the key elements in Argentina's power structure. The three services have given the Galtieri government a surprising degree of authority. Galtieri normally should retire from his post as Commander-in-Chief of the Army in November of this year. He reportedly wants to find a formula that will permit him to continue in a dual capacity. This is likely to emerge as the key political question in the months ahead.

14. Galtieri continues the policy of gradual liberalization--witness the easing of remaining censorship and the government's prompt action in recent anti-Semitic incidents.

He is appointing civilians to strengthen the conservative political forces. His political strategy remains at this time that of a gradual opening of the political process, with a party reorganization law as the next step and full resumption of legal party activity afterwards. But the mood in the country could force a quicker pace. On the other hand Galtieri wishes to find a formula that will permit him to continue in the Presidency beyond 1984--although apparently this formula entails a search for the trappings of broader civilian support.

15. In the Armed Forces, growing social tensions could bring out latent differences. There have been reports that the Alemann program is not popular in parts of the military and Galtieri's desire to continue in his dual capacity beyond November could cause problems. Reportedly Navy Commander Anaya, concerned over the institutional integrity of his service, would favor an early withdrawal of the military from the government. There are others, in the Navy and Air Force, who would like to begin serious discussions with the major parties on how to bring about gradual disengagement before the country becomes more polarized politically. (Such a process would extend over a period of years.)

To increase pressure on the government, the five principal parties have formed a body of senior notables that issues statements and criticisms on national policy. The parties themselves are not highly regarded by the public which recall the poor record of civilian government but they are gaining new adherents and support as dissatisfaction with the military regime increases. There have been various instances where Peronist salutes and songs were used in public and these incidents are becoming more frequent. Despite their rhetoric, the two major parties--the Peronists and the Radicals--would be prepared to come to terms with the military. They are outmoded, riven by factions (especially the Peronists), hold vague nationalist doctrines and lack specific programs. They are largely opposed to the economic and administrative reforms, which the military have pursued over the last six years, and advocate a greater role for the state and more nationalist, protectionist policies. The Peronists remain dependent on labor and would probably return to more populist policies--one of the principal causes of Argentina's economic stagnation over the last generation. In their present form, there is serious doubt whether, without the military, either party could constitute an effective government. In any case, the principal obstacle to democratization remains the problem of the thousands of persons who disappeared during the military's war against Marxist subversion.

II. Foreign Policy Issues

17. Notwithstanding the hopes and fears of last December, the Galtieri regime has as yet produced no significant change in Argentina's foreign policy. The GOA continues in the NAM, impelled by the need for protection on human rights in international fora and by the search for support on the Malvinas/Falklands and Beagle problems. Relations with the Soviet Union remain correct on the diplomatic level and active on the commercial side. We have reported indications of a possible chill in relations with Cuba, but that seems to be the result of a Cuban rather than an Argentine decision. Elsewhere in Latin America the relationship with Mexico is poor (a result of the Abel Medina asylum case); Argentine interest in the Andean Pact has waned as that group's political activism has vanished; and Foreign Minister Costa Mendez carries on his predecessor's efforts to build a strong relationship with Brazil.

18. Good relations with the US are a high priority for the Galtieri administration, as they were for its predecessor. We still have our differences on law of the-sea and in the nuclear field, along with occasionally conflicting interests in UN fora (as in the case of Poland in the UNHRC) and a few minor trade problems. But Galtieri is anxious to cooperate with us on the Hemisphere's more pressing problems, particularly those in Bolivia and Central America. Involvement in the latter carries a political price for the GOA, as demonstrated by the continuing clamor over purported Argentine military presences there, actual or prospective, and the denunciations of the visit here of Salvadoran Colonel Flores Lima (ref B.A. 1128). The major political parties, without necessarily taking either side in Central America, remain attached to the country's traditional "independent" and non-interventionist policy. The GOA's association with reputedly repressive military regimes also provides a convenient opportunity to attack the nature of Argentina's own government.

19. The GOA to date has not outwardly appeared overly concerned by background noise of this kind. Costa Mendez does respond with vehement denials to questions from the press about Argentine military and/or political activities in Central America and even Army Chief of Staff Vaquero felt the need to repeat the commitment to non-interference in El Salvador's internal affairs on the occasion of decorating Flores Lima. But the latter's visit was given a high public profile, the Salvadorans were promised credits for military purchases here, and the Foreign Ministry went so far as to complain to us that President Reagan had failed to mention Argentina as a donor country in his CBI speech. (Foreign aid, bound to be highly unpopular with the Argentine public, is not normally publicized by the GOA.) However, behind the scenes the Foreign Ministry is increasingly uncomfortable with the high Argentine profile on Central America. Costa Mendez seems to be searching for a context more compatible with this country's traditional foreign policy in which better to present Argentina's active interest in Central America. This might take the form of a move in the OAS (ref B.A. 1184).

20. Other factors in our bilateral relations include human rights, the controversy over privatization of the economy and the pace of democratization. As we have been reporting, the GOA is gradually but steadily liberalizing its controls over the society. Pen prisoners continue to be released and the government's sharp reaction to the recent desecration of Jewish graves in Mar del Plata was most gratifying. But with the end of current human rights abuses, the issue of the past disappeared has come increasingly into sharper focus and now threatens to dominate the future politics of this country. Internationally it feeds the GOA's fears of isolation; internally it blocks the way to democratization. There is little if anything outsiders including the USG can do to help; the military's absolute opposition to any review of the "dirty war" simply cannot at this time be reconciled with the growing civilian demand for an accounting.

21. The GOA is intent on reducing the size of the public sector, taking the government out of economic activities it should not be in, selling off various government enterprises and providing increased incentives for private exploitation of the country's natural resources. Ex-President Ilia, among others, has asserted that the government's intentions amount to a sell-out to the "multi-nationals". Some of our well-meaning but poorly-informed Argentine friends have been warning us that US interests will suffer as our corporations are seen as devouring the national patrimony. In fact, there is little discernible foreign investment interest in Argentina outside the hydrocarbons field. There the GOA does not contemplate turning over sub-soil rights to private companies, contrary to press and other reports. There will be an effort to improve incentives for exploration and production and to get the notoriously inefficient state oil company YPF out of drilling and producing.

22. The political parties and human rights groups attach great importance to the USG's position on democratization in Argentina. They believe it critical that the GOA perceive its future relationship with the US as being conditioned by unmistakable movement toward a return to constitutional government. Former Foreign Minister Camilion publicly and privately asserted that to be the case after each of his visits to the US. We have taken the line here that the USG will be gratified to see a return to democracy but how and when that is to be accomplished is for the Argentines to decide. The principal element in this problem is not, of course, the attitude of the USG, but rather the issue of the disappeared.

23. The Malvinas/Falklands and Beagle problems do not concern us directly, but one or both could ultimately have a considerably greater impact on the bilateral relationship than any of the issues previously discussed. In the wake of another futile round with the British in New York, the Foreign Ministry has just issued a rather threatening statement on the Malvinas/Falklands/~~(sovereignty)~~ (ref B.A. [illegible] 1197). The purpose may have been no more than to satisfy domestic public opinion, but we cannot be certain. Clearly, a resolution of this ancient dispute is as far off as ever and the local jingoes are speculating again about an armed Argentine landing in the islands. We have reported previously on indications that the Argentines might like to enlist our support in getting the British to cede. From here the Pope's Beagle mediation appears stalemated with little realistic possibility for a breakthrough. At some point before the end of the year the Chileans will presumably take their case to The Hague, effectively putting an end to the mediation. How the dispute will evolve from then on is difficult to predict, but it seems likely that we will find ourselves involved, like it or not.

24. As a result of Argentina's free-market philosophy, there have been few problems in our economic relationship. The GOA is concerned over the effect of the Caribbean Basin initiative on its own sugar exports, one of its largest export items to the US market. There has been a running dispute over an Argentine export tax on raw hides, with the possibility of US retaliatory action in the next few months. A Section 301 petition has been filed alleging subsidized exports of certain metal products (carbon wire rods).

The GOA is concerned over the US policy on graduation in the MDB; financing for its large hydro-electric power projects is at stake. Our biggest issue in the commercial area is, of course, the interest of Allis-Chalmers and Westinghouse in contracts for the Yacyreta hydro-electric power project on the Parana river. And, finally, there is Argentine concern over our CCC credit sales and, more importantly, the concerns both countries share over the EEC's export policy. The Argentines argue that these export policies to third-country markets and the enlargement of the EEC are the cause of their heavy dependence on the Soviet market.

General Leopoldo Galtieri
President
Buenos Aires, Argentina
South America

Dear Mr. President:

It is my earnest hope that Argentina has entered a new era where respect for human rights will characterize your government's activities. Any improvements in this area will be supported and welcomed by the United States Congress.

I believe that the healing process could be enormously enhanced if the government would account for the thousands of Argentine citizens who have disappeared over the last six years. The following cases have been brought to my attention. I would like to request a report on the circumstances of these disappearances, the present whereabouts, and the well-being of these individuals.

Jose Francisco Schiller (#6,654,426) was kidnapped on June 14, 1976. His companion was informed that he was going to be sent to another country. Jose Antonio Claudio Lepore, (# 12,926,376) was returning home from work and disappeared. Mauricio Fabian Weinstein (O.A.S. case number 3807) was taken from his home in Buenos Aires on April 18, 1978 and has been disappeared ever since. Alberto Senar (# 5,994,641) disappeared on September 15, 1976 when his home was broken into by heavily armed individuals. Pablo Armando Lepiscopo (# 7,524,175) was kidnapped on August 5, 1979 in Buenos Aires. Juan Carlos, Jorge Arturo and Daniel Alberto Daroqui (# 4,976,813, 10,077,056, and 11,163,815) disappeared on September 12, 1977. Oscar Miranda was kidnapped from Buenos Aires on February 15, 1977. Viviana Ercilia Micucci and Daniel Bernardo Micucci have been missing since November 11, 1976. Their document numbers are 6,582,294 and 7,184,096. Eduardo Pablo Emilio Michaud disappeared from Buenos Aires on October 27, 1976. His identification number is 6,714,089. Francisco Bartucci disappeared from Buenos Aires on July 29, 1976. Federico Eduardo Alvarez Rojas (#6,015,717) has been missing since October 1, 1976.

A REQUEST FOR POLITICAL ASYLUM FOR THE ABOVE MENTIONED GUTIERREZ ESPINOZA AS WELL AS FOR TWO OTHER SALVADORANS, JOSE ANICETO NOVOA AND JAIME ANTONIO GOMEZ PALACIOS ALONG WITH THEIR RESPECTIVE SAFE CONDUCT PASSES.

II. THE PROOF. THE PROOF WHICH (DEMONSTRATES) THE PARTICIPATION OF THE INDIVIDUAL GUTIERREZ ESPINOZA IN THE FRENTE SANDINISTA DE LIBERACION NACIONAL, HIS TRAINING IN GUERRILLA WAR IN MEXICO AND HIS COMING TO EL SALVADOR TO JOIN THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS, AND THAT HIS CONTACT "JORGE" WORKED AT THE MEXICAN EMBASSY, IS BASED ON HIS EXTRAJUDICIAL CONFESSION TO THE NATIONAL POLICE. THE DECLARATION MADE BY THE ACCUSED AT POLICE HEADQUARTERS IS SUBSTANTIALLY DIFFERENT AND CONTRADICTS THE ONE FORMULATED BY HIM AT THE EMBASSY OF MEXICO. ACCORDING TO THE LATTER, THE INDIVIDUAL GUTIERREZ ESPINOZA WAS BEING FOLLOWED BY THE AUTHORITIES AND ACCORDINGLY ENTERED THE MEXICAN EMBASSY HURRIEDLY TO SEEK REFUGE. HE HAS ALSO AFFIRMED BEFORE MEXICAN OFFICIALS THAT HE WAS FORCED BY THE NATIONAL POLICE TO MAKE STATEMENTS THAT DEMOSTRATE HIS INVOLVEMENT WITH THE GUERRILLAS AND HAS STATED THAT HE IS A STUDENT IN MONTERREY. END QUOTE.

PARTICIPATION OF FOREIGN EXPERT OBSERVERS. THE SECOND AUTOPSY WOULD NOT ACTUALLY BE REQUESTED UNTIL THE FAMILY OBTAINS THE FIRST AUTOPSY REPORT AND DETERMINED WHETHER IT IS ACCEPTABLE.

4. THE CASE CONTINUES TO RECEIVE PROMINENT PRESS PLAY. PRESIDENT PINOCHET WAS Q EARLIER IN THE WEEK BY ALL THE PRESS TO THE EFFECT THAT JIMENEZ WAS ASSASSINATED BY COMMUNISTS. HE CLARIFIED HIS STATEMENT ON MARCH 4, CLAIMING THAT HE HAD BEEN MISQUOTED OR MISUNDERSTOOD AND THAT WHAT HE REALLY SAID WAS THAT THE MURDER COULD BENEFIT ONLY THE COMMUNISTS AND OTHER OPPONENTS OF THE GOC. SECRETARY GENERL OF GOVERNMENT, GEN. JULIO BRAVO, SAID THAT THE MURDER WAS BEING USED FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES BY OPPONENTS OF THE GOC AND WARNED THEM OF THE CONSEQUENCES OF DOING SO. THE HEAD OF THE CHILEAN NATIONAL SOCIALIST PARTY, ROBERTO THIEME, MADE THE INTERESTING STATEMENT THAT HE HAD NO DOUBT THAT THE MURDER WAS THE ACTION OF THE EQUIVALENT OF A "DEATH SQUAD." FORMER JUNTA MEMBER, GEN. GUSTAVO LEIGH TOLD THE MEDIA THAT IT WAS "A POLITICAL CRIME."

5. THE LETTER FROM AFL-CIO PRESIDENT KIRKLAND TO PRESIDENT REAGAN WAS ALSO REPORTED, ALTHOUGH NOT PROMINENTLY, AND IN A SANITIZED VERSION, I.E., THE LAST PARAGRAPH REQUESTING THE ADMINISTRATION TO HALT THE CERTIFICATION PROCESS FOR THE RESUMPTION OF MILITARY ASSISTANCE TO CHILE WAS NOT PRINTED.

HUMAN RIGHTS AND POLITICAL SOURCES WERE PRIVATELY CRITICAL OF KIRKLAND'S LETTER, SAYING THAT "IT WENT TOO FAR" IN ASKING FOR SANCTIONS AGAINST THE GOC AND IMPLYING THAT THE GOC MIGHT HAVE BEEN INVOLVED BEFORE EVIDENCE IS AVAILABLE TO SUPPORT SUCH A CONCLUSION. GROVER

SUBJECT: FMLN THREATS AGAINST VOTERS IN SALVADORAN ELECTIONS

1. SUMMARY: CONTRARY TO UNGO'S STATEMENTS TO THE PRESS IN THE UNITED STATES TO THE EFFECT THAT THE GUERRILLAS WILL NOT THREATEN SALVADORAN VOTERS, THE FMLN RECENTLY BROADCAST STATEMENTS SAYING PRECISELY THAT OVER REBEL RADIO. SAYING IN ITS MILITARY CAMPAIGN. END SUMMARY.

2. EMBASSY NOTES THAT IN RECENT DAYS, FDR PRESIDENT GUILLERMO UNGO HAS GIVEN SEVERAL INTERVIEWS TO THE US TELEVISION AND NEWSPAPER PRESS. IN AT LEAST ONE INSTANCE, UNGO REPORTEDLY STATED THAT THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS WOULD NOT THREATEN OR ATTACK VOTERS IN ORDER TO PREVENT THEM FROM VOTING IN THE ELECTIONS. ON 3/1/82 BY REBEL RADIO FARABUNDO MARTI. THE BROADCAST WAS AN INTERVIEW WITH "COMMANDER SALVADOR GUERRA, CHIEF OF THE GENERAL STAFF OF THE FMLN NORTHERN FRONT." THE PERTINENT PORTIONS OF THE INTERVIEW ARE SUMMARIZED BELOW.

3. THE INTERVIEWER (UNIDENTIFIED) ASKS COMMANDER GUERRA HOW "OUR PEOPLE" ARE TO PROMOTE A BOYCOTT AGAINST THE ELECTIONS IN THE CITY AND THE COUNTRYSIDE. IN HIS RESPONSE, THE FMLN COMMANDER MAKES THE FOLLOWING POINTS:
--THE PEOPLE ARE TO BUILD BARRICADES IN THE COUNTRYSIDE TO PREVENT FREE MOVEMENT.
--THE PEOPLE "MUST" REMAIN AT HOME.
--THE PEOPLE ARE NOT TO TRAVEL ON ELECTION DAY. THE GUERRILLA LEADER WARNS THAT HIS FORCES WILL ATTACK ALL ARMY AND OFFICIAL VEHICLES AND WILL MINE THE ROADS.
--THE PEOPLE ARE WARNED NOT TO TOUCH BARRICADES, BECAUSE THEY WILL BE MINED.
--THOSE PEOPLE WHO LIVE NEAR MILITARY GARRISONS ARE WARNED TO MOVE SO AS NOT TO BE INJURED WHEN THE GUERRILLAS ATTACK THE GARRISONS.

4. COMMENT: THERE ARE OBVIOUS DISCREPANCIES BETWEEN THE FDR LEADER'S STATEMENT THAT THE GUERRILLAS WILL NOT

THREATEN THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE WHO WISH TO PARTICIPATE IN THE ELECTIONS AND THE FMLN LEADER'S WARNINGS THAT THE PEOPLE ARE NOT TO TRAVEL, NOT TO CROSS BARRICADES, NOT TO LEAVE HOME, AND NOT TO REMAIN NEAR MILITARY GARRISONS ON ELECTION DAY. TWO LOGICAL CONCLUSIONS MAY BE DRAWN FROM THESE DISCREPANCIES:
(1) GUILLERMO UNGO AND THE FDR DO NOT SPEAK FOR THE GUERRILLAS AND THE FMLN.
(2) GUILLERMO UNGO AND THE FDR ARE INTENTIONALLY MISSTATING THE POLICY OF THE FMLN AS PART OF AN ORGANIZED PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN.
EITHER CONCLUSION SUGGESTS THAT THE STATEMENTS OF THE FDR SHOULD BE ANALIZED WITH SOME SKEPTICISM BY THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS AND THOSE GOVERNMENTS THAT DEAL WITH THE FDR.

5. ONE ADDITIONAL POINT SEEMS TO BE CLEARLY ESTABLISHED BY THE FMLN RADIO INTERVIEW OF 3/1/82 -- THE REVOLUTIONARY LEFT IS USING THREAT AND INTIMIDATION TO PREVENT SALVADORANS FROM VOTING IN THE NATIONAL ELECTIONS ON MARCH 28. WHETHER THE GUERRILLAS WILL CARRY OUT THOSE THREATS ON ELECTION DAY REMAINS TO BE SEEN. THERE ARE MANY INDICATIONS WHICH SUGGEST THAT THEY WILL.

6. DEPARTMENT MAY WISH TO TRANSMIT THIS MESSAGE TO OTHER POSTS WHOSE GOVERNMENTS ARE STILL CONSIDERING WHETHER

EL OBJETIVO DE VENIR A EL SALVADOR NO ES VOLUNTARIO SI NO QUE UN COMPROMISO QUE TENIA CON MI JEFE PORQUE EL ME DIJO QUE EL TIEMPO QUE YO IBA A PASAR EN EL SALVADOR ERA POCO Y DESPUES DE ESTO NADIE MAS ME IBA A MOLESTAR Y YO PODRIA ESTUDIAR SIN PROBLEMAS Y MI FAMILIA NADIE ME LA IBA A MOLESTAR MAS.
LO QUE YO VENIA A HACER AL SALVADOR ERA NO MAS UNA OBLIGACION DE CAPACITAR GENTE DE ESTE PAIS PARA QUE SIGAN LUCHANDO POR SU LIBERACION, MI OBLIGACION ES IMPARTIR MIS CONOCIMIENTOS COMO UN TECNICO EN EXPLOSIVOS, ARMAMENTO, TACTICA DE GUERRILLA, APOYO LOGISTICO Y OTROS ESPECIALIDADES.
YO NO TRAIA TIEMPO DETERMINADO PARA PERMANECER EN EL PAIS, LO QUE SE ME ENCOMENDO POR WILLIAM FUE EL TIEMPO QUE ME TARDARA PARA QUE LA GENTE ASIMILARA LOS CONOCIMIENTOS QUE YO IBA A IMPARTIR, DESPUES ME IBA A REGRESAR PARA MEXICO A SEGUIR ESTUDIANO EN MI CARRERA.
DURANTE EL TIEMPO QUE PERMANECI EN MEXICO TUBE CONOCIMIENTO QUE UN PARTIDO DE MEXICO NOS ESTABA PROPORCIONANDO AYUNDA Y ES EL P.R.I. PARTIDO REVOLUCIONARIO INSTITUCIONAL, QUE ES EL QUE ACTUALMENTE ESTA EN EL PODER.
LA AYUDA QUE TENIAMOS ERA DE PROPORCIONARNOS UN INSTITUTO DE GOBIERNO PARA RECIBIR NUESTROS CURSOS.
A LA ORGANIZACION QUE VENIA DESIGNADO ERA PARA EL F.M.L.N. PORQUE DAVID ES DE ESTE MISMO PARTIDO EXTREMISTA.
EL CARGO QUE TENDRIA AL UNIRME A LA GUERRILLA EN EL SALVADOR ERA DE SEGUNDO JEFE EN UN CAMPAMENTO.

GUARDIAS SOMOCISTAS FORNADO UNICAMENTE POR 8 GUARDIAS Y A CARGO DE
SOLAMENTE ESE BARRIO SAN FELIPE HABPUN 250 COMBATIENTES SANDINISTAS
CON QUIENES ELIMINAMOS POR COMPLETO TODO ESE PUESTO QUE SE ENCON-TRABA EN ESE BARRIO O SEA QUE LOS MATAMOS A TODOS LOS GUARDIAS.
PUES POSTERIORNENTE PASAMOS A HACER CENSOS DE CASA POR
CASA DEL BARRIO SAN FELIPE, TOMANDO NOTA DE QUE CUANTOS HABITABAN EN
CADA CAS,,SEXOS, EDADES Y QUE SI QUERIAN PARTICIPAR EN LA LUCHA

BUENO PUES COMO LA CIUDAD DE JINOTEPE ESTABA COMPUESTA POR 7 BARRIOS QUE ERAN: BARRIO SAN FELIPE, BARRIO EL CALVARIO, BARRIO SAN ANTONIO, BARRIO LOS MAMEY, BARRIO LOS AGUACATES, BARRIO EL CHORIZO Y
BARRIO EL CEMENTERIO, PUES PARA LA TOMA DE DICHA CIUDAD DE JINOTEPE
CONTABAMOS APROXIMADAMENTE CON 1000 HOMBRES COMBATIENTES SANDINIS-
TAS Y LAS TOMAS A DICHA CIUDAD LAS IBAMOS HACIENDO POR BARRIOS EN
UNA FORMA COMBINADA, HABIENDONOS TOMADO PRIMERO EL BARRIO SAN FELIPE QUE ERA EN DONDEHYO VIVIA EN ESE ENTJCES CON MIS ABUELOS, QUIENES
MI ABUELA YA MURIO DESPUES DE LA INSURRECCION Y MIPEBUELO VIVE EN

PUES A TODO ESTO YO YA ERA DE OTRA ORGANIZACION
JUNTAMENTE CON LUIS RODRIGUEZ Y ERA DEL M.E.S. MOVIMIENTO ESTUDIANTIL
DE SECUNDARIA Y LA FECHA EN QUE PASE A DICHA ORGANIZACION EN EL MES
DE ENERO DE 1979 TODAVIA ERA MI JEFE LUIS RODRIGUEZ QUIEN YA MURIO
EN UN ENFRENTAMIENTO CON LOS GUARDIAS SOMOCISTAS.

OBLIGACION PORQUE EL QUE NO IBA A LAS CORTAS PERDIA UN SEMESTRE
DE ESTUDIOS Y 2 SEMESTRES MAS Y QUEDABA FICHADO TAMBIEN. ESTO FUE EN EL
MES DE SEPTIEMBRE, OCTUBRE, NOVIEMBRE Y DICIEMBRE DEL 80.
PUES COMO YO VIAJE PARA MEXICO EL 15 DE FEBRERO DE 1981, Y
QUIEN ME MANDO PARA MEXICO FUE WILMER GARCIA JEFE DE LA JUVENTUD

FRAGMENTOS, YLAS DE MOLOTOV, SE USA GASOLINA ACEITE Y LA MEZCLA NADA MAS.
PUES EL APOYO LOGISTICO SE SABE DE ZONAS DE ATERRIZAJE CAMUFLAJES REFUGIOS, TACTICAS DE GUERILLAS, SON TRES: TACTICAS DE DESGASTE, TACTICAS DE ACORRALAMIENTOS, TACTICA DE DESTRUCCION DE FUERZAS Y TACTICAS DE HOSTIGAMIENTO Y LOS MOVIMIENTOS DE DESTRUCION TOTAL.
PERO A MI WILLIAM ME DIJO QUE HABIAN OTROS LUGARES DE ENTRENAMIENTO EN MEXICO WUE SON: JALISCO ZACATECAS Y DURANGO Y CHIAPAS. EN ESOS LUGARES HAY CAMPOS DE ENTRENAMIENTO PARA ESPECIALIZARSE Y VENIR A LUCHAR A EL SALVADOR PERO IGNORO LA CANTIDAD DE GENETE ESTABAN ENTRENANDO EN ESOS LUGARES, PUES YA EN EL QUE YO ESTABA HABIA 40 HOMBERS, PERO EN ESE INSTITUTO EN DONDE TO ESTABA EN MEXICO, ENTRE TODOS HABIAN COMO 20 SALVADORENOS, COMO 6 MEXICANOS Y EL RESTO ERAMOS NICARAGUENCES PREPARANDONES PARA VENIR APOYAR LA LUCHA AQUI EN SAL SALVADOR.
BUENO EN NICARAGUA SE ENCUENTRAN APROSIMADAMENTE COMO 3000 CUBANOS QUE SE ENCARGAN DE DARLES ENTRENAMIENTO A TODOS LOS COMBATIENTES EN LAS REGIONES DE LA COSTA ATLANTICA, REGION DE RIVAS, REGION DE LA LAGUNA, REGION DE PERLAS, RIO DE SAN JUAN, REGION DE BONANZAS Y LA REGION COMPRENDIDA DEL RIO RAMOS EN NICARAGUA Y SE ENCUENTRAN COMO 5000 COMBATIENTES ENTRE ELLOS: RUSOS, CUBANOS, PANAMENOS, NICARAGUENSES, SALVADORENOS, MEXICANOS, APARTE DE LA JUVENTUD SANDINISTA QUE SON LOS QUE SE ENCARGAN DE IMPARTIR LA [redacted]

CLASE DE LAFABETIZACION POLITICA PERO AHORA YA NO SE LLAMA JUVENTUD SANDINISTA SI NO QUE FRENTE SANDINISTA PORQUE YA PASARON A LAS MILICIAS POPULARES A COMBATIR.
PUES TODA ESA GENTE QUE SE ESTAN ENTRENANDO EN LOS LUGARES QUE LE MENCIONE, UNA PARTE LA VAN A MANDAR A COMBATIR AQUI A EL SALVADOR, IGNORO LA FECHA QUE VAN A MANDAR ESA GENTE A LUCHAR A ESTE PAIS, POR RAZONES DE QUE ESO ES UN SECRETO PORQUE ESOS LUGARES SON AISLADOS, QUE EL QUE LLEGA ALLI NO SABW PORQUE SON CAMPOS MILITARES DE ENTRENAMIENTOS PORQUE CASI POR LO GENERAL

SOLAMENTE LLEGAN GENTE CLANDESITINAS DE OTROS PAISES PORQUE ES UN LUGAR MONTANOSO SECRETO.
PUES LA OTRA PARTE DE COMBATIENTES LA VAN A OCUPAR PARA LUCHAR EN LA INVASION DE LOS GUARDIS SOMOCISTAS QUE SE ESTAN ENTRENANDO EN HONDURAS CON APOYO DE LOS EE. UU. Y SE TIREN A UNA RECONTRAREVOLUCION EN NICARAGUA PARA ESO SE TIENE ESA PARTE DE COMBATIENTES Y LA OTRA PARTE SE MANDARA ACA A EL SALVADOR A COMBATIR.
PUES COMO EN MEXICO ESTABA CONMIGO UN CHANACO DE SEUDONIMO JORGE QUE ERBIEL SUPERVISOR DE TODS LOS CAMPOS DE ENTRENAMIENTO EN MEXICO COMO: COHAUILA, ZACATECAS, JALISCO, DURANGO Y CHIAPAS.
Y EN EL MES DE ENRO DE ESTE ANO 82 SE VINO PARA ACA EL SALVADOR.
QUE EL CARGO DE EL AQUI ES JEFE DE LA RESISTENCIA URBANA, PERO ESTE JORGE ES DE NACIONALIDAD NICRAGUENSE Y TODOS LOS DOCUMENTOS QUE PORTA SON FALSOS PORQUE ME IMAGINO QUE EL GOBIERNO MEXICANO SE LO EXTENDIO Y COMO EL FRENTE SANDINISTA ESTA EN CONTACTO CON EL GOBIERNO MEXICANO Y TRABAJA
ESTE JORGE EN LA EMBAJADA DE MEXICO AQUI EN EL SALVADOR, EL CARGO LO IGNORO, PERO CREO QUE ES UNO DE COLABORADORES DEL EMBAJADOR MEXICANO Y ESTE JORGE ES EL QUE CONTACTA O SEA QUE EL QUE COORDINA LOS MOVIMIENTOS DE LA GUERRILLA DOTRE EL SALVADOR Y MEXICO Y EU EL QUE TIENE TODOS LOS CONTACTOS CON TODOS LOS GRUPOS GUERRILLEROS QUE OPERABAN EN ESTE PAIS, EL TINE TODOS LOS CONTACTOS Y CONOCE TODAS LAS CASAS DE SEGURIDAD DONDE ESTAN TODOS LOS BUZONES Y DAVID ES EL 2DO JEFE DE JORGE Y ES EL QUE SE ENCARGA

BUENO YO SALI EL MARTES 16 DE FEBRERO DE MEXICO PARA ACA A EL SALVADOR Y ERA MANDADO POR WILLIAN EN DONDE ESTE ME DIJO QUE AL LLEGAR A EL SALVADOR EN EL DESVIO A APANECA DEPT. DE AHUACHAPAN ME IBA A ESTAR ESPERANDO DAVID EL DIA DOMINGO O LUNES PASADO Y LA SENA PARA CONOCERLOS IBA A SER LA MOCHILA QUE PORTABA. PERO YO YA TRAIA NOMBRADO MI CARGO DE MEXICO ACA A EL SALVADOR QUE ERA DE 2DO JEFE DE UN CAMPAMENTO Y ADEMAS ASESOR TECNICO EN ARMAS, NOGISTICA
EXPLOSIVOS Y POLITICA. PORQUE IABA ADIESTRAR GENTE EN ESE CAMPAMENTO QUE LO IGNORO A DONDE QUEDE PORQUE QUIEN ME IBA A LLEVAR ERA DAVID A DICHO CAMPAMENTO PORO QUE QUEDABA EN LA ZONA ORIENTAL ME DIJO WILLIAM EN MEXICO CUANDO PARTI. PERO COMO ME CAPTURARON EL DIA SABADO PERDU EL CONTACTO CON DAVDD.
PERO DE TODOS MODOS ME DIJO WILLIAM QUE SI PERDIA EL CONTACTO YO CON DAVID EN LA FRONTERA, QUE ME FUERA PARA SAN SALVADOR, EN LA EMBAJADA DE MEXICO QUE ALLI IBA A ESTAR JORGE QUE ES EL PROPRIO JEFE Y TAMBIEN IBA A ESTAR DAVID PORQUE ES EL SEGUNDO JEFE DE JORGUE. PORQUE ESTE JORGE ES EMPLEADO DE LA EMBAJADA DE MEXICO AQUI EN EL SALVADOR.
PUES A MI ME MANDARON PARA ACA A EL SALVADOR FUE CON EL PROPOSITO DE ADIESTRAR GENETE COMBATIENTE Y PREPARARLA PARA EL MES DE MARZO

EMBASSY, THE EMBASSY GATE WAS BEING OPEN TO ALLOW A VEHICLE TO DEPART. AT THAT TIME GUTIERREZ ASKED ONE OF THE PERSONS INSIDE THE COMPOUND, "WHO IS JORGE?" IMMEDIATELY ANOTHER INDIVIDUAL, IN A VIOLENT MANNER, GRABBED GUTIERREZ BY THE ARM AND PULLED HIM INTO THE EMBASSY. WHEN THE NATIONA POLICE AGENTS TRIED TO TAKE HIM AWAY, THE SAID INDIVIDUAL INFORMED THEM THAT THEY WERE NOT ABLE TO ENTER THE EMBASSY PREMISES AS IT IS CONSIDERED MEXICAN TERRITORY. AT THE SAME MOMENT, TWO OTHER INDIVIDUALS ARRIVED AND TOOK GUTIERREZ INTO THE EMBASSY BUILDING. IT IS PRESUMED BY THE POLICE THAT THE INDIVIDUAL WHO GRABBED GUTIERREZ' ARM IS THE INDIIVIDUAL KNOWN AS JORGE BECAUSE, ALTHOUGH THE AGENTS IDENTIFIED THEMSELVES AS NATIONAL POLICE USING THEIR POLICE IDENTIFICATION, THEY DID NOT RELEASE GUTIERREZ. LATER THE SAME DAY, MR. CARLOS EDUARDO AMEZQUITA MARTINEZ, MEXICAN CHARGE D' AFFAIRES, ASKED FOR POLITICAL ASYLUM FOR GUTIERREZ AND TWO SALVADORANS ALONG WITH SAFE CONDUCT PASSES FOR THE THREE INDIVIDUALS. THE NATIONAL POLICEMEN WHO ACCOMPANIED GUTIERREZ TO THE MEXICAN EMBASSY MADE A COMSPOSITE OF THE INDIVIDUAL WHO HAD GRABBED GUTIERREZ AND PULLED HIM INTO THE COMPAOUND. THE COMPOSITE IS AN IDENTICAL LIKENESS OF THE MEXICAN CHARGE D' AFFAIRES. IT IS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT THE CAPTURED SANDINISTA GUTIERREZ IS STILL LOCATED IN THE MEXICAN EMBASSY AWAITING GOES DECISION REGARDING THE [redacted]

MEXICAN REQUEST FOR POLITICAL ASYLUM AND SAFE CONDUCT OUT OF THE COUNTRY.

3. DOCUMENTATION IN THE POSSESSION OF THE GOES AUTHORITIES:

A. CAPTURED SANDINISTA GUTIERREZ' NICARAGUAN PASSPORT WICH DOES NOT BEAR AN ENTRY STAMP FOR EL SALVADOR.

B. STATEMENT MADE TO THE GOES AUTHORITIES BY GUTIERREZ THAT HE RESIDED AT VISTA IDEAL NO. 517, COLONIA LINDA VISTA, GUADALUPE, MONTERRY, NUEVO LEON.

ONCE IN MEXICO, THE GROUP CONTACTED A NICARAGUAN NAMED "WILLIAM", WHOM GUTIERREZ IDENTIFIES AS THE FORMER FSLN COMMANDER OF THE SOUTHERN FRONT DURING THE NICARAGUAN REVOLUTION. GUTIERREZ REMAINDED AT THE GUERRILLA TRAINING SCHOOL IN MEXICO FROM 2/20/81 UNTIL SPETEMBER 1981. HE REPORTS THAT THERE WERE APPROXIAMTELY 40 TRAINEES AT THE INSTITUTE. WERE THREE INSTRUCTORS -- TWO NICARAGUANS AND ONE CUBAN. THE STUDENTS WERE THAUGHT SOPHISTICATED GUERRILLA TACTICS, INSTRUCTED IN THE USE OF VARIOUS WEAPONS AND EXPLOSIVES, AND TRAINED IN GUERRILLA LOGISTICS. HE DESCRIBES THE COURSE AS AN ADVANCED GUERRILL TRAINING COURSE. GUTIERREZ LEARNED THAT THERE WERE SIMILAR GUERRILLA TRAINING CAMPS IN JALISCO, ZACATECAS, DURANGO, AND CHIAPAS -- ALL IN MEXICO. HE REPORTS AS WELL THAT THEY WERE RECEIVING HELP FROM THE PRI.

7. IN JANUARY, 1982, GUTIERREZ WAS INFORMED BY HIS CHIEF INSTRUCTOR "WILLIAM" THAT HE WAS TO BE TRANSFERRED TO EL SALVADOR. HE WAS TO BECOME THE SECOND-IN-COMMAND AT A GUERRILLA CAMP SOMEWHERE IN EASTERN EL SALVADOR. HIS PRIMARY FUNCTION WOULD BE THE TRAINING OF THE INEXPERIENCED SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. GUTIERREZ DEPARTED FOR EL SALVADOR ON 2/16/82. HE TRAVELED WITH A GROUP OF NINE OTHER GUERRILAS. THE OTHERS CARRIED MEXICAN PASSPORTS AND DOCUMENTATION. HE WAS GIVEN A SMALL SUM OF MEXICAN PEOS AND TOLD [redacted]

THAT HIS MONTHLY SALARY WOULD BE 300 U.S. DOLLARS. GUTIERREZ CLAIMS THAT HE THOUGHT THAT HE WOULD REMAIN IN EL SALVADOR FOR ONLY A SHORT TIME. HE WAS TO STAY ONLY SO LONG AS IT TOOK HIM TO TRAIN HIS GUERRILLA UNIT. HE WAS GIVEN TO BELIEVE THAT THE FMLN WOULD LAUNCH A MAJOR OFFENSIVE IN EL SALVADOR ON 3/10/82.

8. GUTIERREZ' ODERS STATED THAT HE WAS TO MEET A CONTACT CODE-NAMED "DAVID" OUTSIDE THE TOWN OF APANECA, AHUACHAPAN DEPARTMENT, EL SALVADOR ON 2/21/82. DAVID, IN TURN, WAS TO GUIDE HIM TO HIS GUERRILLA UNIT. NOTE: AT THE BEGINNING OG HIS STATEMENT, GUTIERREZ SAID THAT HIS GUERRILLA CAMP WAS LOCATED ON THE SAN VICENTE VOLCANO. AT THE END OF HIS STATEMENT, HE CLAIMS THAT HE DOES NOT KNOW WHERE HE WAS TO SERVE.

INTRODUCTION

The report that follows is an attempt to outline in a brief and objective manner the principal violations of fundamental human rights committed by the military regime of Argentina between November 1980 and February 1982.

This paper is a continuation of the document published in November 1980 by the Center for Legal and Social Studies (CELS), which covers events of the same type produced in the period from October 1979 to October 1980. The first of these dates corresponds to the conclusion of the period analyzed by the Inter-American Commission for Human Rights (IACHR) of the Organization of American States (OAS) in its Report on the Situation of Human Rights in Argentina. (Washington, D.C., April 11, 1980, document OEA/Ser. L/V/11.49 - doc. 19).

To a certain extent, these two publications of CELS update the analysis accomplished by the IACHR and offer an up-to-date overview of the Argentine problem.

The sequence of the material follows, in general, the order established by the Inter-American Commission in its Report, which in turn is based on the Inter-American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man.

In preparing this report, we used the archives of the program of Documentation, Investigation and Publications of CELS, which includes newspapers clippings, brochures, magazines, books, declarations, and first-hand testimonies. Prominent among this material is the Noticiero, published monthly by the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights; and the List of Detained-Disappeared Persons Registered in the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights, printed in 1981 by that institution. Also included are accounts provided by the other movements and organizations devoted to the defense of human rights in the country and accounts derived from meetings of relatives of victims of repression.

THE SITUATION

The Republic of Argentina continues to be governed by a de facto military regime. Its only authority derives from the act of force by the armed forces on March 24, 1976. On this occasion the commanders of the three forces constituted a military Junta, sanctioned a so-called Statute of the Process of National Reorganization which explicitly amends fundamental clauses of the national Constitution and takes precedence over it. The military Junta has taken over the entirety of the State's powers, without limitations of any kind, even though it delegates administration to a President of the Nation, who exercises legislative and executive powers. However, the President does not have jurisdiction over the armed forces; they respond to their respective Commanders-in-Chief. Moreover, to a certain extent, the President does not have jurisdiction over the security forces, as they are subordinates of the Army.

In addition to this Statute -- characteristic of absolute military dictatorships -- a very substantial body of emergency laws has been promulgated. This is outlined in the previous reports. In addition, a state of siege, as provided for in Article 23 of the national Constitution for cases of "internal commotion or external attack," is in effect and has been prolonged indefinitely, without justification.

The consequence is that the people of Argentina have been deprived of any form of participation or influence in managing their destiny and are subject to the dictates of the de facto government. Political and trade union activity is legally suspended; the unions and political factions function openly, although always subject to irrationally imposed penalty or harassment.

The judiciary is seriously hampered in exercising its functions, not only because its members lack tenure and must swear to uphold the so-called Statute of the Process, but also because it is denied any cooperation from other public authorities or from the security forces in investigating the cases that involve the repressive system. In addition, the political identification of many magistrates with the ideology of the military regime, and the weakness or fearfulness of others, severely limits judicial independence and the capacity of the judiciary to guarantee constitutional rights.

Two aspects of the situation in Argentina, however, further darken the situation. The first is the permanence of a secret code promulgated by the commanders of the armed forces in the second half of 1975 and fully enforced since the military coup of March 24, 1976.

This code, the content of which can be inferred from the events since then and from many statements by high officers of the three armed forces, established the character of the repression to be carried out. The nature of the operations arising from this secret code is confirmed by the testimony of people who were imprisoned for long or short periods in secret detention centers where they were interrogated and tortured and, for various reasons, subsequently transferred to public prisons or released.

According to what is known, the key provision in this doctrine of war against subversion provides for the arrest of suspects and political opponents by armed groups without identification -- although official vehicles and uniformed support personnel have frequently been used for this purpose -- and the subsequent disappearance sine die of the detainees.

It is presumed that the vast majority of detained-disappeared persons have been secretly killed, their bodies cremated or buried in common graves, or thrown from planes into the sea or into the Río de la Plata. This system of repression also includes the systematic use of torture; the distribution as war booty of the property of the disappeared; the absolute impunity of those responsible for disappearances; and governmental silence.

The operative structure organized for these ends remains intact and the secret legislation which authorizes those acts has not been abolished. This is the most serious aspect of the Argentine human rights situation. Its continuing significance is illustrated at the time of this writing by the detention, disappearance, and discovery of the body of Ana María Martínez, a socialist activist.

The second matter that characterizes the present Argentine picture is the refusal of the armed forces to furnish information about the thousands of detained-disappeared persons -- and the open effort of the armed forces to prohibit any investigation, even by the judiciary. The armed forces demand that the political parties go along with this as a prerequisite for the restoration of the constitutional system.

It is necessary to also note the continuing confinement of approximately 600 prisoners held without trial at the disposition of the national Executive Power, most of whom have already been held for five or more years; the constant insecurity and censorship caused by the periodic repetition of violent assaults that are never explained; the restriction of political, trade union and cultural liberties, and of freedom of expression; the lack of independence of the judiciary; and the political and economic insecurity that has brought recession, inflation, bankruptcy of the productive structure, and large-scale unemployment.

It is important to note, however, as a positive development, the evident but gradual reaction of the Argentine society against this state of affairs, facilitated in part by the exhaustion and collapse of the military regime. This reaction is marked by greater popular awareness of crimes of repression and by frequent public demonstrations -- previously limited to the mothers of the disappeared in the Plaza de Mayo. There is greater press coverage of violations of human rights, and a critical spirit has developed in editorials, commentaries, speeches, statements, and in the growing activity of organizations dedicated to the defense of constitutional liberties and human dignity.

It would seem difficult, given the advanced and accelerated deterioration of the military regime and the renewed activity in civilian life, that this situation might again regress. It is evident that the leadership of the armed forces is attempting a negotiated exit, while retaining significant power, and seeking a guarantee that there will be no review of the repressive system. Time will tell whether these objectives will be achieved or whether a new period of Argentine history will begin with full restoration of the sovereignty of the people and of constitutional rights. In any event, the possibility of a new wave of repression should not be ignored, perhaps with different methods from those with which we are familiar.

Finally, we note the continuing confinement of those condemned by military tribunals to serve long sentences, based either on confessions obtained through torture, or simply through arbitrary trials without any right to a defense.

1. Disappearances and Deaths

Gerardo María Brugo Marcó. In November 1981 CELS learned that, on the previous March 23, Brugo had been arrested in Buenos Aires. From the time of his arrest, nothing has been heard of him. The father of the victim had reported the disappearance to the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights and on August 18, 1981, had filed a petition of habeas corpus with the courts, with negative results. Gerardo Brugo had been politically involved in the Peronist movement in the province of Santa Cruz during the last constitutional government and, since 1976, had worked as a taxi-driver in Buenos Aires.

In spite of the publication on January 6, 1982, of a statement by several organizations for the defense of human rights, the military regime has maintained absolute silence on this incident.

Héctor Orlando Piñón and Jorge Magrino. During the second week of January 1981, the workers Piñón and Magrino were arrested at their homes, located respectively in Haedo and Hurlingham in the province of Buenos Aires, on the outskirts of the federal capital.

For many days there was no information about them. The authorities responded to the petition of habeas corpus presented to the court by asserting that the two men had not been detained. Several institutions for the defense of human rights condemned the episode, and the two men were freed three days later on a public thoroughfare after having been interrogated and tortured. Both were union officials in the factories where they worked.

Oscar Alberto Guida and Estela María de la Canal de Guida. On March 27, 1981, they were arrested by uniformed men on the street in La Plata. Because of the lack of news about them, a public complaint was formulated and, on the 29th of March, the police of the province of Buenos Aires acknowledged that the couple had been arrested at the order of the federal judge of La Plata for a violation of Law 21.323, which prohibits the publication of political views.

Angel Romano. He was arrested on March 27, 1981, at his home in the suburban city of Quilmes by three heavily armed plainclothesmen. The habeas corpus petition presented to the court was unsuccessful. However, after a public statement by several organizations for the protection of human rights was reported by the newspapers on April 2, 1981, results were obtained. On April 3, the chief of police of Buenos Aires, General Oscar Guerrero, acknowledged that Angel Romano was arrested for illicit association, multiple robberies and failure to disclose crimes.

The judge ordered the definite dismissal of charges against Romano and his release for insufficient evidence. Upon being freed, Romano disclosed that his interrogation, which was accompanied by severe torture, was of a political nature. He reported that this treatment ended on the date that the statement by the human rights organizations was published. It is evident that the accusation of robbery was a pretext to justify the arrest. At any rate, there was an obvious violation of basic rights, depriving Romano of his liberty without informing his family, and suppression of information on the matter until the magistrate responded to the habeas corpus petition. Romano was also an active union member.

Horacio Alberto Castro. Castro was arrested in his home at Calle Federico Cantoni 1773 of the El Retiro neighborhood in the city and province of San Juan, on April 22, 1981, at about 5:00 p.m. In charge of the procedure, which took several hours, was an armed group that claimed to belong to the federal police. The arrest was carried out in the presence of the victim's mother and sister.

The authorities denied that the arrest had taken place and announced that they would investigate. The same response was given to the petition of habeas corpus.

On April 26, the police made it known that Castro's body had been found in the vicinity of En Encón in the neighboring province of San Luis, in a solitary place near national route 147 and at a distance of 160 kilometers from San Juan. Castro had been killed by 36 gunshots. His body showed signs of torture and of having been handcuffed.

The alleged investigation of this matter has apparently been forgotten by the authorities; no results have been reported. The mother of the murdered victim held a press conference on May 21, 1981, in CELS headquarters. It was well covered by newspapers from the entire country.

Horacio Castro, 35 years old, was affiliated with the Socialist Workers Party and had participated some months before in a peaceful strike by the Union of Automotive and Tramway Workers in the city of San Juan.

Miguel Sarangelo. Miguel Sarangelo, an artist, was arrested at 9:00 p.m. by an armed group in his home at Estados Unidos 1614, in the federal capital. Near midnight, another group similarly dressed in civilian clothes broke into Sarangelo's home and searched it thoroughly, knocking pictures and sculptures to the floor. Faced with a lack of news, his family filed an habeas corpus petition and made public statements that appeared in the newspapers on July 24. On or about July 28, the federal police made it known that Sarangelo had been detained in police precinct number 40 for an infraction of Law 20.771 dealing with possession and trafficking of drugs.

This is another arrest that, although it appears to involve a legally punishable offense, was not disclosed for a period of 11 days. Accordingly, it is a case of disappearance and a violation of the fundamental rule of the Code of Criminal Procedures.

Isabel Beatriz Angel. On July 30, 1981, the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights announced the disappearance in Córdoba of Ms. Angel, a member of a leftist political party. This was based on information provided by her family. A few days later, Third Army Corps headquarters in Córdoba responded that Isabel Angel had been at the house of a friend without giving notice to her parents. Actually, according to the information subsequently obtained by the Permanent Assembly, Ms. Angel had suffered a sudden illness and had been admitted to a hospital, without disclosing her identity to the authorities and without communicating her whereabouts to her family.

The alarm raised by her temporary disappearance, and the fact that an habeas corpus action was filed, reflect a persisting climate of insecurity in the country, whereby relatives presume the involvement of security forces which may end in the disappearance of the victim, as in so many thousands of earlier cases.

Bruno Daniel Vetere. On August 3, 1981, the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights announced the arrest and disappearance of Bruno Daniel Vetere, imprisoned by a squad of the federal police in San Miguel, a suburb of Buenos Aires on July 29, 1981, around 5:00 p.m. This incident took place in the presence of the victim's father, who was in the waiting room of a doctor's office. Heavily armed plainclothesmen burst in and forced Mr. Vetere to take them to Daniel, who was waiting for his father in the family car. When they saw him, they ran toward him threatening him with a high-caliber machine gun, and arrested him.

On the same day, the Vetere home in the suburb of José C. Paz was broken into by an armed group that searched Bruno Daniel's room, taking documents and personal belongings. Both procedures were carried out with great violence and display of weapons, in spite of the total lack of resistance by the victim and his relatives.

After this incident was reported in the newspapers on August 4, the federal police and the Third Army Corps disclosed the following day that Vetere had been arrested and prosecuted for an alleged homicide on July 26, in the city of Córdoba, where he resided.

Once again, for five days no one informed the family about the place of detention of one of its members, a situation that surely would have been prolonged if it had not been given public attention, and had not the human rights institutions intervened with an habeas corpus petition.

Fernando Olguín Figueroa. The national press reported on May 24, 1981, that the remains of Corporal Olguín of the Argentine air force had been buried in the cemetery of the city of Mendoza. The circumstances of his death were not revealed. The family received the body with orders not to open the coffin and to bury the body immediately. The air force did not disclose the cause of death, thereby raising obvious questions.

Corporal Olguín Figueroa had deserted a few weeks previously together with a companion, Omar Juárez Gómez, both non-commissioned officers of the Air Force. The two had taken refuge in Chilean territory. They were returned by Chilean authorities to Argentine officials.

Nothing is known of the original charges against Olguín Figueroa and his companion Juárez Gómez nor of the punishment that Juárez Gómez may have received.

Eloy Fidel Santander. During the first days of November 1981, the family of the soldier Eloy Santander, a draftee based in Mendoza, received his sealed coffin, with instructions to bury him without opening it. The day before, the father of the victim had gone to the General Espejo military school, where his son was performing his military service, and discovered there that his son had died. He was told that his son had committed suicide.

Mr. Santander opened the coffin and, contrary to the version he had been given that the youth had slit his wrists and then shot himself in the head, he found that the bullet hole was situated in the neck.

On November 4, Colonel Nemesio Schrch, director of the military school, published an account with a different version. It stated that Eloy killed himself by pressing a rifle against his jawbone on the right side and shooting.

We are faced with another case of a mysterious death in a military unit.

Antonio Rubén Albornoz. The newspapers of September 25, 1981, related an episode, confirmed later by military authorities, which clearly shows a violation of fundamental human rights of citizens performing their legal duty to serve in the military.

In the air force barracks in the city of Córdoba, after a theft of cigarettes, draftees were interrogated to discover who was responsible. Since the draftees refused to accuse anyone, police officials and three junior officers ordered a punishment of prolonged violent exercise. Two draftees, Leonardo Abregu and Antonio Rubén Albornoz, collapsed from exhaustion. Both suffered acute cardiac arrest, of which Albornoz died.

This event was kept quiet until it was reported in the press, which elicited an official communiqué indicating that the responsible officials were being indicted. However, the names of those involved have not been made public and there is no news, so far, of the results of the investigation nor of any penalties having been imposed.

Julio Bárbaro and Juan Carlos Gallego. On September 2, 1981, around 5:30 p.m., a group of armed men who identified themselves as belonging to the federal police, arrested two leaders of the Partido Justicialista at Calle Libertad 434, in the capital. This took place with great display of men, arms and cars, creating considerable alarm. Human rights organizations and political parties issued strongly-worded statements about the incident. The authorities denied their participation and reaffirmed this denial before the judge at the habeas corpus hearing. One of the participants in the breaking and entry had said at the time that he was acting on orders from Colonel Arias Duval, head of the Security Division of the Federal Police.

The event gained national and international notoriety, giving rise to a number of protests. Finally, after 55 hours, Bárbaro and Gallego were released on a street. In a press conference called by the Permanent Assembly of Human Rights, they explained that they had been interrogated, while blindfolded, about their political activities and those of the party to which they belong. They were also questioned about many issues of national interest.

The victims were transported by automobile for several hours. They not know where they had been held during the kidnapping.

In spite of emphatic official statements about finding and punishing the individuals responsible for this serious episode -- who were apparently connected with an intelligence agency -- no information has yet been disclosed.

Ana María Martínez. The victim was arrested on February 4, 1982, at 8:30 p.m. in her home in the Villa de Mayo neighborhood in the district of General Sarmiento, province of Buenos Aires, in the presence of several neighbors. A man and a woman, both armed, ordered her to get into a Ford Falcon automobile and drove away with her.

The news produced a rapid mobilization of human rights organizations and political parties. As usual, the authorities denied their participation. The police of the province of Buenos Aires furnished false information to lawyers acting for Ana María, and the Undersecretary of the Ministry of the Interior, Col. Bernardo Menéndez, stated on February 14th that he had no information to provide. The habeas corpus petition was rejected. However, on February 17th, Col. Menéndez's own office made it known that Ana María's body had been found on the 11th or 12th of February. Thursday, February 18th, at a press conference in the headquarters of the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights, several political leaders demanded an investigation of the murder, and the punishment of those responsible, who are presumed to be part of the security forces, judging from the available evidence.

In order to avoid the repetition of these events, and to demand an effective enforcement of the law, a committee of lawyers was formed to investigate the kidnapping and murder of this young socialist activist. CELS staff attorneys are members of this committee, which has met with and provided evidence to the judge in charge of the case, Judge Carlos Rodríguez Varela, of Criminal Court No. 1 in San Martín.

The authorities persist in denying that they had any part in the matter, insinuating that the responsibility lies with extreme leftist groups and maintaining that they will investigate.

The national media gave broad coverage to the matter, and continues to publish information and opinions about it, thereby pressuring the authorities to conduct their investigation. So far, however, no results of it have been made known.

To summarize, we find: one unexplained disappearance, that of Brugo Marcó; two arrests and disappearances resulting in murder, those of Horacio Alberto Castro and Ana María Martínez; four cases of unexplained kidnapping and release, Piñón, Magrino, Bárbaro and Gallego; a corporal of the air force, Olguín Figueroa, and a draftee of the same force, Albornoz, dead from excessively harsh punishment, and the health of another air force draftee seriously affected; five missing persons, Guida and his wife, Romano, Sarangelo and Vetere, who turned out to be under arrest and prosecution; and one false alarm, Isabel Angel, caused by the existing climate of insecurity. In all therefore, including the Abregu case, there were 17 deaths in official custody and disappearances.

2. Threats to Freedom of Expression and Religious Worship; and Antisemitism

Jehovah's Witnesses. In a decision published in the newspapers on May 14, 1981, the federal Supreme Court of Justice dismissed the case of two Jehovah's Witnesses who had asked for an exemption from military service as "conscientious objectors." The lower courts had decided that such exemptions are not permissible.

Panel E of the federal Court of Appeals in Civil Matters, in Buenos Aires, denied a woman the custody of her two young daughters, 11 and 12 years old. The woman, according to the court decision, had attempted to educate her daughters in accordance with the beliefs of the Jehovah's Witnesses. This woman is divorced; her former husband is an Army officer. Under an earlier divorce settlement, the father has custody of their two sons and the woman had custody of the two daughters. By this decision, however, her custody of her two daughters has been revoked.

Antisemitism. A television program broadcast on October 27, 1980, by the commentator Enrique Llamas de Madariaga, brother of a general who was then Secretary of Public Information, provoked widespread protest and deeply offended the Jewish community. Even though the broadcast was on a state-owned television station, there was no official reaction.

The Jewish newspaper Di Presse made it known on September 18, 1981, that in the vicinity of Villa Allende, in the province of Córdoba, a group called "Juventudes Hitleristas Argentinas" (Argentine Youths for Hitler) holds meetings with impunity.

On February 27, 1982, newspapers reported the desecration of tombs in the Jewish section of the cemetery in Mar del Plata, as well as the painting of swastikas on its walls. Public opinion and local authorities condemned the incident, but no investigation was announced.

Violations of Freedom of the Press and Expression. On numerous occasions -- January 2, February 7, February 25, June 30, September 23, December 11, 1981 -- the authorities have prohibited publication of newspapers and books, preventing their entrance into the country or their circulation within the country. It would consume far too much space to enumerate these titles here, but it should be noted that they include significant works in the fields of scientific thought and world literature. Details can be found in the archives of CELS.

On June 22, 1981, the journalist Manfred Schonfeld, well-known columnist for La Prensa, which has published critical reports on government policy, was attacked in front of his home. Mr. Schonfeld received serious injuries to the face from brass knuckles. This act of violence, which attracted a lot of attention, has not been resolved.

Another columnist from the same newspaper, Mr. Jesús Iglesias Rouco, was prosecuted on July 3, 1981, on orders of the Executive branch, for publishing a supposedly confidential document of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs about the Beagle Channel problem. The judge dismissed the charges in February of 1982.

Two important printing companies were intentionally burned down in the night, obvious acts of intimidation. The two companies were the COGTAL Cooperative, located at Calle Rivadavia 763, in the middle of downtown Buenos Aires, and Editorial Palermo, located at Calle Erézcano 3158, in the Parque de los Patricios district of Buenos Aires. The first incident took place on March 22, 1981, after a group of armed men bound and beat the night watchman. The second happened on May 16, 1981, and involved the placement of three powerful explosives. Neither of these attacks have been solved. The printing houses were working together and they had been engaged in printing periodicals that severely criticized the military regime.

Several theaters that gave shows disliked by the dictatorship, or that employed actors or actresses known for holding views opposed to the government, have suffered attacks. On May 17, 1981, toxic fumes were used to interrupt a show in the Liceo theater. On May 19, a bomb exploded in a theater in General Roca, Río Negro, that was staging a show with actor Luis Brandoni. Similar incidents happened in the Sala Planeta and Lorena theaters of Buenos Aires on May 21 and 22, 1981. Finally, in the best-known episode, an intentional fire burned down the Teatro Abierto in early August, 1981. This event prompted a widespread response aimed at helping the shows to continue in another building.

Joan Baez, the American singer who visited Argentina in May 1981, was not able to perform because entrepreneurs and theaters refused to organize concerts for her, on account of official threats they had received. Ms. Baez was constantly followed by police cars, and the owners of the hotel in which she stayed were pressured into requesting her to leave.

During the period covered by this report, there have been many statements by artistic, cultural and theatrical organizations against censorship in the communications media, in the motion picture industry, in the theater, and in the publication of books and magazines. This reaction signals a growth in collective awareness regarding the curtailment of freedom of expression in the country since 1976.

There are still violations of the legitimate exercise of the right to address petitions to the authorities, provided for in Article 14 of the Constitution, especially in educational matters. For example, La Prensa reported on August 1, 1981, that on May 26th a large number of medical students at the University of Buenos Aires had been punished for having signed a petition against the imposition of tuition fees. Apparently the police, with the permission of the Dean, interrupted a physiology class and searched the students. They confiscated a copy of the petition and threatened the students with "more definite sanctions." The Ministry of Culture and Education promised to investigate the incident, but has not released information about its investigation yet.

On October 22, 1981, FUBA, the student federation of the University of Buenos Aires, attempted to demonstrate in opposition to the imposition of tuition charges. Some 300 students gathered before the Ministry of Education at Paraguay 1690, Buenos Aires, for a peaceful demonstration. The federal police, using excessive force, broke up the gathering. The indiscriminate violence also affected the media: a photographer who was attacked was hospitalized with multiple wounds (Diario Popular, October 23, 1981). The incidents were so widely reported that General Juan Sasiaiñ, then chief of the federal police, was forced to offer "his most formal apologies" to the media.

3. Limitations on Political Rights

The nonexistence of the fundamental political rights established by the Constitution (that is to say, election of the government by the people), was marked during 1981 by acts of aggression against certain political activities. We will merely note a few examples here.

On February 17th, in Rosario, province of Santa Fe, 14 activists from the "Frente de Izquierda Popular" (Popular Leftist Front) were detained. On May 2nd, the police arrested 15 key members of the Peronistas. On May 30th, 30 more leaders of this group were detained in the province of Santa Fe. One hundred sixty people affiliated with the Peronista Party were taken to Precinct 27 of the Federal Police on June 5th for participating in a gathering at the Cátulo Castillo cultural center in Buenos Aires. Eighty of them were charged. On June 24th, 64 people who attended a round-table discussion at the Crillon Hotel in Buenos Aires were arrested and held for several hours for identification. Among them were the radical leader Luis León, Vicente Saadi, Alejandro Díaz Bialet, Julio Bárbaro, Nilda Garre, and Alicia Oliveira (Peronistas); Christian Democrats Augusto Conte and Néstor Vicente; Communists Fernando Nadra and Roberto Villarino; and other individuals active with human rights organizations such as CELS. The police did not allow the round-table discussion to be held.

Complaints about the prohibition of political events, marches, meetings, luncheon discussions, etc., were constant during this year.

In November 1981, the Commander of the Third Army Corps based in Córdoba, General Cristino Nicolaides, attempted to bring a criminal prosecution against the leaders of the Unión Cívica Radical (the second largest policital party) for an alleged violation of the Law of Security of the State, in that the UCR leaders had criticized the economic policies of the armed forces.

The law that the authorities have announced for 1982 concerning political parties will contain a clause prohibiting the parties from declaring themselves in favor of the investigation and punishment of those who engage in repression. It will even prohibit criticism of the repressive acts engaged in by the military.

4. Persecution of Institutions for the Defense of Human Rights

On December 10, 1980, on the anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 24 demonstrators were arrested in the Plaza de Mayo and punished with a 15-day sentence by the head of the Federal Police, General Juan Bautista Sasiaiñ. The demonstrators were among many thousands of citizens who demanded information about the detained-disappeared.

On November 29, 1981, the president of CELS, Dr. Emilio Fermín Mignone, filed a preventive habeas corpus petition against the constant surveillance of his home.

On the night of February 27, 1981, the headquarters of CELS, then located at Calle Viamonte 1365, were broken into. The same thing happened to the residence of the organization's president, Dr. Mignone, and the new offices at Calle Sarmiento 1562, 5C, which were as yet unoccupied. All the documentation gathered by CELS and some of Dr. Mignone's books and papers were taken to the headquarters of the Security Division of the Federal Police. Nine people were arrested that night, among them six members of CELS who were held incommunicado and prosecuted on charges of violating Article 227 of the Penal Code. The CELS members arrested were Mrs. Lapacó and Messrs. Mignone, Conte McDonell, Pasik, Westerkamp, and Parrilli. After seven days they were released. Their trial went on for several weeks until, eventually, the judge and later the Court of Appeals dismissed all charges and returned the documents that had been seized.

This incident had wide repercussions inside and outside the country, and the favorable outcome is attributable to the attention it received. The obvious intent of the arrests and the seizure of documents was to interrupt indefinitely the work of CELS and to keep its leaders in prison. Dr. Alicia Oliveira and Dr. Alfredo Galletti of CELS, as well as Dr. Vicente Saadi, were also harassed because of their association with CELS.

On March 16, 1981, the 1980 Nobel Peace Prize winner, Adolfo Pérez Esquivel, held a press conference to disclose the many threats he had suffered which drove him to file a petition for amparo (seeking an order to cease and desist).

The Federal Police prohibited the April 30, 1981, march of the Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo. However, the Mothers insisted on going ahead with their march and the security forces surrounding the area did not take action. This event exemplifies both the resolve of the families affected by repression to maintain their struggle, as well as the weakness of the military regime when faced with an action that aims to obtain truth and justice. On June 15, one of the Mothers, Ms. Nelida Fiordeliza de Chidichimo, filed a preventive petition of habeas corpus because she was subjected to repeated anonymous phone threats.

On June 8, 1981, María Adela Gard de Antokoletz and Hebe Bonafini, respectively vice-president and president of the Movement of the Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo, were briefly detained in the Ezeiza airport on their return from the United States. The military police confiscated some of the documents that they were carrying. The documents were subsequently returned.

On the 19th of September 1981, the Permanent Assembly for Human Rights denounced a series of intimidating actions against many of its leaders, in particular Ms. Graciela Fernández Meijide. On September 20, Mr. Adolfo Pérez Esquivel disclosed that he had been refused a passport to travel abroad.

On October 26, 1981, the Bishop of Neuquén, Jaime Francisco de Nevares, accused the police of having impeded the celebration of a mass dedicated to the preservation of human rights, by not preventing the placement of toxic gas bombs. On November 5th, the cathedral of Neuquén was attacked by shots fired from the street by unidentified people.

5. The Situation of Political Prisoners

On January 2, 1981, the national press published a communiqué from the Ministry of the Interior, announcing that there were 900 people being held in custody without charges, at the disposition of the Executive power. This number slowly diminished during the year. On October 30, 1981, the Argentine ambassador to the O.A.S., Raúl Quijano, reported to that organization that the number of such prisoners was about 840. At the end of 1981, it is estimated that 650 remained in this situation.

During the year, relatives of political prisoners have repeated their protests regarding maltreatment in the jails and poor conditions of confinement. The Permanent Assembly for Human Rights, and the Commission of Families of Persons Detained and Disappeared for Political Reasons, have made continual efforts to secure improved conditions, with little result except that they did achieve the right to have visits with the prisoners which include limited physical contact.

In December 1981, there was wide publicity given statements formulated in the city of Rawson, province of Chubut, about the situation of the prisoners in jail in that area. "The U-6 is a national disgrace," said Dr. José Federico Westerkamp, well-known human rights leader and father of a prisoner who has been confined at the disposition of the Executive power without charges for more more than six years. For this statement, Dr. Westerkamp has been charged with contempt by the federal judge of Rawson.

6. Judicial Proceedings

The Supreme Court has continued to ignore the repressive clandestine actions of the State and has continued to uphold the restrictions on liberty based on the legislation of exception.

On March 4, 1981, the metropolitan newspapers published a decision by this highest tribunal upholding the validity of the Special War Councils established by laws 21.264, 21.268, and 21.272. The Court thus ratified the conviction of Marcelo Mario de la Torre, who had been sentenced to eight years imprisonment by a War Council of the Second Army Corps.

On October 29, 1981, the high Court upheld the denial of three habeas corpus petitions for Celia Machado, Jorge Lucio Rebori, and Humberto Rebori, who were detained by armed groups on February 1 and 2, 1977, and who have since disappeared. In its decision, the Court maintains that the lower court judges must investigate the facts in a petition for habeas corpus. However, for reasons explained in the introduction to this report, this statement has no practical effect.

In June 1981, a conflict arose between the Supreme Court and the Executive branch over a May 26th decision by by which the Court ordered that the Executive branch authorize for Benito Moya either limited freedom or the option to leave the country. He had been in prison for six years without charges, and without any legal proceedings. After a tense exchange of confidential opinions, the two branches reached an agreement. The Executive ordered restricted freedom for Benito Moya -- implying, however, that this did not establish any precedent as this action was limited to the circumstances of this particular case. This incident demonstrates the limited scope of possible judicial intervention at present. Moreover, the two most recent appointments to the Court, those of Drs. Black and Renom, show that the government has every intention of naming lawyers to the Court who are ideologically sympathetic to the repressive policies of the military.

Several appellate courts, in particular the Federal Court of Appeals of Buenos Aires, Criminal and Correctional Panel, are known for handing down decisions that accept unquestioningly the validity of exceptional legislation and the primacy of the so-called Statute of the Process of National Reorganization. They uphold the indefinite confinement of prisoners under the state of siege without charges at the will of the Executive branch.

Finally, the Supreme Court of Justice, in a decision of a few lines, in February 1982 denied a petition by relatives of disappeared people, ruling it "out of order." This petition called on the judiciary to make the Executive branch hand over all existing information in their archives about the disappeared. With this decision, the high Court ended any hope stirred by the famous Pérez de Smith, Ana María, et al. cases of 1978.

It is appropriate to mention here that in 1981, there were numerous comments by different organizations and political parties calling for a repeal of the state of siege and the dismantling of exceptional tribunals. This is extraordinary because some of these organizations had remained silent on these issues in the past. On June 18, 1981, the Federación Argentina de Colegios de Abogados (FACA) (Argentine Federation of Associations of Lawyers), demanded an end to exceptional tribunals. In previous statements, they had called for the elimination of the state of siege.

7. Restriction on Trade Union Activity

The majority of the trade unions remain controlled. Restrictions against union activity are also numerous. We note only some of the cases.

The General Confederation of Labor has received many warnings to limit its activities. In July 1981, five of its national leaders were jailed for several days. In the country's interior, the prohibition of trade union activities is frequent.

On November 7, 1981, during a march at the San Cayetano Church in Buenos Aires to protest growing unemployment, the police surrounded the area, blocking off all access. A group of marchers was arrested and held for several hours.

According to Saúl Ubaldini, Secretary General of the General Confederation of Labor, 1.65 million workers are now unemployed (Clarín, September 5, 1981). He called this an offense to the rights of workers. Layoffs are constant, both in the public and the private sectors. Because of the regressive politics of President Galtieri and Minister Alemann, a serious worsening of the employment situation is is anticipated.

Dismissals for political reasons are frequent. A notable example is the case of Dr. Nicolás G. Bazán, an internationally known scientist with the National University of the South. He was fired without explanation on December 31, 1980. On March 24, 1981, the Minister of Culture and Education, Juan Llerena Amadeo, argued that the decision to fire Bazán was justified for reasons of "security," refusing to elaborate.

This incident demonstrates that the intelligence services of the military are almighty in such cases and that the ministers of the Executive branch are obliged to carry out the instructions of the intelligence services. Worse yet, the ministers may not even known the reasons, as in the case of Dr. Llerena.

8. Education

One of the basic difficulties the Argentine educational system faces, according to official sources, is the increasing number of school dropouts. This situation, caused by socio-economic problems and by budgetary and ideological restrictions on the schools, constitutes in itself a deprivation of the right to education.

On April 28, 1981, the newspaper La Prensa reported that the Minister of Education and Culture of the Province of Buenos Aires, Julio A. Lascano, had said that the percentage of school dropouts in this, the most populous and wealthy province, had reached 33 percent. The day before, on April 27, the same newspaper had revealed that, according to the Minister of Culture and Education of the Province of Santa Fe, the percentage of dropouts in that province had reached 42 percent. On June 29, 1981, the president of the National Council of Technical Education, engineer Valentín Jaime, declared in a meeting in the city of Córdoba that the percentage of dropouts in technical schools is 75 percent (Diario Popular, June 30, 1981).

In general, the financial resources set aside for educational support have been cut back to a minimal level. Specialists in this subject believe that the federal educational budget, in relative terms as a proportion of the total federal expenditure and Gross National Product, is at its lowest since 1862.

The lack of teachers, buildings, textbooks and teaching materials is substantial in all regions of the country. At the same time, the ideological controls on the schools limit the freedom and creativity of lectures and discussion. Although there have been no new regulations, those promulgated since 1976 are strictly enforced, and the access of new teachers to teaching jobs is tightly controlled.

Finally, restrictions on access to the universities continue, and entrance quotas have become even more restrictive in most graduate and post-graduate programs. Practically all university professors lack tenure because no formal searches to hire new professors have been conducted since 1976. In addition, the military regime has enacted a Law of National Universities that establishes political and ideological restrictions that would create serious difficulties if the moment were to come for new professors to be selected.

9. Official Declarations

In the period covered by this report, several official statements were issued, on the one hand emphatically denying that violations of human rights were committed by the military government and, on the other hand, insisting that there should be no investigation of repressive actions.

This obvious contradiction is brought into sharpest focus in considering the serious problem of the disappeared. Each day that passes, instead of receding in memory or being relegated to secondary significance, this issue gets more attention. One only has to read the newspaper to notice the constant references to this question from diverse sources: official comments and declarations; statements by civilian leaders; protests, demonstrations, and petitions to the judiciary; editorials; foreign repercussions; etc.

There is no doubt that this distressing situation is the one that most troubles the national community. Certainly, it will be the focus of bitter political debate in Argentina in the months and years to come.

In Washington, D.C., on July 13, 1981, former president Viola emphatically stated that no one was detained in the course of repression without notification of their families. He also said that there is no one being secretly detained in Argentina. He added that the only deaths attributable to the military involved those of people who were armed and who were killed as a result of armed encounters (La Nación, July 14, 1981).

Such statements fly in the face of the fact of the disappearance of thousands of people arrested since 1976 by agents of the security forces, and whose fate is unknown.

An editorial printed in La Nación on February 7, 1982, analyzes the polarization over this question within the upper echelons of the military. According to political observers, this is the most difficult problem the government will have to face if it wants to restore democratic institutions. The editorial alludes to a statement by the former Commander-in-Chief of the Navy, Admiral Emilio Massera, in January 1982, and supported by his primary assistant in the Party for Social Democracy, Vice-Admiral Eduardo Fracassi. Massera stated that, during the period that he was a member of the military Junta, he proposed the publication of a list of the disappeared. This was opposed by the Commanders of the other armed forces, Videla and Agosti. Massera's assertion was subsequently modified in further statements, in which the emphasis was placed on his role in the struggle against subversion.

These statements precipitated a strong reaction in the upper echelons of the military.

General Suárez Mason, former Commander of the First Army Corps and former Chief of Staff of the Army, conferred immediately with President Galtieri, and immediately thereafter asserted that such lists did not exist and that they would be impossible to assemble. "Surely," he added, "the admiral must have such a list. If there is one, I do not know of it." La Nación pointed out that, "Suárez Mason speaks for the Army." Suárez Mason added, again reflecting the position of the Army, that "during the anti-subversion struggle, information was given each time the casualties were identified."

Also participating in the controversy is General Ramón Camps, who served as chief of police in the province of Buenos Aires during the years of the more intense anti-subversion fight. In an interview in Gente magazine in the first week of February 1982, Camps said that he had the greatest respect for Massera and Fracassi, but he added that both should say what their part in that struggle had been "before speaking of the responsibility of others."

General Luciano Benjamín Menéndez, who was forced to retire after an aborted coup d'état attempt against the Videla government in Córdoba in September of 1979, reaffirmed an old official decision to "forget" the problem. He maintained that "the disappeared have disappeared and no one knows where they are" and he concurred that it was "impossible" for the regime to publish a list, "because there is none" (Clarín, January 25, 1982).

In the same issue of Clarín, there was a story covering a speech given by the present Chief of Staff of the Army, General Antonio Vaquero, during a visit by Salvadoran General Rafael Flores Lima. After assuring Lima of Argentine military assistance, Vaquero issued a harsh attack against the human rights organizations: "... the subtleties and artifices of the so-call solidarity organizations which, in our country, appear to be independent, but -- let us not be naïve -- which serve, either consciously or unwittingly, the present strategy of native and international terrorism. These associations have mushroomed in Argentina, under the protection of the freedom they ultimately seek to destroy."

On January 26, 1982, the Archbishop of Santa Fe and Second Vice-President of the Argentine Episcopal Conference, Vicente Zazpe, demanded "that the truth be discovered about the disappeared," arguing that this is "the only road that could take us to an authentic reconciliation."

Earlier, in its document called "Church and National Community," issued in July 1981, the Episcopal Conference had discussed the topic at length. In a section called "Problems and Negative Factors," the bishops say that, "The illegitimate repression also put the Fatherland in mourning. Even though, in an emergency, human rights can be restricted, they are never cancelled, and it is the authority's duty, recognizing the basis of all rights, to use all efforts to restore them to full effectiveness. It is not by trusting that time will heal all wounds that we will begin to shape the future of our country now." And in a clear reference to the magnitude of the problem, the bishops add their concern for "the anguish of the relatives of the disappeared, a concern we repeat today." The Catholic Church bases its hopes for national reconciliation on the solution to these matters, since "reconciliation is grounded in charity and exercised in liberty, but can only endure if it is built in justice and truth."

For his part, Mr. Deolindo Bittel, acting chairman of the Partido Justicialista, on February 5th addressed to the military rulers, "one of the sharpest warnings in a long time about this thorny topic," acording to La Nación. Bittel said, "... this is an open and bloody sore. The military government should take responsibility, and realize that the fate of the citizens cannot be ignored. No civilian government," he asserted, "can take power if the military does not resolve the situation beforehand, because, while now 1,500 mothers go to the Plaza de Mayo to cry for their children, under a civilian government the number will rise to 10,000, and later will cover the entire plaza."

Outside the country, the problem is equally a subject of ever more intense comment. The leaders of all the Italian democratic parties signed a strong petition on the matter, which appeared in the Buenos Aires newspaper Clarín. This prompted a formal protest by the Argentine military regime. In France, statements and demonstrations on this problem are frequent. In the Report of the State Department to the Congress of the United States about the situation of human rights in Argentina, it is asserted that, in its judgment, the situation has improved, but that the greatest obstacle to progress remains the lack of information on the disappeared.

Amidst the wide-ranging criticism of the military regime and demands for the restoration of the constitutional system, although they do not appear linked with the matters discussed above, public statements by César Luis Menotti, the coach of the national select soccer team, are worth noting. They have provoked a sharp debate and alarmed the military Junta. The writer Ernesto Sabatini has also spoken out on the matter on various occasions and particularly in his capacity as president of the national commission formed to investigate the fate of the children missing during the repression.

10. Information About the Murder of Detained-Disappeared Persons

On three occasions, it has been learned that the bodies of detained-disappeared persons were discovered a few hours after their arrest. In these three cases the pertinent legal authorities were informed, but the judges did not publicly disclose the discoveries, nor did they inform the immediate relatives of the deceased.

Roberto Daniel Rigoni was kidnapped on April 16, 1977, in the Buenos Aires suburb of Isidro Casanova, district of La Matanza. Four years later, in April 1981, his parents learned through a petition of habeas corpus that his body had been found and identified on April 25, 1977, although he had been buried as an unknown.

The same occurred with the case of another detained-disappeared person, Miguel Angel Sosa, kidnapped on May 25, 1976, from his home in Buenos Aires. Since that date, his whereabouts were unknown until late in 1981, when his father was called to the Ministry of the Interior and notified that his son had been the victim of a homicide, under investigation by a criminal judge of San Martín. After examining the court documents, it was established that Miguel Angel was killed the same day of his arrest. The following are the facts of the case:

a) On May 25, 1976, the police of the Province of Buenos Aires, precinct of Bella Vista, received a radio communication from the Army, that a corpse had been found in an area of tall grass near the Reconquista River.

b) Photographs were taken of the body and the surrounding area, and the body was taken for an autopsy, which revealed that death was caused by a blow to the head; the body showed signs of torture (marks made by an electric prod, lesions from blows, toe-nails torn off).

c) Fingerprints were taken and sent to the federal and provincial police for identification.

d) Two months later, the federal police reported to the court that the body was that of Miguel Angel Sosa, and furnished his address and records.

e) The judge ordered the family to come to the court, and, without waiting for them to arrive, sent the file to the archives. The notification of this appointment was never served on the family. It can be asserted that the Ministry of Interior knew about Sosa's death as early as two months after his detention and disappearance; it obviously hid that information from his family and from public opinion until late last year.

Lastly, in mid-1981 the Ministry of Interior also disclosed to the mother of María Teresa Cerviño, that María, who had been detained at her home in Lomas de Zamora on April 18, 1976, had died. All inquiries by her family to locate her had been fruitless. María Teresa's mother had made several appearances before the Ministry of the Interior and had interviewed several members of the armed forces to the same effect -- without ever obtaining any result.

In mid-1981, Mrs. Cerviño was called by the Ministry of the Interior, where she was informed that her daughter had been the victim of a homicide and that Criminal Court No. 2 of Lomas de Zamora was investigating it. In the court files, it is established that on April 18, 1976 -- the same day of her disappearance -- the police precinct of that city received an anonymous telephone call reporting that a corpse was hanging from the bridge of a nearby highway. At the bridge, the police found that the body was that of a young woman, with her head wrapped in a plastic bag and a sign hanging from her neck that said: "I was a Montonera, follow me." Her eyes were covered with adhesive tape and her hands were tied behind her back. A grenade made by the military was attached to the body; the police defused it. There was also a bag that the police feared might contain explosives, so they shot at it. On the same day, through fingerprints, the federal police identified her as María Teresa Cerviño, and furnished her ID card number and the address she had shared with her parents to the provincial police.

An irregular autopsy was conducted, which nevertheless determined death to have been caused by asphyxiation by hanging. It was ordered that the body be buried in the public cemetery of Avellaneda. A report of these proceedings was sent to the judge, who provisionally dismissed charges, without ever notifying the relatives.

With this information, the mother went to the cemetery and was told that there was no grave there, but only a large stone. With the legal assistance of Dr. Emilio Mignone, she came before the court and requested the anullment of the decision to dismiss, on the grounds that the investigation had not been completed and on account of the irregularities arising from the file itself. The judge did not rule favorably, but did in fact reopen the case. He called in all the police officers for questioning, but was unable to locate the only civilian witness named, as the witness did not live at the address given. Later, the relatives requested an investigation as to why they had not been notified and insisted on being shown the clothes and personal belongings of the victim. In a private meeting, the judge told Mrs. Cerviño and her lawyer that those items were not in his offices.

It is obvious that the disappearance and death of María Teresa Cerviño was known to the federal police on the very day of the event, and that they did not disclose it to the family until mid-1981.

11. Right of Asylum

Since 1976, Juan Manuel Abal Medina has remained in asylum in the Mexican Embassy in Buenos Aires. He is a former member of the constitutional government. His situation still has not been resolved.

The military regime, despite Mexican insistence, refuses to guarantee safe-conduct, in open violation of inter-American treaties and common international law. On September 17, 1981, a spokesman for the Argentine Ministry of Foreign Relations denied that negotiations were under way to resolve this delicate matter (Clarín, September 18, 1981).

UNGO, AS PRESIDENT OF THE FDR, TO MEET UNDER THEIR AEGIS WITH THE NEW GOES. THIS MEETING, WHICH WOULD BE FOR THE PURPOSE OF DISCUSSING HOW TO BRING THE "DEMOCRATIC LEFT" BACK INTO THE POLITICAL LIFE OF THE NATION, WOULD FACE UNGO WITH A CHOICE OF EITHER TAKING RESPONSIBILITY FOR GETTING THE FMLN TO AGREE TO STOP FIGHTING, OR ADMITTING ONCE AND FOR ALL THAT HE DOES NOT CONTROL HIS MARXIST ALLIES. IN THE LATTER CASE HE WOULD BE PRESSURED INTO DITCHING THE FMLN OR LOSING HIS INTERNATIONAL SUPPORT.

4. ODUBER SAID IT WAS IMPORTANT TO HAVE SUCH A PLAN READY TO ROLL AS SOON AS THE NEW GOES IS FORMED, SO AS TO PREEMPT OTHERS (MEXICO? CUBA?) FROM TAKING THE LEAD, OR TO AVOID POSITIONS INSIDE EL SALVADOR FROM HARDENING AGAINST ANY SORT OF NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT. HE SAID HE IS IN TOUCH WITH PUTATIVE CO-SPONSORS.

DECLASSIFIED

5. ODUBER ALSO COMMENTED THAT HE HAD JUST SEEN UNGO ("AN OLD, CLOSE PERSONAL FRIEND") AND FOUND HIM VERY DISCOURAGED ABOUT THE FDR'S AND HIS OWN FUTURE, AND FULLY AWARE OF HIS CURRENT INABILITY TO INFLUENCE EVENTS OR COUNTER THE FMLN'S DOMINANT ROLE.

[redacted]

6. ODUBER INDICATED THAT DUARTE AND CHAVEZ MENA ARE AWARE OF HIS THINKING, AND IMPLIED THEY SUPPORT IT ALTHOUGH NOTHING CAN BE SAID BEFORE THE ELECTION.

7. IN A SEPARATE CONVERSATION LATER IN THE DAY, ARIAS CALDERON CONFIRMED HE HAS BEEN WORKING WITH ODUBER ON DEVELOPING A CHRISTIAN-SOCIAL DEMOCRAT COALITION TO ADDRESS A VARIETY OF AREA PROBLEMS, INCLUDING EL SALVADOR AND NICARAGUA. HAIG

Dear Senator Danforth:

Thank you for your letter of February 12 on behalf of [redacted] and [redacted] concerning the disappearance in Argentina of numerous individuals. B6

Those persons mentioned by [redacted] and [redacted], namely: Dr. Adolfo Ruben Moldavsky, Jorge Luis Molina, Claudio Norberto Braverman, Miguel Sergio Arcuschin , Noemi Josefina Jansenson de Arcuschin, Carlos Boitano, Jorge Luis Badillo, Juan Carlos, Jorge Arturo and Daniel Alberto Daroqui, Francisco Bartucci, Hugo Jose Agosti, Carlos Enrique Hodl, Federico Eduardo Alvarez Rojas, Enrique Lorenzo Espulgas, and Oscar Miranda, are among the many who have disappeared and about whom our Embassy in Buenos Aires has been unable to obtain any information. Accounting for the disappeared is one of the most difficult human rights problems facing the Argentine Government and one which we hope the Argentines will eventually resolve. At the same time, we will continue to use our influence directly and in international fora to encourage Argentine officials to make whatever information they may have available to the families of missing persons.

With cordial regards,

Sincerely,

IT HAD INITIATED THE REGISTRATION PROCESS. THEY COULD H REGISTERED OR RENEWED THEIR REGISTRATION UP UNTIL FEBRUARY 26, 1982. INSTEAD, THEY HAVE ATTACKED THE ELECTORAL PROCESS AT EVERY STAGE OF ITS DEVELOPMENT INTERNALLY OVER THEIR CLANDESTINE RADIO STATIONS AND INTERNATIONALLY WHEREVER THEY COULD FIND A FORUM. THE FACT IS THE JRG AND THE CCE GAVE THEM EVERY OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE; THEY DECIDED NOT TO.

3. THE LIBERAL ACCESS TO THE MEDIA EXPLAINED IN REFTEL WOULD HAVE ALLOWED THOSE LEFTIST PARTIES TO MOUNT A CAMPAIGN FROM OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY IF THEY DESIRED. IT COULD HAVE PREPARED RADIO, TV AND ADVERTISING OUTSIDE THE COUNTRY FOR PRESENTATION IN EL SALVADOR. NO PARTY LEADER NEED HAVE RISKED ENTERING THE COUNTRY.

4. THE ONLY CRITERIA THAT WOULD HAVE BEEN APPLIED TO THEIR ELECTION PROPAGANDA WERE THOSE OF RESPONSIBILITY AND GOOD TASTE. THE CCE HAS ALREADY TAKEN ACTION AGAINST ARENA, POC AND PCN FOR EXCEEDING THESE BOUNDS. NATURALLY, A CAMPAIGN RUN BY "REMOTE CONTROL" IS NOT A SUBSTITUTE FOR DIRECT CONTACT WITH THE VOTING POPULATION. HOWEVER, BECAUSE OF THE SECURITY SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR, ALL OF THE PARTIES HAVE HAD TO RELY MORE ON ADVERTISING THAN TRADITIONAL FLESH PRESSING. Attached is a copy of a State Department cable with a series of questions concerning the murders of the four American churchwomen in 1980. The State Department has asked us to provide answers. I need whatever help you can give me on questions 19 and 20.

19. Obviously, this is an insulting question for Cols. Cruz, Cummings, and Bosch. AmEmbassy Mexico has tried to interview Moran and we are convinced here that his story is nonsense. Nevertheless, the families are not going to let go on this question until we have a definitive answer. Would it be possible to get statements from Cols. Cruz, Cummings, and Bosch (written or oral) to the effect that they did not communicate with Hans Christ tendthe effect that these women were coming and would be interfered with? Could you do this through your communications channels?

20. I have been told that El Salvador did not have Hueys in December, 1980. Is that correct? Would it be possible to check flight logs for GOES helicopters for the period 11/16/80 - 12/1/80? Would these logs indicate where the helicopter was flying? If not, let me know and I will answer the question accordingly.

Thakhs.

WHEN THE NATIONA POLICE AGENTS TRIED TO TAKE HIM AWAY, THE SAID INDIVIDUAL INFORMED THEM THAT THEY WERE NOT ABLE TO ENTER THE EMBASSY PREMISES AS IT IS CONSIDERED MEXICAN TERRITORY. AT THE SAME MOMENT, TWO OTHER INDIVIDUALS ARRIVED AND TOOK GUTIERREZ INTO THE EMBASSY BUILDING. IT IS PRESUMED BY THE POLICE THAT THE INDIVIDUAL WHO GRABBED GUTIERREZ' ARM IS THE INDIIVIDUAL KNOWN AS JORGE BECAUSE, ALTHOUGH THE AGENTS IDENTIFIED THEMSELVES AS NATIONAL POLICE USING THEIR POLICE IDENTIFICATION, THEY DID NOT RELEASE GUTIERREZ. LATER THE SAME DAY, MR. CARLOS EDUARDO AMEZQUITA MARTINEZ, MEXICAN CHARGE D' AFFAIRES, ASKED FOR POLITICAL ASYLUM FOR GUTIERREZ AND TWO SALVADORANS ALONG WITH SAFE CONDUCT PASSES FOR THE THREE INDIVIDUALS. THE NATIONAL POLICEMEN WHO ACCOMPANIED GUTIERREZ TO THE MEXICAN EMBASSY MADE A COMSPOSITE OF THE INDIVIDUAL WHO HAD GRABBED GUTIERREZ AND PULLED HIM INTO THE COMPAOUND. THE COMPOSITE IS AN IDENTICAL LIKENESS OF THE MEXICAN CHARGE D' AFFAIRES. IT IS OUR UNDERSTANDING THAT THE CAPTURED SANDINISTA GUTIERREZ IS STILL LOCATED IN THE MEXICAN EMBASSY AWAITING GOES DECISION REGARDING THE MEXICAN REQUEST FOR POLITICAL ASYLUM AND SAFE CONDUCT OUT OF THE COUNTRY.

HE WAS TO BECOME THE SECOND-IN-COMMAND AT A GUERRILLA CAMP SOMEWHERE IN EASTERN EL SALVADOR. HIS PRIMARY FUNCTION WOULD BE THE TRAINING OF THE INEXPERIENCED SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS. GUTIERREZ DEPARTED FOR EL SALVADOR ON 2/16/82. HE TRAVELED WITH A GROUP OF NINE OTHER GUERRILAS. THE OTHERS CARRIED MEXICAN PASSPORTS AND DOCUMENTATION. SEVEN MEMBERS OF THIS GROUP WERE TO REMAIN IN GUATEMALA TO ASSIST THE GUATEMALAN GUERRILLA MOVEMENT. GUTIERREZ AND TWO OTHER WERE TO CONTINUE ON TO EL SALVADOR. HE WAS GIVEN A SMALL SUM OF MEXICAN PEOS AND TOLD THAT HIS MONTHLY SALARY WOULD BE 300 U.S. DOLLARS. GUTIERREZ CLAIMS THAT HE THOUGHT THAT HE WOULD REMAIN IN EL SALVADOR FOR ONLY A SHORT TIME. revised version of the handbook was issued on 10 March 1982 and reiterates that one of the prime objectives of the operations carried out by the National Police is that of "ensuring respect for the laws, moral principles and the inviolability of human rights". The Special Representative also wishes to draw attention to the instructions issued in October 1982 by General José Guillermo García, Minister of Defence, that all members of the armed and security forces must respect human rights and must not commit abuses of authority for any reason. 15/

II. CURRENT POLITICAL SITUATION IN THE REPUBLIC OF EL SALVADOR

22. In his final report to the Commission on Human Rights of 18 January 1982, 16/ the Special Representative described the main events which shaped the political situation in the Republic of El Salvador during 1979, 1980 and 1981. With respect to 1982, as has been generally reported, the situation of armed confrontation and widespread violence in the country has continued.

23. A political event of prime importance was the holding of the planned elections to the Constituent Assembly on 28 March 1982. In his previous report the Special Representative referred to the plan for these elections, and made some comments on the conditions for holding them. 17/

24. According to the Permanent Mission of El Salvador to the United Nations at Geneva, 18/ "the elections were observed by delegations from governments and international organizations, as well as by representatives of electoral bodies, trade union, civic and political organizations, representatives of the International Federation of Human Rights, members of the European Parliament and specially invited political figures". The following information concerning the nationality and number of visiting observers is given in the same document: "Venezuela, 24 persons; United Kingdom, 2 persons; Honduras, 10 persons; Colombia, 4 persons; Panama, 7 persons; Guatemala, 7 persons; China, 2 persons; Federal Republic of Germany, 10 persons; Argentina, 2 persons; Uruguay, 2 persons; United States, 34 persons; Paraguay, 5 persons; Brazil, 2 persons; Antigua and Barbuda, 2 persons; Dominican Republic, 3 persons; Italy, 7 persons; Belgium, 1 person; Chile, 4 persons; Peru, 9 persons; Jamaica, 1 person; Mexico, 3 persons; New Zealand, 1 person; Spain, 4 persons; Austria, 1 person; Canada, 4 persons; Costa Rica, 7 persons; Japan, 2 persons; Egypt, 1 person; France, 2 persons". The document also mentions "the presence of the Organization of American States", and adds that "in all, 742 journalists covered the event". The Special Representative notes the various reactions to the elections.

25. According to reports which appeared in the international press, 19/ on the day of the elections, at least 18 persons died as a result of the attacks launched by the guerrilla movement in the Mejicanos, San Antonio Abad, Cuzcatancingo and Apopa suburbs of the capital. The guerrillas are also said to have carried out harassment in the towns of Usulatán, San Vicente and San Francisco Gotera, as a result of which there was no public transport in the eastern part of El Salvador. According to the same source, at some polling stations in San Salvador the line of voters stretched for over half a mile, while sporadic shots and explosions were heard and bombs exploded near two markets. The same sources also reported that voting was suspended at Apopa, some 17 km from San Salvador, and that apparently the fiercest fighting occurred in Usulatán, 66 miles south-east of San Salvador. Some shooting was also reported in San Miguel, the largest town in eastern El Salvador.

26. The official results given by the Central Council for Elections have been transmitted to the Centre for Human Rights by the Permanent Mission of El Salvador at Geneva. They are as follows: total number of valid votes: 1,362,339; spoiled ballots: 131,498; abstentions: 51,438; contested ballots: 6,412. 20/ The Christian Democratic Party obtained 40.7 per cent of the votes and won 24 of the total of 60 seats in the Assembly; the Nationalist Republican Alliance (ARENA) obtained 29.8 per cent of the votes and won 19 seats; the National Conciliation Party (PCN) obtained 18.3 per cent of the votes, winning 14 seats; the Democratic Action Party won 7.7 per cent of the votes and two seats; and the other two parties received the remaining 3.5 per cent of the votes. According to the information provided by the Permanent Mission of El Salvador to the United Nations at Geneva, the Salvadorian People's Party won one seat. 21/

27. As was reported in the world press, 22/ on Thursday, 22 April Major Roberto D'Aubuisson, leader of the ARENA party, was elected President of the Constituent Assembly. He obtained 36 of the 39 votes of the parties considered to be more right wing; 22 of the 24 members of the Christian Democratic Party voted against, and 2 abstained.

28. At the end of April 1982, 23/ Mr. Alvaro Magaña, Director of the Banco Hipotecario was elected Provisional President of El Salvador by the Constituent Assembly by a vote of 36 in favour, 17 against and 7 abstentions. Three Vice-Presidents took office with Mr. Magaña: Mr. Raúl Molina Martínez, of the National Conciliation Party; Mr. Mauricio Gutiérrez Castro, of ARENA; and Mr. Pablo Mauricio Albergue, of the Christian Democratic Party. 24/ In early May 1982 the formation of the new Government was announced, composed as follows: four Ministers - those for Foreign Affairs, Labour, Education and Planning - from the Christian Democratic Party; four Ministers - those for Economic Affairs, Foreign Trade, Agriculture and Public Health - from the ARENA party; and three Ministers - those for Justice, Public Works and the Office of the President - from the National Conciliation Party. The President himself appointed the Ministers of the Interior and of Finance, and decided that General José Guillermo Garcia should continue as Minister of Defence. 25/

29. On 3 August 1982, the President of the Republic and the leaders of four political parties signed the "Apaneca Pact" adopting the basic Government platform. The platform "establishes the basic principles of the Government of National Unity, summed up in the following objectives: pacification, democratization, full respect for human rights. economic recovery, consolidation of reforms, confidence-building and international security and reinforcement". The Apaneca Pact recognized the need to set up a Political Commission, a Peace Commission and a Human Rights Commission. 26/ The Minister for Foreign Affairs fully informed the Special Representative of the significance of the Apaneca Pact and particularly of the agreement to set up the Human Rights Commission, an agreement which reflects the determination of the country's authorities to improve the human rights situation.

30. According to subsequent press reports, 27/ on 2 December 1982 the President of the Republic appointed the seven members of the Human Rights Commission set up under the Apaneca Pact. These were: Colonel López Nuilla, Director of the National Police; Monsignor Freddy Delgado, of the diocese of El Salvador; Mr. Cristobal Alemán Alas, a member of the Democratic People's Union, a peasant organization; Mr. Jorge Ernesto Campos, engineer; Mr. Mario Ruiz Velasco, lawyer and financier; Mrs. Flor de María Villacorta de Hasbún, lawyer; and Mr. Manuel Laínez Méndez, lawyer. The same source attributes to the President of the Republic a statement to the effect that the Government is preparing citizens' amnesty and rehabilitation laws for members of the guerrilla forces prepared to lay down their arms, and the immediate establishment of the Peace Commission.

31. The Special Representative has received information about the activities of the Human Rights Commission. According to the world press, 28/ this Commission in December 1982 was instrumental in obtaining the release of a person who had been illegally detained by the police on 24 September 1981 and since then had not been formally charged or placed at the disposal of the judicial authorities. In addition, according to information supplied by the Government of El Salvador, 29/ one of the members of the Commission, Monsignor Freddy Delgado, said that of the 32 cases dealt with by the Commission, six had been successfully concluded.

32. According to information from the Government of El Salvador, 30/ the Political Commission set up under the Apaneca Pact has already drawn up a political time-table in accordance with which the presidential and municipal elections are to be held in 1984; 28 March is given as the deadline for the elections.

33. However, Mr. Guillermo Ungo, President of the FDR, takes a very different view of the Apaneca Pact, for he personally told the Special Representative that the Pact merely recorded the points of divergence among the various political parties and sought to improve the current image of the Salvadorian regime.

34. Mr. Guillermo Ungo and Mr. Rafael Moreno, a representative of the Political and Diplomatic Commission of the FDR-FLNFM, told the Special Representative that what was going on at present was "diplomatic guerrilla warfare", by which they meant that the various proposals put forward by the opposition for dialogue and negotiation with the Government of El Salvador, while apparently being welcomed by the Government, never actually came to anything, with the result that the genuine pacification of the country was being put off.

35. According to a document dated 5 October 1982, 31/ the Revolutionary Democratic Front (FDR) and the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front (FMLN) proposed the initiation of an unconditional direct dialogue with the Executive of El Salvador, the Constituent Assembly and the armed forces "with a view to finding ways of establishing peace and social justice in El Salvador and contributing to détente in the Central American region". The document goes on to suggest that a "good offices group" should be set up to organize and pave the way for such a dialogue, which should be held in the presence of reliable witnesses. The world press 32/ recorded the news of the proposals. According to the same source, 33/ however, Mr. D'Aubuisson, President of the Constituent Assembly of El Salvador, said that he would never allow discussions with criminal groups, while the Archbishop, Monsignor Rivera y Damas, described the proposal as timely and the Christian Democrat Party said it would be prepared to take part in the negotiations.

36. At the end of December 1982, President Magaña called on all the members of the Cabinet to resign so that it could be reorganized and fresh impetus given to government activity. 34/ All the Ministers and Under-Secretaries complied by offering their resignation, and following the relevant consultations, the President appointed a new Foreign Trade Minister, Under-Secretary for Culture, Youth and Sport, and Under-Secretary for Agriculture and Stock-breeding; he did not accept the resignations of the other members of the Cabinet. 35/

37. Early in January 1983, Lieutenant-Colonel Ochoa Pérez, Military Commander of the Department of Cabañas refused to obey an order from the President of the Republic and Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces appointing him military attaché in the Embassy of El Salvador in Uruguay. 36/ Referring to these events, General José Guillermo García, Minister of Defence, stated that the only official who could ask him to resign was the President of the Republic and Commander-in-Chief of the armed forces, and that "manipulation by certain political leaders was apparent" 37/ in the course events had taken. Finally, Lieutenant-Colonel Ochoa agreed to resign his post, 38/ although he was sent not to Uruguay but to Washington as delegate to the Inter-American Defence Board. 39/

III. SITUATION WITH REGARD TO THE EXERCISE OF ECONOMIC, SOCIAL AND CULTURAL RIGHTS IN EL SALVADOR

38. In his previous report to the Commission on Human Rights, 40/ the Special Representative assembled a variety of information on the situation with respect to economic, social and cultural rights in El Salvador, and in this report he would like to add the following.

39. According to document E/1982/75 of the Economic and Social Council of 19 May 1982, 41/ there was a negative growth of 9.5 per cent in El Salvador in 1981, due, among other things, to "internal factors, especially those deriving from continued and widespread civil strife". On the other hand, according to the same source, there was a considerable decline in inflation, from 19 per cent to 12 per cent.

40. As the ECLA survey 42/ states, the severe crisis in which the country is plunged has caused, among other things, such extensive physical damage that its effects will last at least throughout the medium term and perhaps longer. The survey adds that "although it is too early to calculate exactly the financial cost of economic reactivation and recovery, and the restoration of the road, power communications and transport infrastructure, and in general the restoration of production capacity and housing, it must amount to hundreds of millions of dollars by any estimate". The survey also states that "once again internal factors - primarily the armed strife - and external factors combined to produce the critical economic situation".

41. With regard more specifically to employment and unemployment trends, the survey states that "some partial data confirm the increasing decline in employment levels. The above-mentioned survey by the Chamber of Industry and Commerce of El Salvador indicates that between January 1980 and August 1981 employment fell by 27 per cent in manufacturing branches, 56 per cent in construction, 25 per cent in trade, 33 per cent in transport and 16 per cent in other services. This partial information refers basically to the situation in the towns, where unemployment figures were sometimes higher than in rural areas".

42. In his previous report, the Special Representative referred at some length to the agrarian reform undertaken by the Revolutionary Government Junta. 43/ The agrarian reform comprised three phases, concerning each of which the Special Representative now wishes to add the following information.

43. With regard to the first phase, affecting farms of over 500 hectares, the competent authorities of the Republic of El Salvador informed the Special Representative during his visit to the country that implementation of that phase was continuing despite the financial and other difficulties which had arisen.

Thus, 287 peasant co-operatives are managing expropriated farms on which 7 per cent of the rural population are working and living, and the National Bank for Agricultural Development is granting credit to those co-operatives for the agricultural year 1982/1983. In addition, according to the international press, 44/ on 27 July 1982 12 peasant co-operatives with a total membership of 10,000 persons received deeds of ownership of expropriated farms under the first phase of the reform, a total of 107 claims having been approved.

44. The second phase of the land reform affects farms of over 100 or 150 hectares - depending on the quality of the land - but less than 500 hectares. According to the explanations given to the Special Representative in El Salvador by the competent authorities, its implementation has been postponed on account of the widespread violence, the lack of skilled personnel to provide the potential beneficiaries with the necessary technical assistance, the severe economic crisis through which the country is passing and the lack of capital to pay compensation to landowners. Nevertheless, nearly 100 farms have been voluntarily offered for sale to the Salvadorian Agrarian Reform Institute, which has so far bought 64 of them, incorporating them in the process of implementation of the first phase.

45. The third phase of the agrarian reform is set out in Decree No. 207 of 18 April 1980 of the Revolutionary Government Junta and affects farms subject to the land-leasing and share-cropping system. With regard to this phase, the Constituent Assembly on 18 May 1982 adopted Decree No. 6 which instituted a temporary suspension of Decree No. 207. Subsequently, however, the Constituent Assembly issued a Decree giving an authoritative interpretation of Decree No. 6, which indicated that the latter provided for the temporary suspension of Decree No. 207 only for the duration of the cycles of cultivation of cotton, sugarcane and cereals and cattle-raising activities, that the rights stemming from the leases had to be respected, and that when Decree No. 6 came into force the rights of the beneficiaries of Decree No. 207 of the Revolutionary Government Junta would be recognized. 45/ The Special Representative has been informed that on 9 June 1982 the President of the Republic delivered final deeds of ownership to former tenant-holders in the Department of San Salvador; that on 5 June in the town of Usulatán he handed over deeds of ownership to peasants of 18 communities in that department; that on Thursday 17 June Vice-President Molina and other officials delivered deeds of ownership in the town of Unión; and that these deliveries of deeds are part of a plan for the transfer of 800 titles of ownership, 100 of them final and 700 provisional. 46/ According to information supplied by the Government in January 1983, the Financiera Nacional de Tierras Agrícolas (National Financing Office for Agricultural Land - FINATA) will deliver in the course of the year 9,000 permanent deeds of ownership to peasants under Decree No. 207. The peasants benefiting from this aspect of the agrarian reform have easy access to credit. For the same purpose, a plan will be implemented with the Banco de Fomento Agropecuario for the purpose of granting loans to more than 13,000 peasants, either individually or as members of co-operatives or solidarity groups. This plan will come into force in the first fortnight of March. 47/

46. However, the Special Representative has also received different reports, as well as criticisms of the present state of the agrarian reform in El Salvador. In Martin Diskin's recent study 48/ the following comments are made:

> "The resulting situation reflects a serious lack of planning. The rapid initial act of intervention led to the formation of co-operatives whose new leadership did not reflect the working population prior to intervention. Farm managers, overseers, mechanics, and even book-keepers are overrepresented on many co-operatives. Had the physical intervention been done quickly, as it was, but with a period allowed for the formation of a co-operative directorate chosen to be more representative, the subsequent operation of the enterprise might have gone more smoothly. The slow pace of the titling, compounded by the constant difficulty in receiving credit, supplies and extension services, has lowered output and efficiency on many phase 1 farms. The chilling effect of violence, which is known to the military and the police and often perpetrated by them, has further impeded the implementation of this phase. A list of 184 murders committed between March and October 1980 was made public by Rodolfo Viera, the head of ISTA, who was himself assassinated in January 1981. Aside from 50 killings labelled unknown, they were all committed by military, security forces or the paramilitary.
> "Using the quantitative results from the monthly reports, we may say that the impact of the reform has been as follows. All the land in phase 1 - about 15 per cent of El Salvador's farm land - has been expropriated, benefiting perhaps 25,000 families. Only seven co-operatives have been issued titles.
> "In terms of production, 12.8 per cent of El Salvador's coffee-producing land, 38.2 per cent of the cotton land and 53.4 per cent of the sugar acreage were contained in phase 1."

47. Again with regard to the first phase of the land reform, Professor Roy L. Prosterman has said 49/ the following: "It may be said that the legal status of phase I has not changed ... but its practical status has, I believe, changed adversely, as a result of the appointment of hostile administrators, and the apparently widespread dismissal of favourably-disposed officials, non-granting of credit to many co-ops and weakening of important support services".

48. With regard to the second phase of the land reform, Martin Diskin has said: 50/

> "The second phase of the reform, long held in suspension, has now been legally extinguished by the Constituent Assembly elected in March. In addition to the real administrative and technical problems of implementation, it has been subjected to a constant barrage of criticism from those who stand to lose most from it. These people are now a dominant force in the Government and they have succeeded in undoing the single most important phase of the entire reform".

49. With regard to the third phase of the land reform in El Salvador, Martin Diskin has written the following: 51/

> "The 'Land-to-the-tiller programme', though flawed in concept, might at least have given - assurance to some of the poorest of the rural population. With even the distant promise of a land title, smallholders could begin to use their own creativity to devise ways to improve their lot with government financial and technical help. Now even that promise has succumbed to violence, intimidation, corruption, and most recently, to Decree No. 6, 'approved by the Assembly upon the initiative of the President of the Republic'."

50. Also in relation to the third phase of the land reform, the Special Representative read in a San Salvador newspaper 52/ a communiqué from the Christian Democrat Party stating: "From the day after the elections, from 28 March to date, more than 7,000 beneficiaries under Decree No. 207 have been dispossessed by ex-owners, with uninhibited use of force and intimidation and absolute disregard for laws and authorities". Further information is supplied by The New York Times, 53/ which says that according to the Democratic People's Union, a federation of peasants' and workers' organizations aligned with the Christian Democrats, 9,600 peasant families have been dispossessed of the land they had rented since the Assembly began to dismantle the agrarian reform programme, and a further 60,000 families have been threatened with dispossession.

51. Lastly, a working paper published by the Catholic University of El Salvador, 54/ which gives an overall assessment of the current process of reforms in El Salvador - land, banking and foreign trade reforms, states that "the reform programme decreed in 1980 seems to have encountered its first failure as a result of its lack of breadth and depth", adding that "the lack of depth and breadth of the reforms is not only understandable but in fact seems inevitable, seeing how many powerful forces there were waiting to frustrate the positive possibilities of the process". To conclude, the report states: "These conclusions do not represent any attempt to underestimate the importance of the three reforms planned; they are certainly the most ambitious changes put forward in the country's contemporary history. However, our analysis also leads to the conclusion that without exception the reforms have been and still are being badly administered, deeply affected by the war and subject to heavy pressure from the oligarchy which seeks to ensure - at this moment - that the reforms will ultimately be and will operate in its interests".

IV. SITUATION WITH REGARD TO RESPECT FOR CIVIL AND POLITICAL RIGHTS IN EL SALVADOR

52. For the reasons he explained in greater detail in his previous report to the Commission on Human Rights, 55/ the Special Representative considered that in view of the consistent pattern of gross violations of civil and political rights of all kinds in El Salvador, it was inappropriate to conduct a detailed review of the information received in the light of the specific provisions of the domestic and international legal instruments which are binding on the Republic of El Salvador in this area. He decided that it would be preferable to adopt a classification which takes into account the actual circumstances in which such violations take place. This classification, which does not imply any rigid distinction between the various categories, is as follows: (a) murders; (b) abductions and disappearances; (c) political prisoners; (d) other terrorist acts; and (e) general attitude of the Salvadorian judiciary.

1. Murders

53. The Special Representative has continued to receive a great deal of information concerning political murders of civilian non-combatants in El Salvador. The Special Representative is fully aware of the difficulty of accurately determining the exact number of crimes of this kind and considers that this difficulty is due to a variety of causes. The first is the very magnitude of the figures involved. The second is that, in many cases, information on murders comes to light only when bodies are found and it is thus very difficult to determine how they were committed and even whether they were really politically motivated or simply ordinary murders. There is also the fact that the regular army and a guerrilla organization are engaged in armed conflict and it may sometimes be difficult to determine whether those killed are combatants or not. The Special Representative considers that this is an area in which figures must be handled with caution, since there is no way of being really sure that reported figures on political murders of civilians are reliable. The Special Representative nevertheless wishes to point out that the various sources of information he has used basically agree on rises and falls in the total number of murders.

54. Thus, according to the University Documentation and Information Centre, 56/ 1,837 civilians were murdered between January and April 1982. Newsweek 57/ credits that source with information to the effect that 2,658 non-combatants were murdered in the first six months of 1982. According to the information handed over to the Special Representative by the Human Rights Commission of El Salvador 3,095 civilians were murdered between 1 January and 30 June 1982. According to information given directly to the Special Representative by "Christian Legal Aid of El Salvador", 58/ "a total of 3,039 persons were unlawfully executed in the first half of 1982". The figures may be broken down as follows: 566 in January; 532 in February; 526 in March; 505 in April; 375 in May; and 355 in June. According to the same source, 59/ 198 persons were killed in July and 351 in August. Thus, in the first eight months of 1982, the total number of political murders of non-combatants reported by Christian Legal Aid was 3,608. According to subsequent information furnished by Christian Legal Aid, 60/ 474 political murders were committed among the civilian population in September 1982, 122 in the fortnight 2-15 October, 61/ 359 in the fortnight 16-29 October, 62/ 123 between 30 October and 12 November, 63/ and 86 in the period 12-25 November 1982. 64/ This gives a total of 1,169 murders between 1 September and 25 November 1982 which, added to the figures for the first eight months of the year, gives an overall figure of 4,777 during the first eleven months of the year. The information in question also states that the executions were nearly all the result of action by government agents (the Army, the National Guard, the National Police and the Rural Police) against unarmed Salvadorian civilians not involved in military combat. With regard to the reliability of this source, the Christian Legal Aid bulletin of 26 May 1982 quotes Monsignor Arturo Rivera y Damas, Apostolic Administrator of the Archdiocese of San Salvador, as saying that the information provided by Legal Aid was not false, it was simply one-sided because it focused on only one aspect of the problem. Monsignor Rivera y Damas confirmed these words personally to the Special Representative, adding that the one-sidedness of the information was the result of the fact that the complaints received by Christian Legal Aid related only to government agents and extreme right-wing paramilitary organizations.

55. According to the statement by Monsignor Gregorio Rose Chávez, Suffragan Bishop of San Salvador, as reported in Le Monde, 65/ violence caused over 5,000 deaths in El Salvador in 1982.

56. According to a United States Department of State document based on press reports, 66/ the number of deaths may be broken down as follows: 279 in January; 361 in February; 450 in March; 194 in April; 301 in May; 189 in June; 165 in July; 196 in August; and 112 in the first two weeks of September. Thus, according to that source, a total of 2,335 persons were killed between 1 January and 15 September 1982. Responsibility is not attributed to specific sectors or persons.

57. The Special Representative also received information from the Government of El Salvador 67/ on murders committed by the armed opposition in the period 1968-1982 (up to 21 July 1982 only). According to this information, 4,678 civilians and members of various State agencies were murdered by subversive elements during that period, but separate figures for each year are not given.

58. Since nearly 12,000 political murders of non-combatants were reported for 1981 1981, 68/ there seems to have been a drop of about 50 per cent in 1982.

59. The Salvadorian press also reports on mass murders committed in El Salvador and the Special Representative wishes to put this information forward as further evidence in this respect. For example, El Diario de Hoy 69/ which is published in San Salvador, reports, in the edition of 8 March 1982, that seven persons were taken from their homes by several unknown armed persons and that their bodies were subsequently found in La Libertad district; that Mr. Juan Antonio Silezia was found dead in the street in San Salvador, but those responsible were not identified; that an employee was found dead on the railway line in Colonia Santa Isabel, but those responsible were not identified; that Mr. Cortés Parada was murdered by subversive elements in the place known as El Playón. The 15 March 1982 edition reports that two brothers, Félix José and Federico Rafael Charlaix, were abducted and then killed by unknown persons; that a National Police officer was killed by a terrorist group; that five mutilated bodies were found in Metapán (Santa Ana), but those responsible were not identified; that another six decapitated bodies were found in the same place, but those responsible were not identified; that the body of a young man was found in San Miguel and those responsible were also not identified; and that Mr. Abraham Wilfredo Aguilar García was abducted and decapitated in Santa Ana, but those responsible were not identified. The 20 March 1982 edition reports that the members of the San Agustín y Buenavista cantonal patrol are accused of murdering 24 people; that two farmers who had served in the army were murdered by unknown persons; that Dr. Juan Garzona was shot dead in Santa Ana after receiving threats from extremists; and that the Justice of the Peace of Santa Ana identified two bodies, but those responsible were not identified. The edition 70/ of 29 March 1982 reports that a domestic employee was killed by an unknown person in a Santa Ana restaurant. The edition 71/ of 1 April 1982 reports that Armando Turcios Yescas, a worker, was found dead in Anchico canton, but those responsible were not identified; that Alberto Campos and his wife were found dead in La Cruz canton, but those responsible were not identified; and that the bodies of three young men were found strangled and with bullet wounds in El Rosario canton, but those responsible were not identified. The edition 72/ of 3 April 1982 reports that Raúl Coto, a Salvadorian Green Cross relief worker, was killed by three unknown hooded individuals; and that the body of Mr. José Roberto Argueta was found with bullet wounds in Monte Grande canton, but those responsible were not identified. The edition 73/ of 19 April 1982 reports that two motorists were found murdered, but those responsible were not identified. The edition 74/ of 23 April 1982 reports that the officiating judge identified five bodies, but those responsible were not identified, and that four men were killed in a house by four armed individuals. The edition 75/ of 27 April 1982 states that Ricardo Antonio Manzariego, a mechanic, was shot dead with seven bullets in a hotel in Zacatecoluca by four unknown persons and that Mr. José Manuel Mejía Castillo was killed by unknown persons in San Vicente. The edition 76/ of 28 April 1982 states that the Justice of the Peace identified four bodies, but those responsible were not identified. The edition 77/ of 29 April 1982 reports that Luis Alonso Martínez Escobar, a watchman, was killed by unidentified persons. The edition 78/ of 30 April 1982 reports that the Justice of the Peace identified the bodies of three young men, one of whom was a soldier; it is therefore believed that the killings were carried out by subversive elements. The edition 79/ of 1 May 1982 reports that Milton Ernesto Alvayero, a worker, was shot dead by unknown persons in the Candelaria district of San Salvador. The edition 80/ of 3 May 1982 describes the discovery of two bodies in Mejicanos, one decapitated and the other with a knife wound in the head, with no identification of those responsible. The edition 81/ of 4 May 1982 reports that, in Mejicanos, the bodies of two persons were found with their hands tied behind their backs by the thumbs, but with no identification of those responsible; that Delia del Carmen Vargas Maravilla, a teacher, was killed by unknown persons and that she was the fiancée of an army officer and the sister of another officer; that three individuals were shot dead in the Candelaria district of San Salvador by unidentified persons; and that an employee was shot dead in the courtyard of his house in Usulatán canton by eight heavily armed individuals. The edition 82/ of 31 May 1982 reports that Francisco Alfredo Romero, an employee of the Ministry of Public Health, was shot in the chest in Zacatecoluca by unidentified persons. The Special Representative believes that some of these cases may be ordinary crimes.

60. As in his previous report, 83/ the Special Representative wishes to refer in particular to information concerning especially serious and blatant cases of murders, such as mass killings of peasants, political leaders, journalists and other persons.

61. In fact, according to the information received by the Special Representative, mass killings continued in 1982. Thus, according to information provided by the University Documentation and Information Centre, 84/ there were 24 reports of massacres between January and April, with a total of 547 persons killed; two of the massacres were the result of FMLN attacks on military objectives in Chalatenango, with a total of 60 dead.

62. Legal Aid 85/ reported that a massacre had taken place on 18 April 1982, between 5 and 6 a.m., in Barrios village, Divisadero district, Department of Morazán, and that 48 people had been killed. According to the same source, the murders were committed by uniformed army soldiers after the villagers had shut themselves up in their homes following a sharp clash with guerrilla fighters. The Human Rights Commission of El Salvador (non-governmental) 86/ gives a similar version of what happened, stating that 22 children, 8 adolescents, 15 adults and 4 old people were killed, giving their names and ages. According to the international press, 87/ approximately 50 men, women and children were killed in Barrios and the murders were committed as a reprisal for the ambushing of 100 soldiers by guerrilla fighters. The Government of El Salvador told the Special Representative that it had no knowledge of any such events, that the report contained no eye-witness accounts or evidence and that was part of the disinformation campaign designed to discredit the Government.

63. According to information furnished to the Special Representative by the Human Rights Commission of El Salvador (non-governmental), 88/ in the city of Santa Ana members of the so-called Death Squad made a violent attack on the San Juan district, killing four young men and women aged between 12 and 20; the name and age of each victim is given. According to the international press, 89/ seven Salvadorian peasants belonging to a rural community maintained by Swiss Protestant Aid were killed by members of the Salvadorian Army on 21 November 1981.

64. With regard to the murders of political leaders, El Diario de Hoy of San Salvador 90/ reports on the murder of Mrs. Yolanda Cárcamo, the Christian Democratic Party candidate as deputy for San Salvador. According to Le Monde, 91/ the bodies of six militant members of the Christian Democratic Party were found on 27 May in El Playón, near San Salvador, and their deaths were attributed to the extreme right. According to the International Herald Tribune, 92/ Angélica García de López, mayoress of the town of San Francisco Chinameca, and her 18-year-old daughter were killed on 28 May 1982. The same newspaper quotes a spokesman for the Christian Democratic Party as saying that one of the killers was a civilian but the others were connected with the National Guard. The same source also reports that the Salvadorian authorities arrested the three persons responsible. El Diario de Hoy of San Salvador, on the other hand, reports that National Guard officers captured the persons who killed Evangelina García and that according to the Christian Democratic Party they were members of the Chinamequite civil defence organization and the Candelaria cantonal patrol. 93/

65. With regard to journalists, it was reported in the world press 94/ that four Dutch television reporters were killed by army elements on 17 March 1982 near the town of El Paraiso, 36 miles north of San Salvador. According to the same sources, the Minister of Defence of El Salvador stated that the deaths of the four reporters took place when troops opened fire on guerrillas, while President Duarte said that the reporters died when they were moving around in the guerrilla zone, with the protection of the guerrillas, but that the Government was unaware that they were in the area of hostilities. However, the report of 13 April 1982 commissioned by the Government of the Netherlands 95/ states that "The official Salvadorian versions are not entirely credible and are debatable. The fact that some preliminary statements were later changed means that they cannot be accepted unconditionally". The conclusions of the Netherlands report are as follows: (1) it has been established that the four members of the IKON team were shot dead by soldiers of the Salvadorian regular army ...; (2) the IKON team either met the army patrol by chance or fell into an ambush set up by the patrol; (3) since, on the one hand, the reporters were obviously under suspicion and since, on the other, their arrival could very easily have been announced by radio to the army patrol while they were on their way to the place at which they met, so that the patrol would have been able to set up an ambush, an organized attack on the reporters cannot be ruled out. On the other hand, it must be pointed out that the army did not conceal the bodies and, on its own initiative, took them together with the body of the guerrilla leader, Oscar, to San Salvador.

66. Subsequently, on 28 May 1982, the Government of the Netherlands issued an additional report 96/ containing the following conclusions: (1) conclusion (1) of the report of 13 April 1982 remains valid; (2) although, theoretically, it cannot be ruled out that the patrol was warned by radio of the arrival of the IKON reporters from the military camp, the additional inquiry has provided no indications that could lead to the conclusion that there was any premeditated intention of luring the IKON reporters into an ambush. Nor has any convincing proof been found of the thesis that the clash between the military patrol and the guerrilla fighters accompanying the IKON team was the result of chance.

67. In connection with the deaths of the Dutch reporters, the Special Representative had a conversation, in Mexico, with Mrs. Ana María Rumayor, the widow of the reporter, Jacobs Kolster, one of the members of the IKON team. Mrs. Rumayor showed the Special Rapporteur a photocopy of a report drawn up at the office of the Rural Police which showed that Mr. Kolster had been questioned there on 11 March 1982 because they had found on a guerrilla fighter a note giving Kolster's name, address and telephone number. The photocopy of the report - whose authenticity the Special Representative can vouch for because he saw the original document in San Salvador - indicates that the reporter and his companions were at no time coerced or physically or mentally ill-treated. The report is signed by the Director of the Rural Police and by Mr. Kolster. Jacobs Kolster's widow gave the Special Representative a photocopy of the document sent to the Attorney-General of the Republic of El Salvador requesting the appointment of a prosecutor for the criminal investigation into her husband's death. With regard to the death of Mr. Johannes Jan Willemsen, another of the Dutch reporters who was killed, the Special Representative noted that similar legal proceedings had been instituted before the Attorney-General of the Republic of El Salvador on 13 October 1982 by Miss Yachiyo Matsuzaki, Mr. Willemsen's companion, and by his father, Mr. Gerrit Jan Willemsen. The Special Representative also received a letter from Miss Jacqueline Bouma, fiancée of Mr. Hans Lodewijkter Laag, another of the Dutch reporters killed, with a photocopy of the request submitted to the Attorney-General for the appointment of a prosecutor for the case. The request is dated 20 October 1982.

2. Abductions and disappearances

68. The Special Representative wishes to provide various types of information on cases of alleged abductions and disappearances, but it must be pointed out that, in this connection again, figures must be treated with the greatest caution. That is in the first place because, after abductions, the bodies of the persons abducted are sometimes found, and such cases are counted as murders. In other cases, it is discovered that the persons abducted are being held in detention centres belonging to the armed forces or the security bodies, and these are counted as political prisoners. In still other cases, the persons abducted are released. There are, lastly, the cases in which the persons who have been abducted are not found, presumably because they have been murdered and their bodies have been hidden; only then can reference properly be made to disappearances. The Special Representative considered it necessary to give these explanations before providing information on figures concerning abductions and disappearances, which, in many cases, overlap with figures concerning murders and political prisoners.

69. According to information handed to the Special Representative by the Human Rights Commission of El Salvador, there were 244 cases of persons who disappeared between 1 January and 30 June 1982. Amnesty International 97/ gives a list of 50 persons who were arrested and who disappeared between late March and early May 1982. The same source 98/ reports six other cases of disappearances.

70. According to information provided by the Legal Protection Office of the Archbishopric, Archdiocesan Commission on Justice and Peace, 99/ during the month of May 1982 the Office received reports of 68 persons arrested and of that number five were found dead, six were located in security prisons and seven had been sent to ordinary prisons, but nothing was known about the other 50 persons.

71. According to the same source, 100/ 15 arrests were reported between 12 and 18 June, 19 between 19 and 25 June, 101/ 13 between 26 June and 1 July, 102/ 23 between 9 and 15 July, 103/ 18 between 16 and 22 July, 104/ 11 between 23 and 29 July, 105/ 27 between 30 July and 3 August and between 9 August and 12 August, 106/ 9 between 20 and 26 August, 107/ and 31 between 27 August and 2 September. 108/

72. In Mexico, Christian Legal Aid gave the Special Representative more complete lists containing information on alleged disappearances. According to the first partial list, 109/ 402 persons were arrested by security or government agents in the period from November 1981 to July 1982; 40 of these were brought before the courts. Another partial list 110/ refers to the arrests by government agents of 44 minors between November 1981 and July 1982. A third partial list 111/ refers to 16 citizens arrested during the same period by the Civil Defence Committee. A fourth 112/ refers to 39 citizens who were arrested and subsequently executed by their captors during the same period; their cases have also probably been counted as murders.

73. The Special Representative continued to receive information about arrests. Thus, according to Christian Legal Aid, 113/ in the week 8-14 October 1982 there were 12 reported arrests; in the fortnight 15-28 October 1982 there were 23 reported arrests; 114/ in the fortnight 30 October-12 November 1982 23 persons were reportedly arrested. 115/ All these arrests were carried out by members of the Army or the security forces.

74. The Special Representative considers it appropriate to mention the information received from the International Commission of Jurists 116/ concerning the arrest of the following persons in a House in the El Satélite district on the outskirts of San Salvador on 20 August 1982: Mr. Raúl Villalba, lawyer; Mrs. América Fernando Perdomo, member of the Human Rights Commission of El Salvador (non-governmental); Mrs. María Elena Martínez de Recinos, member of the Committee of Mothers and Relatives of Persons Detained, Missing or Murdered for Political Reasons; her daughter, Miss Carla Recinos, aged 13, and a maid; witnesses say these arrests were made by the Rural Police. The Human Rights Commission of El Salvador (non-governmental) has furnished similar information on the same events.

3. Political prisoners

76. According to information made available to the Special Representative by the Government of El Salvador, 118/ 2,478 persons were arrested between 15 October 1979 and 13 July 1982 for involvement in terrorist activities. Of these 1,254 were released; 575 were brought before military examining magistrates; 156 were brought before ordinary judges; 16 were brought before minors' judges; one was taken to a guidance centre; 21 were brought before the Director General of Migration; 72 were brought before various military authorities; 357 were brought before the special police judge; one fled, one committed suicide and 54 cases are pending. Another document from the same source 119/ states that 839 persons were arrested for involvement in terrorist activities between 1 January and 22 September 1982.

77. According to information communicated orally to the Special Representative by the Minister of Justice of El Salvador, the number of political prisoners under his Ministry's authority on 18 September 1982 was 629, of whom 561 were men who were being held in Mariona prison and 61 were women being held in Ilopango prison. On 23 September 1982, 36 prisoners were being held in the San Salvador National Police prison, according to information handed over to the Special Representative by the Colonel in charge of the National Police; those persons had been detained between 19 August and 22 September 1982.

78. According to Amnesty International, 120/ there are at present several hundred political prisoners in San Salvador, but their number is relatively small compared with the number of persons arrested, for reports continue to indicate that persons arrested either disappear soon after their arrest or are released, and that many are being held in military establishments or at secret detention centres.

79. According to information provided by the International Committee of the Red Cross, 121/ delegates of that humanitarian organization made 172 visits to places of detention in March 1982; there were 157 new cases of persons arrested for security reasons and the persons visited were under the authority either of the Ministry of Justice, or of the security forces or the army. The report of the International Committee of the Red Cross 122/ also indicates that, in March 1982, its Search Offices in San Salvador, Santa Ana and San Miguel continued to receive information from persons looking for relatives who had either disappeared or been abducted. During that period, approximately 1,400 persons called the office in the capital and 261 requests for searches were received; in March, 61 cases were solved.

80. For the rest, according to documentation handed over to the Special Representative by the Government of El Salvador during his visit to the country, delegates from the International Committee of the Red Cross are still being allowed to visit detention centres. 123/ There has also been a restructuring of the Auxiliary Control Commission, a Government body which investigates particularly serious cases of the ill-treatment of prisoners. An office of public information on persons arrested by National Police officers has, moreover, been set up in an annex to the National Police headquarters in San Salvador. The San Salvador newspaper La Prensa Gráfica of 29 October 1981 reported the opening of that office. The Special Representative visited the premises and examined the documentation that is available to the public.

81. Specifically with regard to the situation of political prisoners in El Salvador, the Special Representative received a report which was prepared by two former political prisoners, Mr. José Antonio Morales Carbonell and Mr. Juan José García Cañas, and annexed to a letter sent from Mexico City on 12 July 1982. 124/ The report states that "To date, most political prisoners do not officially know why they are being detained or whether there is any decision or warrant ordering their detention; they do not even know whether there are any proceedings against them ...; many prisoners have been held for years without officially knowing why they are being detained". The report also states that Decree No. 507 of the Revolutionary Government Junta is not being complied with, "for there are prisoners who have been detained for up to 204 days in security prisons without being brought before the competent courts ...; 166 (33.5 per cent) were remanded within the legal time-limit, but 330 (66.5 per cent) were remanded after the time-limit stipulated in the Decree". The report also states that there are several prisoners who were notified over a year ago that their cases were being brought before the National Court, but that they still do not know what stage has been reached in the proceedings, which is another violation of their rights. The report also says that, with a view to obtaining unofficial statements, "political prisoners are brutally beaten, injured and burned with acid; electric shocks are applied to the most sensitive parts of their bodies: the genitals, armpits, soles of the feet, head, tongue, ears, eyes, etc. They are subjected to asphyxia in the most brutal manner ... They are strung up in various ways, for lengthy periods of time, and beaten and kicked in various parts of their bodies. After being tortured, they are forced to sign blank pieces of paper ... or coerced into signing with their eyes blindfolded". In this connection, the report provides the following information obtained since May 1982: among 331 prisoners, 132 were physically tortured, 27 were psychologically tortured, 6 were not tortured and there were 496 instances of torture altogether. The report also indicates that there are now 54 minors aged 14 years or older who are being kept in prison indefinitely together with adults, even though the time-limit for corrective detention (120 days) laid down in the Decree has expired". It also reports five cases of military raids on prisons and indicates that prisoners "are crowded into very small cells, in deplorable sanitary conditions, and lack medicine and proper medical care. The food they receive is extremely inadequate, primarily consisting of a diet of tortillas and beans. The daily food budget for each prisoner is one colon, 25 centazos, i.e. $.50 per day ...". The lack of water, electricity and other conveniences makes the prisoners' lives very difficult, all the more so because their basic needs are not being met. In the statements they made to the Special Representative in Mexico City, Mr. Morales Carbonell and Mr. García Cañas confirmed what they had said in their letter.

82. The Special Representative received information concerning an armed attack on a prison. Thus, according to information from Legal Aid, 125/ combined forces from the National Guard and the Rural Police arrived at Mariona Detention Centre, near San Salvador, on 18 March 1982 at 8.30 a.m. and used a megaphone to order the prisoners out of the cell blocks. When they came out, they were forced to lie face down on the ground and were kept in that position in the sun until 11.30 a.m., while the officers threw water and stones at them or stamped on them. All the prisoners were interrogated and particular attention was given to the cases of the youth, Antonio Morales Carbonell, and Hector Bernabé Recinos. Young Morales was given drugs to make him talk, but since he would not he was beaten and had several veins slashed with a razor blade, so that he had to be taken to a medical centre. Mr. Recinos had a hood placed over his head several times and then they beat him so badly that he cannot walk. According to the same information, the other prisoners, some 550 in all, where whipped, insulted and robbed and ended up with bad sunburns on their backs. The Guardian 126/ of 24 March 1982 reports that Dr. Morales Erlich, who is a member of the Revolutionary Government Junta and the father of young Morales Carbonell, requested an investigation of the matter. Information from the Committee for the Defence of Human Rights in Central America 127/ and the Amnesty International report 128/ give substantially similar accounts of what allegedly happened, as does the statement made to the Special Representative by Mr. Morales Carbonell. According to the San Salvador newspaper El Diario de Hoy, 129/ Mr. Morales Carbonell had to be treated in a private clinic.

83. However, the Government of El Salvador gave the Special Representative a different version of the events, stating that when prisoner Antonio Morales Carbonell saw the soldiers, "he panicked, his blood pressure dropped and he was helped by prison nurses and later taken to the San Salvador Polyclinic for treatment". The Government also states that "the staff does not physically assault prisoners". 130/

84. During his stay in El Salvador, the Special Representative visited Mariona prison where he saw the dormitories, workshops, kitchens and dining-rooms of the prison which generally seemed adequate. He was able to talk freely with the political prisoners who are the leaders of COPPLS (Committee of Political Prisoners of El Salvador), namely, Mr. Mario Vigil, Mr. Bernabé Recinos, Mr. Dagoberto Sosa, Mr. José Antonio Valencia, Mr. Oscar Garza and Mr. Francisco Arévalo, who said that they had been detained for 19, 25, 11, 25, 24 and 19 months respectively. They also said that the time-limits laid down in Decree No. 507 of the Revolutionary Government Junta 131/ were not being respected and that they did not know when they would be brought to trial. Bernabé Recinos also said that his wife and 13-year-old daughter had disappeared on 20 August 1982 and José Antonio Valencia stated that his 16-year-old daughter had been killed. The prisoners who were interviewed also said that what was stated in the above-mentioned letter from Mr. Morales Carbonell and Mr. García Cañas was true.

4. Other terrorist acts

86. In 1982, violent acts of sabotage against the Salvadorian economy continued to be carried out by the guerrilla opposition. Thus, according to information supplied by the University Documentation and Information Centre, 133/ "between February and April 1982, a total of 439 acts of sabotage were carried out, mostly in the central region and in particular in San Salvador, the department in which most of the country's non-agricultural productive sources are concentrated. In other regions, the departments that were most affected were Usulután, San Vicente and San Miguel, which are of strategic importance because of their cotton and sugar-cane crops but are also the areas in which violent military clashes have frequently occurred ... Statistics show that sabotage has been carried out mainly against means of transport (46 per cent) and the electric power distribution and supply systems (23.7 per cent), thereby affecting two basic elements of the economic cycle: the circulation of distribution of goods and services and their protection. Although fewer in number (5.7 per cent), cases of sabotage of means of communication have had an enormous impact on communications in the country and on the national economy". According to the same source, 134/ FMLN forces destroyed or damaged the following bridges during the first quarter of 1982: four in Santa Ana; one in San Salvador; three in Usulután; two in San Miguel and one in Morazán".

87. According to the International Herald Tribune, 135/ guerrillas attacked a large ANTEL (National Telephone Company) installation, destroying some telephone communications in the capital; according to the same source, guerrillas also set fire to the town hall of Tecapán, which is some 50 km south-east of San Salvador. According to the same newspaper, 136/ the guerrilla radio announced that, in the town of San Miguel, the building and some of the lorries of a construction company had been set on fire. The same newspaper reported 137/ that guerrillas had set fire to 17 buses in different parts of San Salvador on Sunday, 22 March 1982, and had set fire to at least 5 buses in Chalatenango. According to The Guardian, 138/ guerrillas blew up electric power plants and lines on 20 and 21 March 1982 in the departments of Usulután, San Miguel, Morazán and La Unión, leaving those areas without electricity for three days; according to the same source, guerrillas also attacked electric power lines in the town of El Triunfo. The International Herald Tribune 139/ reported that guerrillas blew up a bridge in San Francisco Gotera and cut off two roads and telephone lines to nine towns. According to The Guardian, 140/ guerrillas blew up electric power pylons in three provinces of El Salvador. Le Monde 141/ and The Times 142/ reported that guerrillas attacked a goods train near San Vicente and sabotaged electric power lines in that town and in the town of Quezaltepeque.

88. Subsequent reports in the international press 143/ stated that the opposition radio station "Radio Venceremos" issued a communiqué prohibiting road traffic throughout the country. The same sources reported that, on 30 June and 1 July 1982, more than 20 vehicles, mainly cars and lorries, were burned or dynamited by FMLN members. According to Le Monde, 144/ the situation is especially critical in the eastern part of the country, where the bus service between towns and villages has been almost completely halted by the systematic campaign to destroy means of transport. According to The Times, 145/ 50 per cent of El Salvador's transport system has been paralysed. The Times 146/ and Le Monde 147/ also report that guerrillas have apparently cut off water and electricity supplies in much of San Salvador.

89. Guerrilla attacks of this kind continued during the month of August and, according to the international press, 148/ four eastern provinces were in their fifth day without electricity after guerrillas had dynamited electric power lines; it was also reported that many communities were unable to obtain water from electric-powered pumps. In the international press there have been further reports of activities of this kind. Thus on 15 October 1982 a number of bomb explosions caused electricity cuts in San Salvador 149/ and on about the same date FMLN guerrillas attacked the hydroelectric dam at San Lorenzo. 150/

90. Documentation handed to the Special Representative by the Government of El Salvador during his visit to the country 151/ indicates that, in the period between 1 January and 20 September 1982, there were 151 cases of sabotage with dynamite in the land transport sector; 50 in the industrial, commercial, banking and agricultural sectors; and 351 in the sector of State-owned facilities.

According to the same information, there were 157 cases of incendiary sabotage in the land transport sector; 46 in the industrial, commercial, banking and agricultural sectors; 16 in other sectors: and 61 in the sector of State-owned facilities. According to the information received, there were 561 other acts of sabotage, making an over-all total of 34,379 cases. Damage to the economy resulting from attacks carried out between 1 January and 22 September 1982 is estimated at 90.5 million colones.

91. Subsequent to the completion of the interim report, the Special Representative continued to receive information concerning terrorist acts. In this connection various bombing incidents and other acts of sabotage were reported in the international press. On 15 October in San Salvador a number of bombings disrupted electricity supplies, 152/ in San Lorenzo guerrillas attacked a hydroelectric plant, 153/ and on 28 October eight bombs exploded in San Salvador and guerrillas were reported to have burnt, dynamited or shot up at least three vehicles on highways. 154/ According to the International Herald Tribune, guerrillas attacked and damaged two trains north and east of San Salvador. 155/ On 14 November The Guardian reported that the guerrillas attacked the country's largest hydroelectric dam, the Cinco de Noviembre, 48 miles north-east of San Salvador, and blacked out the eastern half of El Salvador in a separate bombing of a power transmission pylon. 156/ In November, witnesses reported that 13 trucks were burnt by guerrillas on the coastal highway, and that eight vehicles were blown up in San Salvador. 157/ According to another source, in Aguilares, 35 km north of the capital, guerrillas attacked a sugar plantation with mortars and gunfire. 158/ The Times reported that on 22 November the northern part of San Salvador province was without electricity after two pylons were dynamited. There was a similar incident in the eastern province of San Miguel. In the east, rebels stopped cars and demanded contributions of 10 colones (just under £2) from passengers. 159/ And an article in the Salvadorian newspaper El Mundo reported the suspension of rail traffic to the eastern part of the country following the dynamiting of the El Burro bridge by terrorists. The same article reported that terrorists have thus far destroyed about 10 railway bridges. It noted that a total of eight engines have also been destroyed by terrorist groups, causing losses of some 8 million colones. 160/ According to El Mercurio, leftist rebels killed 24 passengers and 3 soldiers in a surprise attack on a stopping train in the eastern province of Usulután. 161/ And in December, an article in the International Herald Tribune referred to the shooting down by the guerrillas of three crop-dusting planes in Usulután in order to halt the cotton harvest. The article also reported downed power lines, and burned-out trucks and buses on the roadside. 162/

The FMLN denied reports that it had forcibly enlisted more than 200 young persons: 93 young persons reportedly joined the guerrilla forces of their own accord while the rest returned freely to San Sebastián. 164/

93. According to information supplied by the Government of El Salvador, 165/ 1,200 manzanas of sugar cane were burnt by extremists in the northern part of the country on 1 January. This action not only affected the producers, but also caused unemployment among cane-cutters and transport personnel working in the sugar industry. The International Herald Tribune reported that on 13 January guerrillas planted about 25 bombs under highway construction equipment in the southern part of San Salvador, where the Government is building a divided highway to the airport. The bombs seriously damaged the equipment and set fire to at least 14 lorries and 5 tractors. 166/ In accordance with government sources in El Salvador, the attack has left about 100 people jobless, including drivers, mechanics, surveyors and various skilled workers, and it will be impossible to complete the final stretch of the highway. 167/

5. General attitude of the Salvadorian judiciary

94. In his previous report to the Commission on Human Rights, 168/ the Special Representative referred to the general attitude of inactivity and passivity of the Salvadorian judiciary towards violations of human rights, although he acknowledged the difficulties impeding the normal functioning of the courts and noted certain attempts to apply legal sanctions to such violations. The Special Representative believes that this situation remains largely unchanged at present, for although he has received information on certain other proceedings instituted in respect of violations of human rights, the number of criminal violations reported bears little relation to the number of criminal proceedings brought to his attention. At all events, the Special Representatives notes signs of a slight increase in the activity of the judiciary, although this is extraordinarily slow since there is no record of any of the criminal proceedings instituted for human rights violations having resulted in a sentence.

95. The Special Representative's general impression of the attitude of the Salvadorian judiciary is confirmed by other sources. Thus, according to Amnesty International, 169/ "the judicial system in El Salvador has all but ceased to function". Moreover, a report prepared by the Lawyers' Committee for International Human Rights concerning the murder of four American nuns on 4 December 1980 170/refers to the "general breakdown in the judicial powers in El Salvador" as one of the obstacles to serious progress in that case. Similarly, the report of 20 September 1982 of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights 171/ states that "at present, it is clear that there are no penal sanctions for most of the people who commit such horrible crimes". And according to press reports, 172/ Monsignor Rivera y Damas in his homily on 7 November 1982 that the judiciary "is not acting as it should".

96. The Attorney-General of the Republic explained to the Special Representative some of the difficulties at present affecting the administration of justice in El Salvador. According to those explanations, the Salvadorian judicial system is organized for normal, peaceful conditions and has no means of dealing with the present situation of widespread violence. The Attorney-General also stated that in most cases it is extremely difficult to find out who committed murders, either because there are no witnesses or because witnesses are afraid to testify. Nearly all murder cases, the Attorney-General stated, lead to the institution of criminal proceedings, but, in view of such difficulties, the proceedings immediately come to a standstill and are classified as "pending investigation". In addition, according to a document made available to the Special Representative by the Government of El Salvador, 173/ between 16 June 1980 and 28 June 1982 35 members of the Salvadorian judiciary were murdered by terrorists and a further 9 were subjected to threats from the same source.

97. In some cases, however, there has been some resumption of the activity of the Salvadorian criminal justice system. Thus, in the case of the murder of the four American nuns on 4 December 1980, the proceedings are in the investigation stage, according to what the Attorney-General told the Special Representative. According to information supplied subsequently by the Government of El Salvador, 174/ the trial began in November 1982. In the case of the murder of Mr. Viera and two American advisers, the Attorney-General said that the day before two accused persons had been brought before the Fifth Criminal Court. Subsequent reports reaching the Special Representative concerning this case 175/ state that at the end of November 1982 the judicial reconstruction of events took place and two former corporals in the National Guard confessed to having committed the murder, although they added that they had acted under the orders of two officers and with the assistance of a businessman. At the beginning of December 1982, the judge ordered the commencement of the trial stage. 176/ This decision was appealed against by the Attorney-General, who opposed the dismissal of proceedings in respect of one officer who was suspected of being an instigator, and was also appealed against by the defence counsel of the two accused. 177/ With regard to the proceedings in the case of the murder of Monsignor Romero, the Attorney-General said that, like so many other proceedings, they were at a standstill because of the lack of witnesses.

98. The Special Representative received some information concerning action taken against members of the army and security forces accused of violations of human rights. Thus, according to The Guardian, 178/ 18 guardsmen were arrested in connection with the deaths of four leaders and eight other members of the Christian Democratic Party and the mass killing of 22 persons. According to the same newspaper, 179/ the United States Embassy in El Salvador confirmed that, since January 1982, 147 members of the armed forces and at least 10 members of the civil defence organization had been arrested for gross abuse of authority; 20 of them were also under arrest for murder. According to the same source, General García, Minister of Defence, issued instructions in March to all military personnel, warning that violations of the Code of Military Conduct would be punished.

99. More specific information in this connection is to be found in the documentation handed to the Special Representative by the Director-General of the National Police, 180/ which states that retired Army Major Guillermo Antonio Roeder and other persons were remanded on 2 February 1982 to a criminal court for taking part in the abduction of an engineer and using the services of a security company founded by Major Roeder himself. The Special Representative does not know what stage has been reached in the judicial proceedings. According to other documentation passed on by the Director-General of the National Police, 181/ 11 members of the Military Guard of the cantons of San Agustín and Buena Vista were remanded to a court on 18 March 1982 for taking part, on 4 March 1982, in the murder of 19 persons, 14 of whom were minors. The Special Representative again does not know what stage has been reached in the judicial investigation of this matter.

100. The Director-General of the National Police also gave the Special Representative a list 182/ of 303 persons discharged from the National Police between 15 October 1979 and 22 September 1982: 13 persons were discharged for attempted rape; 42 for assault; 11 for extortion; 39 for rape; 20 for misappropriation; 38 for homicide; 14 for theft; 11 for bribery; 6 for receiving unlawful payments; 34 for injury; 17 for robbery; 4 for abduction; 2 for attempted robbery; and others for various reasons. The documentation states that, in many cases, the accused have been placed at the disposal of the competent criminal courts, but the Special Representative does not know what stage has been reached in the proceedings.

101. The Director-General of the Rural Police also handed to the Special Representative, during his visit to the country, a report on rural police officers remanded to ordinary courts since 15 October 1979. 183/ The list includes 18 cases involving a larger number of members of that police force. The Special Representative does not know what stage has been reached in the criminal investigation of these cases.

102. In addition the Director-General of the Rural Police gave the Special Representative a list of 39 cases of expulsion of members: 184/ 5 between 15 October and 31 December 1979; 2 in 1980; 20 in 1981; and 12 between 1 January and 22 September 1982. Many of these cases related to disciplinary offences, such as drunkenness and failure to observe working hours. In 1982, one of the cases involved the murder of several civilians.

103. Lastly, the Special Representative found that the authorities of the Republic of El Salvador displayed concern to give some impetus to the functioning of the criminal justice system as part of a policy to improve the situation of human rights in the country. The Special Representative expresses the fervent hope that this concern will produce satisfactory results as soon as possible.

V. SITUATION OF REFUGEES AND OTHER PERSONS DISPLACED AS A RESULT OF CURRENT EVENTS IN EL SALVADOR

104. In his previous report 185/ the Special Representative stated: "The events in El Salvador are forcing many people to leave their homes and normal places of residence and to move to other parts of the country or to seek refuge in neighbouring countries". This situation continued in 1982, and as far as refugees are concerned the figures received show that their numbers increased during the year.

105. According to information from the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), 186/ on 1 June 1982 there were estimated to be between 175,000 and 295,000 Salvadorian refugees in various Latin American countries, distributed as follows: 7,000 in Belize; 10,000 in Costa Rica; between 50,000 and 100,000 in Guatemala; 15,000 in Honduras; between 70,000 and 140,000 in Mexico; 22,000 in Nicaragua; and 1,000 in Panama. Of these 34,030 are assisted by UNHCR.

106. As regards displaced persons, according to information supplied to the Special Representative during his visit to the country by CONADES (National Committee for Aid to Displaced Persons), 187/ as at 31 August 1982, 226,744 Salvadorians had been displaced from their places of residence and were being given various forms of assistance by that body: food and health assistance, clothing, promotion of the reincorporation of displaced persons in the economic life of the country by means of work as needed in the communities. 188/

107. The Special Representative nevertheless wishes to refer to the telex sent from Mexico on 17 December 1982 by the Human Rights Commission of El Salvador (non-governmental) stating that some 5,000 Salvadorian refugees in Sabanetas (Department of Morazán) were starving to death after a group of persons trying to bring them food had been detained by the army.

VI. SITUATION WITH REGARD TO COMPLIANCE WITH THE INTERNATIONAL RULES OF HUMANITARIAN LAW APPLICABLE IN ARMED CONFLICTS

108. With regard to respect for human rights in the armed conflicts taking place in El Salvador between the regular army and the opposition guerrilla forces, the Special Representative received less information for this report than for the previous one.

109. However, the report of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights of 20 September 1982 189/ states that the Commission is aware that serious violations of human rights have been taking place on both sides, in violation of the Geneva Conventions of 1949. Furthermore, some of the reports on mass killings of the civil population by regular military forces and guerrilla groups contained in part IV of this report would appear to indicate a failure to comply with the minimum rules of humanitarian law applicable in all types of conflict.

110. Nevertheless, the Special Representative received some reports indicating that in certain cases both of the contending parties have spared the lives of combatants captured in the course of the fighting and have even released them.

111. In this connection, the Special Representative wishes to point out that the Ambassador of El Salvador to the United Nations Office at Geneva made available to him a document of the general staff of the armed forces dated 9 December 1980 entitled "Normal procedure to be followed with regard to persons captured by the armed forces of El Salvador". The instructions contained in this document state that during the interrogation of prisoners members of the armed forces must always respect their person and treat them courteously but firmly; they must be given food and the minimum necessary attention; women must be given special treatment and be separated from men. The document also contains instructions about terrorists and collaborators who voluntarily give themselves up: such persons must without exception be given a returnee's card and proceedings against them must be initiated in any case in which they have demonstrably played a leading role in, or been responsible for, the physical and moral destruction of the Republic.

112. In addition, the Special Representative received reports of cases of armed left-wing opponents who availed themselves of the amnesty: 8 in Chalatenango; 190/ 2 others at Usulután; 191/ 20 more on 31 December 1982 near Cerrón Grande Dam; 4 more on the same date in the town of San Vicente; 192/ and 3 more at Ilobasco. 193/

113. The Special Representative was also able to speak to a former guerrilla fighter who had been captured in combat. He was imprisoned but after some time was released and was even able to go to Mexico. Some Salvadorian authorities told the Special Representative of cases in which captured guerrillas had received humanitarian treatment and medical assistance. In addition, according to statements by Monsignor Rivera y Damas made in September 1982, 194/ within the chaotic framework of violence existing in El Salvador, "there have been signs of humanization in recent weeks when persons have been taken prisoner and placed at the disposal of a judge, and when 40 soldiers taken prisoner by the guerrilla forces have been handed over to the International Red Cross".

114. The Special Representative also read in an information bulletin published by the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) 195/ that delegates of the Committee paid three visits to three officers and 56 soldiers captured by the FMLN; according to the same source, 40 of these soldiers were released under the auspices of ICRC on 31 August, and handed over by that humanitarian body to the competent military authority at the regional barracks of San Francisco Gotera (Morazán). According to explanations given to the Special Representative by Mr. Rafael Moreno, a representative of the Political and Diplomatic Commission of the FDR-FMLN, 10 of the captured soldiers preferred to join the guerrillas. In addition, the Special Representative read in the press 196/ statements by some journalists who had been held by guerrilla forces and later released; they said that the insurgents were treating prisoners well.

115. The Special Representative subsequently received reports on the release by the FMLN of captured members of the regular army of El Salvador. Thus, according to press reports, 197/ the FMLN handed over to ICRC 40 members of the army and 4 members of the National Guard. According to an ICRC bulletin, 198/ on three occasions FMLN forces handed over to ICRC a total of 55 members of the Salvadorian armed forces captured during hostilities; ICRC in turn transferred them to the nearest military garrisons.

VII. CONCLUSIONS

116. After examining and conscientiously evaluating the information summarized in the foregoing pages, the Special Representative is in a position to offer some conclusions which reflect his personal convictions. It must be said, however, that owing to the particular nature of the Special Representative's mandate and of the investigation made in order to discharge it, these convictions do not relate to specific acts or events but to the general situation of human rights in El Salvador during 1982. The Special Representative in fact, considers that the massive character of violations of human rights in El Salvador prevents him from undertaking the necessary investigations to ascertain the facts of each of the cases about which he has received information.

117. With regard to economic, social and cultural rights, the Special Representative considers that, generally speaking, the situation he described in his previous report to the Commission on Human Rights remains unchanged. 199/ In this context the Special Representative takes into account the difficulties stemming from the economic crisis through which the country is passing and the fact that there can be no substantive improvement in those rights from one day to the next, but only through a gradual process of reforms, including agrarian reform, which requires, among other things, a genuine climate of social peace. The Special Representative considers, however, that the Salvadorian people still do not enjoy economic, social and cultural rights of any particular significance. In the same context, he wishes to add that the attacks on the country's economy carried out systematically by the guerrilla opposition, although presented as aimed at military targets, seriously compromise the future enjoyment by the people of El Salvador of very important economic, social and cultural rights.

118. With regard to civil and political rights, the Special Representative is morally convinced that during 1982 serious, massive and persistent violations of human rights have continued in the country and in many cases have ended tragically in attacks on human lives, precisely because of the continuing serious civil conflict taking place in El Salvador. While it is true that the information received shows that the number of assassinations has dropped to approximately half what it was in 1981, nevertheless the size of the figures given for 1982 clearly indicates that the situation with regard to respect for human life is still very serious. In the opinion of the Special Representative, responsibility for the violations of civil and political rights lies both with members of the State apparatus and violent groups of the extreme right, which seem to have acted in collusion with or been tolerated by the former, and with armed groups of the extreme left, although there are indications that the violations of human rights involving attacks on the life, physical integrity, liberty and security of persons are in the majority - but not solely - perpetrated by members of the State apparatus and violent groups of the extreme right, while terrorist acts against public and private property are mainly due to guerrilla groups.

119. With regard to the activity of the judiciary in El Salvador, the Special Representative considers that the situation is still unsatisfactory and that it calls for considerable improvement. Although he has observed signs of a slight increase in the punishment of violations of human rights, he has not heard that any of the proceedings initiated have resulted in a sentence. The Special Representative realizes, however, how difficult it is for the Salvadorian judicial system properly to investigate and to punish such a large number of offences as are at present being committed in the country in the prevailing atmosphere of generalized violence, and he notes the concern of the authorities of the Republic to encourage the activity of the judiciary.

120. With regard to the continued armed clashes between the regular army of El Salvador and the guerrilla forces, the Special Representative believes that the Geneva Conventions of 1949 and the 1977 Protocols are still not being properly complied with, notwithstanding certain cases in which both sides have given humanitarian treatment to, and even released, persons captured in combat. In his interim report to the General Assembly, the Special Representative stated 200/ that he "is not in a position to determine the numbers of such cases with respect to either of the contending sides". Bearing in mind information received subsequently, there are signs that the cases of humanitarian treatment of persons captured by the guerrilla forces are nevertheless more numerous. The Special Rapporteur expresses his fervent hope that the humanitarian treatment of persons captured in combat and more generally of all those participating in combat will soon become general practice.

121. While it is true that under both the 1962 Constitution - declared to be in force by Decree No. 3 of the Constituent Assembly - and the international instruments on human rights applicable in El Salvador, the authorities of that country have an undeniable right to adopt emergency measures to deal with the situation of violence and armed confrontation existing in the country, nevertheless neither those instruments nor the most elementary moral principles inherent in any normal conscience would justify the use of emergency measures to violate fundamental and inalienable human rights including, first and foremost, the right of every person to life.

122. The Special Representative again notes the concern which he has observed in high Government spheres in the Republic of El Salvador for the protection of human rights but, while very pleased to see this concern, he wishes to express his hope and his fervent desire that it should speedily and effectively be reflected in the facts of the situation, especially as regards respect for the basic right of every person, which is the right to life.

200/ A/37/611, "Situation of human rights and fundamental freedoms in El Salvador", Interim report transmitted to the General Assembly by Professor José Antonio Pastor Ridruejo in fulfilment of the mandate conferred under resolution 1982/28 of the Commission on Human Rights, 22 November 1982.

VIII. RECOMMENDATIONS

123. In view of the concern which the Government of El Salvador and other interested sectors have expressed regarding the violation of human rights and bearing in mind in particular the quintessential nature of the right to life and that violations of that right are irreparable, the Special Representative recommends most emphatically that both sides should immediately take steps to end the attacks on human lives.

124. The Special Representative likewise considers that the restoration of civil peace is a vital prerequisite for respect for civil and political rights and for the gradual enhancement of economic, social and cultural rights. It is therefore necessary once again to urge the Government of El Salvador and other interested parties to take whatever measures are necessary in order to bring peace to the country. In this connection, the Government should constructively consider the possibility of a dialogue with all the political forces of the country, including those of the left-wing opposition, with a view to putting an end to the armed confrontation.

125. In addition, the Government and authorities of El Salvador should be recommended to adopt the following measures, in particular:

(1) The repeal of all legal enactments and other measures that are incompatible with the principles contained in the international instruments binding on the Republic of El Salvador in respect of human rights, and in particular the repeal of Decree No. 507 of 3 December 1980 containing the special law on procedures applicable to the offences referred to in article 177 of the Political Constitution;

(2) The institution of real and effective control by the Government over all the members and units of the armed forces and security forces and over all types of armed organizations and individuals in order to ensure that they behave in accordance with the principles laid down in the international instruments that are binding on the Republic of El Salvador in the matter of human rights, including the Geneva Conventions of 1949 and the 1977 Protocols;

(3) The adoption by the Salvadorian governmental and judicial authorities of all the legal measures necessary to prevent and speedily and effectively punish violations of human rights and fundamental freedoms, including the possible dismissal from their posts of officials of the civil administration and the heads, officers and other subordinate members of the armed and security forces who have been responsible for such violations;

(4) The organization at all levels, including schools and the mass media, of mass campaigns to promote respect for human rights;

(5) The continuation and extension, on a genuine human, social and democratic basis, of the necessary administrative and social reforms, including agrarian reform, so that the people of El Salvador may enjoy to the fullest extent possible the economic, social and cultural rights set forth in the international instruments binding on the Republic of El Salvador.

Churchwomen's Murder Case

Attached is a copy of a State Department cable with a series of questions concerning the murders of the four American churchwomen in 1980. The State Department has asked us to provide answers. I need whatever help you can give me on questions 19 and 20.

19. Obviously, this is an insulting question for Cols. Cruz, Cummings, and Bosch. AmEmbassy Mexico has tried to interview Moran and we are convinced here that his story is nonsense. Nevertheless, the families are not going to let go on this question until we have a definitive answer. Would it be possible to get statements from Cols. Cruz, Cummings, and Bosch (written or oral) to the effect that they did not communicate with Hans Christ tendhsayffect that these women were coming and would be interfered with? Could you do this through your communications channels?

20. I have been told that El Salvador did not have Hueys in December, 1980. Is that correct? Would it be possible to check flight logs for GOES helicopters for the period 11/16/80 - 12/1/80? Would these logs indicate where the helicopter was flying? If not, let me know and I will answer the question accordingly.

Thahks.

1. (C) SUMMARY: NEW YORK TIMES PUBLISHED JAN 11, 1982 A TOTALLY FALSE ARTICLE ALLEGING US PARTICIPATION IN A TORTURE INCIDENT. NO ATTEMPT WAS MADE BY NYT TO VERIFY STORY HERE. RADIO MOSCOW BEGAN PLAYING SAME TUNE ALMOST IMMEDIATELY. THIS MESSAGE OUTLINES MULTIPLE FACTUAL

DISCREPENCIES WHICH ARE, AND WERE, EASILY VERIFIABLE. ACTION REQUEST: THAT WASHINGTON FOCUS WIDEST POSSIBLE ATTENTION ON THIS BLATANT EXAMPLE OF INACCURATE NEWS-- REPORTING ON SALVADOR AND ITS USE BY THE LEFT TO ATTEMPT TO ASSOCIATE US ASSISTANCE WITH OFFICIAL TERRORISM AND REPRESSION. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) THE EMBASSY BELIEVES THAT THE ALLEGATIONS IN THE NEW YORK TIMES ARTICLE OF JAN. 11, 1982 THAT U.S. PERSONNEL WITNESS SO-CALLED "TORTURE CLASSES" ARI TO ALLY FALSE. FURTHERMORE, OUR INVESTIGATION HAS DISCOVERED -- SEVERAL DISCREPANCIES IN THE NEW YORK TIMES ARTICLE- WHICH TEND TO CAST DOUBT ON CARLOS MONTANO'S ENTIRE ACCOUNT ON THE ALLEGED INCIDENT.

3. (C) EVEN A CURSORY READING OF THE JANUARY 11 ARTICLE RAISES TWO QUESTIONS. HOW WOULD THE NYT PUBL SH SO -- PROMINENTLY SUCH A CONDEMNATORY ARTICLE BY A SALVADORAN ARMY DESERTER WITHOUT CHECKING OUT THE FACTS ON-THE GROUND? A SECOND AND EVEN MORE SERIOUS QUESTION HAS TO DO WITH THE TIMING OF THE RELEASE OF THESTORY WHICH ITSELF IS NOT DATED. WE HAVE LEARNED THROUGH JOURNALISTS THAT A GROUP OF SALVADORAN EXILES IN MEXICO, INCLUDING DISSIDENT CHRISTIAN DEMOCRAT HECTOR DADA HIREZI AND EX-OWNER OF THE SAN SALVADOR LEFTIST DAILY EL INDEPEN-

DIENTE, JORGE PINTO, OFFERED GOMEZ' TALE SEVERAL WEEKS BEFORE ITS JAN. 11 PUBLICTION, TO SEVERAL AMERICAN JOURNALISTS IN MEXICO CITY. NONE OF WHOM WOULD TOUCH IT FOR ITS OBVIOUS LACK OF CREDIBILITY. THE NYT NOT ONLY ACCEPTED THE STORY BUT HELD IT UNTIL THE FIRST CONTINGENT OF SALVADORAN MILITARY ARRIVED FOR TRAINING IN NORTH CAROLINA. THE TIMES THEN RAN THE STORY IN AN EXTREMELY PROMINENT POSITION ON PAGE FOUR ALONG WITH A PHOTO OF THE ARRIVAL OF THE SALVADORAN MILITARY.

TO LATIN AMERICAN (FBIS BY 182200) USED THE STORY THE FOLLOWING DAY, JAN 12, TO LAUNCH A PARTICULARLY VICIOUS ATTACK AGAINST THE US. IT MADE A SIMILAR LINK BETWEEN ACCUSATION OF WIDESPREAD INSTRUCTION IN TORTURE BY THE US AND THE ARRIVAL OF SALVADORAN MILITARY TRAINEES IN THE US.

5. (U) AS FOR THE STORY ITSELF, THE FOLLOWING DISCREPANCIES WERE CONFIRMED BY THE MILGROUP COMMANDER:
A. GOMEZ STATED THAT SOME OF THE U.S. PERSONNEL WHO OBSERVED THE INCIDENT WERE DRESSED IN JUNGLE CAMOUFLAGE FATIGUES. COMMENT: NO U.S. ARMY PERSONNEL HAS CAMOUFLAGE

FATIGUES IN EL SALVADOR. THEY WERE PROHIBITED FROM THE BEGINNING.
B. GOMEZ SAID SOME WORE GREEN BERETS WHEN THEY ARRIVED AT ILOPANGO AIRPORT. COMMENT: U.S. PERSONNEL HAVE BEEN PROHIBITED FROM BRINGING GREEN BERETS INTO EL SLVADOR FROM THE START. FURTHERMORE, ONLY TWO OF THE 19-PERSONNEL IN THE COUNTRY IN JANUARY 1982 WERE FROM THE SPECIAL FORCES, AND THEY DID NOT WORK AT THE AIR BASE. THOSE AT THE ILOPANGO AIR BASE WHO WOULD HAVE BEEN FAMILIAR TO GOMEZ WERE HELICOPTER MAINTENANCE MEN AND PILOT TRAINERS WHO NORMALLY WORE GREEN OVERALLS OR FLIGHT SUITS.
C. GOMEZ SAID THAT HIS PARACHUTE UNIT RECEIVED TRAINING

FROM TWO U.S. ADVISORS. COMMENT: NO U.S. TRAINERS HAVE EVER WORKED WITH THE PARACHUTE UNIT. NOT EVEN FOR A SHORT TIME.

6. (U) IN ADDITION TO THE ABOVE, A SEPARATE INVEST GATION CONDUCTED BY ABC UNCOVERED THE FOLLOWING ABOUT GOMEZ:
A. HE CLAIMS HIS PARENTS WERE MASSACRED BY THE NATIONL GUARD IN MAY 1981. COMMENT: ACCORDING TO RELATIVES IN ZACATECOLUCA, DEPARTMENT OF LA PA,, HIS PARENTSDIED SEPARATELY OF NATURAL CAUSES LONG BEFORE THAT DATE.
B.GOMEZ HAS NOT BEEN CONSISTNENT IN DESCRIBING HIS FAMILY TO DIFFERENT REPORTERS. THE NUMBEROF BROTHERS AND SISTERS VARIES FROM INTERVIEW TO INTERVIEW.
7. (U) THE ONLY VERIFIABLE FACT IN GOMEZ' STORY THAT CHECKS OUT IS THAT HE WAS A PARATROOPER AND DESERTED AT ABOUT THE TIME HE ALLEGED. HOWEVER, HE CLAIMS TO HAVE ESCAPED FROM STOCKADE AT ILOPANGO WHILE MILITARY RECORDS INDICATE THAT HE SIMPLY FAILED TO RETURN FROM A 48 HOUR PASS.

8. (U) ASIDE FROM THE DISCREPANCIES IN GOMEZ' STORY, IT IS INCONCEIVABLE THAT EIGHT U.S. SERVICE MEMBERS WOULD WATCH A 13-YEAR OLD GIRL BEING TORTURED-WITHOUT TAKING ACTION, OR AT THE VERY LEAST, REPORT IT TO THEIR SUPERIOR OFFICER. MORAL CONSIDERATIONS ASIDE, THEY ARE TRAINED TO REPORT SUCH INCIDENTS. THERE-HAVE -BEEN NO REPORTS, NOT EVEN ANY RUMORS OF SUCH AN INCIDENT.-

9. (U) THIS MESSAGE, ALONG WITH THE TESTIMONY OF ALL THE INSTRUCTORS PRESENT AT THE TIME, WHICH THE DOD- S COLLECTING SHOULD PROVIDE SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO COUNTER THE GOMEZ' STORY, THOUGH UNFORTUNATELY THE STORY WILL - REMAIN IN THE FILES OF THOSE WHO WOULD DISCREDIT AMERICAN [redacted]

(NO FOREIGN EXPERT WAS PRESENT). SIGNORELLI SAID THAT ALL WERE AGREED AFTER THE SECOND AUTOPSY THAT JIMENEZ WAS NOT MISTREATED BY BEATINGS OR TORTURE IN ANY WAY PRIOR TO HIS EXECUTION. THE TIME OF DEATH WAS REPORTEDLY CONFIRMED AS MID- TO LATE-MORNING, SHORTLY AFTER HE WAS ABDUCTED WHILE ON HIS WAY TO HIS UNION OFFICE. IT WAS ALSO DETERMINED THAT JIMENEZ DIED FROM HAVING HIS THROAT CUT, AND THAT SUBSEQUENT TO THAT, AND PERHAPS EVEN BEFORE HE WAS ACTUALLY DEAD, HE HAD BEEN SHOT IN THE HEAD FIVE TIMES, INSTEAD OF THE PREVIOUSLY REPORTED TWICE, WITH A SMALL CALIBRE GUN, PROBABLY A .22.

4. EARLIER ON MARCH 13, JIMENEZ' WIDOW ANNOUNCED THAT THE FAMILY WOULD BE TRAVELLING TO SWEDEN TO TAKE UP RESIDENCE THERE, ACCEPTING THE OFFER OF THE SWEDISH GOVERNMENT TO THAT EFFECT. THE NEXT DAY, A MARRIED DAUGHTER ARRIVED FROM SWEDEN, WHERE SHE HAS LIVED FOR SOME YEARS, TO ASSIST THE FAMILY WITH THE ADMINISTRATIVE DETAILS. MRS. JIMENEZ' COMMENTS WERE MADE DURING A TRIP TO THE CONCEPCION AREA WHERE SHE ADDRESSED A LARGE MEETING CELEBRATING THE CREATION IN THAT AREA OF A UNITED "TUCAPEL JIMENEZ" LABOR FRONT; ELEMENTS FROM ALL SECTORS OF OPPOSITION ORGANIZED LABOR, INCLUDING THE FAR LEFT, WERE PRESENT AS WELL AS INVITEES OF NATIONAL REKNOWN FROM SANTIAGO. WE WILL BE REPORTING BY SEPTEL SHORTLY ON THE SUBJECT OF THE JIMENEZ DEATH AND THE PROSPECTS THAT THIS SHOCKING EVENT COULD SERVE AS A CLARION CALL FOR UNITING ALL OPPOSITION SEGMENTS OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT.

3. DURING A MEETING WITH EMBOFF ON MARCH 9, FONOFF LA AFFAIRS DIRECTOR ZORILLA VOLUNTEERED THAT FONOFF HAD SOME INFORMATION BEYOND WHAT APPEARED IN PRESS STATEMENT IN REFTEL. ZORILLA SAID, FOR INSTANCE, THAT GOM HAD LEARNED THE TELEPHONE NUMBER OF GUTIERREZ' "NOVIA" IN MONTERREY, AND HAD CHECKED HIS STORY OUT WITH HER. AFFAIRS DIRGEN VALDES ON MARCH 15. SPECIFICALLY, WE ASKED VALDES WHETHER THE "INSTITUTE" IN SALTILLO REFERRED TO BY GUTIERREZ IN FACT EXISTED; WHETHER THERE ARE IMMIGRATION RECORDANY OF THE OTHER NICARAGUANS THAT GUTIERREZ CLAIMED HAD ENTERED WITH '" HIM IN 1981; WHETHER THE OTHERS HAD LEFT MEXICO; AND WHETHER THERE WAS ANY BASIS TO GUTIERREZ'S CLAIMS OF GUERRILLA TRAINING CAMPS IN OTHER STATES. WE NOTED THAT CLARIFICATION OF THESE REMAINING POINTS WOULD SEEM TO BE IN THE COMMON INTEREST OF U.S. AND MEXICO, IN ORDER TO CLEAR THE AIR.

5. VALDES RESPONDED DEFENSIVELY. INSTEAD OF ANSWERING SPECIFIC QUESTIONS, HE STATED THAT WE COULD BE SURE THAT THE ENTIRE STORY THAT GUTIERREZ GAVE TO THE SALVADORANS WAS A FABRICATION, ADEPTLY INVENTED BY GUTIERREZ ON THE SCENE TO AVOID PROLONGED DETENTION OR WORSE. THERE WAS NO NEED FOR FURTHER INVESTIGATION OF GUTIERREZ'S ALLEGATIONS ABOUT MEXICO. IN CONTRAST, THE SALVADORAN AUTHORITIES WERE ACTING IRRESPONSIBLY IN CONTINUING TO HOLD UP GUTIERREZ'S SAFE CONDUCT OUT OF THE COUNTRY TO MEXICO. INTERESTINGLY, VALDES ADDED AT THE END THAT MEXICAN AUTHORITIES WOULD WANT TO INTERVIEW GUTIERREZ THOROUGHLY WHEN HE ARRIVES IN MEXICO.

6. COMMENT: WE WOULD BE SURPRISED IF WE LEARN ANYTHING MORE FROM VALDES, ALTHOUGH WE LEFT OUR QUESTIONS WITH HIM IN WRITING. OUR TENTATIVE CONCLUSION IS THAT THE GOM ITSELF IS STILL UNCERTAIN WHETHER THERE IS ANY BASIS FOR GUTIERREZ'S ALLEGATIONS, AND WANTS TO INVESTIGATE THE MATTER FURTHER BEFORE DRAWING ANY FINAL CONCLUSIONS. COMMENT ON THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN GUERRILLA FORCES AND THE REFUGEES. THIS IS THE FIRST CONFIRMATION OF A LONG-SUSPECTED PHENOMENON: I.E., GUERRILCRUITMENT FROM THE RANKS OF THE REFUGEES, INCLUDING FROM WITHIN THE REFUGEE CAMPS. IN ADDITION, THE CALL TO RETURN HOME, COUPLED WITH CONTINUING OUTRAGE AT THE REFUGEE RELOCATION, CONFIRMS THAT THE MOVE TO MESA GRANDE IS REMOVING AN IMPORTANT SUPPORT ASSET FOR THE GUERRILLAS. A SIGNIFICANT NUMBER OF REFUGEES HAVE APPARENTLY ALREADY RETURNED TO EL SALVADOR RATHER THAN ACCEPT RELOCATION TO MESA GRANDE. APPROXIMATELY 2500 ARE UNACCOUNTED FOR AND MOST ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE LEFT HONDURAS.

EMBASSY FILES DO NOT INDICATE WHERE THE SCRAPING WAS OBTAINED. THE SCRAPING WAS SUBMITTED TO THE FBI LABORATORY FOR ANALYSIS ON 1/781. THE LABORATORY CONDLUDED THAT THE SCRAPING WAS COMPOSED OF THREE LAYERS:

WERE TAKEN OF SIX NATIONAL GUARDSMEN FROM THE AIRPORT

WERE THERE 85 GUARDSMEN PRESENT AROUND THE AIRPORT. THE

ALL EVIDENCE AVAILABLE TO THE EMBASSY AT THIS TIME SUGGESTS THAT THE LAST TWO INDIVIDUALS ON THIS LIST PLAYED NO ROLE IN THE MURDERS OF THE FOUR AMERICAN CHURCHWOMEN. THEY HAVE SINCE BEEN RELEASED FROM CONFINEMENT. THE GOES HOPE THAT THEIR LEGAL RIGHTS TO PRIVACY AND PROTECTION FROM FALS ACCUSATION WILL BE RESPECTED. TWO ADDITIONAL GUARDSMEN ERE ARRESED IN JANUARY 1982:
--CARLOS JOAQUIN CONTRERAS PALACIOS.
--SALVADOR RIVERA FRANCO.
EMBASSY, AIFLD INVESTIGATOR, AND SOME GOES INVESTIGATORS HAVE LOOKED INTO THE POSSIBILITY OF A CONNECTION BETWEEN THE SHERATON MURDERS AND THE CHURCHWOMEN MURDERS. SO FAR, NO SUBTAINTIATING EVIDENCE HAS BEEN FOUND, BUT AS BEST WE CAN, WE WILL CONTINUE TO PURSUE LEADS WHICH SUGGEST A CONNECTION BETWEEN THE TWO CASS.

6. HANS CHRIST. THE FBI HAS NOT INTERVIEWED HANS CHRIST, THE FBI HAS PROVIDED ONLY TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE IN THE SHERATON MURDERS INVESTIGATION.
HANS CHRIST PROVIDED FORMAL DECLARATIONS TO THE US DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA IN CONNECTION WITH THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT'S EXTRADITION REQUEST.

THE EXAMINER PREPARED A POLYGRAPH EXAMINATION REPORT FOR EACH EXAMINATION. THIS REPORT INCLUDES THE EXAMINER'S GENERAL CONCLUSION ABOUT WHETHER THE SUBJECT WAS LYING. IN THE CASE OF COLINDRES ALEMAN, THE REPORT ALSO PROVIDES THE SPECIFIC QUESTIONS AND RESPONSES IN WHICH THE EXAMINTER NOTED DECEPTION. IF FBI RULES PERMIT, THESE POLYGRAPH EXAMINATION REPORTS MAY BE RELEASED. COPIES ARE AVAILABLE AT THIS EMBASSY.

8. JUDGE'S WHEREABOUTS. DR. BERNARDO RAUDA MURCIA IS THE PRESIDING JUDGE OVER THE FIFTH CRIMINAL COURT OF FIRST INSTANCE. RAUDA LIVES IN SAN SALVADOR AND COMMUTES APPROXIMATELY 30 MILES A DAY TO HIS COURT IN ZACATECOLUCA, LA PAZ DEPARTMENT. AS BEST AS THE EMBASSY HAS BEEN ABLE TO DETERMINE, JUDGE RAUDA DROVER TO ZACATECOLUCA AROUND 0900 HOURS ON SATURDAY, 2/13/82. HE REPORTS THAT HE CONSIDERED THE CASE FOR APPROXIMATELY 90 MINUTES IN THE PRIVACY OF HIS CHAMBERS AND THEN PREPARED THE ORDER COMMITTING THE FIVE GUARDSMEN TO FURTHER DETENTION. HE DID NOT CONDUCT ANY PUBLIC BUSINESS THAT MORNING. AFTER SIGNING

THE ORDER OF COMMITMENT AND DELIVERING IT TO HIS CLERK, HE CLAIMS THAT HE RETURNED HOME TO SAN SALVAOR. HE DID NOT ENGAGE IN ANY FURTHER BUSINESS THAT SATURDAY.

9. ARREST REPORT. THE EMAASSY WAS UNAWARE THAT ANY OF ITS OFFICERS REPORTED THAT THE CHURCHWOMEN WERE ARRESTED AT THE AIRPORT. ALL OF THE EVIDENCE AVAILABLE TO THE EMBASSY SUGGESTS THAT THE CHURCHWOMEN WERE NOT ARRESTED AT THE AIRPORT. THE CHURCHWOMEN'S VAN WAS STOPPED APPROXIMATELY TWO MILES FROM THE AIRPORT TERMINAL AS BEST WE CAN DETERMINE. AT THAT TIME THEY WERE TAKEN INTO EFFECTIVE CUSTODY, THOUGH NOT FORMALLY ARRESTED. NO MENTION WAS MADE OF ARREST IN THE CHARGES AGAINST THE FIVE GUARDSMEN BECAUSE THERE WAS NO EVIDENCE OF SUCH ARRESTS.

10. POLYGRAPH QUESTION. THE FOLLOWING QUESTION WAS ASKED OF COLINDRES ALEMAN WHILE HE WAS ON THE POLYGRAPH: (ENGLISH TRANSLATION) "DID YOU RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS OR ORDERS TO ATTACK (ATENTARA) THOSE WOMEN?" COLINDRES ALEMAN RESPONDED "NO." NO DECEPTION WAS NOTED ON THE POLYGRAPH MACHINE. THE OFFICER IN CHARGE OF THE DISTRICT WHICH INCLUDED THE AIRPORT IN DECEMBER 1980 WAS NATIONAL GUARD LT. DANIEL MEJIA. HE WAS STATIONED AT ZACATECOLUCA, APPROXIMATELY 14 MILES (20 MILES BY ROAD) FROM THE INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT. TO THE BEST OF THE EMBASSY'S KNOWLEDGE, MEJIA HAS NOT BEEN INTERVIEWED BY GOES INVESTIGATORS SINCE LT. MEJIA APPARENTLY NEITHER HAD DIRECT INVOLVEMENT IN THE CASE NOR WAS IT EVEN SUGGESTED BY ANY LEAD THAT HE DID.
12. LIST OF PERSONS POLYGRAPHED. THE FOLLOWING INDIVIDUALS WERE SUBMITTED TO POLYGRAPH EXAMINATION IN EL SALVADOR CONCERNING THE CHURCHWOMEN'S MURDERS:
--LUIS ANTONIO COLINDRES ALEMAN.
--SALVADOR RIVERA FRANCO.
--JOSE ELIAS SANCHEZ GUZMAN.
--DANILE CANALES RAMIREZ.
--JOSE ROBERTO MORENO CANJURA.
--FRANCISCO ORLANDO CONTRERAS RECINOS.
--MARAGARITO PEREZ NIETO.
STATEMENTS BY ALL OF THESE INDIVIDUALS APPEAR IN THE PACKAGE OF REPORTS SENT TO THE DEPARTMENT FOR TRANSLATION.

ONCE RIVERA FRANCO CONFESSED, THE INVESTIGATORS CONCLUDED THAT FURTHER POLYGRAPH EXAMINATION WOULD NOT BE PRODUCTIVE. VALUABLE CON-FESSION WITH LITTLE LIKELIHOOD OF THE POLYGRAPH RESULTS BEING ADMISSIBLE IN COURT ANYWAY.

14. OTHER POLICE ORGANIZATIONS. THE POLICIA DE ADUANA (CUSTOMS POLICE) WAS THE ONLY OTHER POLICE ORGANIZATION REPRESENTED AT THE AIRPORT ON 12/2/80. THE COMMANDER OF THE DETACHMENT (JUAN DE DIOS BARRERA) AND THE DUTY DRIVER (VICTOR MELGAR GARAY) WERE BOTH QUESTIONED ABOUT THE EVENTS OF THE NIGHT OF 12/2/80. BOTH STATEMENTS APPEAR IN THE PACKAGE OF REPORTS WHICH THE FORWARDED TO THE DEPARTMENT.

15. AUTHORITY TO STOP TRAFFIC. ACCORDING TO A NATIONAL GUARD SOURCE, ANY SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL WITH THE RANK OF CORPORAL OR ABOVE HAS LEGAL AUTHORITY TO STOP AND SEARCH TRAFFICE. A PRIVATE IS AUTHORIZED TO STOP AND SEARCH IF HE IS PART OF A PATROL WHICH INCLUDES AT LEAST ONE OTHER PRIVATE. ANY MEMBER OF THE UNIFORMED SECURITY FORCES IF AUTHORIZED TO STOP AND SEARCH IF HE HAS BEEN ORDERED TO DO SO BY A SUPERIOR OFFICER OR NCO. IN THE REALITY OF PRESENT DAY EL SALVADR, ANY ARMED MEMBER OF THE SECURITY FORCES CAN AND OFTEN DOES STOP AND SEARCH TRAFFICE WITH OR WITHOUT ORDERS, SUPERIOR RANK, OR BEING ACCOMPANIED BY A PATROL.

16. OLIGARCHY. EMBASSY HAS SEEN NO EVIDENCE INDICATING THAT ANY OF THE FIVE MEN CHARGED WITH THE MURDERS EVER WORKED PRIVATELY FOR THE SALVADORAN "OLIGARCY." EACH OF THESE MEN HAD WORKED THEIR ENTIRE ADULT LIVES FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD. AT NO TIME DURING THE COURSE OF THE INVESTIGATION DID THE EMBASSY ENCOUNTER EVIDENCE THAT THESE MEN HAD EVERN WORKED ON A PRIVATE BASIS FOR ANYONE ELSE. THE EMBASSY IS NOT UNAWARE THAT IN THE PAST SECURITY PERSONNEL HAVE OFTEN BEEN EMPLOYED IN A PRIVATE CAPACITY BY WEALTHY INDIVIDUALS.

17. AIRPORT TELEPHONES. THERE ARE EIGHT PAY TELEPHONES LOCAED IN THE AIRPORT TERMINAL BUILDING. FOUR ARE LOCATED IN THE DOWNSTAIRS LOBBY AND FOUR ARE LOCATED UP-TD STAIRS IN THE IMMIGRATION AREA. EACH OF THE AIRLINES HAS A PRIVATE LINE LOCATED IN THE OFFICE BEHIND ITS COUNTER. IN ADDITION, THE IMMIGRATION SERVICE HAS A PRIVATE LINE LOCATED IN ITS OFFICE UPSTAIRS AND THE SALVADORAN CUSTOMS SERVICE HAS A PRIVATE LINE IN ITS OFFICE AT THE GROUND FLOOR CUSTOMS AREA. THE AIRPORT ADMINISTRATION AND FLIGHT CONTROL TOWER HAVE OUTSIDE LINES AS WELL, BUT AIRPORT SOURCES REPORT THAT THE NATIONAL GUARD PERSONNEL RARELY ENTER THOSE SECTIONS OF THE TERMINAL BUILDING.

18. NUMBER OF AIRPORT GUARDS. IN DECEMBER 1980, THERE WERE 24 MEN IN THE NATIONAL GUARD AIRPORT DETACHMENT. WHEN COLINDRES LEFT THE AIRPORT WITH FIVE GUARDSMEN, AT LEAST 18 MORE MEN WERE AVAILABLE FOR DUTY AT THE AIRPORT. NATIONAL GUARD DUTY LOGS (FOUND ON PAGES 7-11 OF THE DEPARTMENT'S TRANSLATED REPORTS FROM THE GOES) INDICATE THAT AT LEAST THREE GUARDSMEN WERE ASSIGNED DUTY FROM 1900 ON 12/2/80 UNTIL 0100 ON 12/3/80 AND SIX MEN WERE ON DUTY FROM 0100 TO 0600 ON 12/3/80. THERE IS EVIDENCE WHICH SUGGESTS THAT COLINDRES ALEMAN ASSIGNED THREE ADDITIONAL MEN TO DUTY AT THE AIRPORT ROAD TRAFFIC CONTROL POST SHORTLY BEFORE 1900 HOURS ON 12/2/80, ALTHOUGH THE ASSIGNMENT DOES NOT APPEAR IN THE OFFICIAL DUTY LOGS. NATIONAL GUARD SOURCES REPORT THAT IT WAS CUSTOMARY FOR THE AIRPORT GUARDS TO BE DISTRIBUTED AS FOLLOWS: ONE UPSTAIRS IN THE IMMIGRATION AREA OF THE AIRPORT, ONE DOWNSTAIRS IN THE CUSTOMS AREA, AND ONE OUTSIDE IN THE LOBBY AND PARKING LOT. ADDITIONAL GUARDS WOULD MAN THE TRAFFIC CONTROL POST AT THE SERGEANT'S DISCRETION.

19. MISSING WITNESS. CUSTOMS POLICE DUTY DRIVER VICTOR MELGAR GARAY TESTIFIED THAT HE DROVE THE BLUE PICK-UP TRUCK WHICH WAS SENT TO EL ROSARIO TO PICK UP THE [redacted]

SIX GUARDSMEN. HE STATES IN HIS DECLARATION THAT A GUARDSMAN WHOM HE IS ONLY ABLE TO IDENTIFY AS "VALLE" ACCOMPANIED HIM TO EL ROSARIO AND THROUGH ALL OF THE EVENTS WHICH OCCURRED AFTER MEETING WITH THE GUARDSMEN. THE ONLY"VALLE" LISTED IN THE AIRPORT NATIONAL GUARD ROSTER FOR 12/2/80 IS JULIO CESAR VALLE. EMBASSY SURMISES THAT THIS IS THE "VALLE" TO WHOM MELGAR GARAY REFERS. NO OTHER WITNESS HAS MENTIONED OR CONFIRMED HIS PRESENCE, HOWEVER. AT LAST REPORT, JULIO CESAR VALLE

HAD LEFT THE NATIONAL GUARD AND WAS BELIEVED TO BE IN GUATEMALA.

20. HANS CHRIST EMPLOYEES. EMBASY HAS NO REPORTS OF ANY EMPLOYEES WHO MAY HAVE LEFT EL SALVADOR WITH HANS CHRIST ON HIS LAST DEPARTURE FROM THE COUNTRY. ACCORDING TO CHRIST'S TESTIMONY GIVEN AT HIS BAIL HEARING IN MIAMI, HE LEFT EL SALVADOR IN ORDER TO MEET BUSINESS ASSOCIATES IN GUATEMALA CITY AND MIAMI. EMBASSY HAS NO KNOWLEDGE OF A MAN NAMED CESAR CORTEZ EVER HAVING WORKED FOR HANS CHRIST. EFFORTS HERE TO CHECK ON EMPLOYEES OF HANS CHRIST -- PARTICULARLY CORTEZ -- HAVE BEEN UNAVAILING.

21. US OFFICERS. NONE OF THE THREE OF THE US MILITARY OFFICERS MENTIONED IN THIS QUESTION IS ANY LONGER STATIONED IN EL SALVADOR. COL. CUMMINGS HAS RETIRED, WORKS FOR DOD/ISA, AND NOW RESIDES IN THE WASHINGTON, DC AREA. COL. BOSCH IS STILL ON ACTIVE DUTY AT DOD/DIA. MAJOR CRUZ WAS RECENTLY ASSIGNED TO THE U.S. MISSION IN GUATEMALA. THEY CAN BE REACHED THROUGH DEFENSE DEPARTMENT CHANNELS. WE NOTE THAT IF "CORTEZ", THE MISSING WITNESS, IS REALLY JULIO CESAR VALLE, THEN THE EVIDENCE THAT WE HAVE DEVELOPED SO FAR INDICATES [redacted]

THAT HE WILL BE ABLE TO PROVIDE TESTIMONY ONLY ON EVENTS THAT TRANSPIRED AFTER THE GUARDSMEN WERE PICKED UP AT EL ROSARIO. NO WITNESS HAS PLACED HIM WITH THE GUARDSMEN IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO OR DURING THE MURDERS.

FOR DEPARTMENT'S INFORMATION, WE KNOW NOTHING ABOUT THE CHILDREN OF MR. MORAN. IF EMBASSY IS TO BE OF ANY FURTHER ASSISTANCE ON THE MORAN LEAD, PLEASE PROVIDE FURTHER DETAILS ON THE FAMILY FROM AMEMBASSY MEXICO AND DEPARTMENT.

22. FOLLOWING HELICOPTER. THE GOES HAD NO HUEY HELICOPTERS IN EL SALVADOR UNTIL JANUARY 1981. THERE WAS ONE US-MANNED OAS HUEY HELICOPTER IN EL SALVADOR IN NOVEMBER-DECEMBER 1980. FOR THE MOST PART, THIS HELICOPTER PATROLLED THE NORTHERN BORDER WITH HONDURAS IN CHALATENANGO AND CABANAS DEPARTMENTS. IT IS POSSIBLE THAT A HELICOPTER WOULD FOLLOW EITHER OF THE TWO MAIN ROADS BY WHICH ONE WOULD TRAVEL FROM SANTA ROSA TO LA LIBERTAD FOR SOME DISTANCE WHILE RETURNING FROM CHALATENANGO TO ILOPANGO AIR BASE. HELICOPTER LOGS FOR EL SALVADOR DO NOT INDICATE ROUTES FOLLOWED. THEY INDICATE ONLY PLACE OF DEPARTURE, PLACES OF ALL INTERMEDIATE LANDINGS, AND PLACE OF FINAL LANDING FOR THE DAY.

THIS WAS SAID TO BE PARTICULARLY SO WITH FLIGHTS FROM NICARAGUA. THE SAME SOURCE REPORTS THAT DURING THE FIRST WEEK IN DECEMBER 1980, THE SECURITY FORCES WERE ESPECIALLY SUSPICIOUS OF FDR SYMPATHIZERS WHO MIGHT BE ENTERING THE COUNTRY TO ATTEND THE FUNERAL OF THE SIX FDR LEADERS SLAIN IN LATE NOVEMBER. THE NATIONAL GUARD SOURCE CLAIMS THAT OFTEN THE SECURITY FORCES BOARDED THE PLANES IN RESPONSE TO TIPS FROM DEPLANING PASSENGERS. EMBASSY HAS NOT YET IDENTIFIED SPECIFICALLY WHO BOARDED SISTER RUCKELMAN'S FLIGHT ON 12/2/80.

ARE NOT SATISFIED WITH THE GOES CONCLUSION THAT THERE WAS NO HIGHER LEVEL INVOLVEMENT IN THESE MURDERS. THEIR SUSPICIONS ARE COMPLETELY UNDERSTANDABLE. A FAMILY WHOSE LOVED ONE HAS BEEN BRUTALLY MURDERED CANNOT BE EXPECTED TO VIEW THE SUBSEQUENT INVESTIGATION IN AN OBJECTIVE, DISPASSIONATE MANNER. NEVERTHELESS, BECAUSE OF OUR STEADY PRESSURE, THIS MURDER CASE HAS PERHAPS BEEN MORE COMPLETELY INVESTIGATED THAN ANY CASE IN SALVADORAN LEGAL HISTORY. WE BELIEVE THAT WE HAVE HAD ACCESS TO THE INVESTIGATION RESULTS. THE TEVIDENCE WHICH WAS DEVELOPED SUPPORTS A FINDING THAT FIVE GUARDSMENT COMMITTED AN ACT OF INCREDIBLE BESTIALITY. IT DOES NOT SUPPORT A FINDING THAT THE ACT WAS ORDERED OR ASSISTED BY OTHERS. THERE COULD CONCEIVABLY BE MORE EVIDENCE OUT THERE REMAINING TO BE DISCOVERED. WE WILL CONTINUE TO FOLLOW SENSIBLE LEADS WHICH SUGGEST INVOLVEMENT BY OTHERS IN TFKECN MURDERS. WE MAY HAVE TO ADMIT AT SOME POINT, HOWEVER, THAT IT IS VIRTUALLY IMPOSSIBLE TO PROVE THAT AN INDIVIDUAL DID NOT HAVE KNOWLEDGE OF A PARTICULAR EVENT AT A PARTICULAR TIME.

THE ABOVE ANSWERS PROVIDE THE BEST INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO THE EMBASSY RIGHT NOW. WE DO NOT CLAIM THAT IT IS ABSOLUTELY CORRECT OR ALL-INCLUSIVE. WE CANNOT VOUCH FOR THAT INFORMATION WHICH, BY ITS VERY NATURE, COMES FROM SOURCES OUTSIDE THE USG. STILL, TO BE BEST OF OUR KNOWLEDGE, THESE ANSWERS ARE CORRECT.

EMBASSY REMINDS DEPARTMENT THAT THERE ARE THREE ACTION REQUESTS PENDING AT THIS TIME:

--FIRST, AMB. HINTO ASKED MONTHS AGO FOR A COPY OF THE MEMO CONCERNING MEETING HELD IN THE DEPARTMENT AND APPARENTLY AT WHICH TWICE AN FBI SPOKESMAN REPORTEDLY SPOKE OF A PLAN TO TAKE FINGERPRINTS OF THE SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL IN THE VICINITY OF THE AIRPORT ON THE NIGHT OF 12/2/80.

--SECOND, EMBASSY ALSO ASKED SEVERAL MONTHS AGO FOR A COPY OF THE MEMCON PREPARED ON SECRETARY MUSKIE'S CONMARSATION WITH SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE FAMILIES OF THE CHRUCHWOMEN. THIS MEMCON ALLEGEDLY DETAILS THE HELICOPTER REPORT.

--THIRD, EMBASSY IS STILL WAITING FOR THE TEN QUESTIONS PREPARED BY CONGRESSWOMAN OAKAR. HINTON

Language: Spanish

Date of Communication: March 22, 1982

Addressed to: Secretary Haig

Name and address of writer: Mr. Carlos Diaz S.
42 Maple St.
Meriden, Conn. 06450

Substance of writer's statement: Mr. Diaz feels that U.S. television and press are discrediting the President's economic plan and providing support for the guerrillas in the Americas. He does not think that Salvadoran and Nicaraguan communists should be allowed to air their opinions in the United States. The guerrillas in El Salvador want to overthrow the government and establish a communist regime. President Lopez Portillo of Mexico is, in Mr. Diaz' opinion, very closely involved in events in Nicaragua and El Salvador and his dedication to communist causes should be evident from his close ties with Castro. Russia, Cuba, and Mexico want to establish another communist dictatorship in the Americas and cause problems for the United States.

2. SUMMARY: WHILE WE FOUND THE REFTEL FASCINATING READING, WE CAN ONLY CONCLUDE THAT COL. MAJANO IS EITHER BADLY INFORMED OR DISSEMBLING OR BOTH. COL. MAJANO GROSSLY OVERESTIMATES HIS SUPPORT IN THE ARMED FORCES. HE APPARENTLY HAS NO UNDERSTANDING OF HOW THE POLITICAL PARTIES AND THE SO-CALLED "CONSERVATIVE SECTOR" FEELS ABOUT NEGOTIATING WITH THE LEFT. HE IS EQUALLY UNINFORMED OR DISSEMBLING ABOUT THE FMLN/FDR'S NEGOTIATING POSITION. MAJANO'S COMMENTS ON THE POLITICAL PARTIES ARE INACCURATE. ON GENERAL GARCIA, THE STATUS OF THE ARMED FORCES AND [redacted]

ARMS SUPPLIES TO THE INSURGENTS HE IS BETTER INFORMED. MAJANO APPEARS TO BE A MAN WITHOUT A CONSTITUENCY LOOKING FOR A WAY TO RETURN TO HIS FORMER POSITION. END SUMMARY.

3. MAJANO'S REMARKS ABOUT THE INAPPROPRIATENESS OF THE ELECTIONS BECAUSE THEY FALL BETWEEN THE ANNIVERSARY OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO'S DEATH AND THE INCIDENT WHICH TOOK PLACE AT HIS FUNERAL IS, IN OUR OPINION, GRASPING AT STRAWS.

4. MAJANO'S UNDERSTANDING OF HOW THE ARMED FORCES AND THE POLITICAL PARTIES VIEW ANY NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE GUERRILLAS IS FAULTY. THE JRG, WITH THE MILITARY'S AGREEMENT, HAS BEEN PREPARED EVER SINCE ELECTIONS WERE ANNOUNCED ON SEPTEMBER 15, 1981, TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE LEFT ABOUT THEIR PARTICIPATING IN ELECTIONS. NO PARTY PRESENTLY IS PREPARED TO NEGOTIATE POWER WITH THE LEFT. THUS, IT IS NOT ONLY THE HIGH COMMAND THAT OPPOSES THE KIND OF DIALOGUE THAT MAJANO IS TALKING ABOUT.

5. MAJANO'S COMMENTS ON THE MECHANICS OF NEGOTIATIONS ARE FUZZY. WE DO NOT KNOW ALL THE PEOPLE "ON THE RIGHT" HE MENTIONS, SO WE CANNOT SAY WHAT THEIR POSITION MIGHT BE WITH RESPECT TO NEGOTIATIONS. HOWEVER, THE IDEA OF HAVING INFORMAL - AND NECESSARILY CONFIDENTIAL - CONVERSATIONS ABOUT NEGOTIATIONS IN THE HOT HOUSE ATMOSPHERE OF EL SALVADOR IS NEXT TO A PRACTICAL IMPOSSIBILITY. MAJANO ALSO IGNORES THE FMLN/FDR NEGOTIATING POSITION. FMLN/FDR TALK ABOUT A PLEBISCITE TO CONFIRM THE GOVERNMENT THAT EMERGES FROM NEGOTIATIONS WITHIN SIX MONTHS, IS SOMETHING QUITE DIFFERENT THAN ELECTING A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT. THE FMLN/FDR HAS SAID NOTHING, THAT WE KNOW OF, ABOUT STARTING WITH AN INTERNATIONALLY GUARANTEED

CEASE FIRE. THEIR POSITION IS THAT A CEASE FIRE WOULD BE DISCUSSED AFTER NEGOTIATIONS START AND ONLY IF, IN THERI JUDGEMENT, THEY WERE PROCEEDING SATISFACTORILY. THUS, AFTER ADMITTING THAT BRINGING THE ARMED FORCES AROUND TO HIS SCHEME WOULD BE DIFICULT, MAJANO DOES NOT EXPLAIN HOW HE WOULD BRING THE OFTENTIMES DIVERGENT GROUPS IN THE FMLN/FDR TO ACCEPT A CEASE-FIRE. IF HE DOES REFINE HIS IDEAS, WE WOULD LIKE TO SEE THEM. RIGHT NOW THESE IDEAS DO NOT LOOK VERY PRACTICAL TO US.

6. WHILE MAJOR D'AUBUISSON'S ARENA PARTY APPEALS TO SOME MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES, WE SEE AN INCREASING AVOWED AWARENESS ON THE PART OF THE HIGH COMMAND, INCLUDING GENERAL GARCIA, THAT AN ARENA VICTORY COULD BE AN INTERNATIONAL DISASTER FOR EL SALVADOR. MAJANO'S COMMENT ABOUT POP IS COMPLETELY OFF THE MARK. POP IS AN OLD PARTY THAT EX-NATIONAL GUARD DIRECTOR MEDRANO TOOK OVER AS HIS PERSONAL VEHICLE. IN OUR JUDGEMENT, POP IS GOING TO DO VERY BADLY IN THE ELECTIONS, AS IS THE PPS. THEIR INFLUENCE IN THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WILL BE ZERO OR CLOSE TO IT. MAJANO'S COMMENT ABOUT THE AD CAMPAIGN IS EXACTLY BACKWARDS. AD STARTED SLOW BUT ITS CAMPAIGN APPEARS TO BE PICKING UP STEAM AS MARCH 28 APPROACHES. MAJANO'S COMMENT ABOUT PAR IS CORRECT.

EXDIS

7. MAJANO SEEMS TO HAVE FAIRLY WELL SUMMED-UP GENERAL GARCIA'S POLITICAL AMBITIONS AND CHARACTER. MAJANO'S ANALYSIS OF THE GARCIA-GUTIERREZ DISPUTE IS SHALLOW. IT IS MORE THAN A SIMPLE DISPUTE OVER POWER. THEIR VIEW OF SALVADORAN SOCIETY DIFFERS WIDELY, WITH GUTIERREZ COMING DOWN ON THE MORE "PROGRESSIVE" SIDE OF THE FENCE.

8. INSURGENT CAPABILITIES COULD HAVE BEEN EXPECTED TO IMPROVE OVER A PERIOD OF TIME IF FOR NO OTHER REASON THAN EXPERIENCE IS A GOOD TEACHER. THE PRESENCE OF A CUBAN-TRAINED CADRE AMONG THE INSURGENTS AND PROVISION OF MORE ADVANCED WEAPONRY HAS ALSO CONTRIBUTED TO AN IMPROVEMENT.

9. MORALE IN THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES VARIES FROM UNIT TO UNIT. IT IS TO A LESSER DEGREE A FUNCTION OF THE MILITARY SITUATION, BUT GENERALLY IT CANNOT BE CLASSIFIED AS POOR. THE EMBASSY HAS NO EVIDENCE THAT MILITARY [redacted]

GARRISONS FAIL TO STAND DUTY. THE UNAUTHORIZED LIBERTY STORY SEEMS A BIT FAR-FETCHED, ESPECIALLY IN LIGHT OF RECENT UNSUCCESSFUL SUBVERSIVE ATTACKS ON GARRISONS IN SAN MIGUEL, SAN VICENTE, USULUTAN, AND SANTA ANA.

10. MAJANO IS ACCURATE ABOUT THE STATUS OF HIS REFORMIST MINDED ASSOCIATES STILL IN THE MILITARY. THE EMBASSY IS AWARE OF SOME OF HIS ASSOCIATES STILL IN EL SALVADOR, AND THEY APPEAR TO BE FOLLOWING THE DIRECTIONS

DECLASSIFIED

MAJANO MENTIONS IN REFTEL. HOWEVER, THERE ARE VERY FEW OF THEM LEFT IN SALVADOR.

11. MAJANO'S COMMENTS ON ARMS SUPPLIES TO INSURGENTS ARE ALSO BETTER INFORMED THAN HIS COMMENTS ON THE POLITICAL SITUATION. WHAT HE GLOSSES OVER, AND WHAT IS JUST AS IMPORTANT AS THE SUPPLY OF ARMS, IS THE LOGISTICS SUPPORT THE INSURGENTS RECEIVE FROM NICARAGUA. FURTHER, HIS REMARKS FLY IN THE FACE OF OTHER INFORMATION WHICH ESTABLISHES THAT CLANDESTINE SHIPMENTS TO THE INSURGENTS FROM NICARAGUA ARE AT THEIR HIGHEST POINT SINCE THE GUERRILLA WAR BEGAN.

12. COMMENT: COL. MAJANO APPEARS TO BE A MAN WITHOUT A CONSTITUENCY CASTING ABOUT FOR WAYS TO RETURN TO HIS FORMER POSITION. HE HAS VERY LITTLE INFLUENCE IN THE MILITARY. WHEN THE ARMED FORCES FINALLY VOTED ON HIS OUSTER IN DECEMBER 1980, HE RECEIVED ONLY THREE VOTES OUT OF MORE THAN 500 CAST. (SOME SAY FOUR VOTES.) MAYBE ANOTHER 15-20 OFFICERS SYMPATHIZED WITH HIS POINT OF VIEW. BASED ON HIS KNOWLEDGE OF THE FMLN/FDR POSITION ON NEGOTIATING, WE WONDER IF HE HAS ANY INFLUENCE IN THAT QUARTER OR WHETHER HE IS ALLOWING HIMSELF TO BE USED. GENERAL GARCIA'S ASSESSMENT OF MAJANO IS TELLING.

[redacted]

GARCIA ONCE TOLD US THAT PEOPLE RESPOND TO POWER THE WAY THEY RESPOND TO ALCOHOL. SOME CAN HANDLE IT; OTHERS CANNOT; MAJANO, WHEN HE WAS ON THE JUNTA, COULD NOT.

ABC WORLD NEWS TONIGHT - MARCH 24

- THE CAPITAL OF SAN SALVADOR WOKE UP THIS MORNING TO THE SOUND OF GUNSHOTS. SOLDIERS AND GUARDSMEN IN THE EASTERN SUBURBS EXCHANGED FIRE FOR SEVERAL HOURS WITH WHAT THEY THOUGHT WERE GUERRILLAS; BUT NONE WAS EVER SIGHTED. AND SOME SOLDIERS REPORTEDLY FIRED ON EACH OTHER. WITH A PROMISED GUERRILLA OFFENSIVE JUST DAYS AWAY, PEOPLE IN THE CAPITAL HAVE BECOME INCREASINGLY JITTERY. NATIONAL GUARD PATROLS WERE VISIBLE EVERYWHERE IN THE CITY'S NEARLY EMPTY STREETS. SECURITY HAS BEEN BEEFED UP. PRESIDENT DUARTE HELD HIS LAST NEWS CONFERENCE BEFORE THE ELECTIONS. HE DENIED THE VOTE WOULD BE UNFAIR BECAUSE THE LEFT WAS NOT

TAKING PART. THE LEFT WAS (TAKING PART), HE SAID. IT HAD SIMPLY CHOSEN GUNS INSTEAD OF BALLOTS. DUARTE REPEATED HIS WILLINGNESS TO NEGOTIATE WITH THE GUERRILLAS IF THEY WOULD LAY DOWN THEIR GUNS. (FOOTAGE OF DUARTE STATEMENT: IF THEY ACCEPT THE BASIS OF DEMOCRACY; IF THEY ACCEPT THE RULES OF DEMOCRACY; IF THEY ACCEPT THAT THIS COUNTRY IS GOING IN THE DIRECTION OF DEMOCRACY; IF THEY WANT TO

INCORPORATE ON THAT, THEY CAN DO IT. AND THEN IF THEY WANT TO TALK, I'LL BE READY TO TALK NOW OR AFTER ELECTIONS.") THE CAMPAIGNING ENDS TONIGHT AND THE MILITARY HAS NOW BEGUN A SHOW OF FORCE TO KEEP THE GUERRILLAS AWAY FROM SUNDAY'S ELECTIONS. HOW EFFECTIVE THE MILITARY IS WILL BE A KEY TO HOW WELL THOSE ELECTIONS ARE CONDUCTED. (JACK SMITH)

- THE U.S. WANTS TO SEE HOW THE ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR COME OUT BEFORE COMMITTING ITSELF TO SPECIFIC TALKS WITH NICARAGUA. HOWEVER, IN AN INTERVIEW WITH ABC'S TOM SCHELL IN MEXICO CITY TODAY, MEXICO'S FOREIGN MINISTER CASTANEDA SAID A TOP-LEVEL MEETING IS VIRTUALLY ALL SET. (FOOTAGE OF CASTANEDA STATEMENT: "THEY HAVE AGREED IN PRINCIPLE -- THAT IS TO SAY EACH ONE HAS TOLD US THAT THEY AGREE TO MEET THE OTHER SIDE IN MEXICO NEXT MONTH -- AND THAT'S IT.") EARLIER, THE ADMINISTRATION, BOTH AT THE WHITE HOUSE AND THE STATE DEPARTMENT, WAS MUCH MORE CIRCUMSPECT, SAYING IN EFFECT, "THANK YOU VERY MUCH, MEXICO, BUT WE'LL TALK WITH THE NICARAGUANS ALONE WHEN WE WANT TO." IT IS THE SALVADORAN ELECTIONS WHICH THE U.S. IS FOCUSING ON NOW. IF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS DO WELL, THE U.S. HAND WILL BE STRENGTHENED. BUT IF THE EXTREME RIGHT-WING OF ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON WINS, THAT WILL MAKE WASHINGTON MUCH MORE INTERESTED IN NEGOTIATIONS.

MEANWHILE, THE NICARAGUANS ARRIVED IN NEW YORK TODAY TO SET THE SCENE FOR TOMORROW'S U.N. SECURITY COUNCIL MEETING IN WHICH THEY WILL CLAIM THE U.S. HAS BEEN ATTEMPTING TO SUBVERT THEIR REVOLUTION. AND FINALLY, IT HAS BEEN CONFIRMED THAT SPECIAL AMBASSADOR GENERAL VERNON WALTERS MET SECRETLY WITH FIDEL CASTRO RECENTLY TO SEE WHAT, IF ANYTHING, CAN BE DONE TO IMPROVE U.S.-CUBAN RELATIONS. IF THERE IS A THEME TO ALL OF THIS, ONE MIGHT SAY THAT WHILE THE U.S. IS NOT EXACTLY SOFTENING ITS POSITION, IT APPEARS TO BE GIVING THE IDEA OF DIPLOMACY IN CENTRAL AMERICA A SECOND AND CLOSER LOOK. (BARRIE DUNSMORE)

NBC NIGHTLY NEWS DID NOT HAVE AN ITEM ON EL SALVADOR ON MARCH 24.

CBS EVENING NEWS - MARCH 24

- CAMPAIGNING FOR THE EL SALVADOR ELECTIONS ENDS AT MIDNIGHT, AND SIGNS ARE EMERGING THAT THE U.S. ATTITUDE TOWARD A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT IS CHANGING. YESTERDAY THE AMERICAN AMBASSADOR TO EL SALVADOR SUGGESTED THAT THE GOVERNMENT THAT IS ELECTED CONSIDER NEGOTIATING WITH THE REBELS. ELECTION ACTIVITY IN EL SALVADOR IS TAPERING OFF, BUT MILITARY ACTIVITY IS INCREASING. IN THE CAPITAL

CITY, SOLDIERS ARE ON CONSTANT PATROL AND SAY THEY ARE READY FOR ANY ELECTION DISRUPTION THE REBELS MIGHT BE PLANNING. (DAN RATHER)

- THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION IS NOW SENDING OUT SIGNALS INDICATING IT FAVORS NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN THE EL SALVADOR GOVERNMENT AND THE REBELS FOLLOWING NEXT SUNDAY'S ELECTIONS. AS PART OF THIS SHIFT IN ADMINISTRATION STRATEGY, CBS NEWS HAS LEARNED THAT SECRETARY HAIG SENT HIS PERSONAL EMISSARY, GENERAL VERNON WALTERS, TO CUBA EARLIER THIS MONTH FOR TALKS WITH CUBAN OFFICIALS. THE CUBAN

CONNECTION IS AIMED AT GETTING CASTRO TO DROP HIS SUPPORT FOR SALVADORAN REBELS AS PART OF AN OVERALL EFFORT TO COOL THE SITUATION IN CENTRAL AMERICA. ANOTHER SIGN OF THAT EFFORT CAME TODAY FROM A STATE DEPARTMENT SPOKESMAN. (FOOTAGE OF DEAN FISCHER STATEMENT: "WE HOPE THAT THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS WILL IMPROVE THE CLIMATE FOR TALKS BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT AND THE EXTREME LEFT, WHICH WOULD LEAD TO BRINGING AT LEAST SOME ELEMENTS OF THE EXTREME LEFT BACK INTO THE POLITICAL MAINSTREAM.") OFFICIALS HERE DENY THAT THEY WILL PRESSURE THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT AFTER THE ELECTIONS TO SHARE POWER WITH THE REBELS, BUT MEXICO, FRANCE, AND SEVERAL OTHER NATIONS HAVE INDICATED THAT IS THE KIND OF SETTLEMENT THEY ARE ADVOCATING, AND NOW WASHINGTON APPEARS TO BE LEANING TOWARD THAT SOLUTION. (ROBERT PIERPOINT)

- SALVADORAN IMMIGRANTS: A NETWORK OF CHURCHES ANNOUNCED PLANS TODAY TO SHELTER FLEETING SALVADORAN ALIENS, IN DEFIANCE OF FEDERAL LAW. U.S. OFFICIALS SAY THE SALVADORANS ARE USUALLY FLEEING POVERTY, NOT MURDER, AND THEREFORE CANNOT BE CLASSED AS REFUGEES. MANY COME HERE VIA AN UNDERGROUND RAILROAD FROM EL SALVADOR TO TUCSON. ALTHOUGH THERE ARE REPORTS THAT U.S. OFFICIALS MAY BE SOFTENING THEIR POLICY TOWARD SALVADORAN ALIENS, THE STATE DEPARTMENT HAD NO COMMENT ON TODAY'S CHALLENGE BY CHURCH GROUPS. (LINDA DOUGLAS)

NBC TODAY SHOW - MARCH 25

- ON CLOSE UP, BRYANT GUMBEL OUTLINED THE BACKGROUNDS OF THE CANDIDATES IN TH :SALVADORAN ELECTIONS. THERE WERE

NO FOREIGN POLICY IMPLICATIONS.

- CHRIS WALLACE INTERVIEWED SEN. NANCY KASSEBAUM, WHO WILL BE HEADING THE OBSERVER TEAM GOING TO EL SALVADOR. SEN. KASSEBAUM SAID THE AMERICAN DELEGATION WILL BE SPLITTING UP AND TRYING TO VISIT AS MANY POLLING AREAS AS POSSIBLE TO ANALYZE THE PROCEDURES, THE PARTICIPATION, TO GET A FEEL FOR WHETHER THE PEOPLE GOING TO THE POLLS FEAR RETALIATION. SHE SAID SHE KNOWS THE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR HAS WORKED VERY HARD TO TRY TO ASSURE THAT THE ELECTIONS WILL BE FAIR -- THEY ARE USING INVISIBLE INK TO MARK THE HANDS OF VOTERS, THEY ARE NOT STAMPING THE VOTING SCHEDULE WITH THE VOTE MARK SO THAT THERE COULD BE ANY FEAR OF HAVING SHOWN THAT, THAT THERE WOULD BE REPRISAL. SHE SAID INTIMIDATION HAS BEEN BUILDING UP, PRIOR TO THE ELECTION, FROM BOTH REBELS AND GOVERNMENT. SHE THINKS IN REALITY, THE INTIMIDATION IS THERE. IT WILL BE DIFFICULT FOR THE AMERICANS TO MAKE A FULL ASSESSMENT ON ELECTION DAY BECAUSE THEY WILL HAVE A HARD TIME GETTING INTO THE COUNTRYSIDE, BUT SHE THINKS WITH THE NUMBER OF PEOPLE WHO WILL BE THERE, FROM OTHER NATIONS AS WELL, THAT IT WILL LEND SOME SCOPE TO THE ABILITY TO ANALYZE WHAT'S GOING ON. SHE SAID THE ELECTIONS WILL NOT BE THE END OF THE PROBLEMS IN EL SALVADOR. IT'S AN IMPORTANT STEP, AND MANY ARE HOPEFUL THAT IT WILL BE A CLEAR ELECTION AND SOMEONE WILL BE A WINNER WITH A SIZABLE VOTE. SHE AGREES WITH THE U.S. POSITION THAT WHOEVER WINS THE ELECTION IS THE LEGITIMATE GOVERNMENT OF EL SALVADOR. IF EL SALVADOR ELECTS SOMEONE WHOSE POLICIES THE U.S. OPPOSES, WE WOULDN'T NECESSARILY BE

SUPPORTING THE REGIME, ALTHOUGH WE WOULD STILL RECOGNIZE HIM AS THE WINNER OF THE ELECTION. SHE SAID THE ADMINISTRATION HAS SAID THAT WE WOULD RECONSIDER OUR POLICIES ON GIVING AID IF THE WINNER OF THE ELECTION HAS POLICIES WE DON'T SUPPORT. SHE SAID THERE IS A STRONG CONSENSUS ON THE HILL THAT AFTER THE ELECTION WE WILL BE THINKING ABOUT POLICY ALTERNATIVES; IT DEPENDS ON HOW THE ELECTIONS TURN OUT. THERE'S A BELIEF THAT IT CAN'T JUST STALEMATE -- THAT THERE HAS TO BE SOME CONVERSATION, AND SECRETARY HAIG HAS BEEN OF COURSE DISCUSSING WITH PRIME MINISTER CASTANEDA OF MEXICO SOME OPTIONS, PARTICULARLY REGARDING NICARAGUA, AND SHE THINKS ALL OF THOSE CONVERSATIONS WILL BE IMPORTANT. ON WHETHER THERE SHOULD BE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE REBELS, SHE SAID SHE HAS LONG SUPPORTED THE CONVERSATIONS THAT SHE FEELS ARE IMPORTANT BETWEEN CONTENDING FORCES. SHE SAID SHE IS NOT CONCERNED ABOUT HER PERSONAL SAFETY -- THERE WILL BE INCREASED SECURITY, AND HER TEAM WILL NOT BE GOING INTO AREAS WHERE THERE MIGHT BE AN INCIDENT.

CBS MORNING NEWS - MARCH 25

- IN A LIVE REPORT, ROBERT PIERPOINT REPEATED THE THEME OF HIS COVERAGE LAST NIGHT, I.E., THAT THE ADMINISTRATION IS BECOMING MORE FAVORABLY DISPOSED TOWARD NEGOTIATIONS. HE ADDED THAT THE ATTITUDE IS CHANGING BECAUSE IT NOW SEEMS THE ELECTIONS WILL INDEED BE HELD AND IT IS TIME TO LOOK BEYOND THEM, ESPECIALLY DUE TO PRESSURE FROM CONGRESS AND OUR ALLIES FOR A NEGOTIATED SETTLEMENT.

- THE STATE DEPARTMENT WILL NEITHER CONFIRM NOR DENY THAT GENERAL VERNON WALTERS RECENTLY HELD TALKS WITH FIDEL CASTRO IN CUBA. WALTERS TRIED TO GET CUBA TO STOP SUPPORTING THE LEFTIST REBELS IN EL SALVADOR.

4. FOREIGN MINISTER ZAMBRANO TOLD THE AMBASSADOR, SUBSEQUENT TO THE PRESS CONFERENCE, THAT THIS LETTER FROM THE FMLN TO PRESIDENT HERRERA HAD BEEN NEGOTIATED WITH SALVADORAN GUERRILLA LEADERS IN MANAGUA BY VENEZUELA'S DAS AMBASSADOR HILARION CARDOZO DURING HIS VISIT TO NICARAGUA THIS PAST WEEKEND. ACCORDING TO ZAMBRANO, SALVADORAN JUNTA PRESIDENT NAPOLEON DUARTE HAS BEEN KEPT FULLY INFORMED OF CARDOZO'S TALKS WITH THE GUERRILLAS

[redacted]

AND OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF THIS INITIATIVE. ZAMBRANO ADDED THAT THE GOV EXPECTS, TODAY OR TOMORROW, SOME POSITIVE FMLN REACTION TO HERRERA'S HAVING PUBLICIZED THEIR LETTER.

5. COMMENT: ALTHOUGH THE PRESIDENT TOOK CARE TO INTRODUCE THE FMLN'S LETTER WITH A STRONG ENDORSEMENT OF DUARTE AND OF THE SALVADORAN ELECTIONS, CARDOZO'S DIRECT OFFICIAL CONTACT WITH SALVADORAN GUERRILLA LEADERS APPEARS TO REPRESENT A SIGNIFICANT DEPARTURE FROM PREVIOUS GOV IOLICY. WE WOULD WANT TO HAVE EMBASSY EL SALVADOR'S VIEWS ON HOW TO INTERPRET THE FMLN'S STATEMENT AND, IN PARTICULAR, ITS REFERENCE TO THE ELECTIONS "AS AN INTEGRAL PART OF A SOLUTION." IT WOULD APPEAR TO US HERE, HOWEVERJN THAT THIS OPENING OF COMMUNICATIONS BETWEEN THE GOV AND THE FMLN (WITH, AS ZAMBRANO ASSURES US, DUARTE'S FULL KNOWLEDGE) MAY REPRESENT A POSITIVE SIGN THAT VENEZUELA IS READY TO PUSH QUICKLY TO PROBE THE LEFT IN EL SALVADOR AS SOON AS THE ELECTIONS HAVE TAKEN PLACE.

6. AMBASSADOR ASKED TO SEE ZAMBRANO ON THURSDAY (AFTER DEPARTURE OF ECUADOREAN PRESIDENT HURTADO) TO DISCUSS FURTHER WHAT THE VENEEUELANS HAVE IN MIND. WE REQUEST DEPARTMENT GUIDANCE AND REACTIONS PRIOR TO THURSDAY. LUERS UNQOTE HAIG

SUBJECT SECRETARY'S MEETING WITH SCHLESWIG HOLSTE N MINISTER-PRESIDENT GERHARD STOLTENBERG (CDU); MARCH 23, 1992 -- SECRETARY'S OFFICE

1. [redacted] -- ENTIRE TEXT.

2. SUMMARY: SECRETARY HAIG RECEIVED STOLTENBERG ON MARCH 23 FOR A BROAD RANGING DISCUSSION OF CURRENT ISSUES. MAJOR TOPICS COVERED DURING THE MEETING

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

INCLUDED GERMAN DOMESTIC POLITICS AND U.S.-FRG RELATIONS; EAST-WEST RELATIONS AND THE SITUATION IN POLAND; ARMS CONTROL NEGOTIATIONS, AND DEVELOPMENTS IN LATIN AMERICA. STOLTENBERG

3. OTHER PARTICIPANTS IN THE MEETING WERE FRG AMBASSADOR PETER HERMES, EUR DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARY THOMAS NILES, AND EUR/CE DIRECTOR JOHNKORNBLUM. END SUMMARY

GERMAN DOMESTIC POLITICS

4. THE SECRETARY OPENED THE DISCUSSION BY REFERRING TO THE LOWER SAXONY ELECTION AND ASKED STOLTENBERG FOR HIS ASSESSMENT OF THE DOMESTIC POLITICALSITUATION IN THE FRG. STOLTENBERG SAID

ARMS CONTROL NEGOTIATIONS

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

7. THE SECRETARY NOTED THAT THE U.S. HAD BEEN CAREFUL NOT TO LINK THE START NEGOTIATIONS TO POLISH SANCTIONS. ARMS CONTROL WAS AN IMPORTANT ISSUE IN ITS OWN RIGHT. THE IMPORTANT GOAL NOW WAS TO PUT TOGETHER A NEGOTIATING POSITION WHICH WAS SUBSTANTIVELY SOUND AND OBJECTIVELY FAIR. IT WOULD BE DANGEROUS FOR THE U.S. TO MAKE PROPOSALS DESIGNED TO GET THE NEGOTIATIONS MOVING RAPIDLY, BUT WHICH COULD NOT WIN LONG TERM SUPPORT IN THE U.S. THE SECRETARY SAID HE TOLD ALL HIS FRIENDS FROM EUROPE THAT THE WORST THING THE U.S. COULD DO WOULD BE TO PUT TOGETHER A POSITION WHICH NEITHER THE ALLIES, THE SOVIETS NOR THE U.S. CONGRESS COULD ACCEPT. SINCE THE ISSUES INVOLVED WERE SO COMPLICATED, THIS MEANT THAT PREPARATIONS MUST PROCEED SLOWLY AND CAREFULLY.

8. AGAINST THIS BACKGROUND, THE SECRETARY DID NOT BELIEVE THE U.S. HAD LOST TIME BY NOT ANNOUNCING BEGINNING OF THE NEGOTIATIONS IN JANUARY. CONSULTATIONS WITH THE ALLIES HAD ALSO NOT YET BEGUN. IT WAS, HOWEVER, TRUE THAT THE INF NEGOTIATIONS IN GENEVA SEEMED TO BE STALLING OUT OVER THE SUBJECT OF STRATEGIC SYSTEMS. THE SOVIETS WOULD NOT BEGIN SERIOUS NEGOTIATIONS ON INF UNTIL THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN INF AND START BECAME CLEAR TO THEM. FOR THIS REASON, IT WOULD BE IMPORTANT TO BEGIN START SOON. ONE WORD OF CAUTION CONCERNED THE SITUATION IN POLAND. THE U.S. COULD NOT AGREE TO COMMENCEMENT [redacted]

OF THE TALKS IF THE SITUATION IN POLAND WORSENED NOTICEABLY. UNDER SUCH CONDITIONS, THE START TALKS WOULD IN FACT BECOME HOSTAGE TO THE SITUATION IN POLAND. THUS, THE TIMING OF AN ANNOUNCEMENT ON START WAS DIFFICULT, BUT THE SECRETARY BELIEVED IT WOULD COME SOONER RATHER THAN LATER.

BUCKLEY MISSION

9. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION FROM STOLTENBERG, THE SECRETARY SAID THAT UNDER SECRETARY BUCKLEY'S ASSESSMENT OF HIS RECENT MISSION HAD CONCLUDED THAT THE GROUP HAD ENCOUNTERED MORE PROBLEMS IN BONN THAN ANYWHERE ELSE. THE NEXT GREATEST PROBLEMS HAD COME IN PARIS, WHILE TALKS IN LONDON AND ROME HAD BEEN

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

GENERALLY SATISFACTORY. THE SECRETARY BELIEVED THESE DIFFICULTIES HAD BEEN MORE PROCEDURAL THAN SUBSTANTIVE.

HE PERSONALLY HAD DISCUSSED THE ISSUES WITH GENSCHER BEFORE DEPARTURE OF THE BUCKLEY MISSION. THE FOREIGN MINISTER UNDERSTOOD THE PROBLEMS INVOLVED AND AGREED THAT ALL WESTERN COUNTRIES HAD BEEN GUILTY OF SUBSIDIZING SOVIET ECONOMIC AND MILITARY GROWTH THROUGH EXTENSION OF CREDITS AT FAVORABLE TERMS. THE PROBLEM WAS THAT RESTRAINT MUST BE MUTUAL. THERE COULD BE NO COOPERATION UNLESS THE WEST ESTABLISHED A MECHANISM FOR COMPARING CREDIT POLICIES.

[redacted]

THE SECRETARY AGREED, SAYING THAT THE UNITED STATES WAS NOT PROPOSING ECONOMIC WARFARE WITH THE USSR. HOWEVER, AN EXPERT ON EAST-WEST TRADE HAD TOLD HIM RECENTLY THAT IT WAS POSSIBLE THAT WESTERN COUNTRIES WOULD BE FORCED TO WRITE OFF AS MUCH AS 60 BILLION DOLLARS IN DEBT TO EASTERN BORROWERS. THIS WAS DEBT WHICH WOULD NEVER BE REPAID.

10. STOLTENBER[illegible]

THE SECRETARY AGREED WITH THIS ANALYSIS. HE SAID A MAJOR PROBLEM WAS THAT THE PRESS EACH DAY CREATED "FACTS" WHICH USUALLY HAD NO RELATIONSHIP WITH REALITY.

11. AS AN EXAMPLE OF THE PROBLEMS BEING ENCOUNTERED, STOLTENBERG

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

12. AMBASSADOR HERMES SAID HE WAS SURPRISED BY THE SECRETARY'S COMMENT THAT THE BUCKLEY MISSION HAD ENCOUNTERED MOST DIFFICULTIES IN BONN. HE ALSO KNEW THAT GENSCHER HAD BEEN SURPRISED WHEN HE HAD HEARD THIS JUDGMENT. THE SECRETARY SAID HE HAD CALLED GENSCHER LATE IN THE EVENING AFTER BUCKLEY HAD LEFT BONN TO MENTION HIS CONCERN ABOUT PRESS VERSIONS OF THE GERMAN REACTION TO BUCKLEY'S PRESENTATION. GENSCHER HAD ASSURED HIM THAT THESE REPORTS WERE NOT CORRECT AND HAD PROMISED TO STRAIGHTEN THEM OUT. NILES ADDED THAT THE DISCUSSIONS IN BONN HAD INDEED BEEN DIFFICULT. HERMES REPEATED HIS SURPRISE AT SUCH A REACTION. WHAT DIFFICULTIES COULD THERE HAVE BEEN WHEN THE FRG DID NOT PROVIDE STATE SUBSIDIZED CREDITS AND AGREED ON THE NEED FOR CLOSER COORDINATION? NILES SUGGESTED THAT OTHER ALLIES WOULD NOT BE WILLING TO REDUCE THEIR SUBSIDIES IF THE FRG DID NOT AGREE TO LIMIT GUARANTEES IN SOME FASHION.

13. THE SECRETARY SAID HE WISHED TO STRESS AGAIN THAT WE WERE INITIATING A DISCUSSION OF CREDITS, BECAUSE WE FELT THAT TIGHTER CONTROLS WERE IN WESTERN SELF-INTEREST. U.S. ARGUMENTS WERE NOT BASED ON THE PIPELINE PROJECT, POLAND OR ANYTHING ELSE THE SOVIETS HAD DONE. WE BELIEVED THAT THE ECONOMIC AND STRATEGIC INTERESTS OF THE WEST WERE BEING AFFECTED ADVERSELY BY THE CURRENT UNCONTROLLED FLOW OF CREDITS TO THE EAST. SUCH A DISCUSSION

PRESENTED NEW ISSUES AND NEW PROBLEMS IN COORDINATION. WE COULD SUCCEED ONLY IF ALL PARTNERS FACED THESE ISSUES WITH PATIENCE AND UNDERSTANDING. THE CONTINUING STRENGTH OF THE ATLANTIC ALLIANCE WAS ITS ABILITY TO SORT OUT SUCH PROBLEMS TOGETHER.

14. AS FOR THE DURATION OF THE DISCUSSIONS, THE SECRETARY STRESSED THAT THE PRESIDENT HAD NO TIMETABLE FOR COMPLETION OF THE PROCESS. HOWEVER, THE PROCESS

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

WOULD UNDOUBTEDLY BE AFFECTED BY THE OVERALL STATE OF EAST-WEST RELATIONS, ESPECIALLY DEVELOPMENTS IN POLAND. IF THE SITUATION IN POLAND DETERIORATED SIGNIFICANTLY, THERE WOULD BE ADDITIONAL INTERNAL PRESSURES FOR STRONG U.S. COUNTERACTIONS. STOLTENBERG ASKED IF THIS MEANT THE U.S. MIGHT CONSIDER UNILATERAL STEPS. THE SECRETARY SAID HE STRONGLY BELIEVED THAT THE WEST MUST STAY TOGETHER.

15. THE SECRETARY ALSO ASSURED STOLTENBERG THAT THE U.S. WOULD NOT ABANDON THE SEARCH FOR WESTERN AGREEMENT ON THE CREDIT QUESTION. HE NOTED THAT THERE WOULD BE A MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT DURING THE NEXT WEEK AND THAT AFTERWARDS, THE U.S. WOULD AGAIN BE IN TOUCH WITH THE ALLIES. HE PERSONALLY BELIEVED THAT AGREEMENT WAS POSSIBLE AND THAT THE ALLIANCE SHOULD WORK FIRST TO ESTABLISH A FRAMEWORK FOR DISCUSSION OF THE ISSUES. THIS FRAMEWORK COULD BE USED FOR A SYSTEMATIC APPROACH TO THE LONGER TERM PROBLEMS. THE SECRETARY SAID THAT AFTER THE MEETING WITH THE PRESIDENT, HE WOULD COMMUNICATE PERSONALLY WITH EUROPEAN FOREIGN MINISTERS AND PRESENT THEM WITH PROPOSALS FOR NEXT STEPS IN THE PROCESS.

SITUATION IN POLAND

16. STOLTENBERG ASKED FOR THE SECRETARY'S ASSESSMENT OF THE SITUATION IN POLAND. THE SECRETARY SAID HE BELIEVED THAT SOMETHING MUST HAPPEN WITHIN THE NEXT 3 TO 4 WEEKS. EITHER THERE WOULD BE AN UPHEAVAL, ACCOMPANIED BY VIOLENCE, OR THE SOVIETS AND THE POLISH AUTHORITIES WOULD LOOSEN MARTIAL LAW CONTROLS. THE IMPORTANT NEED NOW WAS TO GET THE PEOPLE BACK TO WORK. POLES WOULD NOT WORK IF REPRESSION CONTINUED. IF CONTROLS WERE NOT LOOSENED, A REACTION COULD COME IN MANY AREAS -- YOUNG PEOPLE, WORKERS, STUDENTS, ALL WERE RESTLESS. THE ROLE OF THE CHURCH WAS ALSO NOT YET CLEAR. THE SECRETARY SAID THAT HE PERSONALLY WAS SHOCKED THAT THE AUTHORITIES HAD NOT YET RELEASED WALESA AND THAT THEY HAD NOT AGREED TO BEGIN A DIALOGUE. COMMENCEMENT OF A DIALOGUE WOULD BE AN IMPORTANT FIRST STEP.

THE GUERRILLAS. DURING THE PAST THREE WEEKS, THE SALVADORAN ARMY HAD BEEN PERFORMING MUCH BETTER AND THE GOVERNMENT HAD BEEN ABLE TO MAINTAIN A BALANCE IN THE COUNTRY. THE ELECTIONS WOULD PROBABLY NOT RESULT IN A MAJORITY FOR ANY OF THE CANDIDATES, BUT THE U.S. HOPED THAT DUARTE WOULD OBTAIN ENOUGH VOTES TO EMERGE AS THE STRONGEST CANDIDATE. THE RIGHT WAS ALSO STRONG, ESPECIALLY AMONG A POPULATION WHICH WAS TERRIFIED BY THE GUERRILLA MOVEMENT AND WHICH WAS LOOKING FOR STRONG [redacted]

LEADERSHIP. NOTING THE COUP IN GUATEMALA, THE SECRETARY STRESSED THAT PROBLEMS IN CENTRAL AMERICA WOULD NOT GO AWAY. THE CUBAN ROLE WAS BECOMING CLEARER EACH DAY, AND MEXICO WAS ALSO BECOMING CONCERNED ABOUT THE SITUATION ON ITS SOUTHERN BORDER.

18. STOLTENBERG SAID HE THOUGHT THE PRESIDENT'S CARIBBEAN BASIN INITIATIVE HAD BEEN A GOOD RESPONSE TO THE SITUATION. HE NOTED THAT IT HAD ALSO BEEN WELL RECEIVED IN EUROPE. THE SECRETARY AGREED, NOTING THAT HE HAD ALSO OBTAINED ENCOURAGING SUPPORT FROM MEXICO, VENEZUELA AND COLOMBIA DURING A RECENT MEETING IN NEW YORK. HE ADDED THAT THE U.S. ALSO HOPED FOR SUPPORT FROM THE EUROPEAN ALLIES. HAIG

3. GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

MEXICO IS DIVIDED ON SUPPORT TO INSURGENTS IN CENTRAL AMERICA. THE POLITICAL LEFT AND SOME CHURCH LEADERS FAVOR ASSISTANCE AND EVEN ENGAGE IN IT MORE OR LESS OVERTLY. THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND AT LEAST THE MAJORITY OF THE MILITARY LEADERS OPPOSE ASSISTANCE AND ARE CONCERNED ABOUT THE IMPACT ON MEXICO OF THE RADICALIZATION OF CENTRAL AMERICA. THE PRI AND THE GOM TRADITIONALLY SEEK THE MIDDLE WAY BETWEEN SUCH POLITICAL POLES, AND IN THIS CASE HAVE NOT SURPRISINGLY ADOPTED AN AMBIGUOUS STANCE. ON THE ONE HAND, FOLLOWING THE GOSPEL OF "NON-INTERFERENCE," THE GOM PROCLAIMS AN OFFICIAL POLICY OF ALLOWING POLITICAL REFUGEES TO ENTER MEXICO, BUT ONLY IF THEY ARE DISARMED AND DO NOT OPENLY USE MEXICAN TERRITORY TO ORGANIZE MILITARY ACTIONS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT OF CENTRAL AMERICA. ON THE OTHER HAND, THE GOM HAS BENIGNLY ENCOURAGED PRO-INSURGENT POLITICAL ACTIVITIES ON ITS TERRITORY, AND IN A FEW CASES MAY EVEN HAVE TURNED A BLIND EYE TO OPERATIONAL ACTIVITY.

PRO-INSURGENT ACTIVITY IN MEXICO CITY IS PROBABLY MORE SIGNIFICANT FROM A POLITICAL STANDPOINT THAN ELSEWHERE IN THE COUNTRY. HERE THE FMLN/FDR MAINTAINS A LARGE AND WELL-ORGANIZED POLITICAL/DIPLOMATIC LOBBYING ORGANIZATION. IN AN EFFORT TO GENERATE MEXICAN PUDLIC SUPPORT AND INTERNATIONAL SYMPATHY, THE ORGANIZATION OPENLY ADVERTISES, PROMOTES COLLOQUIUMS AND PARTICIPATES IN DEMONSTRATIONS. THE GOM AND PRI OVERTLY FACILITATE THESE ACTIVITIES BY THE SALVADORAN OPPOSITION. GUATEMALAN GROUPS IN MEXICO CITY HAVE SO FAR BEEN FRACTIONALIZED AND LESS VISIBLE THAN THE FMLN/FDR, BUT THE GOM IS CERTAINLY AWARE OF GUATEMALAN OPPOSITION ACTIVITIES. WE SUSPECT BUT CANNOT PROVE THAT PRI/COPPPAL MAY PROVIDE SOME FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO THE POLITICAL ACTIVITIES OF BOTH SALVADORAN AND GUATEMALAN REPRESENTATIVES. THERE IS ALSO EVIDENCE THAT PRI/GOM OFFICIALS HAVE INTERVENED ON BEHALF OF VARIOUS REVOLUTIONARY GROUPS WHO HAVE RUN AFOUL OF MEXICAN AUTHORITIES. 6. WE HAVE LITTLE INFORMATION ON ACTUAL OPERATIONAL ACTIVITIES IN THE MEXICO CITY AREA. WE WOULD NOT BE SURPRISED IF EITHER GUATEMALAN OR SALVADORAN INSURGENTS HAVE SAFEHOUSES IN THE MEXICO CITY AREA, ALTHOUGH SECDEF GALVAN TOLD DEFATT ON MARCH 4 THAT ARMY HAD ACTED ON PAST ALLEGATIONS AND FAILED TO TURN ANYTHING UP. IT IS EVEN POSSIBLE THAT SOME LIGHT ARMS MAY CHANGE HANDS IN THE CAPITAL OR NEARBY. MEXICAN AUTHORITIES HAVE REACTED WHEN TIPPED OFF BY OTHERS ABOUT POSSIBLE ARMS TRANSACTIONS, BUT WE SEE LITTLE EVIDENCE OF SELF-GENERATED MEXICAN EFFORTS TO PRECLUDE THEM. ON THE OTHER HAND, FOREIGN MINISTER CASTANEDA HAS PUBLICLY INSISTED THAT MEXICO PROVIDES NO ARMS TO ANY GOVERNMENT OR FACTION IN CENTRAL AMERICA, AND THE LOPEZ PORTILLO GOVERNMENT WOULD BE SERIOUSLY EMBARRASSED IF THIS ASSERTION WERE PUBLICLY DISPROVEN. DESPITE GUATEMALAN OFFICIAL ASSERTIONS, WE HAVE NO EVIDENCE OF ANY TRAINING CAMPS IN THE MEXICO CITY AREA. THE ONLY REPORT WE HAVE OF TRAINING CAMPS ELSEWHERE IN THE COUNTRY IS FROM GUTIERREZ ESPINOSA'S CONFESSION TO SALVADORAN SECURITY OFFICIALS. FOR THE MOMENT, WE ARE RESERVING JUDGMENT ON THAT REPORT.

7. SITUATION ON THE BORDER

THE SITUATION IN THE MEXICAN-GUATEMALAN BORDER REGION IS MORE COMPLEX, BUT AT THE SAME TIME IN OUR VIEW OF LESS SIGNIFICANCE POLITICALLY AS AN INDICATOR OF GOM POLICY. (I.E., THERE MAY BE ISOLATED LOCAL ACTIVITIES THAT ARE UNKNOWN TO MEXICAN CENTRAL AUTHORITIES OR THAT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO IMPOSSIBLE TO CONTROL EVEN IF KNOWN.) IT SEEMS LIKELY THAT THERE IS A CERTAIN AMOUNT OF CROSS-BORDER

INSURGENT ACTIVITY IN CHIAPAS. THE PAN-AMERICAN HIGHWAY ALONG THE COAST IS HEAVILY TRAVELED, AND LIMITED AMOUNTS OF SMALL ARMS OR AMMUNITION DESTINED EITHER FOR GUATEMALA OR EL SALVADOR MAY WELL CROSS THE BORDER HERE, WITH THE PAYMENT OF A "MORDIDA" TO THE CUSTOMS INSPECTOR. WE HAVE HAD A FEW REPORTS OF SUCH SHIPMENTS, BUT OUR REPORTS DO NOT SUGGEST GOM PRIOR KNOWLEDGE OR APPROVAL. THERE ARE STRONGER INDICATIONS OF SAFEHOUSES AND/OR SUPPLY OPERATIONS IN CHIAPAS FOR GUATEMALAN GUERRILLAS, AND WE SUSPECT THAT SOME MEXICAN CLERGY AND/OR LEFTIST GROUPS IN THE AREA ARE ACTIVELY COLLABORATING WITH INSURGENT LEADERS. HOWEVER, IN THE RELATIVELY OPEN, WELL-POPULATED AREA OF CHIAPAS BETWEEN TAPACHULA AND COMITAN, IT SEEMS UNLIKELY THAT THERE ARE ANY IMPORTANT SANCTUARIES FOR GUATEMALAN GUERRILLAS. SOME 50,000 TO 100,000 MIGRANT SEASONAL COFFEE AND COTTON PICKERS HAVE NOW LARGELY RETURNED OR ARE RETURNING TO GUATEMALA; APPROXIMATELY 5,000 GUATEMALAN INDIAN REFUGEES REMAIN IN TEMPORARY SETTLEMENTS WITHIN A KILOMETER OR TWO OV THE BORDER, LIVING ON SUBSISTENCE SUPPLIES FURNISHED BY THE GOM COMMITTEE FOR REFUGEES. THESE INDIANS ARE ALSO EXPECTED TO RETURN TO GUATEMALA SOON IN TIME TO PLANT THEIR ANNUAL CORN CROPS. WE ARE INCLINED TO ACCEPT THE GOM VIEW THAT THESE MOVEMENTS ARE CYCLICAL, WITH THE NUM-

TWO EMBASSY OFFICERS ARE CURRENTLY COMPLETING A FIELD TRIP WHICH COVERED THIS BORDER AREA. WE WILL SUBMIT THEIR SUPPLEMENTARY FINDINGS LATER THIS WEEK.

8. FURTHER EAST IN CHIAPAS, THE COMBINATION OF HEAVY JUNGLE AND MOUNTAINOUS TERRAIN MEANS THAT THE AREA IS VIRTUALLY INACCESSIBLE FROM THE MEXICAN SIDE. WE DO NOT DOUBT THAT THERE HAVE BEEN INCURSIONS INTO THE PICO DE ORO AREA IN SOUTHEAST CHIAPAS BY GUATEMALAN GUERRILLAS AND PURSUING CONTINGENTS OF GUAMEMALAN SECURITY FORCES. (OFFICIALS IN CIUDAD PEMEX CONFIRMED TO THE REPORTING OFFICER ON MARCH 23 THAT THE PEMEX EXPLORATION TEAM IN THIS REMOTE AREA WAS RECENTLY PULLED OUT, SUPPOSEDLY BECAUSE OF THE SECURITY RISKS.) AS FOR THE REMAINDER OF THE BORDER AREA (IN TABASCO, CAMPECHE, AND QUINTANA ROO), THIS POST HAS HEARD NO MORE THAN OCCASIONAL RUMORS THAT ARMS ARE CROSSING THE FRONTIER, WITHOUT ANY SPECIFICS. THE LONG AND HAZARDOUS HAUL THROUGH THE SWAMPS OF THE PETEN REGION OF GUATEMALA TO THE WESTERN GUATEMALAN AREAS OF GOG-GUERRILLA CONFRONTATION WOULD MAKE THIS

9. ROLE OF MEXICAN ARMY

FROM THE ABOVE, IT IS CLEAR THAT THE GOM WOULD BE AT PAINS TO PUT A COMPLETE STOP TO ALL ILLEGAL SUPPORT TO CENTRAL AMERICAN INSURGENCIES FROM THE MEXICAN BORDER REGION, WHATEVER THE OFFICIAL POLICIES AND ATTITUDES OF THE MEN AT THE TOP. THE QUESTION REMAINS, ARE THE MEXICAN SECURITY FORCES DOING EVERYTHING THEY CAN TO CURTAIL SUCH SUPPORT? OUR ANSWER IS PROBABLY NOT. THE COMMENTS OF REFUGEE COORDINATOR ORTIZ MONASTERIOS TO THE REPORTING OFFICER ON MARCH 17 ARE ILLUSTRATIVE: "WE (THE GOM) ARE TRYING TO AVOID OVERREACTING TO THE SITUATION ON THE GUATEMALAN BORDER, SO WE DON'T CREATE MORE TENSIONS THAN ACTUALLY EXIST." DESPITE THE CONCERN EXPRESSED PRIVATELY BY SECRETARY OF DEFENSE GALVAN TO DEFATT ABOUT THE SITUATION ON THE BORDER IN EARLY MARCH, GALVAN HAS BEEN SAYING TO OTHERS THAT THE BORDER AREA IS STABLE. ECHOING THISSLINE, TABASCO ZONE COMMANDER MURILLO TOLD COUNTRY DIRECTOR CRIGLER AND REPORTING OFFICER ON MARCH 23 THAT "YOU WILL SEE WITH YOUR OWN EYES THERE IS NOTHING HERE TO WORRY ABOUT." IN SHORT, THE SECURITY FORCES ARE GETTING POLITICAL DIRECTION TO "COOL IT." AS A RESULT, THE

AND ESCARCEGA (SOUTHERN COMPECHE) IN THE LAST TWO OR THREE YEARS. MANNING LEVELS OF ALL UNITS IN THE BORDER MILITARY ZONES ARE AT LEAST AT FULL STRENGTH AND POSSIBLY ABOVE. AND, AS HAS BEEN NOTED IN EARLIER REPORTING, THE PRI NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR OF CHIAPAS (GENERAL CASTELLANOS) IS A HIGHLY RESPECTED FORMER 31ST MILITARY ZONE COMMANDER. (SEE ALSO SEPTEL ON SITUATION IN CHIAPAS BEING SENT BY DAO IN DEFENSE CHANNELS.)

11. PROJECTION

IN THE IMMEDIATE FUTURE, ANY SHIFT IN THE GOM'S CAUTIOUS AND AMBIGUOUS POLICY ON ASSISTANCE TO GUATEMALAN AND SALVADORAN INSURGENTS WILL DEPEND ON THE DIRECTION TAKEN BY THE NEW GUATEMALAN JUNTA AND ON POST-ELECTION DEVELOPMENTS IN EL SALVADOR. GIVEN MOVEMENT TOWARDS ACCOMMODATIONS WITH THE LEFT IN EITHER OR BOTH OF THESE COUNTRIES, THE GOM MAY BE MORE INCLINED TO REDUCE ITS SUPPORT FOR THE ACTIVITIES OF INSURGENT REPRESENTATIVES IN MEXICO CITY, AND/OR TO SHOW A FIRMER MILITARY HAND ON THE BORDER. EVEN IF THERE IS NO SUCH MOVEMENT IN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS IN CENTRAL AMERICA, WE HAVE REPORTED RECENT SIGNS THAT DE LA MADRID MAY BE MORE CONSERVATIVE ABOUT ASSOCIATING THE GOM WITH CENTRAL AMERICAN RADICALS. (SEE MEXICO 3447.)

DECLASSIFIED

HOWEVER, THERE SHOULD BE NO EXPECTATION THAT THE MAINSTREAM OF GOM/PRI THINKING WILL SHIFT MORE THAN A DEGREE OR TWO TO THE RIGHT. IN HIS MOST RECENT FOREIGN POLICY REMARKS (MARCH 26) DE LA MADRID STRESSED THAT MEXICAN FOREIGN POLICY OBJECTIVES WILL NOT CHANGE. THUS, WE SHOULD NOT HARBOR THE ILLUSION THAT MEXICAN COOPERATION WITH LEFTIST CAUSES IN CENTRAL AMERICA, OR FOR THAT MATTER ELSEWHERE IN LATIN AMERICA, IS MERELY A PASSING PHENOMENON THAT WE NEED NOT CONTINUE TO BE CONCERNED ABOUT. WE ARE PLACING THIS PHENOMENON IN PERSPECTIVE IN A SEPARATE REPORT TO BE FORWARED SHORTLY ON HISTORICAL TRENDS IN MEXICAN FOREIGN POLICY.

IN HIS MOST RECENT FOREIGN POLICY REMARKS (MARCH 26) DE LA MADRID STRESSED THAT MEXICAN FOREIGN POLICY OBJECTIVES WILL NOT CHANGE. THUS, WE SHOULD NOT HARBOR THE ILLUSION THAT MEXICAN COOPERATION WITH LEFTIST CAUSES IN CENTRAL AMERICA, OR FOR THAT MATTER ELSEWHERE IN LATIN AMERICA, IS MERELY A PASSING PHENOMENON THAT WE NEED NOT CONTINUE TO BE CONCERNED ABOUT. WE ARE PLACING THIS PHENOMENON IN PERSPECTIVE IN A SEPARTE REPORT TO BE FORWARED SHORTLY ON HISTORICAL TRENDS IN MEXICAN FOREIGN POLICY.

TIONS HAD COVERED CENTRAL AMERICA, EAST-WEST ISSUES, INCLUDING ARMS CONTROL AND POLAND, AND NORTH-SOUTH RELATIONS. THE PRESIDIUM ISSUED A DECLARATION ON CENTRAL AMERICA, THE TEXT OF WHICH WE ARE SENDING SEPTEL. THE DECLARATIDN STATED THAT THE "SO-CALLED" ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR HAD NOT BROUGHT PEACE NEARER, AND CALLED FOR A "NEGOTIATED SOLUTION"; IT AFFIRMED THE SI'S SUPPORT OF THE SANDINISTAS' "COMMITMENT TO PLURALISM, AND SOCIAL JUSTICE, TO DEMOCRACY AND NON-ALIGNMENT," AND WARNED AGAINST ANY OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE IN NICARAGUA'S AFFAIRS; IT EXPRESSED SUPPORT FOR A DEMOCRATIC PROCESS IN GUATEMALA AND GRENADA, AND STRESSED THE NEED FOR REGIONAL SECURITY, PEACE AND COOPERATION BASED ON PRINCIPLES ENUNCIATED BY MEXICAN PRESIDENT LOPEZ PORTILLO. IT IS CLEAR THE SI WAS DETERMINED TO PRESENT A UNITED FRONT TO THE PRESS ON CENTRAL AMERICA. THE REALITY MAY BE MORE COMPLICATED. ON EAST-WEST ISSUES, THE PRESIDIUM DECLARED ITS STRONG INTEREST IN A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION TO THE "START" AND INF TALKS AND EXPRESSED ITS "DEEP CONCERN" REGARDING THE SITUATION IN POLAND, STATING THAT PRACTICAL MEASURES TO HELP THE POLISH PEOPLE WOULD BE DISCUSSED AT THE NEXT SI MEETING IN HELSINKI. THE PRESIDIUM REFUSED TO GIVE THE PRESS ANY DETAILS OF ITS DISCUSSION OF NORTH-SOUTH RELATIONS. END SUMMARY.

2. CENTRAL AMERICA: THE PRESIDIUM'S DECLARATION

THE PRESIDIUM OF THE SOCIALIST INTERNATIONAL PUBLISHED A DECLARATION APRIL 2 ON CENTRAL AMERICA, WHICH WE ARE SENDING SEPTEL. THE DECLARATION WAS ANNOUNCED TO BE PRIMARILY THE WORK OF CARLOS ANDREAS PEREZ, FELIPE GONZALEZ, UNGO AND CARLOS FLORES.

3. THE DECLARATION DEALT ON A COUNTRY-BY-COUNTRY BASIS WITH EL SALVADOR, NICARAGUA, GUATEMALA AND GRENADA, AND CONCLUDED WITH A STATEMENT ON THE NEED TO ESTABLISH "PEACE, SECURITY AND COOPERATION" IN THE REGION.

4. THE DECLARATION SPOKE OF "SO-CALLED ELECTIONS" WHICH, IT MAINTAINED, HAD BROUGHT A SOLUTION TO THE "TERRIBLE RAVAGES" IN THAT COUNTRY NO NEARER. ONLY A "NEGOTIATED AGREEMENT INVOLVING ALL THE POLITICAL SECTORS WHICH WILL ACCEPT THE DEMOCRATIC PROCESS" -- INCLUDING SPECIFICALLY THE FDR/FMLN -- CAN SOLVE THE SALVADORAN PROBLEM.

UNCLASSIFIED

5. ON NICARAGUA, THE DECLARATION STATED THAT THE SI SUPPORTED THE COMMITMENT OF THE SANDINISTAS "TO PLURALISM AND SOCIAL JUSTICE, TO DEMOCRACY AND NON-ALIGNMENT" AND

UNCLASSIFIED

OPPOSED ANY ATTEMPTS "FROM WHATEVER SOURCE" TO DESTABILIZE NICARAGUA OR INTERFERE WITH ITS SOVEREIGNTY."

6. THE DECLARATION EXPRESSED THE SI'S SUPPORT OF GUATEMALA'S DEMOCRATIC SOCIALIST PARTY, AND OF THE EFFORTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF GRENADA TO ORGANIZE ELECTIONS. IT CONCLUDED BY UNDERLINING THE NEED FOR "OVERALL STABILITY AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT" IN

CENTRAL AMERICA AND THE CARIBBEAN. THIS WOULD REQUIRE INCREASED OUTSIDE ECONOMIC AID AND AN END TO ARMS DELIVERIES TO THE REGION, "AND THE CESSATION OF ANY INTERFERENCE BY ONE COUNTRY INTO THE AFFAIRS OF ANOTHER."

7. THESE GOALS COULD BEST BE ATTAINED, THE DECLARATION STATED, BY A "COMPREHENSIVE REGIONAL TREATY EMBRACING ALL

UNCLASSIFIED

THE NATIONS OF THE REGION, INCLUDING IN PARTICULAR THE UNITED STATES AND CUBA." THE SI, THE DECLARATION SAID, WAS CONVINCED THAT THE PROPOSALS OFFERED BY MEXICAN PRESIDENT LOPEZ PORTILLO AND OTHER REGIONAL LEADERS SHOULD BE THE BASIS OF A SOLUTION PROVIDING "REGIONAL SECURITY, PEACE AND CO-OPERATION."

8. CENTRAL AMERICA: ELABORATIONS BY BRANDT AND OTHERS

IN RESPONSE TO A REPORTER'S QUESTION, SI CHAIRMAN BRANDT CONFIRMED THAT HE DID NOT THINK THE ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR WERE "REAL ELECTIONS", ALTHOUGH HE AVOIDED USING THE TERM "FARCE" TO DESCRIBE THEM WHEN A REPORTER ASKED IF THIS WAS HOW HE REGARDED THEM. WHEN A REPORTER ASKED HIM HOW THE SI COULD OFFER ITS SUPPORT TO NICARAGUA WHEN CERTAIN SANDINISTAS WERE OPENLY DECLARING THEMSELVES TO BE MARXIST-LENINISTS, BRANDT SAID THE SI FELT IT WAS APPROPRIATE TO REMIND THE SANDINISTAS OF THE COMMITMENT TO PLURALISM, SOCIAL JUSTICE AND NON-ALIGNMENT "WHICH THEY THEMSELVES MADE THE BASIS OF THEIR REVOLUTION." ON THE SUBJECT OF OUTSIDE INTERVENTION, BRANDT SAID THE SI WAS OPPOSED TO SUCH INTERVENTION "WHETHER IT CAME FROM THE U.S., CUBA, OR WHEREVER." ASKED IF THE SI [redacted]

WOULD INVITE THE SANDINISTAS TO SEND REPRESENTATIVES TO ITS NEXT MEETINGS, BRANDT SAID IT WOULD INVITE THE SANDINISTAS TO ATTEND MEETINGS WHICH DEALT WITH CENTRAL AMERICA "SINCE ALTHOUGH THEY ARE NOT SI MEMBERS, THEY ARE AN IMPORTANT FORCE IN THE REGION." BRANDT FINESSED A QUESTION AS TO WHETHER THERE WAS ANY CONTRADICTION BETWEEN THE DECLARATION'S DENUNCIATION OF ARMS DELIVERIES TO CENTRAL AMERICA AND FRANCE'S DECISION TOLL ARMS TO NICARAGUA. WHEN ASKED WHETHER THE SI "SUPPORTS THE GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR," BRANDT WAS EQUALLY EVASIVE, REPLYING AFTER SOME SECONDS' SILENCE, THAT HE WAS OPPOSED TO "TERROR FROM THE RIGHT" AND HOPED THAT SUCH TERROR COULD BE ELIMINATED.

9. GUILLERMO UNGO, WHO WAS ALSO PRESENT AT THE PRESS CONFERENCE, SAID THE CAUSES OF THE CONFLICT IN EL SALVADOR WERE "SOCIAL INJUSTICE AND LACK OF FREEDOM", AND STRESSED THAT HE HOPED FOR A "NEGOTIATED SOLUTION."

10. CENTRAL AMERICA: HOW MUCH REAL AGREEMENT?

COMMENT: ALL THE PRESIDIUM MEMBERS PRESENT AT THE PRESS CONFERENCE WENT OUT OF THEIR WAY TO STRESS THE

UNCLASSIFIED

COMPLETE UNITY OF VIEWS WHICH PREVAILED IN THE PRESIDIUM MEETING ON THE SUBJECT OF CENTRAL AMERICA. IN RESPONSE TO REPORTERS' QUESTIONS SEEKING TO PROBE BEHIND THE COMMON FRONT, UNGO, CARLOS ANDRES PEREZ (CAP), MARIO SOARES AND FELIPE GONZALES ALL EMPHASIZED THAT ANY DIFFERENCES OF OPINION ON THE SUBJECT OF CENTRAL AMERICA WERE MINIMAL. CAP, FOR INSTANCE, SAID THERE "WERE NO DIFFERENCES OF OPINION, ONLY SLIGHT NUANCES AT MOST,"

DESPITE THE FACT THAT HIS PARTY HAD FORCED THE CALLING OFF OF THE PLANNED CARACAS SI MEETING OVER THE ISSUE OF SANDINISTA ATTENDANCE. ON THE OTHER HAND, A CONTACT OF OURS WHO WORKS FOR A FOREIGN PRESS AGENCY AND WHO SUCCEEDED IN INTERVIEWING GONZALES AND THE LATIN AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVES TOLD US SHE WAS OF THE OPINION THAT "THEY ARE NOT REALLY VERY MUCH IN AGREEMENT."

11. WHILE IT IS NOT POSSIBLE ON THE BASIS OF THE PRESS CONFERENCE FOR US TO DETERMINE WHETHER OR NOT THERE WAS ANY WASHING OF DIRTY LINEN TO BE DONE ON CENTRAL AMERICA, IT IS CLEAR THAT IF THERE WAS, A VERY FIRM DECISION WAS TAKEN IN ADVANCE NOT TO LET THE PUBLIC INTO THE LAUNDRY. THIS DOUBTLESS REFLECTS THE FACT THAT THE BONN PRESIDIUM MEETING WAS HELD IN ORDER TO REPLACE AN SI CONFERENCE -- THAT PLANNED FOR CARACAS -- WHICH HAD TO BE CALLED OFF WHEN UNITY BROKE DOWN. WHETHER BRANDT'S STATEMENT THAT SANDINISTAS WOULD BE INVITED TO FUTURE SI GATHERINGS AS APPROPRIATE REFLECTS A REAL AGREEMENT ON THIS QUESTION, OR WAS INTENDED TO PRESERVE THE IMAGE OF UNITY IS SOMETHING TO BE PURSUED IN OUR PRIVATE DISCUSSIONS ON THE SI PRESIDIUM MEETING. END COMMENT

12. ARMS CONTROL

BRANDT SAID THE PRESIDIUM AGREED THE SI SHOULD "UNDERLINE IN THE STRONGEST WORDS" THE IMPORTANCE IT ATTRIBUTES TO THE UPCOMING START TALKS AND THE GENEVA INF NEGOTIATIONS. THESE TALKS, THE SI FEELS, "MAY BE [redacted]

DECISIVE TO AVOID A CATASTROPHE FOR MANKIND." AT THE NEXT BUREAU MEETING IN HELSINKI, BRANDT SAID, THE SI WOULD FOLLOW UP THE REPORTS MADE BY THE FINNISH PRIME MINISTER ON HIS VISIT TO WASHINGTON LAST YEAR, AND BY SI MEMBERS WHO HAD VISITED MOSCOW EARLY THIS YEAR. IN ADDITION, THE SI HOPED THAT AT HELSINKI IT WOULD BE ABLE TO GET MORE INFORMATION "FROM SOMEONE WHO REPRESENTS THE U.S. MOVEMENT FOR DISARMAMENT AND DETENTE." (COMMENT: IT WAS UNCLEAR FROM BRANDT'S STATEMENT WHETHER THE SI HAD SUCH AN INDIVIDUAL IN MIND, OR WAS LOOKING FOR ONE WHO COULD PARTICIPATE IN THE HELSINKI MEETING. END COMMENT)

13. POLAND

THE SI EXPRESSED ITS "DEEP CONCERN FOR THE FUTURE OF THE POLISH PEOPLE," BRANDT SAID, AND "ESPECIALLY UNDERLINED THE IMPORTANCE WHICH FREE TRADE UNIONS WILL HAVE FOR THAT FUTURE." BRITISH LABOR PARTY LEADER MICHAEL FOOTE ALSO EXPRESSED HIS "DEEP CONCERN" REGARDING POLAND IN ANSWER TO A QUESTION. BRANDT TOLD THE PRESS CONFERENCE THAT THE MAIN RAPPORTEUR ON POLAND HAD BEEN AUSTRIAN CHANCELLOR KREISKY, WHO DID NOT ATTEND THE PRESS CONFERENCE. IN RESPONSE TO A REPORTER'S QUESTION, BRANDT CONCEDED THAT THERE HAD BEEN SOME DIFFERENCE OF OPINION BETWEEN HIS SPD AND THE FRENCH SOCIALIST PARTY ON POLAND, BUT HE INDICATED -- WITHOUT GOING

UNCLASSIFIED

UNCLASSIFIED

INTO DETAILS -- THAT PROGRESS HAD BEEN MADE IN BRINGING THE POSITIONS OF THE TWO PARTIES CLOSER TOGETHER. POSSIBLE CONCRETE STEPS TO "HELP THE POLISH PEOPLE" WOULD BE DISCUSSED IN HELSINKI, BRANDT SAID.

AS INDICATED ABOVE REGARDING CENTRAL AMERICA, THE PRESIDIUM WAS CLEARLY AT PAINS TO STRESS ITS UNITY. THEREFORE, CAUTION IS IN ORDER IN INTERPRETING THE STATEMENTS MADE AT THE PRESS CONFERENCE. THE UNWILLINGNESS TO SAY ANYTHING ABOUT THE NORTH-SOUTH PART OF THE DISCUSSIONS SUGGESTS THERE MAY HAVE BEEN DISAGREEMENTS ON THAT ISSUE, AND EVEN BRANDT DID NOT GO SO FAR

AS TO SUGGEST THAT COMPLETE IDENTITY OF VIEWS PREVAILED YET BETWEEN THE SPD AND THE FRENCH SOCIALISTS ON THE SUBJECT OF POLAND. WHETHER THERE REALLY WERE ANY MAJOR CRACKS IN THE FACADE OF AGREEMENT, AND JUST HOW MUCH WALLPAPER MAY HAVE HAD TO BE USED, IS SOMETHING WE WILL BE PURSUING WITH OUR SI CONTACTS. BURNS

SUBJECT: FABIO CASTILLO DENIGRATES SALVADORAN ELECTIONS; SAYS PDC DEFEATED, URGES REFORM AND END OF U.S. INTERVENTION

1. IN A POST-ELECTION INTERVIEW (PUBLISHED IN THE 2 TO 8 APRIL "LA NACION INTERNACIONAL"), FDR-FMLN POLITICAL COMMITTEE MEMBER DR. FABIO CASTILLO FIGUEROA, DENIGRATING THE SALVADORAN ELECTIONS, STATED THAT "LESS THAN HALF" OF THE SALVADORANS VOTED. HE CHARGED THAT A LARGE NUMBER OF PERSONS VOTED BECAUSE OF THE THREAT THAT IF THEIR CEDULAS (IDENTIFY CARDS) WERE NOT MARKET THAT THEY HAD VOTED, THERE WOULD BE "SANCTIONS, PERSECUTIONS BY THE REPRESSIVE FORCES." CASTILLO ALSO QUESTIONED THE NUMBER OF ANNOUNCED VOTERS SAYING, "IN EL SALVADOR, THERE HAS BEEN FRAUD IN ELECTIONS FOR THE LAST FIFTY YEARS."

THE GUERRILLAS, CASTILLO BLUSTERED THAT FIGUERES HAD NOT BEEN "AN ENEMY OF THE DICTATORSHIPS OF THE CONTINENT... FIGUERES IS AN ADVOCATE OF THE SYSTEM OF EXPLOITATION AND OPPRESSION OF THE PEOPLE." CASTILLO SAID THE GUERRILLAS COULD NOT HAVE SURVIVED WITHOUT POPULAR SUPPORT AND, ON THE CONTRARY, THAT THEY HAVE ADVANCED "POLITICALLY AND MILITARILY DURING THE LAST FIFTEEN MONTHS."

4. CONCERNING NEGOTIATIONS, CASTILLOS AFFIRMED THAT THE FDR AND FMLN HAD ALWAYS AGREED TO NEGOTIATIONS AND SAID THAT THE DUARTE GOVERNMENT HAD NEVER ACCEPTED THEM, PREFERING, WITH THE U.S., A "MILITARY SOLUTION." HE CHARGED THAT VENEZUELA HAD ENDORSED NEGOTIATIONS FOLLOWING THE ELECTIONS BECAUSE IT ASSUMED THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS WOULD TRIUMPH. HE STATED, "IT IS OBVIOUS, THEN, THAT WE MUST INCREASE OUR POLITICAL AND MILITARY PRESSURES. (THE JRG) WILL ATTEMPT A MILITARY SOLUTION, THEN WE MUST STRIKE MILITARILY." HE CONCLUDED THAT "THE GOVERNMENT WILL NOT NEGOTIATE WITHOUT SOME KIND OF PRESSURE. WE KNOW THAT THE GOVERNMENT WILL ACCEPT NEGOTIATIONS IF WE FORCE IT TO." CASTILLO SAID THE JRG WAS STRONG ONLY BECAUSE OF U.S. BACKING AND OPINED THAT THE SALVADORAN ARMY AND GOVERNMENT HAD BEEN WORN DOWN BY THE GUERRILLA FORCES.

5. ACCORDING TO CASTILLO, THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY HAD BEEN DEFEATED AND NOW CALLS FOR A PLURALISTIC GOVERNMENT IN ORDER "TO SAVE ITSELF."

6. CONCERNING REFORMS, HE STATED THAT THE PURPOSE OF AGRARIAN REFORM WAS TO FIGHT THE REVOLUTIONARY FORCES AND "WAS NOT A SERIOUS PROJECT." NOTING THAT THE PROPERTY OF LESS THAN 500 HECTARS WAS NOT AFFECTED, AND THAT SOME LAND HAD BEEN RETURNED TO THE OWNERS. HE CLAIMED THAT ONLY THREE OR FOUR PERCENT OF THE COFFEE PRODUCING LAND HAD BEEN AFFECTED BY THE AGRARIAN PROGRAM. CASTILLOS ARGUED THAT THE FDR AND FMLN WOULD RESPECT THE SMALL AND MEDIUM LAND HOLDERS BUT THAT NOTIONALIZATION WAS NECESSARY TO "RATIONAILY USE RESOURCES."

7. CASTILLO SAID THE U.S. IS IN A VERY DIFFICULT POSITION AND ATTRIBUTED GROWING OPPOSITION TO U.S. MILITARY AID TO EL SALVADOR AMONG THE ARMERICAN PEOPLE AND THE CONGRESS TO THE FACT THAT THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT WOULD INCLUDE "THE PERSON (ROBERTO D'ABUISSON) WHO HAS BEEN POINTED-OUT BY EX-AMBASSADOR ROBERT WHITE AS THE MURDERED OF MONSIGNOR ROMERO."

8. DISCARDING ANY COMPARISON TO A PROLONGED CONFLICT AS IN LEBANON, CASTILLOS SAID THAT THE CONFLICT IN EL SALVADOR WOULD END IF IT WERE NOT FOR U.S. INTERVENTION. HE

SAID PROLONGATION OF THE CONFLICT WAS A THREAT TO THE REST OF CENTRAL AMERICA AND COMPARED EL SALVADOR TO "A FIRE HURLING SPARKS TO ITS NEIGHBORING COUNTRIES."

9. COPIES OF INTERVIEW WILL BE POUCHED TO ARA/CEN AND AMEMBASSY SAN SALVADOR.

REF: MOSCOW 4671

1. [redacted] ENTIRE TEXT).

2. SUMMARY: DURING AN APRIL 19 MEETING WITH SOVIET MINISTER OF CULTURE AND CANDIDATE POLITBURO MEMBER PETR DEMICHEV, THE AMBASSADOR EMPHASIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF SOVIET ACTIONS ON POLAND AND AFGHANISTAN IN CREATING THE NEGATIVE CLIMATE OF U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS. DEMICHEV RESPONDED BY SAYING WE SHOULD NOT "WASTE TIME AND POLEMICS ON THIRD-RATE PROBLEMS" SUCH AS AFGHANISTAN AND POLAND TO THE DETRIMENT OF ARMS CONTROL. HE REPEATED THE SOVIET LINE THAT MARTIAL LAW HAD SAVED POLAND FROM A CIVIL WAR AND THAT STATEMENTS OF SOVIET INTERFERENCE IN THAT COUNTRY'S AFFAIRS WERE ABSURD. HE DEFINED THE [redacted]

SOVIET INTEREST IN AFGHANISTAN AS "SOVIET SECURITY," DESCRIBED THE EFFORT THERE AS "COSTLY," AND SAID THAT SOVIET TROOPS WOULD BE WITHDRAWN AS SOON AS THERE WERE GUARANTEES OF BORDER SECURITY FROM PAKISTAN AND IRAN THAT HALTED CROSS-BORDER ACTIONS AGAINST THE AFGHAN GOVERNMENT. DURING THE CONVERSATION, DEMICHEV SHOWED HIMSELF TO BE A SPRIGHTLY CONVERSATIONALIST WHO SEEMED TO ENJOY THE EXCHANGE, BUT HIS STANDARD RESPONSES DID NOT SUGGEST HE CARRIED MUCH WEIGHT IN THE POLICY PROCESS.

END SUMMARY.

3. IN ADDITION TO THE BRIEF REMARKS NOTED REFTEL ON A REAGAN-BREZHNEV SUMMIT AND A DISCUSSION ON CULTURAL ISSUES (SEPTEL), DEMICHEV USED THE AMBASSADOR'S COURTESY CALL AS AN OPPORTUNITY TO EXCHANGE VIEWS ON CURRENT INTERNATIONAL ISSUES. THE AMBASSADOR EMPHASIZED TO DEMICHEV THE IMPORTANCE OF SOVIET ACTIONS AND THEIR EFFECT ON U.S. PUBLIC OPINION IN THE FORMATION OF U.S. FOREIGN POLICY. HE NOTED IN PARTICULAR THAT THERE WAS A GENUINE FEELING OF ANGER AND DISILLUSIONMENT IN THE U.S. ABOUT SOVIET ACTIONS IN POLAND AND AFGHANISTAN. HE SAID THAT THE UNITED STATES HAD NOT CREATED THESE PROBLEMS, THE SOVIETS HAD, AND WE NEEDED TO TALK ABOUT THESE ISSUES TO SEE IF A WAY COULD BE FOUND TO ALLOW THE POLES AND THE AFGHANS TO RESOLVE THEIR PROBLEMS WITHOUT OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE.

4. DEMICHEV RESPONDED THAT THE WEST SHOULD LOOK DEEPLY INTO THE SITUATION IN POLAND. IF IT DID SO, IT WOULD BE GRATEFUL FOR THE IMPOSITION OF MARTIAL LAW WHICH SAVED THE COUNTRY FROM A CIVIL WAR THAT COULD HAVE DEVELOPED INTO A EUROPEAN AND WORLDWIDE CONFRONTATION. HE ARGUED THAT LABELLING SOVIET PUBLIC STATEMENTS ON [redacted]

THE POLISH SITUATION AS "INTERFERENCE" WAS ABSURD. THE SOVIETS, HE AVERRED, DID NOT ENDANGER THE BILATERAL RELATIONSHIP OVER DIFFERENCES ON U.S. INVOLVEMENT IN VIETNAM, NOR DID IT CHARGE PRESIDENT REAGAN WITH INTERFERENCE IN MEXICAN AFFAIRS WHEN HE MET WITH LOPEZ PORTILLO OR ATTACK SECRETARY HAIG FOR HIS CURRENT ROUND OF VISITS TO LONDON AND BUENOS AIRES. HE SAID THAT THE WEST WOULD UNDERSTAND THAT IT WAS CONTRARY TO ITS INTERESTS TO CUT OFF ECONOMIC AID TO POLAND SINCE THIS WOULD ONLY EMBITTER THE POLES. HE NOTED THAT HE HAD BEEN IN SCANDINAVIA SHORTLY BEFORE DECEMBER 13 AND THE ONLY CONCERN THAT HE HAD HEARD WAS THAT SOVIET TROOPS SHOULD NOT ENTER POLAND, WHICH OF COURSE, THEY HAD NOT.

5. ON AFGHANISTAN, DEMICHEV SAID THAT IT HAD BEEN CLEAR FROM THE BEGINNING THAT THE SOVIET SIDE WOULD WITHDRAW ITS TROOPS AS SOON AS GUARANTEES OF BORDER SECURITY WITH PAKISTAN AND IRAN WERE IN PLACE TO ENSURE THAT THE CROSS-BORDER OPERATIONS AGAINST THE AFGHAN GOVERNMENT FROM THESE COUNTRIES WAS STOPPED. THE ISSUE AT STAKE, HE CONTINUED, IS SOVIET SECURITY AND THAT IS THE ONLY ISSUE. THERE CAN BE NO QUESTION OF ANY OTHER SOVIET INTEREST IN AFGHANISTAN, A SMALL AND POOR COUNTRY WITHOUT RESOURCES. HE ADDED THAT THE SOVIET EFFORT THERE IS COSTLY AND THE USSR DERIVES NO

ECONOMIC BENEFIT FROM IT.

6. NEITHER POLAND NOR AFGHANISTAN, HE SAID, SHOULD STAND IN THE WAY OF RESOLVING LARGER PROBLEMS SUCH AS THAT OF STRATEGIC ARMS LIMITATION. IT WAS FOOLISH TO WASTE TIME AND POLEMICS ON THIRD-RATE PROBLEMS SUCH AS AFGHANISTAN AND POLAND TO THE DETRIMENT OF THE MOST IMPORTANT PROBLEM OF ARMS CONTROL. DOING SO WOULD RESULT IN OUR NOT SOLVING THE MAIN PROBLEM AND ALSO FAILING TO DEAL SUCCESSFULLY WITH THE WHOLE RANGE OF SMALLER PROBLEMS DIVIDING OUR TWO COUNTRIES. DEMICHEV CONTINUED THAT IT WAS UNFORTUNATE THAT PEOPLE IN THE U.S. WERE NOW REEXAMINING THE SALT-II AGREEMENT, WHICH HAD AMONG OTHER THINGS CALLED FOR LOWER ARMS LEVELS. THERE WAS NOT A SINGLE ELEMENT OF THE SALT-II TREATY THAT WAS NOT BENEFICIAL TO THE U.S. IT WAS THE UNDERSTANDING FROM THE BEGINNING OF THE SALT TALKS, HE CLAIMED, THAT THE PROCESS WOULD BE INCREMENTAL. THE QUESTIONS OF LOWER LEVELS WOULD BE EXAMINED IN THE SALT-III NEGOTIATIONS, AFTER SALT-II HAD BEEN CONCLUDED AND RATIFIED. HOWEVER, THE SOVIET UNION HAS REPEATEDLY MADE KNOWN ITS WILLINGNESS TO SIT DOWN AND NEGOTIATE ANY ARMS CONTROL PROPOSAL, AS THE U.S. WAS WELL AWARE.

7. AMBASSADOR HARTMAN REPLIED THAT HE WAS CERTAIN THE U.S. WOULD BE IN A POSITION TO BEGIN NEGOTIATIONS ON START AFTER THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO EUROPE IN JUNE, [redacted]

WHEN HE WILL HAVE THE CHANCE TO CONSULT WITH OUR ALLIES. HE EMPHASIZED, HOWEVER, THAT THE U.S. PRESIDENT MUST HAVE THE SUPPORT OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE FOR ALL OF HIS FOREIGN POLICY, NOT JUST FOR ONE ELEMENT OF IT LIKE ARMS CONTROL. THUS, ISSUES SUCH AS POLAND AND AFGHANISTAN WOULD HAVE TO BE CONSIDERED PARALLEL TO AND IN RELATION WITH ARMS CONTROL.

8. FOLLOWING THE DISCUSSION OF CULTURAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES, DISCUSSION TURNED TO A GENERAL, PHILOSOPHICAL TREATMENT OF THE PROBLEMS OF THE SCIENTIFIC-TECHNOLOGICAL REVOLUTION AND ITS IMPACT ON WORLD EVENTS. DEMICHEV SHOWED A BRISK INTEREST, AND AT LEAST SUPERFICIAL KNOWLEDGE, ON SUCH VARIED SUBJECTS AS ROBOTICS, AUTOMATION, THE WORK OF AMERICAN FUTUROLOGISTS, THE PROBLEMS OF UNDER-DEVELOPMENT, AND THE DIFFICULTIES OF IMMIGRANT WORKERS IN WESTERN EUROPE. HE SPOKE WITH PLEASURE ABOUT HIS LAST VISIT TO THE U.S. AND IN SOME DETAIL ABOUT HIS MEETING WITH ZBIGNIEW BRZEZINSKI AT A DINNER HOSTED BY DOBRYNIN. SEVERAL TIMES HE USED BRZEZINSKI'S NEOLOGISM "TECHNETRONIC." AND HE SAID HE HAD ANSWERED A QUESTION BY BRZEZINSKI ON SOVIET-CHINESE RELATIONS BY SAYING THAT ULTIMATELY THE BORDER BETWEEN THEM WOULD DISAPPEAR AND THERE WOULD THEN BE NO PROBLEM.

9. COMMENT: DEMICHEV APPEARED HEALTHY, ANIMATED, AND IN GOOD FORM. HIS REMARKS WERE STANDARD, BUT HE SHOWED A SPRIGHTLINESS OF INTELLECT RARE WITHIN THE SOVIET LEADERSHIP. HE SPOKE THROUGH AN INTERPRETER, BUT HE DEMONSTRATED AT LEAST SOME KNOWLEDGE OF ENGLISH, AT ONE POINT USING THE WORD "NONSENSE." DEMICHEV SEEMED TO ENJOY THE CONVERSATION, AND PROLONGED IT LONG AFTER IT HAD GOTTEN BEYOND THE PURVIEW OF HIS MINISTRY'S [redacted]

RESPONSIBILITY. IT IS DIFFICULT TO TELL WHETHER THIS BROAD RANGE OF INTERESTS SUGGESTS ADDITIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES WITHIN THE POLITBURO OR WHETHER IT MEANS HE SIMPLY DOESN'T HAVE ENOUGH TO DO. WE WOULD GUESS THAT THE LATTER INTERPRETATION IS CLOSER TO THE TRUTH.

2. A SENIOR FOREIGN MINISTRY ADVISOR, RODRIGUEZ ITURBE, TOLD ME LAST WEEK THAT THEY HAD RECEIVED A QUERY FROM THE FMLN IN PANAMA SEEKING INFORMATION ON WHEN PRESIDENT HERRER MIGHT REPLY TO THEIR LETTER. RODRIGUEZ ITURBE SAID THE QUERY WAS LITTLE MORE THAN "A KNOCK AT THE DOOR" BUT SUGGEST AT LEAST SOME FLMN MEMBERS ARE SEEKING SOME ANSWERS. RODRIGUEZ ITURBE BELIEVES THAT DIVISIONS WITHIN THE FMLN ARE INCREASING. HE DID NOT THINK THAT THE PRESIDENT FOR THE TIME BEING IS CONSIDERING A REPLY TO THE FMLN, BUT THOUGH THAT IT MIGHT HAPPEN SOME TIME IN THE FUTURE AFTER THE FORMATION OF THE GOVERNMENT IN EL SALVADOR.

1. SUMMARY. RESPONDING TO APPARENT PRESS INTEREST, EMBOFFS VISITED THE PLAYONG BODY DUMP. THEY FOUND NO FRESH BODIES, BUT AT LEAST 12 SKELETONS AND 15 SPENT CARTRIDGES. WE CONCLUDE THAT EL PLAYON IS STILL BEING USED AS A CLANDESTINE BODY DUMP, BUT THAT THE SITUATION IS NO WORSE TODAY THAN DURING OUR LAST VISIT IN NOVEMBER, 1981. END SUMMARY.

2. IN RECENT DAYS, THE PAO LEARNED THAT AT LEAST ONE U.S. JOURNALIST PLANS TO FILE A STORY ON THE CLANDESTINE BODY DUMP AT EL PLAYON. EL PLAYON IS A LAVA FIELD LOCATED APPROXIMATELY 20 MILES NORTHWEST OF SAN SALVADOR. IT HAS BEEN [redacted]

UNKOWN ASSASAINS KILL OR DUMP THE CORPSES OF VICTIMS OF POLITICAL MURDERS. IN AN EFFORT TO PROVIDE THE DEPT. WITH ADVANCE INFORMATION, THE PAO, CAO AND POLOFF VISTED THE SITE ON 4/21/82.

3. EMBOFFS FOUND NO FRESH CORPSES AT THE SITE. THEY FOUND TWELVE SKULLS AND SACTTERED BONES OF AT LEAST THAT MANY SKELETONS. IT SI IMPOSSIBLE FOR OBSERVERS WITHOUT FORENSIC TRAINING TO ESTIMATE HOW LONG THE SKELETONS HAD BEEN THERE. WE ESTIMATE THAT THE BUZZARDS AND DOGS PICK A SKELETON CLEAN WITHIN ONE WEEK. SOME OF THE SKULLS STILL HAD HAIR ATTACHED. THEY WERE UNDOUBTEDLY MORE RECENT THAN THOSE THAT WERE BLEACHED WHITE. WE CANNOT ESTIMATE HOW MANY MORE SKELETONS WERE BURIED BENEATH THE ROCKS. MANY BONES WERE OBSERVED PARTIALLY CONCEEALED BY THE LAVA ROCKS. AT TWO SEPARATE LOCATIONS, EMBOFFS FOUND A TOTAL OF 15 SPENT 5.56 MILIMETER CARTRIDGES. NO SKELETAL REMAINS WERE FOUND WITHIN TEN METERS OF THE SPENT SHELL. EMBOFFS TOOK PHOTOGRAPHS OF SEVERAL OF THE SKELETONS AT THE SITE.

4. CONCLUSIONS. EMBOFFS CONCLUDED THAT EL PLAYON IS STILL BEING USED AS A CLANDESTINE BODY DUMP. ITS CONDICITION WAS NO WORSE THAN DURING EMBOFFS' LAST TRIP TO THE SITE (11/14/81). IN FACT, THERE WERE FEWER CORPSES AND SKELETONS THAN BEFORE. EMBOFFS BELIEVE THAT NO BODIES WERE DUMPED AT THE SITE WITHIN 24 HOURS OF THE MORNING OF 4/21/82. IT IS POINTLESS TO ATTEMPT TO KEEP TRACK OF THE BODIES WITHOUT VISITING THE SITE ON A DAILY BASIS. EMBASSY WILL RAISE AGAIN THE ISSUE OF EL PLAYON WITH NEW GOES AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

THAT SOCORRO MEMBERS SPECULATED THAT THE BISHOP WAS RE-SPONDING TO PRESSURE FROM THE AMERICAN EMBASSY AND THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT. [redacted] SAID HE DID NOT KNOW
WHAT WOULD BECOME OF THE COMISION DE DERECHOS HUMANOS
BECAUSE THEIR LINKS WITH THE CHURCH WERE NOT STRONG,
BUT THOUGHT THAT SOCORRO JURIDICO WOULD PROBABLY MOVE TO THE JESUIT-RUN EXTERNADO SAN JOSE HIGH SCHOOL.

4. COMMENT RIVERA'S APPARENT DECISION TO EVICT THE HUMAN RIGHTS GROUPS COMES AFTER A PERIOD OF TENSION IN WHICH THE CHURCH HAS TRIED TO DISTANCE ITSELF FROM THEIR ACTIVITIES. BOTH GROUPS HAVE LONG ADVOCATED HUMAN RIGHTS ONLY IN NAME, SERVING INSTEAD AS PROPAGANDA
VEHICLES FOR THE REVOLUTIONARY LEFT. IT IS POSSIBLE THAT THE BISHOP'S DECISION WAS PRECIPATED BY THE EVOLV-ING POLITICAL SITUATION, AND BOTH GROUPS CONTINUED IM-PRUDENCE IN MANAGING THEIR SEMI-UNDERGROUND LINKS TO THE LEFT. ACCORDING TO [redacted] NATIONAL POLICE
DIRECTOR COL. LOPEZ NUILA TOLD RIVERA LAST WEEK THAT HE HAD ARRESTED TWO SALVADORANS WHO HAD JUST ENTERED THE COUNTRY CLANDESTINELY FROM CUBA, FOLLOWING A MEETING HELD IN THE SOCORRO JURIDICO OFFICES.

(BUT) IN ORDER TO DEVALUE THE CURRENCY, YOU HAVE TO TAKE A SERIES OF MEASURES AND, IF YOU TAKE THEM BEFOREHAND, IT MEANS IN PRACTICAL TERMS THAT YOU DO NOT HAVE TO DEVALUE. THERE IS NO REASON OR SENSE IN A DEVALUATION. AS A (FORMER) DIRECTOR OF THE CENTRAL BANK, MAGANA IS AWARE OF THE NATION'S MONETARY SITUATION, AND HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT A DEVALUATION WILL TAKE PLACE.

-- THERE IS NO SPECIFIC ECONOMIC MODEL TO DETERMINE (GOVERNMENT) ACTIVITIES IN THE ECONOMIC FIELD. EL SALVADOR IS A CAPITALIST, FREE ENTERPRISE NATION. MAGANA DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT THERE WILL BE A MAJOR CHANGE IN THIS. IN ORDER TO MOTIVATE PRIVATE ENTERPRISE, HE DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT THERE IS AN ALTERNATIVE OTHER THAN THAT THEY SEEK PROFIST FROM THEIR INVESTMENTS.
-- THE PARTICIPATION OF THE PRIVATE/SECTOR WIL BE A FUNDAMENTAL ELEMENT OF HIS GOVERNMENT.
-- THE MAGANA GOVERNMENT WILL MAKE MAXIMUM ECONOMIC USE OF PRESIDENT REAGAN'S CARIBBEAN BASIN INITIATIVE.

4. GUERRILLAS.
-- THE NEW GOES SEES NOTHING THAT IT MIGHT NEGOTIATE WITH THE FMLN-FDR THAT WAS NOT ALREADY DECIDED BY THE MARCH 28 ELECTIONS. MAGANA LEAVES OPEN THE DISTINCTION BETWEEN "NEGOTIATION" AND "DIALOGUE". ANY DIALOGUE, HOWEVER, WILL INCLUDE THE DEMOCRATIC POLITICAL PARTIES AND OTHER SECTORS OF THE SALVADORAN NATION. THE NEW GOES WILL CONTINUE TO SEARCH FOR

6. POLITICS.
-- MAGANA HAS NO HARD FEELINGS AGAINST THE ARENA PARTY OR ANY OTHER GROUP WHICH OPPOSED HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE PRESIDENCY. HE WANTS A GENUINE GOVERNMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY WHICH REPRESENTS ALL SECTORS OF DEMOCRATIC SALVADORAN SOCIETY.
-- RESPONDING TO A QUESTION ABOUT THE FUNCTIONS OF HIS THREE VICE PRESIDENTS, MAGANA HOPES THAT THEY WILL HAVE A SIGNIFICANT ROLE IN THE GOVERNMENT. HE WILL NOT OPPOSE WHATEVER POWERS THAT THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY DECIDES TO GRANT TO THE VICE PRESIDENTIAL OFFICES. HE REFUSES TO SPECIFY THE POWERS HE HOPES THE VICE PRESIDENTS WIPT BE GRANTED. -- THE PRESIDENT BELIEVES THAT RELATIONS WITH MEXICO ARE STRAINED; THE FAULT FOR THE STRAIN LIES WITH MEXICO; AND THE RELATIONS WILL REMAIN STRAINED

UNTIL MEXICO ALTERS ITS ATTITUDE AND POSITION TOWARDS EL SALVADOR.

7. MILITARY.
MAGANA NOTES THAT PURSUANT TO THE 1982 SALVADORAN CONSTITUTION (REENACTED BY THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY WITH SOME MODIFICATION ON 4/26/82), HE IS NOW THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES.

8. COMMENT. MAGANA'S FIRST PRESS CONFERENCE WAS DESIGNED MORE FOR INTERNAL CONSOLIDATION THAN EXTERNAL CONSUMPTION. HIS STATEMENT ON NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE FMLN, ROLES FOR THE VICE PRESIDENTS, AND DESIRE TO FORGET PAST POLITICAL ANTAGONISM IN ORDER TO CONSTRUCT A GOVERNMENT OF NATIONAL UNITY SHOULD APPEAL TO THOSE SECTORS WHICH OPPOSED MAGANA'S CANDIDACY. THIS EFFORT WAS EVEN CLEARER IN HIS STATEMENTS ON ECONOMIC ISSUES. MAGANA ADDRESSED DEVALUATION BECAUSE OF PERSISTENT TUMORS THAT THE COLON WOULD BE DEPRECIATED AND BECAUSE OF SUPPORT FOR DEVALUATION AMONG SOME ELEMENTS OF THE PRICATE SECTOR, ESPECIALLY THOSE ACTIVE IN TRADITIONAL AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS. THE STATEMENT REGARDING HIS ECONOMIC MODEL AROSE BECAUSE OF WIDESPREAD SPECULATION THAT, AS AN ALUMNUS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO,

SUBJECT: ARMED FORCES PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN TO ATTRACT GUERRILLA DEFECTIONS

1. SINCE THE MARCH 28 ELECTIONS, THE ARMED FORCES HAVE ENGAGED IN A VIGOROUS RADIO, TELEVISION, AND NEWSPAPER CAMPAIGN TO ATTRACT DEFECTIONS FROM THE GUERRILLA RANKS. THE ADS IN THE ELECTRONIC AND NEWSPAPER MEDIA HAMMER HOME THE SAME THEME. THEY STRESS THE MASSIVE VOTER TURNOUT ON ELECTION DAY. THEY CONTRAST THIS MASSIVE TURNOUT OF THE SALVADORAN PEOPLE FOR DEMOCRACY WITH THE SOLITARY STATE OF THE GUERRILLAS IN THE FIELD. "GUERRILLA, YOU ARE ALONE." THE CLEAR IMPLICATION IS THAT THE GUERRILLAS DO NOT HAVE THE SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE. EACH AD, FROM WHATEVER SOURCE, CLOSES WITH THE SAME MESSAGE -- "GUERRILLA, REJOIN YOUR NATION." THESE ADS HAVE APPEARED DAILY IN THE SALVADORAN COMMUNI-

2. COMMENT. THE AMERICAN MIND, THE ARMED FORCES ARE CONDUCTING AN EFFECTIVE PROPAGANDA CAMPAIGN. THE ADS GIVE MAXIMUM EMPHASIS TO THE MASSIVE ELECTIONS TURNOUT. THEY CONCENTRATE ON THIS SINGLE THEME WITHOUT WASTING TIME AND SPACE ON SIDE ISSUES. THIS PROPAGANDA IS NOT PART OF A NEW AMNESTY CAMPAIGN BY THE GOES. THE CENTRAL MESSAGE IS "GO HOME" RATHER THAN "TURN YOURSELF IN." THE EMBASSY DOES NOT

REF: OSLO 2406

1. EMBASSY HAS HEARD NO RECENT REPORTS OF AN ALLEGED MASSACRE INVOLVING 1,500 REFUGEES IN A CAVE IN MORAZAN PROVINCE. NEITHER THE SALVADORAN PRESS, REBEL RADIO, THE ARMED FORCES, NOR ANY HUMAN RIGHTS ORGANIZATIONS HAVE CIRCULATED SUCH REPORTS. EMBASSY CANNOT LOCATE A PLACE NAMED "LA SENTADA" ON ANY MAP. THIS STORY SOUNDS SUSPICIOUSLY SIMILAR TO THE STORY OF A CAVE MASSACRE WHICH BEGAN TO CIRCULATE IN APRIL, 1981. THAT STORY ORIGINATED WITH REBEL RADIO VENCEREMOS AND WAS FURTHER CIRCULATED BY RADIO HAVANA AND TASS. IT WAS DETERMINED THAT THERE ARE NO KNOWN CAVES IN THE NORTHERN MORAZAN AREA CAPABLE OF HOUSING 1,500 PEOPLE. THE STORY FINALLY DIED DUE TO COMPLETE LACK OF CONFIRMATION.

2. THE LAST MAJOR MILITARY OPERATION IN MORAZAN PROVINCE OCCURRED IN LATE APRIL-EARLY MAY, 1982. THE OPERATION

MEXICO: D'AUBUISSON REPORTEDLY PLANNED BISHOP'S MURDER

PA141349

PARIS AFP IN SPANISH 1613 GMT 13 MAY 82

((TEXT)) MEXICO CITY, 13 MAY (AFP) -- MAJ ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON, PRESIDENT OF THE SALVADORAN CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY, ORDERED SALVADORAN ARCHBISHOP OSCAR ARNULFO ROMERO AND OTHER PERSONS KILLED, ACCORDING TO AN AGENDA BELONGING TO D'AUBUISSON WHICH WS REVEALED HERE TODAY.

MANUEL BUENDIA, WELL-KNOWN COLUMNIST OF THE NEWSPAPER EXCELSIOR, PUBLISHED SEVERAL PARAGRAPHS OF 30 PAGES OF THAT AGENDA, WHICH WAS FOUND ON 7 MAY 1980 IN D'AUBUISSON'S BRIEFCASE IN TODAY'S EDITION.

BUENDIA EXPLAINED THAT ON THAT DAY, WHEN COL ADOLFO MAJANO WAS STILL A MEMBER OF THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT JUNTA, HE RECEIVED A REPORT THAT A CLANDESTINE MEETING WAS BEING HELD BY A GROUP OF ARMED INDIVIDUALS HEADED BY D'AUBUISSON ON A FARM IN SANTA TECLA, NEAR SAN SALVADOR.

MAJANO SENT TROOPS TO THE FARM, WHICH CAPTURED THE RIGHTIST LEADER AND 22 OTHER PERSONS, INCLUDING SOLDIERS AND CIVILIANS, AND SEIZED D'AUBUISSON'S PERSONAL BRIEFCASE CONTAINING THE AGENDA.

ONE OF THE PAGES STATES: "EQUIPMENT. OPERATION PINEAPPLE. 1 STARLIGHT. (illegible) ROBERT'S. 4 AUTOMATICS. GRANADES. 1 DRIVER. 1 MARKSMAN. 4 SECURITY ((GUARDS -- FBIS))."

"INVESTIGATIONS THAT HAVE BEEN MADE AND STATEMENTS FROM WITNESSES COINCIDE EXACTLY WITH THE DATA LISTED ON THAT PAGE CONCERNING THE EQUIPMENT, THE MEN, THE WEAPONS AND THE CAR USED IN THE BRUTAL MURDEUOF THE BISHOP," SAID BUENDIA.

THE WORD "STARLIGHT" REFERS TO A SNIPERSCOPE USED FOR NIGHT SHOOTING.

THE COLUMNIST ADDED THAT "ACCORDING TO MAJANO, THE AUTOPSY PERFORMED ON MONSIGNOR ROMERO REVEALED THAT HE WAS HIT BY A PROJECTILE OF A WEAPON WITH THE PRECISE CHARACTERISTICS AS THE TYPE MENTIONED IN THE AGENDA."

BUENDIA ADDED THAT THE AGENDA CONTAINS NOTES WHICH, ACCORDING TO THE SAME TECHNICAL INTERPRETATION, CORRESPOND PRECISELY WITH OTHER MURDERS," AS FOR EXAMPLE THAT OF MARIO ZAMORA, ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE POOR AND MEMBER OF THE SALVADORAN CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATS.

THE AGENDA CONTAINS NUMEROUS REFERENCES TO "VEGA" OR SIMPLY "V." SUPPOSEDLY THESE REFER TO CAPTAIN VEGA VALENCIA. EX-MILITARY ATTACHE OF THE EMBASSY OF EL SALVADOR IN MEXICO AND A FAMOUS TORTURER.

ANY NORMAL PERSON READING THIS AGENDA FOR THE FIRST TIME WITHOUT HAVING ANY PRECONCEIVED IDEAS WITH REFERENCE TO ITS CONTENTS, MIGHT EASILY CONCLUDE THAT IT IS DEALING WITH THE "COCKPIT" OF A LARGE BAND OF ASSASSINS WHO HAVE AN UNLIMITED PROVISION OF ECONOMIC RESOURCES.

THE MAJORITY OF THE PAGES CONTAIN REFERENCES TO THE ACQUISITION OF VARIOUS ARMS. DOZENS OF SHOTGUNS AND PISTOLS; RIFLES OF DIFFERENT CALIBERS, SOME OF THEM WITH THE SPECIFICATION THAT THEY BE PROVIDED WITH SILENCERS, THOUSANDS OF SHELLS, SCORES OF BULLETPROOF VESTS AND DIFFERENT EQUIPMENT FOR ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION.

AS IS KNOWN ALL OVER THE WORLD, ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON MADE FASHIONABLE THE "SQUADRONS OF DEATH" TO ASSASSINATE, TO DATE, WITH TOTAL IMPUNITY, PERHAPS THOUSANDS OF HIS COMPATRIOTS, MANY OF THEM IN THE STREETS AND IN THE HOUSES OF THE CAPITAL.

ONE OF THE NOTES REFERS TO TWO AMOUNTS OF 40 AND 30 THOUSAND COLONES WITH THIS EXPLANATION: "CONTRIBUTIONS TO NICARAGUANS". THIS DATA, TOGETHER WITH THE MENTION OF NUMEROUS TRIPS TO GUATEMALA AND TO PLACES WHERE EX-SOMOZISTAS ARE LOCATED, CLEARLY SHOWS THE TIES WHICH D'AUBUISSON AND HIS BAND OF ASSASSINS HAD WITH THE REGIME PRESIDED OVER BY GENERAL LUCAS GARCIA, AND WITH THE THUGS WHICH HARASS THE SANDINISTA GOVERNMENT OF NICARAGUA UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE INTELLIGENCE SERVICES OF THE UNITED STATES.

DETAILED PUBLICATION OF THIS CATALOG OF HORRORS, PERPETRATED BY THE MAN WHO ACTUALLY OCCUPIES THE PRESIDENCY OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY OF EL SALVADOR, AND WHO, IN THE JUDGMENT OF GENERAL HAIG, FORMS A PART OF THE GUARANTEES WHICH SINCERE LIBERALS OF THE WORLD HAVE OF THE RESTORATION IN EL SALVADOR OF ONE OF THE MOST BRILLIANT WESTERN DEMOCRACIES, WOULD OCCUPY SPACE WHICH THIS COLUMN DOES NOT HAVE AVAILABLE.

D'AUBUISSON'S SECRET DIARY INCLUDES MORE THAN A HUNDRED NAMES OF PERSONS LINKED WITH HIS CRIMINAL ACTIVITIES. IN A LIST PRECEDING "OPERATION PINA" ARE THE NAMES OF BUSINESSMEN SUCH AS NETO GUTIERREZ, OWNER OF AN AR TAXI COMPANY; ORLANDO LLOVERA, OWNER OF A FURNITURE FACTORY; THE RICH REAL ESTATE MAN AND OWNER OF THE BANCO DE COMERCIO; CHICO QUIROLA, AND ALFONSO SALAVERRIA, FINANCIER OF D'AUBUISSON'S POLITICAL CAMPAIGN, WHO IS PRESENTLY RESIDING IN MIAMI. ALSO LISTED IS RICARDO SOL MEZA, WHO WAS BLAMED FOR THE ASSASSINATION IN EL SALVADOR OF TWO AGRICULTURAL ADVISERS FROM THE UNITED STATES.

THE LAST PAGES OF THE DIARY LIST NAMES AND TELEPHONE NUMBERS OF OTHER MEMBERS OF THE BAND, SUCH AS DR. MIGUEL HASBUN, DR. ALEJANDRO SAMAYOA AND "CHELE" ROEDER, WHO IS PRESENTLY IMPRISONED BECAUSE HE COMMITTED THE MISTAKE OF NOT SHARING THE PROFITS FROM SOME OF THE KIDNAPPINGS HE PERPETRATED, WHEN HE TRIED TO ESTABLISH HIMSELF IN BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF. FROM ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW, THIS DOCUMENT MIGHT BE ENTITLED: "DIARY OF A MURDERER."

IN EFFECT, THE DIARY CONTAINS EVIDENCE THAT COLONEL ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON ORDERED THE MURDER OF BISHOP OSCAR ARNULFO ROMERO AND THAT HE STILL HEADS ONE OF THE LARGEST AND MOST MERCILESS CRIMINAL BANDS WHICH WE CAN RECALL IN ALL THE HISTORY OF CENTRAL AMERICA.

INTERPRETATIONS OF THE DOCUMENT MADE BY QUALIFIED PERSONS WITH KNOWLEDGE OF THE INTERNAL SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR LEAD TO THIS EXTREME CONCLUSION. AMONG THESE PERSONS IS COLONEL ADOLFO MAJANO, DISSIDENT OF THE MILITARY JUNTA.

ON MAY 7, 1980, WHEN COL. MAJANO WAS STILL A MEMBER OF THE JUNTA, HE RECEIVED INFORMATION TO THE EFFECT THAT A CLANDESTINE MEETING OF ARMED INDIVIDUALS WAS TAKING PLACE AT THE SANTA TECLA HACIENDA. HE SENT TROOPS WHO APPREHENDED 23 PERSONS, AMONG THEM MILITARY PERSONNEL AND BUSINESSMEN. THE GROUP, JUDGED TO BE "THE CREAM OF THE MOST EXTREME RIGHT IN EL SALVADOR," WAS HEADED BY COL. ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON, WHO HAD BEEN DROPPED FROM THE ARMY RIGHT AFTER THE 1979 COUP.

(SOME MONTHS LATER, WHEN GIVING TESTIMONY BEFORE THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, AMBASSADOR ROBERT WHITE DESCRIBED D'AUBUISSON AS A "PATHOLOGICAL ASSASSIN.")

COL. ADOLFO MAJANO KEPT THE PERSONAL FILES OF D'AUBUISSON EXTRACTING FROM THEM THE DIARY OF WHICH WE HAVE RECEIVED PHOTOGRAPHIC COPIES OF ITS 30 PAGES.

[redacted]

AFTER EXPERTS HAD ANALYZED THIS DOCUMENT, MAJANO WAS CONVINCED THAT ONE OF ITS PAGES DESCRIBED THE OPERATION FOR ASSASSINATING MSGR. ROMERO. THE CRIME TOOK PLACE ON MARCH 24, 1980 AND TO DATE HAS REMAINED UNPUNISHED.

ONE READS ON THAT SINISTER PAGE: "EQUIPMENT. OPERATION PINA. 1 STARLIGHT. 1,257 ROBERT'S. 4 AUTOMATICS. GRENADES. A DRIVER. 1 SHARPSHOOTER. 4 SAFETY."
THE WORD "STARLIGHT" REFERS TO A LUMINOUS SIGHT FOR NIGHT

SHOOTING. ACCORDING TO MAJANO, DATA ON THE AUTOPSY MADE ON MONSEIGNEUR ROMERO REVEALED THAT HE HAD BEEN WOUNDED BY A RIFLE HAVING PRECISELY THE CHARACTERISTICS MENTIONED IN THE DIARY. FURTHERMORE, THE INVESTIGATION WHICH WAS CARRIED OUT, AS WELL AS STATEMENTS OF WITNESSES, COINCIDE EXACTLY WITH THE DATA NOTED ON THAT PAGE WITH RESPECT TO THE EQUIPMENT, MEN, ARMS AND THE VEHICLE USED FOR THE BRUTAL ASSASSINATION OF THE BISHOP.

THE DIARY CONTAINS NOTES WHICH, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE SAME INTERPRETATION BY SPECIALIST, CORRESPOND WITH PRECISION TO OTHER MURDERS.

FOR EXAMPLE, UNDER ONE OF THE DATES ONE READS: "TWO SHOTGUNS. 1 SUBMACHINEGUN, TWO RAMRODS. 1 GRENADA EACH ONE. 45 PISTOL. VEST. DRIVER (EQUIPMENT)."

THE EXPERTS FOUND THAT ALL OF THIS EQUIPMENT WAS THAT USED FOR THE ASSASSINATION OF MR. MARIO ZAMORA, EX-ATTORNEY FOR THE POOR, A MEMBER OF THE CHRISTIAN DEMOCRATIC PARTY, CONSIDERED A "COMMUNIST" BY THE SALVADORAN EXTREME RIGHT. ZAMORA WAS MURDERED IN HIS HOME, A SHORT TIME BEFORE MSGR. ROMERO.

THE FOLLOWING ASPECTS OF THE CASE HAVE NOT BEEN ADEQUATELY INVESTIGATED. PLEASE RESPOND TO THESE POINTS:

1. Investigation of those who might have had access to information concerning the travel arrangements of the two Maryknoll Sisters, by way of exit or re-entry permits, airline passenger lists, ticket purchases, customs and immigration check points, intelligence reports, etc

2. Interrogation of witnesses who observed the women in the airport or in the vicinity the day of the murders.

3. Interrogation and polygraph of Colindres Aleman's senior sergeant, now residing in the U.S.; of the senior district officer Lt. Daniel Mejia; and of any other officers who may have had knowledge of or been involved in the crime. (e.g. General Garcia, Colonel Pena-Arbaiza of Chalatenango, and the major who reported to his troops that the women were killed because "they could have been carrying messages from leftists in Nicaragua" - UPI report, 10-14-81)

4. Interrogation and polygraph of Hans Christ, those known to be in his employ at the time of the murders, and American and Salvadoran military officers known to be acquainted with him.

5. Investigation and identification of the source of the large amounts of U.S. currency known to be in possession of some of the accused in the days immediately following the murders.

6. A more satisfactory investigation of the threats on the churchwomen prior to the murders, of individuals who may have been negatively disposed toward them.

7. Interrogation and polygraph of Mr. Moran, now residing in Mexico, concerning the so-called witness, "Cesar Cortez."

8. More detailed information on the accused guardsmen. What were the locations of their regular posts? Who were their local friends? Could they have had prior acquaintance with the missionaries and/or knowledge of their movements?

9. Request and conduct a thorough assessment of fingerprints of all guardsmen, police, security forces, and officers who were in the general area the night of the murders. (At an interview with an FBI representative in March 1981, we were informed that there were approximately 85 military or security personnel assigned to the vicinity the day of the murders.)

(5) (C) COMMENT. THE DECISION AS TO HOW BEST TO RESPOND TO TO CONGRESSWOMAN OAKAR RESTS WITH DEPARTMENT. WE WOULD NOTE, HOWEVER, MOST OF INVESTIGATIVE REQUESTS ARE VERY GENERAL IN NATURE WITH LITTLE FOUNDATION IN EVIDENCE THAT HAS BEEN DEVELOPED IN THIS CASE. PURSUING THEM ALL WOULD REQUIRE GOES TO REOPEN INVESTIGATION ON MASSIVE SCALE. EVIDENCE WHICH WE NOW HAVE BEFORE US SUGGESTS INVESTIGATION WOULD NOT PRODUCE SIGNIFICANT NEW INSIGHTS. DEPARTMENT MAY WISH TO CONSIDER THIS WHEN RESPONDING TO CONGRESSWOMAN OAKAR.

JON GLASSMAN MET WITH NATIONAL POLICE DIRECTOR COLONEL CARLOS REYNALDO LOPEZ NUILA, JUNE 17. THE CONVERSATION STARTED WITH A GENERAL DISCUSSION OF TERRORIST ACTIVITIES SINCE THE MARCH 28 ELECTIONS. LOPEZ NUILA SAID THAT AFTER THE ELECTIONS, THE TERRORISTS' ACTIVITY PRACTICALLY CEASED. STARTING JUNE 5, HOWEVER, ACTIVITY HAS ONCE AGAIN PICKED UP. FIRST CAME THE UCA ARTICLE QUESTIONING THE ELECTIONS AND THEN THE ATTACK ON PERQUIN. LOPZ NUILA SAW THESE AS RELATED INCIDENTS WHICH CAME AT THE END OF A SEVEN-WEEK PERIOD DURING WHICH THE INSURGENTS RE-EVALUATED THEIR STRATEGY. LOPEZ NUILA SAID HE EXPECTS GREATLY INCREASED INSURGENT ACTIVITY DURING THE MONTHS OF JUNE AND JULY, ESPECIALLY BEFORE JULY 28 WHEN PRESIDENT REAGAN HAS TO RECERTIFY U.S. ASSISTANCE TO EL SALVADOR. AT THE SAME TIME THE INSURGENTS ARE TRYING TO REBUILD THEIR POPULAR ORGANIZATIONS IN THE URBAN CENTERS, ACCORDING TO SALVADORAN MILITARY INTELLIGENCE. IF THEY ARE SUCCESSFUL, LOPEZ NUILA LOOKS TO AN INCREASE IN URBAN TERRORISM ALONG WITH THE INCREASE IN GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES.

4. IN RESPONSE TO A QUESTION ON VIOLENCE, LOPEZ NUILA SAID THE VIOLENCE DECLINED REMARKABLY AFTER THE ELECTIONS. STARTING IN JUNE, HOWEVER, IT PICKED UP ONCE AGAIN. THE EXCEPTION IS SAN SALVADOR, WHICH HAS REMAINED A GREAT DEAL QUIETER THAN IT WAS BEFORE THE ELECTIONS.

5. LOPEZ NUILA POINTED OUT THAT IN THE FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF 1982 THERE HAD BEEN ABOUT AS MANY KIDNAPPINGS -- 18 (COMPARED TO 23) THAN IN ALL OF 1981. IN HIS OPINION, THE INSURGENTS ARE TRYING TO RAISE MONEY BY KIDNAPPINGS, WHICH MAY ALSO MEAN THAT THE INSURGENT'S NEED FUNDS. REINFORCING THIS OPINION, HE SAID, WERE THE RECURRING REPORTS THAT THE GUERRILLAS WERE [redacted]

SUFFERING SEVERE FOOD SHORTAGES.

6. GLASSMAN ASKED LOPEZ NUILA TO COMMENT ON THE INTELLIGENCE FUNCTION IN THE ARMED FORCES. LOPEZ NUILA REPLIED THAT THE INTELLIGENCE FUNCTION HERE STILL LACKS ORGANIZATION AND TRAINED PEOPLE. CENTRAL AMERICA AND EL SALVADOR USED TO HAVE MUCH BETTER INTELLIGENCE WHEN THE U.S. GAVE ITS SUPPORT TO THIS ACTIVITY. UNDER PRESIDENT CARTER THE U.S. CUT THIS SUPPORT AND AS A RESULT INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES HAVE SUFFERED. EL SALVADOR SHOULD DO TWO THINGS:

-- THIS BODY SHOULD HAVE RESPONSIBILITY FOR INTEGRATING INFORMATION FROM OVERSEAS SOURCES INTO THE INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM. THE PROBLEM TODAY IS THAT EVERY SERVICE HAS ITS OWN INTELLIGENCE OPERATION AND THERE IS NO LATERAL MOVEMENT OF INFORMATION AMONG THESE SERVICES.

GLASSMAN ASKED IF IT WOULD BE POSSIBLE TO INTEGRATE ALL INTELLIGENCE FUNCTIONS UNDER THE ARMY. LOPEZ NUILA SAID IT COULD BE DONE.

7. JOHNSTONE ASKED LOPEZ NUILA WHAT HIS FORCE WAS DOING TO CONTROL ABUSES OF AUTHORITY. HE POINTED OUT THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS CONTROL FOR THE CERTIFICATION WHICH THE PRESIDENT HAS TO MAKE BY JULY 28. LOPEZ NUILA SHOWED JOHNSTONE A RESUME' AND A LIST OF NATIONAL POLICEMENT REMANED TO COURTS FOR SERIOUS CRIMES, 198 SINCE OCTOBER 15, 1979. JOHNSTONE ASKED LOPEZ NUILA ABOUT PRISONER ABUSE. HE SAID THERE WAS LESS THAN IN THE FALKLAND ISLANDS WHERE EIGHT ARGENTINE PRISONERS HAD DIED. LOPEZ NUILA THEN SHOWED JOHNSTONE A STATISTICAL RESUME' WHICH INDICATED THAT THE NATIONAL POLICE HAD ARRESTED 2288 PEOPLE FOR SUBVERSION SINCE OCTOBER 15,

8. LOPEZ NUILA SAID THAT THE NATIONAL POLICE HAD GIVEN THE INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION OF THE RED CROSS (ICRC) COMPLETE ACCESS TO ALL NATIONAL POLICE INSTALLATIONS. THE ICRC VISITS THE NATIONAL HEADQUARTES FROM TWO TO THREE TIMES A WEEK, AND HEADQUARTERS IN OTHER CITIES SOMEWHAT LESS FREQUENTLY. IN THE PERIOD FROM APRIL 16 TO MAY 21, 1982 ICRC DELEGATES MADE 22 VISITS NATIONALLY TO NATIONAL POLICE INSTALLATIONS.

5. Q: Will the FBI release the transcript of the polygraph examinations?

A: There is no transcript available of the polygraph examinations. The polygraph examiner conducted his examination from a work sheet. Most of the questions from the work sheet are control questions designed to relax the examinee and provide a scientific basis upon which to compare his physical reactions to the substantive questions. In the case of the suspects in the churchwomen's case, the FBI examiner prepared a polygraph report for each examination. This report includes the examiner's general conclusion about whether the subject was lying. In the case of Colindres Aleman, the report also provides the specific questions and responses in which the examiner noted deception. The FBI has informed us that it will not release these polygraph reports.

RELEASED
Salvador Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

8. Q: What questions was Colindres asked while on the polygraph about the involvement of other higher officials? Have we made a diplomatic approach to President Duarte about his statement in the press over the past weekend that no senior officials were involved?

A: The following question was asked of Colindres Aleman while he was on the polygraph: (English translation) "Did you receive instructions or orders to attack (atentara) those women?"

Colindres Aleman responded "No." No deception was noted on the polygraph machine. The polygraph examination was administered by experienced FBI examiners, with standard control procedures. It was clear to the interviewers that Colindres Aleman fully understood what the question implied. On all other substantive questions put to Colindres Aleman concerning his personal involvement in the crime, his negative answers did indicate deception on the polygraph.

The Embassy has not made a formal diplomatic approach to former President Duarte concerning his statement to the press about no involvement by senior officials. Duarte made this statement in response to a direct question on this matter by a member of the press. His response was apparently based upon his personal assessment of all of the evidence. There is no indications that President Duarte attempted at any time in the course of this investigation to interfere with the process of justice. In fact, given the dominant role which judges are supposed to play in the Salvadoran judicial system and the nature of Salvadoran society today, it is very unlikely that a simple, public statement by Duarte would have much if any effect on a criminal case.

15. Q: Where are the various telephones located in the airport that are the subject of the investigation, i.e., the telephone of the guard house, etc.?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

A: There are eight pay telephones located in the airport terminal building. Four are located in the downstairs lobby and four are located upstairs in the immigration area. Each of the airlines has a private line located in the office behind its counter. In addition, the immigration service has a private line located in its office upstairs, and the Salvadoran Customs Service has a private line in its office at the ground floor customs area. The airport administration and the flight control tower have outside lines as well, but airport sources report that the National Guard personnel rarely enter those sections of the terminal building.

The National Guard airport command post is located nearly one mile north of the terminal building. The building is at the perimeter of the airport grounds. The command post telephone is located in the Administrative office in the command post building. Our Embassy cannot guarantee that the telephones were located at these same places in December 1980. Airport sources state that they believe that the phone location have not changed since 1980. Airport sources have informed our Embassy, however, that they believe that the phone locations have not changed since 1980.

19. Q: Can we investigate whether there was any communication between US officers Col. Cruz, Col. Cummings and Col. Bosch and members of the government or the oligarchy concerning the churchwomen? Mr. Ford reports that he had been given a rumor that Hans Krist got a communication from an American colonel that the churchwomen were coming and would be interfered with. The source reportedly is the man named Cortez whom we have attempted unsuccessfully to contact through Moran. Cortez supposedly was an employee of Hans Krist. Cortez also is alleged to have driven the van to pick up the soldiers to carry out the deed. Could Cortez be the missing witness? Moran reportedly has a son who is now in El Salvador but has sought asylum in Mexico. Could we make arrangements to get Moran's two children out of El Salvador before he talks with us?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

A: None of the three military officers named in the question held any discussion of the churchwomen, by name or in general, with Salvadoran government officials or members of the "oligarchy" prior to the murders. After the murders the three served on occasion as liaison between those in the Embassy working directly on the case and the Salvadoran military. They did so with the full approval and coordination of Embassy officers as part of our ongoing effort to urge the Salvadoran government to pursue the investigation vigorously.

The Legal Attache at the Embassy in Mexico City contacted Juan Moran on June 21, 1982. Moran was asked if he would voluntarily submit to a polygraph examination concerning his allegations about the connection of a man named Cesar Cortez with the murders of the churchwomen. Moran failed to cooperate with USG officials. He stated that under no circumstances would he submit to a polygraph examination. He further warned that if he were contacted by USG officials during a planned trip to Houston, Texas in July that he would immediately leave the country.

Moran continues to maintain that he does not know the whereabouts of Cesar Cortez. Unfortunately, we have not been able to locate Mr. Cortez or determine if indeed Cortez exists.

20. Q: Two of the family members said that their sisters had reported being followed by a Huey helicopter. One of them was being followed while on the road between Santa Rosa and La Libertad. This took place approximately three weeks prior to the killing. Has this been investigated?

A: The Salvadoran government had no Huey helicopters until January 1981. There was one US-manned OAS Huey helicopter in El Salvador in November-December 1980. For the most part, this helicopter patrolled the northern border with Honduras in Chalatenango and Cabanas Departments. It is possible that a helicopter would follow either of the two main roads by which one would travel from Santa Rosa to La Libertad for some distance while returning from Chalatenango to Ilopango Air Base. Helicopter logs for El Salvador do not indicate routes followed. They indicate only place of departure, places of all intermediate landings, and place of final landing for the day. Our Embassy is attempting, nevertheless, to obtain copies of the logs.

The attached represents an agreed State/Justice version of the International Terrorism portion of the certification report -- subject to review by higher levels in both Departments. Apart from a few nits that we or they may raise, there is only one major issue. Justice is very reluctant to state in the report that the Chilean Government did cooperate with the US, even if such cooperation is clearly defined. The paragraph at issue begins on the bottom of page 9, and really it is only the first sentence. I have insisted it stay in; we need at least that much handle to make a positive recommendation.

ARA/SC will send copies of this latest version to Justice on Tuesday. By early the following week Shaw or Dave Kemp should check with Rene Zavala to see where she has come out in her discussions with Jeff Harris and Giuliani. It may then be necessary for you or Tom to weigh in.

TAKEN PLACE. DICKEY QUOTED ATLACATL COMMANDER LT. COL. DOMINGO MONTERROSA AS SAYING, "SO IN THE CLASHES AND THE DISTINCT OPERATIONS THAT WE CARRIED OUT ABOUT HERE (REFERRING TO A MAP), IT'S NATURAL THAT THERE WERE A SERIES OF PEOPLE KILLED, SOME WITHOUT WEAPONS, INCLUDING SOME WOMEN, AND I UNDERSTAND SOME CHILDREN IN THE CROSSFIRE BETWEEN THEM AND US." HOWEVER, MONTERROSA FIRST POINTS OUT THAT THESE CIVILIANS WERE SUPPORTERS OF THE GUERRILLAS AND TRAVELED WITH THEM.

4. DICKEY TOLD POLCOUNS JUNE 16 THAT HE SUSPECTED THAT THE GUERRILLAS WERE TRYING TO MOVE THEIR CIVILIAN SUPPORTERS AWAY FROM THE ADVANCING ARMY FORCES UNDER ARMED ESCORT. WHEN APARTY WOULD WALK INTO AN ARMY UNIT, A FIRE FIGHT WOULD BREAK OUT. THE CIVILIANS WERE THE VICTIMS OF THE RESULTING CROSSFIRE. DICKEY, WHO HAS TRAVELED WITH THE GUERRILLAS, SAID THAT WHEN THEY MOVED HIM FROM PLACE TO PLACE, THEY USED JUST THIS SYSTEM. IF HIS ESCORTS HAD RUN INTO GOVERNMENT FORCES, HE COULD HAVE EASILY BECOME ANOTHER VICTIM OF EL SALVADOR'S WAR. DICKEY DID NOT FEEL THAT ANY MASSACRE WAS INTENDED NOR TOOK PLACE. RATHER, CIVILIANS BECAME VICTIMS OF WARFARE BETWEEN TWO ARMED GROUPS.

5. COMMENT: AS THE DEPARTMENT HAS PROBABLY NOTICED, EVERY ARMED FORCES OPERATION ALMOST INEVITABLY PRODUCES NEW MASSACRE ALLEGATIONS FROM RADIO VENCEREMOS. AGAINST THE A-37 AIRCRAFT WHICH HAVE RECENTLY ARRIVED IN EL SALVADOR. FURTHER, AS THE JULY 28 DATE FOR PRESIDENTIAL CERTIFICATION OF ASSISTANCE FOR EL SALVADOR APPROACHES, WE EXPECT MORE MASSACRE STOREIS FROM RADIO VENCEREMOS. THESE STORIES WOULD BE PART OF THE FMLN'S EFFORT TO BLOCK CERTIFICATION. THE TRUTH, IN OUR OPINION, CONCERNING THE "MASSACRE" IN CHALATENANGO IS THAT SOME OF THE 135 PEOPLE THE ARMY CLAIMS TO HAVE KILLED WERE INDEED WOMEN AND CHILDREN. THEY WERE PART OF THE GUERRILLA VAN, AND THEY DIED IN A FIRE FIGHT BETWEEN THEIR GUERRILLA ESCORTS AND THE ARMY. WHAT HAPPENED, WHILE TRAGIC, WAS HARDLY A MASSACRE.

Renee Szybala called this afternoon with Giuliani's proposed revisions on the operative section of the Letelier/Moffitt paper, as shown in red on the attached. It strikes me as a good faith effort to meet our concerns and keep Barcella on board. But it takes away considerably from our draft. Of his proposed changes I recommend (1) that we do not accept the insertion of "any" on page 10. This is the most damaging single change; (2) that we accept the deletion of "appropriately" but in return argue for our "by expelling..." language, which makes it a generic assertion -- whereas, "to the extent of expelling..." clearly limits it to these two actions. Either you or Tom should probably raise this with Giuliani on the telephone.

With this resolved and the two largely technical changes proposed by Barcella (see memo attached) Justice is prepared to send us a letter saying that it supports the statement and vouches for its accuracy.

Since preparing this for Steve last month, I have reviewed further the Committee Report on certification (attached) and believe we are on weak grounds if we agree to eliminate "appropriately" since that is key word in certification requirement.

In January 1981, the military judge investigating the conduct of Contreras, Espinoza, and Fernandez ruled to close the case on grounds that there was insufficient admissible evidence to bring charges against them. By a 3 to 1 vote, a four-judge appeals court, consisting of three military officers and one civilian approved closing the case. The Letelier family appealed the decision to the Supreme Court.

On January 14, 1982, the Supreme Court review panel decided unanimously to deny final closure of the case, finding that the "innocence of the accused had not been clearly established." Instead, the case is left pending and can be reopened if new evidence is brought forward. Lawyers for the Letelier family have said publicly that they are gathering additional information and will seek to have the military investigation resumed.

The Chilean Government, albeit under pressure, did [~~appropriately~~] cooperate with American law enforcement officials in the Letelier/Moffitt case to the extent of by expelling Michael Townley and releasing him from the relevant DINA oath of secrecy. It is doubtful that we could have obtained the indictments of August 1978 or the convictions at the first trial without such [~~cooperation~~] action. within Chile the matter has been handled through legal channels and procedures, first by the Supreme Court in the extradition request, and subsequently through the military court system and up to the Supreme Court on the investigation of the three Chileans. That investigation has not resulted in indictments.

In assessing the extent of Chilean cooperation in investigating the Letelier/Moffitt assassinations, it is clear that there has at all times been strong opposition and attempts to undercut any cooperative efforts by Contreras, his supporters, and others within the Government, some of whom still occupy significant positions. More generally, there has been a pervasive desire among many Chileans, within and outside the government, to find a legally based rationale for not having to confront the central issue of DINA responsibility.

The principal rationale for the decision of the Supreme Court was that plea-bargained testimony, which is admissible in the U.S., is not admissible in a Chilean court. In using that argument to rule against extradition, the Chilean Supreme Court went against the predominant international practice that the rules of evidence in the requesting country should normally govern in determining

SUBJECT: (U) ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS MEETS THE CAMPESINO LEADERS

1. (C-ENTIRE TEXT.)

2. SUMMARY. DURING A MEETING WITH ASSTSEC ABRAMS, UPD CAMPESINO LEADERS ARGUED THAT THE PHASE ONE AGRARIAN REFORM PROGRAM CONTINUES AND THE REPORT OF THE DECREE 207 REVIEW COMMISSION WILL BE POSITIVE. THEY NOTED THAT CAMPESINO EVICTIONS CONTINUE IN THE COUNTRYSIDE. THEY FAVORED THE CONTINUATION OF U.S. AID TO EL SALVADOR WITH FURTHER CONDITIONS ATTACHED. THE CAMPESINO LEADERS REPORTED THAT VIOLENCE REMAINS THE MOST SERIOUS PROBLEM IN THE COUNTRYSIDE, BUT THAT THE ARMED FORCES ARE UNJUSTLY CHARGED WITH MANY ABUSES FOR WHICH THEY ARE NOT RESPONSIBLE. END SUMMARY.

3. HUMAN AFFAIRS ASSTSEC ELLIOTT ABRAMS AND LABOFF MET [redacted] WITH UPD CAMPESINO LEADERS AND LOCAL AIFLD OFFICIALS AT THE AIFLD RESIDENCE IN SAN SALVADOR ON 7/20/82. SAMUEL MALDONADO (UCS), RAMON ARISTIDES MENDOZA (UCS), JORGE RUIZ CAMACHO (ACOPAI), AND SIMON PARADA (ACOPAI) REPRESENTED THE UPD CAMPESINO ORGANIZATIONS. ROBERTO TORRES, RUPERT SCHOFIELD, AND GORDON ELLISON REPRESENTED AIFLD. ASSTSEC ABRAMS DISCUSSED WITH THE CAMPESINO LEADERS THE PROBLEMS AND PROGRESS IN AGRARIAN REFORM AND THE CURRENT HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN THE COUNTRYSIDE.

4. AGRARIAN REFORM PROGRESS.
MR. ABRAMS ASKED THE CAMPESINOS HOW AGRARIAN REFORM HAD PROGRESSED SINCE THE ELECTION. ON THE POSITIVE SIDE, THE UCS' MALDONADO ANSWERED THAT THE PHASE ONE PROGRAM CONTINUES. FURTHERMORE, THE UPD WAS PLEASED WITH THE INITIAL RESULTS OF THE DECREEE 207 REVIEW COMMISSION APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT MAGANA IN JUNE. HE SUGGESTED THAT THIS REPORT WOULD CONSTITUTE REAL PROGRESS IN THE IMPLEMENTATION OF DECREE 207 IF IT WERE NOT ALTERED SUBSEQUENTLY.

5. AGRARIAN REFORM PROBLEMS.
ALL OF THE CAMPESINO LEADERS AGREED THAT EVICTIONS OF DECREE 207 BENEFICIARIES CONTINUE. SOME ARE ORDERED BY LOCAL MILITARY OFFICIAS, SOME BY THE LANDOWNERS, AND SOME BY FINATA ITSELF. MALDONADO NOTED THAT MORE UCS MEMBERS WERE EVICTED IN JUNE THAN WERE EVICTED IN MAY. THE CAMPESINOS AGREED THAT THE ARMEY IS MAKING A GOOD FAITH EFFORT TO RESTORE EVICTED CAMPESINOS TO THEIR LANDS. OFTEN, HOWEVER, CAMPESINOS ARE TRANSFERRED TO INFERIOR LAND OR ARE EXPELLED AGAIN SHORTLY AFTER THEIR RESTORATIONS. ACOPAI'S CAMACHO AND UCS' MALDONADO ARE CONVINCED THAT THE AGRARIAN REFORM [redacted]

INSTITUTES OF ISTA AND FINATA ARE NOW COMPLETELY INFILTRATED BY RIGHT-WING OPPONENTS OF THE REFORMS. THEY BELIEVE THAT THE CURRENT PERSONNEL CHANGES WILL CAUSE CONTINUING PROBLEMS IN THE FUTURE FOR THE AGRARIAN REFORM PROGRAM.

6. CONTINUED U.S. AID TO EL SALVADOR.
THE CAMPESOIO LEADERS AGREED UNANIMOUSLY THAT CONTINUED U.S. ECONOMIC AND MILITARY AID IS IN THE BEST INTEREST OF EL SALVADOR AND THEIR OWN MEMBERSHIP. MALDONADO ARGUED THAT IT SHOULD BE FURTHER CONDITIONED TO PROGRESS IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE AGRARIAN REFORMS. PROGRESS IN THE AGRARIAN REFORMS SHOULD [redacted]

[redacted]

INCLUDE A REQUIREMENT FOR PROGRESS IN PHASE TWO OF THE PROGRAM.

7. HUMAN RIGHTS STITATION.
ASSTSEC ABRAMS ASKED FOR THE CAMPESINOS' OPINIONS ABOUT THE HUMAN RIGHTS CONDITIONS AND VIOLENCE IN THE COUNTRYSIDE. ALL AGREED THAT THE PROBLEMS CONTINUE WITH LITTLE CHANGE. CAMACHO QUOTED A FIGURE OF 431 UPD MEMBERS KILLED SINCE MAY 1982. MALDONADO SUGGESTED THAT THE CIVIL DEFENSE UNITS (LOCAL MILITIA) WERE REPONSIBLE FOR MOST OF THE EXCESSES ATTRIBUTED TO THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES. CAMACHO WENT ON TO NOTE THAT THE ARMED FORCES ARE CHARGED WITH RESPONSIBILITY FOR MANY ABUSES FOR WHICH THEY ARE NOT AT FAULT. ACCORDING TO CAMACHO, THERE IS USUALLY SOME REASON OR JUSTIFICATION BEHIND MOST VIOLENT INCIDENTS. INNOCENT BYSTANDERS ARE CAUGHT IN CROSS FIRES. INEXPERIENCED SECURITY FORCE PERSONNEL PURSUE LEGITIMATE LEADS TOO ENTHUSIASTICALLY. CAMACHO SUGGESTED THAT THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS AND MOST INTERNATIONAL OBSERVERS IN EL SALVADOR DO NOT PROVIDE OBJECTIVE REPORTING ON THE REAL HUMAN RIGHTS SITUATION IN EL SALVADOR.

8. COMMENT. THE CAMPESINO LEADERS MADE AN OBVIOUS ATTEMPT TO BALANCE THEIR COMMENTS ON AGRARIAN REFORM AND HUMAN RIGHTS. THIS WAS ESPECIALLY NOTICEABLE IN CAMACHO'S REMARKS CONCERNING VIOLENCE BY THE ARMED FORCES IN THE COUNTRYSIDE.

[redacted]

THIS EFFORT TO ACHIEVE BALANCE AUGURS WELL FOR THE NEXT UPD VISIT TO WASHINGTON.

9. THIS REPORT WAS PREPARED AFTER ASSISTANT SECRETARY ABRAMS' DEPARTURE FROM EL SALVADOR.

HE SAID THAT REPRESENTATIVES OF THE FMLN ASKED HIM TO APPROACH AMBASSADOR HINTON ABOUT THE POSSIBILITY OF ARRANGING A DIALOGUE. THE FMLN WOULD FIRST LIKE TO SPEAK WITH AMBASSADOR HINTON. THEN, IF SECURITY GUARANTEES COULD BE ARRANGED, THE FMLN WOULD SPEAK DIRECTLY WITH GOES.

POLOFF RESPONDED THAT GOES OFFICIALS HAVE PUBLICLY STATED THEIR UNWILLINGNESS TO NEGOTIATE POWER WITH THE GUERRILLAS. THEY MAY, HOWEVER, BE WILLING TO DISCUSS THE LEFT'S ENTRY INTO AND PARTICIPATION IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS. OYARBIDE SAID THAT HE FEELS THE GUERRILLAS MAY BE READY TO ACCEPT THIS POSSIBILITY. HE DOUBTS THAT AN AMNESTY PROGRAM WOULD HAVE MUCH EFFECT AS IT WOULD BE NO MORE THAN AN OFFER TO SURRENDER. ALSO, VERY FEW GUERRILLAS ARE LIKELY TO PLACE MUCH TRUST IN THE PROGRAM. ACCORDING TO OYARBIDE THE GUERRILLAS ARE INTERESTED IN A DIALOGUE BECAUSE THEY FEEL THE ARMY AND THE GOES ARE TIRED OF THE WAR AND READY TO MAKE CONCESSIONS.

5. OYARBIDE SAID THAT HE STILL HAS HIS PARTY DIRECTORATE ORGANIZED AND OPERATING. THEY ARE THINKING OF TALKING TO COL. MAJANO ABOUT RUNNING FOR PRESIDENT UNDER THEIR BANNER IN THE NEXT ELECTIONS.

August, 1980	Only phone call from Argentina. They were supposed to take the plane that same night to either Paraguay or Uruguay. Phone call was unexpectedly short, and Mrs. Motta (who received the call) realized from the nature of the call that Toni was in a state of fear or imminent danger.

Since the last call in August, we have not heard from her, nor have we received any mail.

On April 1, 1981, the Motta family made contact with the American Comsulate in Palermo, Sicily. The Consulate contacted the American Embassies in the various Latin American countries, asking if there was any information about this american citizen there. The Consulate received negative answers from all, and said therefore that they could not do anything else.

TONI AGATINA MOTTA

Toni Agatina Motta left Brooklyn for Sicily, Italy in November, 1962. She finished high school in the Stephen Decatur school of Siganella, at the American NATO base in Sicily. She worked for four years as the chief sales person for an american store in Sigonella. She went to Rome to continue her education at John Cabot's University. While she was in Rome, she also worked for the Daily American newspaper. When that newspaper closed, she went to work for the International Daily News.

Toni met Salvatore Privitera and became very involved with him. They were going to get married. She left with him for South America knowing that Salvatore was already in an Argentine prison from 1975 to 1979 under executive powers (PEN), and that he was helped by the Italian government to obtain his release with the agreement that he would not be able to return to Argentina.

(U) TRENDS IN ENERGY USE IN BRAZIL, INDIA, KOREA, AND MEXICO[1]

Summary

Analysis of commercial energy forecasts in India, the Republic of Korea, Brazil, and Mexico--which now account for about 40 percent of developing-country energy consumption--leads to two conclusions:

--In all four cases the rates of increase in aggregate commercial energy consumption are lower than in the recent past. In India, energy consumption, which rose by 4.7 percent annually between 1973 and 1979, is projected to rise by only 4.0 percent annually over the next 20 years. Korean energy consumption growth rates are projected to drop to between 5 and 8 percent over the next decade compared with 11 percent before 1979. The same trend is forecast for Brazil and even Mexico, which is emerging as a major energy producer.

--Despite this downward adjustment, these projections may well be too high. "Alternative" estimates suggest that rates of increase in energy consumption in India over the next 20 years will be 3.5 percent annually in place of the 4.0 percent projected in the Indian Energy Group report, and in Mexico 5.5 percent in place of the 6.6 percent projected by the Comision Nacional de Energia. In Korea and Brazil, rates of increase are likely to be at the lower end of the wide range projected by several government and private organizations.

Because these four countries account for 40 percent of total developing-country energy consumption, any change in their projected rates of consumption will strongly affect the total. Thus if their share of the total remains constant, total developing-country commercial consumption could be somewhat lower, say between 4 to 5 percent annually, than the 6 percent currently forecast for the next 10 years.

Background

Gross national product (GNP) varies substantially among Brazil, India, Korea, and Mexico, from a low of $56 billion in Korea to more than $200 billion in Brazil (see table 1, appended). Per capita GNP in the three newly industrializing countries (NICs)--Brazil, Korea, and Mexico--varies by only 10 percent. They are among the world's richest developing countries in both absolute and per capita terms. India, on the other hand, despite the size of its economy, is one of the poorest, with a per capita income only one-eighth that of the other three.

Various other indicators show that Brazil, Korea, and Mexico are at a comparable level of development in contrast to India. For example, only 22 percent of India's population lives in urban centers, whereas 55 to 67 percent of the three richer NICs' population is urban-based. Moreover, only about 40 percent of Brazil's, Korea's, and Mexico's labor force is still employed in agriculture, whereas almost three-quarters of India's labor force rely on agricultural employment. India is also far behind the other countries in such social indicators as adult literacy, access to safe drinking water, and life expectancy.

Aggregate Commercial Energy Consumption

The combined commercial energy consumption of these four countries is a significant part of the LDC total (table 2). In the 1950-73 period their percentage share of the total declined rather steadily from 44.3 percent to 36.3 percent. Following the 1973-74 oil price rise, however, their aggregate commercial demand grew steadily until 1979, when it again reached 39 percent of total LDC energy consumption.

Over the 1950-73 period, the combined commercial energy consumption of these four countries rose by about 6 percent a year--just below the average for all developing countries (7 percent) and above the world average of 5 percent (table 2). After 1973 their energy consumption rose at 7 percent--more rapidly than in the other groups.

There was considerable variation among the four countries. Indian energy consumption rose steadily and slowly at 4 percent a year. Mexico's energy consumption rose more rapidly (around 7 percent), also without much variation. In Brazil and Korea the rates of consumption were more irregular. The average Brazilian rate of increase before 1973 was 8 percent. Between 1973 and 1974, consumption shot up to 12 percent before falling back to a 6-percent rate between 1974 and 1979. In Korea, high average consumption increases (16 percent) before 1973 gave place to a small increase in 1974 before rising again to more than 12 percent per year in the 1974-79 period. The interesting point here is that in all countries, whether net oil exporters like Mexico, or importers like the other three, energy consumption rates remained high even after the sharp oil price increase of 1973-74.

Per capita energy consumption also varied considerably among these countries (table 3). In 1979 Korea and Mexico consumed about 1 million tons oil equivalent (MTOE), which was not far below the world's average and three times higher than the LDC average. Per capita consumption in Brazil was about 0.5 MTOE, still above the LDC average. Indian per capita consumption at 0.1 MTOE was less than 10 percent of world consumption and only one-third of LDC average consumption. These averages, however, mask social and regional differences. For example, in Brazil the industrial and wealthy Southeast (including Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo) consumes four times the energy per capita of any other region and more than six times the per capita electricity use of Brazil's North and Northeast regions.

Sectoral Commercial Energy Consumption

Industry is the major energy consumer in these countries, accounting for between 30 and 50 percent of the total (table 4). Transportation is also a major demand sector, accounting for 20 percent or more. The transportation sector is of particular importance because it relies almost exclusively on petroleum products; it may use up to 40 percent of all petroleum products consumed in developing countries. The household sector accounts for a relatively small part (about 10 percent) of total consumption of commercial fuels. The inclusion of noncommercial fuels, used mainly for cooking, would, in countries with large rural populations, make the residential sector the largest end user. The electricity sector, comprised primarily of thermal electric generation, accounts for about 20 percent of total commercial energy consumption.

These proportions vary from country to country. In Brazil, for example, transportation accounts for an exceptionally large part (35 percent) of total energy consumption. In Korea both the household and the electricity-generating sectors account for an atypically large part of total consumption. Even rural households in Korea use commercial fuels, and the relatively low level of hydroelectric power implies a larger role for thermal generation.

Both before and after 1973, commercial energy consumption in the three main consuming sectors--industry, transport, and household--rose in all four countries (table 5). Prior to 1973, the rate of increase in most sectors was almost the same as the rise in aggregate energy consumption. All sectors contributed proportionately to the increase in total consumption. After 1973, growth rates in the various sectors showed more divergence. Though it is difficult to generalize, the rate of growth appears to have fallen most sharply in the transportation sectors.

The rapid expansion of the electricity sector was a major feature in all developing countries (table 6). From 1950 to 1973, growth rates of 10 percent per year and more were experienced. After 1973, growth rates hardly faltered--indeed, in Brazil they accelerated. Such high rates--admittedly from a very low base--might have been even higher if additional supplies had been available. Many countries had unsatisfied demand.

Commercial Energy Resources and Supplies

The four countries differ considerably in their commercial energy endowments and therefore in their reliance on imported supplies (table 7). All have significant production of some commercial fuels--coal in Korea and India, oil and gas in Mexico, hydroelectricity in all. Korea and India already have nuclear generating capacity. These four countries account for more than one-half of total primary electricity (hydro and nuclear) generated in developing countries.

Except for Mexico, domestic energy production has been insufficient to meet local consumption in recent years. Brazil and Korea imported about 70 percent of their total energy needs in 1979, up from two-thirds in 1973. India imports 13 percent of its energy supplies. Mexico, on the other hand, by virtue of rapid oil and gas development in the 1970s, was in 1979 a major net exporter, exporting more than 30 percent of its total domestic energy production.

For three of the four countries, import dependence for oil is much higher than for any other fuel source. Korea imports all of its oil, Brazil about 80 percent, and India about 50 percent. The three account for 27 percent of total LDC crude oil imports. The cost of oil imports, especially in the wake of the 1979-80 oil price increase, is of major concern to these countries. Oil imports acount for a substantial part of their total imports; consequently, price increases of the magnitude of 1973-74 and 1979 put serious strain on their external finances. In 1980, oil imports accounted for about nearly one-half the import bill of both India and Brazil, and 27 percent of Korea's.

Growth in Gross National Product

The record of these countries testifies to a close association between economic growth and energy consumption (table 8). Before and after the oil price increase of 1973, both energy consumption and income rose in all four countries. Further, the rate of energy demand growth in these periods was closely related to the rate of economic growth. Those countries with the fastest rates of economic growth before 1973--Brazil, Mexico, and Korea--also experienced the fastest rates of growth in energy demand. India, which had a much slower rate of economic growth, experienced the slowest rate of growth in energy consumption. Since 1973, both GNP and energy consumption have continued to rise in all four countries, and again higher rates of economic growth have been associated with higher energy consumption.

Despite their close relationship, rates of economic growth and of energy consumption do not usually rise by the same percentage. Sometimes one is higher, sometimes the other. Prior to 1973, energy consumption was growing faster than output in Mexico and Korea, at about the same rate in Brazil, and slower in India. After 1973, despite high oil prices the growth rate of commercial energy was faster than that of GNP in all four countries.

Traditional Fuels

Traditional fuels play a major role in the rural energy balance of these countries and are used extensively in the modern industrial sector. For example, charcoal is used to produce one-half of Brazil's crude steel.

The share of traditional fuels in total energy consumption varies considerably (table 9), from about 5 percent in Mexico and Korea to one-third in Brazil and one-quarter in India. In all cases it declined over the 1970-77 period and certainly before. In Korea and Mexico the substitution of commercial for traditional energy may be coming to an end, but in India and Brazil further substitution potential may raise the rates of increase in commercial fuels consumption. Of course, a reverse substitution could take place, stimulated by price increases for commercial fuels.

Energy Prices

The 1970s witnessed a reversal in the historic trends of declining energy prices. Specifically, prices of imported petroleum, which declined during much of the sixties, began rising steadily in the early seventies, resulting in a fivefold increase in real prices over 10 years.

The dramatic increases in crude oil prices have perhaps diverted attention from trends in the prices of petroleum products--gasoline, kerosine, light and heating oils--paid by consumers. Because of the large margin of costs for refining and distributing petroleum products and a large tax element in many countries, the price of crude oil is frequently a relatively small part of the price of petroleum products to consumers. Rises in crude oil prices are therefore much diluted at the retail level. In addition, typically high rates of inflation in many countries have reduced the rate of increase in real prices of petroleum products. Finally, government policies frequently have been devoted to controlling price increases of such fuels as kerosine and heating oil.

From available data for these countries (table 10) and from observations in other comparable countries it appears that gasoline and industrial fuel oil prices may have doubled in real terms in the 1970s. The actual increase varied from country to country depending on inflation and movement of the local currency in relation to the US dollar, in which the price of internationally traded oil is denominated. Prices of kerosine, a politically sensitive and frequently subsidized fuel used for cooking and for lighting in areas lacking electricity, have risen by much less, about 50 percent. In Mexico, the only net oil exporter of our group, kerosine prices have declined sharply in real terms, while gasoline prices, though changing from year to year, were no higher at the end of the seventies than at the beginning.

Of the other energy sources, the wholesale price of coal either remained stable or increased moderately. Often this was the result of government policies designed to encourage coal usage over imported petroleum products. Prices (wholesale) of electricity fell in all cases, in some cases as much as 20 percent. In most of these countries (Korea is the main exception), much of the electricity generating capacity is hydroelectric. Consequently, the oil price increases did not directly affect the average level of electricity tariffs. A composite of energy prices, including all sources of energy and the 1979-80 increase in oil prices, might have shown a 100-percent increase in real terms over the 10-year period. These are historically high rates of increase, but substantially less than the more-often discussed rates in crude oil prices.

There is a widespread perception that energy consumption in developing countries is not sensitive to energy price increases. This perception seems at first to be confirmed by the above discussion of energy consumption which indicates very little change in trends before and after 1973. There are a number of reasons for the lack of change:

--Energy prices to consumers, though rising in most cases, did not rise as much as might have been deduced from the dramatic increase in oil prices.

--Sufficient time may not have elapsed to permit the installation of new, more energy-efficient equipment appropriate to higher energy prices, especially as in many operations energy costs are a small part of total costs. Estimates for both India and Korea indicate that fuel costs--prior to the last crude-oil price hike--accounted for about 7 percent of total industrial production costs.

--Rates of economic growth continued to be high after 1973; and under any reasonable assumptions of income and price elasticities of demand for energy in the developing countries, the influence of income growth will outweigh the effect of higher energy prices. This does not mean that the effect of prices is not important. Rather, it means that given the rates of economic growth anticipated in developing countries--they are necessary if living standards of large populations are to be improved--the rate of growth in energy consumption will continue to be high. The effect of higher energy prices will be to moderate the rate of increase.

On a more disaggregated level, there is some evidence of a considerable degree of responsiveness of energy consumption to energy prices (table 11). In all four countries, gasoline consumption rose by 5 to 10 percent prior to 1973, when real prices were constant, and even were declining in Brazil and Mexico. After 1973, the sharp rise in real prices was associated with a marked reduction in overall gasoline consumption.

Future Consumption

What accounts for the variations between past experience and alternative views of the future as outlined in the summary and table 12? In general terms, these differences can be said to stem from assumptions--sometimes explicit but often implicit--about rates of economic growth, future movements in energy prices, and government energy policies. Thus an increase in economic growth rates would lead (other things being equal) to an increase in energy consumption, though it is not clear by how much. In developing countries, energy consumption typically increases by more than the economic growth rate, reflecting the change from low-energy intensive agriculture to higher-energy intensive industry which is the essence ~~of~~ the development process. Though this relationship (the income elasticity of demand) has not been satisfactorily estimated for developing countries, many studies use an elasticity of 1.3, which means that a 10-percent increase in economic growth would be associated with a 13-percent increase in energy consumption.

But over the last decade especially, "other things" have not been equal. Energy prices have risen sharply, thus moderating the strong upward trend in energy consumption stemming from the economic development process. Two aspects of energy prices should be considered: the extent of the energy price increase, and the responsiveness of energy consumption to that increase (the price elasticity of demand for energy). Like income elasticity, price elasticity has not been satisfactorily estimated for developing countries, though there is a consensus that it is quite low, around -0.3. This means that a 10-percent increase in energy prices would lead to a 3-percent decline in energy consumption.

In addition to these price- and income-related factors, government policies can encourage or discourage energy use through a variety of such measures as the imposition of standards governing energy efficiency in buildings, industry, or transport, and rationing. Government policies with regard to subsidies and taxation of energy products are of course more directly reflected in energy prices.

Assumptions about these factors are not always made clear in projections, and therefore have to be deduced. Usually, however, assumptions about the rate of economic growth are cited. Table 12 indicates that despite the downward revision in energy consumption growth rates from the 1973-79 period forecast in the latest projections, economic growth rates in three out of four cases were not projected to decline. In India economic growth rates were forecast to rise from 3.7 percent in 1973-79 to 5.6 percent between 1980 and 2000; in Mexico, from 4.6 percent to 8 percent. The rate was projected to remain constant in Brazil. Only in Korea was the rate projected to decline--from 10 percent to 8 percent.

Many of the gross domestic product (GDP) growth rate forecasts upon which the latest estimates are based now seem rather high. The second oil shock in 1979-80, stagnation in the industrial countries, low levels of foreign assistance, and high interest rates suggest that economic growth rates will be significantly lower than was thought reasonable a couple of years ago. Nowhere is this tendency illustrated more dramatically than in the case of Korea, where an unrivaled record of growth was halted, at least temporarily, in 1980.

The future ~~of oil~~ prices is critical to any view of future energy prices, and here the consensus is that oil prices will remain stable or decline in real terms to the mid-1980s and then rise by about 3 percent a year. Assuming, as in the past, that a 10-percent increase in crude oil prices is associated with a 4-percent increase in overall energy prices in oil-importing countries, then the oil-induced price rise could cause the general level of energy prices to rise by 20 percent over the next 20 years. This would not be a large increase compared with the last decade, nor sufficient to reduce significantly rates of energy consumption growth.

In several countries, however, there are moves to increase prices by much more than the oil-induced price rise by removing or phasing out subsidies. Mexico plans to bring its currently very low energy prices more into line with international prices; and Korea plans to remove the subsidies on coal briquets, the major form of heating fuel in its household sector. As oil bills rise, the Indian Government will feel increased pressures to remove price controls on domestically produced oil and coal. Similar pressures on the oil-importing countries may encourage tax increases on energy products. High interest rates will lead to higher costs in the expanding electricity sectors of these countries, in turn leading to sharply higher electricity tariffs. Furthermore, because the full effect of rising energy prices takes some time, energy consumption will continue to be affected by past price rises, especially those that took place in the wake of the 1979-80 oil price increase, thus reinforcing the responsiveness of energy consumption to rising energy prices.

The analysis of commercial energy consumption forecasts for these countries indicates a consistent tendency to lower projections. The later the date on which a forecast was made for any given year, the lower the forecast level of energy consumption. This result is in sharp contrast to projections made by a number of institutions for the entire group of developing countries. Typically in these studies, the later the date on which the projection was made, the higher the energy consumption levels. The main reason for this is that the more recent forecasts were able to incorporate the unexpectedly rapid rate of increase in energy consumption that took place in the non-oil developing countries over the last decade despite the initial rise in oil prices.

It is of course possible that in the 1980s and 1990s, as in the 1970s, energy growth rates and energy consumption will continue to rise rapidly despite oil price increases. But this is unlikely. The external environment now is not as encouraging to growth as in the 1970s, and high external deficits probably will oblige governments to take stronger measures with regard to oil imports. If this assessment of the situation is correct, many current projections of energy consumption for the oil-importing developing countries as a group may be too high. The four countries analyzed here account for about 40 percent of total energy consumption in the developing countries. Their rate of increase in energy consumption is typically higher than that of the group as a whole. If energy consumption growth rates in these major consumers fall to 5.0 percent a year compared with between 6 and 7 percent over the last 30 years, growth in energy consumption for the LDC group as a whole will be lower--nearer 4.5 percent--than current estimates of 6 percent.

Supply Projections

Recent supply estimates of these countries reflect two aims. The first is to keep down oil imports. In Korea, oil imports can be kept to current levels if other energy imports--coal and liquid natural gas--and the electricity sector develop as planned. India's oil imports will double. As oil currently has a small share in the Indian economy, and is used mainly in sectors like transportation where there are no alternative fuels, imports will have to increase to meet the growth needs of these sectors. The Brazilian projections give a range of oil imports from somewhat lower to somewhat higher than present import levels.

At present, these three countries account for about 30 percent of the oil imports of developing countries. If they continue to account for 30 percent, then oil imports to the developing countries could amount to about 10 million barrels per day in the year 2000, compared with about 6 million barrels per day now. The oil-importing developing countries will be the major expanding market over the next 20 years.

The second aim on the supply side of the energy projections is to continue the rapid expansion of electricity which has been taking place in all four countries over the last 30 years. The 1973-74 increase in oil prices appeared to have little effect on the electricity sector. And although the rate of increase will be somewhat slower than in the past, it will, in all cases, be more rapid than the increase in total energy consumption. This means that the share of electricity in total consumption will rise.

Several uncertainties are associated with these developments in the electricity sector:

--Insofar as they depend, as in Korea, on the rapid development of nuclear generation, they must be interpreted with some caution. Rapid development of nuclear generation implies equally rapid development in financial, engineering, and planning capabilities. Given the many uncertainties facing nuclear development, it may not be possible to complete ambitious programs in the planned time frame.

--High interest rates will add disproportionately to the cost of such capital-intensive investments as nuclear and hydro-generation facilities.

--In some countries, by the end of the century a large share of total energy will be provided by electricity--more than 30 percent in Korea and 40 percent in Brazil. Such a major change in the composition of energy supplies toward electricity will raise the average cost of energy used. It may also involve very high complementary investments. Given the large investments which will be made in the electricity sector, it is essential to know more about possible markets for this electricity in developing countries.

UNCLASSIFIED

Conclusion

The latest energy projections from these countries indicate a marked slowing in energy consumption growth from the very high rates of the pre-1973 and even pre-1979 periods. Examination of these projections suggests that a further downward scaling is realistic, based on generally lower economic growth rates, a continued rise in energy prices, and these countries' determination to constrain oil imports.

1/ Energy coefficients, which express the relationship between energy consumption and economic activity, are derived by dividing the percentage rate of growth of energy consumption by the percentage rate of growth of GNP. For example, an energy coefficient of 0.5 indicates that energy consumption has grown at half of the rate of GNP, while a coefficient of 2 means consumption has grown at twice the pace of GNP.

TESTIMONY WITH REGARD TO THE PRESIDENTIAL CERTIFICATION

OF FOREIGN ASSISTANCE TO

EL SALVADOR

KILLED IN EL SALVADOR

RELEASED

The Presidential Certification issued on July 28 states:

"...five suspects were dismissed from the National Guard and placed under arrest on February 8, 1982. A sixth man who had previously left the National Guard was arrested at the same time. On February 10, jurisdiction over the six men was transferred to civilian Judge Bernardo Rauda Murcia. The National Guard delivered to the court its report on the investigation of the case, as well as physical evidence obtained during the investigation. On February 13, Judge Rauda charged five of the six men with aggravated homicide."

Under Salvadoran law, as explained to us by the Department of State; On February 10, when juridiction over the six men was transferred to Judge Rauda, the Judge was required to bring an indictment against the suspects within 72 hours, or to release them without recourse. Since civilian authorities are no allowed to investigate members of the military, Judge Ruada could not have begun an independant investigation prior to their dismissal from the National Guard on February 8, and he was required to complete any investigation by February 13. For all practical purposes, the Judge was forced to accept the report of the National Guard for purposes of bringing indictments against any of these men. Further, we were told, Salvadoran law prohibits the civil authorities from investigating matters outside of the scope of the indictment document. Since the State Department has stated that the U.S. Government can not conduct an independant investagation, and the Salvadoran Government has no precluded itself from investigating further, the National Guard has effectivel closed the book on the investigation of the involvement of its officers and officials of the Salvadoran Government.

From the statements of Carlos Paredes, a former Salvadoran government minister, we know that one month before their murders, the MaryKnoll nuns were violently denounced at the Presidential palace by General Jose Garcia, the head of the army. It is not unreasonable to assume that this may be directly connected to the events of December 2, 1980. In a letter to me last week, Mr. L. Craig Johnstone, of the State Department, indicated that the Department is trying to locate Mr. Paredes "...who we beleive to be living in Mexico." Why do they wait twenty months?! I have spoken to Mr. Paredes on several occassions, merely by calling him o the telephone - yet the Government of the United State claims that it can not find this man!

On several occasions, during the month before her death, Jean was followed by helicopter, as she rode her motorbike on a mountain road. Jean reported that the helicopter followed her for several hours at a time, at tree top level. Ita Ford also reported being followed by a helicopter during this period. All of us who have followed the situation in El Salvador know how few helicopters that country has, and how important that government considers these helicopters to be. Accordingly, the use of such a rare and valuable resource must be controlled only at the highest levels of authority. The use of the helicopters in this case indicates the gravity with which those in authority held the contemplation of the murder of American citizens. They were quite willing to commit extensive resources to an effort to find a justification for the murder of these women, correctly anticipating the serious repercussions of such an action. Such decisions could not possibly have been made at the level of enlisted men, or even at the level of junior officers.

A sign was posted on the door of the house where Ita Ford and Maura Clarke lived in Chalatanango, which warned that all who live here will be killed. Even in a country so violent as El Salvador, it is highly unlikely that such a threat would be received on the day of one's murder from a source unconected with the murder, yet the State Department's explaination is unable to explain these coincidences.

Former U.S. Ambassador Robert White has testified that one of his contacts intercepted a military radio message which said "she's not on the first flight we'll have to wait for the next one." Mr. White stated that the message was clearly refering to Ita Ford. This is totally inconsistant with the State Department's official explaination of the crime. Ita Ford was still out of the country during the afternoon when the guardsman saw the women in the airport building. Also, the women were supposedly "two white women...who apparantly were not Salvadoran Nationals"; which would indicate that the murderers were not aware of the exact identities of their victims. Yet, the radio message clearly refered to the fact that Ita Ford's scheduled flight was overbooked, and that she had to take a later plane.

Sister Maria Rickelman, of the MaryKnoll order, was on board the plane which brought Ita Ford and Maura Clarke to El Salvador on December 2, 1980. Maria was remaining on the plane for the continuation of the flight to Miami. During the layover in San Salvador, national guardsmen boarded the plane, and questioned Maria about her identity. The national guardsmen were looking for Ita Ford! This incident, together with the intercepted military radio trafic, clearly indicates a serious and organized effort on the part of the Salvadoran National Guard to locate Ita Ford in the hours prior to her death. If the guardsmen were looking for Ita Ford for a reason other than to kill her, it i extremely unlikely that she would be able to elude their search, then enter a van which is then stopped by the National Guard for totally unrelated reasons and finally be killed by the national guardsmen who are suposed to be looking for her. Through all of the five hours from the kidnapping of the women and their van until the final killings, the five guardsmen did not recognize that the object of their search was the woman they were murdering. Yet, this is what Mr. Enders would have all of us believe. It is far more probable that ti national guardsmen were searching for Ita Ford for the purpose of killing her, she did not elude their search, and they accomplished their task.

On page 27 of the testimony provided to us by the State Department, witness Vidal Cruz Piche, a national guardsman testified that guardsman Daniel Canales Ramirez, one of those accused in this crime, had five thousand dollars during the days immediately following the murders. On page 31 of the testimony Jose Luis Monterrosa, a national guardsman, testified that sub sargent Colindres Aleman "appeared with lots of money, and purchased luxury goods..." the testimony goes on to state that Colindres Aleman obtained a television set, living room furniture and a tape recobder. He also stated that Canales Ramire had $5,000. At our meeting of February 17, 1982, I pointed out to Secretary Enders that the $5,000 in the possession of Canales Ramirez, and an unknown bu substantial sum of money in the possession of Colindres Aleman were inconsistant with a theory that these men acted alone. On the contrary, the money would indicate that the men were acting on orders from higher authorities, and that they were well paid for following orders. Mr. Enders replied to me that the investigators have not found any connection between the cash and any other aspect of this case. I submitted then, and I submit now that their can be no other explaination than a pay off. These men were totally incapable of performing any service for which they would be so compensated, other than murder.

We have since learned, from the State Department, that a second seargant was attached to the unit from which the five arrested guardsmen came. This second seargant has stated to the FBI that he knew of the crime from Colindres Aleman within twenty four hours of its commission. This seargant claims that Colindres Aleman sought to enlist his help in covering up the crime. The seargant retired from the National Guard one week later, and moved to California where he has been living ever since, under the protection of the FBI. With his retirement and relocation to the United States coming so close to this crime, it is losical to suspect that this seargant may well have received a windfall similar to the $5,000 received by each of the arrested guardsmen. The refusal of the FBI to question the seargant on this point, and its further refusal to allow anyone else access to this man constitutes an obstruction of justice by the FBI.

On the day after the murders, the home of Jean and Dorothy was ransacked by persons unknown. The items taken, however, were not of the type that would interest the average theif; they were diaries and letters written by my sister. Further indication that she was eliminated for reasons of policy rather that reasons of lust or greed.

The third point made by Mr. Enders is that the motive for the murders were the suspicions of the guardsmen who initally saw Jean and Dorothy in the airport baggage claim area.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

Corporal Perez Nieto testified that he had seen Jean and Dorothy in the airport terminal earlier in the day, and had reported to Colindres Aleman that "...he considered their manner suspicious because he noticed they might also be carrying firearms in their handbags." In a letter to me dated April 20, 1982, Mr. Enders states "Colindres Aleman ordered the murders...he acted on the basi of suspicions generated by the national guardsman who initially spotted the churchwomen at the airport." Clearly, then, the State Department is relying o this testimony of Perez Nieto for its theory of motive. In that same testimony, Perez Nieto stated that he identified Jean and Dorothy to Colindres Aleman over the telephone, as "...two white women...who apparently were not Salvadoran Nationals." clearly then, Colindres Aleman was aware that the wome were not Salvadoran (and probably American).

Several of the guardsmen on duty that night testified that upon returning to the barracks on the night of December 2, 1980, Colindres Aleman refered to the women as "subversive nuns." Since none of the women were dressed as nuns, nor did they have nuns habits amoung their belongings, Colindres Aleman would not have known that any of women were nuns. Colindres Aleman's knowledge that the women were nuns is inconsistant with the State Department's large handbag theory in that his knowledge of the women was supposed to be entirely from their physical appearance.

A period of five hours passed between the capture of the women at the airport at dusk, and the fatal gun shots which were heard at about 11:30 PM. What happened during this five hour period? Mr. Enders told us, at our February 17 meeting that most of this time was spent in the town of Zacatecoluca, the site of the regional National Guard headquarters. According to Mr. Enders, the five national guardsmen went into and out of the regional headquarters at various times, but they never took the women inside. the women, according to Mr. Enders, were kept outside in the parked van. It seems far more likely that the women were taken into the regional headquarters for interrogation. The guardsmen would not have spent so many hours within walking distance of their superiors, while hiding from them the fact that four American women were in their custody. Had they sought to hide this from their superiors, they would have avoided Zacatecoluca, if possible. They would have remained there for a minimum length of time - far less than four hours - had it been impossible to avoid going to the headquarters! A more reasonable explanation is that those in command at the regional headquarters were directing the activities of these five men on the night of December 2, 1980.

III. Unanswered questions.

There are a number of questions which I feel should have been answered by any competant investigator. In this case, however, most of these questions have never been asked:

1. What were the orders under which Perez Nieto was operating on the afternoon of December 2, 1980, which caused him to become concerned about the size of women's handbags? Answered

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

2. When Jean and Dorothy left the national airport the first time, was their van searched. If so, what was found? If not, why not - especially given the suspicions reported by guardsman Perez Nieto? No search

3. Who bradcast the radio message, and why? Who was the intended recipient of the message. Who was monitoring arriving passengers at the airport, and why? What were his orders that day? Where are the military transmitters located at the airport? Who has access to them? Who has custody of them? Known

4. Who were the national guardsmen who boarded the plane? What were their orders? Why were they looking for Ita Ford? How often do national guardsmen board international flights? —

5. Was it common for the gate guards to control traffic so as to isolate one vehicle on the exit road? How often is this done? No

6. What officers were on duty, on the night of December 2, 1980, at the regional headquarters? To whom does each of these officers report? What were their orders on that night? Not regional H.Q.

7. Where did the guardsmen get the large sums of money? Who paid the money? Unconfirmed.

8. Why did General Garcia denounce the nuns at the presidential palace? Who was present at the palace on that day - especially who from the National Guard? —

9 Why has the FBI laboratory not determined the source of the red paint smear on the side of the women's van? What pressures have been brought to bear on the FBI, in this case, which would influence them to do less than a professional job? Analyzed

10. Why have only six of 85 original suspects, on duty that night been checked for fingerprints? Why have two of the five men now held on charges not been fingerprinted? Not 85. In process.

11. Why have only six of (85) guardsmen's weapons been test fired for ballistics tests? Suspects.

12 Why has Hans Christ - presently living in Miami - not been questioned concerning this case? Why has the Lieutenant, to whom the accussed men reported, not been questioned in this investigation? Why has the other sargeant attached to this unit - who now lives in the U.S. - never been questioned? Christ — obvious. Others have.

13. Why has the FBI never questioned Maria Rickelman, John Spain, Christine Rody (Jean and Dorothy's roommate), or Carlos Paredes?

14. Why has no attempt been made to determine the identity of the fingerprints found on the sign attached to the home of the MaryKnoll Sisters? Efforts were made.

8. PART I - CURRENT MILITARY SITUATION

A. LOCATION, SIZE, LOGISTIC SITUATION OF FREINDLY FORCES

AS OF JUNE 1982 THE COMBINED STRENGTH OF THE ARMED FORCES AND PUBLIC SECURITY FORCES WAS 29,218. IN ADDITION, THERE ARE PERHAPS AS MANY AS 80,000 PARA-MILITARY FORCES CONSISTING OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE UNITS, TERRITORIAL FORCES AND OTHER GROUPS IN VARYING STAGES OF READINESS. THE ARMY CONSISTS OF 17,691 PEOPLE ORGANIZED IN 19 DIFFERENT BATTALION-SIZED MANEUVER UNITS, ONE ARTILLERY BRIGADE AND A CAVALRY REGIMENT. THERE ARE 423 NAVY, 754 AIR FORCE, 3,447 NATIONAL GUARD, 4,887 NATIONAL POLICE, AND 2,016 TREASURY POLICE. THE COUNTRY IS DIVIDED INTO SIX MILITARY ZONES. WHILE CRITICAL SHORTAGES OF FIREARMS, SUPPLIES AND MUNITIONS CONTINUE TO PLAGUE THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES, THE ONLY KNOWN CRITICAL SHORTAGE WHICH COULD AFFECT

SHORT-TERM MILITARY OPERATIONS IN THE EASTERN PART OF THE COUNTRY IS FUEL. THIS PROBLEM WAS CAUSED BY THE RECENT INSURGENT INTERDICTION OF THE TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM AND COULD BE REMEDIED BY CONVOYING GASOLINE TRUCKS UNDER MILITARY ESCORT.

B. INSURGENTS

THE ARMED FORCES GENERAL STAFF POSTULATES APPROXIMATELY 10,000 GUERRILLAS NOT ALL OF WHOM ARE ARMED AND PUTS TOTAL POTENTIAL SUBVERSIVES, INCLUDING PART-TIME MILITIA AND MASSES OR FOLLOWERS,AT 50,000 PLUS. WE BELIEVE A CASE CAN BE MADE THAT TERE ARE ABOUT 4,000 COMBATANTS AND 5,000 TO 10,000 MILITIA WITH AN UNDETERMINED NUMBER OF FOLLOWERS. THIS MAY BE SLIGHTLY LOWER THAN THE FIGURE WE UNDERSTAND THE WASHINGTON ANALYTICAL INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE HAS ADOPTED OF FOUR TO FIVE THOUSAND ARMED COMBATANTS AND 8,000-13,000 MILITIA. OUR PRIMARY REASON FOR A LOWER FIGURES IS THAT GUERRILLA OPERATIONS DO NOT INDICATE HIGHER FIGURES. WITH THE POSSIBLE EXCEPTION OF THE MORAZAN FIGHTING IN THE FIRST PART OF JULY, BATTLEFIELD COMMANDERS REPORT DECREASING MILITARY EXPERIENCE AMONG THE SUBVERSIVES. PARTICULARLY MENTIONED ARE POOR MOVEMENT AND MANEUVER TECHNIQUES, LACK OF FIRE DISCIPLINE AND INCREASING NUMBERS OF FEMALES AND YOUNG PEOPLE. IT WAS SIGNIFICANT THAT

WHILE FIVE TO SIX THOUSAND OF THE BEST TRAINED SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES WERE TIED DOWN IN MORAZAN, SUBVERSIVES WERE UNABLE TO MOUNT A SUSTAINED MILITARY CAMPAIGN ELSEWHERE. THEY CONCENTRATED ON THE SOFTEST OF TARGETS--INTERDICTING HIGHWAYS, BOMBING BUSES, AND ATTACKS ON THE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM.

SUBVERSIVES ARE LOCATED THROUGHTOUT THE COUNTRY BUT ARE CONCENTRATED IN THE CENTRAL AND NORTHERN SECTORS PRIMARILY WITHIN THE DEPARTMENTS OF USULUTAN, SAN VICENTE, CUSCATLAN, CHALATENANGO, AND MORAZAN.

OUR REDUCED ESTIMATE OF FORCE LEVELS IS BASED ON A VIEW THAT OVERALL STRENGTH HAS DECLINED SOMEWHAT IN THE LAST THREE MOTHS DUE TO CASUALTIES AND DESERTIONS. HOWEVER, THE EVIDENCE IS NOT CONCLUSIVE.

C. THIRD COUNTRY ASSISTANCE TO ARMED FORCES OF SALVADOR
THIRD COUNTRY ASSISTANCE OTHER THAN EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING HAS BEEN PROVIDED ALMOST ENTIRELY BY HONDURAS IN THE FORM OF INTERDICTION OF INFILTRATION FROM NICARAGUA ACROSSS THE GULF OF FONSECA AND THE HONDURAS/EL SALVADOR BORDER. RECENTLY, THIS COOPERATION INCREASED SIGNIFICANTLY WHEN MULTI-BATTALION HONDURAN FORCES WERE DEPLOYED IN BLOCKING POSITIONS ALONG THE BORDER WITH MORAZAN PROVINCE TO SUPPORT A SALVADORAN OPERATION. DURING THIS OPERATION, HONDURAN AIRCRAFT FLEW RECONNAISSANCE AND STRIKE MISSIONS ON BOTH SIDES OF THE BORDER.

D. THIRD COUNTRY ASSISTANCE TO SUBVERSIVES
THIRD COUNTRY RESUPPLY ASSISTANCE TO THE SUBVERSIVE ELEMENT IN EL SALVADOR DESPITE THE TWO-MONTH LULL FOLLOWING THE ELECTIONS HAS SHOWN THE FOLLOWING CHARACTERISTICS:
--THERE HAS NOT BEEN A DECREASE IN THE LEVEL OF RESUPPLY ACTIVITY.
--THERE HAS BEEN AN INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF MAINLINE GUERRILLAS WITH M-16, FAL AND G-3 RIFLES.
--THERE HAS BEEN AN INCREASE IN THE AMOUNT OF MONEY NEEDED TO RUN GUERRILLA CAMP SYSTEMS.
--THERE HAS BEEN A SEASONAL CHANGE FROM MAILY SEA TO MAINLY AIR DELIVERIES ALONG WITH A SLIGHT INCREASE IN LAND RESUPPLY.

--THERE IS A POSSIBLE CONNECTION WITH CUBAN AIR DELIVERY TO NICARAGUA, ILLUSTRATED BY THE INCREASED CUBAN DELIVERIES IN THE WEEKS PRECEDING THE SALVADORAN ELECTIONS, AND THE LEVEL OF ARMS DELIVERIES TO THE SALVADORAN INSURGENCY. THIS OBSERVATION WAS AGAIN MADE DURING THE INCREASED GUERRILLA ACTIVITY AT THE END OF JUNE/BEGINNING OF JULY.

THIRD COUNTRY RESUPPLY ASSISTANCE TO THE GUERRILLAS IN EL SALVADOR IS STILL BEING CHANNELED THROUGH CUBA AND NICARAGUA. SOVIET, CUBAN, VIETNAMESE AND NORTH KOREAN RESUPPLY ASSISTANCE IS NEVER DEIRCELY DELIVERED. RATHER, MATERIEL, ARMAMENTS, FOOD, MEDICINE, AND MONEY IS LAUNDRED EITHER THROUGH CUBA OR INCARAGUA OR, UPON OCCASION,MEXICO. (NOTE: MOST DELIVERIES THROUGH MEXICO ARE DESTINED FOR GUATEMALAN GUERRILLAS.)

THIRD COUNTRY RESUPPLY METHODS STILL INVOLVE ALL THREE ROUTES, CONSISTING OF AIR, SEA AND LAND. A PATTERN OF EBB AND FLOW OF RESUPPLY DELIVEREIES APPEARS PRIMARILY TO BE TIED TO WEATHER CONDITIONS AND SECONDLY, TO AVAILABILITY OF TRANSPORT VEHICLES. BUT, AN UPSURGE OF DELIVERIES HAS BEEN NOTED ON OCCASION DUE TO PSYCHOLOGICAL REVERSES ON THE SIDE OF THE GUERRILLAS. HUMAINT REPORTING FOLLOWING THE ELECTIONS IN EL SALVADOR DID DISCUSS NICARAGUAN, CUBAN AND SOVIET REEVALUATION OF RESUPPLY AND SUPPORT EFFORTS FOR THE SALVADORAN GUERRILLAS AND ITS ATTENDANT GAIN. THIRD COUNTRY TRAINING OF SALVADORAN INSURGENTS OUTSIDE EL SALVADOR HAS REMAINED AT THE SAME HIGH LEVEL. TRAINING IS PROVIDED IN NICARAGUA, CUBA, MEXICO AND POSSIBLY VIETNAM. TRAINING WITHIN EL SALVADOR, WITHIN THE LAST QUARTER, HAS INCREASED AS INDICATED BY THE EXPANSION OF THE TRAINING CAMPS AND TRAINING FACILITIES: E.G., MORAZAN. THERE HAS BEEN AN INCREASED SPECIALIZATION WITHIN THE FPL TO INCLUDE VANGUARD UNITS AND SPECIAL FORCES UNITS.

THIRD COUNTRY DELIVERIES ARE NOT LARGE. THE DELIVERIES USUALLY AVERAGE BETWEEN FIVE TO EIGHT THOUSAND POUNDS. IF THE MATERIAL IS PARA-DROPPED, IT USUALLY IS IN 100-POUND LOADS. IF THE MATERIAL IS LANDED BY PLANE, IT IS UNKNOWN HOW THE MATERIAL IS

PACKAGED. AIR DELIVEREIS ARE PROBABLY LANDED VERSUS AIR DROPPED. IF THE MATERIAL IS DELIVERED BY BOAT, DELIVERIES CAN BE AS LARGE AS 10,000 POUNDS, BUT IT IS UNKNOWN AS TO THE NUMBER OF BOATS, PANGAS AND FISHING BOATS NEEDED FOR SUCH A DELIVERY. LAND DELIVERIES SINCE THE CRACKDOWN LAST NOVEMBER HAVE BEEN IN EXTREMELLY SMALL AMOUNTS; I.E., 7-10 RIFLES.

CURRENTLY, GUERRILLLA NEEDS APPEAR TO BE AMMUNITION FOR RIFLES, MORTARS AND THE RPG-2 ROCKET

LAUNCHERS; MATERIAL TO BUILD EXPLOSIVES, CHLORATE AND COPPER TUBING; SHOES AND MEDICINE. MEDICINE, HOWEVER, IS USUALLY PURCHASED IN SAN SALVADOR. MOST OF THE MAINLINE GUERRILLAS APPEAR TO HAVE M-16, FAL, OR G-3 RIFLES IN FAIR CONDITION. ONLY 45-50 PERCENT OF THE MILITIA APPEAR TO HAVE ANY KIND OF WEAPON AND IT IS USUALLY IN WORN CONDITION. EACH 150-MAN UNIT TRIES TO HAVE A LEAST ONE 81MM MORTAR AND TWO RPG-2 ROCKET LAUNCHERS PER 25 MEN AND ONE SNIPER PER 25 MEN, DEPENDING ON EQUIPMENT AVAILABILITY. THIS INDICATES A SOMEWHAT INADEQUATE TO&E FOR MAINLINE UNITS.

DUE TO FAILED INSURGENT OPERATIONS DURING THE ELECTIONS AND DEPLETED SUPPLIES, THERE WAS AN INCREASE IN APRIL AND THE FIRST TWO WEEKS OF MAY IN DESERTIONS AND A RISE IN MORALE PROBLEMS AND INCREASED FRICTION BETWEEN FACTIONS. NEW PLANS AND RESUPPLY DELIVERIES WERE MADE TO OVERCOME THESE PROBLEMS. EVIDENTLY, BY THE BEGINNING OF JUNE, ADEQUATE RESUPPLY FOR ALL AREAS WAS ACCOMPLISHED AND MORALE AND UNREST WITHIN THE VARIOUS FACTIONS SUBSIDED. THREE-QUARTERS OF THE CURRENT RESUPPLY APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN MADE BY AIR AND ONE-QUARTER BY LAND. THERE WAS A DISTINCT DROP IN SEA DELIVERIES AFTER APRIL. HOWEVER, A FEW HAVE BEEN NOTED. [redacted]

GUERRILLA OPERATIONS IN JUNE INDICATE ADEQUATE SUPPLY LEVELS TO SUPPORT THE ERP TARGETS OF PARALYZING LOCAL TRANSPORTATION AND THE FPL TARGETS OF GOVERNMENT ELECTRICAL, TELEPHONE AND MILITARY INSTALLATIONS. ADEQUATE SUPPLIES ALSO APPEAR TO BE ABLE TO SUPPORT NEW GUERRILLA TACTICS OF ATTACKING AND MANEUVERING RATHER THAN ATTACKING AND WITHDRAWING. IF THE GUERRILLAS CANNOT MAINTAIN THESE SUPPLY LEVELS, THEN THEY PROBABLY WILL HAVE TO REVERT BACK TO THEIR PREVIOUS TACTICS.

9. PART II - IMPACT OF MILITARY SITUATION ON CIVILIAN ACTIVITY
A. THE ECONOMY
ATTACKS ON THE ECONOMIC INFRASTRUCTURE HAVE BEEN MOST SEVERE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF SAN VICENTE AND THE AREA EAST OF THE LEMPA RIVER. TAKEN TOGETHER, THESE AREAS ACCOUNT FOR ALMOST HALF OF THE SALVADORAN TERRITORY BUT LESS THAN A QUARTER OF THE NATION'S ECONOMY. IN RECENT WEEKS, SAN SALVADOR HAS ALSO SEEN A RENEWAL OF URBAN TERRORISM, DIRECTED CHIEFLY AGAINST THE TRANSPORTTION SYSTEM AND THE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM. ATTACKS DURING THIS PERIOD HAVE BEEN, ALMOST EXCLUSIVELY, HARASSING ACTIONS IN WHICH ONLY THE CUMULATIVE EFFECT OF MANY PINPRICKS IS IMPORTANT.

NATIONWIDE, FROM APRIL 1 TO JUNE 30, SOME 77 ELECTRICAL FACILITIES WERE DAMAGED OR DESTROYED, INCLUDING 58 ELECTRICAL TOWERS WHICH COST SLIGHTLY

MORE THAN $600,000 TO REPAIR ON A PROVISIONAL BASIS. SINCE AUGUST 1980, SOME 348 ELECTRICAL TOWERS HAVE BEEN DAMAGED OR DESTROYED, WITH AN ESTIMATED COST OF $4.7 MILLION TO RETURN THEM TO SERVICE. MORE IMPORTANTLY, AS ATTACKS ON THE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM ISOLATE AREAS FROM THE PRIMARY GENERATING SOURCE, SECONDARY GENERATING FACILITIES MUST BE UTILIZED. WHILE THE PRIMARY GENERATING SOURCES ARE HYORDELCTRIC OR GEOTHERMAL, THE SECONDARY SOURCES ARE PETROLEUM BASED. FROM APRIL 1 TO JUNE 30, RELIANCE ON PETROLEUM-BASED ELECTRICITY

INCREASED THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE ENERGY COST TO EL SALVADOR BY $1.7 MILLION. SINCE AUGUST 1980, RELIANCE ON OTHERWISE UNNECESSARY PETROLEUM-BASED ENERGY HAS INCRESED EL SALVADOR'S FOREIGN EXCHANGE COSTS BY $8.5 MILLION. INCLUDING THE INDIRECT COST OF UTILIZING PETROLEUM-BASED ENERGY, THE PRICE TAG FOR LEFTIST DESTRUCTION OF THE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM FROM APRIL 1ST TO JUNE 30TH WAS $2.6 MILLION; CUMULATIVELY FROM AUGUST 1980, THE PRICE TAG WAS $13.6 MILLION, NOT INCLUDING THE COST OF PERMANENT REPAIR OF TOWERS WHICH HAVE BEEN RESTORED TO SERVICE ON A PROVISIONAL BASIS ONLY.

THE CHIEF IMPACT OF ATTACKS ON THE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM IS NOT THE HIGH COST OF REPAIR. IT IS THE INDIRECT INTERRUPTION OF PRODUCTIVE ACTIVITIES IN MAJOR PARTS OF THE COUNTRY. THE DEPARTMENT OF SAN MIGUEL, HOME OF THE NATION'S THIRD LARGEST CITY AND

A CENTER FOR COTTON, LIVESTOCK, DAIRY PRODUCTS, AND LIGHT INDUSTRY, WAS WITHOUT POWER FOR 126 DAYS IN 1981. AS OF JULY 7, SAN MIGUEL HAD BEEN WITHOUT POWER FOR 63 DAYS IN 1982. THE DEPARTMENTS OF USULUTAN AND LA UNION, CENTERS FOR COTTON GROWING, FISHING, AND LIGHT INDUSTRY, SUFFERED SIMILAR PROBLEMS.

LEFTIST ATTACKS ON THE ELECTRICAL SYSTEM TAKE ON AN ADDED SIGNIFICANCE WHEN VIEWED AGAINST THE BACK-GROUND OF THEIR OFFENSIVE AGAINST THE NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM, ESPECIALLY URBAN TRANSPORTATION IN SAN SALVADOR AND INTERDEPARTMENTAL TRANSPORTATION IN THE EASTERN SECTION OF THE COUNTRY. THE GUERRILLAS' CAPACITY TO CONTROL THE FLOW OF TRAFFIC AND INTERRUPT IT ALMOST AT WILL HAS ALLOWED THEM TO CUT OFF ALMOST COMPLETELY THE FLOW OF PTEROLEUM PRODUCTS, ESPECIALLY

FUEL OIL, TO THE EAST. THUS, TEMPORARY GENERATORS, ALWAYS A SECOND BEST SOLUTION, HAVE BEEN EVEN LESS ABLE TO MAKE UP FOR THE INTERRUPTIONS IN ELECTRICAL FLOW THROUGH THE MAIN POWER GRID. THIS HAS BEEN EXPECIALLY CRITICAL FOR HOSPITALS AND WATER PUMPING STATIONS, AS WELL AS FOR FACTORIES, DAIRIES, COTTON AND COFFEE PROCESSING PLANTS, COLD STORAGE FACILITIES FOR SEAFOOD PRODUCTS, AND LIGHT INDUSTRY.

DURING THE APRIL TO JUNE QUARTER, SOME 33 BUSES

AND EIGHT OTHER VEHICLES WERE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS OF SAN SALVADOR. NATIONWIDE, DURING THAT SAME PERIOD, AND ADDITIONAL 74 BUSES WERE DESTROYED OR DAMAGED. THE HAZARDS OF TRAVEL TO THE EAST HAVE CAUSED MAJOR TRANSPORT COMPANIES VIRTUALLY TO SUSPEND OPERATIONS IN THAT AREA, WITH ADVERSE RESULTS FOR ALL ECONOMIC ACTIVITY THERE, ESPECIALLY IN THE SUPPLY OF PETROLEUM AND THE SHIPMENT OF SEAFOOD PRODUCTS BY LAND TO GUATEMALAN PORTS ON THE CARIBBEAN.

ARMED LEFTIST ACTIVITY CONTINUES TO TAKE A HEAVY TOLL ON AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION. ESPECIALLY IN THE COTTON GROWING AREA OF USULUTAN AND THE COFFEE GROWING AREAS OF SAN VICENTE AND SAN MIGUEL, TERRORIST ACTIVITY HAS FORCED A MAJOR REDUCTION, AND IN SOME CASES A COMPLETE HALT, TO PRODUCTION. FORTY PHASE I COOPS, AMONG THE LARGEST AND POTENTIALLY MOST PRODUCTIVE FARMS IN THE COUNTRY, STILL ARE UNABLE TO RESUME OPERATIONS BECAUSE OF THEIR INABILITY TO BRING IN INPUTS AND TECHNICAL ADVISORS, BECAUSE THEY CANNOT FREELY TRANSPORT THEIR OUTPUT, AND BECAUSE LOCAL GUERRILLA ACTIVITIES DIRECTLY THREATEN WORK IN THE FIELDS.

ESTIMATES OF TOTAL LEFTIST DAMAGE TO THE ECONOMY, INCLUDING DIRECT DAMAGE TO ECONOMIC ASSETS AND THE [redacted]

INDIRECT DAMAGE OF IMPEDING PRODUCTION, ARE EXTREMELY DIFFICULT. CUMULATIVE LEFTIST DESTRUCTION OF ECONOMIC ASSETS EXCEEDS $100 MILLION. COMBINING LEFTIST DESTRUCTION OF ASSETS, NORMAL DEPRECIATION, AND THE LOW LEVEL OF INVESTMENT CAUSED BY UNCERTAINTY AS TO THE COUNTRY'S FUTURE COURSE AND THE SECURITY OF PRODUCTIVE OPERATIONS, EL SALVADOR HAS HAD A NEGATIVE REAL NET INVESTMENT. THAT IS, THE PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY OF THE NATION HAS DECLINED SHARPLY IN ABSOLUTE TERMS OVER THE LAST TWO YEARS.

B. MUNICIPALITIES IN CONFLICT

THE ESAF'S CURRENT CONCEPT FOR DEFENDING ITS POPULATION CALLS FOR A STATIC DEFENSE WITH LOCAL PATROLLING IN SELECTED CITIES, TOWN AND VILLAGES. ALTHOUGH APPROXIMATELY 50 PERCENT OF THE ARMED FORCES IS TIED UP IN THIS TASK, THERE ARE NOT ENOUGH TROOPS TO SPREAD AROUND IN EVERY SMALL RURAL TOWN. THEREFORE, IN THE COUNTRYSIDE THE DETACHMENTS TEND TO BE SMALL, AND THE GUERRILLAS HAVE BEEN ABLE TO OVERRUN AND SEIZE A PARTICULAR TOWN FOR SHORT PERIODS OF TIME. COMMITMENT OF SUFFICIENT ESAF TROOPS HAS ALWAYS RESULTED IN THE TOWN BEING RECAPTURED. RECENT EXAMPLES INCLUDE PERQUIN AND SAN FERNANDO IN MORAZAN. EL CARRIZAL AND OJOS DE AGUA, TWO OTHER TOWNS CAPTURED IN JUNE, ARE STILL UNDER GUERRILLA CONTROL SIMPLY BECAUSE THE ESAF HAS NOT YET COMMITTED ASSETS TO RESEIZE THEM.

URBAN TERRORISM. INCIDENTS IN THE LARGER CITIES (E.G., SAN SALVADOR, SAN MIGUEL, ETC.) HAVE BEEN PRIMARILY DIRECTED AT THE INFRASTRUCTURE: PUBLIC TRANSPORTATIO, HIGH TENSION CABLES, AND THE TELEPHONE BOXES, THROUGH POLICE HAVE RECENTLY BECOME TARGETS. ASSASSINATIONS OF UNPROMINENT INDIVIDUALS ARE ALSO A COMMON OCCURENCE. RECENTLY THERE HAVE BEEN UNCONFIRMED INTELLIGENCE REPORTS THAT THE INSURGENTS INTEND TO RENEW URBAN INSURGENCY ON A LARGE SCALE.

C. VIOLENCE AGAINST CIVILIANS
ALL INDICES OF VIOLENCE AGAINST CIVILIANS HAVE SHOWED A DOWNWARD TREND SINCE THE BEGINNING OF 1982 THOUGH THE PATTERN HAS BEEN ERRATIC. THERE HAS TENDED TO BE AN UPSURGE OF VIOLENCE AGAINST CIVILIAN AT TIMES OF HEAVY INSURGENT ACTIVITY, PARTICULARLY PRIOR TO THE ELECTION. PRESS REPORTS OF VIOLENT CIVLIAN DEATHS NOW AVERAGE APPROXIMATELY 50 PER WEEK AS COMPARED TO 100 AT THE END OF 1981 AND AS MANY AS 200 EARLIER IN 1981.
URBAN TERRORISM HAS NOT BEEN DIRECTED TOWARD INFLICTING CIVILIAN CASUALTIES. FOR EXAMPLE, SINCE JULY 1981 THERE HAVE BEEN 234 BOMB EXPLOSIONS WITHIN THE CITY OF SAN SALVADOR. THESE ARE BROKEN DOWN AS FOLLOWS: 83 BUSES, SEVEN ELECTRICAL SYSTEMS, 44 COMMUNICATIONS SYSTEMS AND 100 BUSINESSES OR PRIVATE PROPERTIES. OUT OF THESE 234 INCIDENTS ONLY TEN DEATHS WERE REPORTED, INCLUDING THREE POLICEMEN.

FOREIGNERS HAVE NOT BEEN THE OBJECTS OF SPECIFIC ATTACKS DURING THE CURRENT WAVE OF URBAN TERRORISM THOUGH THE PARAGUAYAN AMBASSADOR'S VEHICLE WAS BOMBED ON JUNE 30, 1982. INFORMATION REGARDING THIS BOMBING INCICATE IT WAS ONE OF OPPORTUNITY RATHER THAN A

9. POPULATION TRENDS
VISA FIGURES INDICATE SALVADORANS HAVE BEEN LEAVING THE COUNTRY IN RECORD NUMBERS. WE PROCESSED 8,688 IMMIGRANT VISAS CASES IN FY 81 AND EXPECT AT LEAST 11,000 IN FY 82. IN FY 81, 43,786 NON-IMMIGRANT VISA APPLICATIONS WERE PROCESSED, AND WE EXPECT 50,000 IN FY 82. WE ARE SEEING AN INCREASING NUMBER OF ADJUSTMENTS OF STATUS AS NIV HOLDERS OPT TO STAY IN THE U.S. RATHER THAN RETURN TO EL SALVADOR. ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION CONTINUES AT HIGH LEVELS WITH PERHAPS ONE-HALF MILLION SALVADORANS LIVING IN THE U.S. WHILE IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO ESTIMATE THE OVERALL REFUGEE POPULATION OUTSIDE OF EL SALVADOR, IT MAY TOTAL AS MANY AS 800,000. THERE HAS BEEN A STEADY INCREASE IN PERSONS APPLYING FOR POLITICAL ASYLUM IN THE U.S. DURING FY 82. ON THE OTHER HAND, RECENT FIGURES PROVIDED BY THE MINISTRY OF INTERIOR INDICATE THAT THE SALVADORAN GOVERNMENT IS NOW ISSUING FEWER PASSPORTS THAN DURING 1981.
THE GOES POPULATION PROJECTION FOR 1982 IS 4.8

MILLION. LIMITED VITAL STATISTICS WOULD INDICATE THAT THERE AHS BEEN A SLIGHT DECLINE IN POPULATION GROWTH RATE OVER THE PAST TEN YEARS. THE DISPLACED PERSONS ESTIMATE FOR JUNE 1982 IS 182,000, DOWN FROM A HIGH OF 225,000 IN APRIL AND FROM 212,000 AT THE END OF 1981. THIS IS A RESULT OF REFINED CENSUS TECHNIQUES AND A REDUCTION IN THE OVERALL CONFLICTIVE AREAS IN THE COUNTRYSIDE ALLOWING THE RETURN OF SOME DISPLACED PERSONS TO THEIR PLACE OF ORIGIN. THE U.S. CITIZEN POPULATION SHOWED AN INCREASE TO 1200 DURING FY 81 AFTER SHOWING A DECREASE FOR TWO YEARS RUNNING.

HOWEVER, HALF OF THE CADET LIEUTENANTS ARE SERVING IN ALL DEPARTMENTS IN ALL THREE SERVICES, WHILE THE REMAINDER RECEIVE ADDITIIONAL TRAINING AT THE MILITARY SCHOOL. ANALYSIS OF OPERATION RESCATE IN MORAZAN FROM JUNE 5 UNTIL JULY 2, 1982. U.S. TRAINERS WORKING SPECIFICALLY WITH THE ARMED FORCES DIRECTORATES OF INTELLIGENCE AND OF OPERATIONS BELIEVE MANY OF THESE PROBLEMS HAVE WORKABLE SOLUTIONS AND HAVE FOUND A WILLINGNESS ON THE PART OF STAFF OFFICERS TO ADDRESS THEM. ALTHOUGH MUCH REMAINS TO BE ACCOMPLISHED AT THE ARMED FORCES GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, THE SIGNIFICANT COMMAND CONTROL AND COMMUNICATIONS PROBLEMS APPEAR TO BE AT THE BRIGADE LEVEL AND WILL REQUIRE FURTHER ATTENTION.

C. UTILIZATION OF U.S. EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING, INCLUDING PERFORMANCE OF U.S.-TRAINED RAPID REACTION FORCES

LACK OF AN ADEQUATE TRAINING BASE, THE RAPID EXPANSION OF THE ARMED FORCES, A SHORTAGE OF TRAINED OFFICERS AT BRIGADE AND BATTALION STAFF LEVEL, AND DAILY OPERATIONAL REQUIREMENTS CONTINUE TO HAMPER THE EFFECTIVE INTEGRATION AND UTILIZATION OF U.S.-PROVIDED EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING. THESE WEAKNESSES ARE RECOGNIZED BY THE ARMED FORCES GENERAL STAFF, AND THE D-3 IS ATTEMPTING TO IMPROVE THE SITUATION. CONSIDERABLE EFFORT IS BEING EXPENDED TO REPRODUCE THE TRAINING MATERIAL, MANUALS, ETC. THAT HAVE BEEN PROVIDED TO THE [redacted]

U.S. TRAINED UNITS AND PERSONNEL. THIS INFORMATION IS BEING DISSEMINATED TO THE REMAINDER OF THE ARMED FORCES. MEANWHILE, THE NON-U.S. TRAINED UNITS WILL REMAIN WEAK IN THE AREAS OF SMALL UNIT TACTICS, PATROLLING, AIRMOBILE AND NIGHT OPERATIONS, WEAPONS TRAINING AND THE EFFECTIVE USE OF TACTICAL COMMUNICATIONS. THE D-3 VIEWS CONTINUED U.S. TRAINING, BOTH IN AND OUT OF COUNTRY, AS THE LONG TERM SOLUTION.

THE U.S.-TRAINED UNITS ARE PERFORMING WELL. THE THREE RAPID REACTION BATTALIONS, ATLACATL, BELLOSO AND ATONAL, CARRY THE MAJRO LOAD IN THE OPERATIONS THEY PARTICIPATE IN. DURING SIX OF THE LAST SEVEN WEEKS, THESE UNITS HAVE BEEN INVOLVED IN ALMOST CONSTANT COMBAT OPERATIONS WITH HEAVY FIGHTING INVOLVED. THEIR MORALE AND COMBAT EFFECTIVENESS REMAINS HIGH. DURING THE RECENT OPERATION IN NORTHERN MORAZAN PROVINCE, THE GOVERNMENT WAS ABLE TO TURN THE TIDE AN GAIN THE INITIATIVE ONLY AS A RESULT OF THE COORDINATED ACTIONS OF THE THREE BATTALIONS. LEADERSHIP, COMMAND AND CONTROL, AND TACTICAL TECHNIQUES IN THSE THREE UNITS GREATLY SURPASSES THAT FOUND IN OTHER UNITS. DURING THE MORAZAN OPERATION, AIR GROUND OPERATIONS WERE CONDUCTED WITH SOME EFFECTIVENESS, AND THE A-37 PACKAGE WAS EMPLOYED IN A ROLE SIMILAR TO THAT USED BY U.S. FORCES.

A MAJOR WEAKNESS THAT RMEAINS IS THE FAILURE TO UTILIZE THE LIMITED AIRMOBILE CAPABILITY TO AIRLIFT

B. FUNCTIONING OF COMMAND AND CONTROL SYSTEM
THE ARMED FORCES GENERAL HEADQUARTERS COMMAND CAPABILITY CONTINUES TO IMPROVE (ALBEIT AT TIMES SLOWLY) AND, PERHAPS MORE IMPORTANTLY, THEY REMAIN OPEN TO SUGGESTIONS AND CHANGE. THEIR GREATEST SHORTCOMING STILL LIES IN THEIR TENDENCY TO REACT TO INSURGENT INITIATIVES RATHER THAN TAKE THE OFFENSIVE. THE LATES EPISODES IN CHALATENANGO AND MORAZAN WHERE AMPLE EVIDENCE OF THE FOREGOING. A MAJOR SHORTCOMING LIES BETWEEN HEADQUARTES AND THE SIX BRIGADE COMMANDERS. THE BRIGADE COMMANDERS PLAN AND EXCUTE OPERATIONS OFTEN WITHOUT PRECOGNIZANCE BY THE HIGH COMMAND. THIS FAILURE HAS CREASTED SITUATIONS WHERE THE HIGH COMMAND MUST ATTEMPT TO "CATCH UP" TO THE OPERATIONS IN TERMS OF TACTICAL SUPPORT, LOGISTICS, AND INTELLIGENCE.

D. CIVILIAN/MILITARY RELATIONSHIP

THE ARMED FORCES IS THE TRADITIONAL PIVOTAL ELEMENT IN SALVADORAN POLITICS. THROUGH THREAT OR ACTUAL USE OF FORCE, THE MILITARY HAS HISTORICALLY DETERMINED DEGREE OF CIVILIAN PARTICIPATION IN THE OUTCOME OF TRANSITIONS IN NATIONAL POLITICS. THE MILITARY SCHOOL CLASSES OF 1963 AND 1964. THEY EXPRESSED CONCERN THAT THE OBJECTIVES OF THE REVOLUTION OF OCTOBER 1979 WILL BE THWARTED BY A RIGHTIST ASSEMBLY AN AN INEFFECTUAL EXECUTIVE. HOWEVER, THE ABILITY TO TURN DISATISFACTION INTO A GOLPE DE ESTADO IS LIMITED. THEY HAVE BEEN THE STRONGEST ADVOCATES FOR KEEPING THE MILITARY OUT OF POLITICS AND SUPPORTERS OF THE RECENT ELECTIONS. THEREFORE, KNOWING FULL WELL THE IMPACT A MOVE AGAINST THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY LEADERSHIP WOULD HAVE ON WORLD OPINION, THEIR ABILITY TO MOVE IN THAT DIRECTION IS SUBSCRIBED. LIKEWISE, THEIR RESPECT FOR PRESIDENT MAGANA, IN LIEU OF A CIVILIAN ALTERNATIVE TO HIM, COMPELS THEM TO CONTINUE TO SUPPORT THE CIVLIAN LEADER PUT FORWARD BY THE VOTE OF THE MILITARY COMMANDERS THEMSELVES. THEIR DISSATISFACTION WITH THE PERFORMANCE OF THE HIGH COMMAND COULD POTENTIALLY LEADE TO A MOVE AGAINST GENERAL GARCIA BUT THERE IS NOT INDICATION THAT THEIR DISSATISFACTION IS SUCH THAT THEY ARE PREPARED TO RALLY AROUND AN ALTERNATIVE TO HIM UNLESS, PERHAPS, COL. FLORES LIMA SHOULD SHIFT HIS POSTURE CONSIDERABLY.

THE ANALYSIS CONTAINED IN THE DEPARTMENT'S PRESIDENTIAL CERTIFICATION FOR JULY 1982 DEMONSTRATES THAT THE MILITARY HAVE MADE CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS ON HALTING ABUSES ABAINST CIVILIANS, BOTH REDUCING THE NUMBER OF VIOLATIONS AND SUBMITTING EVER MORE OF THEIR OWN, INCLUDING OFFICERS, TO CIVILIAN JUSTICE. WE HAVE NO EVIDENCE THAT THIS CHANGED ATTITUDE HAS EXTENDED TO A REDUCTION OF CORRUPTION WHICH ACTUALLY APPEARS TO BE ON THE RISE AMONG THE MILITARY. EFFORTS TO IMPROVE HUMAN RIGHTS BY THE U.S., THE CHURCH, THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS, AND THE ICRC ARE SUBJECT TO A CRUCIAL

LIMITATION--THE PRESSURES THEY BRING TO BEAR ARE EXTERNAL TO THE ARMED FORCES ITSELF. THERE IS NO WAY OF BEING CERTAIN TO WHAT DEGREE PERSUASION OR COERCION HAVE IN REALITY CHANGED THE ORIENTATION OF THE MILITARY TO HUMAN RIGHTS ABUSES VIS-A-VIS ELIMINATION OF THE ENEMY. HOWEVER, TO AN INCREASING DEGREE THE MILITARY ZONE COMMANDERS DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE FOR PROSECUTING THE WAR TALK AND, TO A LIMITED EXTENT, ACT AS IF THEY UNDERSTAND THAT THEY MUST WIN THE SUPPORT OF THE CIVILIAN POPULATION IF THEY ARE TO WIN THE WAR.

E. ARMED FORCES PUBLIC RELATIONS

THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES PUBLIC RELATIONS APPARATUS, PARTICULARLY THE PRESS COMMITTEE OF THE ARMED FORCES, IS TERRIBLE. THE GOOD NEWS GETS OUT SLOWLY AND IN PIECEMEAL FASHION, AND THE BAD NEWS IS ALMOST NEVER REVEALED THROUGH OFFICIAL SOURCES--THUS GIVING AN INVESTIGATIVE (I.E., SENSATIONALIST) CAST TO COVERAGE OF UNFAVORABLE EVENTS. THE MILITARY HAS GIVEN LITTLE PRIORITY TO SETTING UP AN EFFECTIVE MECHANISM FOR DEALING WITH THE INTERNATIONAL PRESS. COPREFA (THE ARMED FORCES PRESS COMMITTEE) IS CURRENTLY WELL SUITED TO RECEIVE INFOMRATION TO DISTRIBUTE, TO DENY REQUESTS OF VARIOUS SORTS, AND TO KEEP THE PRESS AWAY FROM THE "REAL ARMY." THERE IS NOT INDICATION THAT

THE COMBINATION OF THEIR HANDLING OF THE PRESS ALONG WITH THE GENUINE FAILINGS OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES CONTINUE TO PLAGUE EFFORTS TO WIN WORLD SUPPORT FOR THE SALVADORAN POSITION. ONLY PROGRESS IN BRINGING ABOUT THE PROFESSIONALIZATION OF THE SALVADORAN ARMED FORCES IS SUPERFLUOUS GOODS. TO ESTABLISH THIS LATTER RATE THE BANK OF MEXICO HAS "WITHDRAWN FROM THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET." OPENING QUOTES FOR THE "GENERAL" RATE ON AUGUST 6 AT 10:30 A.M. FROM THE EMBASSY'S CITIBANK BRANCH WERE 65.73 PESOS TO THE DOLLAR FOR BUYING PESOS. FOLLOWING SILVA-HERZOG'S SPEECH, BANK OF MEXICO DIRECTOR GENERAL MANCERA READ HIS CIRCULAR TO ALL BANKS. THIS PROVIDED MORE DETAILED INFORMATION ON HOW THE DUAL SYSTEM WILL FUNCTION. AN UNOFFICIAL TRANSLATION OF THIS CIRCULAR WILL FOLLOW IMMEDIATELY BY SEPTEL. END SUMMARY.

2. TREASURY SECRETARY JESUS SILVA-HERZOG ADDRESSED THE NATION FROM THE OFFICES OF THE TREASURY IN THE NATIONAL PALACE AT 8:00 P.M. ON AUGUST 5. HE READ A PREPARED TEXT WHICH BEGAN WITH A REVIEW OF MEXICO'S LARGE-SCALE ENTRY INTO THE INTERNATIONAL CAPITAL MARKETS AND FOLLOWED WITH A DESCRIPTION OF THE CIRCUM-STANCES (OPEC BALANCE OF PAYMENTS REVERSAL PRIMARILY) WHICH LED TO A REVERSAL OF THE "PRIVILEGED POSITION WHICH MEXICO HAD" IN INTERNATIONAL CAPITAL MARKETS. HE SAID THESE CIRCUMSTANCES "LED TO THE DEVALUATION IN FEBRUARY" BUT THAT IT WAS "INSUFFICIENT TO CAUSE THE REQUIRED ADJUSTMENT OF THE MEXICAN ECONOMY."

3. BEFORE GOING INTO THE ACTUAL EVENTS WHICH PRECIPITATED THE DECISION TO ADOPT A DUAL PARITY SYSTEM, SILVA-HERZOG REVIEWED THE PROGRESS OF THE 17-POINT ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM. HE SAID THAT THERE WAS A SURPLUS IN THE TRADE BALANCE OF $704 MILLION DURING THE FIRST HALF OF 1982, IN CONTRAST TO A $1,202 MILLION DEFICIT IN THE SAME PERIOD OF 1981. HE SAID THE 1982 FIRST-HALF CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT WAS $4,208 MILLION,
UNCLASSIFIED

MORE OR LESS HALF OF THE $8-9 BILLION DEFICIT FORECAST FOR 1982. HE REVISED THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT FOR 1981 FROM THE $11.7 BILLION ORIGINALLY PUBLISHED BY THE BANK OF MEXICO TO "ALMOST" $13 BILLION."

4. THE PREFERENTIAL RATE: REGARDING THE PURPOSE OF HIS ADDRESS HE SAID THAT (BEGIN QUOTE) "UNDER EXISTING CIRCUMSTANCES, I.E., THE LIMITED AMOUNT OF INTERNATIONAL CREDIT AVAILABLE TO MEXICO, IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE TO FINANCE THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT THE ECONOMY IS CURRENTLY GENERATING, WHICH HAD IN TURN BEEN TRANSLATED INTO A CONSIDERABLE DEMAND FOR FOREIGN EXCHANGE WITHIN MEXICO. SINCE THE EXCESSIVE DEMAND FOR FOREIGN EXCHANGE COULD NOT BE MATCHED WITH A SUPPLY OF EQUAL MAGNITUDE, THE EXCHANGE RATES CORRESPONDING TO THE CURRENT (RATES OF) SLIPPAGE WERE INDEFENSIBLE" (END OF QUOTE). HE NEXT DESCRIBED THE "FORMULA" WHICH HAD BEEN ADOPTED "TO ATTEND TO THE HIGHEST PRIORITY REQUIREMENTS FOR FOREIGN EXCHANGE WITH A PREFERENTIAL EXCHANGE RATE." THIS, HE SAID "WOULD RESULT IN A CONTINUATION OF THE SLIPPAGE FOR THE PREFERENTIAL RATE WHICH WOULD BE ACCELERATED IF NECESSARY." THE PREFERENTIAL RATE WILL APPLY TO "THE IMPORTATION OF THE MOST INDISPENABLE GOODS, SUCH AS FOOD, SOME SUPPLIES REQUIRED FOR PRODUCTIVE ACTIVITIES AND CERTAIN CAPITAL GOODS." ALSO THE PREFERENTIAL RATE WILL APPLY TO "OBLIGATIONS CORRESPONDING TO THE PUBLIC EXTERNAL DEBT, AS WELL AS THE OBLIGATIONS OF THE MEXICAN BANKING SYSTEM WHETHER THEY BE IN FAVOR OF NATIONALS OR FOREIGNERS."

5. THE GENERAL RATE: ALL OTHER TRANSACTIONS REQUIRING FOREIGN EXCHANGE WILL BE "AT AN EXCHANGE RATE WHICH RESULTS FROM AN INTERACTION OF SUPPLY AND DEMAND. THIS IMPLIES THAT THE BANK OF MEXICO WILL NOT INTERVENE

6. NEW SYSTEM TEMPORARY: SILVA-HERZOG SAID THAT THE DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM WAS TEMPORARY: "THE SYSTEM WILL BE IN FORCE TEMPORARILY, UNTIL THE 17-POINT ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM PRODUCES ALL OF ITS EFFECTS. IT IS HOPED THAT, WHEN THIS IS ACCOMPLISHED, THERE WILL BE A CONVERGENCE OF THE TWO EXCHANGE RATES AND THUS IT WILL BE UNNECESSARY TO MAINTAIN TWO EXCHANGE MARKETS." HE ADDED THAT "IT IS NECESSARY TO NOTE THAT THE ANNOUNCEMENT (OF THE DUAL SYSTEM) WAS FORCED BY RECENT PRESSURES OF A HIGHLY SPECULATIVE CHARACTER ON THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET."

7. TRADE-RELATED MEASURES: SILVA-HERZOG ALSO ANNOUNCED

THAT THE GOM WILL ADOPT "MEASURES OF A COMPLEMENTARY

CHARACTER" TO AVOID MALADJUSTMENT OF BOTH THE INTERNAL PRICES AND THE FINANCIAL SITUATION OF THE NATION'S COMPANIES." THE COMPANIES WILL BE HELPED THROUGH FISCAL MEASURES, THAT WILL TAKE INTO ACCOUNT INFLATION. ALSO, "TARIFFS WILL BE REDUCED WITH THE OBJECTIVE OF AVOIDING ADDITIONAL INFLATIONARY PRESSURES AND TO FACILITATE THE AVAILABILITY OF IMPORTED SUPPLIES." ALSO, "SOME FISCAL STIMULI FOR EXPORTS WILL BE ELIMINATED, THE NEW EXCHANGE CONDITIONS WILL MAKE SUCH COMPLEMENTARY SUPPORTS UNNECESSARY, WHICH IN ANY EVENT ARE OF CONSIDERABLE BUDGETARY COST AND ADD TO THE FEDERAL BUDGET DEFICIT."

8. "THE ONLY APPROPRIATE ALTERNATIVE": SILVA-HERZOG CLOSED HIS ADDRESS BY SAYING THAT "THE MEASURES WHICH HAVE BEEN ANNOUNCED WERE INSPIRED BY THE CONVICTION THAT THE INTERESTS OF THE NATION HAD TO BE PLACED BEFORE INDIVIDUAL INTERESTS, THEY ARE THE ONLY APPROPRIATE ALTERNATIVE IN THESE MOMENTS OF A HARD TEST. THE CURRENT CHALLENGES OUGHT TO SERVE TO CREATE NATIONAL UNITY". SILVA-HERZOG TOOK NO QUESTIONS FOLLOWING HIS SPEECH, WHICH WAS FOLLOWED IMMEDIATELY BY BANK OF MEXICO DIRECTOR GENERAL MIGUEL MANCERA (REPORTING SEPTEL). SILVA-HERZOG AND MANCERA WERE FLANKED BY REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PRIVATE AND PUBLIC SECTOR BANKS AND INDUSTRIAL FIRMS AND THE FULL ECONOMIC CABINET MADE A BRIEF APPEARANCE. DRAFTED BY B.J.GRIFFITHS. RECENT TACTICAL CHANGES IN CHINESE FOREIGN POLICY ARE RELATED TO SINO-AMERICAN STRAINS OVER THE TAIWAN ISSUE, DOMESTIC POLITICAL DEVELOPMENTS WITHIN CHINA, AND CHANGES IN THE DYNAMICS OF SOVIET AND U.S. POLICIES AS PERCEIVED IN BEIJING. THE SHIFT IN CHINA'S INTERNATIONAL STANCE ALSO REPRESENTS A LONG-TERM EFFORT TO HEIGHTEN CHINA'S INDEPENDENT WORLD ROLE, BUT REFLECTS PRAGMATIC AND NON-IDEOLOGICAL CALCULATIONS THAT HAVE NOT AFFECTED CHINA'S POLICIES ON MAJOR ISSUES OR ITS STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES.

UNCLASSIFIED

3. THE NEW CHINESE POSTURE IS MORE SOPHISTICATED THAT CHINA'S ANTI-SUPERPOWER LINE OF THE EARLY 1970S. CHINA'S MOVES OVER THE PAST YEAR CAN IN FACT BE SEEN AS A FURTHER STEP IN THE RATIONALIZATION OF ITS FOREIGN POLICY. THIS INVOLVES AN EFFORT TO UNDERSCORE CHINA'S CONCERN WITH PEACE, TO APPEAR LESS OBSESSED WITH THE SOVIET UNION, AND TO GAIN A BIT MORE MANEUVERING ROOM BETWEEN THE SUPERPOWERS. THE SOVIET UNION, HOWEVER, IS STILL PERCEIVED AND PORTRAYED AS THE MAJOR THREAT TO AN EQUILIBRIUM OF WORLD POWER AS WELL AS TO CHINA'S OWN SECURTY. CHINA'S DEVELOPING TWO-TRACK APPROACH TOWARD ITS RELATIONS WITH MOSCOW IS ALSO IN LINE WITH CHINA'S LONG TERM GOAL OF REWAXING TENSIONS AND CONFLICTS ALONG

[redacted]

OR NEAR ITS BORDERS TO THE EXTENT VITAL NATIONAL INTERESTS ALLOW. BUT BEIJING IS EVIDENTLY SERIOUS WHEN IT PROCLAIMS THAT ONLY BASIC CHANGES IN SOVIET POLICY CAN BRING ABOUT ANY FUNDAMENTAL IMPROVEMENT IN SINO-SOVIET RELATIONS.

4. MEANWHILE, CHINA CONTINUES TO REAFFIRM ITS STRATEGIC INTEREST IN STABILITY ON THE KOREAN PENINSULA AND IN THE VIABILITY OF THE U.S-JAPAN ALLIANCE AND OF NATO. THER IS NO INDICATION THAT BEIJING'S DOUBLE HEGEMONY RHETORIC IS SEROUSLY AIMED AT WEAKENING THE TIES OF ANY COUNTRY TO THE U.S. THE SHIFT IN CHINA'S INTERNATIONAL STANCE IS PRIMARILY ONE OF IMAGE AND RHETORIC. DESPITE ITS BALLYHOO OVER THE THIRD WORLD, CHINA HAS NOT, FOR EXAMPLE, INCREASED ITS MATERIAL INVESTMENTS IN ITS THIRD WORLD DIPLOMACY. OVERALL, CHINA'S MORE INDEPENDENT POSTURE IS NOT THREATENING TO U.S. STRATEGIC INTERESTS, AND TO THE EXTENT IT ENHANCES CHINA'S INFLUENCE IN THE THIRD WORLD, IT MAY ACTUALLY SERVE THOSE INTERESTS BECAUSE BEIJING'S THIRD WORLD GOALS REMAIN THE PROMOTION OF STABILITY AND THE WEAKENING OF SOVIET INFLUENCE. CONSEQUENTLY, WE SHOULD BE CAREFUL NOT TO OVER-REACT PUBLICLY TO CHINA'S ANTI-SUPERPOWER RHETORIC. END SUMMARY.

-- INCREASED CRITICISM OF THE U.S., AND A DIMINISHING OF THE IMAGE OF U.S.- CHINA STRATEGIC COOPERATION AS [redacted]

REFLECTED IN THE FADING OF ANTI-SOVIET INTERNATIONAL UNITED FRONT THEME, AND

-- EXPANSION OF NON-POLITICAL TIES WITH MOSCOW.

THESE TACTICAL SHIFTS ARE TO SOME EXTENT RELATED TO STRAINS WITH THE U.S. OVER THE TAIWAN ISSUE AS WELL AS TO CHINESE DOMESTIC POLITICS.

6. IF U.S.-CHINA STRAINS OVER TAIWAN ARE AMELIORATED AND THE DENGISTS CONSOLIDATE THEIR POSITION AT THE UPCOMING 12TH PARTY CONGRESS, THERE WILL PROBABLY BE SOME SLOWING OR MODIFICATION OF THE RECENT TRENDS IN CHINA'S INTERNATIONAL STANCE.

7. BUT THE TACTICAL SHIFTS WE HAVE SEEN OVER THE PAST YEAR HAVE A MORE BASIC AND LONGER TERM RATIONALE, SPRINGING FROM BEIJING'S PERCEPTION OF IMPORTANT CHANGES IN WORLD POLITICS AND CHINA'S INSTINCTIVE DRIVE TO MAXIMIZE ITS INDEPENDENT STANCE. THE PERCEIVED CHANGES INCLUDE REDUCTION IN THE IMMEDIATE INTENSITY OF THE SOVIET THREAT TO CHINA AND IN SOVIET ABILITY AND WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF REGIONAL CONFLICTS THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. AT THE SAME TIME, A SIGNIFICANT U.S-SOVIET RAPPROCHEMENT SEEMS TO THE CHINESE MUCH LESS LIKELY THAN IN THE 1970S.

8. THE WORSENING OF U.S. RELATIONS WITH OUR BEST EUROPEAN AND JAPANESE ALLIES AS WELL AS WITH THE THIRD WORLD HAS ALSO INFLUENCED CHINA'S DECISION TO DISTANCE ITSELF FROM THE U.S. AT THE SAME TIME, THE CHINESE HAVE CONCLUDED THAT RECENT PEACE MOVEMENTS IN THE WEST HAVE A SIGNIFICANT POPULAR BASE AND THAT THERE [redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

IS A NEW WAVE OF RESENTMENT IN THE THIRD WORLD AGAINST THE "SUPERPOWERS". CHINA HAS TRIED TO GET ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THESE TRENDS BY EXPRESSING UNDERSTANDING FOR THE POSITIONS OF THE U.S. ALLIES IN THEIR DISPUTES WITH THE U.S., DISPLAYING SYMPATHY FOR CONCERNS OF THE PEACE MOVEMENT ALTHOUGH NOT ITS SPECIFIC GOALS, INCREASING ITS CRITICISM OF SUPERPOWER HEGEMONY, ESCALATING ITS ATTENTION TO THE NON-ALIGNED MOVEMENT, AND IN GENERAL, SUPPORTING THIRD WORLD POSITIONS WHEREVER THEY OPPOSE THOSE OF ONE OR BOTH OF THE SUPERPOWERS.

UNCLASSIFIED

9. THE NEW CHINESE POSTURE IS MUCH MORE SOPHISTICATED THAN ITS ANTI-SUPERPOWER LINE OF THE EARLY 1970S. ONE NEW FEATURE IS A MAJOR EFFORT TO UNDERSCORE CHINA'S CONCERN WITH PEACE. BEIJING NO LONGER ASSERTS THAT WAR IN INEVITABLE, AND IT HAS MODERATED ITS OPPOSITION TO THE PRINCIPLE OF DETENTE. IN PRINCIPLE, IT NOW SUPPORTS ARMS CONTROL EFFORTS, EVEN INCLUDING U.S.-SOVIET START NEGOTIATIONS. CHINA HAS ALSO COME FORWARD WITH ITS FIRST SPECIFIC PROPOSALS ON ARMS CONTROL, WHICH INCLUDE EVENTUAL REDUCTION OF CHINA'S OWN TOKEN NUCLEAR FORCES. AS ANOTHER ELEMENT IN THEIR NEW IMAGE, THE CHINESE ALSO WANT TO APPEAR LESS OBSESSED WITH THE SOVIET UNION AND TO SHOW THAT THEY CAN SHARPLY CRITICIZE BOTH SUPERPOWERS WHILE DEALING WITH BOTH ON A PRACTICAL BASIS.

10. IN SOME WAYS, CHINA'S NEW INTERNATIONAL STANCE MOVES THE PRC IN THE DIRECTION OF YUGOSLAVIA'S FOREIGN POLICY. AS A CONTINENTAL, NUCLEAR POWER, CHINA OBVOUSLY CAN NEVER FIT INTO A YUGOSLAV IMAGE. BUT SOME OF THE FEATURES OF BELGRADE'S FOREIGN POLICY SEEM APPEALING TO MANY CHINESE LEADERS. YUGOSLAVIA'S MAJOR SECURITY CONCERN IS ALSO THE SOVIET UNION AND IT HAS HAD COOPERATIVE RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. YET THE

YUGOSLAVS BY THEIR POSITIONS ON WORLD ISSUE AND THROUGH THEIR PROMINENT ROLE IN THE NON-ALIGNED MOVEMENT HAVE MAINTAINED A BALANCE IN THEIR RELATIONS WITH THE TWO SUPERPOWERS AND THE STRONG IMAGE OF AN INDEPENDENT ACTOR.

11. CHINA'S NEW POSTURE, HOWEVER, HAS NOT INVOLVED ANY SHIFT IN ITS BASIC STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES OR ITS STAND WITH THE MODERATE WING OF THE THIRD WORLD ON MAJOR WORTLD ISSUES SUCH AS THOSE IN THE MIDDLE EAST, SOUTHERN AFRICA, AND CENTRAL AMERICA, AS WELL AS ON MULTILATERAL QUESTIONS LIKE LOS AND GLOBAL NEGOTIATIONS. THE SOVIET UNION IS STILL PERCEIVED AND PORTRAYED AS THE MAJOR

THREAT TO AN EQUILIBRIUM OF WORLD POWER AS WELL AS TO CHINA'S SECURITY. CHINA CLEARLY SEES A VITAL NATIONAL INTEREST IN COUNTERING THE SOVIETS AND VIETNAMESE IN AFGHANISTAN AND KAMPUCHEA, BACKING THE SECURITY OF PAKISTAN AND THAILAND, AND MAINTAINING PEACE ON THE KOREAN PENINSULA. IT ALSO CONTINUES TO REAFFIRM ITS STRATEGIC INTEREST IN THE CONTINUED VIABILIT
Y OF THE U.S.-JAPAN ALLIANCE AND OF NATO.

THE U.S., AND EVEN IF STRONGER CRITICISM OF THE U.S. PERSISTS, THE BASIC COMMONOLITY OF SINO-AMERICAN STRATEGIC INTERESTS WILL CONTINUE. THIS WILL BE SO EVEN IF U.S.-CHINA RELATIONS ARE DOWNGRADED OVER THE TAIWAN ISSUE, ALTHOUGH SUCH AN EVENT COULD SERIOUSLY DAMPEN THE POLITICAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL BENEFITS OF INTERNATIONAL PERCEPTION OF A SINO-AMERICAN COMMUNITY OF STRATEGIC INTERESTS.

13. THUS, THE SHIFT IN CHINA'S INTERNATIONAL STANCE IS PRIMARILY ONE OF IMAGE AND OF RHETORIC. DESPITE THE BALLLYHOO ABOUT THE IMPORTANCE OF THE THIRD WORLD, CHINA HAS NOT INCREASED ITS AID TO DEVELOPING COUNTRIES. MOREOVER, WHILE EXPOUNDING THIRD WORLD UNITY AND PROFESSING NEUTRALITY IN SUCH INTERNECINE THIRD WORLD CONFLICTS AS THE IRAN-IRAQ WAR, CHINA HAS SOLD AN ENORMOUS AMOUNT OF WEAPONS TO IRAQ FOR FINANCIAL GAINS BUT ALSO FOR GEO-POLITICAL OBJECTIVES THAT COINCIDE WITH OUR OWN. LIKEWISE, THEIR CONTINUED AND COSTLY SUPPORT FOR PAKISTAN -- ITS MAJOR COMMITMENT IN THE THIRD WORLD -- HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH THIRD WORLD UNITY.

14. CHINA'S EFFORTS TO ENHANCE ITS PRESTIGE AND INFLUENCE BY STRESSING ITS CONCERN FOR PEACE AND BY ABANDONING A STARK INTI-SOVIET APPROACH TO BUILDING RELATIONS WITH THE THIRD WORLD CAN BE SEEN AS FURTHER STEPS IN THE RATIONALIZATION OF CHINA'S FOREIGN POLICY BY PRAGMATIC POLICYMAKERS. WHILE THE CHINESE CLEARLY HOPE TO WEAN STATES LIKE IRAQ AND ANGOLA AWAY FROM

MOSCOW, THERE IS NO INDICATION THAT BEIJING'S DOUBLE HEGEMONY RHETORIC IS SERIOUSLY AIMED AT WEAKENING THE TIES OF ANY COUNTRY TO THE U.S.

UNCLASSIFIED

[redacted]

15. SO FAR, CHINA HAS BEEN CAREFUL NOT TO GET OUT IN FRONT OF MODERATE THIRD WORLD STATES IN ITS CRITICISMS OF THE U.S. ON REGIONAL ISSUES, AND IT HAS BEEN MOST CAUTIOUS ABOUT ITS CRITICISMS OF THE U.S. IN EUROPE AND EVEN MORE SO IN JAPAN. IN THE ASEAN STATES AND SOUTH ASIA, BEIJING ALSO DISPLAYS NO DESIRE TO UNDERMINE U.S. INFLUENCE; ON THE CONTRARY, IT HAS ENCOURAGED GREATER U.S. INVOLVEMENT IN THESE AREAS AND WOULD, FOR EXAMPLE, CLEARLY WELCOME AN IMPROVEMENT IN U.S.-INDIAN RELATIONS. IN LATIN AMERICA, CHINA'S PUBLIC AND PRIVATE POSITIONS REMAIN IN LINE WITH THOSE OF MODERATE STATES SUCH AS VENEZUELA AND MEXICO.

16. THE RELAXATION OF NON-POLITICAL TIES WITH MOSCOW HAS MORE SUBSTANCE, BUT IT ALSO REPRESENTS NO BASIC CHANGE IN CHINA'S STRATEGIC VIEW OF THE SOVIET UNION. RECENT MOVES WITH THE USSR ARE INTENDED TO GIVE CHINA MORE FLEXIBILITY IN ITS DIPLOMACY AND ENHANCE ITS NEW, MORE INDEPENDENT IMAGE WHILE GAINING A BIT MORE MANEUVERING ROOM BETWEEN THE SUPERPOWERS.

17. CHINA'S DEVELOPING TWO TRACK APPROACH TOWARD ITS RELATIONS WITH MOSCOW, IS ALSO IN LINE WITH CHINA'S RESOURCES ON ECONOMIC MODERNIZATION AND, TO THE EXTENT VITAL NATIONAL INTERESTS ALLOW, RELAXING TENSIONS AND CONFLICTS ALONG AND NEAR ITS BORDERS. BUT BEIJING IS EVIDENTLY SERIOUS WHEN IT PROCLAIMS THAT ONLY BASIC CHANGES IN SOVIET POLICIES AFFECTING CHINA'S VITAL INTERESTS CAN BRING ABOUT ANY FUNDAMENTAL IMPROVEMENT IN SINO-SOVIET RELATIONS.

18. CHINA'S ANTI-SUPERPOWER RHETORIC IS, OF COURSE, IRRITATING, AND ITS OCCASIONAL APPLICATION OF THE HEGEMONIC LABEL TO THE U.S. FLIES IN THE FACE OF FACT AND REASON. WE WILL CONTINUE TO TELL THE CHINESE THIS AND TO CAUTION THEM THAT WHILE WE FULLY EXPECT SHARP

[redacted]

CRITICISM FROM BEIJING ON MANY ISSUES, QUESTIONING OF U.S. FUNDAMENTAL MOTIVES CAN ONLY ERODE SUPPORT WITHIN THE U.S. FOR OUR RELATIONSHIP.

19. BUT, OVERALL, CHINA'S NEW, MORE INDEPENDENT POSTURE IS NOT THREATENING TO OUR STRATEGIC INTERESTS AND TO THE EXTENT IT ENHANCES CHINA'S INFLUENCE IN THE THIRD WORLD IT MAY ACTUALLY SERVE THOSE INTERSTS. THIS IS BECAUSE BEIJING'S DIPLOMACY IN THE THIRD WORLD IS STILL DIRECTED PRIMARILY AT COUNTERING AND WEAKENING SOVIET INFLUENCE. THE MORE SUBTLE APPROACH THAT BEIJING IS NOW EMPLOYING BY DOWNPLAYING THE ANTI-SOVIET BASIS OF ITS DIPLOMACY -- FOR EXAMPLE WITH LIBYA AND SYRIA -- SHOULD MAKE THEIR EFFORTS MORE EFFECTIVE. MOREOVER, CHINA'S GENERAL GOAL IN THE THIRD WORLD CONTINUES TO BE STABILITY, AND WHILE IT SIDES WITH THE THIRD WORLD ON ISSUES OF TRADE AND DEVELOPMENT, IT FOLLOWS THE LEAD OF MIANSTREAM AND MODERATE REGIONAL FORCES IN DOING SO.

2. CONSEQUENTLY, WE SHOULD BE CAREFUL NOT TO OVER-REACT PUBLICLY TO CHINA'S ANTI-SUPERPOWER RHETORIC. TO DO SO WOULD GIVE IT A DIGNITY IT DOES NOT DESERVE, AND PROVOKE A POLEMATICAL EXCHANGE, WHICH WOULD SERVE NEITHER OUR INTERESTS NOR THOSE OF THE REALPOLITIK PRACTIONERS IN BEIJING.

21. WE CAN EXPECT THAT CHINA'S IDENTIFICATION WITH AND CRITICISM OF THE U.S. WILL CONTINUE TO VARY OVER THE YEARS DEPENDING ON BOTH INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL DEVELOP-MENTS, INCLUDING THE HANDLING OF THE ENOTIONAL TAIWAN ISSUE. CHINESE CONSERVATIVES (MEANING NEO-MAOISTS AND STALINISTS) ARE UNCOMFORTABLE WITH CLOSE RELATION [redacted]

[redacted]

WITH THE U.S. AND WILL TEND TO PUSH FOR PUTTING MORE DISTANCE BETWEEN THE TWO COUNTRIES. BUT THEY ARE ALSO LIKELY TO BE GUIDED BY GEO-POLITICAL REALITIES, AND WHEN AND IF THE PERCEIVED WILL TEND TO LEAN TOWARD THE U.S. BUT ANY CHINESE GOVERNMENT WILL SEEK TO MAXIMIZE CHINA'S INDEPENDENT WORLD ROLE AND TO THE EXTENT THAT OBJECTIVE REALITIES PERMIT, AND WE SHOULD SEE THIS AS A NATURAL DEVELOPMENT. SUBJECT: REASONS FOR AND IMPLICATIONS OF DUAL EXCHANGE -- RATE SYSTEM

1[redacted]

2. SUMMARY. THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM AND THE ACCOMPANYING DEVALUATION OF THE PESO REFLECTS (1) THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING SYSTEM'S RELUCTANCE TO LEND TO MEXICO, (2) LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT, AND (3) (MORE IMMEDIATELY) THE INCREASE IN PRICES OF TORTILLAS, GASOLINE, ETC., ANNOUNCED AUGUST 1. THE DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM IS A REACTION TO A CRISIS RATHER THAN A

CONCERTED AND THOUGHTFUL ACTION TO HEAD OFF A CRISIS. THE DECISION TO MAINTAIN INTERNATIONAL CREDIT STANDING RATHER THAN OPT FOR A "SIEGE ECONOMY" THAT WOULD INCLUDE A FORMAL DEBT RESCHEDULING IS ENCOURAGING. ALSO, THE APPARENT DECISION TO REMOVE EXPORT INCENTIVES WILL EASE OUR TRADE RELATIONS. WHILE AN EXCHANGE RATE DETERMINED BY MARKET FORCES AND FREE FROM CENTRAL BANK INTERVENTION MAY BE ENOUGH TO STOP THE FLIGHT FROM THE PESO, IT MAY NOT BY ITSELF INDUCE CAPITAL REFLOWS. THE PUBLIC MAY WELL VIEW THIS AS ANOTHER RATCHETING-UP OF THE INFLATIONARY SPIRAL THAT IS BEYOND THE CONTROL OF THE GOM OR

ITS INSTITUTIONS. THE MEXICAN CRISIS IS FAR FROM OVER, BUT THERE IS A VERY SLIGHT POSSIBILITY THAT THE MOST RECENT MEASURES COULD CONSTITUTE THE PEAK OF THE CRISIS. IF NOTHING ELSE, THIS CONTINUING CRISIS SHOULD CURE MEXICANS OF USING INFLATIONARY POLICIES TO STIMULATE GROWTH. END SUMMARY.

UNCLASSIFIED

3. THE DUAL EXCHANGE SYSTEM/DEVALUATION IS IN SOME PART A RESULT OF THE INTERNATIONAL BANKERS' RELUCTANCE TO INCREASE LENDING TO MEXICO. THIS MEANT THAT THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT FORESEEN IN THE ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM OF APRIL 21 WAS NOT FINANCIABLE AND THAT ADDITIONAL MEASURES TO REDUCE THE EXTERNAL BORROWING REQUIREMENT WERE NECESSARY. MEXICANS PROBABLY WERE SENSING THIS AND ANTICIPATION OF ANOTHER DEVALUATION WAS GROWING. THE RUN FROM THE PESO THAT FORCED THE GOM'S HAND BEGAN FOLLOWING THE AUGUST 1 ANNOUNCEMENT OF PRICE INCREASES OF TORTILLAS, BREAD, GASOLINE AND ELECTRICITY. WHILE LEADERS OF VARIOUS SECTORS MADE FAVORABLE PUBLIC STATEMENTS, A NUMBER OF MEXICANS MUST HAVE BELIEVED

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

THAT THE PRICE INCREASES WOULD SET OFF ANOTHER INFLATIONARY SPIRAL. FEW PEOPLE UNDERSTOOD THAT THESE PRICE INCREASES WERE PART OF THE APRIL 21 PROGRAM AND WERE INCLUDED IN THE FORECASTS OF A 60-65 PERCENT CONSUMER PRICE INDEX INCREASE DURING 1982. THE RESULT WAS A MORE OR LESS SILENT RUN ON THE BANKS. WE DID NOT GET REPORTS OF THIS RUN AS IT OCCURRED NOR DO WE KNOW WHO THE DOLLAR-BUYERS WERE. THIS MAY INDICATE THAT PEOPLE WERE ACTING INDIVIDUALLY AND NOT IN RESPONSE TO SPREADING RUMORS OF A DEVALUATION. THERE ARE NO DATA ON THE MAGNITUDE OF THE RUN, BUT IT MUST HAVE BEEN SIMILAR TO THAT PRIOR TO THE FEBRUARY DEVALUATION. AS THE PRESIDENT SAID, THE BANK OF MEXICO WAS CLOSE TO RUNNING OUT OF RESERVES.

4. ANOTHER FACTOR IS THE CONTINUING LACK OF CONFIDENCE ON THE PART OF MEXICANS IN THEIR LEADERS AND GOVERNMENT INSTITUTIONS. THIS IS HARD TO RECONCILE WITH THE LARGE VOTER TURNOUT AND SUPPORT FOR THE GOVERNMENT PARTY AT THE JULY 4 ELECTIONS. THE NEW DEVALUATION WILL FURTHER REDUCE PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE GOVERNMENT. PUT ANOTHER WAY, THE GOM WOULD HAVE BEEN ABLE TO FINANCE AN $8 BILLION CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT THIS YEAR, BUT IT CANNOT FINANCE THIS, PLUS CAPITAL FLIGHTS THAT COULD REACH A SIMILAR MAGNITUDE.

5. FACED WITH THE PRESUMABLY IMMINENT EXHAUSTION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE RESERVES, GOM FINANCIAL OFFICIALS OPTED FOR A DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM THAT IS GEARED LARGELY TO PROTECT MEXICO'S RELATIONS WITH THE

UNCLASSIFIED

INTERNATIONAL BANKING SYSTEM. IN ORDER TO REDUCE THE BURDEN ON THE PUBLIC SECTOR BUDGET AND THE PRIVATE SECTOR, MOST INTEREST PAYMENTS WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR TRANSFER AT THE PREFERENTIAL RATE. FOREIGN EXCHANGE BEING SOLD AT THIS RATE WILL COME FROM PEMEX'S EXPORTS WHICH WILL BE $14-15 BILLION THIS YEAR. INTEREST PAYMENTS WILL BE OVER $12 BILLION. THIS DOES NOT LEAVE MUCH ROOM FOR "PRIORITY" IMPORTS. THE OTHER SOURCE OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE, PUBLIC SECTOR EXTERNAL BORROWINGS, MAY NOT BE VERY LARGE IN THE BALANCE OF THE YEAR. IN ANY CASE, THE BULK OF THIS BORROWING WILL BE TO RENEW MATURING DEBT. MEXICO'S PRIVATE SECTOR MUST BE GRATEFUL FOR THE INCLUSION OF PRIVATE SECTOR INTEREST PAYMENTS AT THE PREFERENTIAL RATE.

6. GOM OFFICIALS DO NOT BELIEVE THE PESO IS OVERVALUED IN TERMS OF PURCHASING POWER PARITY WHICH IS THE DOMINANT THEORY USED IN MEXICO TO EXPLAIN AND JUSTIFY CHANGES IN EXCHANGE RATES. THUS, THEY BELIEVE

THE 49 PESOS PER DOLLAR RATE IS APPROPRIATE AND PREFER TO IGNORE THE REDUCED ABILITY OR WILLINGNESS OF BANKS ET.AL. TO LEND TO MEXICO. AS ONE GOM FINANCIAL OFFICIAL TOLD THE WRITER AS WE WERE CHECKING ON QUOTES IN A BANK, "MEXICO MUST HAVE THE WORLD'S MOST UNDERVALUED CURRENCY." GOM OFFICIALS WERE RELUCTANT TO CHANGE THE RATE PER SE BECAUSE SUCH ACTION DID NOT SEEM JUSTIFIED BY THE ECONOMICS OF PURCHASING POWER PARITY.

7. THE DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM IS PREFERABLE TO SOME OF THE ALTERNATIVES THAT MAY BEST BE DESCRIBED

AS VARIANTS OF A "SIEGE ECONOMY." THESE INCLUDE A FREEZING OF DOLLAR AND/OR PESO TIME DEPOSITS, A MORATORIUM ON PRINCIPAL REPAYMENTS, OR A BROADER USE OF EXCHANGE CONTROLS. NEVERTHELESS, THE DUAL EXCHANGE SYSTEM IS HARDLY ATTRACTIVE. IT IS A FORM OF EXCHANGE CONTROL. IT WILL, MORE LIKELY THAN NOT, AGGRAVATE MEXICO'S CORRUPTION PROBLEMS. ALSO, MAINTAINING A UNITARY RATE WOULD SHARE THE ADJUSTMENT BURDEN MORE EQUITABLY.

8. WE ARE STILL NOT CERTAIN HOW THE SYSTEM WILL WORK. THE PREFERENTIAL RATE CHANGED 4 CENTAVOS ON FRIDAY AND MONDAY. THIS RATE WILL BE CONTROLLED BY THE BANK OF MEXICO AND THE SLIDE IS LIKELY TO ACCELERATE. THE "COST" OF FEEDING DOLLARS TO THE PREFERENTIAL MARKET WILL BE BORNE BY PEMEX AND THE TREASURY. AS THE TAX RATE ON PEMEX'S FOREIGN EXCHANGE EARNINGS IS ROUGHLY 50 PERCENT, TREASURY WILL SHARE MORE OR LESS EQUALLY IN THE LOSS OF POTENTIAL PESO REVENUE. WE HAVE BEEN TOLD THAT PUBLIC SECTOR PRINCIPAL REPAYMENTS WILL BE MADE

[redacted] UNCLASSIFIED

AT THE PREFERENTIAL RATE AND THAT PROCEEDS FROM PUBLIC SECTOR EXTERNAL BORROWING WILL BE CONVERTED TO PESOS AT THE PREFERENTIAL RATE. THE TREASURY HAS NEVER BEEN ABLE TO EXERCISE COMPLETE CONTROL OVER THE BORROWING ACTIVITIES OF PUBLIC SECTOR ENTITIES. THE DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM WILL OPEN UP NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR ILLEGAL GAIN. THE NEW SYSTEM REQUIRES PRIVATE SECTOR EXTERNAL PRINCIPAL REPAYMENTS TO BE MADE AT THE "GENERAL" RATE. THIS WILL ENCOURAGE THE MEXICAN BANKS AND PRIVATE FIRMS TO PETITION THEIR FOREIGN CREDITORS TO ROLL-OVER ALL MATURING DEBT. THE TECHNICAL REASON FOR DIVIDING TRANSACTIONS IN THIS WAY IS THEORETICALLY BECAUSE OF THE LIMITED AVAILABILITY OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE, BUT A RESULT IS TO ENCOURAGE AN INFORMAL MORATORIUM ON PRINCIPAL PAYMENTS. IF THE PRIVATE SECTOR WAS HARD PRESSED TO KEEP CURRENT AT 49:1, IT WILL BE IN MUCH WORSE SHAPE AT RATES IN EXCESS OF 70 PESOS PER DOLLAR. FURTHER, THE PRIVATE SECTOR IS LIKELY TO DELAY ALL INTEREST PAYMENTS UNTIL IT CAN BE DETERMINED WHETHER OR NOT SUCH PAYMENTS CAN BE MADE AT THE PREFERENTIAL RATE.

9. WE PRESUME THAT THE BANK OF MEXICO WILL NOT SUPPLY FOREIGN EXCHANGE TO THE "GENERAL" MARKET, BUT THAT IT WILL BUY FREIGN EXCHANGE FROM BANKS WHEN THIS IS IN EXCESS SUPPLY. MEXICAN BANKS MAY NOT BE ABLE TO RUN A TRULY FREE FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET. THE BANK OF MEXICO HAS ALWAYS (EXCEPT FOR A SHORT PERIOD IN 1976) BEEN THE FINAL PURCHASER

UNCLASSIFIED

OR SELLER OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE. FURTHER, BANKS ARE NOT PERMITTED TO TAKE A POSITION IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE. THIS PLUS A SMALLER VOLUME OF TRANSACTIONS MAY MAKE THE RATE FLUCTUATE SHARPLY IN THE GENERAL MARKET.

10. MEXICO'S ECONOMIC FUTURE--SPEAKING OF THE NEXT FEW MONTHS--IS VERY UNCERTAIN. WE SEE DEVELOPMENTS WITHIN A RANGE BETWEEN TWO SCENARIOS. THE FIRST AND OPTIMISTIC SCENARIO IS THAT CAPITAL FLIGHT CEASES, THERE IS NO GENERAL WAGE INCREASE, THE DECEMBER-DECEMBER CPI INCREASE IS 75 PERCENT RATHER THAN 65 PERCENT, AND THE YEAR-END EXCHANGE RATE IS 75 PESOS PER DOLLAR. THE SECOND AND MORE PESSIMISTIC SCENARIO IS THAT WAGES ARE INCREASED, PRICE INCREASES ACCELERATE, THE DEMAND FOR DOLLARS TO GET OUT OF PESOS IS STRONG CAUSING THE RATE TO DEPRECIATE TO 100:1 BY YEAR-END. THIS WOULD IMPLY A DECEMBER-DECEMBER CPI INCREASE OF ROUGHLY 85 PERCENT, WITH NO DECREASE IN INFLATION IN SIGHT.

11. WE BELIEVE DEVELOPMENTS OVER THE BALANCE OF THIS YEAR WILL LEAD TO ECONOMIC RESULTS SOMEWHERE BETWEEN THOSE NOTED. AT THIS POINT IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO PREDICT WHERE IN THE RANGE. IF A VOTE WERE TAKEN WE BELIEVE THE MORE PESSIMISTIC SCENARIO WOULD WIN. AT LEAST THIS IS HOW WE JUDGE THE PUBLIC MOOD. TO KEEP CLOSER TO THE OPTIMISTIC SCENARIO, THE GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE TO CONVINCE THE POPULATION AND INTERNATIONAL BANKERS THAT IT HAS A COHERENT ECONOMIC PACKAGE. ALSO, IT WILL HAVE TO MAKE PESO FINANCIAL ASSETS TRULY ATTRACTIVE. THIS MEANS NOT ONLY A COSTLY

UNCLASSIFIED

12. A FAILURE TO ACT MORE DECISIVELY WILL LEAD TO A CHAOTIC THREE AND A HALF MONTHS. THE PRESIDENT'S SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, PERFORMANCE (REPORTED SEPTEL) IS HARDLY ENCOURAGING. REASONS FOR HOPING (AND THAT IS THE APPROPRIATE WORD) THAT DEVELOPMENTS WILL TRACK THE MORE OPTIMISTIC SCENARIO INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING: (1) IF THE BANK OF MEXICO IS TRULY OUT OF THE MARKET, NO RESERVES WILL BE SPENT PROTECTING THE VALUE OF THE PESO; A "HIGH" RATE WILL REDUCE DEMAND FOR DOLLARS FOR CAPITAL FLIGHT; (2) UNEMPLOYMENT IS INCREASING WHICH SHOULD MAKE LABOR RELUCTANT TO PRESS FOR A GENERAL WAGE INCREASE; ALSO, THERE IS WIDESPREAD RECOGNITION THAT THE 10-20-30 PERCENT WAGE INCREASE GUIDELINES OF MID-MARCH WERE COUNTER-PRODUCTIVE; AND (3) THE CONSTRAINT IN AGGREGATE DEMAND EXISTING OVER RECENT MONTHS MAY CAUSE BUSINESSES,

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

BOTH LARGE AND SMALL, TO EXERCISE MORE RESTRAINT ON PRICE INCREASES THAN WAS THE CASE FOLLOWING THE INITIAL DEVALUATION IN MID-FEBRUARY.

13. THE DEMAND FOR CHANGE IS GROWING. LOPEZ PORTILLO RECOGNIZES THIS AND ADMITTED AS MUCH IN HIS AUGUST 7 REMARKS. DE LA MADRID WILL HAVE TO PROVIDE CHANGE OR AT LEAST THE IMPRESSION THEREOF. THIS IS UNFORTUNATE FOR PEOPLE SUCH AS SILVA-HERZOG AND MANCERA WHO ARE NOT TO BLAME FOR THIS CRISIS, BUT WILL PROBABLY HAVE TO BE SACRIFICED. THE NAMES OF POSSIBLE REPLACEMENTS THAT ONE HEARS ARE OF A CONSERVATIVE BENT, IN PARTICULAR EX-BANK OF MEXICO DIRECTOR GENERAL ERNESTO FERNANDEZ HURTADO WHO WAS KICKED OUT BY LOPEZ PORTILLO AND WHO IS A CLOSE RELATIVE OF MIGUEL DE LA MADRID HURTADO.

14. IF NOTHING ELSE, MEXICAN ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENTS THIS YEAR HAVE PROVED THE DANGER OF PURSUING INFLATIONARY POLICIES. LOPEZ PORTILLO ABONDONED THE EFFORTS TO REDUCE INFLATION TO U.S. LEVELS SOMETIME IN 1979. HE THOUGHT HE COULD INCREASE OUTPUT ENOUGH TO BRING INFLATION DOWN IN THE MEDIUM-TERM. THIS WAS PROBABLY NEVER A POSSIBILITY, BUT MADE EVEN LESS SO BY CHANGES IN THE WORLD ECONOMY. THE NEXT PRESIDENT IS GOING TO BE INCREASINGLY COMMITTED TO BRINGING INFLATION DOWN TO U.S. LEVELS. WHILE WE ARE GOING TO HEAR MANY PROPOSALS TO ACHIEVE THIS FROM BOTH THE LEFT AND THE RIGHT, WE BELIEVE THAT DE LA MADRID WILL ADOPT A CONSERVATIVE APPROACH.

15. THE DUAL EXCHANGE RATE SYSTEM WILL RESULT IN A LOWER-THAN-PROJECTED CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT. THE DEMAND FOR FOREIGN EXCHANGE WILL SLOW. THE MUCH HIGHER EXCHANGE RATE, AT LEAST FOR THE MOMENT, WILL DISCOURAGE SPENDING FOR DISCRETIONAL INVISIBLES SUCH AS TOURISM. DEMAND FOR IMPORTS WILL BE REDUCED NOT

ONLY BY THE MORE EXPENSIVE DOLLAR BUT ALSO BY UNCERTAINTY AS TO WHICH COMMODITIES WILL BE ON THE PRIORITY LIST. THERE WILL BE AN INFORMAL MORATORIUM ON ALL DEBT SERVICE PAYMENTS UNTIL THE NEW SYSTEM IS CLARIFIED. PUBLIC SECTOR DEBT SERVICE SHOULD RESUME VERY QUICKLY, BUT IT WILL TAKE LONGER FOR THE PRIVATE SECTOR BECAUSE OF THE NEED TO REGISTER THE PRIVATE DEBT AND DETERMINE WHICH WILL BE ELIGIBLE FOR THE PREFERENTIAL RATE. THIS PROCESS WILL TAKE A MATTER OF WEEKS AND WE ARE FAIRLY CERTAIN THAT PRIVATE BORROWERS WILL ASK THEIR EXTERNAL CREDITORS TO BEAR WITH THEM UNTIL THE REGISTRATION IS SECURED. ALSO, PRINCIPAL REPAYMENTS ARE LIKELY TO BE DELAYED OR ROLLED-OVER. WE BELIEVE THE CURRENT ACCOUNT DEFICIT COULD DROP FROM $8.0-8.5 BILLION TO $7 BILLION OR LESS. ECONOMIC ACTIVITY

IS ALSO LIKELY TO DECLINE. A ZERO OR NEGATIVE GROWTH RATE CANNOT BE RULED OUT.

16. THE MONETARY PHENOMENON SHOULD BE WATCHED. THE MEXICAN PRIVATE BANKS' LIABILITIES WERE SPLIT ROUGHTLY 60-40 BETWEEN PESO AND DOLLAR LIABILITIES PRIOR TO THIS DEVALUATION. NOW THEY WILL BE MUCH CLOSER TO 50-50. PUT ANOTHER WAY, THIS MEANS THAT THE MONETARY AGGREGATES WHICH INCLUDE DOLLAR-DENOMINATED LIABILITIES WILL INCREASE SHARPLY. WHILE THIS INVOLVES BALANCES OR STOCKS RATHER THAN FLOWS, WE SUSPECT

THAT THIS WILL ADD TO INFLATIONARY PRESSURES MORE THAN WOULD BE THE CASE IN AN ECONOMY WITH LESS OF A DUAL CURRENCY SYSTEM. THERE MAY BE OTHER ECONOMIES WITH DUAL CURRENCY SYSTEMS, BUT WE VERY MUCH DOUBT IF ANY HAVE HAD TO ADJUST THEIR OWN CURRENCY VIS A VIS THE OTHER CURRENCY TO THE SAME DEGREE AS MEXICO HAS DONE THIS YEAR. AT A RATE OF 75:1, THE PESO HAS BEEN DEVALUED BY 65 PERCENT SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE YEAR. DRAFTED BY L.P.PASCOE. SHANKLE

SUBJECT: POLITICAL REACTIONS TO LATEST MEXICAN DEVALUATION

REF: (A) MEXICO 10799, (B) MEXICO 10909

1. BEGIN SUMMARY: PRESIDENT LOPEZ PORTILLO'S WEEKEND EXPLANATION FOR THE AUGUST 5 DEVALUATION FELL SHORT OF RESTORING PUBLIC CONFIDENCE IN THE GOM. NEVERTHELESS, LABOR REMAINS CALM. IN FORTHCOMING WEEKS, MUCH WILL DEPEND ON THE ABILITY OF CTM PRESIDENT FIDEL VELAZQUEZ TO KEEP WAGE DEMANDS IN CHECK, AT LEAST UNTIL THE FULL IMPACT OF AUSTERITY BECOMES CLEARER, AND ON THE PRIVATE SECTOR'S RESPONSE TO COMMERCE SECRETARY DE LA VEGA'S CALL FOR PRICE RESTRAINT. THE DEVALUATION BROUGHT EXPECTED CRITICISM FROM ALL THE OPPOSITION PARTIES, AND HAS LED SOME LEFTIST PARTIES TO CALL FOR GREATER LEFTIST UNITY. END SUMMARY.

2. FLANKED BY HIS CABINET AND KEY MEMBERS OF THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND THE MEDIA, LOPEZ PORTILLO ADDRESSED

MEXICANS ON TV ON AUGUST 7 TO EXPLAIN THE COUNTRY'S SECOND MAJOR DEVALUATION IN SIX MONTHS (REF A). THE PRESIDENT'S APPEARANCE IN THIS MANNER CLEARLY RESPONDED TO ADVICE THAT SOME DRAMATIC STEP WAS NEEDED TO RESTORE THE PUBLIC'S SLIPPING CONFIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT. THE SPEECH FELL SHORT OF ITS DESIRED IMPACT. PUBLIC REACTIONS CONTINUE TO SHOW DISENCHANTMENT, ANGER, AND FRUSTRATION. IN PRIVATE CONVERSATIONS, WE HAVE EVEN HEARD ILL-CONSIDERED (AND CONSTITUTIONALLY IMPOSSIBLE) SUGGESTIONS THAT THE PRESIDENT SHOULD RESIGN AND TURN THE REINS GOVERNMENT OVER TO DE LA MADRID BEFORE HIS TERM ENDS DECEMBER 1.

3. IN THESE CIRCUMSTANCES, LOPEZ PORTILLO'S ONLY SAVING GRACE MAY BE THAT HE IS SEEN BY SOME TO BE TAKING THE HEAT FOR DRASTIC ECONOMIC SOLUTIONS IN ORDER TO FACILITATE (SOMEWHAT) DE LA MADRID'S TRANSITION, AND INSTILL HOPE THAT "THINGS WILL BE BETTER IN THE NEXT SEXENNIO." LOPEZ PORTILLO HIMSELF STATED THAT HE IS ATTEMPTING TO DO WHAT IS BEST SO THAT DE LA MADRID SHOULD NOT BE FACED WITH TOO MANY PROBLEMS. WE ARE NOT YET CERTAIN THAT, IN THE FOUR MONTHS BEFORE INAUGURATION, THE MERE PROSPECT OF A CHANGE IN THE PRESIDENCY WILL BE ENOUGH TO MAINTAIN DOMESTIC TRANQUILITY, ESPECIALLY IF THE SITUATION CONTINUES TO DETERIORATE, BUT AS OF NOW WE ARE NOT AWARE OF ANY DISTURBANCES, AND THE COUNTRY, BOTH IN URBAN AND RURAL AREAS, APPEARS CALM.

4. ONE KEY STABILIZING FACTOR IN THE SENSE OF DISCIPLINE THAT STILL PREVAILS IS THE INFLUENCE OF THE PRI, WHICH HAS INCREASINGLY COME UNDER DE LA MADRID'S CONTROL (IN CONTRAST TO EARLIER TRANSITION PERIODS, WHEN THE INCUMBENTS HELD THE REINS TO THE END). DLM TOOK OVER

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

DE FACTO CONTROL WHEN JLP ALLOWED HIM TO SUPERVISE NOMINATION OF SENATE AND CHAMBER OF DEPUTY CANDIDATES FOR THE JULY 4 ELECTIONS. DLM HAS ALREADY NAMED THE NEXT LEADERS OF THE SENATE AND CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES AS WELL AS THE NEXT GOVERNOR OF TABASCO. IN ADDITION TO THIS AND NORMAL PARTY DISCIPLINE, HE RETAINS THE LEVERAGE OF CONTROLLING FUTURE APPOINTMENTS TO CABINET AND SUBCABINET POSITIONS. THUS THE PRI HIERARCHY CAN BE EXPECTED TO SPEAK WITH ONE VOICE UNDER DLM'S DIRECTION; TO DEFEND THE GOVERNMENT'S DECISIONS, BE THEY RIGHT OR WRONG; AND TO ENCOURAGE SIMILAR STATEMENTS OF SUPPORT FROM LEADERS OF OTHER SECTORS WHO ARE IN ONE WAY OR ANOTHER BEHOLDEN TO THE PRI AND GOVERNMENT. (THIS IN PART MAY EXPLAIN THE RASH OF PUBLIC STATEMENTS LAST WEEK IN SUPPORT OF RISES IN SUBSIDIZED PRICES, AT THE SAME TIME AS A SILENT RUN ON THE PESO WAS GOING ON. SEE REF B.)

5. EQUALLY CRITICAL FOR CONTINUED CALM WILL BE THE ATTITUDE OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT, AND PARTICULARLY THE ROLE OF FIDEL VELAZQUEZ, PRESIDENT OF THE CONFEDERATION OF MEXICAN WORKERS (CTM). PRIVATELY, FIDEL ASSURED AIFLD REP AND OTHERS JUST BEFORE DEVALUATION THAT HE HAD BEEN CONSULTED ON ALL STEPS OF THE GOVERNMENT'S AUSTERITY PROGRAM. LABOR, HE SAID, WOULD EXPECT RESTITUTION OF ITS LOSS OF PURCHASING POWER, BUT WOULD MAKE NO DEMANDS UNTIL THE ENTIRE PROGRAM HAD BEEN PUT INTO EFFECT. IN PUBLIC STATEMENTS SINCE THEN, FIDEL HAS ATTEMPTED TO SOUND SOMEWHAT MORE SYMPATHETIC TO HIS CONSTITUENCY. ON AUGUST 5 HE STATED THAT LABOR WOULD NOT SEEK SALARY INCREASES IF AT THE SAME TIME PRE-

AUGUST 1 PRICES OF TORTILLAS, BREAD, GASOLINE, ETC. WERE RESTORED, AND OTHER BASIC PRICES WERE FROZEN. FURTHERMORE, VELAZQUEZ STATED THAT ALL MEMBER UNIONS OF THE CTM WOULD ABSTAIN FROM SEEKING WAGE INCREASES

SUPPLEMENT TO REMARKS OF MICHAEL R. DONOVAN - AUGUST 3, 1982

The following is a summary of specific points of disagreement between the facts, as I know them, and the official version of the investigation as it has been presented to me. This summary was prepared prior to meeting with Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs, Thomas O. Enders. That meeting took Place on Wednesday, July 28, 1982.

I. The Official Version.

On February 17, 1982, I met with Assistant Secretary Thomas Enders in his office, together with represenatives of the families of the other women who were murdered. At that meeting, Mr. Enders presented to us, the State Department's version of murder of my sister:

First, the murder was committed by five national guardsmen; a sub-sargeant, Luis Antonio Colindres Aleman, and four privates.

Second, the five were acting entirely on their own initiative, without direction, supervision, or even encouragement from their superiors.

Third, the motive for the murder was that the guardsmen suspected the women of possibly being subversive, because they (Jean and Dorothy) carried large handbags, which could conceal weapons or explosives.

Fourth, the men who perpetrated the murder were the only ones to cover-up what they had done.

II. Inconsistancies In The State Department Version.

From all that I know, it would appear that the five guardsmen currently under arrest, are indeed the perpetrators of the crime. I am not convinced that they were the only perpetrators, however.

The other guardsmen on duty at the airport on the night of December 2, 1980, testified that the five guardsmen currently under arrest were dressed in civilian clothes, but carried their government issue G-3 rifles, and no other firearms. Father John Spain of MaryKnoll, was the only American present in the examining room when the Salvadoran medical examiner examned the four bodies. According to John Spain, the wounds of Jean and Dorothy were quite different from the wounds of Ita and Maura. John told us that he remarked about this to the doctor, who told him that Jean and Dorothy's wounds were typical of the government issue G-3 rifle, while the much smaller wounds of Ita and Maura were typical of a 22 caliber pistol. Latter, according to John, when the doctor examined the backs of the heads of Ita and Maura, he told John that the murder weapon had in fact been a 22 magnum. When John asked the doctor what the significance of a 22 magnum was, the doctor replied that the "death squad" uses 22 magnum, and for that reason, he would not be indicating in his report what type of weapon was used.

The second point made by Mr. Enders, that the five guardsmen were acting entirely on their own intiative without influence from their superiors, is even more suspect.

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

From the statements of Carlos Paredes, a former Salvadoran government minister, we know that one month before their murders, the MaryKnoll nuns were violently denounced at the Presidential Palace by General Jose Garcia, the head of the army. It is not unreasonable to assume that this may be directly connected to the events of December 2, 1980. In a letter to me last week, Mr. L. Craig Johnstone, of the State Department, indicated that the Department is trying to locate Mr. Paredes "...who we believe to be living in Mexico." Why do they wait twenty months?! I have spoken to Mr. Paredes on several occassions, merely by calling him o the telephone - yet the Government of the United State claims that it can not find this man!

On several occasions, during the month before her death, Jean was followed by a helicopter, as she rode her motorbike on a mountain road. Jean reported that the helicopter followed her for several hours at a time, at tree top level. Ita Ford also reported being followed by a helicopter during this period. All of us who have followed the situation in El Salvador know how few helicopters that country has, and how important that government considers these helicopters to be. Accordingly, the use of such a rare and valuable resource must be controlled only at the highest levels of authority. The use of the helicopters in this case indicates the gravity with which those in authority held the contemplation of the murder of American citizens. They were quite willing to commit extensive resources to an effort to find a justification for the murder of these women, correctly anticipating the serious repercussions of such an action. Such decisions could not possibly have been made at the level of enlisted men, or even at the level of junior officers.

A sign was posted on the door of the house where Ita Ford and Maura Clarke lived in Chalatenango, which warned that all who live here will be killed. Even in a country so violent as El Salvador, it is highly unlikely that such a threat would be received on the day of one's murder from a source unconected with the murder, yet the State Department's explaination is unable to explain these coincidences.

Former U.S. Ambassador Robert White has testified that one of his contacts intercepted a military radio message which said "she's not on the first flight we'll have to wait for the next one." Mr. White stated that the message was clearly refering to Ita Ford. This is totally inconsistant with the State Department's official explaination of the crime. Ita Ford was still out of the country during the afternoon when the guardsman saw the women in the airport building. Also, the women were supposedly "two white women...who apparently were not Salvadoran Nationals"; which would indicate that the murderers were not aware of the exact identities of their victims. Yet, the radio message clearly refered to the fact that Ita Ford's scheduled flight was overbooked, and that she had to take a later plane.

Sister Maria Rickelman, of the MaryKnoll order, was on board the plane which brought Ita Ford and Maura Clarke to El Salvador on December 2, 1980. Maria was remaining on the plane for the continuation of the flight to Miami. During the layover in San Salvador, national guardsmen boarded the plane, and questioned Maria about her identity. The national guardsmen were looking for Ita Ford! This incident, together with the intercepted military radio trafic, clearly indicates a serious and organized effort on the part of the Salvadoran National Guard to locate Ita Ford in the hours prior to her death. If the guardsmen were looking for Ita Ford for a reason other than to kill her, it is extremely unlikely that she would be able to elude their search, then enter a van which is then stopped by the National Guard for totally unrelated reasons, and finally be killed by the national guardsmen who are supposed to be looking for her. Through all of the five hours from the kidnapping of the women and their van until the final killings, the five guardsmen did not recognize that the object of their search was the woman they were murdering. Yet, this is what Mr. Enders would have all of us believe. It is far more probable that the national guardsmen were searching for Ita Ford for the purpose of killing her, she did not elude their search, and they accomplished their task.

On page 27 of the testimony provided to us by the State Department, witness Vidal Cruz Piche, a national guardsman testified that guardsman Daniel Canales Ramirez, one of those accused in this crime, had five thousand dollars during the days immediately following the murders. On page 31 of the testimony Jose Luis Monterrosa, a national guardsman, testified that sub sargent Colindres Aleman "appeared with lots of money, and purchased luxury goods..." the testimony goes on to state that Colindres Aleman obtained a television set, living room furniture and a tape recorder. He also stated that Canales Ramirez had $5,000. At our meeting of February 17, 1982, I pointed out to Secretary Enders that the $5,000 in the possession of Canales Ramirez, and an unknown but substantial sum of money in the possession of Colindres Aleman were inconsistant with a theory that these men acted alone. On the contrary, the money would indicate that the men were acting on orders from higher authorities, and that they were well paid for following orders. Mr. Enders replied to me that the investigators have not found any connection between the cash and any other aspect of this case. I submitted then, and I submit now that their can be no other explaination than a pay off. These men were totally incapable of performing any service for which they would be so compensated, other than murder.

We have since learned, from the State Department, that a second sergeant was attached to the unit from which the five arrested guardsmen came. This second sergeant has stated to the FBI that he knew of the crime from Colindres Aleman within twenty four hours of its commission. This sergeant claims that Colindres Aleman sought to enlist his help in covering up the crime. The sergeant retired from the National Guard one week later, and moved to California where he has been living ever since, under the protection of the FBI. With his retirement and relocation to the United States coming so close to this crime, it is logical to suspect that this sergeant may well have received a windfall similar to the $5,000 received by each of the arrested guardsmen. The refusal of the FBI to question the sergeant on this point, and its further refusal to allow anyone else access to this man constitutes an obstruction of justice by the FBI.

On the day after the murders, the home of Jean and Dorothy was ransacked by persons unknown. The items taken, however, were not of the type that would interest the average theif; they were diaries and letters written by my sister. Further indication that she was eliminated for reasons of policy rather than reasons of lust or greed.

The third point made by Mr. Enders is that the motive for the murders were the suspicions of the guardsmen who initally saw Jean and Dorothy in the airport

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights

baggage claim area.

Corporal Perez Nieto testified that he had seen Jean and Dorothy in the airport terminal earlier in the day, and had reported to Colindres Aleman that "...he considered their manner suspicious because he noticed they might also be carrying firearms in their handbags." In a letter to me dated April 20, 1982, Mr. Enders states "Colindres Aleman ordered the murders...he acted on the basis of suspicions generated by the national guardsman who initially spotted the churchwomen at the airport." Clearly, then, the State Department is relying on this testimony of Perez Nieto for its theory of motive. In that same testimony, Perez Nieto stated that he identified Jean and Dorothy to Colindres Aleman over the telephone, as "...two white women...who apparently were not Salvadoran Nationals." clearly then, Colindres Aleman was aware that the women were not Salvadoran (and probably American).

Several of the guardsmen on duty that night testified that upon returning to the barracks on the night of December 2, 1980, Colindres Aleman refered to the women as "subversive nuns." Since none of the women were dressed as nuns, nor did they have nuns habits amoung their belongings, Colindres Aleman would not have known that any of women were nuns. Colindres Aleman's knowledge that the women were nuns is inconsistant with the State Department's large handbag theory in that his knowledge of the women was supposed to be entirely from their physical appearance.

A period of five hours passed between the capture of the women at the airport at dusk, and the fatal gun shots which were heard at about 11:30 PM. What happened during this five hour period? Mr. Enders told us, at our February 17 meeting that most of this time was spent in the town of Zacatecoluca, the site of the regional National Guard headquarters. According to Mr. Enders, the five national guardsmen went into and out of the regional headquarters at various times, but they never took the women inside. the women, according to Mr. Enders, were kept outside in the parked van. It seems far more likely that the women were taken into the regional headquarters for interrogation. The guardsmen would not have spent so many hours within walking distance of their superiors, while hiding from them the fact that four American women were in their custody. Had they sought to hide this from their superiors, they would have avoided Zacatecoluca, if possible. They would have remained there for a minimum length of time - far less than four hours - had it been impossible to avoid going to the headquarters! A more reasonable explaination is that those in command at the regional headquarters were directing the activities of these five men on the night of December 2, 1980.

III. Unanswered questions.

There are a number of questions which I feel should have been answered by any competant investigator. In this case, however, most of these questions have never been asked:

1. What were the orders under which Perez Nieto was operating on the afternoon of December 2, 1980, which caused him to become concerned about the size of women's handbags?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

2. When Jean and Dorothy left the national airport the first time, was their van searched. If so, what was found? If not, why not - especially given the suspicions reported by guardsman Perez Nieto?

3. Who bradcast the radio message, and why? Who was the intended recipient of the message. Who was monitoring arriving passengers at the airport, and why? What were his orders that day? Where are the military transmitters located at the airport? Who has access to them? Who has custody of them?

4. Who were the national guardsmen who boarded the plane? What were their orders? Why were they looking for Ita Ford? How often do national guardsmen board international flights?

5. Was it common for the gate guards to control traffic so as to isolate one vehicle on the exit road? How often is this done?

6. What officers were on duty, on the night of December 2, 1980, at the regional headquarters? To whom does each of these officers report? What were their orders on that night?

7. Where did the guardsmen get the large sums of money? Who paid the money?

8. Why did General Garcia denounce the nuns at the presidential palace? Who was present at the palace on that day - especially who from the National Guard?

9 Why has the FBI laboratory not determined the source of the red paint smear on the side of the women's van? What pressures have been brought to bear on the FBI, in this case, which would influence them to do less than a professional job?

10. Why have only six of 85 original suspects, on duty that night been checked for fingerprints? Why have two of the five men now held on charges not been fingerprinted?

11. Why have only six of 85 guardsmen's weapons been test fired for ballistics tests?

12 Why has Hans Christ - presently living in Miami - not been questioned concerning this case? Why has the Lieutenant, to whom the accussed men reported, not been questioned in this investigation? Why has the other sargeant attached to this unit - who now lives in the U.S. - never been questioned?

13. Why has the FBI never questioned Maria Rickelman, John Spain, Christine Rody (Jean and Dorothy's roommate), or Carlos Paredes?

14. Why has no attempt been made to determine the identity of the fingerprints found on the sign attached to the home of the Maryknoll Sisters?

RELEASED
El Salvador: Human Rights
Special Project (1993)

15. Why has our government withheld facts from the families of the women who were slain? How can these documents impact on national security, unless they indicate the involvement of officials of the Salvadoran Government? Why does our government continually make public statements, concerning this case, which they know to be incorrect and misleading?

SUBJECT: MEXICO REMAINS CALM IN SPITE OF ECONOMIC CRISIS

REF: (A) MEXICO 10977

1. SUMMARY. SINCE REFTEL SURFACE CALM HAS CONTINUED TO PREVAIL THROUGHOUT COUNTRY IN SPITE OF ECONOMIC CRISIS, WITH SECTOR LEADERS STILL EXPRESSING PUBLIC SUPPORT FOR GOVERNMENT ACTIONS. GOM MAY HAVE UNDERTAKEN SOME PREVENTIVE MEASURES AGAINST POSSIBLE DISTURBANCES, BUT THERE ARE NO OVERT SIGNS OF TROUBLE. PRIVATE CITIZENS ARE REELING FROM FINANCIAL SHOCK, BUT MOST ACCEPT NEED FOR GOM MEASURES, HOWEVER PAINFUL. POLITICAL LEFT HAS THROWN FULL SUPPORT BEHIND EXCHANGE CONTROLS, BUT IS PREDICTABLY CRITICIZING RESORT TO INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF). END SUMMARY.

2. DESPITE THE FINANCIAL ANGUISH OF THE LAST TWO WEEKS' EVENTS FOR THE MIDDLE AND UPPER CLASS AND FOR BORDER RESIDENTS, THE COUNTRY REMAINS STABLE AND CALM, WITH ALL LEADING SECTORS OF SOCIETY CALLING FOR NATIONAL UNITY IN SUPPORT OF THE GOVERNMENT'S EFFORTS TO ALLEVIATE MEXICO'S FINANCIAL CRISIS. RECENTLY, THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND OTHER RELIGIOUS GROUPS JOINED THE CHORUS OF SUPPORTERS. THE REVEREND FRANCISCO RAMIREZ MEZA, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY OF THE EPISCOPAL COMMISSION FOR SOCIAL COMMUNICATION, STATED THAT THROUGH UNITY MEXICANS CAN OVERCOME THE PRESENT ECONOMIC CRISIS, AND CALLED ON THE COMMUNICATIONS MEDIA NOT TO DEAL IN RUMORS. EVEN LEFT-LEANING BISHOP MENDEZ ARCEO OF CUERNAVACA REFRAINED FROM CRITICIZING MEXICO'S "ESTABLISHMENT" FOR THE CRISIS, STRESSING ONLY THAT ALL SHOULD JOIN IN EFFORTS TO OVERCOME ITS TERRIBLE EFFECTS.

UNCLASSIFIED

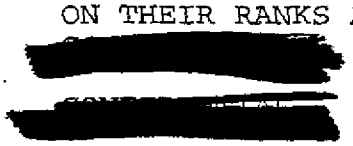
3. ALL MEXICANS ARE UPSET WITH THE IMPACT THE GOM MEASURES WILL HAVE ON THEIR LIVES. SOME CLEVER SPECULATORS MAY HAVE PROFITED FROM EXCHANGE MANIPULATION. MANY OTHERS, HOWEVER, HAVE SUFFERED SEVERELY. THE LATTER GROUP IS REELING FROM COMBINED IMPACT OF DEVALUATION AND THE EFFECTIVE 40-50 PERCENT LOSS THEY HAVE JUST SUSTAINED ON THE DOLLAR ACCOUNTS THAT MANY OF THEM KEPT FOR VARIOUS PURPOSES; E.G., TRAVEL. ONE CONTACT COMPARED THE SITUATION TO THE BREAKING OF A FLOOD GATE: PEOPLE ARE FROZEN WITH SHOCK, BUT DON'T YET KNOW WHICH WAY TO RUN. OTHERS HAVE REACTED WITH GRIM IRONY, COMPARING "MEX-DOLLARS" TO MONOPOLY MONEY, ETC. ALL REMAIN INCENSED AT THE ADMINISTRATION'S PATCHWORK MISHANDLING OF THE ECONOMY, BUT SOME SHOW CLEAR RELIEF THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS NOW (FINALLY) GONE TO THE IMF, AND ADMIT THAT THEY THEMSELVES MUST FACE SOME RETRENCHMENT AFTER LIVING "PRETTY WELL" OVER THE LAST FIVE YEARS. WE ARE STILL NOT AWARE OF ANY TALK OF EXTRA-CONSTITUTIONAL SOLUTIONS.

4. LABOR LEADERS ARE ALSO CONTINUING TO IMPOSE RESTRAINT ON THEIR RANKS AND TO SUPPORT GOVERNMENT MEASURES. CALLS



UNCLASSIFIED

FOR WAGE INCREASES, SOONER OR LATER, HAVE BEEN COUCHED IN COMPROMISING TERMS RATHER THAN BEING EXPRESSED AS OUTRIGHT DEMANDS. VICTOR CERVERA PACHECO, DIRECTOR OF THE NATIONAL CONFEDERATION OF CAMPESINOS (CNC) STATED THAT THE GOM'S ECONOMIC MEASURES, FAR FROM PROVOKING VIOLENCE IN THE RURAL AREAS, HAVE THE FULL SUPPORT OF THE CAMPESINO SECTOR. HE CONTINUED THAT CNC MEMBERS SHOULD NOT SUFFER FROM THE RECENT MONETARY ACTIONS, AND A PROJECTED UPWARD REVISION OF PRICES OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS ON OCTOBER 2 SHOULD HELP AVOID A FALL IN THE REAL WAGES OF AGRICULTURAL WORKERS. REPRESENTATIVES OF THE CONFEDERATION OF MEXICAN WORKERS (CTM) STATED THAT A TOTAL CONTROL OF EXCHANGE RATES WAS NEEDED, AND EXPRESSED SUPPORT OF THE IDEA OF CREATING WITHIN THE NATIONAL BANK OF MEXICO A BRANCH IN CHARGE OF REGULATING THE FLOW OF DOLLARS.

5. LABOR MAY SOON SEEK SOME RELIEF, HOWEVER. THE LABOR CONGRESS (CT) ANNOUNCED THAT ORGANIZED LABOR WOULD SEEK A PROMPT WAGE INCREASE OF AT LEAST 9 PERCENT, BECAUSE THIS IS THE PERCENTAGE BY WHICH THE WORKERS' BUYING POWER WAS AFFECTED DUE TO THE GOVERNMENT'S AUGUST 1 PRICE INCREASES. FURTHER, THE CONGRESS MAINTAINED THAT THE EFFECTS OF THE LATEST DEVALUATION WOULD HAVE TO BE TAKEN INTO CONSIDERATION. HOWEVER, THE PRESIDENT OF THE CONGRESS ANNOUNCED, AFTER A MEETING WITH FIDEL VELAZQUEZ (CTM), WITH ANGEL OLIVO SOLIS OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WORKERS CONFEDERATION (COR), AND WITH NAPOLEON GOMEZ SADA OF THE METALLURGICAL MINERS UNION, THAT THE SALARY ADJUSTMENT WOULD NOT BE AN OUTRIGHT LABOR DEMAND. RATHER, IT SHOULD BE ARRIVED AT THROUGH AN ACCORD BETWEEN LABOR AND BUSINESS

AND THE EXEUCTIVE BRANCH OF GOVERNMENT. THIS WOULD SUGGEST THAT NO IMMEDIATE WAGERISE IS IN THE OFFING.

7. ALTHOUGH THE LEFT HAS GENERALLY SUPPORTED EXCHANGE CONTROLS, IT HAS LEVELLED SHARP CRITICISM AGAINST THE GOM'S APPROACH TO THE INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND (IMF). THE LEFT HAS CHARACTERIZED THE MOVE VARIOUSLY AS A

A BURDEN TO WORKERS (SINCE BOTH WAGES AND PRICES CAN BE AFFECTED THROUGH IMF CONTROLS), AND/OR AS UNNECESSARY, ON THE GROUNDS THAT THE CRISIS CAN BE CONTROLLED THROUGH DOMESTIC FINANCIAL MEASURES. SUBJ: DUARTE CLARIFIES REPORTED STATEMENTS ON D'AUBUISSON

1. () SAN SALVADOR'S AFTERNOON DAILY "DIARIO LATINO" OF 8/18/82 REPORTS SOME RECENT REMARKS BY FORMER PROVISONAL PRESIDENT DUARTE. DUARTE RESPONDS TO INQUIRIES CONCERNING REPORTS THAT DURING HIS RECENT TRIP TO EUROPE, HE ACCUSED ARENA PARTY LEADER ROBERTO D'AUBUISSION OF PARTICIPATING IN THE MURDER OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO. DUARTE NOTES THAT THERE IS A MASSIVE DISINFORMATION CAMPAIGN DIRECTED AGAINST EL SALVADOR. JOURNALISTS FROM EVERY COUNTRY THAT HE VISITED ASKED HIM ABOUT D'AUBUISSON'S POSSIBLE INVOLVEMENT IN THE MURDERS. DUARTE ASSERTS THAT HE ALWAYS ANSWERED THE QUESTIONS BY SAYING THAT THERE [redacted]

WAS NO PROOF OF ANY INVOLVEMENT. DUARTE CONFIRMS THAT THERE EXISTS A DOCUMENT WHICH MANY OVERSEAS CRITICS BELIEVE SUPPORTS THE CHARGE THAT D'AUBUISSON WAS INVOLVED. DUARTE REPORTS THAT HE RECEIVED AND STUDIED THE DOCUMENT WHILE HAS WAS A MEMBER OF THE REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNING JUNTA. THE DOCUMENT WAS THE BASIS FOR THE ARREST OF D'AUBUISSON IN MAY 1980. HOWEVER, DUARTE NOTES THAT THE DOCUMENT OFFERS NO PROOF OF D'AUBUISSON'S INVOLVEMENT OR THAT OF ANYONE ELSE IN THE MURDER.

TEXT OF TELEGRAM 82SAN SA006880

DUARTE BELIEVES THAT THIS DOCUMENT WAS TAKE ABROAD BY COL. MAJANO AFTER HE LOST HIS SEAT ON THE JUNTA.

2. (C) COMMENT: DUARTE'S CAPSULIZED SUMMARY OF THE OFT-MENTIONED BY SELDOME QUOTED DOCUMENT AND THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF ITS DISTRIBUTION OVERSEAS APPEARS TO BE ACCURATE. ON THE OTHER HAND, HIS STATEMENT CONCERNING THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON'S ARREST IN MAY 1980 IS NOT ACCURATE AS WE UNDERSTAND THE FACTS OF THE CASE. DUARTE SEEMS TO IMPLY THAT D'AUBUISSON WAS ARRESTED FOR SUSPECTED PARTICIPATION IN THE MURDER OF ARCHBISHOP ROMERO OR AT THE VERY LEAST, FOR HIS POSSESSION OF THE INCRIMINATING DOCUMENTS. IN FACT, WE UNDERSTAND THAT ROBERTO D'AUBUISSON WAS ARRESTED FOR SUSPECTED PLOTTING TO OVERTHROW THE GOES.

REF: MEXICO 11483

1. THIS REPORT SUMMARIZES THE MOST IMPORTANT FINANCIAL AND RELATED ARTICLES THAT APPEARED IN THE DAILY MEXICO CITY PRESS DURING AUGUST 20-23, 1982.

2. NOT BEING PUBLISHED ON THE WEEKENDS, EL FINANCIERO (FINANCIAL DAILY) CARRIED THE FOLLOWING BANNER HEADLINE AUGUST 23: "NOT EVEN ONE SOFT DOLLAR FOR ENTREPRENEURS." IN THIS ARTICLE A MEXICAN ECONOMIC CONSULTANT CLAIMS THE PRIVATE SECTOR WILL RECEIVE NONE OF MEXICO'S ESTIMATED "PREFERENTIAL DOLLARS" THIS YEAR BECAUSE GOM NEEDS ALL OF THEM TO MEET ITS "OBLIGATIONS

AND IMPORTS." HAVING TO PAY THEIR EXTERNAL DEBT AND IMPORT BILLS IN "HARD DOLLARS" WILL MAKE "CONDITIONS EVEN MORE DIFFICULT" FOR THESE COMPANIES THAN THEY ALREADY FACE ACCORDING TO THE CONSULTANT. ANOTHER LEAD STORY IS ENTITLED: "IMF CONDEMNS TEMPTATION OF MONETARY EXPANSION TO STIMULATE DECLINING ECONOMIES." THIS ARTICLE SUMMARIZES RECENTLY RELEASED ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WASHINGTON-BASED FUND. A COMPANION ARTICLE CALLED THIS RAPID RESPONSE OF THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL COMMUNITY A "TESTIMONY OF THE GRAVITY

OF THE SITUATION" CAUSED BY MEXICO'S FINANCIAL CRISIS FOR WORLD MONETARY SYSTEM. THE SUNDAY EXCELSIOR CARRIED THE FOLLOWING LEAD STORY: "SALARY ADJUSTMENT WITH THE PRIVATE SECTOR, WITHOUT GOVERNMENT ARBITRAGE: THE LABOR CONGRESS." IN THIS ARTICLE KEY LABOR LEADERS CALLED FOR AN "OPEN DIALOGUE BETWEEN WORKERS AND MANAGEMENT" WITHOUT GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE. ONE LABOR LEADER IS QUOTED AS SAYING SUCH DIRECT TALKS WILL LEAD TO SMALLER WAGE INCREASES THAN THOSE ADOPTED AFTER THE PREVIOUS DEVALUATION. ANOTHER ARTICLE NOTES THAT THE VALUE OF THE PESO HAS SLOWLY RATCHETED UPWARD RELATIVE TO THE DOLLAR SINCE THE EXCHANGE MARKET WAS REOPENED. THE LEAD HEADLINE ON AUGUST 23 READS: "IMMORALITY AND CORRUPTION SAP CONFIDENCE: QUINTERO." END SUMMARY.

2. ACCORDING TO PHILLIPS AND ARRIOLA, MEXICO PLANS TO PROPOSE "BROADER ACCESS TO THE IMF FOR LDC'S FACING SEVERE NEGATIVE BALANCES IN THEIR ECONOMIES." THEY SAID MEXICO WILL PROPOSE, AMONG OTHER MEASURES, THE FOLLOWING:

-- MEXICO WILL PUSH FOR A 120 PERCENT INCREASE IN QUOTAS. PHILLIPS AND ARRIOLA NOTED THAT MOST INDUSTRIALIZED COUNTRIES "WILL NOT WANT A QUOTA INCREASE ABOVE 40-50 PERCENT." THEY ALSO NOTED THAT MEXICO'S CURRENT QUOTA IS 802 MILLION SDR'S AND THAT QUOTAS DETERMINE VOTING POWER, ACCESS TO RESOURCES, AND THE DISTRIBUTION OF SDR'S.

-- MEXICO WILL SUPPORT THE POSITION OF THE G-24

COUNTRIES REGARDING THE INCREASE IN THE SHARE OF TOTAL QUOTAS BY THE LDC'S FROM 37 TO 45 PERCENT.

IN THE PRESENT MOMENTS, THE PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION HAS SUFFICIENT ABILITY AND EXPERIENCE TO PROVIDE ENTIRELY THE PUBLIC SERVICE OF BANKING AND CREDIT, CONSIDERING THAT THE FUNDS COME FROM THE MEXICAN PEOPLE, INVESTORS AND SAVERS, TO WHOM IT IS NECESSARY TO FACILITATE ACCESS TO CREDIT;

THAT THE LACK OF DIVERSIFICATION OF CREDIT HAS NOT RESULTED SO MUCH FROM NOT HAVING GRANTED AN IMPORTANT PART OF THE CREDIT TO ANY ONE OR DETERMINED PERSONS BUT FROM A LACK OF TIMELY AND CHEAP CREDIT TO THE MAJORITY OF THE POPULATION, WHICH CAN BE AMENDED WITH THE CONTRIBUTION OF THE BANKING SYSTEM'S EMPLOYEES

AND WITH THE CONFIDENCE OF THE INVESTING AND SAVING PUBLIC;

THAT THE PEOPLE OF MEXICO, WHO HAVE GIVEN THEIR MONEY AND VALUABLES TO THE BANKS FOR THEIR MANAGEMENT OR CUSTODY, AND WHO HAVE GENERATED THE ECONOMIC STRUCTURE THAT THESE PRESENTLY HAVE, ARE NOT ADVERSELY AFFECTED AND CAN CONTINUE TO RECEIVE THIS IMPORTANT PUBLIC SERVICE AND IN ORDER THAT THEIR RIGHTS ARE NOT AT ALL DIMINISHED, IT HAS BEEN DECIDED TO EXPROPRIATE FOR CAUSES OF PUBLIC NEED, THE POSSESSIONS OF THE PRIVATE CREDIT INSTITUTIONS;

THAT THE ECONOMIC CRISIS THAT MEXICO IS CURRENTLY FACING, WHICH IN LARGE PART HAS BEEN AGGRAVATED BY THE LACK OF DIRECT CONTROL OVER THE WHOLE CREDIT SYSTEM, ALSO FORCES THIS EXPROPRIATION IN ORDER TO MAINTAIN THE PUBLIC PEACE AND TO ADOPT THE NECESSARY MEASURES TO CORRECT INTERNAL DISORDERS RESULTING FROM THE APPLICATION OF A CREDIT POLICY THAT HAS HURT THE INTERESTS OF THE COMMUNITY;

THAT THE FIRM AND SUSTAINED DEVELOPMENT WHICH THE COUNTRY NEEDS AND WHICH IS BASED IN LARGE PART ON DEMOCRATIC AND PARTICIPATIVE NATIONAL PLANNING, REQUIRES THAT DEVELOPMENT FINANCING AS WELL AS EXPENSES AND PUBLIC INVESTMENT, SUCH AS CREDIT, BE SERVED OR ADMINISTERED BY THE STATE, IN ORDER TO BE CONSISTENT WITH THE SOCIAL INTEREST AND PUBLIC ORDER, SO THAT DEVELOPMENT FINANCING AND PUBLIC INVESTMENT ARE MANAGED ACCORDING TO A STRATEGY OF DISTRIBUTION

The Honorable Howard Metzenbaum
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Metzenbaum:

I note in the July/August issue of Latin America Update that the Chilean government has appointed Brig. Gen. Christian Ackernecht as a military attache for its embassy in Washington. According to the article, Gen. Ackernecht was asked to leave a similar post in Bonn because of allegations in Der Spiegel accusing him of torture. I believe that such an appointment in this country should not be accepted until our State Department has held an independent investigation of these allegations.

To accept his presence without investigations is to condone such atrocities perpetuated by the Chilean government and the Pinochet regime.

Thank you for your listening ear.

Sincerely.

2. SUMMARY: CTM LEADER FIDEL VELAZQUEZ TOLD LABATT ON AUG 27 THAT NEGOTIATIONS ARE TAKING PLACE BETWEEN LABOR AND MANAGEMENT TO SEEK A PARTIAL ALLEVIATION TO THE CURRENT ECONOMIC CRISIS. THEY ARE AIMED AT HOLDING DOWN PRICE INCREASES, ATTEMPTING TO STABILIZE EMPLOYMENT AND PROVIDING A LIMITED WAGE INCREASE TO PRIVATE SECTOR WORKERS. HE SAID NOTHING WOULD COME FORTH UNTIL AFTER THE PRESIDENT'S SEPT. 1 REPORT TO THE NATION. IN THAT REPORT, HE SAID THE PRESIDENT WILL PROBABLY ANNOUNCE THE PAYMENT OF THE RETROACTIVE PORTION OF APRIL'S 30-20-10 PERCENT WAGE INCREASE FOR PUBLIC SECTOR EMPLOYEES AS WELL AS SOME SMALL REVISION OF

PUBLIC SECTOR WAGES. FIDEL ALSO SAID THAT GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES DO NOT HAVE TO RECEIVE THE SAME WAGE INCREASES AS THOSE GRANTED BY THE PRIVATE SECTOR AND THEREFORE THE GOM WOULD SUPPORT ANY ARRANGEMENT WORKED OUT BY LABOR AND MANAGEMENT. HE EXPRESSED GREAT FAITH IN MEXICO'S INSTITUTIONS AND SAID THAT MEXICO WILL OVERCOME HER PRESENT DIFFICULTIES. END SUMMARY.

3. IN LONG MEETING WITH LABATT, CTM SECRETARY GENERAL FIDEL VELAZQUEZ SPOKE OF LABOR'S RESPONSIBILITY IN THE FACE OF THE PRESENT ECONOMIC CRISIS AND OF THE ATTEMPTS OF LABOR AND MANAGEMENT TO WORK OUT AA AGREEMENT WHICH WILL CONTRIBUTE TO THE SOLUTION OF THE CRISIS. DON FIDEL BEGAN BY STATING THAT THE SITUATION IS SERIOUS BUT ADDED THAT MEXICO HAS FACED SERIOUS CRISES BEFORE, FREQUENTLY WITH FEWER RESOURCES AT ITS DISPOSITION THAN NOW, AND HAS OVERCOME THEM. HE SAID THAT THE LABOR LEADERSHIP HAS HELD A SERIES OF MEETINGS WITH PRIVATE SECTOR LEADERS AND THEY ARE ON THEIR WAY TOWARD AN AGREEMENT WHICH WOULD HELP EASE THE CRISIS, AT LEAST UNTIL LATE IN THE YEAR WHEN THE DE LA MADRID ADMINISTRA-

TION TAKES OFFICE.

4. VELAZQUEZ SAID THAT THE DISCUSSIONS WITH THE EMPLOYER GROUPS ARE TAKING PLACE ALONG THE LINES OF THOSE REPORTED IN REFTEL. HE SAID THAT LABOR WAS WELL OFF WHEN IT RECEIVED ITS 30-20-10 PERCENT WAGES ADJUSTMENT FOLLOWING THE FEBRUARY DEVALUATION BUT THAT WORKERS HAD SUBSEQUENTLY LOST PURCHASING POWER WHEN THE PRICES OF TORTILLAS, BREAD, GAS, ELECTRICITY AND OTHER ITEMS WERE RAISED IN EARLY AUGUST. NOW, HE SAID, WE ARE TRYING TO GET EMPLOYERS TO HOLD DOWN THE EXTENT OF FUTURE PRICE INCREASES AND TO KEEP AS MANY WORKERS ON THE PAYROLLS AS POSSIBLE. IN EXCHANGE, LABOR WILL ACCEPT "A REASONABLE WAGE INCREASE WHICH WILL RESTORE THE PURCHASING POWER WE RECENTLY LOST." DON FIDEL SAID THE TALKS HAD NOT YET REACHED THE POINT OF NEGOTIATING A WAGE INCREASE PERCENTAGE BUT MENTIONED THE "AGREEMENT IN PRINCIPLE" ON THESE POINTS WHICH WAS ANNOUNCED YESTERDAY JOINTLY BY THE SECRETARIES OF LABOR AND OF COMMERCE.

5. NO AGREEMENT WILL BE REACHED PRIOR TO THE PRESIDENT'S REPORT TO THE NATION ON SEPTEMBER 1, VELAZQUEZ SAID. HE ALSO SAID THAT PUBLIC EMPLOYEES DO NOT HAVE TO RECEIVE THE SAME WAGE INCREASES AS TOSE EVENTUALLY NEGOTIATED BY LABOR AND THE PRIVATE SECTOR. HE SAID THAT THE GOVERNMENT WILL SHORTLY ANNOUNCE THAT IT WILL PAY THE RETROACTIVE PORTIONS OF THE RECENT 30-20-10 PERCENT INCREASES TO PUBLIC EMPLOYEES AND IT WILL REVIEW PUBLIC SECTOR SALARIES AND MAKE SOME WAGE ADJUSTMENTS. BUT, HE REPEATED, THEY DON'T HAVE TO GET THE SAME WAGE

8. DON FIDEL SAID THAT HE HAD HAD TO CANCEL THE PROPOSED TRIP OF FOUR CTM LEADERS TO THE U.S. ON IV GRANTS BECAUSE OF THE CURRENT SITUATION. WE NEED ALL THE HELP WE CAN GET, HE SAID. ONE-SIDED MEXICO: CHRISTOPHER DICKEY FRONT PAGE FROM MEXICO CITY (MEXICO TAKES CONTROL OF PRIVATE BANKS) WRITES OF GOM'S DECISION TO NATIONALIZE MEXICAN BANKS AND IMPOSE STRICT CURRENCY CONTROLS FOR THE FIRST TIME IN THE COUNTRY'S HISTORY, "AS PRESIDENT LOPEZ PORTILLO SOUGHT TO STEM A GROWING ECONOMIC CRISIS THAT IS RAPIDLY ASSUMING COMPLEX INTERNAL AND INTERNATIONAL POLITICAL RAMIFICATIONS." LOPEZ PORTILLO MADE ANNOUNCEMENT IN HIS LAST ANNUAL STATE OF THE NATION ADDRESS TO THE MEXICAN CONGRESS. HE PLACED PRIMARY BLAME FOR MEXICO'S NEAR-BANKRUPTCY ON SPECULATORS AND CAPITAL FLIGHT, ENCOURAGED, HE SAID, BY PRIVATE BANKS. "THE MEXICAN ANNOUNCEMENT WAS A SURPRISE TO US OFFICIALS AND BANKERS...AS HAS OFTEN HAPPENED IN THE PAST WHEN MEXICO CONFRONTS ITS ECONOMICALLY ONE-SIDED RELATIONS WITH ITS NEIGHBOR TO THE NORTH, LOPEZ PORTILLO TOOK PAINS TO UNDERLINE MEXICO'S FIERCE NATIONALISM AND INDEPENDENCE. THE MEXICAN PRESIDENT VEHEMENTLY REAFFIRMED HIS DIFFERENCES WITH THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION OVER POLICY TOWARD CENTRAL AMERICA. IN SOME OF THE TOUGHEST LANGUAGE

HE HAS USED TO DATE, HE CALLED ON THE REAGAN ADMINISTRATION TO LEAVE NICARAGUA ALONE, TO STOP US ATTEMPTS TO ISOLATE CUBA AND TO NEGOTIATE A SOLUTION IN EL SALVADOR." LOPEZ PORTILLO NOTED THAT IN OVERALL TERMS, RELATIONS WITH THE US ARE "POSITIVE," BUT THAT THE US SOMETIMES TREATS MEXICO AS IF IT WERE AN UNDERDEVELOPED ECONOMY. LOPEZ PORTILLO ALSO SAID A MEETING BETWEEN THE MEXICAN AND US CONGRESSES MIGHT BE "ADVISABLE," NOTING THAT THE PROBLEM OF CAPITAL FLIGHT IS "A GRAVE, A MUCH MORE GRAVE PROBLEM FOR US THAN THE DRUG TRAFFIC IS FOR THEM," A REFERENCE TO A COOPERATIVE NARCOTICS ENFORCEMENT PROGRAM MEXICO CONDUCTS WITH THE US.

MEXICO: CAROLINE ATKINSON AND JAMES ROWE JR. PAGE C13 IN BUSINESS SECTION (MEXICO SURPRISED US WITH NATIONALIZATION) SAY THAT LOPEZ PORTILLO'S ANNOUNCEMENT CAUGHT US OFFICIALS AND BANKERS BY SURPRISE, "DESPITE THEIR CLOSE INVOLVEMENT IN AN INTERNATIONAL RESCUE PACKAGE TO BAIL OUT THE NEARLY BANKRUPT COUNTRY. TREASURY SECRETARY REGAN TOLD REPORTERS, 'WE WERE NOT ADVISED IN ADVANCE.' SENIOR FEDERAL RESERVE OFFICIALS ALSO SAID THE DECISION CAME AS A COMPLETE SURPRISE TO THEM...SOME US BANKERS SUGGESTED YESTERDAY THAT THE BANK NATIONALIZATION, ALTHOUGH PRESENTED AS A MOVE TO PUNISH BANKS FOR AIDING SPECULATION AGAINST THE CURRENCY, MAY HAVE BEEN TRIGGERED PARTLY BY THE FEAR THAT MEXICO'S COMMERCIAL BANKS WERE NEAR FAILURE....MEXICO'S

SUBJECT: NEW DIRECTOR GENERAL OF BANK OF MEXICO

1. [redacted]

2. SUMMARY. CARLOS TELLO REPLACED MIGUEL MANCERA AS DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE BANK OF MEXICO ON SEPTEMBER 1. TELLO IS A LONG TIME ASSOCIATE OF LOPEZ PORTILLO AND IS SAID TO BE ONE OF THE KEY AUTHORS OF THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM TO NATIONALIZE BANKS AND GENERALIZE EXCHANGE CONTROLS. HE IS CONSIDERED TO BE LEFTIST AND TO FAVOR ECONOMIC POLICIES AIMED AT ACHIEVING A HIGH GROWTH RATE WITHOUT CONSIDERATION OF THE FINANCIAL CONSEQUENCES. END SUMMARY.

3. MIGUEL MANCERA'S RESIGNATION AS DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE BANK OF MEXICO IS NO SURPRISE. HE CAME OUT STRONGLY AGAINST EXCHANGE CONTROLS IN APRIL

[redacted] UNCLASSIFIED

AND IS REPORTED TO HAVE TRIED TO RESIGN IN EARLY AUGUST AS THE GOM BEGAN TO IMPLEMENT EXCHANGE CONTROLS. MANCERA APPARENTLY FOUND IT IMPOSSIBLE TO SIGN THE DECREES ON BANK NATIONALIZATION AND EXCHANGE CONTROLS. WE UNDERSTAND THAT HE TOLD HIS CLOSE ASSOCIATES OF HIS RESIGNATION IN THE MORNING OF SEPTEMBER 1. WE BELIEVE JLP'S MEASURES CAME AS A SURPRISE TO HIM.

4. CARLOS TELLO IS IN HIS MID-FORTIES. HE IS THE SON OF A FORMER AMBASSADOR TO THE U.S. AND FOREIGN SECRETARY. HIS BROTHER, MANUEL, IS UNDER-

SECRETARY FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS. TELLO STUDIED AT GEORGETOWN, COLUMBIA AND CAMBRIDGE. HIS ASSOCIATION WITH LOPEZ PORTILLO DATES TO THE MID-60'S. HE SERVED UNDER MIGUEL DE LA MADRID AT THE TREASURY IN THE EARLY 70'S. THEN-TREASURY SECRETARY LOPEZ PORTILLO NAMED HIM UNDER-SECRETARY FOR TAXATION IN EARLY-1975. AT THE BEGINNING OF THELOPEZ PORTILLO ADMINISTRATION, TELLO WAS NAMED THE FIRST SECRETARY FOR BUDGET AND PLANNING. HE AND THE TREASURY SECRETARY, MOCTEZUMA CID, HAD A FALLING OUT THAT REFLECTED PERSONAL AND POLICY DIFFERENCES. THE LATTER WERE OVER MEXICO'S RELATIONS WITH THE IMF AND, IN PARTICULAR, THE STABILIZATION PROGRAM. TELLO HAS ALWAYS BEEN AN EXPANSIONIST WHO BELIEVES THAT FINANCIAL CONSTRAINTS SHOULD BE IGNORED. AFTER LOPEZ PORTILLO SACKED BOTH TELLO AND MOCTEZUMA, TELLO BECAME HEAD OF THE NATIONAL SUGAR BANK. TELLO HAS BEEN WORKING CLOSELY WZTH CLARK REYNOLDS OF STANFORD ON A MEXICAN PROJECT.

5. TELLO IS REPORTEDLY ONE OF THE AUTHORS OF THE

[redacted] UNCLASSIFIED

BANK NATIONALIZATION PROGRAM. HE IS WIDELY BELIEVED TO BE LEFTIST IN HIS POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC THINKING. HIS NEW POSITION MAY VERY WELL MAKE SILVA-HERZOG'S POSITION AT TREASURY UNTENABLE. SILVA-HERZOG HAD BEEN PUSHING FOR ORTHODOX STABILIZATION MEASURES THAT TELLO WOULD BE LIKELY TO OPPOSE. THERE WILL BE CONSIDERABLE FRICTION BETWEEN TELLO AND HIS NEW COLLEAGUES AT THE BANK OF MEXICO. WE CAN EXPECT FURTHER PERSONNEL CHANGES IN THIS INSTITUTION.

6. TELLO IS CONSIDERED TO BE AN HONEST CIVIL SERVANT AND IS AUSTERE IN HIS PERSONAL LIFE. HE SPEAKS EXCELLENT ENGLISH AND WAS ALWAYS PLEASANT AND REASONABLY OPEN IN THE DEALINGS THE REPORTING OFFICER HAD WITH HIM SOME YEARS AGO. WE BELIEVE THAT TELLO IS NOT CLOSE TO DE LA MADRID. THEY HAVE HAD POLICY DIFFERENCES IN THE PAST. TELLO DID PARTICIPATE IN THE DE LA MADRID CAMPAIGN, THOUGH NOT IN A MAJOR ROLE. DRAFTED BY L.P.PASCOE. GAVIN

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT LOPEZ PORTILLO'S LAST INFORME - AN ANALYSIS

REF: MEXICO 12108 (NOTAL)

2. SUMAMRY. THIS ANALYSIS COVERS THE MAJOR PORTIONS OF LOPEZ PORTILLO'S SIXTH STATE OF THE [redacted]

UNION MESSAGE. BY NATIONALIZING THE DOMESTIC, PRIVATE BANKS AND BY GENERALIZING EXCHANGE CONTROLS,JLP HAS TAKEN MEXICO SHARPLY TO THE LEFT. HE REPEATED HIS WELL-KNOWN DIFFERENCES WITH U.S. FOREIGN POLICY, PARTICULARLY CONCERNING CUBA AND CENTRAL AMERICA. END SUMMARY.

3. ECONOMIC. LOPEZ PORTILLO'S NATIONALIZATION OF THE BANKS AND THE GENERALIZATION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROLS CONSTITUTE A SHARP TURN TO THE LEFT. THIS ISAMOVE AWAY FROM A MARKET-ORIENTED AND OPEN ECONOMY TO A CLOSED AND MORE SOCIALISTIC ECONOMY. LOPEZ PORTILLO MIGHT WANT TO RENEGOTIATE WITH THE IMF OR COULD POSSIBLY TRY TO COPE WITH MEXICO'S ECONOMIC PROBLEMS WITHOUT IMF ASSISTANCE. HIS UNDERSTANDING WITH USG OFFICIALS MAY REQUIRE RECONSIDERATION.

4. THE BULK OF THE INFORME WAS DEVOTED TO A RATIONALIZATION OF HIS ECONOMIC POLICIES TO SET-UP HIS AUDIENCE FOR THE BOMBSHELLS WHICH WERE TO COME. IN DOING THIS, THE PRESIDENT DID NOT HESITATE TO BLAME EXTERNAL FACTORS SUCH AS HIGHER INTEREST RATES (FROM 6 PERCENT IN 1978 TO AS MUCH AS 20 PERCENT IN 1981) AND A SHARP DETERIORATION IN PRICES FOR MANY BASIC AND "CLASSIC" EXPORTS SUCH AS OIL, COFFEE, SILVER, COPPER, AND COTTON. AT THE SAME TIME, LOPEZ PORTILLO DEFENDED HIS OWN POLICIES ("WE HAVE NOT SINNED"), SUCH AS PUBLIC SECTOR SPENDING, INVESTMENTS IN GOVERNMENT-OWNED COMPANIES TO SPUR DEVELOPMENT, AND THE GENERAL WAGE INCREASE GRANTED IN MARCH OF THIS YEAR.

5. WHILE ADMITTING TO SOME DEFICIENCIES IN INTERNAL POLICIES, LOPEZ PORTILLO PLACED THE

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC SYSTEM AND, IN ESSENCE, ON CAPITAL FLIGHT BY MEXICAN FIRMS AND INDIVIDUALS, AND ESPECIALLY THE PRIVATE BANKS. THE LATTER WAS AN ABUSE THAT COULD ONLY BE CORRECTED BY THE STATE TAKING OVER THE CONTROL OF THE NATION'S CREDIT APPARATUS AND BY MONOPOLIZING, IN THE STATE'S HANDS, FOREIGN EXCHANGE TRANSACTIONS. HE IMPLIED THAT THE STATE CAN DO A BETTER JOB OF ALLOCATING CREDIT AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE THAN THE MARKET PLACE. ALSO IMPLICIT IS THAT THE STATE'S ACTION WILL RESULT IN GREATER RESOURCES

FOR INVESTMENT THAN WOULD OTHERWISE BE THE CASE. JLP SAID SPECULATION AND THE LIVING OFF CAPITAL (RENTISMO) ENRICH A FEW AND PRODUCE NOTHING.

6. OTHER THAN THE NATIONALIZATION AND EXCHANGE CONTROLS, LOPEZ PORTILLO HAD LITTLE TO OFFER IN THE WAY OF COMPLEMENTARY ECONOMIC POLICIES. HE REFERRED VAGUELY TO THE FOUR-POINT PACKAGE NEGOTIATED IN WASHINGTON OVER THE AUGUST 14-15 WEEKEND. IN THIS CONTEXT HE SAID MEXICANS HAD "INITIATED TALKS WITH THE IMF" BUT GAVE NO CURRENT STATUS REPORT. THIS APPEARS TO BE A VERY WEAK PUBLIC COMMITMENT TO CONCLUDING AN AGREEMENT WITH THE IMF. HE DID NOT MENTION THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD OR TREASURY BY NAME. HE REFERRED TO THE APRIL 1982 ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM AS "WORKING", WHICH IT CLEARLY IS NOT. HE DID NOT MENTION WAGE POLICY, BUT ANNOUNCED THAT BANK EMPLOYEES WILL BE PERMITTEDTOUNIONIZE. THE FEW SPECIFICS INCLUDED A CALL TO THE MEXICAN CONGRESS TO WORK WITH THE U.S. CONGRESS TOWARD THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A SYSTEM WHEREBY MEXICAN CAPITAL FLIGHT CAN BE STOPPED, MORE OR LESS AS A QUID PRO QUO FOR GOM EFFORTS TO SLOW EXPORTS OF DRUGS AND ILLEGAL WORKERS. IN THIS REGARD, THE PRESIDENT SAID HE HAD LISTS PRESUMABLY OF MEXICANS WHO INVESTED ABROAD. SOME FEAR THE GOM MIGHT UNDERTAKE A WITCH-HUNT.

EACH OTHER TO GAIN THE PRESIDENT'S EAR. THE APRIL 20 ADJUSTMENT PROGRAM WAS INTERPRETED AS A VICTORY FOR THE ORTHODOX SCHOOL CENTERED IN THE BANK OF MEXICO AND THE TREASURY. THE SEPTEMBER 1 ANNOUNCEMENT IS CLEARLY A VICTORY FOR THE EXPANSIONIST IDEAS OF WHICH CARLOS TELLO, NOW DIRECTOR GENERAL OF THE BANK OF MEXICO, IS ONE OF THE STRONGEST PROPONENTS.

THIS AROUSED A GREAT PATRIOTIC FERVOR AND JLP IS HOPING FOR A SIMILAR RESPONSE, HOWEVER DIFFERENT THE CIRCUMSTANCES.

9. U.S.-MEXICO RELATIONS.

- JLP SAID MAINTENANCE OF GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. IS "A CORNERSTONE" OF MEXICAN FOREIGN RELATIONS. (COMMENT. IF WE RECALL CORRECTLY, HE USED TO CHARACTERIZE IT AS "THE" CORNERSTONE.) TO THE DEGREE THAT THERE HAS BEEN MUTUAL RESPECT, RELATIONS HAD BEEN POSITIVE OVER THE SEXENNIUM; HE CITED AS INSTANCES OF THIS COOPERATION AGAINST DRUG TRAFFICKING AND CONTRABAND.

- JLP, AS IN PAST INFORMES, LAMENTED THE END OF DETENTE, AND PROCLAIMED THAT THE CURRENT PERIOD IS THE MOST DANGEROUS FOR PEACE SINCE THE END OF THE WORLD WAR. HE EXPRESSED HIS "GREAT PRIDE" AT HAVING CHANGED MEXICO'S FOREIGN POLICY ROLE FROM THAT OF A SPECTATOR TO THAT OF AN ACTOR, REFERRING TO HIS TWO MAJOR INITIATIVES FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NEW INTERNATIONAL ECONOMIC ORDER--THE WORLD ENERGY PLAN AND THE CANCUN SUMMIT.

- OAS. MEXICO SUPPORTS THE OAS, HE SAID, BECAUSE IT OFFERS LATIN AMERICAN COUNTRIES A FORUM FOR NEGOTIATING MULTILATERALLY, RATHER THAN BILATERALLY, WITH THE U.S.

- CARIBBEAN AND CENTRAL AMERICA. JLP SAID MEXICO HAS TRIED TO RECONCILE WHAT SEEMS IRRECONCILABLE: ITS SUPPORT FOR THE "NOBLE STRUGGLES" IN THE HEMISPHERE AND ITS MAINTENANCE OF GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE U.S. HE NOTED THAT MEXICAN AID TO THE REGION FROM 1980-82 EQUALLED THE AMOUNT PROPOSED BY THE U.S. FOR THE CBI, AND GIVEN THE DIFFERENCE IN SIZE OF THE ECONOMIES, MEXICO'S DEEDS ARE WHAT GIVES IT "MORAL AUTHORITY" IN FACING THE GREAT POWER.

- NICARAGUA. HE EMPHASIZED HIS PRIDE AT GOM SUPPORT FOR NICARAGUA AND ASKED THAT NICARAGUA

THREAT OF ARMED INTERVENTION OR ECONOMIC

ROUNDS OF APPLAUSE AND THE LARGE CLAQUE OF INVITED SANDINISTAS ROSE AND TOOK A BOW FOR THE TV CAMERAS.

- CUBA. JLP SAID THAT SINCE 1980 HE HAS ATTEMPTED TO END THE "ABSURD SILENCE" BETWEEN THE U.S. AND CUBA. THE "THREATS, OSTRACISM AND UNACCEPTANCE OF 23 YEARS OF REALITY," HE SAID, DOES NOT CORRESPOND TO THE "BEAUTIFUL TRADITION OF LIBERTY AND TOLERANCE OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE."

11. SPECIAL INTERPARLIAMENTARY MEETING.

LATE IN HIS ADDRESS, JLP SAID THAT THE GOM HAS SOME DATA AND LISTS ON MEXICAN INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE AND DEPOSITS IN U.S. FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS WHICH HE WAS MAKING AVAILABLE TO THE MEXICAN CONGRESS. HE SUGGESTED TO THEM THE ADVISABILITY OF MEETING WITH U.S. CONGRESSMEN ON THESE INVESTMENTS IN THE U.S. AND NOTED THAT THE PROB LEM "IS MUCH MORE GRAVE FOR US THAN DRUG TRAFFICKING IS FOR THEM." RHETORICALLY HE ASKED, "WHY WOULD WE NOT EXPORT WORKERS, IF THE CAPITAL THAT COULD GIVEN THEM EMPLOYMENT HERE, IS THERE?" WE SEE THIS AS AN IMPLIED THREAT TO DO NOTHING TO COOPERATE WITH US ON ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION (AND PERHAPS NARCOTICS CONTROL) UNLESS THE U.S. IS WILLING TO DEVISE MEASURES TO INDUCE THE RETURN OF MEXICAN CAPITAL TO THE U.S. AND/OR PROHIBIT FUTURE MEXICAN PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN THE U.S. OBVIOUSLY THIS IS UNREALISTIC. WE RECOMMEND THAT THE USG MAKE NO ATTEMPT TO ADDRESS THE REQUEST, BUT WAIT FOR THE MEXICAN CONGRESS TO APPROACH OUR LEGISLATORS, IF THEY DECIDE TO DO SO.

12. LABOR

THE PRESIDENT SAID FAR LESS ON LABOR MATTERS THAN WAS EXPECTED. FROM A LABOR STANDPOINT, HIS MOST SIGNIFICANT MOVE WAS TO CLEAR THE WAY FOR UNIONIZATION OF BANK EMPLOYEES--LONG A GOAL OF ORGANIZED LABOR. THIS WILL NOT PUT ANY MONEY IN THE POCKETS OF THE LABOR FORCE, BUT IT

UNCLASSIFIED

HAS GREAT APPEAL TO THE LEFT AND LABOR LEADERSHIP, AND CONTRIBUTED TO THE GENERALLY ENTHUSIASTIC REVIEWS HE RECEIVED IN THE SEPTEMBER 2 PRESS.

ON THE OTHER HAND, THE PRESIDENT FOR UNDETERMINED REASONS DID NOT ANNOUNCE WAGE INCREASES FOR THE MILITARY

OR THE PUBLIC SECTOR AS HAS BEEN THE CUSTOM, AND DID NOT ANNOUNCE ANY NEW WAGE POLICY.

LOPEZ PORTILLO DID REFER FREQUENTLY TO THE CREATION OF JOBS AS A MAJOR ACCOMPLISHMENT OF HIS ADMINISTRATION. HE CLAIMED TO HAVE CREATED 4.258 MILLION NEW JOBS AND TO HAVE REDUCED UNEMPLOYMENT FROM 8.1 PERCENT AT THE BEGINNING OF HIS ADMINISTRATION TO 4.5 PERCENT (LITTLE DIFFERENCE FROM LAST YEAR'S CLEARLY ARTIFICIAL FIGURE, THE SOURCE AND METHODOLOGY OF WHICH WE HAVE NEVER BEEN ABLE TO DETERMINE).

13. AGRICULTURE

UNCLASSIFIED

LOPEZ PORTILLO WAS WRONG IN CLAIMING SUCCESS FOR HIS AGRICULTURE PROGRAM.

HE TOOK CREDIT FOR HAVING ACHIEVED SELF-SUFFICIENCY IN CORN, BEANS, WHEAT AND RICE IN CY 1981. OUR DATA SHOW THAT THIS IS PATENTLY UNTRUE. IN CY 1982, SELF-SUFFICIENCY WAS ACHIEVED FOR BEANS, WHEAT AND RICE - BUT NOT CORN. IN FACT, MEXICO IMPORTED ABOUT 600,000 METRIC TONS OF CORN FROM THE US IN CY 1982 AND STILL HAD TO DRAW DOWN ITS STOCKS TO MEET DEMAND. WE BELIEVE HE OVERSTATED THE CORN, BEAN AND RICE CROPS BY 18, 13 AND 40 PERCENT, RESPECTIVELY.

THE HIGH GUARANTEED PRICES PAID TO FARMERS, AND SUBSIDIZED PRICES FOR FARM INPUTS, HELPED MARKEDLY TO BOOST CROP PRODUCTION IN 1982. BUT NEAR-PERFECT GROWING CONDITIONS - AN UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE IN DROUGHT-PRONE MEXICO - WERE THE REAL DETERMINANTS OF THE GOOD HARVEST THIS YEAR. IT IS UNLIKELY THAT THE GOM WILL BE ABLE TO CONTINUE TO SUBSIDIZE FARM PRODUCTION AT THE SAME HIGH LEVELS FOR AT LEAST TWO OR THREE YEARS.

THE LATEST GUARANTEED PRICES PAID TO FARMERS ARE MORE THAN 20 PERCENT BELOW THE LEVEL THAT WOULD BE NECESSARY TO COMPENSATE FOR INFLATION. WE HAVE TO CONCLUDE THAT THE LIKELIHOOD OF A DROUGHT IN THE NEAR FUTURE, AND SEVERE BUDGETARY RESTRICTIONS WILL VISIBLY CUT BACK PROGRESS TOWARD SELF-SUFFICIENCY. CONSEQUENTLY, MEXICO WILL CONTINUE TO BE HEAVILY DEPENDENT ON U.S. FARM CROPS AND LIVESTOCK TO FEED ITS PEOPLE.

15. PROJECTION

THE GOM'S SHIFT IN ECONOMIC POLICY AND CHANGE OF AT LEAST ONE KEY ADVISOR (TELLO FOR MANCERA), WITH OTHER CHANGES LIKELY, MAY WELL LEAD TO A REVISION OF OTHER ASPECTS OF MEXICO'S ECONOMIC STRATEGY. FOR EXAMPLE, THE GOM MAY WANT

[redacted]

TO RE-EXAMINE WHATEVER AGREEMENT IT WAS CLOSE TO REACHING WITH THE IMF. THE SWAPS WITH THE BIS AND THE USG MAY BE IN JEOPARDY.

16. LOPEZ PORTILLO'S NEW POLICIES ARE UNLIKELY TO HELP THE ECONOMY. SPECULATION AND DISINVESTMENT WILL INCREASE. EMPLOYMENT WILL DECLINE; MIGRATION OF SKILLED WORKERS (AS WELL AS THE UNSKILLED) WILL RISE. THE RISK OF GOM OFFICIALS MOVING EVEN FURTHER TO A CLOSED, "SEIGE" ECONOMY WILL ALSO INCREASE. CORRUPTION WILL WORSEN. DEFAULT ON THE EXTERNAL DEBT COULD BE ONE RESULT.

17. THE UNHAPPY IMPLICATIONS OF THE PRESIDENT'S DECISIONS FOR DE LA MADRID'S ADMINISTRATION ARE COVERED IN REFTEL. WE ARE TOLD THAT MMH LEARNED OF THE DECISIONS ONLY A FEW HOURS BEFORE IT WAS ANNOUNCED, AND THAT HE DID NOT SUPPORT THEM. THE PRESIDENT'S MOVE RUNS DIRECTLY COUNTER TO MMH'S EXPRESSED INTEREST IN DIVESTING THE GOM OF SOME PARASTATAL INSTITUTIONS AND MAKING HIS GOVERNMENT MORE EFFICIENT. MOREOVER, MMH IN HIS EARLIER YEARS AS A CABINET MEMBER ALWAYS TENDED TO SIDE WITH THE MORE CONSERVATIVE GROUP AND LOOK WITH SKEPTICISM AT THE POPULIST PROPOSALS OF THOSE WHO PUT "SOCIAL JUSTICE" AS THE COUNTRY'S NUMBER 1 PRIORITY. HE ATTENDED THE STATE OF THE UNION ADDRESS AND APPLAUDED POLITELY, THOUGH WITHOUT ENTHUSIASM. SUBSEQUENT TO THE SPEECH, MMH AVOIDED DIRECT ASSOCIATION WITH THE PRESIDENT'S DECISIONS, BUT EXPRESSED HIS GENERAL SUPPORT FOR ANY MEASURES THAT MIGHT BE NECESSARY TO LEAD THE COUNTRY OUT OF

ECONOMIC "CHAOS." WHATEVER HIS PRIVATE VIEWS MAY HAVE BEEN, MMH WILL NOT FIND IT EASY TO REVISE JLP'S LAST MINUTE MOVES, NOR TO RESTORE THE SHATTERED CONFIDENCE IN MEXICO OF THE FINANCIAL WORLD. (DRAFTED BY:POL: WILKINSON, POL:THURMAN, ECON:PASCOE, AGR:MONTEL, USIS:ZUCKERMAN) GAVIN

THAT IN ORDER TO GUARANTEE THE SUCCESSFUL FUNCTIONING

OF THE SYSTEM, AVOIDING EXCESSIVE FOREIGN EXCHANGE FLUCTUATIONS, SPECULATIVE TRANSACTIONS WHOSE PURPOSE IS TO TRANSFER FUNDS ABROAD FOR PURPOSES OTHER THAN THE IMPORTATION OF GOODS AND SERVICES OR TO MAKE CREDIT PAYMENTS, SHOULD BE ELIMINATED;

THAT AT THE SAME TIME IN ORDER TO AVOID NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES, NORMS FOR THE RATIONAL USE OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE SHOULD BE ESTABLISHED, ESTABLISHING PREFERENCES FOR THE USE OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE WHICH CONFORM TO NATIONAL PRIORITIES; THAT IN ORDER TO GUARANTEE THE ATTAINMENT OF THESE PRIORITIES, IT IS NECESSARY TO EXTEND THE SYSTEM OF NATIONAL PLANNING TO THE EXTERNAL SECTOR BY BUDGETING FOREIGN EXCHANGE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE MACROECONOMIC AND SECTORIAL GOALS ESTABLISHED BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT PLANS AND PROGRAMS;
THAT TO ASSURE COMPLIANCE WITH THIS DECREE AND TO ACHIEVE COORDINATION AMONG THE VARIOUS AGENCIES CONCERNED, AN INTER SECRETARIAL COMMISSION IS NEEDED TO MONITOR COMPLIANCE AND TO PROVIDE NECESSARY SUPPORT SO THAT THE NECESSARY IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS CAN BE ISSUED WITH ALL DUE SPEED;
I HEREBY DECREE THE FOLLOWING:

BANKERS ASSOCIATION OF MEXICO, CARLOS ABEDROP DAVILA, WAS QUOTED AS SAYING THAT: "THE NATIONALIZATION OF BANKS AND GENERAL CONTROL OF EXCHANGE WILL AGGRAVATE THE ECONOMIC CRISIS OF THE COUNTRY AND NOT CONTRIBUTE TO THE SOLVING OF A SINGLE ESSENTIAL PROBLEM." A FOREIGN BANK REPRESENTATIVE STATED THAT ALTHOUGH HIS ORGANIZATION REMAINED "CALM" AND CONTINUED TO "SUPPORT" THE COUNTRY, IT DID NOT "EXPECT" THIS MEASURE. A COMPANION ARTICLE, CITING BANKING SOURCES IN U.S., STATED THAT THE PRESIDENT'S ACTIONS WOULD HAVE LITTLE EFFECT ON FOREIGN BANKS. ANOTHER ARITCLE REPORTED: "SUPPORT FROM DE LA

MADRID AND ECHEVERRIA; PSUM REJOICES; PAN INDIGNANT; TOTAL REJECTION FROM BUSINESS." THIS ARTICLE REPORTS PRESIDENT-ELECT DE LA MADRID'S STATEMENT THAT NATIONALIZATION OF BANKS AND IMPOSITION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROLS "ARE MEASURES THAT RESPOND TO THE CRITICAL CIRCUMSTANCES" WHILE EX-PRESIDENT ECHEVERRIA COMPARED THESE ACTIONS TO THE 1938 NATIONALIZATION OF PETROLEUM. ALL OPPOSITION PARTIES, EXCEPT THE CONSERVATIVE PAN, APPLAUDED THE PRESIDENT'S ANNOUNCEMENTS. MEANWHILE THE ARTICLE QUOTED THE LEADER OF THE BUSINESS COORDINATING COUNCIL, MANUEL J. CLOUTHIER, AS STATING THAT EVERY TIME MEXICO HAS A PROBLEM IT SEEKS SOLUTIONS THROUGH "STATISM," "PATERNALISM," AND "INFANTILISM."

3. AS WITH FINANCIERO, THE PRESIDENT'S SPEECH DOMINATED HEADLINES IN TODAY'S EXCELSIOR (LEFTIST NATIONALISTIC). ITS LEAD STORY WAS ENTITLED: "NATIONALIZATION OF BANKING AND TOTAL EXCHANGE CONTROL: JLP." THIS ARTICLE REPEATED THE PRESIDENT'S CONTENTION THAT PRIVATE BANKS HAD UNCLASSIFIED

BEEN BEHIND THE SPECULATION AND CAPITAL FLIGHT IN LAST 2-3 YEARS THAT HAD RESULTED IN AN ESTIMATED "$22 BILLION" LEAVING THE COUNTRY. IT ALSO REPORTED THAT ONLY THE OWNERS OF THE BANKS WOULD BE CHANGED "BECAUSE THEY BETRAYED US" WHILE RIGHTS OF DEPOSITORS AND BANK EMPLOYEES WOULD BE RESPECTED. A COMPANION STORY REPORTED A "SURPRISED AND DISGUSTED" REACTION FROM BUSINESS LEADERS. BANKER CARLOS ABEDROP DAVILA STATED THAT PRESIDENT'S ACTIONS "WILL NOT SOLVE A SINGLE ESSENTIAL PROBLEM," WHILE BUSINESS LEADER GOICOECHEA REMARKED THAT INVESTOR CONFIDENCE "HAS FALLEN." THE ARTICLE ALSO SAYS THE BUSINESS SECTOR WILL ASK FOR A PLEBISCITE ON BANK NATIONALIZATION BECAUSE THIS DECISION "CANNOT BE MADE BY ONE MAN." ANOTHER ARTICLE REPORTS "TOTAL SUPPORT" FROM THE LEFT BECAUSE PRESIDENT'S DECISIONS "DISARMS THE SPECULATORS" AND HAS HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE "SIMILAR" TO THE 1938 NATIONALIZATION OF PETROLEUM INDUSTRY. ANOTHER REPORT STATES THAT ACCORDING TO EX-PRESIDENT ECHEVERRIA, THE U.S. WILL "RESPECT" THESE "VALIANT" MEASURES BECAUSE IT IS "INTELLIGENT." ALSO, A FRONT PAGE ARTICLE REPORTS THAT THE NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE IMF HAVE BEEN "COMPLICATED" BECAUSE TO QUALIFY FORA$4 BILLION STANDBY LOAN THE GOM WILL "HAVE TO SET A TIME" FOR THE REESTABLISHMENT OF FREE FOREIGN EXCHANGE SYSTEM.

4. HERALDO (CONSERVATIVE) LEAD WITH THE FOLLOWING HEADLINE: "JLP NATIONALIZES BANKING: MONEY OF SAVERS SAFE." THIS ARTICLE REPORTS THAT PRESIDENT

BLAMES THE ECONOMIC CRISIS ON THOSE WHO SEND THEIR DOLLARS ABROAD. IT ALSO NOTES THE THREAT IN JPL'S SPEECH TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST "DENATIONALIZED" MEXICANS WHO DO NOT PROVE THEIR LOYALTY DURING

E.O. 12356: DECL 9/5/88
TAGS: MX, EFIN, EGEN
SUBJECT: NEW EXCHANGE SYSTEM; BANK NATIONALIZATION

1. (C) SUMMARY: NEW BANK OF MEXICO DIRECTOR GENERAL, CARLOS TELLO, ANNOUNCED THAT HENCEFORTH MEXICO WOULD HAVE TWO FIXED EXCHANGE RATES - THE ORDINARY AT 70 PESOS PER DOLLAR AND THE PREFERENTIAL AT 50 PESOS PER DOLLAR. THESE WILL NOT FLUCTUATE. TELLO ALSO ANNOUNCED THAT BOTH LENDING AND DEPOSIT INTEREST RATES WOULD DROP ON SEPTEMBER 6. HEADS OF THE NATIONALIZED BANKS WERE NAMED ON SEPTEMBER 4. ALL ARE FROM THE PUBLIC SECTOR. NOTABLY ABSENT ARE ERNESTO FERNANDEZ HURTADO AND MIGUEL MANCERA. THE EXCHANGE RATE AND INTEREST RATE POLICIES WILL NOT ATTRACT ANY CAPITAL REFORMS AND BANK DEPOSITS ARE LIKELY TO DECLINE. THE NEW EXCHANGE SYSTEM RAISES MANY QUESTIONS. END SUMMARY.

2. (U) TELLO SAID THE TWO NEW EXCHANGE RATES WOULD BE FIXED AND WOULD NOT FLUCTUATE. THE PREFERENTIAL RATE WILL BE 50 PESOS PER DOLLAR. THIS WILL APPLY TO ALL IMPORTS [redacted]

AUTHORIZED BY THE COMMERCE SECRETARIAT AS WELL AS TO ALL PAYMENTS - INTEREST, COMMISSIONS AND AMORTIZATION - ON FOREIGN EXCHANGE DENOMINATED DEBT BY "PRODUCTIVE BUSINESSES" OWED TO THE NOW-NATIONALIZED BANKS. ALSO, ALL EXTERNALDEBT SERVICE PAYMENTS BY PUBLIC SECTOR ENTITIES WILL BE AT THIS RATE. THE PURPOSE OF THIS MEASURE IS TO "ELIMINATE THE INFLATIONARY IMPACT OF THE FINANCIAL DISORDERS OF THE MONTH OF AUGUST...THUS, AS A RESULT, THERE IS NO REASON THAT ON MONDAY, PRICES IN THE COUNTRY WILL BE ABOVE WHAT THEY WERE AT THE END OF JULY". HE ALSO NOTED THAT COMPANIES COULD NOW REMOVE FROM THEIR BOOKS THE EXCHANGE LOSSES THEY HAD ACCUMULATED

IN AUGUST.

3. (U) ALL OTHER TRANSACTIONS WILL OCCUR AT THE ORDINARY RATE OF 70 PESOS PER DOLLAR, TO THE DEGREE THAT DOLLARS ARE AVAILABLE. THESE OTHER TRANSACTIONS INCLUDE ALL EXPORTS OF GOODS AND SERVICES, ALL SERVICE IMPORTS, AND ALL THE INTEREST AND PRINCIPAL PAYMENTS ON THE MEX-DOLLAR DEPOSITS. ALL MEXICANS WHO HAVE FOREIGN EXCHANGE ARE INVITED TO CONVERT TO PESOS AT THE 70.1 RATE AT THE NATIONALIZED BANKS. THESE PEOPLE WILL BE ENGAGING IN ILLEGAL TRANSACTIONS ONLY IF THEY EFFECT SUCH TRANSACTIONS OUTSIDE THE BANKING SYSTEM.

UNCLASSIFIED

4. (U) TELLO SAID THE FIXED EXCHANGE RATES WOULD MAKE PLANNING EASIER. HE ALSO NOTED THAT THE SPREAD BETWEEN BUY AND SELL RATES WOULD DISAPPEAR.

5. (C) THE NEW EXCHANGE SYSTEM RAISES NUMEROUS QUESTIONS. THE FIRST IS THAT IF ALL EXPORTS ARE AT THE ORDINARY RATE, WHO PAYS THE SUBSIDY FOR IMPORTS AND DEBT SERVICE PAYMENTS AT THE PREFERENTIAL RATE. WE HAVE HEARD THAT

[redacted]

UNCLASSIFIED

THE CONSUMER PRICE INDEX INCREASED ABOUT 11 PERCENT FROM JULY TO AUGUST. A DECLINE OF THIS MAGNITUDE IS UNLIKELY IN AUGUST. A FOREIGN EXCHANGE BLACK MARKET WILL DEVELOP VERY QUICKLY, AND THE GOM IS UNLIKELY TO CAPTURE ALL FOREIGN EXCHANGE REVENUES. THIS WILL MEAN LESS FOREIGN EXCHANGE AVAILABILITIES FOR IMPORTS AND RAISES THE POSSIBILITY OF A MORATORIUM ON INTEREST PAYMENTS ABROAD IN ORDER TO BRING IN "ESSENTIAL" IMPORTS. IN A WORD, THE NEW EXCHANGE SYSTEM WILL BE A MESS.

6. (U) TELLO WENT ON TO DESCRIBE CHANGES IN INTEREST RATES. HE SAID THE BANKS HAD CHARGED EXCESSIVE SPREADS OVER THEIR COST OF FUNDS, SAYING THIS IS ABOUT 18 PERCENT. THIS WILL BE REDUCED BY FIVE PERCENTAGE POINTS BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 6; THAT IS, INTEREST RATES ON LOANS TO "PRODUCTIVE BUSINESSES" WILL DROP FIVE POINTS. IN ADDITION, INTEREST RATES ON FIXED TIME DEPOSITS WILL DECLINE BY AN AVERAGE OF TWO PERCENTAGE POINTS A WEEK FOR THE NEXT FIVE WEEKS, AT WHICH TIME THE SITUATION WILL BE REVIEWED. MORTGAGE RATES ON LOW-COST HOUSING WILL DECLINE TO 11 PERCENT, A REDUCTION OF ABOUT 23 PERCENTAGE POINTS. INTEREST ON OTHER MORTGAGE CREDITS WILL DROP 10 POINTS. MINIMUM BALANCE REQUIREMENTS ON CHECKING ACCOUNTS WILL BE ELIMINATED.

7. TELLO SAID THE GOM DID NOT INTEND TO HOLD ONTO THE VARIOUS COMPANIES OR SHARES IN COMPANIES OWNED BY THE BANKS. THESE WILL BE SOLD THROUGH THE STOCK MARKET IN ORDER TO "DEMOCRATIZE THE PROPERTY OF THE COUNTRY." THE PROCEEDS MAY BE USED TO INDEMNIFY THE FORMER OWNERS.

UNCLASSIFIED

8. TELLO ALSO SAID THAT BEGINNING ON WEDNESDAY AND UNTIL MORE COMPLETE MEASURES ARE TAKEN, MEXICANS WILL BE ABLE TO BUY UP TO 250 DOLLARS AT THE ORDINARY EXCHANGE RATE AT BANK OFFICES WHICH WILL BE SET UP IN THE DEPARTURE AREAS OF INTERNATIONAL AIRPORTS. HE SAID THIS SHOULD BE

[redacted]

ENOUGH TO COVER THE COSTS OF URGENT TRIPS.

IN THE MEDIUM TERM, THE EXCHANGE CONTROLS WILL PERMIT US TO MAKE INTERNAL FINANCIAL POLICY INDEPENDENT OF THE TYRANNY OF THE INTERNATIONAL MONEY AND CAPITAL MARKET. WITH THIS, IT WILL BE POSSIBLE TO DEAL THOROUGHLY WITH OTHER SECULAR PROBLEMS OF THE MEXICAN ECONOMY."

10. (C) TELLO'S REMARKS ARE EVIDENCE ENOUGH THAT THE MEXICAN ECONOMY IS IN FOR DRAMATIC CHANGES. THE IMPLICATIONS ARE GREAT, AND NOT YET APPARENT. THE "SEIGE ECONOMY" IS MUCH CLOSER.

11. (U) ALSO IN THE NEWS ARE THE NAMES OF THE NEW HEADS OF MEXICAN BANKS. THE TWO LARGEST EX-PRIVATE BANKS WILL BE HEADED BY DAVID IBARRA (BANAMEX) AND ANTONIO CARRILLO FLORES (BANCOMER). ALSO, MIGUEL MANCERA WHO LEFT THE BANK OF MEXICO ON SEPTEMBER 1 WAS NOT GIVEN A NEW POSITION - OR PERHAPS HE REFUSED ONE. (DRAFTED BY L.P.PASCOE).

LAW, THAT FOREIGN EXCHANGE IS NOT LEGAL TENDER WITHIN MEXICO AND THAT FOREIGN EXCHANGE OBLIGATIONS, CONTRACTED WITHIN OR OUTSIDE THE REPUBLIC, IN ORDER TO BE SETTLED WITHIN THE REPUBLIC, WILL BE SETTLED BY PAYING AN EQUIVALENT AMOUNT OF MEXICAN CURRENCY, AT THE EXCHANGE RATE IN EFFECT AT THE TIME AND PLACE OF PAYMENT, THIS BEING A LEGAL CONDITION FOR WHICH THE FEDERAL EXECUTIVE, IN ITS ADMINI-STRATIVE CAPACITY, SHOULD ASSURE STRICT OBSERVANCE;

THAT THE IMPORTATION AND THE EXPORTATION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE, LIKE THAT OF ANY OTHER GOOD, REQUIRES REGULATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE NEEDS OF THE NATION, THE OBJECTIVES OF THE NATIONAL PLANNING SYSTEM AND THE PRIORITIES REQUIRED BY OUR ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT, CREATING AND PERFECTING THE INSTRUMENTS REQUIRED IN ORDER TO FACE THE NEW CHALLENGES OF THE WORLD TODAY;

THAT OUR COUNTRY CURRENTLY FACES SERIOUS FINANCIAL PROBLEMS, STEMMING, AMONG OTHER CAUSES, FROM THE UNCLASSIFIED

WORLD ECONOMIC RECESSION, WHICH HAS SEVERELY CONTRACTED THE MARKET FOR OUR EXPORTS, AND HAS ALSO MADE EXTERNAL FINANCING SCARCE AND LESS AVAILABLE;

THAT THE GOVERNMENT OF THE REPUBLIC HAS HAD TO ESTABLISH A SERIES OF AUSTERITY MEASURES AND ECONOMIC ADJUSTMENT POLICIES, WHOSE OBJECTIVES HAVE NOT BEEN FULLY REACHED, VRIMARILY BECAUSE OF EXCESSIVE CAPITAL FLIGHT, WITH A PRSUITANT HEAVY DEMAND (FOR FOREIGN EXCHANGE) FOR PURPOSES OTHER THAN FOR IMPORTS NECESSARY TO MAINTAIN AND INCREASE EMPLOYMENT AND PRODUCTIVITY, OR FOR PAYMENT OR SERVICE OF PUBLIC OR PRIVATE DEBT, CAUSING INJURY TO THE POPULACE AND THE ECONOMY, AS EVERYONE KNOWS;

THAT TO ASSURE COMPLIANCE WITH THIS DECREE AND TO ACHIEVE COORDINATION AMONG THE VARIOUS AGENCIES CONCERNED, AN INTER SECRETARIAL COMMISSION IS NEEDED TO MONITOR COMPLIANCE AND TO PROVIDE NECESSARY SUPPORT SO THAT THE NECESSARY IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS CAN BE ISSUED WITH ALL DUE SPEED;
I HEREBY DECREE THE FOLLOWING:

- ARTICLE ONE: THE EXPORTATION AND IMPORTATION OF FOREIGN EXCHANGE MAY BE DONE ONLY BY THE BANK OF MEXICO, OR BY ACCOUNT AND ORDER OF THAT BANK;

QUOTED AS SAYING MEXICO WILL HAVE TO MAKE "SIGNIFICANT ADJUSTMENTS" TO QUALIFY FOR AN IMF PROGRAM AND THAT THE U.S. WANTS THE IMF TO MAINTAIN "STRICT LOAN CONDITIONS." UNO MAS UNO (LEFTIST NATIONALISTIC) FURTHER REPORTED THAT SPRINKEL STATED THE RECENT BANK NATIONALIZATION AND INTRODUCTION OF FULL EXCHANGE CONTROLS BY MEXICO "WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN PART OF A PROGRAM THE IMF WOULD HAVE WANTED FOR ITS NEGOTIA-TIONS WITH GOM." THE GERMAN VICE-MINISTER SANN IS QUOTED IN EXCELSIOR (LEFTIST NATIONALISTIC) AS STATING THAT SILVA-HERZOG HAD BEEN GIVEN A GENERAL OUTLINE OF AN IMF STABILIZATION PROGRAM THAT SUGGESTS

3. MORE CONSERVATIVE PAPERS ALSO GAVE GENERALLY BROAD COVERAGE TO THIS STORY. THE MODERATE NOVEDADES REPORTED: "IMF HELP FOR MEXICO CONDITIONAL: GERMANY AND U.S. TRY TO FORCE SEVERE MEASURES." MEANWHILE THE LEAD HEADLINE IN THE CONSERVATIVE HERALDO READ: "IF MEXICO WANTS A LOAN IT WILL HAVE TO CHANGE ITS ECONOMIC POLICY."

4. OTHER KEY STORIES BY PAPER ARE REVIEWED BELOW.

5. EL FINANCIERO (FINANCIAL DAILY) RAN AN ARTICLE ENTITLED: "DON'T EXPECT A DOWNPOUR BUT DRIZZLE, CREDITORS OF MEXICO WARNED BY U.S. PRESS." THIS STORY SUMMARIZED REPORTS IN JOURNAL OF COMMERCE AND WALL STREET JOURNAL STATING THAT MEXICO'S FINANCIAL SITUATION HAD CREATED "DEPRESSION AND DESPERATION" AMONG BANKERS BECAUSE THEY WOULD HAVE TO "SWEAT A LITTLE MORE" BEFORE SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION OF IMF/MEXICO NEGOTIATIONS. ANOTHER COMPANION ARTICLE REPORTED THAT THE PRIVATE SECTOR HAD ADOPTED A "STRATEGY OF SILENCE" AS FORM OF PROTEST AGAINST RECENT ECONOMIC POLICY CHANGES. OTHER KEY REPORTS WERE HEADLINED: (1) "STATE BANKS, A GUARANTEE OF RATIONAL DEVELOPMENT: PATRIMONY MINISTER OTEYZA;" (2) "CRIME TO TAKE OUT OF COUNTRY WITHOUT PERMISSION OF BANK OF MEXICO;" AND (3) "LABOR CONFEDERATION PROPOSES BUYING EXPROPRIATED SHARES."

6. UNO MAS UNO CARRIED KEY STORY ENTITLED: "THE BANKS WON'T BE SOURCE OF SUBSIDY: PATRIMONY MINISTER OTEYZA." THIS ARTICLE REPORTED THAT ACCORDING TO MINISTER OTEYZA RECENT BANK NATIONALIZATION WILL PERMIT THE STATE TO REORIENT PREVIOUSLY COMMITTED FINANCIAL RESOURCES "TO PRIORITY ACTIVITIES THAT BENEFIT THE MAJORITIES." A COMPANION STORY REPORTED: "BANK ENTERPRISES TO THE STATE: LABOR CONGRESS (CT)." THIS ARTICLE NOTED THAT YESTERDAY CT LEADER SEGOVIA REQUESTED

IN MEETING WITH JLP THAT GOM NATIONLIZE THE "INDUSTRIES OF IRON, CEMENT, CELLULOSE, FOOD, AGRICULTURE AND MACHINERY PRODUCTION..." SEGOVIA STATED THE ALTERNATIVE TO SUCH A STATE TAKEOVER

THIS ARTICLE REPORTED THAT RECENT ECONOMIC CHANGES HAVE MADE IT POSSIBLE FOR GOVERNMENT TO EXERCISE GREATER CONTROL OVER MONOPOLIES, UTILITIES, TAX EVASION, AND FISCAL POLICY ACCORDING TO OPPOSITION PARTY SPOKESMEN. AT SAME TIME THESE PARTIES CAUTIONED GOM NOT TO ABUSE ITS NEW ECONOMIC POWER THROUGH "CORRUPTION" AND SUPPRESSION OF FREE EX-

. A LEAD HEADLINE IN NOVEDADES (MODERATE) READ: "EXCELLENCE EMPHASIZED IN MIXED ECONOMY: JLP." THIS ARTICLE NOTED THAT "EFFICIENT" MANAGEMENT OF PARASTATALS IS IMPORTANT TO GOM ACCORDING TO LOPEZ PORTILLO. AT SAME MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE BANCO SOMEX, WHICH HAS LONG BEEN OWNED BY GOM, PATRIMONY SECRETARY OTEYZA STATED THAT "NATIONAL URGENCIES DEMANDED TODAY THE UNFREEZING OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES" TO CREATE "PRIORITY PRODUCTIVE ACTIVITIES." ANOTHER STORY REPORTED THAT "SEVERE PENALTY" WILL BE IMPOSED ON THOSE THAT SMUGGLE GOLD OUT OF THE COUNTRY. OTHER IMPORTANT STORIES WERE ENTITLED: (1) "WORKERS CONFRONT DESTABILIZATION ATTEMPTS;" AND () "THE $250 ALLOWANCE IS STARTED FOR FOREIGN TRAVELERS."

9. FINALLY, THE CONSERVATIVE HERALDO RAN THE FOLLOWING PROMINENT HEADLINE: WE WILL CONTINUE UNDER THE MIXED ECONOMY REGIME, ASSURES JLP." THIS ARTICLE REPORTED ON SOMEX BOARD MEETING IN WHICH BANK NATIONALIZATION WAS DESCRIBED AS MEASURE STRENGTHENING GOM AS "RECTOR" OF ECONOMY. ANOTHER FRONT PAGE STORY REPORTED THAT LABOR LEADER FIDEL VELASQUEZ DENIES A "CLIMATE OF VIOLENCE" EXISTS BETWEEN MANAGEMENT AND WORKERS. HE WENT ON TO WARN THAT WORKERS WOULD RESPOND TO ANY "PROVOCATION" BY THEIR EMPLOYERS WHILE FIGHTING TO PRESERVE RECENT BANK NATIONALIZATION. (DRAFTED: ECON: UNCLASSIFIED

1. SUMMARY: REFTELS (A) AND (B) TRANSMITTED HIGHLIGHTS AND GENERAL ANALYSIS OF PRESIDENT LOPEZ PORTILLO'S SEPTEMBER 1 NATIONAL DAY ADDRESS. THIS CABLE SUMMARIZES THAT PORTION OF HIS REMARKS RELATED TO THE PETROLEUM SECTOR. JLP PROMISED TO CONTINUE AID TO THE CARIBBEAN BASIN UNDER THE SAN JOSE AGREEMENT DESPITE MEXICO'S CURRENT ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES. 2. PETROLEUM SECTOR:

A. IN DISCUSSING NATIONAL STRATEGY DURING HIS SEXENIO, JLP STRESSED THAT PETROLEUM DEVELOPMENT WAS THE ONLY OPTION OPEN TO MEXICO FOR GENERATING THE RESOURCES NEEDED TO SOLVE THE NATION'S PROBLEMS. HE SAID THAT MEXICO HAD BEEN AWARE THAT IT WAS JOINING A DANGEROUS INTERNATIONAL GAME, BUT THAT IT WOULD HAVE BEEN STUPID TO PASS UP THE OPPORTUNITY CREATED BY FAVORABLE INTERNATIONAL PETROLEUM PRICES. JLP SAID QUOTE I TOOK THE DECISION TO LAUNCH THE COUNTRY

FORTH IN ORDER TO ESCAPE THE TRAP, WHICH A HOSTILE WORLD COMMANDED BY POWERFUL COUNTRIES FOR THEIR OWN BENEFIT, HAS PERMANENTLY SET FOR THE LESS DEVELOPED COUNTIRES. UNQUOTE.

B. RESERVE FIGURES: THE ONLY SIGNIFICANT CHANGE IN RESERVE FIGURES WAS AN INCREASE IN PROBABLE RESERVES FROM THE 80 BILLION BARRELS ANNOUNCED IN MARCH 82 (SEE REFTTL (C) TO 90 BILLION BARRELS. PROVEN RESERVES REMAIN AT 72 BILLION BARRELS AND POTENTIAL RESERVES, WHICH INCLUDE PPOBABLE AND PROVEN RESERVES, REMAIN AT 250 BILLION BARRELS. THE PROVEN AND POTENTIAL FIGURES ARE UNCHANGED SINCE LAST YEAR'S INFORME.

C. THE PUBLISHED TEXT OF THE INFORME INCLUDED A REFERENCE TO THE PRODUCTION LIMITATION OF 2.5 MILLION BARRELS PER DAY (B/D). JLP OMITTED THIS PARAGRAPH IN DELIVERING THE SPEECH. THE OMITTED PARAGRAPH READS QUOTE: ON MARCH 18 OF THIS YEAR UNCLASSIFIED

WE ESTABLISHED A PRODUCTION PLATFORM OF 2.5 MILLION BARRELS A DAY, UNDERSTOOD TO COVER BOTH DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION AND EXPORTS. END QUOTE. EMBASSY COMMENT: THIS PARAGRAPH MAY HAVE BEEN OMITTED BECAUSE IT CONFLICTED WITH THE ANNOUNCED PRODUCTION LEVEL.
D. EXPORTS AND PRODUCTION LEVELS: JLP ANNOUNCED THAT 1982 EXPORTS WOULD AVERAGE ABOUT 1.5 MILLION B/D AND WOULD EARN INCOME OF OVER 14 BILLION DOLLARS. HE SAID THAT PETROLEUM PRODUCTION HAD RISEN FROM 800 THOUSAND B/D IN 1976 TO 2.8 MILLION B/D IN 1982. GAS PRODUCTION INCREASED FROM 2.1 BILLION CUBIC FEET IN 1976 TO 4.3 BILLION CUBIC FEET IN 1982; 98 PERCENT OF THE GAS IS BEING USED AND NONE IS BEING FLARED AS WAS THE CASE FIVE YEARS AGO. PETROCHEMICAL PRODUCTION INCREASED FROM 4 MILLION TONS IN 1976 TO 14 MILLION TONS THIS YEAR.
E. PEMEX INVESTMENTS IN THE PETROLEUM AND PETROCHEMICAL SECTORS DURING THE SEXENIO CAME TO 27 MILLION DOLLARS.

F. THE SAN JOSE AGREEMENT, JLP SAID, HAS WITHSTOOD THE TEST OF TIME AND THE WEIGHT OF THE CURRENT CRISIS. BETWEEN 1980 AND 1982 MEXICO PROVIDED MORE THAN 700 MILLION IN ECONOMIC HELP TO THE CARIBBEAN NATIONS UNDER THIS AGREEMENT. ON AN ANNUAL BASIS HE SAID THIS IS EQUIVALENT TO THE AMOUNT PROPOSED UNDER THE CARIBBEAN BASIN INITIATIVE OF THE UNITED STATES, A NATION WHOSE RESOURCES ARE INCOMPARABLY LARGER. IN SPITE OF THE CURRENT CRISIS JLP SAID THAT MEXICO WOULD KEEP ITS PROMISES AND SET AN EXAMPLE OF HELPING THE WEAK TO DEVELOP WITHOUT

TAKING ADVANTAGE OF THEIR SITUATION AND WITHOUT THE HUMILIATION OF INTERVENTION OR IDEOLOGICAL PRECONDITIONS. (DRAFTED BY:HBLANE)
